TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Food Distribution Administration

PART 913—MILK IN THE GREATER KANSAS CITY MARKETING AREA

It is provided in Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue and amend orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities (including milk and its products) as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities.

- 913.1 Findings and determinations.
- 913.2 Order relative to handling.
- 913.3 Definitions.
- 913.4 Market administrator.
- 913.5 Reports of handlers.
- 913.6 Classification of milk.
- 913.7 Minimum prices.
- 913.8 Application of prices.
- 913.9 Determination of uniform price to producers.
- 913.10 Base ratings.
- 913.11 Payments for milk.
- 913.12 Marketing services.
- 913.13 Expense of administration.
- 913.14 Effective time, suspension or termination of order as amended.
- 913.15 Agents.

AUTHORITY: §§ 913.1 to 913.15, inclusive, issued under 48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.

§ 913.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings. Pursuant to the act and the rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR 900.1–900.17, 6 F.R. 6570, 7 F.R. 3350), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the Greater Kansas City marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices set forth in the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the aforesaid tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by this order, as amended, which is marketed within the Greater Kansas City marketing area refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) the issuance of this order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interest of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the Greater Kansas City marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of the approval of this order, as amended, and who, during the determined representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said Greater Kansas City marketing area.

§ 913.2 Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that, from and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order, as amended.

Provisions

§ 913.3 Definitions—(a) Terms. The following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Greater Kansas City marketing area" hereinafter called the "marketing area," means all of the territory in: Jackson County, Missouri; that part of Clay County, Missouri, south of Highway 92 beginning at the Platte County and Clay County line, east to the west section line of section 26 in Washington Township, north to the north section line of said section 26, east to the Clay County and Ray County line; Lee, Waldron, May, and Pettis Townships in Platte County, Missouri; Wyandotte County, Kansas; Shawnee and Mission Townships in Johnson County, Kansas; and Delaware, Leavenworth, and that part of Kickapoo and High Prairie Townships east of the 95th principal meridian in Leavenworth County, Kansas.

(2) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

(3) "Producer" means any person who, with respect to the regulations applicable to milk to be used for consumption as milk or cream in the marketing area, (i) under supervision of the health departments of Kansas City, Kansas; Leavenworth, Kansas; Excelsior Springs, Missouri; Independence, Missouri; or Kansas City, Missouri; or (ii) under a permit issued by either the Kansas State Board of Health or the Missouri State Board of Health produces milk (a) which is purchased or received in bulk by a handler, other than himself, at such handler's plant from which milk is disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in the marketing area, or (b) which a cooperative association causes to be delivered to a plant of a handler or to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in the marketing area, for the account of such cooperative association.

(4) "Handler" means any person who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others, disposes of as Class I milk, or Class II milk in the marketing area all or a portion of the milk purchased or received in bulk by him at his plant from (i) producers, (ii) his own production, and (iii) other handlers. "Handler" shall include any cooperative association with respect to the milk of any producer which such cooperative association causes to be delivered to a plant of a handler or to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk or as Class II milk in the marketing area for the account of such cooperative association.

(5) "Market administrator" means the person designated pursuant to § 913.4 as the agency for the administration hereof.

(6) "Delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to, and including, the last day of each month.

(7) "Base" means the quantity of milk calculated for each producer pursuant to § 913.10.

(8) "Cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines (i) to have its entire activities under the control of its members and (ii) to have and to be exercising full authority in the sale of milk of its members.

(9) "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246 (1937); 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), as amended.

(10) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture who is, or who may hereafter be, authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

§ 913.4 Market administrator. — (a) Designation. The agency for the administration hereof shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected by the Secretary. Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

(b) Powers. The market administrator shall:

(1) Administer the terms and provisions hereof; and

(2) Report to the Secretary complaints of violation of the provisions hereof.

(c) Duties. The market administrator shall:

(1) Within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(2) Pay, out of the funds provided by § 913.13, the cost of his bond, his own compensation, and all other expenses necessarily incurred in the maintenance and functioning of his office;

(3) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for herein and surrender the same to his succesor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(4) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not (i) made reports pursuant to § 913.5 or (ii) made payments pursuant to § 913.11; and

(5) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers.

§ 913.5 Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. On or before the 7th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler who purchased or received milk from sources other than his own production or other handlers shall with respect to milk or dairy products which were purchased, received, or produced by such handler during such delivery period report to the market administrator in the detail and form prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(1) The receipts at each plant of milk from each producer, the butterfat content, and the number of days on which milk was received from each producer;

(2) The quantity of milk received from each producer in excess of his respective base;

(3) The receipts from such handler's own farm production and the butterfat content;

(4) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from handlers who purchase or receive milk from producers and the butterfat content.

(5) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from any other source, including receipts of milk and cream completely processed and packaged for distribution to consumers from handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production and the butterfat content;

(6) The respective quantities of milk and milk products, and the butterfat content, which were sold, distributed, or used, including sales to other handlers, for the purpose of classification pursuant to § 913.6;

(7) The sales of milk and Class II products outside the marketing area, listing the market or area in which such milk and such Class II products were sold or disposed of, the date of such sale or disposition, and the plant from which such milk and milk products were supplied; and

(8) Such other information with respect to the use of milk as the marketing administrator may request.

(b) Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, upon the request of the market administrator, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers shall submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period which shall show for each producer, (1) the daily and total pounds of milk delivered and the average butterfat content thereof, and (2) the net amount of such handler's payments to such producer with the prices, deductions, and charges involved.

(c) Reports of handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers. Handlers whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require.

(d) Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk the classification depends. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and milk products and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk and milk products, and, in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk purchased or received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(3) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in § 913.11.

§ 913.6 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. All milk and milk products purchased or received by such handler, including milk of a producer which a cooperative association caused to be delivered to a plant of a handler or to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk or Class II milk in the marketing area, for the account of such cooperative association, shall be reported by the handler in the classes set forth in (b) of this section: Provided, That (i) milk sold or disposed of by a handler as fluid milk to a nonhandler who distributes fluid milk or cream shall be classified as Class I milk, and cream sold or disposed of by a handler as cream to such nonhandler shall be classified as Class II milk, except for such milk or cream in excess of the amount of milk and cream distributed by such nonhandler; (ii) milk or cream sold or disposed of by a handler to a nonhandler who does not distribute fluid milk or cream shall be classified as Class III milk subject to verification by the market administrator; (iii) milk sold or disposed of as fluid milk by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler shall be classified as Class I milk: Provided, That if such milk, except milk sold or disposed of by such handler to another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers, is reported by the receiving handler or by the disposing handler as having been utilized as Class II milk or Class III milk, such milk shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator: And provided further, That if such milk was sold or disposed of from a handler's plant located outside the marketing area to another handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, such milk shall be classified at the lowest class usage of such purchasing handler; (iv) cream sold or disposed of as fluid cream by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler shall be classified as Class II milk: Provided, That if such cream, sold or disposed of by such handler to another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers, is reported by the receiving handler or by the disposing handler as having been utilized as Class III milk, such cream shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator: And provided further, That if such cream was sold or disposed of from a handler's plant located outside the marketing area to another handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, such cream shall be classified at the lowest class usage of such purchasing handler; (v) milk or cream sold or disposed of as bulk milk or cream by a handler who receives no milk from producers to another handler who receives milk from producers shall be classified as Class III milk; and (vi) milk sold or disposed of completely processed and packaged for distribution to consumers by a handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers to another handler who purchases or receives milk from producers shall be classified as Class I milk up to the amount of such milk actually sold in the original package by the purchasing handler as bottled Class I milk and the remaining milk shall be classified as Class III milk; and cream sold or disposed of completely processed and packaged for distribution to consumers by a handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers to another handler who purchases or receives milk from producers shall be classified as Class II milk up to the amount of such cream actually sold in the original package by the purchasing handler as bottled Class II milk and the remaining cream shall be classified as Class III milk.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk disposed of in the form of milk containing more than 1 percent butterfat, irrespective of whether under the legal standard for milk and unaccounted for butterfat in excess of 3 percent of the total receipts from producers converted to a 3.8 percent milk equivalent, except such milk as is classified as Class II milk and as Class III milk pursuant to (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk, except skim milk, used to produce cream, which is disposed of in the form of cream, other than for use in products specified in (3) of this paragraph, flavored milk, creamed cottage cheese, creamed buttermilk, products sold or disposed of in the form of cream testing less than 18 percent butterfat, aerated cream, and eggnog.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk used to produce butter, cheese (other than creamed cottage cheese), evaporated milk, condensed milk, ice cream, and powdered whole milk; used for starter churning, wholesale baking and candy making purposes; accounted for as salvage from products where the recovery of fat is impossible; and not accounted for but not in excess of 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers in establishing the classification of milk. In establishing the classification as required in (b) of this section of any milk received by a handler from producers, the burden rests upon the handler who receives the milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

(d) Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period each handler shall compute, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the amount of milk in each class as defined in (b) of this section, as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received as follows: add together the total pounds of milk received from (i) producers, (ii) own farm production, (iii) other handlers, and (iv) other sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (i) Multiply by its average butterfat test the weight of the milk received from (a) producers, (b) own farm production, (c) other handlers, and (d) other sources and (ii) add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (i) convert to pounds the quantity of Class I milk on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart, (ii) multiply the result by the average butterfat test of such milk, and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk and Class III milk, computed pursuant to (4) (ii) and (5) (iv) of this paragraph, is less than the total pounds of butterfat received, computed in accordance with (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be divided by 3.8 percent and added to the quantity of milk determined pursuant to (i) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (i) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II milk by its average butterfat test, (ii) add together the resulting amounts, and (iii) divide the result obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph by 3.8 percent.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class III as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class III milk by its average butterfat test, (ii) add together the resulting amounts, (iii) subtract from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph, the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk, computed pursuant to (3) (ii) of this paragraph, the total pounds of butterfat in Class II milk, computed pursuant to (4) (ii) of this paragraph, and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph, which resulting quantity shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph (but in no event shall such plant shrinkage allowance exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers by the handler), (iv) add together the results obtained in (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph, and (v) divide the result obtained in (iv) of this subparagraph by 3.8 percent.

(6) Determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(i) Subtract from the total pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from other handlers and used in such class.

(ii) Subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from sources other than producers, own farm production, and other handlers in series beginning with the lowest class.

(iii) If the remaining pounds of Class III milk are less than 10 percent of the sum of the remaining pounds of Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk, subtract pro rata out of the remaining pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk received from the handler's own farm production, or if the remaining pounds of Class III milk are more than 10 percent of the sum of the remaining pounds of Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk, subtract pro rata out of the remaining pounds of Class I milk and Class II milk 90 percent of the pounds of milk received from the handler's own farm production and subtract from the remaining pounds of Class III milk the remaining pounds of milk received from the handler's own farm production.

(e) Reconciliation of utilization of milk by classes with receipts of milk from producers. In the event of a difference between the total quantity of milk utilized in the several classes, as computed pursuant to (6) of (d) of this section, and the quantity of milk received from producers, except for excess milk or milk equivalent of butterfat pursuant to § 913.8 (e), such difference shall be reconciled as follows:

(1) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (6) of (d) of this section, is less than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall increase the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts of milk from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

(2) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (6) of (d) of this section, is greater than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator, shall decrease the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts of milk from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

§ 913.7 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Subject to the differentials set forth in (c) and (d) of this section, each handler shall pay producers, at the time and in the manner set forth in § 913.11, for milk purchased or received from them not less than the following prices:

(1) Class I milk. The price per hundredweight of Class I milk during each delivery period shall be the price determined pursuant to (b) of this section, plus 75 cents: Provided, That with respect to Class I milk disposed of under a program approved by the Secretary for the sale or disposition of milk to low-income consumers, including persons on relief, the price shall be the price determined pursuant to (b) of this section, plus 30 cents.

(2) Class II milk. The price per hundredweight, of Class II milk during each delivery period shall be the price determined pursuant to (b) of this section, plus 50 cents.

(3) Class III milk. The price per hundredweight of Class III milk during each delivery period shall be the highest price ascertained by the market administrator to have been quoted for ungraded milk of 3.8 percent butterfat content received during such delivery period by any one of the three following plants: The Meyer Sanitary Milk Company at its plant at Valley Falls, Kansas; the Franklin Ice Cream Company at its plant at Tonganoxie, Kansas; and the Milk Producers' Marketing Company at its plant at Kansas City, Kansas.

(b) Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I and Class II prices. The basic formula price to be used in determining the Class I and Class II prices, set forth in this section, per hundredweight of milk as computed and announced by the market administrator on or before the 5th day of delivery period shall be the arithmetical average of the prices per hundredweight reported to the United States Department of Agriculture as being paid all farmers for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content delivered f. o. b. plant during the immediately preceding delivery period at the following plants and places:

Borden Co., Mt. Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 3.8, but in no event shall such basic formula price to be used be less than the following: multiply by 3.8 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the immediately preceding delivery period, and add 20 percent: Provided, That such price shall be subject to the following adjustments: (i) add 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of dry skim milk for human consumption is above 5½ cents per pound, or (ii) subtract 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of such dry skim milk is below 5½ cents per pound. For purposes of determining this adjustment the price per pound of dry skim milk to be used shall be the average of the carlot price for dry skim milk for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plant, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture for the Chicago area during the immediately preceding delivery period, including in such average the quotations published for any fractional part of the previous delivery period which were not published and available for the price determination of such dry skim milk for the previous delivery period. In the event the United States Department of Agriculture does not publish carlot prices for dry skim milk for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plant, the average of the carlot prices for dry skim milk for human consumption, delivered at Chicago, shall be used. In the latter event such price shall be subject to the following adjustments: (i) add 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of dry skim milk for human consumption, delivered at Chicago, is above 7½ cents per pound, or (ii) subtract 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that such price of dry skim milk is below 7½ cents per pound.

(c) Butterfat differential. If the average butterfat content of milk purchased or received from producers by any handler during any delivery period is more or less than 3.8 percent, there shall be added or subtracted per hundredweight of such milk for each one-tenth of 1 percent above or below 3.8 percent an amount equal to the Class III price for such delivery period divided by 38.

(d) Location differential. (1) If any handler has received milk from any producer at his plant approved by an applicable health authority for the receiving of milk to be disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area, and located outside the marketing area but more than 30 miles by the shortest highway route from such handler's plant approved by an applicable health authority for the receiving of milk to be sold or disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area and located within the marketing area, there shall be subtracted with respect to a quantity of milk (but not in exces of the total quantity of milk received from producers by such handler at such plant located outside the marketing area) computed by the market administrator as follows: (i) determine the difference between 105 percent of such handler's total Class I milk and Class II milk received from producers and the total quantity of milk received from producers by such handler at his plant located within the marketing area during the delivery period of the next preceding calendar year when such difference was the greatest; (ii) divide such difference by the number of days in such delivery period; and (iii) multiply by the number of days in the delivery period an amount up to but not exceeding the amount specified for the distance of such plant from such handler's plant located within the marketing area, as follows: not more than 45 miles, 17 cents per hundredweight; for each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof up to 75 miles, an additional 1½ cents per hundredweight; and for each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof beyond 75 miles, an additional ½ cent per hundredweight.

(2) If any handler has received milk from producers at more than one such plant located outside the marketing area, at one of which such plants no facilities for processing or separating milk are maintained and has received no milk from producers at his plant located within the marketing area, there shall be subtracted with respect to a quantity of milk, if received, equal to 105 percent of such handler's total Class I milk and Class II milk received from producers, an amount up to but not exceeding the amount specified for the distance of such plant from such handler's plant located within the marketing area, as follows: not more than 45 miles, 17 cents per hundredweight; for each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof up to 75 miles, an additional 1½ cents per hundredweight; and for each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof beyond 75 miles, an additional ½ cent per hundredweight; such deductions shall first be made on the milk received from producers at such plant located outside the marketing area where no facilities for processing or separating milk are maintained.

§ 913.8 Application of provisions. (a) The provisions of §§ 913.6, 913.9, 913.10, 913.11, 913.12, and 913.13 shall not apply to a handler whose sole source of supply is from such handler's own farm production or from other handlers.

(b) If a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers purchases or receives milk or cream in bulk from another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers and sells or disposes of such milk or cream for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 913.9 (a), shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or cream according to its utilization by the handler, and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(c) If a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers purchases or receives milk or cream completely processed and packaged for distribution to consumers from another handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers and sells or disposes of such milk or cream not sold at bottled Class I or Class II milk in the original package for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 913.9 (a), shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or cream according to its utilization by the handler, and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(d) If a handler has sold or disposed of milk or cream, which was received from sources other than producers, his own farm production, or other handlers as Class I milk or Class II milk within the marketing area to persons other than a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 913.9 (a), shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk according to its utilization by the handler, and (2) the value at the Class III price.

(e) If a handler has purchased or received milk or butterfat from sources determined as other than producers, own farm production, or other handlers, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 931.9 (a), shall consider such milk or the milk equivalent of such butterfat as Class III milk. If the receiving handler sells or disposes of such milk or butterfat for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator shall add an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such milk or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler, and (2) the value at the Class III price. This provision shall not apply to milk or butterfat from sources determined as other than producers or handlers, if such handler can prove to the market administrator that such milk or butterfat was used for purposes which did not violate any regulations issued by the various health authorities in the marketing area.

(f) If a handler, after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers, own farm production, or other handlers, has disposed of milk or butterfat in excess of the milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 913.9 (a), shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler.

(g) If the shortest highway distance between a handler's plant, approved by an applicable health authority for the receiving of milk to be disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area and located outside the marketing area and such handler's plant approved by an applicable health authority for the receiving of milk to be sold or disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area and located within the marketing area, is lessened through a relocation of highways to less than 30 miles, the location differential which applied before the highway distance was lessened shall continue to apply.

§ 913.9 Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Net pool obligations of handlers. Subject to the provision of § 913.8, the net pool obligation of such handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows:

(1) Multiply the pounds of milk in each class, computed pursuant to § 913.6, by the class price and add together the resulting values;

(2) Add, if the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers is in excess of 3.8 percent, and deduct, if the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers is less than 3.8 percent, an amount equal to the total value of the butterfat differential applicable pursuant to § 913.7 (c);

(3) Subtract an amount equal to the total value of the location differential applicable pursuant to § 913.7 (d);

(4) Add an amount equal to the total values pursuant to § 913.8 (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f); and

(5) Deduct, if the average butterfat content of all milk purchased or received from producers is in excess of 3.8 percent, and add, if the average butterfat content of all milk purchased or received from producers is less than 3.8 percent, the total value of the butterfat differential applicable pursuant to § 913.11 (c).

(b) Computation and announcement of the uniform prices. The market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform price per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period, in the following manner:

(1) For the delivery periods other than those of April, May, and June of each year: (i) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers, computed pursuant to (a) of this section, who made the reports prescribed by § 913.5 and who made the payments prescribed by § 913.11;

(ii) Add the amount of the location differentials applicable pursuant to § 913.11 (d);

(iii) Subtract the total amount to be paid pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (1) (ii);

(iv) Add an amount equal to one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(v) Divide by a figure equal to the total hundredweight of milk delivered by producers less the hundredweight of milk represented pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (1) (ii) and which is included in these computations;

(vi) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments or delinquencies in payments by handlers. This result shall be known as the uniform price for such delivery period for the milk of producers containing 3.8 percent butterfat; and

(vii) On or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, mail to all such handlers and publicly announce (a) such of these computations as do not disclose information confidential pursuant to the act; (b) the blended price per hundredweight which is the result of these computations; (c) the Class III price; and (d) the butterfat differentials computed pursuant to § 913.7 (c) and § 913.11 (c).

(2) For the delivery periods of April, May, and June of such year: (i) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers, computed pursuant to (a) of this section, who made the reports prescribed by § 913.5 and who made the payments prescribed by § 913.11;

(ii) Add the amount of the location differentials applicable pursuant to § 913.11 (d);

(iii) Subtract the total amount to be paid pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (2) (ii);

(iv) Subtract the total amount to be paid pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (2) (iii);

(v) Add an amount equal to one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(vi) Divide by a figure equal to the total hundredweight of milk delivered by graded producers less the hundredweight of milk represented pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (2) (ii) which is not in excess of the delivered bases of producers and which is included in these computations;

(vii) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments or delinquencies in payments by handlers. This result shall be known as the uniform price for base milk containing 3.8 percent butterfat received from producers during such delivery period; and

(viii) On or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, mail to all such handlers and publicly announce (a) such of these computations as do not disclose information confidential pursuant to the act; (b) the blended price per hundredweight which is the result of these computations; (c) the Class III price; and (d) the butterfat differentials computed pursuant to § 913.7 (c) and § 913.11 (c).

§ 913.10 Base ratings—(a) Determination of base. For the delivery periods of April, May, and June of each year, the base of each producer shall be a quantity of milk calculated by the market administrator in the following manner: multiply the applicable figure computed pursuant to (b) (1), (b) (2), or (b) (3) of this section adjusted by (c) of this section by the number of days during such delivery period on which milk was received from such producer.

(b) Determination of daily base. (1) Effective for the delivery periods of April, May, and June of each year, the daily base of each producer, who regularly delivered milk to a handler during the entire next previous delivery periods of October, November, December, and January, shall be computed by the market administrator from reports submitted by the handlers pursuant to § 913.5, or from the best information available in the following manner:

(i) Determine for each producer who regularly delivered milk to a handler during the entire next previous delivery periods of October, November, December, and January, the average daily delivery of milk to a handler for the period from the next previous October 1 to and including January 31.

(2) Effective for the delivery periods of April, May, and June of each year, the daily base of each producer who did not regularly deliver milk to a handler during the entire next previous delivery periods of October, November, December, and January but who began deliveries of milk to a handler subsequent to October 1 and previous to March 1, shall be computed by the market administrator from reports submitted by the handlers pursuant to § 913.5, or from the best information available in the following manner:

(i) Determine for each such producer, the average daily delivery of milk to a handler, for each delivery period of April, May, and June, and (ii) multiply by 70 percent.

(3) In case a handler who distributes within the marketing area milk of his own production ceases to act as a handler and begins regular deliveries of milk to a handler, the daily base of such producer shall be computed by the market administrator in the following manner: Determine the average daily Class I milk and Class II milk produced and disposed of during the three months next preceding the date of his ceasing to act as a handler.

(c) Base rules. (1) In case a producer sells or delivers to a handler milk not of his own production as being milk of his own production, the price to be received by such producer for all milk sold or delivered to a handler by such producer during such delivery period shall be the price for Class III milk for such delivery period pursuant to § 913.7 (a) (3) and such milk shall not be included in the computations pursuant to § 913.10 (b) (1) or § 913.10 (b) (2).

(2) A base of a producer may be transferred to the surviving spouse or a direct heir, upon written request of such spouse or heir to the market administrator on or before the 5th day following the delivery period when such transfer is to be effective and if accompanied by an affidavit with respect to such producer's death.

(3) A landlord who rents on a crop-share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the tenant if the landlord owns the entire herd. Likewise, the tenant who rents on a crop-share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the landlord if the tenant owns the entire herd. If the cattle are jointly owned by tenant and landlord, the daily base shall be divided between the joint owners according to the ownership of the cattle, if and when such joint owners terminate the tenant and landlord relationship.

(4) A producer, whether landlord or tenant of a farm, may retain his base when moving his entire herd of cows from one farm to another farm: Provided That at the beginning of tenant and landlord relationship the allotted base of each tenant and landlord shall be combined base and may be divided only if such relationship is terminated.

§ 913.11 Payments for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment, after deducting the amount of the payment made pursuant to (b) of this section, for not less than the total value of milk of producers received by such handler during such delivery period, computed according to § 913.9 and subject to the differentials set forth in (c) and (d), respectively, of this section as follows:

(1) For the delivery periods other than those of April, May, and June of each year: (i) To producers, subject to (ii) of this subparagraph, at the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to § 913.9 (b) (1), for the total quantity of milk received from such producers; and (ii) to producers, pursuant to § 913.10 (c) (1), at the price per hundredweight for Class III milk, computed pursuant to § 913.7 (a) (3), for the total quantity of milk received from such producers.

(2) For the delivery periods of April, May, and June of each year: (i) To producers, subject to (ii) of this subparagraph, at the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to § 913.9 (b) (2), for that quantity of milk received from such producers, not in excess of their respective bases:

(ii) To producers pursuant to § 913.10 (c) (1) at the price per hundredweight for Class III milk, computed pursuant to § 913.7 (a) (3), for the total quantity of milk received from such producers; and

(iii) To producers, at the price per hundredweight for Class III milk, computed pursuant to § 913.7 (a) (3), for that quantity of milk received from such producers in excess of their respective bases.

(b) Half delivery period payments. On or before the 25th day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of such delivery period, was received by such handler.

(c) Butterfat differential. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.8 percent, such handler, in making the payments prescribed in (a) of this section, shall add to the prices per hundredweight for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.8 percent not less than, or shall subtract from such prices for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.8 percent not more than, an amount computed as follows: add 4 cents to the average price of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, and divide the resulting sum by 10.

(d) Location differentials. For milk received from producers, at plants approved by any applicable health authority for the receiving of milk to be sold or disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area and located outside the marketing area but more than 30 miles by the shortest highway route from such handler's plant approved by an applicable health authority for the receiving of milk to be sold or disposed of as milk or cream in the marketing area and located within the marketing area, each handler, in making payments pursuant to (a) (1) of this section shall deduct, with respect to all milk except milk subject to (a) (1) (ii) of this section received from such producers, and in making payments pursuant to (a) (2) of this section, shall deduct, with respect to all base milk except subject to (a) (2) (ii) of this section received from such producers, the amount per hundredweight specified for the distance of such plant located outside the marketing area from such handler's plant located within the marketing area, as follows: Not more than 45 miles, 17 cents per hundredweight; for each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof up to 75 miles, an additional 1½ cents per hundredweight; and for each additional 10 miles or fraction thereof beyond 75 miles, an additional ½ cent per hundredweight.

(e) Additional payments. Any handler may make payment to producers in addition to the payments to be made pursuant to (a) of this section: Provided, That such additional payments shall be uniform as among all producers for milk of the same grade and quality.

(f) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (g) and (i) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (h) and (i) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Immediately after computing the uniform price for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount by which each handler's net pool obligation, including the payments to producers which are required to be made pursuant to § 913.8, is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of milk of producers by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to (a) (1) and (a) (2) of this section and adding together the resulting amounts, and shall enter such amount on each handler's account as such handler's pool debit or credit, as the case may be, and render such handler a transcript of his account.

(g) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make full payment to the market administrator of any pool debit balance shown on the account rendered, pursuant to (d) of this section, for such delivery period.

(h) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler the pool credit balance shown on the account rendered, pursuant to (d) of this section, if any, for such delivery period, less any unpaid obligations of the handler. If at such time the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler, who, on the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of the payment due him from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of (a) of this section if he reduces his total payments uniformly to all producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund. Nothing in this paragraph shall abrogate the right of a cooperative association to make payment to its member producers in accordance with the payment plan of such cooperative association.

(i) Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to the producer-settlement fund pursuant to (g) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billings, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to (h) of this section the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler or offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Whenever verification of the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer, for milk purchased or received by such handler, discloses payment to such handler, discloses payment to such producer of less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

§ 913.12 Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct 3 cents per hundredweight from the payments made to each producer pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (1) and (a) (2), with respect to all milk of such producer purchased or received by such handler during the delivery period, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 12th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator for market information to, and for the verification of weights, sampling, and testing of milk received from, said producers.

(b) Producers' cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make the deductions from the payments to be made pursuant to § 913.11 (a) (1) and (a) (2), which are authorized by such producers, and, on or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the associations of which such producers are members.

§ 913.13 Expense of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers, with respect to all milk received from producers during the delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 12th day after the end of such delivery period, an amount not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight, which amount shall be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary.

(b) Suits by the market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of expenses set forth in this section.

§ 913.14 Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this order, or any provision hereof, whenever he finds that this order, or any provision hereof, obstructs, or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination; Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and, when so directed by the Secretary, deliver all funds or property on hand together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary may direct, and (iii) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall liquidate, if so directed by the Secretary, the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 913.15 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any bureau or division of the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

Issued at Washington, D. C. this 23d day of February 1943, to be effective on and after the 4th day of March 1943. Witness my hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[Food Production Order 9]

PART 1220—OILSEEDS

INVENTORY LIMITATION OF OILSEED MEAL

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to assure an adequate production of food to meet war and civilan needs; It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1220.2 Inventory limitation of oilseed meal—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

[1] 8 F.R. 903.

(1) "Oilseed meal" means cottonseed oil meal or cake, soybean oil meal or cake, peanut oil meal or cake, and linseed oil meal or cake.

(2) "Fifteen days' supply" means the total tonnage of any oilseed meal which, based on his current method and rate of operation, is needed by a person to fill his manufacturing, sales, or consumption requirements during the period of fifteen days next succeeding the estimated delivery date of oilseed meal covered by a purchase order, such delivery date to be determined by adding to the date of shipment specified in the purchase order therefor the usual number of days required for transit from shipping point to destination.

(3) "Purchase order" means any contract or offer to purchase, any agreement to acquire by exchange, any request for shipment or delivery under existing contracts, or any other action heretofore or hereafter taken by any person to obtain delivery of oilseed meal.

(4) "Delivery date inventory" means that quantity of oilseed meal determined by deducting from the inventory on hand at the time the purchase order is placed the quantity which, based on his current method and rate of operation, the purchaser will use in meeting his manufacturing, sales, or consumption requirements between the date on which the purchase order is placed and the estimated delivery date of such oilseed meal, such delivery date to be determined by adding to the date of shipment specified in the purchase order therefor the usual number of days required for transit from shipping point to destination.

(5) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other organized group of "persons," and shall include any agent, agency, or any "person" acting for or on behalf of any of the foregoing.

(6) "Processor" means any "person" operating a processing plant for producing any oilseed meal.

(7) "Director" means the Director of Food Production, or, in his absence, the Acting Director of Food Production.

(b) Inventory limitation. Beginning with the effective date of this order and ending on April 30, 1943, no person, other than a processor, shall (1) place any purchase order for any oilseed meal if the tonnage ordered, taken in conjunction with his delivery date inventory and any other unfilled purchase orders placed by him, would exceed a fifteen days' supply of such oilseed meal, as defined in paragraph (a) hereof, or (2) accept delivery of any oilseed meal to the extent that the tonnage delivered, taken in conjunction with his inventory on hand at the time of delivery, would exceed the total tonnage of such oilseed meal which, based on his current method and rate of operation, is needed by him to fill his manufacturing, sales, or consumption requirements during the next succeeding fifteen-day period: Provided, That the foregoing inventory limitation (i) shall not restrict purchases of oilseed meal by any person in minimum carload lots, as determined pursuant to Office of Defense Transportation regulations, if such purchases are made in quantities and at intervals which are in accordance with purchases regularly made by such person, (ii) shall not restrict purchases by any person of oilseed meal in quantities of 1,000 pounds or less if such purchases are made in quantities and at intervals which are in accordance with purchases regularly made by such person, and (iii) shall not restrict purchases by any ranchman of oilseed meal if such purchases are made in quantities and at intervals which are in accordance with purchases regularly made by such ranchman, and such purchases are necessary for economical use of transportation facilities under Office of Defense Transportation regulations and to provide a readily available supply of oilseed meal for ranch feeding purposes.

(c) Limitation on sales or deliveries. Beginning with the effective date of this order and ending on April 30, 1943, no person shall sell or deliver oilseed meal to any person unless the person to whom such oilseed meal is to be sold or delivered shall accompany his purchase order therefor with a certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned certifies to his vendor and the Director of Food Production that he is familiar with the provisions of Food Production Order No. 9 issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on February 27, 1943, and that the fulfillment of the purchase order to which this certificate is annexed will not cause his inventory of oilseed meal to exceed the quantity permitted by such Food Production Order No. 9, or such purchase falls under one of the exceptions specified in such Food Production Order No 9.

Date

Address

(d) Processors' inventories. Beginning with the effective date of this order and ending on April 30, 1943, if on the last day of any month the inventory of oilseed meal which any processor has acquired by crushing or otherwise exceeds the quantity acquired by crushing or otherwise during the five day period immediately preceding the end of such month or his inventory of oilseed meal on the last day of the corresponding month of the calendar year 1942, whichever quantity is greater (such quantity being hereinafter referred to as the processor's permissible inventory), such processor shall not during the succeeding month acquire any oilseed meal by crushing or otherwise until or unless his inventory of oilseed meal has been reduced to the processor's permissible inventory.

(e) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain for not less than two years accurate records concerning all sales, purchases, contracts for sale or purchase, and deliveries of oilseed meal affected by this order. Every person subject to this order shall also maintain such other records, execute and file such reports, upon such forms, and submit such information as the Director of Food Production may from time to time request or direct, and within such time as he may prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspection at all reasonable times by duly authorized representatives of the Department of Agriculture of his stocks of oilseeds and oilseed meal and of the premises used for crushing, processing, manufacturing, or storing the same; and all of his books, records and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the Department of Agriculture.

(g) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may apply in writing for relief to the Director setting forth all pertinent facts and information and the nature of the relief sought. The Director, upon the basis of such application and other information, may take such action as he deems appropriate. The decision of the Director shall be in writing and shall be final and conclusive.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, or who conspires with another to perform any of such acts, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine and imprisonment. In addition, any such person may by administrative suspension order be prohibited from receiving any deliveries of or selling or otherwise disposing of or using any oilseed meal or any other material now or hereafter authorized to be rationed or allocated by, or subject to the priority control of, the Secretary of Agriculture, and may be deprived of any priority assistance. Further, the Director of Food Production may recommend to the Office of Price Administration or to the War Production Board that any person who violates any provision of this order or any amendment or supplement thereto be denied the right to receive, use, sell or otherwise dispose of any other materials which now are or in the future may be under allocation.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless instructions to the contrary are issued, be addressed to the United States Department of Agriculture, Food Production Administration, Washington, D. C., Ref. FPA 9.

(j) Exercise of authority conferred. The Director of Food Production may delegate any or all of the authority herein conferred upon the Director to such employees of the Department of Agriculture as he may designate.

(k) Commodity Credit Corporation Oilseed Order No. 6 superseded. This order supersedes in all respects Oilseed Order No. 6 issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation on December 24, 1942 (7 F.R. 10901), as amended by Amendment No. 1 issued on January 2, 1943 (8 F.R. 44), and as amended by Amendment No. 2 issued on January 14, 1943 (8 F.R. 820), except that, as to violations of said order, as amended, or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said order, as amended, prior to the effective date hereof, said Oilseed Order No. 6, as amended, shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right or liability. Any appeal pending under said Oilseed Order No. 6, as amended, shall be considered under paragraph (g) hereof.

(l) Approval by the Bureau of the Budget. The record keeping and reporting requirements in this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Effective date. This order shall become effective 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., March 1, 1943.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179)

Chapter XI—Food Distribution Administration

[Food Distribution Order 23, Amendment 1]

PART 1465—FISH

SALE OF SPECIFIED CANNED FISH

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of canned fish to meet war and essential civilian needs, Food Distribution Order No. 23 (8 F.R. 2250) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on February 19, 1943, is hereby amended as follows:

1. By deleting the words and figures "February 28, 1943", wherever the same appear in §§ 1465.11 (a) (2) and 1465.11 (b) (1) of said Food Distribution Order No. 23, and by inserting, in lieu thereof, the words and figures "March 31, 1943."

2. By deleting the last sentence in § 1465.11 (b) (3) of said Food Distribution Order No. 23 and by inserting, in lieu thereof, the following:

The following quota periods are hereby established: Period No. 1 is from March 1, 1942, to February 28, 1943; and Period No. 2 is the month of March 1943.

The provisions of this amendment shall take effect on the date of issuance hereof.

[Revocation of Food Distribution Order 24]

PART 1425—CANNED AND PROCESSED FOODS

TERMINATION OF ORDER PLACING RESTRICTIONS ON THE MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

That Food Distribution Order No. 24, order restricting the manufacture and sale of canned fruits and vegetables (8 F.R. 2321), issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on February 20, 1943, be, and the same is hereby, terminated at 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., March 1, 1943.

With respect to violations of said Food Distribution Order No. 24, or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said Food Distribution Order No. 24 prior to the effective time of the termination of said order, said Food Distribution Order No. 24 shall be deemed to be in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, or liability.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

PART 1433—COCOA BEANS

CONSERVATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF COCOA BEANS AND COCOA PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of cocoa beans and cocoa products to meet war and essential civilian needs, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1433.1 Restrictions on use of cocoa beans and cocoa products—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity.

(2) The term "process" means the subjection of cocoa beans to any grinding, pressing, or other operation.

(3) The term "novelty item" means any candy piece manufactured in a special shape commemorating, symbolizing, or representing any holiday, event, person, animal, or object.

(4) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(b) Restrictions. (1) Except as otherwise permitted in this order, no person shall process more cocoa beans during any quota period than his quota thereof for that period, such quota and quota period to be determined by the Director from time to time.

(2) Any person who processes cocoa beans shall sell the products resulting from such processing equitably to purchasers and shall neither favor purchasers who buy other products from him nor discriminate against purchasers who do not buy other products from him.

(3) In the event that any person has had, or has, cocoa beans owned by him processed for his account by some other person, he shall, for the purpose of computing his quota hereunder and charges thereto, consider such cocoa beans as though processed by him.

(4) Notwithstanding the foregoing restrictions, any person may, except as provided by the provisions of (b) (5) hereof, process such amount of cocoa beans, without charge to his quota, as may be necessary to provide him or any other person with material to fill actual orders with or for any of the following persons:

(i) The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, War Shipping Administration, Defense Supplies Corporation, Veterans Administration hospitals and homes, or any other governmental agency designated by the Director, or any other agency of the United States Government for supplies to be delivered to, or for the account of, the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(ii) The American National Red Cross or the United Service Organizations, Inc.

(iii) Any person for retail sale through concession restaurants at Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard camps or through outlets not operated for private profit and established primarily for the use of Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard personnel within or on Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard establishments or vessels, including post exchanges, sales commissaries, officers' messes, servicemen's clubs, and ship service stores.

(5) In the event that any person processes any cocoa beans for the purpose of securing material to fill a quota-exempt order of the class mentioned in (b) (4) hereof, and such processing also yields additional and different material not needed to fill such order, such person is accountable for such additional and different material if he subsequently receives another quota-exempt order requiring the use of such material; and he may process other cocoa beans without charge to his quota to supply the material needed to fill such subsequent quota-exempt order only if and to the extent that the quantity of material for which such person is so accountable is insufficient to fill such subsequent quota-exempt order.

(6) All quotas hereunder shall be calculated quantitatively in terms of pounds.

(7) During any quota period, any person who processes cocoa beans may utilize not more than one-tenth of his quota for the preceding quota period, if the portion of the quota so carried over was not utilized by him during such preceding quota period.

(8) On and after the effective date of this order, no person shall accept delivery of or use, in connection with production for sale, any material produced from cocoa beans for any of the following purposes:

(i) Manufacturing chocolate shot,

(ii) Manufacturing hollow-molded novelty items,

(iii) Manufacturing solid chocolate novelty items,

(iv) Partially or wholly coating novelty items,

(v) Partially or wholly coating miniature candy pieces weighing, when coated, less than 1/60th of a pound, except all-nut (glazed or unglazed), all-peanut, or all-fruit (fresh, dried, or preserved) pieces, and

(vi) Applying chocolate decoration (other than "stringing"), by spray-gun, pastry-bag, or other methods, to chocolate-coated candy pieces.

(9) No person shall deliver any material produced from cocoa beans to any other person with knowledge or reason to believe that such other person is not entitled, pursuant to the provisions of (b) (8) hereof, to accept delivery thereof.

(c) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate), and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe.

(d) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections, at all reasonable times, of his stocks of cocoa beans and cocoa products and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records, and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection, by the Director.

(e) Applicability of order. This order applies to all cocoa beans which, on May 11, 1942, were in, or were thereafter brought into, the continental United States (excluding the Canal Zone and Alaska).

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(g) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(h) Communications to Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed thereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref. F D–25.

(i) Conservation Order M–145 superseded. This order supersedes in all respects Conservation Order M–145 of the War Production Board, as amended December 5, 1942 (7 F.R. 10213) and as supplemented June 25, 1942, (7 F.R. 4761) except that as to violations of said order or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said order prior to the effective date hereof, said Conservation Order M–145, as amended and supplemented, shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, or liability. Any appeal pending under said Conservation Order M–145, as amended and supplemented, shall be considered under the provisions of (g) hereof.

QUOTAS AND RECORDS IN CONNECTION WITH COCOA BEANS PRESCRIBED

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 25 (supra), dated February 27, 1943, issued pursuant to Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to effectuate the purposes of such orders, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1433.2 Quotas and records in connection with cocoa beans. (a) The quota of cocoa beans for processing by any person shall be, for the three-month period commencing January 1, 1943, and for each subsequent three-month period until otherwise ordered, 60% of the total amount of cocoa beans processed by such person during the corresponding three-month period of 1941.

(b) Every person who processes cocoa beans shall keep and maintain, for a period of not less than two years, records which, upon examination, will disclose his total monthly inventory of cocoa beans, the amount of cocoa beans processed by him each month, and his monthly use of the products resulting from such processing.

(c) This order shall take effect upon its issuance.

PART 1400—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

RATIONING OF FOOD IN ALASKA AND HAWAII

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280 of December 5, 1942, and in order to enable the Office of Price Administration to undertake, administer, and enforce rationing programs with respect to food in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1400.4 Food Directive No. 4; control over food in Alaska and Hawaii. (a) In order to permit the efficient rationing of all food in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, all foods located in those territories are hereby declared to be rationed foods for the purposes of Food Directive No. 3 (8 F.R. 2005). The Office of Price Administration is authorized to exercise all the powers delegated to it by Food Directive No. 3, subject to the terms and conditions thereof with respect to all foods in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

(b) Neither this Directive No. 4, nor any action taken hereunder by the Office of Price Administration shall relieve any person from complying with the provisions of any order or regulation of the Secretary of Agriculture or of the Director of Food Distribution applicable to Alaska and Hawaii.

(c) This Food Directive No. 4 shall become effective February 27, 1943.

PART 1461—OILSEEDS, FATS AND OILS

RESTRICTIONS ON PURCHASE AND SALE OF PEANUT OIL

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, Food Distribution Order No. 14, § 1461.18 (8 F.R. 1704), is amended by striking out paragraph (b) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Peanut oil reserved for Commodity Credit Corporation. Notwithstanding existing contracts or commitments, every person who has entered into the Refiner Contract with the Commodity Credit Corporation shall tender to the Commodity Credit Corporation for purchase pursuant to the terms of such Refiner Contract a quantity of crude peanut oil equal to at least twenty-five (25) per centum of the total quantity of crude peanut oil manufactured or received by him on or after February 5, 1943. Crude peanut oil purchased by the Commodity Credit Corporation up to and including a quantity equal to twenty-five (25) per centum of the total quantity of crude peanut oil manufactured or received by each such person on or after February 5, 1943, shall, unless otherwise determined by the Director, not be repurchased by such person, but shall be refined and stored, and insured by him for the account of the Commodity Credit Corporation, as provided in such Refiner Contract.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

PART 83—DISPOSITION OF SURPLUS AND UNSERVICEABLE PROPERTY

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments and additions to the regulations contained in Part 81 and Part 83 are hereby prescribed. These regulations are also contained in War Department Procurement Regulations dated September 5, 1942 (7 F.R. 8082), as amended by Changes No. 10, January 18, 1943.[1] In section numbers the figures to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective paragraph numbers in the procurement regulations.

APPLICABILITY OF REGULATIONS

Section 81.108 (e) is added as follows:

§ 81.108 Applicability as to various activities. * * *

(e) Service commands. These regulations are applicable to the procurement activities of the service commands. Where procurement is accomplished by a service command at the direction of the chief of a supply service or his duly authorized representative, the directions will contain references to the applicable paragraphs of the procurement regulations where appropriate. In such a case, for the purposes of these regulations, the procurement shall be regarded as procurement by the supply service concerned and the contract will be regarded as a contract of that supply service. In all other cases, the service command accomplishing the procurement shall act independently of any supply service and the term "supply service" and the term "service", as used in these regulations, shall be deemed to refer to the service commands and the term "chiefs of supply services" and "chiefs of services" shall be deemed to refer to the Commanding Generals of the Service Commands.

MISCELLANEOUS PROHIBITIONS

Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.111 are amended and paragraph (c) is added to that section as follows:

Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.111 are terests of officers or civilian employees and their official duties—(a) Basic statute. Section 41 of the United States Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 93) provides as follows:

> No officer or agent of any corporation, joint-stock company, or association, and no member or agent of any firm, or person directly or indirectly interested in the pecuniary profits or contracts of such corporation, joint-stock company, association, or firm, shall be employed or shall act as an officer or agent of the United States for the transaction of business with such corporation, joint-stock company, association, or firm. Whoever shall violate the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than two years.

(b) Construction of basic statute. The general language of section 41 of the United States Criminal Code has been the subject of interpretation from time to time by The Judge Advocate General and by the Attorney General. The Judge Advocate General has been careful to point out that the question of construction presented "involves the construction and application of criminal statutes concerning which the Federal courts alone can speak with final authority." However, the substance of certain of those opinions is set forth as an aid in the construction of the statute:

(1) In 14 Atty. Gen. 483, the Attorney General rendered an opinion concerning the use of a certain Army officer as a Liaison officer between a corporation and the War Department. It appeared that the officer was also an officer and stockholder in the corporation. In holding that the basic statute would be violated if the officer acted in that capacity, the Attorney General stated in part:

> No man can serve two masters. The statute in question is clearly grounded on this assumption. Its manifest purpose is such that any attempt to reconcile it with the proposed employment runs into difficulties. Some of these difficulties are pointed out by The Judge Advocate General of the Army in his opinion on the question. Others are equally apparent.
> No matter how high are the motives of the Army Officer who advises, he is likely as a realistic matter to be consciously or unconsciously influenced by the fact that his actions may benefit the corporation of which he is an officer and a stockholder. To a degree his salary as an officer of the corporation would be affected by whether his advice leads the War Department to enter into a procurement contract with his company. To a larger degree his share in the earnings of the corporation as a stockholder would be affected by his advice.

(2) In two recent opinions (SPJGA 210.4 and SPJGA 250.7) rendered respectively on May 22, 1942 and March 28, 1942, The Judge Advocate General concluded that a person holding stock in a corporation may be a "person directly or indirectly interested in the pecuniary costs or contracts of such corporation," within the meaning of the statute. It is to be emphasized, however, that these two opinions relate solely to that issue and do not constitute opinions on what constitutes the "transaction of business" with the corporation within the meaning of the statute. The construction of these words, as contained in the statute, was the subject of an opinion discussed in subparagraph (2) below.

(3) Under date of December 3, 1942 (SPJGA 1942/5702) the opinion of The Judge Advocate General was requested with respect to the employment of a person as head of an agency which would have complete charge of all phases of production of certain items which were purchased by the War and Navy Departments. The prospective head of the agency had been for some years an officer of a corporation which was one of the largest producers of the items with which the agency would be concerned, but at the time of the opinion was on leave of absence without pay. It appeared, however, that under a retirement system established by the corporation he would, if he lived to a specified age, become entitled to certain annual payments. It further appeared that there was an understanding that if the agency were called upon to transact business with the corporation in question, such transactions would be conducted by other officers or employees of the agency and that if questions were presented not capable of final decision by such other officers or employees, such questions would be referred to higher authority for decision. However, it also appeared that the head of the agency would be called upon to determine questions of general policy which would affect the corporation of which he was formerly an officer along with other producers. The Judge Advocate General concluded that section 41 of the Criminal Code would not be violated by the employment of such an individual as head of the agency.

(4) In an opinion dated February 3, 1923, the Acting Judge Advocate General throws further light on what constitutes transacting business within the meaning of section 41 of the Criminal Code. He had been requested to review the law in relation to the interest of the agents or officers of the United States in contracts with the United States with a view to the submission of proposed amendments thereto so as to permit the utilization of leading men in industry in an advisory capacity in connection with the planning and supervision of the procurement of war necessities. The opinion in part reads as follows:

> The statute is to be strictly construed and criminality attaches only when an individual, being an officer, or member of a business concern or directly or indirectly interested in the profits of the concern is employed or acts as agent of the United States for the transaction of business with that concern. The Act contemplates the actual transaction of business. The negotiation of a tentative contract by an agent of the [1] For previous changes see 7 F.R. 8163, 9268, 9660, 10184, 10247, 10640, 10906, and 8 F.R. 401, 411.

Government with a business concern in which that agent is an officer, member, or in which he is interested, although not binding upon either party until executed, in accordance with statutory authority and an appropriation sufficient for the fulfillment thereof would probably be considered a violation of the statute if the performance of the contract was thereafter entered upon. For this reason, in the preparation of procurement plans, no person should be permitted to have a part as agent for the United States in the negotiation of tentative contracts with a concern of which he is an officer, agent or member, or in which he is pecuniarily interested. • • • it is considered that acting in a solely advisory capacity without actual participation in the negotiation or awarding of a contract or directing the awarding of a contract would not be a violation of Section 41 of the Federal Criminal Code.

(c) Regulations supplementary to basic statute. The following regulations supplementary to the statute set forth in paragraph (a) of this section are prescribed:

(1) No officer or employee of the War Department may act as an agent of the United States in advising, recommending, making or approving the purchase of supplies or other property, or in contracting therefor, if he would be admitted to share or receive directly or indirectly any pecuniary profit or benefit from such purchase or contract.

(2) No officer or civilian employee of the War Department shall be in direct charge of the negotiation of, or exercise authority for the final approval of, any contract with any corporation, joint-stock company, association or firm, if at any time during the period subsequent to December 7, 1936 such officer or civilian employee was employed by or engaged in a course of substantial non-Governmental business dealings with such corporation, joint-stock company, association or firm.

CONTRACTS

GENERAL

Section 81.303 (c) is amended as follows:

§ 81.303 General requirements for contracts. • • •

(c) All purchase transactions other than those specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (b) of this section may be evidenced by informal contracts. Such informal contracts will be of the type described in paragraph (a) (2) of this section except that contracts of either of the following classes may be of the type described in paragraph (a) (3) of this section:

(1) Contracts which involve a contract price of less than $100.000 and which require only one payment.

(2) Contracts covering purchases made at public auction, at a produce exchange, or under similar conditions.

AUTHORITY TO MAKE AWARDS, CONTRACTS, AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF; REQUIRED APPROVALS

Section 81.304 (a) is amended as follows:

§ 81.304 Definitions—(a) Standard forms of contract. The phrase "standard forms of contract", as used in this section, includes:

(1) Forms of contract which may from time to time be approved for the general use of all supply services by the Chief, Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. The following contract forms are hereby approved for such use.

(i) United States Standard forms of contract, provided they comply with the requirements of §§ 81.322–81.361.

(ii) War Department Contract Form No. 1, Lump Sum Supply Contract. (See § 81.1301.)

(iii) War Department Contract Form No. 2, Lump Sum Construction Contract. (See § 81.1302.)

(iv) War Department Contract Form No. 3, Fixed-Fee Construction Contract. (See § 81.1303.)

(v) War Department Contract Form No. 4, Fixed-Fee Architect-Engineer Contract. (See § 81.1304.)

(vi) War Department Contract Form No. 5, Short-Form Supply Contract (Negotiated). (See § 81.1305.)

(vii) War Department Contract Form No. 6, Offer and Acceptance. (See § 81.1306)

(viii) War Department Contract Form No. 7, Letter Purchase Order. (See § 81.1307)

(ix) War Department Contract Form No. 8, Letter Contract (Supplies). (See § 81.1308)

(x) War Department Contract Form No. 9, Letter Contract (Fixed-Fee Construction). (See § 81.1309)

(xi) War Department Contract Form No. 10, Letter Contract (Lump Sum Construction). (See § 81.1310)

(xii) War Department Contract Form No. 11, War Risk Indemnity Contract. (See § 81.1311)

(xiv) War Department Contract Form No. 13, for contracts with War Supplies Limited. (See § 81.1313)

(2) Forms of contract, devised by a particular supply service to meet the needs of a recurrent situation of a special type, which may from time to time be approved by the Chief, Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, for the general use of that supply service. Any form of contract which was approved for the general use of a particular supply service of any time from July 1, 1942, to November 15, 1942, by the Director, Purchases Division, or the Chief, Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply is hereby approved pursuant to this subparagraph (2), provided it complies with the requirements of §§ 81.322–81.361.

Sections 81.308a, 81.308b, and 81.308d are amended as follows:

§ 81.308a Supplemental agreements and change orders not involving receipt of consideration. Approval by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, will be required for each supplemental agreement or change order which does not involve the receipt by the Government of adequate legal consideration, or which modifies or releases an accrued obligation owing directly or indirectly to the Government including accrued liquidated damages or liability under any surety or other bonds. In every such case the supply service shall submit a full statement of the case and of the action recommended together with a finding by the supply service, adequately supported, that the prosecution of the war would be facilitated by the action recommended. The Director, Purchases Division, will signify his approval by manual execution of the supplemental agreement or change order, where such instrument is submitted, or where such instrument is not submitted, by memorandum, indorsement, letter or telegram in response to the request for approval.

§ 81.308b Correction of mistakes. Effecting amendment of contracts with the least possible delay to correct misunderstandings, mistakes, errors and ambiguities will facilitate the prosecution of the war by expediting the procurement program and by giving contractors proper assurance that mistakes, unavoidable in war program as large and extensive as that now in progress, will be corrected expeditiously and fairly. Accordingly, when in accordance with § 81.308a, a statement is submitted to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, in connection with the approval of a supplemental agreement to correct a misunderstanding, mistake, error or ambiguity in a contract, such statement shall contain a full recital of all the circumstances surrounding the execution of the supplemental agreement and copies of all relevant papers. The evidence submitted shall show that an error or mistake was made or that a misunderstanding or ambiguity exists, in what it consists and how it occurred, and where relevant the true intent of the parties. Approval of the Director, Purchases Division, will not be required in the case of any such supplemental agreement under which the Government receives adequate new legal consideration.

§ 81.308d Ratification of prior action. In any case where an existing War Department contract or any section of these Procurement Regulations requires that any action affecting a War Department contract be approved by a contracting officer, chief of a supply service or other representative of the War Department in advance of the taking of such action or that it be so approved in writing by a stated time, such action may be ratified in writing by such officer or representative of the War Department after such action has been taken or after such stated time. Such ratification will take effect retroactively as of the date specified in the written instrument of ratification. In general, cases which are appropriate for the exercise of the authority contained in this paragraph will fall into one of two categories, namely: (a) cases where, in the interest of expediting production and without obtaining the requisite prior approvals, action has been taken in reliance in good faith upon assurances of a person in authority, or (b) cases where the action taken without such assurances was of a nature which would have been approved had approval been sought seasonably. The prosecution of the war will be facilitated by the liberal use of the authority contained in this section.

FORMALITIES IN CONNECTION WITH EXECUTION OF CONTRACTS AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF

Section 81.309 (b) is amended as follows:

§ 81.309 Numbering contracts. • • •

(b) System. Contract numbers will be placed in the upper right-hand corner and will consist of the following in the order named:

(1) The capital letter "W", representing the War Department.

(2) Station number representing the station or office as published in Finance Circulars.

(3) In the case of contracts executed within a supply service, or in the case of contracts executed by a service command at the direction of a supply service with funds furnished by the supply service, a letter or letters representing the supply service. In the case of contracts executed within a service command which are to be paid with funds allotted to the service command by the Commanding General, Services of Supply, a letter or letters indicating which portion of the allotment is to be charged. Thus, if the portion of the allotment for Signal Corps Equipment is to be charged, the Signal Corps symbol should be used. The Chief of Finance will be promptly notified of any change in the letter symbol or of the adoption of a new symbol.

(4) A serial number, separated from the above by a hyphen, commencing with the number 1 and continuing in succession indefinitely without regard to the fiscal year. When the serial number reaches the limit of five digits (99,999), a new series will be used beginning with the serial number 1 and followed by the capital letter "A". Should additional series become necessary, they will be distinguished by the capital letters "B", "C", "D", etc., as may be required.

(5) In the case of contracts executed within a service command which are to be paid with funds allotted to the service command by the Commanding General, Services of Supply, some appropriate symbol in parenthesis to indicate the service command. To illustrate, contracts executed within the First Service Command might contain at the end of the contract number the designation "(S. C. 1)".

• • • • • •

MANDATORY AND OPTIONAL CONTRACT PROVISIONS

A note is added to § 81.325 as follows:

§ 81.325 Anti-discrimination clause. Every contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Anti-discrimination. (a) The Contractor, in performing the work required by this contract, shall not discriminate against any worker because of race, creed, color, or national origin.

(b) The Contractor agrees that the provision of paragraph (a) above will also be inserted in all of its subcontracts. For the purpose of this article, a subcontract is defined as any contract entered into by the contractor with any individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, or trust, or other business enterprise or other legal entity, for a specific part of the work to be performed in connection with the supplies or services furnished under this contract: Provided, however, That a contract for the furnishing of standard or commercial articles or raw material shall not be considered as a subcontract.

NOTE: The foregoing clause, prohibiting discrimination against workers because of "national origin," is construed as prohibiting discrimination based on non-citizenship as well as discrimination based on country of origin.

Section 81.329a is added as follows:

§ 81.329a "Changes" article for supply contracts. In any case where it is desired to include in a supply contract a provision giving the Contracting Officer power by change order to increase or decrease, within stated percentage limits, the quantity of articles called for by the contract, the following article relating to changes may be used instead of an article in the form set forth in § 81.1301 (b):

ARTICLE • • • Changes. Where the supplies to be furnished are to be specially manufactured in accordance with drawings and specifications, the Contracting Officer may at any time, by a written order, and without notice to the sureties, make changes in the drawings or specifications. There may also be made as above provided (a) changes as to shipment and packing of all supplies and (b) increases or decreases in the quantity of supplies to be furnished hereunder, the total increase or decrease not, however, to exceed ---% of the quantity of supplies deliverable hereunder. If such changes cause an increase or decrease in the amount of work due under this contract, or in the time required for its performance, an equitable adjustment shall be made which adjustment may include in any instance an adjustment (a) in the purchase price, including (but not limited to) any adjustment in unit price fair in the light of any change in volume caused by such order, and (b) in the delivery time or schedule, or in either the price or delivery schedule, and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly. Any claim for adjustment under this article must be asserted within 30 days from the date the change is ordered: Provided, however, That the Contracting Officer, if he determines that the facts justify such action, may receive, consider and adjust any such claim asserted at any time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article • • • (Disputes) hereof. But nothing provided in this Article shall excuse the Contractor from proceeding with the contract as changed.

When the article set forth in § 81.1301 (b) is used, the fourth sentence of the article set out above may be used, at the discretion of the Contracting Officer, in lieu of the third sentence of the article set forth in § 81.1301 (b).

Section 81.338 is amended as follows:

§ 81.338 Plant protection clauses. In those cases where it is deemed necessary to insert a clause providing for reimbursement for plant protection, the contract will contain an article substantially similar to one of those set forth below. Such an article will not normally be necessary in construction contracts.

Plant protection. The Contractor shall maintain in and about his plant adequate plant protective devices and shall employ such watchmen, guards and other personnel as the Contracting Officer may deem necessary to prevent espionage, sabotage, and other malicious destruction or damage.

Plant protection. (a) The Contractor and each Subcontractor, at his own expense, at all times during the term of this contract, or any subcontract hereunder, shall continue all such precautions for the guarding and protection of his plant, property and work in process, as immediately prior to the date of this contract have been taken by the Contractor or Subcontractor for the protection of the plant, and shall make available such information with respect thereto as the Contracting Officer may request.

(b) The Contractor agrees to furnish the authorized Security and Safety personnel of the War Department with a survey of the existing internal security system at the Contractor's plant. The Contractor agrees, at his own expense, to make the changes set forth in Appendix ---- hereto annexed and made a part hereof to cause his existing internal security system to comply with the regulations of ---------- including the recommendations made by the appropriate War Department Internal Security personnel.
(Chief of Supply Service)

(c) At any time during the term of this contract, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative may require the Contractor or Subcontractor to install and maintain in and about the plant additional potective devices, equipment and personnel. The Contractor and each Subcontractor shall submit promptly to the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, for prior approval as to estimated cost, detailed inventories, including the estimated cost of each item of protective devices or equipment so required to be installed and of installing the same and a detailed estimate of the cost of maintaining any such additional protective devices or equipment and personnel.

(d) The Contractor or Subcontractor shall be reimbursed, upon the submission of a voucher approved by the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, the invoice price of the additional plant protective devices or equipment so required pursuant to Paragraph (c) hereof. In addition the Contractor or Subcontractor shall be reimbursed the reasonable cost of installing such additional plant protective devices or equipment. Such reasonable cost shall include only transportation to the Contractor's or Subcontractor's plant, direct labor, and direct material necessary for the installation of the additional plant protective devices or equipment. The Government shall not be under obligation to make reimbursement of total cost of such additional plant protective devices or equipment and of installing the same in excess of the estimate approved in advance by the Contracting Officer unless payment of such excess shall be approved or ratified by the Contracting Officer as reasonable. If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor or Subcontractor, as the case may be, are able to agree upon the amount of the cost of such additional devices or equipment, such sum shall be the amount to be reimbursed hereunder.

(e) Title to all plant protective devices and equipment added under Paragraph (c) of this Article shall be in the Government. The Contractor or Subcontractor, during the term of this contract or any extension thereof or during the term of the Subcontract or any extension thereof, at his own expense, shall maintain and keep in good condition and repair all such protective devices and equipment. If such protective devices and equipment are to be installed on premises leased by the Contractor, the Contractor shall take appropriate steps to preserve the Government's right to remove such property pursuant to Paragraph (g) of this Article.

(f) The ---------- or his duly authorized representative, and authorized plant protection personnel of the War Department, at all times during the performance of this Contract or any extension thereof, or during the term of the Subcontract or any extension thereof, and until after expiration of the right of removal set forth below, shall have access to the Contractor's plant, or the plant of the Subcontractor, in order to inspect, inventory, or remove any of said plant protective devices or equipment required pursuant to Paragraph (c) hereof, and to inspect the premises with respect to compliance with all regulations and requirements concerning plant protection, including any recommendations made by the appropriate War Department Internal Security personnel.

(g) After the completion or termination of this contract and prior to final settlement thereof, the Contractor, or the Subcontractor, as the case may be, shall have the option, exercisable in writing, to purchase at the then value as fixed by the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, any special plant protective devices or equipment theretofore installed in his plant pursuant to Paragraph (c). Not later than the date of final settlement, the Contractor or Subcontractor shall notify the Contracting Officer in writing to remove any such devices or equipment as to which the option to purchase is not to be exercised, and the Government shall have the right, at any time within 180 days after the receipt of such notice to remove at its own expense any such plant protective devices or equipment.

(h) The Contractor agrees to insert in each of his subcontracts the following provision:

The Subcontractor agrees to be bound by the provisions of Article ---------- of the prime contract with the Government insofar as they are applicable to this contract. The Price Contractor will reimburse the Subcontractor for the cost of such special devices equipment and personnel as have been or hereafter may be added by the Subcontractor, pursuant to Paragraph (c) of Article ---------- for which reimbursement has not been made by the Government direct to the Subcontractor according to the terms set forth in Paragraph (d) of Article ----------.

(i) For the purpose of this Article, a subcontract is defined as any contract or agreement entered into between the Contractor and any other party, for the performance of all or any part of the work called for under this Contract.

(j) The Contractor, upon the request of the Contracting Officer, shall dismiss any officer or employee whose continued employment is deemed by the Contracting Officer to endanger the safety of the plant. In the event any such officer or employee is reinstated upon request of the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall be reimbursed the costs incident to such rehiring, including back wages approved by the Contracting Officer.

(k) If guard personnel are members of the Civilian Auxiliary to the Military Police or successor organization, the Contractor shall be reimbursed for such additional cost approved by the Contracting Officer as may be incurred because of compliance with regulations and orders issued by a military commanding officer in charge of the Contractor's plant guards.

Section 81.343 is amended as follows:

§ 81.343 Rate of wages clause. All contracts subject to the Davis-Bacon Act will contain the following clause without deviation:

Rate of wages. (In accordance with the act of August 30, 1935, 49 Stat. 1011, as amended by the act of June 15, 1940, 54 Stat. 399 (U.S. Code, title 40, secs. 276a and 276a–1), this article shall apply if the contract is in excess of $2,000 in amount and is for the construction, alteration, and/or repair, including painting and decorating, of a public building or public work within the geographical limits of the States of the Union, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii, or the District of Columbia.)

(a) The contractor or his subcontractor shall pay all mechanics and laborers employed directly upon the site of the work, unconditionally and not less often than once a week, and without subsequent deduction or rebate on any account, the full amounts accrued at time of payment, computed at wage rates not less or more than those stated in the specifications (subject to Executive Order Number 9250 and the General Orders and Regulations issued thereunder) regardless of any contractual relationship which may be alleged to exist between the contractor or subcontractor and such laborers and mechanics; and the scale of wages to be paid shall be posted by the contractor in a prominent and easily accessible place at the site of the work. The contracting officer shall have the right to withhold from the contractor so much of accrued payments as may be considered necessary by the contracting officer to pay to laborers and mechanics employed by the contractor or any subcontractor on the work the difference between the rates of wages required by the contract to be paid laborers and mechanics on the work and the rates of wages received by such laborers and mechanics and not refunded to the contractor, subcontractors, or their agents.

(b) In the event it is found by the contracting officer that any laborer or mechanic employed by the contractor or any subcontractor directly on the site of the work covered by the contract has been or is being paid a rate of wages less than the rate of wages required by the contract to be paid as aforesaid, the Government may, by written notice to the contractor, terminate his right to proceed with the work or such part of the work as to which there has been a failure to pay said required wages and prosecute the work to completion by contract or otherwise, and the constractor and his sureties shall be liable to the Government for any excess costs occasioned the Government thereby.

(c) The regulations of the Secretary of Labor, referred to in article * * * hereof, allow certain "permissible deductions" from the wages required by this article to be paid.

The Article to which cross reference is made in paragraph (c) of the above clause is that contained in § 81.344.

(a) Minimum wages. There will be contained in each contract subject to the Davis-Bacon Act (or in the specifications accompanying the contract) a clause substantially as follows:

The minimum wages to be paid laborers and mechanics on this project, as determined by the Secretary of Labor to be prevailing for the corresponding classes of laborers and mechanics employed on projects of a character similar to the contract work in the pertinent locality, are as follows:

Classification of laborers and mechanics	Minimum rates of wages per hour

Any class of laborers and mechanics not listed in the preceding paragraph, which will be employed on this contract, shall be classified or reclassified conformably to the foregoing schedule by mutual agreement between the contractor and class of labor concerned, subject to the prior approval of the contracting officer. In the event the interested parties cannot agree on the proper classification or reclassification of a particular class of laborers and mechanics to be used, the question, accompanied by the recommendation of the contracting officer, shall be referred to the Secretary of Labor for final determination. The wages specified in this schedule shall be the maximum wages to be paid, subject, however, to Executive Order No. 9250 and the General Orders and Regulations issued thereunder.

Section 81.346a is added as follows:

§ 81.346a Overtime rates and shifts. Every construction contract will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Overtime rates and shifts. Where a single shift is worked, eight hours of continuous employment, except for lunch periods, shall constitute a day's work beginning on Monday and through Friday of each week. When work is required in excess of eight hours in any one day or during the interval from 5:00 p. m. Friday to 7:00 a. m. Monday, such work shall be paid for at 1½ times the basic rate wages. No premium wage or extra compensation shall be paid for work on customary holidays except that time and one-half wage compensation shall be paid for work performed on any of the following days only: New Year's Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day, and either Memorial Day or one other such holiday of greater local importance. Where two or more shifts are worked, five consecutive days of 7½ consecutive hour shifts, from Sunday midnight to Friday midnight shall constitute a regular week's work. The pay for a full shift period shall be a sum equivalent to eight times the basic hourly rate, and for a period less than the full shift shall be the corresponding proportional amount which the time worked bears to the time allocated to the full shift period. Any time worked from Friday midnight to Sunday midnight or in excess of regular shift hours shall be paid for at 1½ times the basic rate of wages. Wherever found to be practicable, shifts should be rotated.

Section 81.352a is added as follows:

§ 81.352a Provision for liquidated damages. Except with the permission of the chief of the supply service concerned (which may be granted with respect to contracts individually or by class), or in accordance with general instructions given by him, no contract shall provide for liquidated damages in the event of default. Where a contract provides for liquidated damages and a default takes place, action will be taken promptly on behalf of the Government to enforce any remedies available under the contract. So far as possible, such action will be taken in such manner as will prevent the inequitable accumulation of liquidated damages.

Section 81.353 is amended by adding a sentence at the end as follows:

§ 81.353 Walsh-Healey Act; representations and stipulations. * * * In lieu of inserting the foregoing clause the representations and stipulations required by the Walsh-Healey Act and the regulations issued by the Department of Labor pursuant thereto may be incorporated by reference to such Act and such regulations.

Paragraph (h) of the clause quoted in § 81.356 is amended as follows:

§ 81.356 Assignment of rights; secret, confidential and restricted contracts. * * *

(h) The contractor agrees that he will obtain from the assignee an agreement signed by such assignee similar to that required by paragraph 51, AR 380–5. In such agreement the assignee shall also agree that, in case of further assignment, it will obtain a similar agreement from such assignee.

Section 81.362 is added as follows:

§ 81.362 Accident prevention. Every lump sum construction contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Accident prevention. In order to protect the life and health of employees in the performance of this contract, the contractor will comply with all pertinent provisions of the "Safety Requirements in Excavation—Building—Construction" approved by the Chief of Engineers, December 16, 1941, as revised May 15, 1942, (a copy of which is on file in the office of the contracting officer, and as may be amended, and will take or cause to be taken such additional measures as the contracting officer may determine to be reasonably necessary for this purpose. The contractor will maintain an accurate record of and will report to the contracting officer in the manner and on the forms prescribed by the contracting officer, all cases of death, occupational disease and traumatic injury arising out of or in the course of employment on work under this contract. The contracting officer will notify the contractor of any noncompliance with the foregoing provisions and the action to be taken. The contractor shall, after receipt of such notice, immediately correct the conditions to which attention has been directed. Such notice, when served on the contractor or his representative at the site of the work, shall be deemed sufficient for the purpose aforesaid. If the contractor fails or refuses to comply promptly, the contracting officer may issue an order stopping all or any part of the work. When satisfactory corrective action is taken, a start order will be issued. No part of the time lost due to any such stop order shall be made the subject of claim for extension of time or for excess costs or damages by the contractor.

Every fixed-fee construction contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, will contain a clause substantially similar to the foregoing except that the last sentence will be omitted.

Paragraph 3 is added to Article 4 of § 81.375 as follows:

§ 81.375 Settlement agreement for use where a lump sum supply contract contains a provision for termination for the convenience of the Government substantially in the form contained in § 81.324 (a) and permits settlement by negotiation of amount due with respect to uncompleted portion of the contract. * * *

ARTICLE 4. * * *

(3) All rights to the recovery of excessive profits pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942 (Public Law 528, 77th Cong.) as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress, approved Oct. 21, 1942) on account of payments made to the contractor hereunder which are allocable to the completed portion of the contract (but not on account of the payments pursuant to subparagraphs b and c of Article 2 of this supplemental agreement).

FOREIGN PURCHASES

Section 81.509 (h) is added as follows:

§ 81.509 Purchases from Canadian suppliers. * * *

(h) Excess profits on contracts with War Supplies Limited. The correspondence below set forth relative to commitments made by War Supplies Limited is published for necessary action and guidance.

WAR SUPPLIES LIMITED
375 Wellington Street,
Ottawa, Canada.

1205 15th St., NW.
Washington, D. C.
Republic 7660.

JUNE 26, 1941

Honorable R. P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War,
2048, Munitions Building,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: This will acknowledge with thanks your letter of June 20th, relative to the undertaking contained in our letter of June 16th, 1941, in respect of limitation of profits, and allowance for depreciation and amortization in costs on work for your Department.

I note that any return of excess profits would normally revert to the United States Treasury, and that it would be preferable to modify the contract prior to final payment by properly reducing the contract price. As most contracts will be subject to a continuing audit, we do not anticipate any difficulty in this regard, and in any case, where it becomes apparent to us that the contractor is going to make a profit of more than 10% of cost, we shall immediately report the situation to the Contracting Officer, at the same time sending a copy of such report to the Director of Purchases and Contract, Office of the Under Secretary of War, so that the contract may be properly modified.

In respect of the point raised in the last paragraph of your letter, it is our intention that profits will not be allowed to exceed 10% of the actual cost of fulfilling the contract, and not 10% of the contract price.

Yours sincerely,

WAR SUPPLIES LIMITED.
E. P. TAYLOR,
President.

JULY 3, 1941.

WAR SUPPLIES LIMITED,
1205 Fifteenth Street N.W.,
Washington, D. C.

Attention: The Honorable E. P. Taylor.

GENTLEMEN: Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of June 26, 1941, advising, in connection with your letter of June 16, 1941 and reply thereto from this office date June 20, 1941, that in cases of United States Government contracts with your company where continuing audits prevail and where it becomes apparent to you that a profit in excess of 10% of cost will be made, you shall promptly advise the contracting officer involved, at the same time forwarding a copy of your report to him to the Director of Purchases and Contracts, Office of the Under Secretary of War.

It is noted that the profit proposed to be returned by you will be that in excess of 10% of the actual cost of fulfilling the contract involved rather than that in excess of 10% of the contract price.

The various supply arms and services are being advised of your communication.

Sincerely yours,

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

Section 81.510 is added as follows:

§ 81.510 War production policy for Canada and the United States. Having regard to the fact that Canada and the United States are engaged in a war with common enemies, the President of the United States and the Canadian War Cabinet have, upon the recommendation of the Joint War Production Committee of Canada and the United States, approved a declaration of policy calling for a combined, all-out war production effort and the removal of any barriers standing in the way of such a combined effort. Such declaration of policy follows.

Victory will require the maximum war production in both countries in the shortest possible time; speed and volume of war output, rather than monetary cost, are the primary objectives.

An all-out war production effort in both countries requires the maximum use of the labor, raw materials and facilities in each country.

Achievement of maximum volume and speed of war output requires that the production and resources of both countries should be effectively integrated, and directed towards a common program of requirements for the total war effort.

Each country should produce these articles in an integrated program of requirements which will result in maximum joint output of war goods in the minimum time.

Scarce raw materials and goods which one country requires from the other in order to carry out the joint program of war production should be so allocated between the two countries that such materials and goods will make the maximum contribution toward the output of the most necessary articles in the shortest period of time.

Legislative and administrative barriers, including tariffs, import duties, customs and other regulations or restrictions of any character which prohibit, prevent, delay or otherwise impede the free flow of necessary munitions and war supplies between the two countries should be suspended or otherwise eliminated for the duration of the war.

The two Governments should take all measures necessary for the fullest implementation of the foregoing principles.

(a) The President of the United States has directed the affected departments and agencies of the Government to abide by the letter and spirit of the foregoing policy so far as lies within their power. It is directed that the chief of each supply service whole-heartedly cooperate in an effort to make such policy effective in action. Manufacturing facilities available in the United States and in Canada should be placed upon an equal basis so far as awards of production orders are concerned, having in mind that time is of the essence and that, other things being equal, production of essential war materials at the earliest practicable date is the immediate aim of the services of supply.

(b) Under the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1933 (see § 81.502), it has been determined by the Under Secretary of War to be inconsistent with the public interest to limit procurement of essential defense articles to those manufactured, mined or produced within the United States.

(c) Any restrictions heretofore imposed on the placing of orders within the Dominion of Canada, or with War Supplies Limited (a Canadian corporation), are suspended, as are existing requirements for the clearance of orders in Canada or with Canadian corporations.

PROCUREMENT RESPONSIBILITY AND PURCHASE RESPONSIBILITY

In § 81.604 paragraph (a) is amended and paragraph (b) is rescinded as follows:

§ 81.604 Assignment of procurement and purchase responsibility • • •

(a) In any given transaction, purchase of any item may be effected by a service other than the service having purchase responsibility; Provided, That either

(1) The item is required within a brief period of time and in the judgment of the service requiring the item cannot be provided in such time by the service having purchase responsibility for the item, or

(2) The service having purchase responsibility has, by the issuance of general instructions or by consent granted with respect to the specific transaction, indicated its acquiescence.

(b) [Rescinded]

INTERDEPARTMENTAL PURCHASES

Sections 81.611 and 81.612 are amended as follows:

§ 81.611 Purchases from other agencies of the Government. Property may be acquired from other agencies of the Government either in the manner set forth in § 81.612 or in the manner set forth in § 81.613. Section 81.612 explains the circumstances under which the two procedures can be followed.

§ 81.612 Purchase of property pursuant to Public Law 670. The Act of July 20, 1942 (Public Law 670–77th Congress; 31 U. S. C. 686) amended section 7 (a) of the Act of May 21, 1920 (41 Stat. 613), as amended by section 601 of the Act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 417) to read as follows:

Any executive department or independent establishment of the Government, or any bureau or office thereof, if funds are available therefor and if it is determined by the head of such executive department, establishment, bureau, or office to be in the interest of the Government so to do, may place orders with any other such department, establishment, bureau, or office for materials, supplies, equipment, work, or services, of any kind that such requisitioned Federal agency may be in a position to supply or equipped to render, and shall pay promptly by check to such Federal agency as may be requisitioned, upon its written request, either in advance or upon the furnishing or performance thereof, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof as determined by such department, establishment, bureau, or office as may be requisitioned; but proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of the materials, supplies, or equipment furnished, or work or services performed, paid for in advance, shall be made as may be agreed upon by the departments, establishments, bureaus, or offices concerned: Provided, That the War Department, Navy Department, Treasury Department, Civil Aeronautics Administration, and the Maritime Commission may place orders, as provided herein, for materials, supplies, equipment, work, or services, of any kind that any requisitioned Federal agency may be in a position to supply, or to render or to obtain by contract: Provided further, That if such work or services can be as conveniently or more cheaply performed by private agencies such work shall be let by competitive bids to such private agencies. Bills rendered, or requests for advance payments made pursuant to any such order, shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment.

The chiefs of the supply services are authorized pursuant to the foregoing statute to purchase property from other Federal agencies on such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreed upon. This may not be done, however, if the property has been reported to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department as surplus by the holding agency or if the property has been declared surplus to the needs of the holding agency by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to section 2 (c) of Executive Order No. 9235 (7 F.R. 6987).

Section 81.613 is added as follows:

§ 81.613 Purchases of property of other agencies through the Procurement Division, Treasury Department—(a) Executive Order No. 9235. Under date of August 31, 1942 there was issued Executive Order No. 9235 providing for the effective utilization of supplies and equipment by Government agencies (see 7 F.R. 6987). This order provides in part as follows:

2. The Director of the Bureau of the Budget, acting through such assistants as he may designate, shall:

(a) Survey supplies and equipment in possession of Government agencies and the utilization thereof. For this purpose he may require the Government agencies to submit reports and estimates in such form and at such times as he may find necessary: Provided, That in making such surveys he shall utilize, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the services and facilities of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department;

• • • • •

(c) Require, when, in his opinion, such action is necessary or expedient, the transfer from one Government agency to another for permanent or temporary use, of such supplies and equipment as he may determine to be surplus to the needs of one agency and essential to the needs of another agency;

• • • • •

(e) Issue such regulations and directives as may be necessary to effectuate this order.

(b) Regulation No. 1 of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget. Under date of November 16, 1942, the Director issued Regulation No. 1 under Executive Order No. 9235. It reads in part as follows:

(c) • • • all equipment or supplies determined to be surplus by the head of an agency • • • having control thereof or by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget shall be declared surplus by submission of Procurement Division Form No. 812, "Declaration of Property" to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, which will thereupon assume temporary custody thereof. Procedures covering appraisal, rehabilitation, storage, request for transfer, transfer and payment for equipment or supplies transferred under this paragraph will be issued in the form of instructions by the Procurement Division.

2. The Director of the Bureau of the Budget may cause excess equipment and supplies to be declared surplus to the activity having custody thereof without regard to the method by which custody was obtained. Surplus equipment or supplies found in any administrative unit and held by that unit on loan from some other unit will be considered as surplus to the needs of both the unit in possession and the unit accountable therefor.

3. Compliance by the Procurement Division with a request for the transfer of surplus equipment or supplies will be dependent upon the availability to the requesting unit of an appropriation or allocation for the procurement of the equipment or supplies desired, and such other criteria as may be deemed necessary by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget.

(c) Regulation No. 2 of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget. Under date of November 16, 1942, the Director issued Regulation No. 2 under Executive Order No. 9235. It reads in part as follows:

1. All equipment and supplies recovered by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, as surplus to the requirements of any activity shall be transferred to agencies • • • requesting same, in accordance with instructions issued by the Procurement Division, at market or appraisal value at the time of transfer and, except, as provided in paragraph 3 hereof, payment therefor shall be covered into the Treasury as Miscellaneous Receipts.

2. Where the value of equipment and supplies transferred is less than the amount set forth in the justification of the applicable budget schedule, savings shall be set up as a reserve and reported on line 15 (c) of Budget-Treasury Form 2 and described as "savings through purchase of surplus equipment and supplies."

4. The Procurement Division will publish once each month, or more frequently if stock on hand or volume of requests justify, a schedule of items on hand in surplus stores. These schedules will be circulated to all agencies within distribution areas to be served by the surplus stores. No agency shall enter the commercial market for the purpose of procuring any items of equipment or supply contained in the then current surplus schedule without advance clearance from the Procurement Division: Provided, That when immediate delivery is required by the public exigency, the articles required may be procured by open market purchase or contract, in accordance with existing law, at the places and in the manner in which such articles are usually bought and sold between individuals.

5. Requests for items listed in such surplus equipment and supply schedules will as a general rule, be honored as received. However, in cases where, before shipment is made, more than one agency requests identical items, priority shall be determined in accordance with criteria as provided for in Regulation 1, Paragraph 3.

6. Equipment and supplies recovered by the Procurement Division, which are of such a character or in such condition as to be unusable or to preclude rehabilitation, shall be disposed of under regulations prescribed by the Procurement Division.

(d) Procedure for acquiring property which is surplus to the needs of another agency. The procedure for the transfer of surplus property has been set forth in Circular Letter No. 675 (November 18, 1942) of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. It is summarized in the succeeding paragraphs.

(e) Catalog of available property. Once each month, and more frequently if necessary, the Procurement Division, will issue catalogs showing the location, description and transfer price of property reported to it as surplus within specified areas. It is the responsibility of the chief of each supply service to see that all stations under his command, which would be interested in obtaining equipment surplus to the needs of other agencies, is supplied with the current catalog relating to the area where the station is located. Such catalogs will; if requested, be mailed directly to any station making a request of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

(f) Surplus property not as yet reported. When information is obtained as to the existence of property surplus to the needs of another Government agency, a supply service should, if it desires such property, communicate with the holding agency and establish definitely that the property is available. If the property has not yet been reported by the holding agency to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department and has not been declared surplus to the needs of the holding agency by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to section 2 (c) of Executive Order No. 9235 (see paragraph (a) of this section), the property may be purchased directly from the holding agency pursuant to Public Law No. 670—77th Congress (see § 81.612). If, however, the holding agency desires to effect the transfer through the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, it should be requested to declare the property as surplus on the forms prescribed by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. The declaration should be forwarded to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C. with a statement that the property is wanted by the station concerned. The property should then be requested by the supply service in accordance with paragraph (g) of this section.

(g) Requests for transfer not to be made directly. Any supply service desiring to acquire property which has been reported to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department by the holding agency will make the request through the Surplus Property Officer, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. The request will be made on Purchase Authority Form (issued by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department) or on such other document or form as is customarily used for ordinary purchases. Whatever form is used should carry the capitalized heading "Request for transfer of property". The request should contain the following information:

(1) Complete and specific reference to date of Catalog of Available Property in which property appeared. If property has not yet been listed in a catalog there should be substituted the present location of the property, the transferring agency's declaration number, and a complete description of the property.

(2) Shipping instructions or information that the property will be picked up.

(3) The symbol and title of the appropriation, appropriations, or fund from which the costs of acquisition and any transportation charges incident to delivery to the supply service will be paid. The request will be promptly forwarded by the Surplus Property Officer to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department and the requesting supply service will be informed either that the property will be furnished or that it is not available. Direct correspondence by the chiefs of the supply services with the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, is not authorized in this connection.

(h) Disposition of surplus property to other Government agencies. It is to be noted that the foregoing paragraphs relate only to the acquisition of property from another Government agency and not to the disposition of surplus property to another Government agency. As to the latter, see § 83.714 (b) et seq.

STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

Section 81.810 is amended as follows:

§ 81.810 Applicable tax directives. While the various state and local tax laws are not uniform in their application, as a general rule Government purchases are exempt from such taxes. Neither are such laws uniform in their application to purchases by Government contractors. Information will be published from time to time as to the procedure to be followed with regard to state and local taxes. Information already published is contained in a series of memoranda for the chiefs of the supply services and others as follows:

Alabama	January 12, 1942 (past transactions).
	January 23, 1942 (future transactions) as amended June 12, 1942.

WAGE AND SALARY STABILIZATION

Paragraphs (a) to (p), inclusive, of § 81.976 are redesignated §§ 81.976a to 81.976p, inclusive, and the following changes made therein:

Paragraphs (k) and (l) of the regulations of the Director of Economic Stabilization are added as set forth in § 81.976a. Paragraph (a) is added to § 81.976e. Section 81.796m is amended by the incorporation of joint statements of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, dated November 12, 1942, and December 26, 1942.

Sections 81.976j and 81.976n are amended.

§ 81.976 Regulations of Economic Stabilization Director approved by the President. On October 27, 1942, Economic Stabilization Director Brynes issued regulations (Part 4001) (7 F.R. 8748, 10024) pursuant to authority vested in, and with the approval of, the President relative to wages and salaries. These regulations are set forth in §§ 81.976a to 81.976p, inclusive, of this part.

§ 4001.1 Definitions. When used in these regulations, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(a) The term "Act" means the Act of October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to amend the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, to aid in preventing inflation, and for other purposes."

(b) The term "Board" means the National War Labor Board created by Executive Order No. 9017, dated January 12, 1942.

(c) The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(d) The term "code" means the Internal Revenue Code, as amended as supplemented.

(e) The term "salary" or "salary payments" means all forms of direct or indirect compensation which is computed on a weekly, monthly, annual or other comparable basis, except a wage basis, for personal services of an employee irrespective of when rendered, including bonuses, additional compensation, gifts, loans, commissions, fees, and any other remuneration in any form or medium whatsoever (excluding insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount).

(f) The term "salary rate" means the rate or other basis at which the salary for any particular work or service is computed either under the terms of a contract or agreement or in conformity with an established custom or usage.

(g) The term "wages" or "wage payments" means all forms of direct or indirect compensation which is computed on an hourly or daily basis, a piece-work basis, or other comparable basis, for personal services of an employee irrespective of when rendered, including bonuses, additional compensation, gifts, commissions, loans, fees, and any other remuneration in any form or medium whatsoever (but excluding insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount).

(h) The term "insurance and pension benefits in a reasonable amount" means

(1) Contributions by an employer to an employees' trust or under an annuity plan which meets the requirements of section 165 (a) of the Code (for text of this section of the Code see paragraph (a) of this section), and

(2) Amounts paid by an employer on account of premiums on insurance on the life of the employee which amounts are deductible by the employer under section 23 (a) of the Code (for text of this section of the Code, see paragraph (b) of this section), except that if such amounts are includible in the gross income of the employee under the Code, the amount in respect of each employee may not exceed five percent of the employee's annual salary or wages determined without the inclusion of insurance and pension benefits.

(i) The terms "approval by the Board" and "determination by the Board" shall, except as may be otherwise provided in the regulations or orders of the Board, include an approval or determination by an agent of the Board duly authorized to perform such act; and such approval or determination, if subsequently modified or reversed by the Board, shall nevertheless for the purpose of these regulations be deemed to have been continuously in effect from its original date until the first day of the payroll period immediately following the reversal or modification or until such later date as the Board may direct.

(j) The terms "approval by the Commissioner" and "determination by the Commissioner" shall, except as may be otherwise provided in regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, include an approval or determination by an agent of the Commissioner duly authorized to perform such act; and such approval or determination, if subsequently modified or reversed by the Commissioner, shall nevertheless for the purpose of these regulations, be deemed to have been continuously in effect from its original date until the first day of the payroll period immediately following reversal or modification or until such later date as the Commissioner may direct.

(k) The terms "approval by the Secretary of Agriculture" and "determination by the Secretary of Agriculture" shall, except as may be provided in regulations prescribed by the Secretary, include an approval or determination by an agent or agents of the Secretary duly authorized to perform such act.

(l) The term "agricultural labor" shall mean persons working on farms and engaged in producing agricultural commodities whose salary or wage payments are not in excess of $2,400 per annum. The Secretary of Agriculture may by regulation issue such interpretations of this term as he finds necessary.

(a) Text of section 165 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(a) Exemption from tax. A trust forming part of a stock bonus, pension or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries shall not be taxable under this supplement and no other provision of this supplement shall apply with respect to such trust or to its beneficiary—

(1) If contributions are made to the trust by such employer, or employees, or both, for the purpose of distributing to such employees or their beneficiaries the corpus and income of the fund accumulated by the trust in accordance with such plan;

(2) If under the trust instrument it is impossible, at any time prior to the satisfaction of all liabilities with respect to employees and their beneficiaries under the trust, for any part of the corpus or income to be (within the taxable year or thereafter) used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries;

(3) If the trust, or two or more trusts, or the trust or trusts and annuity plan or plans are designated by the employer as constituting parts of a plan intended to qualify under this subsection which benefits either—

(A) 70 per centum or more of all the employees, or 80 percentum or more of all the employees who are eligible to benefit under the plan if 70 per centum or more of all the employees are eligible to benefit under the plan, excluding in each case employees who have been employed not more than a minimum period prescribed by the plan, not exceeding five years, employees whose customary employment is for not more than twenty hours in any one week, and employees whose customary employment is for not more than five months in any calendar year, or

(B) Such employees as qualify under a classification set up by the employer and found by the Commissioner not to be discriminatory in favor of employees who are officers, shareholders, persons whose principal duties consist of supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees; and

(4) If the contributions or benefits provided under the plan do not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, shareholders, persons whose principal duties consist in supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees.

(5) A classification shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of paragraphs (3) (B) or (4) of this subsection merely because it excludes employees the whole of whose remuneration constitutes "wages" under section 1426 (a) (1) (relating to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) or merely because it is limited to salaried or clerical employees. Neither shall a plan be considered discriminatory within the meaning of such provisions merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of the employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of such employees, or merely because the contributions or benefits based on that part of an employee's remuneration which is excluded from "wages" by section 1426 (a) (1) differ from the contributions or benefits based on employee's remuneration not so excluded, or differ because of any retirement benefits created under State or Federal law.

(6) A plan shall be considered as meeting the requirements of paragraph (3) of this subsection during the whole of any taxable year of the plan if on one day in each quarter it satisfied such requirements.

(b) Extract from section 23 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Deductions from gross income. In computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions:

(a) Expenses.—(1) In general. All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered;

(o) Charitable and other contributions. In the case of an individual, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year to or for the use of:

(1) The United States, any State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia, or any possession of the United States, for exclusively public purposes;

(2) A corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, created or organized in the United States or in any possession thereof or under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory or of any possession of the United States, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benfit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation;

(3) The special fund for vocational rehabilitation authorized by section 12 of the World War Veterans' Act, 1924, 43 Stat. 611 (U.S.C., Title 38, sec. 440);

(4) Posts or organizations of war veterans, or auxiliary units or societies of any such posts or organizations, if such posts, organizations, units, or societies are organized in the United States or any of its possessions, and if no part of their net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual; or

(5) A domestic fraternal society, order, or association, operating under the lodge system, but only if such contributions or gifts are to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; to an amount which in all the above cases combined does not exceed 15 per centum of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefit of this subsection. Such contributions or gifts shall be allowable as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary.

(c) Section 5 (b) of Act to amend the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, to aid in preventing inflation and for other purposes. Section 5 (b) of Public Law 729 (77th Cong., 2nd Session) provides as follows:

Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent the reduction by any private employer of the salary of any of his employees which is at the rate of $5,000 or more per annum.

§ 81.976b Authority of National War Labor Board.

§ 4001.2 Authority of National War Labor Board. The Board shall, subject to the provisions of sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, and 9 of Title II of Executive Order No. 9250, of October 3, 1942, have authority to determine whether any:

(a) Wage payments, or

(b) Salary payments to an employee totaling in amount not in excess of $5,000 per annum where such employee

1. In his relations with his employer is represented by a duly recognized or certified labor organization, or

(2) Is not employed in a bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacity as made in contravention of the Act, or any rules, orders or regulations promulgated thereunder. Any such determination by the Board made under rulings and orders issued by it that a payment is in contravention of the Act, or any rulings, orders, or regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Board made pursuant to the authority conferred on it shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings.

§ 4001.3 Rules, orders and regulations of Board. The Board may make such rulings and issue such orders or regulations as it deems necessary to enforce and otherwise carry out the provisions of these regulations.

§ 4001.4 Authority of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The Commissioner shall have authority to determine, under regulations to be prescribed by him, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, whether any salary payments other than those specified in paragraph (b) of § 4001.2 of these regulations are made in contravention of the Act, or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder. Any such determination by the Commissioner, made under such regulations, that a payment is in contravention of the Act, or any rulings or regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulations, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Commissioner made pursuant to the authority conferred on him shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings. No increase in a salary rate approved by the Commissioner shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

§ 4001.5 Rules and regulations of Commissioner. The Commissioner may prescribe such regulations with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and make such rulings as he deems necessary, to enforce and otherwise carry out the provisions of these regulations.

(a) Provisions with respect to wages and salaries of Agricultural labor. On November 30, 1942, Economic Stabilization Director Byrnes issued amended regulations bearing section numbers 4001.5a, 4001.5b, 4001.5c and 4001.5d (7 F.R. 10024), with the approval of the President, conferring upon the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to determine whether any salary or wage payments to agricultural labor receiving not in excess of $2,400 per annum are made in contravention of the Stabilization Act of October 2, 1942. The text of these sections is omitted.

§ 4001.6 Salary increases. In the case of a salary rate of $5,000 or less per annum existing on the date of the approval of these regulations by the President and in the case of a salary rate of more than $5,000 per annum existing on October 3, 1942, no increase shall be made by the employer except as provided in regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated under the authority of these regulations. Except as herein provided, any increase made after such respective dates shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated thereunder from the date of the payment if such increase is made prior to the approval of the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be.

In the case, however, of an increase made in accordance with the terms of a salary agreement or salary rate schedule and as a result of

(a) Individual promotions or reclassifications,

(b) Individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges,

(c) Operation of an established plan of salary increases based on length of service,

(d) Increased productivity under incentive plans,

(e) Operation of a trainee system, or

(f) Such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in orders, rulings, or regulations, promulgated under the authority of these regulations, no prior approval of the Board or the Commissioner is required. No such increase shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

§ 81.976g Decreases in salaries of less than $5,000.

§ 4001.7 Decreases in salaries of less than $5,000. In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, under which an employee is paid a salary of less than $5,000 per annum for any particular work, no decrease shall be made by the employer below the highest salary rate paid for such work between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, unless to correct gross inequities or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war. Any decrease in such salary rate after October 3, 1942, shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated thereunder if such decrease is made prior to the approval of the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be.

§ 4001.8 Decreases in salaries of over $5,000. In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, under which an employee is paid a salary of $5,000 or more per annum, no decrease in such rate made by the employer shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder (see section 5 (b) of the Act set forth in § 81.976a (c)): Provided, however, That if by virtue of such decrease the new salary paid to the employee is less than $5,000 per annum, then the validity of such decrease below $5,000 shall be determined under the provisions of § 4001.7 of these regulations.

§ 4001.9 Limitation on certain salaries. (a) No amount of salary (exclusive of any amounts allowable under paragraphs (b) and

(c) of this section) shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year which, after reduction by the Federal income taxes on the amount of such salary, would exceed $25,000. The amount of such Federal income taxes shall be determined (1) by applying to the total amount of salary (exclusive of any amounts allowable under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section) paid or accrued during the taxable year, undiminished by any deductions, the rates of taxes imposed by Chapter I of the Code (not including section 466) as if such amount of salary were the net income (after the allowance of credits applicable thereto), the surtax net income, and the Victory tax net income, respectively, and (2) without allowance of any credits against any of such taxes.

(b) In any case in which an employee establishes that his income from all sources is insufficient to meet payments customarily made to charitable, educational or other organizations described in section 23 (o) of the Code (for text of this section of the Code see § 81.976a (b)), without resulting in undue hardship, then an additional amount sufficient to meet such payments may be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year even though it exceeds the amount otherwise computed under paragraph (a).

(c) In any case in which an employee establishes that, after resorting to his income from all sources, he is unable, without disposing of assets at a substantial financial loss resulting in undue hardship, to meet payments for the following:

(1) Required payments (excluding accelerated payments) made by the employee during the taxable year on any life insurance policies on his life which were in force on October 3, 1942.

(2) Required payments (excluding accelerated payments) made by the employee during the taxable year on any fixed obligations for which he was obligated on October 3, 1942.

(3) Federal income taxes of the employee for prior taxable years, which are paid during the taxable year, not including Federal income taxes on the allowance under paragraph (a) for any prior year, an additional amount sufficient to meet such payments may be paid or authorized to be phid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year, even though it exceeds the amount otherwise computed under paragraph (a).

(d) In the case of an individual who is an employee of more than one person, the aggregate of the salaries received by such individual shall, under such circumstances as may be set forth in regulations promulgated under the authority of these regulations, be treated as if paid by a single employer.

(e) Unless payment thereof is required under a bona fide contract in effect on October 3, 1942, no amount of salary shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him after October 3, 1942, and before January 1, 1943, if the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1942 exceeds the amount of salary which would otherwise be allowable under paragraph (a) of this section and also exceeds the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1941.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, the provisions of this section shall be applicable to salary paid or accrued after December 31, 1942, regardless of when authorized and regardless of any contract or agreement made before or after such date.

§ 4001.10 Effect of unlawful payments. (a) If any wage or salary payment is made in contravention of the Act or the Regulations, Rulings or Orders promulgated thereunder as determined by the Board, the Commissioner or the Secretary of Agriculture, as the case may be, the entire amount of such payment shall be disregarded by the Executive Department and all other agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses of any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. The term "law or regulations" as used herein includes any law or regulation hereafter enacted or promulgated. In the case of wages or salaries decreased in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the amount of the wage or salary paid or accrued. In the case of wages or salaries increased in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the amount of the wage or salary paid or accrued and not merely an amount representing an increase in such wage or salary. In the case of a salary in excess of the amount allowable under § 4001.9 of these regulations which is paid or accrued to an employee during his taxable year in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the full amount of such salary and not merely the amount representing the excess over the amount allowable under such § 4001.9.

(b) Payments made or received in violation of any regulations, rulings or orders promulgated under the authority of the Act are subject to the penal provisions of the Act.

§ 4001.11 Exempt employers. The provisions of §§ 4001.6, 4001.7 and 4001.8 of these regulations shall apply only in the case of an employer who employs more than eight individuals.

§ 81.976l Salary allowances under Internal Revenue Code.

§ 4001.12 Salary allowances under Internal Revenue Code. No provision of these regulations shall preclude the Commissioner from disallowing as a deduction in computing Federal income tax any compensation paid by an employer (regardless of the number of employees and of the amount paid to any employee) in excess of a "reasonable allowance" in accordance with the provisions of section 23 (a) of the Code (for text of this section of the Code see § 81.976a (b)).

§ 81.976m Statutory salaries and wages.

§ 4001.13 Statutory salaries and wages. These regulations shall be applicable to any salary or wages paid by the United States, any State, Territory or possession, or political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, except where the amount of such salary or wages is fixed by statute.

Joint Statement of November 12, 1942, of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue: Procedure for Wage and Salary Adjustments by State Governments and Subdivisions and Agencies Thereof.

Adjustments in salaries or wages of State, county or municipal employees which require the approval of the Board or of the Commissioner will be deemed approved upon certification by the State or local agency authorizing the adjustment that such adjustment is necessary to correct maladjustments, or to correct inequalities or gross inequities as contemplated by Executive Order No. 9250. Such a certificate, briefly describing the nature and amount of the adjustment, and setting forth the necessary facts, will be accepted by the Board of Commissioners, as the case might be, as satisfactory evidence of the facts and of the propriety of the adjustment, subject to the right of the Board or the Commissioner to reopen the matter and to request further information pertaining to the propriety of the adjustment. Modification by the Board or by the Commissioner of action taken by a governmental official or agency acting pursuant hereto will not be retroactive. The certificate prescribed herein, together with four copies thereof, should be filed promptly with the committee established by joint action of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, namely the Joint Committee on Salaries and Wages, Room 5426, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., which will forward the same to the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may require.

The certification procedure will not apply to any adjustment which would raise salaries or wages beyond the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community. In exceptional cases where such an adjustment is sought, and in all cases where the agency seeks an adjustment other than by the certification procedure, application for approval should be filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the National War Labor Board or of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue as the case may be.

Joint Statement of December 26, 1942, of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue: Procedure for Wage and Salary Adjustments by State, County, and Municipal Governments and Agencies Thereof.

Since the November 12, 1942, announcement of procedure was made, a multitude of certificates of wage or salary adjustments have been received from state and local agencies. In the course of a detailed examination of the facts set forth in these certificates, neither the Board nor the Commissioner has had occasion to question any adjustments made by any of the state or local agencies. In the light of this experience, which indicates that statutory budgetare controls are operating to keep salary and wage movements of state and local agencies within very narrow bounds, the Board and the Commissioner have determined to make the following changes in procedure effective forthwith:

(1) In all cases where an adjustment in wages or salaries by a State, county or municipal agency is necessary to correct maladjustments, inequalities or gross inequities as contemplated by Executive Order No. 9250 and would not raise salaries or wages above the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community, the adjustments will be deemed approved without the necessity of filing certificates for the information of the Board or Commissioner.

(2) In all other cases, the state or local agency is requested to take the matter up with the Joint Committee on Salaries and Wages, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C. This Committee, with the approval of the Economic Stabilization Director, has been established by the Board and the Commissioner, and has been authorized to advise state and local agencies in these cases whether or not the particular adjustments are in accordance with the national stabilization policy. While the Committee in the performance of its functions will not attempt to exercise any legal sanctions, Congress, in the Act of October 2, 1942, clearly intended that all employers and all employees would be covered by the national stabilization policy and since millions of public employees are engaged in the same kind of work as private employees, the duty of public employers to conform to that policy is as plain as that of private employers. The way in which governmental agencies have been cooperating with the Board and the Commissioner to date indicates their desire to discharge that duty to the same extent as is required of non-governmental employers.

§ 4001.14 Territories and possessions. The Board, the Commissioner or the Secretary of Agriculture, as the case may be, shall have the authority to exempt from the operation of these regulations any wages or salaries paid in any Territory or possession of the United States where deemed necessary for the effective administration of the Act and these regulations.

§ 4001.15 Regulations of Economic Stabilization Director. The Director shall have authority to issue such regulations as he deems necessary to amend or modify these regulations.

§ 81.976p Effect of Executive Order No. 9250.

§ 4001.16 Effect of Executive Order No. 9250. To the extent that the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942, are inconsistent with these regulations, such provisions are hereby superseded.

Section 81.977c is amended as follows:

§ 81.977c Regional offices.

§ 1001.3 Regional offices. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may establish such regional offices as he shall deem necessary for the effective administration of the provisions of this Treasury Decision.

(a) The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has established the following Salary Stabilization Regional Offices:

Detroit: 14th Floor, Penobscot Building, Detroit, Michigan. Jurisdiction: Michigan.

Los Angeles: Suite 770, Subway Terminal Building, Los Angeles, California. Jurisdiction: Sixth Collection District of California, and Arizona.

New York: 253 Broadway, Fourth Floor, New York, New York. Jurisdiction: New York and the Fifth Collection District of New Jersey.

Philadelphia: Suite 1313, Market Street, National Bank Building, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Jurisdiction: Pennsylvania and New Jersey with the exception of the Fifth Collection District of New Jersey.

San Francisco: Room 918, 100 McAllister Street Building, San Francisco, California. Jurisdiction: First Collection District of California, Nevada, Utah and Hawaii.

Chicago: Fourth Floor, 208 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois. Jurisdiction: Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Indiana.

Boston: Rooms 301-4, 1 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts. Jurisdiction: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island.

Cleveland: Williamson Building, 215 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. Jurisdiction: Ohio and Kentucky.

Atlanta: Rooms 717-720, William Oliver Building, Atlanta, Georgia. Jurisdiction: South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee.

Seattle: Room 312, Smith Tower Annex, Seattle, Washington. Jurisdiction: Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Alaska.

Kansas City: R. A. Long Building, Kansas City, Missouri. Jurisdiction: Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado.

Dallas: Tower Petroleum Building, Dallas, Texas. Jurisdiction: Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Washington, D. C.: Room 2529, Internal Revenue Building, Washington, D. C. Jurisdiction: Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

Paragraphs (a) and (b) are added to § 81.977p as follows:

(a) Where an employer has numerous employees on a weekly salary basis and who receive stipulated salaries for a week comprised of 48 hours of work, without provision for overtime compensation, approval by Commissioner of Internal Revenue is required to increase weekly salaries on a pro rata hourly basis for all hours worked in excess of 48. Likewise, approval of the Commissioner is required to effect a pro rata hourly reduction of the weekly salaries under the same circumstances (letter of Commissioner of Internal Revenue dated December 22, 1942).

(b) Where an employer has numerous employees who receive stipulated salaries per week of 40 hours of work with provision for time and one-half compensation for all hours worked in excess of 40 per week, approval of Commissioner of Internal Revenue is required to increase the base weekly salary for 40 hours of work but not for pro rata overtime (letter of Commissioner of Internal Revenue dated December 22, 1942).

Paragraphs (a) and (b) are added to § 81.977q as follows:

§ 1002.14 * * *

(a) Bonuses. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has stated that his approval of bonuses to be paid in 1942 to salaried employees within his jurisdiction is not required where:

(1) The amount to be paid in 1942 is not greater than the amount paid to the same employee or an employee occupying the same position in 1941.

(2) Before October 3, 1942, the employer has entered into an enforceable contract with the employee to pay him, in 1942, (i) a bonus of a specified amount or, (ii) a bonus calculated in a specified manner, the amount of which was determinable on or before October 3, 1942.

(3) It has been the settled policy of the employer over a period of at least two years to pay bonuses calculated on a fixed percentage of the salary of each of the employees of any group, provided the fixed percentage is not increased in 1942. An increase in the amount of any employee's bonus due to an increase in his salary during 1942, without any change in the percentage, will not be in violation of this rule.

(4) The bonus or other additional compensation is based on a fixed percentage of an employee's individual sales, provided the rate of such payment was fixed before October 3, 1942. All other types of bonus payments require the approval of the Commissioner. Applications for approval of bonus payments, where required, should be made before making payment and should be filed on forms which may be secured from any of the Salary Stabilization Regional Offices listed in paragraph (a) of § 81.977c.

(b) Salary schedules. The salary schedules for nonmanual employees contained in Construction Contract Board Form 5 used by the Office of the Chief of Engineers have been ruled by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to be salary rate schedules within the meaning of § 1002.14 of the Regulations and salary increases and promotions within the limits of these schedules may be made without prior approval of the Commissioner, for employees who come within the jurisdiction of the Commissioner. Prior approval, however, must be obtained in any case where salary increases are made beyond the limits set forth in such schedules (letter of Commissioner of Internal Revenue dated December 22, 1942).

Section 81.977ll is added immediately following § 81.977kk:

§ 81.977ll Delegation by Commissioner of Internal Revenue to Secretary of War. By letter dated December 24, 1942 the Commissioner of Internal Revenue delegated to the Secretary of War the authority to administer the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, General Regulations of the Director of Economic Stabilization and the Salary Stabilization Regulations as they relate to salary adjustments, which come under the jurisdiction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, of all civilian employees employed by the War Department within the continental limits of United States and Alaska, the Army Exchange Service and Government-owned, privately-operated facilities of the War Department. The full text of the letter follows:

MY DEAR MR. SECRETARY: Reference is made to your letter dated December 1, 1942, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, wherein it is suggested that an arrangement be adopted so that the Secretary of War may have the authority to administer the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, General Regulations of the Director of Economic Stabilization and the Salary Stabilization Regulations, as they relate to salary adjustments which come under the jurisdiction of this office, of all civilian positions of the War Department within the continental United States and Alaska. The delegation of authority would also cover salary adjustments for personnel under the Army Exchange Service and in Government owned, privately operated plants. It is further requested that the authority delegated be exercised on behalf of the Secretary of War by the Wage Administration Section in the Civilian Personnel Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. Under the plan suggested the Wage Administration Section would have authority to act on cases covered by the policies of this office and will present to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue a request for a decision on any case not so covered. There was attached to your letter a Wage Administration Manual for ungraded civilian jobs.

In accordance with your request, there is hereby delegated to the Secretary of War, as the agent of the Commissioner, to be exercised on his behalf by the Wage Administration Section within the Civilian Personnel Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply (hereinafter referred to as the War Department Agency) authority to rule upon all applications for salary adjustments (insofar as approval thereof has been made a function of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue) covering civilian employees within the continental limits of the United States and Alaska, employed by the War Department, the Army Exchange Service and Government owned, privately operated facilities of the War Department.

This delegation is subject to the following conditions:

1. The War Department Agency, without making initial ruling thereon, may refer to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for decision any case which in the opinion of the agency presents doubtful and disputed questions of sufficient importance to warrant direct action by the Commissioner.

2. The War Department Agency shall transmit to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue copies of its rulings and rules of procedure as they are issued and such additional data and reports as the Commissioner may from time to time deem necessary.

3. Any ruling by the War Department Agency shall be final, subject to

(a) the Commissioner's ultimate power to review rulings on his own initiative;

(b) the right of any aggrieved party to take an appeal to the Commissioner from the ruling of the War Department Agency within a period of ten days after the date of such ruling. An appeal shall be filed with the War Department Agency to be forwarded to the Commissioner for action.

Any ruling by the War Department Agency shall be deemed to be the act of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, unless and until reversed or modified by him, and any such reversal or modification shall take effect from the date recited in the order of modification or reversal.

4. Any ruling of the War Department Agency under this delegation of authority shall be effective from the date of the receipt of the application for salary adjustment and in no case should the War Department Agency issue a ruling which would have a retroactive effect; except, however, in those cases where a salary adjustment was made in good faith and consistent with the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, prior to the date of this letter, retroactive approval may be made if the application for approval is filed with the War Department Agency on or before January 15, 1943.

5. The "Government owned, privately operated facilities of the War Department" which are to be subject to the terms of this delegation shall be only those which are named in lists furnished from time to time to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue by the War Department Agency. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may at any time, upon at least seven days' notice to the War Department Agency, strike from the list any facility if the Commissioner of Internal Revenue believes that the policies of the Executive Order No. 9250, the regulations promulgated by the Economic Stabilization Director and those of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue require that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue act directly upon the wage and salary adjustments of such facility.

Since the Wage Administration Section in the Headquarters, Services of Supply, has the technical staff and has made the necessary preparation to apply the provisions of the Executive Order No. 9250 and the regulations throughout the War Department, it is believed that the foregoing delegation of authority will aid in the expeditious handling of the salary adjustment program.

Very truly yours,

GUY T. HELVERING,
Commissioner.

Section 81.979a is amended by adding at the end thereof reference to Alaska as follows:

§ 81.979a National War Labor Board Regions; geographical jurisdictions and addresses. * * *

Region X: California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Arizona. 1355 Market St., San Francisco, Calif.

Alaska. (See § 81.980w, National War Labor Board General Order No. 23.)

Sections 81.979c and 81.979d are added as follows:

§ 81.979c Extension of authority of National War Labor Board Regional Directors: Bonuses. On December 17, 1942, the National War Labor Board delegated to its Regional Directors authority to pass on such bonus payments which require Board approval. The Regional Directors were authorized to approve the payment of gifts or bonuses not permissible under General Order No. 10 (§ 81.980j) only in exceptional cases where non-payment "would be grossly inequitable and would result in a manifest injustice."

§ 81.979d Extension of authority of National War Labor Board Regional Directors: Voluntary wage and salary adjustments. On December 24, 1942, the National War Labor Board granted to its Regional Directors authority to make final decisions on all voluntary wage or salary (over which the NWLB has jurisdiction) adjustment cases involving employers of not more than 100 employees subject to the NWLB's procedure which provides, for appeal to a tripartite regional panel from an adverse ruling by a Regional Director. The decisions of these panels are final, subject to the right of any panel member to request Board review and the Board's right of review on its own motion.

In § 81.980 paragraphs (a) to (p) inclusive are redesignated §§ 81.980a to 81.980p inclusive and the following changes made therein:

Section 81.980 is amended as follows:

§ 81.980 General Orders of National War Labor Board. From time to time the National War Labor Board issues general orders establishing procedures and regulations for the administration and interpretations of such portions of Executive Order No. 9250 as are administered by the National War Labor Board, as well as interpretations of such general orders. The full text of such general orders and interpretations is set forth in the succeeding paragraphs which are designated §§ 81.980a to 81.980y, inclusive.

Paragraph (a) is redesignated § 81.980b and amended as follows:

§ 81.980a General Order No. 1. * * *

(a) General Order No. 1–A.

General Order No. 1 issued by the National War Labor Board on October 7, 1942, shall apply also to salaries subject to the jurisdiction of the Board. (For definition of such salaries, see General Order No. 9, October 30, 1942, at § 81.980i.)

Paragraph (b) is redesignated § 81.980b as follows:

§ 81.980b General Order No. 2. * * *

Paragraph (c) is redesignated § 81.980c and subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) are redesignated paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of that section as follows:

§ 81.980c General Order No. 3. * * *

(a) Interpretation No. 1 of General Order No. 3. * * *

(b) Interpretation No. 2 of General Order No. 3. * * *

(c) Interpretation No. 3 of General Order No. 3. * * *

Paragraph (d) is redesignated § 81.980d and subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) are redesignated paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of that section as follows:

§ 81.980d General Order No. 4. * * *

(a) Intrepretation No. 1 of General Order No. 4. * * *

(b) Intrepretation No. 2 of General Order No. 4. * * *

(c) General Order No. 4–A. * * *

(d) General Order No. 4–B. * * *

Paragraph (e) is redesignated § 81.980e, paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are added as follows:

§ 81.980e General Order No. 5.

Wage adjustments may be made in the rates of individual employees, without approval of the National War Labor Board, if they are incident to the application of the terms of an established wage agreement or to established wage rate schedules covering the work assignments of employees and are made as a result of:

(a) Individual promotions or reclassifications.

(b) Individual merit increases within established rate ranges.

(c) Operation of an established plan of wage increases based upon length of service.

(d) Increased productivity under piecework or incentive plans.

(e) Operation of an apprentice or trainee system.

The Board further finds that adjustments of wages made under this order should not result in any substantial increase of the level of costs and shall not furnish a basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

(a) Interpretation No. 1 of General Order No. 5. * * *

(b) The reduction or acceleration of the time intervals in a length of service schedule constitutes a substantial change in the essential character of the schedule and, therefore, may not be made without Board approval.

(c) Where a length of service schedule contains several steps, the starting or minimum step may not be eliminated without Board approval even though the other steps in the schedule including the top step, or maximum rate, are left unaffected.

(d) A wage rate schedule is "established" within the meaning of General Order No. 5 where prior to October 3, 1942, minimum and maximum rates were fixed for the particular job or classification. A salary rate schedule is "established" where prior to October 27, 1942, minimum and maximum rates for the particular salaried job or classification were fixed. The minimum and maximum rates may have been fixed either in writing or by custom or practice adhered to for a substantial length of time prior to October 3, in the case of wages, or October 27, in the case of salaries. No definite rule of thumb has been formulated by the National War Labor Board to determine whether or not the rates have been adhered to for sufficient length of time but the Board has indicated that if the rates have been adhered to for a year prior to the proposed adjustments that would be sufficient. Whether any lesser period should be allowed will depend on the circumstances of each case.

§ 81.980f General Order No. 6. * * *

(a) General Order No. 6–A.

General Order No. 6, issued by the National War Labor Board on October 20, 1942, shall apply also to salaries subject to the jurisdiction of the Board. (For definition of such salaries, see General Order No. 9, October 30, 1942, at § 81.980i.)

Paragraph (g) is redesignated § 81.980g as follows:

§ 81.980g General Order No. 7. * * *

Paragraph (h) is redesignated § 81.980h as follows:

§ 81.980h General Order No. 8. * * *

Paragraph (i) is redesignated § 81.980i and paragraphs (a) and (b) are added as follows:

§ 81.980i General Order No. 9. * * *

(a) The straight time weekly or monthly rate being paid before an increase takes effect, and which, if paid over a period of 52 weeks would not exceed $5,000 a year is the basis of determining whether a salary is less than $5,000 for the purposes of General Order No. 9.

(b) A "duly recognized or certified labor organization" as set forth in subparagraph I (a) of General Order No. 9 means a labor organization representing some or all of the employees affected by the proposed adjustment which (1) is recognized by the employer as the representative of such employees in matters affecting wages or (2) has been certified by an appropriate government authority (a state agency or the National War Labor Relations Board) as the exclusive bargaining agent for some or all of the employees affected by the proposed adjustment.

Paragraph (j) is redesignated § 81.980j and paragraph (a) is added to that section as follows:

§ 81.980j General Order No. 10. * * *

(a) General order 10–A.

A bonus payment made by an employee severing his employment for the immediate purpose of entering the armed forces of the United States does not require the approval of the National War Labor Board.

Paragraph (k) is redesignated § 81.980k as follows:

§ 81.980k General Order No. 11. * * *

Paragraph (l) is redesignated § 81.980l as follows:

§ 81.980l General Order No. 12. * * *

On November 25, 1942, the National War Labor Board determined that General Order No. 12 applies to employees of the District of Columbia.

Paragraph (m) is redesignated § 81.980m and amended as follows:

§ 81.980m. General Order No. 13.

(Note: This general order was repealed by General Order No. 13–A issued on December 14, 1942 (see paragraph (a) of this section). It is set forth here merely for purposes of reference.)

WAGE STABILIZATION IN BUILDING

(a) As provided in Title III, section 3, of Executive Order 9250 the Wage Adjustment Board of the Building Construction Industry established by the Secretary of Labor's Administrative Order No. 101 shall continue to perform the duty ascribed to it by that Order as amended by Supplement No. 1 and by the Wage Stabilization Agreement of May 22, 1942, between the Building and Construction Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor and several Government agencies. As provided in the agreement rates are to be revised above the July 1, 1942, levels only where those rates are inadequate because:

(1) They were fixed at a time so long before July 1, 1942, as to be out of line with the general wage then prevailing;

(2) They were applicable in a locality where changing conditions in the building construction industry require a revision of wage rates; or

(3) They do not sufficiently take into account any abnormal changes in conditions.

(b) In the performance of this duty the Wage Adjustment Board shall take no action which is inconsistent with the terms of Executive Order No. 9250.

(c) Any recommendation of the Wage Adjustment Board directed to the parties for a change in wage rates shall be transmitted to the National War Labor Board and shall become a final order of the National War Labor Board seven days after filing unless in the interim the National War Labor Board determines that the recommendation should be stayed for the purpose of review or should be put into operation subject to review. If the National War Labor Board assumes review, it shall enter its order confirming the recommendation of the Wage Adjustment Board or remanding the case to the Wage Adjustment Board for further consideration. The Wage Adjustment Board may refer to the National War Labor Board or the National War Labor Board may bring up on its own motion, any recommendation of the Wage Adjustment Board directed to the parties in order to determine whether the action is inconsistent with the terms of Executive Order No. 9250.

(d) Unless and until otherwise ordered this order shall apply only to wage adjustments in contracts which were entered into prior to November 5, 1942, or, which are otherwise excluded from the operation of Maximum Price Regulation 251 of the Office of Price Administration.

(a) General Order No. 13–A.

General Order No. 13 (Wage Stabilization in Building) of November 14, 1942 is hereby revoked. In its place the following order is adopted:

(a) Title III, section 3 of Executive Order No. 9250 of October 3, 1942, provides: "The National War Labor Board shall permit * * * the Wage Adjustment Board for the Building Construction Industry * * * to continue to perform its functions * * * except insofar as any of them is inconsistent with the terms of this order."

Pursuant thereto, the Wage Adjustment Board shall continue to perform the duty ascribed to it by Administrative Order No. 101 of the Secretary of Labor as amended by Supplement No. 1 and by the Wage Stabilization Agreement of May 22, 1942, between the Building and Construction Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor and several Government Agencies, all in accordance with the further provisions of this order.

(b) Applications for approval of revision of rates subject to the Wage Stabilization Agreement of May 22, 1942, which revision would otherwise require the approval of the National War Labor Board, shall be submitted for approval to the Wage Adjustment Board for the Building Construction Industry.

(c) In applying the provisions of Paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of the said Agreement of May 22, 1942, the Wage Adjustment Board, in ruling upon such applications for approval shall, as directed by Title III, Section 3, of Executive Order No. 9250, take no action inconsistent with the terms of said Executive Order, or with the National War Labor Board's Wage Stabilization Policy of November 6, 1942, or any other General Order or policy of the National War Labor Board heretofore or hereafter announced thereunder.

(d) (1) Any unanimous ruling by the Wage Adjustment Board hereunder shall be deemed to be a final ruling of the National War Labor Board, subject to the provisions of paragraph 3 below.

(2) Any ruling with respect to which a member of the Wage Adjustment Board has cast a dissenting vote shall (subject to the provisions of paragraph 3 below) become a final ruling of the National War Labor Board, unless within seven (7) days after such ruling the member casting the dissenting vote refers the ruling to the National War Labor Board for review. Such a reference shall be accompanied by a full statement of the reasons for the dissent. The National War Labor Board shall thereupon determine whether the ruling should be stayed for the purpose of review or should be put into operation subject to review.

(3) All rulings by the Wage Adjustment Board hereunder shall be subject to the National War Labor Board's ultimate power of review on its own initiative. Any reversal or modification of such a ruling shall not be retroactive and shall allow the parties a period of two (2) weeks after the date of the National War Labor Board's order within which to comply with such order.

(e) The Wage Adjustment Board shall transmit monthly to the Division of Review, Analysis and Research of the National War Labor Board, copies of its rulings made hereunder and such additional data and reports as said Division or the National War Labor Board may from time to time deem necessary.

(f) Each application submitted hereunder for ruling to the Wage Adjustment Board shall state whether it is intended to make the proposed increase, if approved, the basis of an application to the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment of maximum prices or of a petition for an amendment of the regulations establishing those prices.

(1) If the application does not state that price relief will be sought, the Wage Adjustment Board shall rule finally upon the application subject only to the War Labor Board's ultimate power of review above set forth.

(2) If the application states that price relief will be sought, there shall be submitted with the application a statement describing the relationship between the proposed increase and the price situation and what the effect would be if wages were increased without price relief. A copy thereof shall be sent with the application to the Office of Price Administration together with such additional forms as the Office of Price Administration may require to be filled out and which have been supplied for that purpose by said Office to the Wage Adjustment Board.

(i) Copies of rulings in such cases, approving or disapproving the application shall be transmitted by the Wage Adjustment Board to the Office of Price Administration as well as to the applicants.

(ii) If the application in such case is approved, the ruling of the Wage Adjustment Board shall state that it will become effective only on final approval by the National War Labor Board, and when so required by Executive Order No. 9250, by the Economic Stabilization Director.

(g) In the case of contracts executed after October 30, 1942, if the application states that a price adjustment (of either a lump, sum or cost plus contract) will be sought, a copy of such application shall be transmitted by the Wage Adjustment Board to the government agency at whose instance the project is being constructed, if such government agency has been excluded from the coverage of the Office of Price Administration's MPR No. 251.

Paragraph (n) is redesignated § 81.980n and paragraphs (a) and (b) are added as follows:

Paragraph (o) is redesignated § 81.980o as follows:

§ 81.980o General Order No. 15.

Paragraph (p) is redesignated § 81.980p and paragraph (a) is added as follows:

§ 81.980p General Order No. 16.

(a) Adjustments under this order of wage and salary rates of females employed in facilities embraced within the delegation provided for in General Order No. 14 (§ 81.980n) should be reported to the Wage Administration Section within the Civilian Personnel Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, instead of as provided in clause (1) above.

Sections 81.980q to 81.980y, inclusive, are added as follows:

§ 81.980q General Order No. 17.

(a) The National War Labor Board authorizes the Office of Price Administration in establishing area pay scales for its local board clerks to apply in each area the appropriate area pay scale set forth in the instructions contained in its Field Administrative Letter No. 7, Revised, Supplement Number 1; Provided, however, That before any such pay scale is made effective it must be certified by the Regional Director of the National War Labor Board that the pay scale appropriate to the area has been properly chosen in accordance with the provisions of said instructions.

(b) Upon approval by the Regional Director the new rates shall apply to all new appointments, promotions, demotions, transfers, and replacements, but they shall not be applied to reduce the rates of pay of present employees in their present positions.

(c) The Office of Price Administration shall file with the Board's appropriate Regional Office copies of any proposed changes in area pay scales, and shall supply any other information or reports the Boards may require.

(d) The Regional Director is hereby authorized to approve such proposed changes in area pay scales, when so filed, unless he finds them inconsistent with Executive Order 9250 and the policies and orders of the National War Labor Board. His action on such proposed changes shall be subject to the review provided in the Board's "Procedure in Cases of Voluntary Applications for Wage Adjustments by Private Employers."

§ 81.980r General Order No. 18.

(a) The National War Labor Board hereby delegates to the Secretary of the Navy, to be exercised in his behalf by the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (hereinafter referred to as "The Navy Department Agency"), power to rule upon all applications for wage and salary adjustments (insofar as approval thereof has been made a function of the National War Labor Board), covering civilian employees within the continental limits of the United States and Alaska, employed directly by the Navy Department (but excluding persons employed in government owned, privately operated facilities of the Navy Department), all in accordance with the further provisions of this order.

(b) In the performance of its duties hereunder the Navy Department Agency shall comply with the terms of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942, and all General Orders and policies of the National War Labor Board, heretofore or hereafter, announced thereunder. The Navy Department Agency, without making an initial ruling thereon, may refer to the Board for decision by the Board, any case which in the opinion of the Agency presents doubtful or disputed questions of sufficient seriousness and import to warrant direct action by the Board.

(c) The Navy Department Agency shall transmit to the Review and Analysis Division of the National War Labor Board copies of its rulings and rules of procedure, if any, and such additional data and reports as said Division or the Board may from time to time deem necessary.

(d) Any ruling by the Navy Department Agency or the Secretary of the Navy, hereunder shall be final, subject to the National War Labor Board's ultimate power to review rulings on its own initiative.

(e) Any ruling by the Navy Department Agency or the Secretary of the Navy hereunder shall be deemed to be the act of the National War Labor Board, unless and until reversed or modified by the Board. Any such order of reversal or modification shall allow a period of two weeks from the date of the Board's order within which to comply with the order.

§ 81.980s General Order No. 19.

(a) The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and any of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks, which proposes to make adjustments in the salaries or wages of their employees not fixed by statute, which would otherwise require the prior approval of the National War Labor Board, may make such adjustment on certification to the Board that the adjustment is necessary to correct maladjustments, or to correct inequalities, or gross inequities, as defined in the Board's Statement of Wage Policy of November 6, 1942, and any other General Order or policy heretofore or hereafter announced thereunder.

(b) A certificate by the official authorizing the adjustments, stating the nature and amount of such adjustment and briefly setting forth the facts meeting the foregoing requirements will be accepted by the Board as sufficient evidence of the propriety of the adjustment, subject to review by the Board. Modification by the Board of adjustments made pursuant hereto shall not be retroactive.

(c) In the case of adjustments made hereunder by any of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks, the certificate above mentioned shall, prior to transmittal to the Joint Committee hereafter described, be transmitted to and shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

(d) The certificate prescribed herein, together with four (4) copies thereof, shall be filed promptly with the Committee established by joint action of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, namely, the Joint Committee on Salaries and Wages, Room 5406, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., which will forward the same to the Board or Commissioner, as the case may require.

(e) The certification procedure shall not apply to any adjustment which would raise salaries or wages beyond the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community. In exceptional cases where such an adjustment is sought, and in all cases where an adjustment is sought other than by the certification procedure, application for approval shall be filed with the appropriate regional office of the National War Labor Board.

(a) The United States Employment Service or any of its state administrative offices which proposes to make adjustments in the salaries or wages of its employees not fixed by statute, which would otherwise require the prior approval of the National War Labor Board, may make such adjustment on certification to the Board that the adjustment is necessary to correct maladjustments or to correct inequalities or gross inequities, as defined in the Board's Statement of Wage Policy of November 6, 1942, and any other General Order or policy heretofore or hereafter announced thereunder.

(b) A certificate by the appropriate official of the United States Employment Service stating the nature and amount of such adjustment, and briefly setting forth the facts meeting the foregoing requirement, will be accepted by the Board as sufficient evidence of the propriety of the adjustment, subject to review by the Board. Modification by the Board of adjustments made by the United States Employment Service or one of its state administrative offices acting pursuant hereto shall not be retroactive.

(c) The certificate prescribed herein, together with four copies thereof, shall be filed promptly with the committee established by joint action of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, namely, the Joint Committee on Salaries and Wages, Room 5406, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., which will forward the same to the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may require.

(d) The certification procedure shall not apply to any adjustment which would raise salaries or wages beyond the prevailing level of compensation for similar services in the area or community. In exceptional cases where such an adjustment is sought, application for approval shall be filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the National War Labor Board.

§ 81.980u General Order No. 21.

(a) The National War Labor Board hereby delegates to the Secretary of the Interior, to be exercised on his behalf by the Special Adviser on Labor Relations to the Secretary of the Interior (hereinafter referred to as the Interior Department Agency), the power to approve or disapprove all applications for wage and salary adjustments (insofar as approval thereof has been made a function of the National War Labor Board) covering employees of the Interior Department within the continental limits of the United States and Alaska whose wages or salaries are not fixed by statute, all in accordance with the further provisions of this order.

(b) In the performance of its duties hereunder the Interior Department Agency shall comply with the terms of Executive Order 9250, dated October 3, 1942 and any other General Order or policy of the National War Labor Board heretofore or hereafter issued thereunder. The Interior Department Agency, without making an initial ruling thereon may refer to the Board, for decision by the Board, any case which in the opinion of the agency presents doubtful or disputed questions of sufficient seriousness and import to warrant direct action by the Board.

(c) The Interior Department Agency shall transmit to the Review and Analysis Division of the National War Labor Board copies of its rulings, and rules of procedure, if any, as they are issued, and such additional data and reports as said Division or the Board may from time to time deem necessary.

(d) Any ruling by the Interior Department Agency hereunder shall be deemed to be the act of the National War Labor Board and shall be final subject to the National War Labor Board's ultimate power to review rulings on its own initiative, and to reverse or modify the same. Any such order of reversal or modification shall not be retroactive and shall allow the Interior Department Agency a period of two weeks from the date of the Board's order, within which to comply with the order.

(e) Nothing herein contained shall be construed as affecting the advisory duties and functions of the following Wage Boards heretofore constituted by order of the Secretary of the Interior and any similar Boards so constituted in the future:

(1) Boulder Canyon Project Wage Board.
(2) Columbia Basin Project Wage Board.
(3) Central Valley Project Wage Board.
(4) Parker Dam Power Project Wage Board.
(5) Boulder City Experiment Station Wage Board.

(a) No clause contained in any labor agreement, commonly known as an "escalator clause," relating to wages or salaries subject to the jurisdiction of the National War Labor Board, regardless of when the agreement was made, which provides for an adjustment in wage rates after October 3, 1942 because of changes in the cost of living, shall be enforced, where such adjustment would result in excess of fifteen percent above the average straight time hourly rates or equivalent salary rates prevailing on January 1, 1942.

(b) Adjustments within the fifteen percent limit must be submitted for approval by the Board in the usual manner.

§ 81.980w General Order No. 23.

(a) The National War Labor Board hereby delegates to the Territorial Representative of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the United States Department of Labor power to rule upon all questions and disputes concerning, and all applications for approval of, wage and salary adjustments (insofar as salary adjustments are within the jurisdiction of the National War Labor Board) within the Territory of Alaska, except as otherwise provided in General Orders of the National War Labor Board.

(b) In the performance of his duties, the Territorial Representative shall comply with the terms of Executive Order No. 9250 dated October 3, 1942, the National War Labor Board's wage stabilization policy, and all applicable General Orders and regulations of the National War Labor Board.

(c) An appeal may be taken from any ruling of the Territorial Representative to the National War Labor Board Advisory Board for Alaska, hereinafter called the Alaska Advisory Board. The Alaska Advisory Board shall consist of nine (9) members, to be appointed by the National War Labor Board. Three of its members shall be representatives of the public, three of employers, and three of employees. Six members, two of whom shall be from each group, shall constitute a quorum.

(d) It shall be the duty of the Territorial Representative to transmit copies of all rulings to the Alaska Advisory Board which shall have the power to review on its own initiative all rulings of the Territorial Representative.

(e) Any ruling of the Alaska Advisory Board shall be final, subject to the National War Labor Board's ultimate power to review rulings on its own initiative or on the request of any member of the Alaska Advisory Board. No action of the National War Labor Board with respect to rulings of the Alaska Advisory Board will be retroactive.

§ 81.980x General Order No. 24.

(a) The National War Labor Board hereby delegates to the Secretary of Agriculture, to be exercised on his behalf by the Director of Personnel of the Department of Agriculture (hereafter referred to as Agriculture Department Agency), the power to approve or disapprove all applications for wage and salary adjustments (insofar as approval thereof has been made a function of the National War Labor Board) covering employees of the Department of Agriculture, and employees of instrumentalities of the Department of Agriculture, within the continental limits of the United States and Alaska whose wages and salaries are not fixed by statute, including

(1) Employees and members of Agricultural Conservation Committee.

(2) Employees under cooperative agreements.

(3) Employees of agencies under supervision of the Farm Credit Administration, and all in accordance with the further provisions of this order.

(4) Persons engaged in the administration of marketing agreements, orders, and licenses.

(b) In the performance of its duties hereunder, the Agriculture Department Agency shall comply with the terms of Executive Order 9250, dated October 3, 1942 and any General Order or policy of the National War Labor Board heretofore or hereafter issued thereunder. The Agriculture Department Agency, without making an initial ruling thereon, may refer to the Board, for decision by the Board, any case which, in the opinion of the Agency presents doubtful or disputed questions of sufficient seriousness and import to warrant direct action by the Board.

(c) The Agriculture Department Agency shall transmit to the Review and Analysis Division of the National War Labor Board monthly reports of its rulings, and copies of its rules of procedure, if any, as they are issued, and such additional data and reports as said Division or the Board may from time to time deem necessary.

(d) Any ruling by the Agriculture Department Agency hereunder shall be deemed to be the act of the National War Labor Board and shall be final, subject to the National War Labor Board's ultimate power to review rulings on its own initiative, and to reverse or modify the same. Any such order or reversal or modification shall not be retroactive and shall allow the Agriculture Department Agency a period of two weeks from the date of the Board's order, within which to comply with the order.

(a) The National War Labor Board hereby delegates to the Board of Directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority the power to approve or disapprove all applications for wage and salary adjustments (insofar as approval thereof has been made a function of the National War Labor Board) of employees of the Tennessee Valley Authority, in accordance with the further provisions of this order.

(b) In the performance of its duties hereunder the Board of Directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority shall comply with Executive Order 9250, dated October 3, 1942, and all regulations heretofore or hereafter issued thereunder, and with the declaration of wage policy of the National War Labor Board, dated November 6, 1942. The Board of Directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority, without making an initial ruling thereon may refer to the National War Labor Board, for decision by the Board, any application which in its opinion presents doubtful or disputed questions of sufficient seriousness and import to warrant direct action by the Board.

(c) The Board of Directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority shall transmit to the Review and Analysis Division of the National War Labor Board copies of its rulings, and rules of procedure, if any, as they are issued, and such additional data and reports as said Division or the Board may from time to time deem necessary.

(d) Any ruling by the Board of Directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority hereunder shall be deemed the act of the National War Labor Board and shall be final, subject to the National War Labor Board's right to review rulings on its own motion, and to reverse or modify the same. Any such reversal or modification shall not be retroactive and shall allow the Tennessee Valley Authority a period of two weeks for compliance.

Sections 81.981, 81.981a, 81.981b and 81.981c are added as follows:

§ 81.981 Interpretations of National War Labor Board. From time to time the National War Labor Board interprets Executive Order No. 9250 and specific provisions of the Order. Such interpretations are helpful in determining the applicability of the Order to various types of situations. Where such interpretations are pertinent to a specific provision of the Executive Order or to one of the NWLB's General Orders, the interpretation will be found under the appropriate paragraph of the Procurement Regulations. Where, however, the interpretations are of a general nature they will be set forth in the succeeding sections which are designated §§ 81.981a, 81.981b, and 81.981c.

Question: Where the custom and practice in an establishment has been for employees to be paid overtime compensation for all hours in excess of 48 hours per week and to receive pro rata reductions from their weekly salaries in the event they work less than 48 hours per week, may the payment of such additional compensation and the decreases in salaries be continued without the approval of the National War Labor Board?

Answer: Yes. (Letter of General Counsel of NWLB dated December 19, 1942.)

§ 81.981b Overtime compensation; no limitation in number of hours per week.

Question: Where an employee is hired for a stipulated weekly salary without any limitation on the number of hours to be worked, may the employer pay overtime without the approval of the National War Labor Board?

Answer: No, unless the Company is under the Fair Labor Standards Act which provides that all employees engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce shall be paid time and one-half for all hours in excess of 40 hours per week. Executive Order 9250 does not affect the operation of the Fair Labor Standards Act or of the Walsh-Healey Act. (Letter of General Counsel of NWLB dated December 19 1942.)

§ 81.981c Overtime compensation, 40 hour week.

Question: Where an employee is paid for a 40-hour week, with a provision that overtime be paid for all hours over 40 hours per week, with no provision that there be any reduction if less than 40 hours per week are worked, may the amount of salary be reduced

Sections 81.1113 to 81.1116, inclusive, are added as follows:

§81.1113 Procedure for handling litigation involving cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors—(a) General. It is of the utmost importance that The Judge Advocate General be promptly notified of the institution of all suits in which the interests of the United States are involved including all suits against cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors. This will make it possible to take steps to remove suits instituted in state courts to the federal courts and to take all other steps necessary to protect the interests of the Government. Likewise it is essential that the information furnished be full and complete and not fragmentary.

(b) Procedure. The following procedure is prescribed with respect to litigation involving cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors:

(1) Such contractors should be advised immediately upon receipt of process in any action filed against them to furnish a copy of all papers to the contracting officer or appropriate War Department representative. This will be in addition to any similar requirement of any outstanding insurance policy.

(2) Teletype, radio, or telegraphic notification of such suit should be sent immediately to The Judge Advocate General, Washington, D. C., by the War Department representative in charge of the project or activity out of which the suit arises, giving all pertinent facts concerning the suit. In the usual case, these facts will include the court in which the suit has been filed, the names of parties to the suit, the date of service of process, a statement of the alleged cause of action, the amount sued for, the date on which answer to the suit must be filed, a statement of the principal defense to the suit which the defendant may raise, and a statement as to whether the amount sued for is fully covered by insurance and if so, whether or not the insurance carrier will accept full responsibility for the defense of the suit.

(3) Copies in triplicate of all suit papers and a statement of available facts will be forwarded immediately to The Judge Advocate General, Washington, D. C. If a board of inquiry is convened to investigate, or acts on the case, copies of all reports of the board's proceedings and findings will be included in the papers transmitted. Since The Judge Advocate General, has the duty of maintaining all War Department legal liaison with the Department of Justice and other Government departments, the chief of the supply service concerned, upon request of The Judge Advocate General, will immediately transmit to his office any information in his possession that may be requested. Requests for Government representation will not be made to the Department of Justice by War Department field representatives but will be made directly to The Judge Advocate General. Violations of this well-established War Department policy have caused confusion and prevented proper co-ordination in the handling of litigation with the Department of Justice.

(4) The agreement for representation to be signed by the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor or other defendant, three copies of which will be forwarded to The Judge Advocate General, Washington, D. C., will read as follows:

> The undersigned hereby requests the Attorney General of the United States to designate counsel to defend on behalf of the undersigned the action entitled ---------- v. ----------. It is further understood that by assuming the defense of said action, the obligations of the United States under United States Contract No. -------- are not altered or increased; it is further agreed that such representation will not be construed as a waiver or estoppel of any rights which any interested party may have under said contract.

§ 81.1114 Track; scaling of loaded railroad cars. Provisions should not be inserted in construction or supply contracts in which payment for the materials or supplies is based on "railroad weights." The result of inserting such a provision is frequently to require railroads to incur unnecessary delay and expense in arriving at such weights, sometimes necessitating back-hauling for track-scaling. The railroads through territorial weighing bureaus enter into agreements with many of the shippers under which the railroads accept the invoice-weight of the shipper subject to periodical checks and test weights. This avoids the necessity for track-scaling the car. All reference to "railroad weights" will be omitted from requests for quotations or estimates and from the resulting contracts or orders for all materials and supplies including coal. Particular care should be taken to insure that the words "railroad weights" do not appear in the Schedule of Supplies (Schedule A) of future contracts or in any "Instructions to Bidders" or Purchase Conditions. In lieu of the words "railroad weights", there will be inserted the words "weights acceptable to railroad for freight charge purposes." Outstanding construction and supply contracts containing the words "railroad weights" should be amended to change those words to the wording indicated above. Reference is made to War Department Circular No. 284, 1942 for the terms of the War Department Traffic Weight Agreement entered into by the War Department with representatives of certain carriers.

§ 81.1115 Reports of criminal conduct in connection with War Department contracts. (a) There has been set up in the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice a special unit whose duty it is to take appropriate action as expeditiously as possible in all cases in which criminal conduct is shown to exist in connection with contracts entered into by the Government with business concerns in connection with the war program.

(b) The Under Secretary of War desires that a report be made to his office of any instances of criminal conduct in connection with War Department contracts. A report of such an instance should contain a full statement of the facts indicating criminal conduct. Such reports to the Under Secretary of War should be transmitted through channels to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, for submission to the Office of the Under Secretary.

§ 81.1116 Ordering of spare parts. The chief of each supply service will adopt definite policies with respect to the ordering of spare parts for use in connection with all equipment purchased.

(a) Every order providing for the delivery of air-cooled engines of 32 horsepower and under, or for units of which such engines are a component part, shall provide for delivery simultaneously with the first shipment of engines of not less than 10% of the total engine spare parts called for in such order. Such order shall further provide for the subsequent delivery of spare parts so that when 20% of the engines have been delivered at least 30% of all such spare parts will likewise have been delivered and so that deliveries of spare parts shall thereafter parallel deliveries of engines.

FORMS OF CONTRACTS

The introductory paragraph preceding § 81.1301 is amended and War Department Contract Form No. 13 is added in proper sequence as follows:

The contract forms contained in § 81.1301 et seq. [listed in the Table of Contents below] are approved for use for War Department purchases, subject to §§ 81.322–81.361, inclusive. It should be noted that many of the contract articles are set out by reference to said sections. In preparing contracts the standard clauses contained in the articles referred to will be set out only if, and to the extent that, their inclusion is required by the provisions of the sections referred to. There will be set out such of the other clauses contained in §§ 81.322–81.361, not expressly referred to in the form, as are required for any particular contract. In certain cases it will be necessary to make certain editorial changes in the clauses contained in §§ 81.322–81.361, so that certain words or phrases used throughout the contract will be in conformity.

(d) ART. 4. Inspection. (a) All material and workmanship shall be subject to inspection and test at all times and places and, when practicable, during manufacture. In case any articles are found to be defective in material or workmanship, or otherwise not in conformity with the specification requirements, the Government shall have the right to reject such articles, or require their correction. Rejected articles, and/or articles requiring correction, shall be removed by and at the expense of the Contractor promptly after notice so to do. If the Contractor fails to promptly remove such articles and to proceed promptly with the replacement and/or correction thereof, the Government may, by contract or otherwise replace and/or correct such articles and charge to the Contractor the excess cost occasioned the Government thereby, or the Government may terminate the right of the Contractor to proceed as provided in Article 5 of this contract, the Contractor and surety being liable for any damage to the same extent as provided in said Article 5 for terminations thereunder.

(l) ART. 9. Delays, damages. If the contractor refuses or fails to prosecute the work, or any separable part thereof, with such diligence as will insure its completion within the time specified in article 1, or any extension thereof, or fails to complete said work within such time, the Government may, by written notice to the contractor, terminate his right to proceed with the work or such part of the work as to which there has been delay. In such event the Government may take over the work and prosecute the same to completion, by contract or otherwise, and the contractor and his sureties shall be liable to the Government for any excess cost occasioned the Government thereby. If the contractor's right to proceed is so terminated, the Government may take possession of and utilize in completing the work such materials, appliances, and plant as may be on the site of the work and necessary therefor; Provided, That the right of the contractor to proceed shall not be terminated under this article because of any delays in the completion of the work due to unforeseeable causes beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the contractor, including, but not restricted to acts of God, or of the public enemy, acts of the Government (including, but not restricted to any preference, priority or allocation order), acts of another contractor in the performance of a contract with the Government, fires, floods, epidemics, quarantine restrictions, strikes, freight embargoes, and unusually severe weather or delays of subcontractors due to such causes, if the contractor shall within 10 days from the beginning of any such delay (unless the contracting officer, with the approval of the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative, shall grant a further period of time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract) notify the contracting officer in writing of the causes of delay, who shall ascertain the facts and the extent of the delay and extend the time for completing the work when in his judgment the findings of fact justify such an extension, and his findings of fact thereon shall be final and conclusive on the parties hereto, subject only to appeal within 30 days, by the contractor to the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative, whose decision on such appeal as to the facts of delay and the extension of time for completing the work shall be final and conclusive on the parties hereto.

ART. III–K Changes in work or services.

1. The Contracting Officer may at any time by written order issue additional instructions, require additional work or services or direct the omission of work or services covered by this contract. If such changes cause a material increase or decrease in the amount or character of the work and services to be done under this contract an equitable adjustment of the amount of the fixed fee to be paid the Architect-Engineer shall be made and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly. Any claim for adjustment under this Article must be asserted within 10 days from the date the change is ordered (unless the Contracting Officer, with the approval of the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative, shall grant a further period of time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract). Nothing provided in this Article shall excuse the Architect-Engineer from proceeding with the prosecution of the work so changed. § 81.1313 War Department Contract Form No. 13.

CONTRACT

(Supplies)

WAR DEPARTMENT

WAR SUPPLIES LIMITED

Contract for: Amount $------

Place

The Finance Officer, United States Army, ----------, ----------, ---------- is designated as the officer to make payments in accordance with this contract.

The supplies and services to be obtained by this instrument are authorized by, are for the purpose set forth in, and are chargeable to Procurement Authority---------- available balance of which is sufficient to cover cost of same. This contract is authorized by the following laws:

This contract, entered into this ------ day of ----------, 19--, by The United States of America, hereinafter called the Government, represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract, and War Supplies Limited, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Dominion of Canada, hereinafter called the Contractor, with its principal office of the city of Ottawa, Province of Ontario, witnesseth that the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

ART. 1. Standard of payment. All prices, costs and amounts set out or referred to in this contract are in United States Dollars.

ART. 2. Scope of this contract. (Insert [¶ 1301.1] (§ 81.1301 (a))

ART. 3. Changes. (Insert [¶ 1301.2] (§ 81.1301 (b)))

ART. 4 Extras. (Insert [¶ 1301.3] (§ 81.1301 (c)))

ART. 5. Inspection. (a) All material and workmanship shall be subject to inspection and test at all times and places and, when practicable, during manufacture. In case any articles are found to be defective in material or workmanship, or otherwise not in conformity with the specification requirements, the Government shall have the right to reject such articles, or require their correction. Rejected articles, and or articles requiring correction, shall be removed by and at the expense of the Contractor promptly after notice so to do. If the Contractor fails to promptly remove such articles and to proceed promptly with the replacement and/or correction thereof, the Government may, by contract or otherwise replace and or correct such articles and charge to the Contractor the excess cost occasioned the Government thereby, or the Government may terminate the right of the Contractor to proceed as provided in Article 6 of this contract, the Contractor being liable for any damage to the same extent as provided in said Article 6 for terminations thereunder.

(b) If inspection and test, whether preliminary or final, are made on the premises of the Contractor or subcontractor, the Contractor shall furnish, without additional charge, all reasonable facilities and assistance for the safe and convenient inspections and tests required by the inspectors in the performance of their duty. All inspections and tests by the Government shall be performed in such a manner as not to unduly delay the work. Special and performance tests shall be as described in the specifications. The Government reserves the right to charge to the Contractor any additional cost of inspection and test when articles are not ready at the time inspection is requested by the Contractor.

(c) Final inspection and acceptance of materials and finished articles will be made after delivery, unless otherwise stated. If final inspection is made at a point other than the premises of the Contractor or subcontractor, it shall be at the expense of the Government except for the value of samples used in case of rejection. Final inspection shall be conclusive except as regards latent defects, fraud, or such gross mistakes as amount to fraud. Final inspection and acceptance or rejection of the materials or supplies shall be made as promptly as practicable, but failure to inspect and accept or reject materials or supplies shall not impose liability on the Government for such materials or supplies as are not in accordance with the specifications. In the event public necessity requires the use of materials or supplies not conforming to the specifications, payment therefor shall be made at a proper reduction in price.

ART. 6. Delays-damages. (Insert [¶ 352] (§ 81.352))

ART 7 Responsibility for supplies tendered. (Insert [¶ 1301.6] (§ 81.1301 (f)))

ART. 8. Increase or decrease. Unless otherwise provided herein, no increase or decrease in the total number of articles contracted for under Article 2 hereof, will be accepted, without the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer. (or insert [¶ 329] (§ 81.329))

ART. 9 Payments. (Insert [¶ 1301.8] (§ 81.1301 (h)))

ART. 10. Officials not to benefit. (Insert [¶ 322] (§ 81.322))

ART. 11. Covenant against contingent fees. (Insert [¶ 323] (§ 81.323))

ART. 12. Disputes. (Insert [¶ 326] (§ 81.326))

ART. 13. Termination for convenience of Government. (Insert [¶ 324] (§ 81.324 (a)))

ART. 14. Assignment of claims. (Insert [¶ 355] (§ 81.355))

ART. 15 Notice of shipments. (Insert [¶ 328] (§ 81.328))

ART. 16. Patents. The Contractor shall hold and save the Government, its officers, agents, servants, and employees harmless from liability of any nature or kind, including costs and expenses, for or on account of any invention, article, or appliance patented under the laws of Canada, manufactured or used in the performance of this contract, including their use by or for the Government.

The Government shall hold and save the Contractor, its representatives, agents, and subcontractor harmless from all liability under judgments by courts of competent jurisdiction, that may be obtained against the Contractor, its representatives, agents, and subcontractors, because of the use of any invention patented under the laws of the United States, specifically prescribed and authorized in writing by the Government as necessary for the performance of this contract, or the use of any invention patented under the laws of the United States which necessarily flows from the nature of the thing being produced or procured under this contract, but not otherwise: Provided, That such United States Letters Patent so used are not owned or controlled by the Canadian Government, the Contractor, its representatives, subcontractors, or persons in privity with the Contractor; and Provided further, That immediate notice of any demand, liability, or legal proceedings arising from such use is given in writing by the Contractor to the Contracting Officer, and reserving to the Government the right to intervene in any such demand or proceeding and in its discretion to defend same or make settlement thereof, and the Contractor shall furnish all information in its possession and all assistance of its employees, representatives, or agents requested by the Government.

ART 17 Patent licenses. (a) The Contractor agrees to, and does hereby, in consideration of the terms and in consideration of payments to be made by the Government under this contract, grant unto the Government a non-exclusive irrevocable, non-transferable, royalty-free license to make, have made, and use for governmental (military, naval, and national defense) purposes, and to sell in accordance with law, material embodying any and all inventions made or actually reduced to practice in carrying out the work contemplated by this contract, which are owned or controlled by the contractor, any subcontractor or by any person in privity with them or either of them, whether patented or unpatented. The contractor agrees to make to the Government, prior to final settlement under this contract, a complete disclosure of all inventions made or developed during the fulfillment of this contract and to designate in writing which of the said inventions have been or will be covered by applications for United States letters patent filed or caused to be filed by the Contractor, its representatives, subcontractors, or persons in privity with the Contractor. As to all of such inventions that are not covered or to be covered by applications for United States letters patent as aforesaid, the Contractor agrees that the Government shall have the right to file, prosecute, and act upon applications for United States letters patent thereon; that the Contractor will secure the execution of the necessary papers and do all things requisite to protect the Government's interest in prosecuting such applications to a final issue.

ART. 18. Subcontractor. It is understood and agreed that the supplies and materials to be furnished under this contract will be manufactured and/or supplied by the ---------- at its factory located (Name of subcontractor) at ---------- The performance (City in which plant is located) of any of the work by any other subcontractor is prohibited, except by the specific approval of the Contracting Officer in advance.

ART. 19. Governing Laws. This contract will be construed according to the laws of the United States of America.

ART. 20. Definitions. (a) The term "Secretary of War" as used herein shall include the Under Secretary of War, and the term "his duly authorized representative" shall mean any person or board authorized by the Secretary of War to act for him other than the Contracting Officer.

(b) The term "Contracting Officer" as used herein shall include his duly appointed successor or his authorized representative.

ART. 21. Alterations. The following changes were made in this contract before it was signed by the parties hereto:

Chapter IX—Transport

PART 93—TRANSPORTATION OF INDIVIDUALS

RAILROAD SLEEPING-CAR ACCOMMODATIONS

Sections 93.15 to 93.21, inclusive, are hereby rescinded and the following substituted therefor.

Sec.
93.15 When and to whom furnished; allowances.
93.16 Physically disabled persons.
93.17 Insane.
93.18 Attendants with remains.
93.19 Charter of sleeping cars or parlor cars.
93.20 Procedure; receipt for accommodations furnished.
93.21 Accommodations at variance with transportation requests.

AUTHORITY: §§ 93.15 to 93.21 issued under R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22.

SOURCE: These regulations are also contained in AR 55-125, January 9, 1943, the particular paragraphs being shown at the end of sections.

§ 93.15 When and to whom furnished; allowances—(a) General. (1) When sleeping-car accommodations are authorized herein, the transportation requests will be issued for the accommodations authorized, from starting point to destination unless only coach accommodations are available at the beginning or end of the journey. See AR 55-110,[1] and AR 55-145.[2]

(2) The carrier will furnish a tourist car or other sleeping car at tourist rates for parties of 15 or more persons.

(b) Standard accommodations. (1) The following named persons, when traveling under orders, are entitled at public expense to a lower berth in a standard sleeping car, or a seat in a pullman or parlor car.

(i) Officers, including officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, Army nurses, warrant officers, and civilian employees when traveling on duty with troops.

(ii) Officers, including officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, and warrant officers ordered to a hospital, post, camp, or station, or transferred from one to another, for the purpose of undergoing medical or dental treatment; also when returned therefrom to their last previous duty stations upon completion of the treatment. See 9 Comp. Gen. 505.

(iii) Cadets, United States Military Academy, aviation cadets, and noncommissioned officers of first, second, and third grades when traveling individually, or included in parties of nine persons or less (in counting the party there will be included cadets, United States Military Academy, aviation cadets, noncommissioned officers of all grades, other enlisted men, applicants for enlistment and rejected applicants for enlistment but not officers, officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, or warrant officers).

(iv) Army nurses.

(v) Members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps while traveling, except by organizations, to and from camps of instruction, when not paid travel allowances.

(vi) Relative accompanying remains under the provisions of §§ 93.6 (a) (2) and 93.6 (b) (3) (i).

(vii) Officers, including officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, and warrant officers not in a mileage status, traveling without troops, except that they are entitled to a separate compartment for night railway travel in foreign countries. See AR 45-4870.[3]

(viii) Civilian candidates, Citizens' Military Training Camps, when transportation is furnished by the United States.

(ix) Cadets discharged from the United States Military Academy when traveling from the academy to their homes.

(2) Wives, dependent children, and dependent fathers and mothers whose transportation is authorized by § 93.1, are entitled to berths in a standard sleeping car or seats in a pullman or parlor car on the following basis, regardless of the accommodations to which the individual changing station may be entitled under these regulations:

(i) One lower berth for:

Wife alone.
Dependent father.
Dependent mother.
Child alone.
Wife and child under 6 years of age.
Wife and female child over 6 years of age.
Two children, same sex.
Two children, opposite sex, both under 6 years of age

(ii) One section, or separate lower and upper berths for:

Wife and one child, male, over 6 years of age.
Wife and two children.
Two children, opposite sex, one or both over 6 years of age

(iii) When the number of children exceeds two, accommodations for the additional children will be provided on the basis prescribed above for the first two children.

(iv) If a lower berth is not available, one upper berth may be furnished to each individual.

(v) The foregoing allowance is based on the dependents of the individual traveling together at the same time. If the dependents travel separately and the total allowance becomes exhausted through being furnished the accommodations and/or by claiming monetary allowance in lieu thereof (see AR 55-120[4] and § 93.1) no further accommodations may be furnished.

(vi) When the cost of the total allowance of berths for the dependents equals or exceeds the cost of a compartment, stateroom, or drawing room, the latter may be furnished in lieu of berths, if desired. In other cases a compartment, stateroom, or drawing room may be furnished upon deposit with the issuing transportation officer of the excess cost thereof.

(vii) The excess cost of a compartment, stateroom, or drawing room will be collected on the basis of the difference between the commercial rate therefor and the commercial rate for the allowance of berths, these rates being ascertained from the carrier's agents.

(viii) The amount deposited will be disposed of as prescribed in AR 55-120,[4] making reference to the serial numbers of all transportation requests involved.

(3) In certain cases, as prescribed in (c) (1) and (2) below, standard accommodations may be furnished when tourist accommodations are not available.

(c) Tourist accommodations; when journey exceeds 12 hours and is scheduled to terminate after midnight, or when journey involves spending night on train—(1) Nine persons or less (see (d) below). (i) Noncommissioned officers below the third grade (in counting the party there will be included aviation cadets, noncommissioned officers of all grades, other enlisted men, applicants for enlistment, but not officers and warrant officers) are entitled to a separate berth each in a tourist sleeping car, except as provided in (3) below, an upper, if available; otherwise a lower. See (4) below.

(ii) Enlisted men other than aviation cadets and noncommissioned officers, and/or applicants for enlistment and/or rejected applicants for enlistment (in counting the party, there will be included aviation cadets, noncommissioned officers of all grades, other enlisted men, applicants for enlistment and rejected applicants for enlistment, but not officers and warrant officers) are entitled to accommodations in a tourist sleeping car, except as provided in (3) below, on the following basis:

(b) Parties of two to nine persons, both inclusive, will be furnished accommodations on the basis of two persons in a lower berth; the "odd-number" person, if any, to be furnished an upper. If an upper is not available for the "odd-number" person, he will be furnished a lower. See (4) below.

(2) Ten persons, or more (not counting officers and warrant officers in party) (see (d) below). Cadets, United States Military Academy, enlisted men (including aviation cadets and all noncommissioned officers) and/or applicants for enlistment, and/or rejected applicants for enlistment are entitled to accommodations in a tourist sleeping car, except as provided in (3) below, on the basis of two persons in a lower berth. The "odd-number" person, if any, is entitled to an upper berth. If there are more than a sufficient number of persons to occupy all the lower berths of an entire car on the basis of two persons in a berth, then the remaining persons will be furnished an upper berth each in the same car until its capacity is reached. Each additional car will be filled in the same manner. In special train movements one upper berth will be left unassigned for the use of the pullman conductor. See (4) below, and § 93.19. When tourist sleeping cars containing drawing rooms are furnished by the carriers, the drawing room will be used as a section; that is, one lower berth and one upper berth. For example: When a party of 49 enlisted men is traveling in tourist sleeping cars of the twelve-section, one-drawing-room type, they will be furnished a transportation request for 18 lower and 13 upper tourist berths.

First car:
- 1 lower berths for 26 men
- 13 upper berths for 13 men

Second car: 5 lower berths for 10 men

Total: 18 lower berths and 13 upper berths for 49 men

When special tourist sleeping cars of the drawing-room type are furnished, the sofa in the drawing room of a car will be used on the basis of one upper berth if the use of the sofa will obviate the operation of an additional sleeping car.

(3) Standard accommodations in lieu of tourist. Whenever tourist-car berths are not available, standard-car berths will be furnished under the same conditions and on the same basis as set forth in (1) and (2) above. See also (4) below.

(4) Alternative allowances. The alternative allowances, upper or lower berths; tourist or standard accommodations) provided for in (1), (2), and (3) above contemplate furnishing the most economical accommodations available on the train (and connecting trains en route) and authorized. The higher cost berths and accommodations will be utilized only to the extent that those of lower cost are not available. See § 93.20.

(d) Women's Army Auxiliary Corps enrolled personnel. (1) The enrolled personnel of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps shall be distributed in seven grades corresponding to the seven enlisted grades shall receive the sleeping and parlor car accommodations now provided for enlisted men, without dependents, in the corresponding enlisted grades in the Regular Army. See sec. 4, act October 26, 1942 (sec. VI, Bull. 54, W.D., 1942).

(2) In movements involving both enrolled members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps and enlisted men of the Army, sleeping and parlor car space will be determined and allotted on the basis of that which would be required if each group were traveling alone.

(e) Transportation of aliens (as distinguished from alien enemies) and other persons evacuated from military areas. The lowest class of transportation by the facility used will be furnished aliens (as distinguished from alien enemies) or other persons evacuated from military areas pursuant to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9066 (sec. II, Bull. 10, W.D., 1942), except that where transportation is by rail carriers and the journey involves spending two nights or more on the train, sleeping-car accommodations, tourists whenever available, otherwise standard, will be furnished for the entire distance from point of origin to destination only for all children under 14 years of age and females who may be included in a movement. In such cases the accommodations will be furnished on the following basis: A mother with her child or children under 14 years of age or a woman in charge of a child or children under 14 years of age, as prescribed for a wife and child or children in § 93.15 (b) (2). Other women 50 years of age and over, a separate lower berth for each. Other females 14 years of age and over, and under 50 years, two persons to a lower berth until all available lower berths in the car are used and the remainder of such females in an upper berth each in the same car until the capacity of the car is reached. Where lower berths or a sufficient number thereof are not available, one upper berth will be furnished each individual to the extent that lower berths are not available on the foregoing basis. [Par. 2]

§ 93.16 Physically disabled persons. (a) Except as set forth in (b) and (c) below, physically disabled persons (including prisoners of war, or alien enemies, and other evacués under Executive Order No. 9066) will be furnished one lower berth each, tourist if restricted thereto under these regulations, and if available, otherwise standard, except that where the condition of the patient warrants and daylight sleeping-car or parlor-car schedules are available and adequate, each patient will be furnished a separate seat in such sleeping car or parlor car. Attendants will be provided for such physically disabled persons whenever the responsible medical officer determines necessary. Regardless of rank, grade, or class, attendants will be furnished accommodations in the same car with physically disabled person(s), upper berth if restricted thereto, otherwise a lower or a separate seat in a sleeping car or parlor car.

(b) Whenever a physically disabled person may be expected to be noisy, ill-mannered, unpresentable, or otherwise objectionable to the public, or is in such physical condition as to require exclusive accommodations, the responsible medical officer will furnish the transportation officer issuing the transportation request a certificate, in duplicate, stating that the condition of the person requires exclusive accommodations. Attendants will be provided at all times for such physically disabled persons. Accommodations will be furnished for such physically disabled persons and their attendants in parlor cars or in compartments or drawing rooms in sleeping cars, where the total number of persons (physically disabled persons and attendants) in one movement is 49 or less. The responsible medical officer will determine in each case the number of attendants required, the class of accommodations required (that is, compartments or drawing room), and the total number of persons (physically disabled persons and attendants), not less than two, to occupy each compartment or drawing room. A statement of this determination will be included by the medical officer in the above-mentioned certificate furnished the transportation officer, who will note the transportation request number on the original thereof and forward to the disbursing officer designated to pay the carrier's bill.

(c) Where the total number of persons (physically disabled persons and attendants) in one movement is 50 or more, application will be made to the Chief of Transportation for instructions in accordance with AR 55-130.[1] The provisions of (a) and (b) above will apply, depending upon the condition of the physically disabled persons. The medical officer will give due consideration to the use of special sleeping cars if feasible and more economical. If special sleeping cars are used, one lower berth will be furnished each physically disabled person. See (a) above. Attendants in special sleeping cars will be furnished berth accommodations in the same car on the basis prescribed in these regulations. [Par. 3]

§ 93.17 Insane. (a) Whenever transportation is required for any person (including prisoners of war, alien enemies, and other evacués under Executive Order No. 9066) who is insane or who is undergoing observation for insanity or mental disorders, the responsible medical officer will furnish the transportation officer issuing the transportation request a certificate, in duplicate, as to the condition of the person. Attendants will be provided at all times for such mental cases. Accommodations will be furnished for such mental cases and their attendants in parlor cars or in compartments or drawing rooms in sleeping cars where the total number of persons (mental cases and attendants) in one movement is 49 or less. The medical officer will determine in each case the number of attendants required, the class of accommodations required (that is, compartments or drawing rooms), and the total number of persons (mental cases and attendants), not less than two, to occupy each compartment or drawing room. A statement of this determination will be included by the medical officer in the above-mentioned certificate furnished the transportation officer who will note the transportation request number on the original thereof and forward to the disbursing officer designated to pay the carrier's bill.

(b) Fifty persons or more. The analogous provisions of § 93.16 (c) will apply. [Par. 4]

§ 93.18 Attendants with remains. Attendants accompanying remains will be furnished the authorized accommodations to which entitled, except that transportation requests for parlor-car or sleeping-car accommodations will not be furnished for officer attendants traveling in a mileage status. [Par. 8]

§ 93.19 Charter of sleeping cars or parlor cars. Special sleeping cars or parlor cars will be chartered only when the expense does not exceed the cost of berths and seats authorized to be furnished. [Par. 11]

§ 93.20 Procedure; receipts for accommodations furnished. Travelers will be informed of the pertinent requirements of AR 55-110. Whenever the face of the transportation request is indorsed by the transportation officer, "Tourist whenever available" (AR 55-110) the traveler will be instructed to indorse over his signature in the space provided on the back of the request a statement as to the points between which tourist accommodations are furnished. In case tourist accommodations become available en route and the transportation request cannot be indorsed on account of its having been lifted by the agent or by the first conductor (there having been a change of conductors), then the traveler will promptly forward the statement to the transportation officer issuing the request for transmittal to the disbursing officer designated to pay the carrier's bill. The statement will also cite the serial number of the transportation request. Travelers will be instructed to advise the transportation officer promptly whenever the accommodations used are less than those called for by the request. [Par. 12]

§ 93.21 Accommodations at variance with transportation request. Procurement from a carrier on a transportation request of excess space of a lower class than that called for by the request is prohibited, even though no additional cost to the Government is involved; for example, two lower tourist berths in lieu of a double berth in a standard sleeping car or seats in a parlor car in lieu of berths. TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VII—National Housing Agency

[NHA General Order 60-6]

PART 702—PRIVATE WAR HOUSING

CONSERVATION OF MATERIAL IN PRIVATE WAR HOUSING

The Joint Declaration of Policy of the War Production Board and the National Housing Agency regarding war housing, dated December 11, 1942, provides, among other things, for the conservation of critical materials incorporated into housing projects and the withdrawal or recapture of excessive quotas. The purpose of this general order is to implement those provisions with respect to private war housing.

Sec.

702.20 Application for priority assistance or authority to begin construction.
702.21 Application for amendment of preference rating order or request for authentication of purchase orders.
702.22 Amendments to war housing critical list and war housing construction standards.
702.23 Cessation of issuance, revision, and recapture of preference rating orders and authorities to begin construction.

AUTHORITY: §§ 702.20 to 702.23, inclusive, issued under E.O. 9070, 7 F.R. 1529.

§ 702.20 Application for priority assistance or authority to begin construction. (a) Applications for priority assistance or authority to begin construction shall be acted upon favorably by the Federal Housing Administration after the effective date of this general order only if the proposed construction, remodeling, or rehabilitation conforms to the applicable provisions of the War Housing Critical List approved December 12, 1942 and the War Housing Construction Standards approved January 21, 1943. Where any such application is submitted on Form PD-105 (Revised 2-10-43), such application shall not be acted upon favorably by the Federal Housing Administration after the effective date of this general order unless the applicant agrees that there shall not be installed in the project covered by such application any materials of metal and any critical materials other than those materials listed in such application and approved by the War Production Board for use in the project, whether such materials are taken from stock, secured with or without priority assistance, or obtained by gift, loan, or otherwise.

§ 702.21 Application for amendment of preference rating order or request for authentication of purchase orders. (a) Requests for extension of the term of a preference rating order, requests for the issuance of an allotment under the Controlled Materials Plan, requests for the authentication of an order for the purchase of materials included in a preference rating order, or any other request for amendment of a preference rating order, shall be acted upon favorably by the Federal Housing Administration after the effective date of this general order only if the proposed construction, remodeling, or rehabilitation conforms to the applicable provisions of the War Housing Critical List approved December 12, 1942 and the War Housing Construction Standards approved January 21, 1943; except that any such request may be acted upon favorably by the Federal Housing Administration after the effective date of this general order without conforming the proposed construction, remodeling, or rehabilitation to the applicable provisions of such War Housing Critical List and such War Housing Construction Standards if:

(1) The person making the request proves to the satisfaction of the Federal Housing Administration that it is not practicable to conform part or all of the project to the applicable provisions of such War Housing Critical List and such War Housing Construction Standards; and

(2) The Federal Housing Administration requires the conformance of as much of the project as is practicable, in the opinion of the Federal Housing Administration, to the applicable provisions of such War Housing Critical List and such War Housing Construction Standards; and

(3) Either (i) the person making any such request has performed work in connection with the project, prior to the effective date of this general order, other than such pre-construction activities as completing arrangements for or securing architectural services, surveys, options to purchase real or personal property, or permanent or construction financing, or (ii) the person making any such request has performed work in connection with the project, after the effective date of this general order but prior to the date of making such request, other than such pre-construction activities as completing arrangements for or securing architectural services, surveys, options to purchase real or personal property, or permanent or construction financing, and the Federal Housing Administration determines that it would result in an undue hardship to conform such project to the applicable provisions of such War Housing Critical List and War Housing Construction Standards because of special circumstances involved in the particular case.

In determining the extent to which it is practicable to conform any project as provided herein, the Federal Housing Administration shall be guided by the principle that, for the duration of the war, it is absolutely essential to conserve critical materials to the utmost in order to spread the supply of such materials over the largest possible number of housing units.

§ 702.22 Amendments to War Housing Critical List and War Housing Construction Standards. (a) Any amendment to the War Housing Critical List approved December 12, 1942, and the War Housing Construction Standards approved January 21, 1943, adopted after the effective date of this general order shall be made applicable to each war housing project construction of which is begun after the effective date of such amendment; and, with respect to any war housing project construction of which has begun prior to the effective date of such amendment, such project shall be conformed to such amended War Housing Critical List and War Housing Construction Standards only in accordance with the principles and policies contained in this general order.

§ 702.23 Cessation of issuance, revision, and recapture of preference rating orders and authorities to begin construction. (a) Where the Office of the Administrator of the National Housing Agency determines that the established quota for any Housing Critical Area is excessive, the Office of the Administrator will revise or withdraw the excessive portion of the unissued quota of such Housing Critical Area and, if the excessive quota is only related to a portion of the Housing Critical Area, the Office of the Administrator will revise or withdraw only unissued quota which was intended for use in such portion of such Housing Critical Area.

(b) If the established quota for any Housing Critical Area remains excessive after action has been taken as provided in § 702.23 (a) hereof, the Federal Housing Administration shall:

(1) Inform the owners of affected projects of the circumstances which require curtailment in the construction of private war housing and request that such owners immediately offer for recapture such portion of their preference rating orders or authorities to begin construction as they will not use in view of the changed conditions. Upon receipt of this information, the Federal Housing Administration shall proceed to recapture such units in accordance with prescribed procedures.

(2) If the established quota for any Housing Critical Area remains excessive after taking the action provided in §§ 702.23 (a) and 702.23 (b) (1) hereof, the Federal Housing Administration will recommend to the War Production Board the revision or recapture of as many and as large a part of each of the issued preference rating orders and authorities to begin construction as is practicable in order to conform the housing program as nearly as possible to the revised requirements. In determining the practicability of recommending the revision or recapture of issued preference rating orders and authorities to begin construction the Federal Housing Administration shall be guided by the following considerations:

(i) It is absolutely essential to conserve critical materials to the utmost in order to spread the supply of such materials over the largest possible number of housing units for the duration of the war;

(ii) It shall be considered practicable to revise or recapture any preference rating order or authority to begin construction where the person holding such order or authority has performed no work in connection with the project, at the time the Federal Housing Administration pursuant to determination of an excessive quota in the area recommends in accordance with § 702.23 (b) (2) hereof the revision or recapture of any such order or authority in question, other than such pre-construction activities as completing arrangements for or securing architectural services, surveys, options to purchase real or personal property, or permanent or construction financing: Provided, however, That upon the concurrence of the Regional Representative of the Office of the Administrator, the Federal Housing Administration may refrain from recommending such revision or recapture if it is determined that such action would result in an undue hardship.

(c) All revisions or recaptures as provided for in § 702.23 (b) (2) shall generally be considered in reverse order (except to the extent that some other order is necessary) of the chronological dates upon which the preference rating orders and authorities to begin construction were issued in the Housing Critical Area, or if the excess quota is related to only a portion of such Housing Critical Area, then such revisions or recaptures shall generally be considered in reverse order (except to the extent that some other order is necessary) of the chronological dates upon which the preference rating orders and authorities to begin construction were issued embracing projects in such portion of the Housing Critical Area.

(d) For the purpose of this § 702.23, applications in process with the Federal Housing Administration which have not been certified as eligible will be handled in the manner prescribed for the revision or withdrawal of unissued quota, and applications which have been certified as eligible but upon which the Federal Housing Administration has received no advice of issuance of the preference rating orders or authorities to begin construction, the Federal Housing Administration will handle in the same manner as issued preference rating orders or authorties to begin construction.

The effective date of this general order shall be February 27, 1943.

JOHN B. BLANDFORD, Jr., Administrator.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5233]

PART 3—INCOME TAX UNDER THE REVENUE ACT OF 1936

PART 9—INCOME TAX UNDER THE REVENUE ACT OF 1938

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

INCOME IN RESPECT OF DECEDENTS

Amending Regulations 103 by changing §§ 19.42–1 and 19.43–1 thereof and by inserting therein §§ 19.126–1, 19.126–2, 19.126–3, and 19.126–4, and making such amendments apply to Regulations 101, 94, and 86, in order to make such Regulations 103, 101, 94, and 86 conform to section 134 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to income in respect of decedents.

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.], 101 [Part 9, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], 94 [Part 3, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], and 86 to section 134 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, Seventy-seventh Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.42–1 of such Regulations 103 the following:

SEC. 134. INCOME IN RESPECT OF DECEDENTS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) General rule. The last sentence of section 42 (a) (relating to inclusion in gross income of amounts accrued up to death of taxpayer) is amended to read as follows: "In the case of the death of a taxpayer whose net income is computed upon the basis of the accrual method of accounting, amounts (except amounts includible in computing a partner's net income under section 182) accrued only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be included in computing net income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death."

* * * * *

(f) Effective date of amendments. The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, and the amendments made by subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1942.

(g) Taxable years before 1943. In case the taxable period in which falls the date of the death of the decedent began after December 31, 1933, and before January 1, 1943, the tax for such taxable period shall be computed as if provisions corresponding to the provisions of sections 42 (a) and 43 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by subsections (a) and (b) of this section, were a part of the Revenue Act of 1934, the Revenue Act of 1936, the Revenue Act of 1938, or the Internal Revenue Code, whichever is applicable to such taxable period. * * * The provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable unless there are filed with the Commissioner (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, and at the time prescribed by such regulations) signed consents made under oath by the fiduciary representing the estate and by each such person (or if any such person is no longer in existence or is under disability, by his legal representative) that with respect to such amounts the tax of the estate, or the tax of such person, as the case may be, shall be computed under the provisions of this paragraph for each taxable period ending on or after the date of the death of the decedent and the tax of the decedent shall be computed under such provisions for the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death. * * * [For retroactive effect of amendment made by this subsection, see § 19.126–4.]

PAR. 2. Section 19.42–1 of Regulations 103, as amended by Treasury Decision 5086, approved October 10, 1941, is further amended as follows:

A. By inserting immediately after the heading the following: "(a) In general."

B. By striking out the third sentence.

C. By inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(b) Last taxable year of decedent. If the taxable year in which falls the date of the death of a taxpayer began on or after January 1, 1943, then there shall be included in computing net income for such year only amounts properly includible under the approved method of accounting followed by the taxpayer, or, if the taxpayer followed no such method, only amounts received during such year. However, if the taxpayer followed the accrual method of accounting, amounts accrued only by reason of his death shall not be included in computing net income for such year, except that, if the taxpayer was a member of a partnership, his share of the partnership income for the partnership year ending with its dissolution on account of his death shall be included in computing his net income. The approved accounting practice of the partnership in computing its income shall not be changed by reason of the taxpayer's death. Thus, if the partnership computed its income on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, the partnership income for the year ending with the dissolution, a distributive share of which is included in the taxpayer's income, shall be so computed. If the partnership used the accrual of accounting, its income shall be computed according to such practice. For example, if a law partnership keeping its books on the accrual method of accounting is entitled to certain contingent fees which are accrued only upon the completion of the cases involved, such partnership will compute its income for the year ending with its dissolution on account of the death of the taxpayer without accruing, on account of the death of the partner at such time, any such contingent fees in uncompleted cases. Under section 126, any distribution by the partnership to the estate or or a beneficiary of the deceased partner out of such fees will be income to such estate or person.

There must also be included in computing net income for the taxable year in which falls the date of death of a taxpayer the gain described in section 44 (d), relating to gain upon the disposition of installment obligations, except as otherwise provided in that section. (See § 19.44–5.) This amount must be included in computing net income regardless of the method of accounting followed by the taxpayer.

If the taxable year in which falls the date of the death of a taxpayer began before January 1, 1943, the above provisions are applicable if the executor, administrator, or other personal representative of the taxpayer and the persons who acquire as beneficiaries of his estate or by reason of his death his right to receive any income make the election provided in section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942 and § 19.126–4 of these regulations to have the amendments made by section 134 of the Revenue Act of 1942 apply to the law in effect for such taxable year. For method of computing, and limitations with respect to, credit or refund of any overpayment which is a result of such election, see § 19.126–4 (c). If the executor, administrator, or other personal representative and such persons do not make such election, then there shall be included in computing net income for such taxable year, in addition to the amounts described above, all amounts accrued up to the date of the taxpayer's death which are not otherwise properly includible in respect of such taxable year or a prior taxable year, regardless of the fact that the decedent may have kept his books and made his return on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.43–1 of Regulations 103 the following:

* * * * *

(b) Deductions and credits. The last sentence of section 43 (relating to deductions and credits accrued up to death of taxpayer) is amended to read as follows: "In the case of the death of a taxpayer whose net income is computed upon the basis of the accrual method of accounting, amounts (except amounts includible in computing a partner's net income under section 182) accrued as deductions and credits only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be allowed in computing net income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death."

* * * * *

(f) Effective date of amendments. The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, and the amendments made by subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1942.

(g) Taxable years before 1943. In case the taxable period in which falls the date of the death of the decedent began after December 31, 1933, and before January 1, 1943, the tax for such taxable period shall be computed as if provisions corresponding to the provisions of sections 42 (a) and 43 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by subsections (a) and (b) of this section, were a part of the Revenue Act of 1934, the Revenue Act of 1936, the Revenue Act of 1938, or the Internal Revenue Code, whichever is applicable to such taxable period. * * * The provisions of this subsection shall not be applicable unless there are filed with the Commissioner (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, and at the time prescribed by such regulations) signed consents made under oath by the fiduciary representing the estate and by each such person (or if any such person is no longer in existence or is under disability, by his legal representative) that with respect to such amounts the tax of the estate, or the tax of such person, as the case may be, shall be computed under the provisions of this subsection for each taxable period ending on or after the date of the death of the decedent and the tax of the decedent shall be computed under such provisions for the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death. * * * [For retroactive effect of amendment made by this subsection, see section 19.126–4.]

Par. 4. Section 19.43–1 of Regulations 103 is amended by striking out paragraph (b) and by inserting in lieu thereof the following paragraph:

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) are in general applicable with respect to the taxable year during which the taxpayer dies if such taxable year begins on or after January 1, 1943. However, if the taxpayer followed the accrual method of accounting, there shall be included in computing net income for such year no amount accrued solely by reason of his death other than his distributive share of the losses of a partnership for the year ending with the dissolution of the partnership on account of his death. No change in the accounting practice of the partnership shall be made because of the taxpayer's death when the income and losses of the partnership are computed for the year ending with the dissolution of the partnership on account of the partner's death. If the taxpayer dies during a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943, these same provisions are applicable only if the executor, administrator, or other personal representative of the taxpayer and the persons who acquire as beneficiaries of his estate or by reason of his death his right to receive any income elect as provided in section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942 and § 19.126–4 of these regulations to have the amendments made by section 134 of the Revenue Act of 1942 apply to the law in effect for such taxable year. For method of computing, and limitations with respect to, assessment and collection of any deficiency which is a result of such election, see § 19.126–4 (c). If the executor, administrator, or other personal representative and such persons do not so elect, then there shall also be allowed as deductions and credits for such taxable year all amounts (except deductions under section 23 (o) accrued up to the date of the death of the taxpayer which are not otherwise allowable with respect to such taxable year or a prior taxable year, regardless of the fact that the decedent may have been required to keep his books and make his return on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements.

PAR. 5. There is inserted immediately after § 19.125–9 of Regulations 103 the following:

* * * * *

(e) The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting after section 125 the following new section:

SEC. 126. INCOME IN RESPECT OF DECEDENTS. (a) Inclusion in gross income.—(1) General rule. The amount of all items of gross income in respect of a decedent which are not properly includible in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of his death or a prior period shall be included in the gross income, for the taxable year when received, of:

(A) the estate of the decedent, if the right to receive the amount is acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent;

(B) the person who, by reason of the death of the decedent, acquires the right to receive the amount, if the right to receive the amount is not acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent; or

(C) the person who acquires from the decedent the right to receive the amount by bequest, devise, or inheritance, if the amount is received after a distribution by the decedent's estate of such right.

(2) Income in case of sale, etc. If a right, described in paragraph (1), to receive an amount is transferred by the estate of the decedent or a person who receives such right by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent, there shall be included in the gross income of the estate or such person, as the case may be, for the taxable period in which the transfer occurs, the fair market value of such right at the time of such transfer, plus the amount by which any consideration for the transfer exceeds such fair market value. For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "transfer" includes sale, exchange, or other disposition, but does not include a transfer to a person pursuant to the right of such person to receive such amount by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent.

(3) Character of income determined by reference to decedent. The right, described in paragraph (1), to receive an amount shall be treated, in the hands of the estate of the decedent or any person who acquired such right by reason of the death of the decedent, or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent, as if it had been acquired by the estate or such person in the transaction by which the decedent acquired such right; and the amount includible in gross income under paragraph (1) or (2) shall be considered in the hands of the estate or such person to have the character which it would have had in the hands of the decedent if the decedent had lived and received such amount.

(b) Allowance of deductions and credit. The amount of any deduction specified in section 23 (a), (b), (c), or (m) (relating to deductions for expenses, interest, taxes, and depletion) or credit specified in section 31 (foreign tax credit), in respect of a decedent which is not properly allowable to the decedent in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of his death, or a prior period, shall be allowed:

(1) Expenses, interest, and taxes.—In the case of a deduction specified in section 23 (a), (b), or (c) and a credit specified in section 31, in the taxable year when paid.—

(A) to the estate of the decedent; except that

(B) if the estate of the decedent is not liable to discharge the obligation to which the deduction or credit relates, to the person who, by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance acquires, subject to such obligation, from the decedent an interest in property of the decedent.

(2) Depletion. In the case of the deduction specified in section 23 (m), to the person described in subsection (a) (1) (A), (B), or (C) who, in the manner described therein, receives the income to which the deduction relates, in the taxable year when such income is received.

(c) Deduction for estate tax.

(1) Allowance of deduction. A person who includes an amount in gross income under subsection (a) shall be allowed, for the same taxable year, as a deduction an amount which bears the same ratio to the estate tax attributable to the net value for estate tax purposes of all the items described in subsection (a) (1) as the value for estate tax purposes of the items of gross income or portions thereof in respect of which such person included the amount in gross income (or the amount included in gross income, whichever is lower) beara to the value for estate tax purposes of all the items described in subsection (a) (1).

(2) Method of computing deduction. For the purposes of paragraph (1):

(A) The term "estate tax" means the tax imposed upon the estate of the decedent under section 810 or 860, reduced by the credits against such tax, plus the tax imposed upon the estate of the decedent under section 935, reduced by the credits against such tax.

(B) The net value for estate tax purposes of all the items described in subsection (a) (1) shall be the excess of the value for estate tax purposes of all the items described in subsection (a) (1) over the deductions from the gross estate in respect of claims which represent the deductions and credit described in subsection (b).

(C) The estate tax attributable to such net value shall be an amount equal to the excess of the estate tax over the estate tax computed without including in the gross estate such net value.

(f) Effective date of amendments. The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, and the amendments made by subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1942.

(g) Taxable years before 1943. In case the taxable period in which falls the date of the death of the decedent began after December 31, 1933, and before January 1, 1943, the tax for such taxable period shall be computed as if provisions corresponding to the provisions of section 42 (a) and 43 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by subsections (a) and (b) of this section, were a part of the Revenue Act of 1934, the Revenue Act of 1936, the Revenue Act of 1938, or the Internal Revenue Code, whichever is applicable to such taxable period. In the case of the estate of such a decedent and of each person who acquires by reason of the death of such decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from such decedent the right to receive the amount of items of gross income of the decedent which upon the application of the preceding sentence are not properly includible in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of the decedent's death or a prior period, the tax for each taxable period ending on or after the date on which the decedent died shall be computed by including in gross income the amounts with respect to such decedent which would be includible, and by allowing as deductions and credits the amounts with respect to such decedent which would be allowable, if provisions corresponding to the provisions of the section inserted in the Internal Revenue Code by subsection (e) of this section were a part of the law applicable to such taxable period. The provisions of this subsection shall not be applicable unless there are filed with the Commissioner (in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, and at the time prescribed by such regulations) signed consents made under oath by the fiduciary representing the estate and by each such person (or if any such person is no longer in existence or is under disability, by his legal representative) that with respect to such amounts the tax of the estate, or the tax of such person, as the case may be, shall be computed under the provisions of this subsection for each taxable period ending on or after the date of the death of the decedent and the tax of the decedent shall be computed under such provisions for the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death. If such consent is filed after the time for the filing of the return with respect to any such taxable period, the deficiency resulting from the failure to compute the tax for such taxable period in accordance with such consent shall be paid on the date of the filing of the consent with the Commissioner, or on the date prescribed for the payment of the tax for the taxable period, whichever is later, and the period of limitations provided in sections 275 and 276 of the Internal Revenue Code or a corresponding provision of a prior revenue law on the making of assessments and the beginning of distraint or a proceeding in court for collection shall with respect to such deficiency include one year immediately after the date the consent was filed, and such assessment and collection may be made notwithstanding any provision of the internal revenue laws or any rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment and collection. The period within which claim for credit or refund may be filed, or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, with respect to any overpayment resulting from the failure to compute the tax for any such taxable period (except the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death) in accordance with such consent shall include one year immediately after the date of the filing of the consent, and credit or refund may be allowed or made notwithstanding any provision of the internal revenue laws or any rule of law which would otherwise prevent such credit or refund, but no interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to any such overpayment. The provisions of section 322 (b) (2) and (3) of the Internal Revenue Code or a corresponding provision of a prior revenue law shall not apply to the refund of any such overpayment. If the application of this subsection to the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death results in a deficiency for such taxable period, and if the income tax of the decedent for such period was deducted in computing the net estate of the decedent under Chapter 3 of the Internal Revenue Code or under a corresponding title of a prior revenue law, and if at the time such deficiency is assessed credit or refund of any resulting overpayment in respect of the taxes imposed by such Chapter 3 or corresponding title upon such net estate is prevented by any provision of the internal revenue laws or by any rule of law, then the amount of such deficiency which is assessed and collected shall be reduced by the amount of such resulting overpayment under such Chapter 3 or corresponding title which would be credited or refunded if credit or refund thereof were not so prevented. This subsection shall not be deemed to change any provision of law limiting the allowance of refund or credit with respect to overpayments for the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death, and no interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to any overpayment resulting from the application of this subsection to such taxable period. If the application of this subsection to the taxable period of the decedent in which falls the date of his death results in an overpayment for such taxable period, and if such overpayment was included as part of the income tax of the decedent which was deducted in computing the net estate of the decedent under Chapter 3 of the Internal Revenue Code or under a corresponding title of a prior revenue law, and if, at the time such overpayment is credited or refunded the assessment and collection of deficiencies in respect of the taxes imposed by such Chapter 3 or corresponding title upon such net estate is prevented by any provision of the internal revenue laws or by any rule of law, then the amount of such overpayment which is credited or refunded shall be reduced by the amount of the resulting deficiencies under such Chapter 3 or corresponding title which would be assessable if the assessment and collection thereof were not so prevented.

§ 19.126–1 Inclusion in gross income of income in respect of a decedent. The gross income for the taxable year of a decedent beginning on or after January 1, 1943, in which falls the date of his death, is computed upon the basis of the method of accounting followed by such decedent, even though amounts to which he is entitled as gross income are not includible under such method in computing net income for such taxable year or any prior taxable year. (See § 19.42–1) Such amounts include all the accrued income of a decedent who reported his income on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, and, in the case of a decedent who reported his income under the accrual method of accounting, such amounts include contingent items which were not accrued by the decedent and, under § 19.42–1, all items (except the amount of partnership income includible under section 182) which were accrued in the last taxable year of the decedent solely by reason of his death. For example, if the decedent who reported income on the basis of the accrual method of accounting was a member of a partnership which kept its books on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, the decedent would be entitled at the date of his death to his distributive share of the accrued income of the partnership, although there would be included in his gross income only his distributive share of the partnership income computed on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements. Furthermore, if his partnership agreement had provided for the sale to the other partners upon his death of his right to the partnership assets in return for a payment of a certain sum by the surviving partners to his estate, the gain on such sale, accrued solely by reason of his death, would not be included in computing his net income.

Under section 126 (a) (1), all such amounts to which a decedent is entitled as gross income and which are not includible in computing his net income for his last taxable year or any prior taxable year shall be included, when received, in the gross income of the estate of the decedent or of the person receiving such amounts if such amounts are received in a taxable year ending after December 31, 1942 by the estate of the decedent or by a person entitled to such amounts by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent. These amounts are included in the income of the estate and such persons when received by them, regardless of whether or not they report income on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements.

The persons who are placed with respect to such amounts in the same position as the decedent are the decedent's estate (which in the great majority of cases will be the one who receives such amounts) and, if the estate does not collect such amounts but distributes the right to receive such amounts to the heir, next of kin, legatee, or devisee who inherited or was bequeathed or devised such right, such heir, next of kin, legatee, or devisee. Thus, if the decedent who kept his books on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements was entitled at the date of his death to a large salary payment to be made in equal annual installments over five years, and his estate after collecting two installments distributed the right to the remaining installment payments to the residuary legatee of the estate, the estate must include in its gross income the two installments received by it, and the legatee must include in his gross income each of the three installments received by him.

Also placed in the same position as the decedent with respect to such amounts are those who acquire the right to such amounts by reason of the death of the decedent. An example of the application of this provision is the case of a decedent who owned a defense bond, with his wife as coowner or beneficiary, and who died before the payment of such bond. The entire amount accruing on the bond and not includible in income by the decedent, not just the amount accruing after the death of the decedent, would be treated as income to his wife when the bond is paid. Another example is the case of a partner whose partnership agreement provided that upon his death his interest in certain partnership assets would pass to the surviving partners in exchange for payments to be made by them to his widow. Upon his death, the payments by the surviving partners must be included in the widow's income to the extent they exceed the adjusted basis of such assets in the hands of the decedent immediately prior to his death. This gain was not includible in the partner's income since it was not received by the partner (for the purposes of the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting) and was accrued only by reason of his death (for the purposes of the accrual method of accounting). If the payments are to be made to the widow as trustee for minor children, and if the right to receive such payments is transferred to the children upon their majority, the children are within the provisions of section 126 (a) (1) as receiving the right to such payments by reason of the death of the decedent, and must include such payments when received in their income to the extent the payments represent the gain on the sale.

Since section 126 provides for the treatment of such amounts as income to the estate and other persons placed in the same position as the decedent with respect to such amounts, the provisions of section 113 (a) (5) with respect to the basis of property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance do not apply to these amounts in the hands of the estate and such persons. Furthermore, section 126 only applies to the amount of items of gross income in respect of a decedent, and items which are excluded from his gross income under section 22 (b) or section 116 are not within the provisions of section 126.

If the right to receive an amount of income in respect of a decedent is transferred by the estate or the person entitled to such amount by bequest, devise, or inheritance, or by reason of the death of the decedent, the fair market value of such right at the date of the transfer shall be included in the income of the estate or of such person, plus the amount by which any consideration received on such transfer exceeds the fair market value of such right. Thus, upon a sale of such right, the fair market value of the right or the amount received upon the sale, whichever is greater, is included in income. Similarly, if the right to receive the income is disposed of, as by gift or bequest, the fair market value of such right at the time of such disposition must be included in the gross income of the donor, testator, or other transferor. However, if the person to whom such right is transferred is a person described in section 126 (a) (1) as being entitled to such right by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent, such fair market value of the right is not included in the income of the transferor. Examples of such transfers are those by the estate to a specific legatee of such right or to the residuary legatee. Another example is the case of a trust to which is bequeathed the right of the decedent to certain payments of income. If the trust terminates and the right to such payments is transferred to the beneficiary, the trust does not include the fair market value of the right to receive such payments in its income, but such payments are included in the income of the beneficiary under the provisions of section 126 (a) (1). Under section 126 (a) (1), the transferee in each of the above examples must include the amount, when received, in his income, and if he transfers the right to receive such amount to a person not entitled to such right by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of his death, then he must include in his income the fair market value of the right at the time of such transfer.

The right to receive an amount of income in respect of a decedent shall be treated in the hands of the estate or the person entitled to receive such amount by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of his death as if it had been acquired in the transaction by which the decedent acquired such right, and shall be considered as having the same character it would have had if the decedent had lived and received such amount. The estate or such person is placed in the same position with respect to the nature of this income as the position the decedent enjoyed. Thus, if the income would have been capital gain to the decedent, if he had lived and had received it, from the sale of property held for more than six months, the income when received, or its fair market value if transferred, shall be treated in the hands of the estate or of such person as gain from the sale of the property, held for more than six months, in the same manner as if such person had held the property for the period the decedent held it, and had made the sale. Similarly, if the income is interest on United States obligations owned by the decedent, such income shall be treated as interest on United States obligations in the hands of the person receiving it, for the purpose of determining the credit provided by section 25 (a) (1) and (2), as if such person owned the obligations with respect to which such interest is paid. If the amount would have constituted earned income to the decedent, as in the case of the accrued wages of a decedent who reported income on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, such amount shall constitute earned income to the person including such amount in his gross income to the same extent as if he had engaged in place of the decedent in the transaction in which the amount was earned. Such earned income would be included with the other earned income of such person, in determining his earned income credit, and such aggregate would of course be subject to the limitations on such credit. The estate is not allowed any credit for such income which is treated as earned income in its hands, since there is no provision in Supplement E of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code allowing such a credit in the case of an estate. If the amounts are compensation for personal services rendered over a period of 36 months or more, and would be within the provisions of section 107 if the decedent had lived and included such amounts in his gross income, section 107 applies. That is, the tax attributable to the inclusion of this amount in the gross income of the person receiving it shall not exceed the aggregate of the taxes of the decedent which would be attributable to such amount if it had been received by the decedent in equal portions in each of the months included in the period in which the personal services were rendered. Similarly, the provisions of sections 105 and 106, relating to the tax attributable to the sale of certain oil or gas property and to certain claims against the United States, apply to any amount included in gross income, the right to which was obtained by the decedent by a sale or claim within the provisions of those sections. The tax attributable to the inclusion of this amount in the gross income of the person receiving it shall not exceed 30 percent of such amount.

§ 19.126–2 Allowance of deductions and credit in respect of decedent. Under section 126 (b), the expenses, interest, and taxes described in section 23 (a), (b), and (c) for which the decedent, dying in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, was liable, which were not properly allowable as a deduction in his last taxable year or any prior taxable year, are allowed when paid (a) as a deduction by the estate, or (b) if the estate was not liable to pay such obligation, as a deduction by the person who by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent acquires subject to such obligation an interest in property of the decedent. Similar treatment is given to the foreign tax credit provided by section 31. For the purposes of (b) above, the right to receive an amount of gross income in respect of a decedent is considered property of the decedent; on the other hand, it is not necessary for a person, otherwise within the provisions of (b), to receive the right to any income in respect of the decedent. Thus, if the right to income in respect of a decedent, receivable by reason of the death of the decedent by a person other than the estate, is subject to an income tax imposed during the life of the decedent by a foreign country, which tax must be satisfied out of such income, such person is entitled to the credit provided in section 31 when he pays this obligation. If the decedent, who reported income on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, owned real property on which no income had accrued, but on which accrued taxes had become a lien, and if such property passed directly to the heir of the decedent in a jurisdiction in which real property does not become a part of a decedent's estate, the heir, upon paying such taxes, may take the same deduction under section 23 (c) that would be allowed to the decedent if, while alive, he had made such payment.

However, the deduction for percentage depletion is allowable only to the person who receives the income in respect of the decedent to which the deduction relates, whether or not such person receives the property from which such income is derived. Thus, if the income results from payments on units of mineral sold by the decedent, who reported income on the basis of cash receipts and disbursements, the deduction for depletion, computed on such number of units as if the person receiving such income had the same economic interest as the decedent, shall be allowed to such person regardless of whether or not he receives any interest in the mineral property other than such income. If the decedent did not compute his deduction for depletion on the basis of percentage depletion, any deduction for depletion to which the decedent was entitled at the date of his death would be allowable in computing his net income for his last taxable year, and there can be no deduction in respect of the decedent by any other person for such depletion.

§ 19.126–3 Deduction for estate tax attributable to income in respect of decedent. Section 126 (c) provides that the estate or person required to include in gross income any amount in respect of a decedent may deduct that portion of the estate tax on the decedent's estate which is attributable to the inclusion in the decedent's estate of the right to receive such amount. This deduction is determined by first ascertaining the net value in the decedent's estate of the items which are included under section 126 in computing the income of the persons described in that section, that is, the excess of the value included in the gross estate of the items of gross income in respect of the decedent over the deductions from the gross estate for claims which represent the deductions and credit in respect of the decedent described in section 126 (b). The portion of the estate tax (the sum of the basic estate tax and the additional estate tax, reduced by the credits against such taxes) attributable to the inclusion in the gross estate of such net value is the excess of the estate tax over the estate tax computed without including such net value in the gross estate. The estate and each person receiving income in respect of the decedent may deduct as his share of such portion of the estate tax an amount which bears the same ratio to such portion as the value in the gross estate of the right to the income included by the estate or such person in gross income bears to the value in the gross estate of all the items of gross income in respect of the decedent. Section 126 (c) is illustrated by the following example:

Example. X, an attorney who kept his books on the basis of the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting, was entitled at the date of his death to a fee for services rendered in a case not completed at the time of his death, which fee was valued in his estate at $1,000, and to accrued interest on bonds which was valued at $500. In all, $1,500 was included in his gross estate in respect of income described in section 126 (a) (1). There were deducted as claims against his estate $150 for business expenses for which his estate was liable, and $50 for taxes accrued on certain property he owned, in all, $200, for claims which represent the deductions described in section 126 (b) which are allowable as deductions to his estate or to the beneficiaries of his estate. His gross estate is $185,000, and his net estate, computed without deducting any specific exemption, is $170,000, on which the total basic and additional estate tax (reduced by credits against such tax) is $23,625. In the year following the death of X, his estate collected the fee in the amount of $1,200, which amount is included in the income of the estate. The estate may deduct, in computing its net income for such year, $260 on account of the estate tax attributable to such income, computed as follows:

(a) (1) Value of income described in section 126 (a) (1) included in computing gross estate	$1,500
(2) Deductions in computing gross estate for claims representing deductions described in section 126 (b)	200
(3) Net value of items described in section 126 (a) (1)	1,300
(b) (1) Estate tax (basic and additional estate taxes, less credits against such taxes)	23,625
(2) Less: Estate tax computed without including $1,300 (item (a) (3)) in gross estate	23,235
(3) Portion of estate tax attributable to net value of income items	390
(c) (1) Value in gross estate of income received by estate in taxable year	1,000
(2) Value in gross estate of all income items described in section 126 (a) (1) (item (a) (1) above)	1,500
(3) Part of estate tax deductible upon receiving the $1,200 fee $\frac{$1,000}{$1,500}$ of $390	260

Although $1,200 was later collected as the fee, only the $1,000 actually included in the gross estate is used in the above computations. However, to avoid distortion, section 126 (c) provides that if the value included in the gross estate is greater than the amount finally collected, only the amount collected shall be used in the above computations. Thus, if the amount collected as the fee were only $500, the estate tax deductible on the receipt of such amount would be $\frac{$500}{$1,500}$ of $390, or $130.

§ 19.126–4 Income in respect of decedent dying in taxable year beginning before 1943; tax of decedent—(a) In general. If the last taxable year of the decedent began before January 1, 1943, then, under the law applicable to such taxable year before the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942 all income in respect of such decedent was includible in his gross income for such taxable year, unless properly includible in gross income for a prior taxable year. (See § 19.42–1) Section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942 gives the estate of the decedent and those persons entitled upon his death to receive amounts of income not includible in the income of the decedent under his method of accounting (but includible in his income under the provisions of section 42) the right to elect to have such amounts treated for tax purposes under the amendments made by the Revenue Act of 1942, that is, to exclude from the gross income of the decedent for his last taxable year any such amounts not includible therein under his method of accounting, and to include such amounts when received in the gross income of the estate and of the other persons entitled to such amounts by bequest, devise, and inheritance and by reason of the death of the decedent. The election to have these amounts treated in this manner is made by the filing of consents to such treatment by the fiduciary of the estate and by all such persons.

(b) Consents; tax of estate and persons filing consents. For the purposes of the election provided by section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942, the consents must be filed by the fiduciary of the estate and by each person who received any right to income in respect of the decedent by bequest, devise or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent. Ordinarily, the persons who must file such consents are the administrator or the executor of the estate, the residuary beneficiary of the estate, the trustees and beneficiaries of any trust the corpus of which includes such right to income, every other specific beneficiary of such right, and every person who receives any such right by survivorship, such as the surviving joint tenants of any right to income held in joint tenancy and the surviving co-owners or beneficiaries of any defense bonds owned by the decedent on which there is accrued interest not includible in his gross income under his method of accounting. If any such person is not in existence or is under legal disability, the consent may be made by his legal representative.

All of such consents with respect to any one decedent shall be filed at the same time with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. The consents must be filed not later than one year after the time prescribed for filing the return for the last taxable year of the decedent (not including any extension of time for such filing) or January 1, 1944, whichever is later.

The executor, administrator, or other fiduciary of the estate (or if there is no such fiduciary, the principal beneficiary of the estate) must submit, under oath, a statement accompanying the consents and containing the following information:

(1) A list of all the items included in the gross income of the decedent for his last taxable year which would not be includible therein if the amendments made by section 134 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 were applicable to the revenue law in effect for such taxable year. (See § 19.42–1)

(2) The amount included in gross income with respect to each of such items, the aggregate of such amounts, the value included in the gross estate of the decedent with respect to each such item for the purposes of the estate tax, and the aggregate of such values.

(3) A list of all the items, allowed as deductions and credits in computing the net income of the decedent for his last taxable year, which would not be allowable as deductions and credits if the amendments made by section 134 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 were applicable to the revenue law in effect for such taxable year. (See § 19.43–1)

(4) The amount allowable as a deduction or credit with respect to each such item listed in (3), the aggregate of such amounts, the amount of the deductions for estate tax purposes from the gross estate of the decedent in respect of claims which are founded upon that portion of such items as are described in section 126 (b), and the aggregate of such deductions.

(5) The names and addresses of every person entitled by bequest, devise or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent to receive any amount listed in (1).

(6) The names and addresses of every person entitled by bequest, devise or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent to receive any property subject to an obligation of the decedent for which a deduction or credit described in § 19.126–2 is allowable.

Each consent shall be made under oath and shall contain the following:

(i) The name and address of the person filing the consent, and the collection district in which he files his return.

(ii) The name and address of the decedent, the date of his death, the period covered by his last income tax return, and the collection district in which such return was filed.

(iii) A list of all the items (at face value) of income in respect of the decedent to which the person filing the consent was entitled by bequest, devise or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent. If the person filing the consent is the fiduciary of the estate of the decedent, the list shall set forth every item (at face value) of income in respect of the decedent acquired by the estate from the decedent. If any items listed on the consent were collected before the time the consent was filed, or if the right to receive any such items was transferred before such time to any person not entitled to such right by bequest, devise or inheritance, or by reason of the death of the decedent, then the list must show the amount collected in respect of each such item, or its fair market value at the time it was transferred, any consideration received for the transfer, and the date of such collection or transfer.

(iv) A list of all the items in respect of the decedent for which such person may claim deductions and credits described in § 19.126–2, showing the face value of such items, the property received by bequest, devise or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent subject to the obligation for which any such deduction is allowed, and, if any such obligation has been paid, the amount and date paid.

(v) A recomputation of the net income and of the tax of the person filing the consent, made (a) for each taxable year in which any item described in (iii) was collected, or in which the right to any such item was transferred to a person not entitled to such right by bequest, devise or inheritance from the decedent or by reason of the death of the decedent, (b) for each taxable year in which any item listed in (iv) was paid, or would otherwise be allowed as a deduction or credit under § 19.126–2, and (c) for each taxable year in which there is a carry-over or carry-back of any item from any taxable year described in subdivisions (a) and (b). Such recomputation shall be made under the provisions of §§ 19.126–1, 19.126–2, and 19.126–3 by including in gross income the income in respect of the decedent which is includible under section 126 (a) and by allowing as deductions and credits the deductions and credits which are allowable under section 126 (b) and (c) when section 126 is made applicable to such taxable year and when the amendments made by section 134 (a) and (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 are made applicable to the law in effect for the last taxable year of the decedent (see §§ 19.42–1 and 19.43–1). This recomputation shall be made only for taxable years the returns for which were due prior to the date the consent is filed. The increase or decrease in tax for each such taxable year as a result of such recomputation shall be shown, as well as the aggregate of such increases and the aggregate of such decreases.

(vi) An unqualified statement by the person filing the consent agreeing that his tax for each taxable year ending on or after the date the decedent died and the tax of the decedent for his last taxable year shall be computed under the provisions of section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

A payment equal to the excess of the aggregate of the increases over the aggregate of the decreases in tax set out in subdivision (v) on the consent must accompany the filing of the consent. The period of limitations for assessing or collecting the increase in tax upon such recomputation for each such previous year includes one year immediately after the filing of the consents, and such assessment and collection may be made whether or not any period of limitation or any rule of law (such as a previous judicial determination of the tax liability for such year) would otherwise prevent such collection or assessment. Interest on the increase in tax for each previous taxable year is measured from the date prescribed by law for the payment of the tax for such previous taxable year. If the aggregate of the decreases in tax exceeds the aggregate of the increases in tax, the taxpayer may file claim for credit or refund of such excess, and the period of limitation for filing such claim includes one year immediately after the filing of the consents. Such credit or refund may be made whether or not any period of limitations or any rule of law would otherwise prevent such credit or refund. The amount of such credit or refund will not be limited by section 322 (b) (2) or (3). No interest will be allowed with respect to any such credit or refund.

The person filing his consent must compute his tax for each taxable year, the return for which is due on or after the date the consent is filed, under the provisions of section 126 as if the amendments made by section 134 (a) and (b) were effective with respect to the revenue law applicable to the taxable year in which the decedent died. (See §§ 19.42–1, 19.43–1, 19.126–1, 19.126–2, and 19.126–3.)

(c) Tax for last taxable year of decedent if consents filed. If the consents described in subsection (b) are properly filed, the tax of the decedent for his last taxable year computed as if the amendments made by section 134 (a) and (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 were applicable to the revenue law in effect for such taxable year of the decedent. See §§ 19.42–1 and 19.43–1. However, no interest shall be allowed with respect to any credit or refund of any overpayment for such taxable year resulting from the application of these amendments. Furthermore, credit or refund of any such overpayment is only allowed subject to the provisions of section 322, and nothing in section 134 of the Revenue Act of 1942 makes any change in any provision of law which limits the allowance of credit or refund of an overpayment for the last taxable year of the decedent. Thus, if the claim for the credit or refund of an overpayment, caused by the application of section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942, is not filed within three years after the return for the last taxable year of the decedent was filed or two years after the last payment of tax for such taxable year was made, then no refund is allowable. If the claim is filed within such period, the refund which may be made must not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the period, preceding the filing of the claim for credit or refund, prescribed by section 322 (b) (2). For example, the last taxable year of the decedent began in 1939, the return for such year was filed on March 15, 1940, and the tax shown on the return was paid on that date. Later, a deficiency of $1,000 was assessed, and this amount was paid in full on December 31, 1941. The application of section 134 (g) to such taxable year results in an overpayment of $5,000, and claim for credit or refund of such overpayment is filed on December 15, 1943 (within two years after the payment of tax on December 31, 1941). The credit or refund which is allowed for such taxable year is limited under section 322 (b) (2) to $1,000, the portion of the tax paid within three years before the claim is filed. If the executor or other personal representative of the decedent had contested the deficiency paid on December 31, 1941, before the Board, or had previously sued for refund, and the tax liability for the decedent's last taxable year had been finally determined, no credit or refund could be allowed or made for such taxable year by reason of an overpayment resulting from the application of section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

In cases in which the decedent had more deductions subject to the amendment made by section 134 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 than income subject to the amendment made by section 134 (a) of such Revenue Act, a deficiency for his last taxable year may result from the retroactive application of such amendments under section 134 (g) of that Act. Since the estate and the beneficiaries, in the filed consents, agree to the redetermination of the tax of the decedent for his last taxable year, such tax will be assessed and collected notwithstanding the prior running of any period of limitations or any other rule of law which would otherwise bar such assessment and collection.

Since the income tax of the decedent for his last taxable year was deductible as a claim against his estate in determining the estate tax, any overpayment of income tax for his last taxable year may have been an improper deduction from his gross estate. Therefore, if any such overpayment is determined for such taxable year by reason of the application of section 134 of the Revenue Act of 1942, the estate tax must then be recomputed by disallowing any deduction of such overpayment of income tax, and upon this recomputation a deficiency in estate taxes may be determined. If at the time any credit or refund of such overpayment in income tax is allowed or made, the assessment and collection of the deficiency in estate taxes are barred by any provision of the internal revenue laws or by any rule of law, then the amount of such deficiency in estate taxes is deducted from the amount which would otherwise be refunded or credited.

Similarly, if there was a deficiency in income tax for the last taxable year of the decedent, by reason of the application of section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942, then the deduction for income tax of the decedent in computing his net estate for estate tax purposes may have been too small, and an overpayment of estate taxes may have resulted. If credit or refund of this overpayment is barred at the time the deficiency in income taxes is assessed, the amount of the deficiency in income taxes shall be reduced by the amount of any such overpayment in estate taxes.

PAR. 8. The foregoing provisions of paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 of this Treasury decision relative to cases involving decedents who died during taxable years which began before January 1, 1943 are hereby made applicable to all such cases in which the decedent died during a taxable year which began after December 31, 1933 and before January 1, 1939. Upon proper compliance by the estate, beneficiaries, and survivors of the decedent with the provisions of section 134 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1942 and with the provisions of paragraph 5 of this Treasury decision, provisions corresponding to the provisions of section 126 of the Internal Revenue Code, inserted therein by section 134 (e) of the Revenue Act of 1942, shall be considered a part of the Internal Revenue Code and of the Revenue Acts of 1938, 1936, and 1934 applicable to taxable years of such estate, beneficiaries, and survivors ending on or after the date of such decedent's death, the amendment to the last sentence of section 42 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code made by section 134 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall be considered an amendment to the last sentence of section 42 of the Revenue Act of 1938, 1936, or 1934, whichever is applicable to the last taxable year of the decedent, and the amendment to section 43 of the Internal Revenue Code made by section 134 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall be considered an amendment to the last sentence of section 43 of the Revenue Act of 1938, 1936, or 1934, whichever is applicable to the last taxable year of the decedent. The amendments to §§ 19.42–1 and 19.43–1 made in paragraphs 2 and 4 of this Treasury decision shall also be considered amendments to the corresponding provisions of articles 42–1 and 43–1 of Regulations 101, 94, and 86.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Labor

PART 3—DETERMINATIONS RELATING TO OVERTIME, SUNDAY, AND HOLIDAY PAY

DETERMINATION UNDER EXECUTIVE ORDER TO THE SHIPBUILDING AND SHIP REPAIR INDUSTRY

Wage stabilization agreements for the shipbuilding and ship repair industry which stabilize, among other things, overtime compensation practices in that industry have been in operation since April 1941. Orders temporarily staying the application of Executive Order 9240 (7 F.R. 7159) to work subject to these agreements, which have previously been issued by me pursuant to Executive Order 9248 (7 F.R. 7419), at the request of the Chairman of the Shipbuilding Stabilization Committee of the War Production Board, expire March 2, 1943. These agreements have been approved by the Government departments and agencies concerned with shipbuilding and ship repair work. The Shipbuilding Stabilization Committee which administers these stabilization agreements, entitled "Zone Standards Agreements for the Shipbuilding and Ship Repair Industry" and the "Pacific Coast Repair Agreements," has informed me that the agreements are operating satisfactorily in the shipbuilding and ship repair industry and has made application for a determination that the provisions of Executive Order 9240 shall not apply to the shipbuilding and ship repair industry. The Navy Department, Maritime Commission, and War Department, which are parties to the stabilization agreements, have concurred in the application.

Upon investigation, it appears that these wage stabilization agreements approved by a Government department or agency are operating satisfactorily to stabilize overtime practices in the industry.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power vested in me by Executive Order 9248, It is ordered, That the provisions of Executive Order 9240, entitled "Regulations Relating to Overtime Wage Compensation," shall not apply after March 2, 1943, to the shipbuilding and ship repair industry.

Dated: February 25, 1943.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1711]

PART 333—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 13

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Memorandum opinion and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of DeBardeleben Coal Corporation for permission to absorb an increase of 65 cents per car in switching and weighing charges in delivery of locomotive fuel from its Hull Mine to the Illinois Central Railroad.

On October 23, 1942, the DeBardeleben Coal Corporation, a code member in District No. 13, filed an original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, with the Bituminous Coal Division, requesting permission to absorb increased switching and weighing charges from the minimum prices applicable to its shipments of coals produced at its Hull Mine (Mine Index No. 44) in District No. 13, for locomotive fuel use to the Illinois Central Railroad.

The Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 13 for All Shipments Except Truck permits the DeBardeleben Coal Corporation to absorb a weighing and switching charge of $10.73 per car on coals produced at its Hull Mine for shipment as locomotive fuel to the Illinois Central Railroad. Petitioner alleges that this weighing and switching charge was increased six per cent, or 65 cents per car, that is, by 50 cents per car in the switching charge and 15 cents per car in the weighing charge, in Ex Parte #148 before the Interstate Commerce Commission, effective April 11, 1942; and that it should be permitted to absorb this increase in order to place the Hull coals for shipment off line to the Illinois Central Railroad on a competitive delivered basis with Alabama mines served directly by that railroad.

It appears that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth.

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That, pending further order in the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: commencing forthwith § 333.7 (Special prices—(a) Prices for shipment to all railroads and for exclusive use of railroads), footnote 3, is amended as follows:

The Hull Mine (Mine Index No. 44) may reduce the price listed above when for delivery as locomotive fuel to the Illinois Central Railroad by absorbing the actual weighing and switching charges but not to exceed $11.38 per car.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: February 26, 1943.

Director.

Subchapter B—Export Control

[Amendment 20]

PART 808—PROCEDURE RELATING TO SHIPMENT OF LICENSED EXPORTS TO THE OTHER AMERICAN REPUBLICS

APPLICATION PROCEDURE, AMENDMENT

Section 808.6 Application procedure is hereby amended by adding the following new paragraph:

§ 808.6 Application procedure. • • •

(f) Certain associations; multiple consignors. Any association organized pursuant to the Export Trade Act (U.S.C. Title 15, section 61) may, upon specific authorization from the Office of Exports, file in the name of the association one combined application for freight space on Form BEW-138, subject to the following conditions:

(1) The association shall obtain from each member a statement to be filed with the Office of Exports in the following form properly filled out:

This is to certify that the undersigned _____ company, of_____ (City) and _____ (State) is a member of the _____ Association.

The undersigned and its subsidiary companies agree that in the event the Office of Exports, Board of Economic Warfare, determines to authorize the Association to obtain an assignment of shipping space for all the members of the Association, it will:

(1) Accept such part of the total space allocated to the Association as the Executive Secretary of the Association shall allocate to it.

(2) Ship only to such consignees as are approved by the Office of Exports, Board of Economic Warfare.

(3) Not file individual applications for shipping space.

This agreement is effective as of _____ 1943, and may be revoked upon thirty (30) days written notice to the Office of Exports, Board of Economic Warfare.

(2) The combined application for freight space shall contain the names of the members represented thereby, together with their particular consignees, ultimate consignees and purchasers.

(3) The tonnage allotted by the Office of Exports upon certification of the application shall be divided by the association among the members represented by such certified application.

(4) The association shall notify the Office of Exports and the War Shipping Administration of the particular commodity and amount thereof each member proposes to ship against the certified application.

(5) The members shall then book their proposed shipments directly with the ship operator under the serial number assigned to the certified application.

(6) When the shipments have cleared port, the members shall notify the association of the amount of the commodity shipped, the consignee thereof and the carrier vessel.

PART 1095—COMMUNICATIONS

[General Conservation Order L-204 as Amended Feb. 27, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of materials for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1095.20 General Conservation Order L-204—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, receiver or any form of enterprise whatsoever, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Telephone set" means an assemblage of apparatus including a telephone transmitter and a telephone receiver together with its immediately associated devices and wiring (including a wire intercommunicating set which does not employ electronic tubes as an essential part of such set and is employed in intercommunicating systems operated independently of public telephone systems) for use in wire telephone communication. It shall not include any telephone set or auxiliary devices contained on List A attached.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures or assembles telephone sets. It shall not include any person to the extent that he is engaged in the repair or reconditioning of used telephone sets.

(4) [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

(b) General restrictions. (1) No manufacturer shall produce telephone sets on or after the 27th day of February 1943, except wire intercommunicating telephone sets:

(i) To fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA-3 or higher for a maintenance replacement or for an extension of an existing wire intercommunicating set or system.

(ii) To fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA-1 or higher for a new installation of a wire intercommunicating system.

(c) Records. All manufacturers affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning production and sales of telephone sets.

(d) Reports. Each manufacturer affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires with the War Production Board as may from time to time be required by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or, who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from process or use of, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Communications. All reports to be filed, and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, Communications Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L-204.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-123 as Amended Feb 27, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of general industrial equipment for defense, for private account and export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.1 General Limitation Order L-123—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "General industrial equipment" means new equipment of the kinds listed, from time to time, in list A. General industrial equipment shall be deemed to be new when it has not been delivered to any person acquiring it for use.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person producing general industrial equipment.

(4) "Distributor" means any person in the business of distributing general industrial equipment.

(5) "Order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the delivery of general industrial equipment, whether by purchase, lease, rental, or otherwise.

(6) "Approved order" means:

(i) Any order for general industrial equipment bearing a preference rating of A-1-c or higher.

(ii) Any order for general industrial equipment for the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, and the Office of Scientific Research and Development.

(iii) Any order for general industrial equipment which the Director General for Operations authorizes for delivery pursuant to paragraph (b) (2) hereof.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of orders for, and production and distribution of general industrial equipment—(1) General restrictions. (i) No person shall accept any order for general industrial equipment or commence production of any general industrial equipment in fulfillment of any order, whether accepted or not; unless such order is an approved order.

(ii) No person shall deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any general industrial equipment, except pursuant to an approved order: Provided, however, That the provisions of this paragraph (b) (1) shall not prohibit the production and delivery, prior to October 1, 1942, of general industrial equipment in fulfillment of an order accepted prior to August 27, 1942 and bearing a preference rating of A-9 or higher; and Provided further, That nothing in this order shall prevent shipment of general industrial equipment from any manufacturer to any distributor to fill approved orders actually received by such distributor or to replace general industrial equipment delivered by such distributor to fill an approved order nor shall this order limit the right of a manufacturer legally to extend any preference rating certificate to secure material for the production of approved orders for general industrial equipment.

(2) Authorization for orders on books. Manufacturers or distributors may apply for authorization to commence production of, or to deliver, orders now on their books which are not approved orders, by filing with the War Production Board, a list in triplicate, plainly marked Ref: L-123, of all such orders, together with the name of the purchaser or lessee, the date of the order, the number of pieces of equipment or machinery, the rating assigned, the preference rating certificate number, if any (or blanket preference rating order and serial number), a description of the machinery, the value of the machinery, the specified delivery date, the extent of completion of the order, and the expected use to which the machinery will be put. The Director General for Operations may thereupon authorize the production or delivery of any such orders, or the assignment of preference ratings thereto.

(c) Non-applicability to repair or maintenance. (1) The provisions of paragraph (b) shall not apply to any order for, or delivery of, maintenance or repair parts, (i) in an amount not exceeding $1,000 for any single piece of general industrial equipment to be repaired or maintained; or (ii) in any amount for the repair of general industrial equipment when there is an actual breakdown or suspension of operations of such piece of equipment because of damage, wear and tear, destruction or failure of parts, or the like, and the essential repair or maintenance parts are not otherwise available.

(2) [Revoked February 27, 1943]

(d) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(e) Applicability of other orders. Nothing in this order shall be construed to permit any person to sell, deliver, or otherwise transfer, or any manufacturer to purchase, receive delivery of, acquire, fabricate or process in any manner, any raw materials, semi-fabricated parts, or finished parts in contravention of terms of any regulation of the War Production Board, effective at the date of any of the transactions specified in this paragraph.

(f) Existing contracts. Fulfillment of contracts in violation of this order is prohibited regardless of whether such contracts are entered into before or after May 26, 1942. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for default under any contract or order which shall result directly or indirectly from his compliance with the terms of this order.

(g) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(h) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L–123.

(i) Records and reports. All manufacturers and distributors affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning production, deliveries, and orders for general industrial equipment. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as said Director shall from time to time request.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who wilfully furnishes false information to the Director General for Operations in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

LIST A

NOTE: List A, amended February 27, 1943.

1. Conveying machinery (and any important component part thereof) used for the mechanical handling of materials; except (i) farm elevators included within the provisions of Order L–26, as amended, (ii) machinery or parts used on board ship in the operation of any vessel, or used in the operation of aircraft, tanks, ordnance, or similar combat equipment, (iii) power and hand lift trucks, (iv) cranes, hoists and platform elevators, (v) construction mixers, pavers, graders, drag lines and power shovels, and similar construction machinery, (vi) cars and car dumpers, (vii) steel mill tables, (viii), sintering conveyors, (ix) metal pig conveyors, (x) underground mining machinery (other than slope conveyors); and (xi) conveying machinery covered by any order authorized by the Director General for Operations under Order L–193.

2. Mechanical power transmission equipment (and any important component part thereof) of the following kinds (except (i) equipment or parts used in the operation of any vessel, or in the operation of aircraft, tanks, ordnance or similar combat equipment or (ii) equipment covered by any order authorized by the Director General for Operations under Order L–193):

(a) Open and enclosed gearing for transmitting more than ¼ horse power; except marine propulsion gears, gears used as an integral part of a machine, gears built into a turbine, and gears used on household manually powered, automotive, or farm machinery;

(b) Mechanical drives and parts thereof for transmitting more than ¼ horse power; except belting, drives used as an integral part of a machine and drives used on household, manually powered, automotive, or farm machinery.

3. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

4. Turbo blowers, except turbo blowers covered by the provisions of Limitation Order L–163.

5. Industrial compressors and vacuum pumps, mechanically operated, all types except "Critical Compressors" as defined in General Limitation Order L–100, and units having a displacement of less than one cubic foot per minute.

6. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

7. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

8. Stationary steam engines, except marine engines and steam engine generator sets.

9. Air washers.

10. Heat exchangers, except (i) heat exchangers for domestic use, (ii) heat exchangers covered by the provisions of Limitation Order L–172 (ii) surface condensers, (iv) unit heaters, (v) unit ventilators, (vi) blast heating surfaces not enclosed in a pressure vessel, and (vii) convectors designed and used solely for comfort heating of building spaces or for processes requiring heat. "Surface Condenser" means any device consisting of a shell and bare tubes, including auxiliary air removal equipment when such auxiliary equipment is purchased with and used on said device, which condenses exhaust steam from a steam driven prime mover for the purpose of maintaining a minimum absolute exhaust pressure.

11. Industrial dust collectors.

12. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

13. Portable (platform type) elevators and steel platforms. "Portable (platform type) elevator" means any device mounted on wheels or casters with either power operated or hand operated lift, used primarily to elevate and lower material for the purpose of tiering or stacking; and "steel platform" means any steel platform or skid, with or without box tops or enclosures, standing on legs or legs and wheels, designed for use in handling material in conjunction with hand or power operated lift trucks, portable (platform type) elevators, lift jacks or other similar devices.

14. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

15. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

16. [Revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

17. Safety switches and knife switches, single and double throw, two, three and four pole, rated 60 amperes and higher, 600 volts and below.

18. Circuit breakers, thermal and magnetic trip, manually and electrically operated, rated 50 to 575 amperes, inclusive, 600 volts and below.

19. Lifting magnets, circular type, 18 inches in diameter and larger; and lifting magnet controllers.

20. Dynamometers, electric type; and rotary converters.

21. Electric motors, rated less than one horsepower; except motors used in the operation of passenger automobiles, truck, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles, as defined in Order L–158, or in the operation of stationary automotive type engines.

INTERPRETATION 1

General industrial equipment shall be considered to be delivered, within the meaning of this order, prior to May 26, 1942, when the machinery or equipment has been placed in the hands of a common or contract carrier for shipment to the purchaser prior to May 26 1942. (Issued June 13, 1942.)

INTERPRETATION 2

Paragraph (a) (2) defines "general industrial equipment" to mean new equipment of the kinds listed, from time to time, in List A to the order. Such equipment is deemed to be new when it has not been delivered to any person acquiring it for use. Paragraph (b) imposes restrictions on the acceptance of orders for, and commencement of production and deliveries of, general industrial equipment.

Paragraph (c) provides an exemption from the restrictions of paragraph (b) for any order or delivery of maintenance and repair parts in an amount not exceeding $1,000 for any single piece of general industrial equipment to be repaired or maintained; or in any amount for the repair of general industrial equipment when there is an actual breakdown or suspension of operations of such piece of equipment. The exemption provided in paragraph (c) is intended for such repair or maintenance parts to be used to repair or maintain any existing equipment, i. e., equipment which has been delivered for use to a user and requires repair or maintenance. The exemption is not intended to apply to spare parts for new equipment nor is it limited to the repair or maintenance of equipment delivered after the date of the order. (Issued December 14, 1942.)

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 1, as Amended Feb. 27, 1943]

§ 3175.1 CMP Regulation 1—(a) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this regulation is to define the rights and obligations under the Controlled Materials Plan of persons outside of the Claimant Agencies and the War Production Board. This regulation and other CMP regulations to be issued from time to time implement the "Controlled Materials Plan" which was published by the War Production Board, for informational purposes only, under date of November 2, 1942. In case of any inconsistency between such publication (or any other descriptive literature which may be published from time to time) and any CMP regulation, the provisions of the CMP regulation shall govern. Other CMP regulations contain, or will contain, provisions regarding such matters as inventory restrictions, preference ratings, warehouses, dealers, maintenance, repair and operating supplies, construction and facilities, and reports.

(b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of this regulation and for the purposes of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Controlled material" means steel—both carbon (including wrought iron) and alloy—copper (including copper base alloys) and aluminum, in each case only in the forms and shapes indicated in Schedule I attached.

(2) "Controlled Materials Division" means the Steel Division, the Copper Division or the Aluminum Division of the War Production Board.

(3) "Industry Division" means the Division, Bureau, or other unit of the War Production Board which is charged with supervision over the operations of a particular industry. The term also includes any other government agency which, by arrangement with the War Production Board, may perform similar functions with respect to a particular industry.

(4) "Claimant Agency" means the following government offices and such others as may be designated from time to time. (Identifying symbols are indicated in parentheses.)

War Department (W)—except Ordnance which is identified by the symbol (O).
Navy Department (N)
Maritime Commission (M).
Aircraft Resources Control Office (Agent for Army Air Forces and Bureau of Aeronautics of United States Navy) (C).
Office of Lend-Lease Administration (L).
Board of Economic Warfare (E).
Office of Civilian Supply (S).
Department of Agriculture (A).
Office of Defense Transportation (T).
Office of Rubber Director (R).
Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board (F).
Petroleum Administration for War (P).
National Housing Agency (H).
Office of War Utilities Director (U).

The symbol (D) will be used in lieu of Claimant Agency symbols to identify certain programs covering items destined for the Dominion of Canada.

(5) "Allotment" means (i), a determination by the Requirements Committee of the War Production Board of the amount of controlled materials which a Claimant Agency may receive during a specified period, or (ii) a further determination pursuant thereto by a Claimant Agency, Industry Division, prime consumer or secondary consumer, as to the portion of its allotment of controlled materials which may be received by one of its prime consumers or secondary consumers, as the case may be.

(6) "Prime consumer" means any person who receives an allotment of controlled material from a Claimant Agency or an Industry Division.

(7) "Secondary consumer means any person who receives an allotment of controlled material from a prime consumer or another secondary consumer.

(8) "Class A product" means any product which is not a Class B product (as defined in subparagraph (9) below), and which contains any steel, copper or aluminum, fabricated or assembled beyond the forms and shapes specified in Schedule I, other than such steel, copper or aluminum as may be contained in Class B products incorporated in it as parts or sub-assemblies.

(9) "Class B product" means any product listed in the "Official CMP Class B Product List" issued by the War Production Board, as the same may be modified from time to time, which contains any steel, copper or aluminum, fabricated or assembled beyond the forms and shapes specified in Schedule I, other than such as may be contained in other Class B products incorporated in it as parts or sub-assemblies.

(10) "Program" means a plan specifying the total amount of an item or class of items to be provided in a specified period of time.

(11) "Authorized program" means a program specifically authorized by the Requirements Committee or by a Claimant Agency or Industry Division within the limits of its allotment.

(12) "Production schedule" means a plan specifying the total amount of an item or class of items to be produced by an individual consumer in a specified period of time.

(13) "Authorized production schedule" means a production schedule specifically authorized within the limits of an authorized program by a Claimant Agency or by an Industry Division with respect to a prime consumer, or specifically authorized by a prime or secondary consumer with respect to a secondary consumer producing products for it as required to meet an authorized production schedule.

(14) "Delivery order" means any purchase order, contract, release or shipping instruction which constitutes a definite and complete instruction from a purchaser to a seller calling for delivery of any material or product. The term does not include any contract, purchase order, or other arrangement which, although specifying the total amount to be delivered, contemplates that further instructions are to be given.

(15) "Authorized controlled material order" means any delivery order for any controlled material as such (as distinct from a product containing controlled material) which is placed pursuant to an allotment as provided in paragraph (s) of this regulation or which is specifically designated to be such an order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(c) General allotment procedure—(1) Allotments by Requirements Committee to Claimant Agencies. The Requirements Committee of the War Production Board will distribute the available supply of controlled materials by making allotments to the Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions for each quarter, designating the amount of each form of controlled material available, during the quarter, to each Claimant Agency or Industry Division for allotment to its prime and secondary consumers.

(2) Allotments by Claimant Agencies to prime consumers producing Class A products. Each Claimant Agency will distribute the allotments received by it by making further allotments to the prime consumers who produce Class A products for it. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during the quarter, for use by it or allotment to the secondary consumers producing Class A products as parts or sub-assemblies for it. A prime consumer producing Class A products for several Claimant Agencies shall obtain separate allotments from each. A Claimant Agency, may, in particular cases, make allotments through an Industry Division.

(3) Allotments by Industry Divisions to producers of Class B products. Unless otherwise specifically directed, allotments to producers of Class B products will be made only by Industry Divisions, both in the case of Class B products which are end-products and in the case of Class B products which are incorporated in other products whether Class A or Class B. Allotments made by the Requirements Committee may be made available to the Industry Divisions for this purpose by the Claimant Agencies. Each Industry Division will make allotments to the prime consumers producing Class B products under its jurisdiction. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during the quarter, for use by it or allotment to secondary consumers producing Class A products for it. A manufacturer of several Class B products coming under the jurisdiction of different Industry Divisions shall obtain separate allotments from each. A consumer producing Class B products is always a prime consumer with respect to such production.

(4) Allotments by prime and secondary consumers. Each prime consumer receiving an allotment may use that portion of the allotment which he requires to obtain controlled materials as such for his authorized production schedule, and shall allot the remainder to his secondary consumers producing Class A products for him, to cover their requirements for controlled materials. Allotments by secondary consumers to secondary consumers supplying them may be made in the same fashion. A secondary consumer producing Class A products for several other consumers shall obtain separate allotments from each.

(5) Advance allotments. Advance allotments by Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions to prime consumers may be made within specified limits before receipt of allotments from the Requirements Committee in order to assure fulfillment of long term programs and schedules. Prime consumers receiving such advance allotments may, in turn, make allotments to their secondary consumers, and secondary consumers may make further allotments, in the same manner as in the case of ordinary allotments but no consumer shall make any allotment in advance of receiving his own allotment.

(6) Allotment numbers. (i) Allotments to prime consumers shall be identified by allotment numbers consisting of a Claimant Agency letter symbol and nine digits. The Claimant Agency symbol is indicated after the name of each Agency in paragraph (b) (4) of this regulation. The first four digits identify the authorized program of the Claimant Agency. The next three digits identify the authorized production schedule of the prime consumer. The last two digits indicate the quarter for which the allotment is valid, instead of indicating the month as originally provided prior to amendment of this regulation. The numerical identification of months, as previously prescribed, is retained; months are numbered consecutively beginning with January 1942 (not 1943). Each quarter will be identified by the first month in the quarter. Thus, 16 will denote the second quarter of 1943, 19 will denote the third quarter, etc. However, if an allotment is made under the monthly system prescribed prior to amendment of this regulation, and bears the number of the second or third month in a quarter, it will nevertheless represent the entire quarter. Thus, 16, 17 or 18 will denote the second quarter of 1943, and 19, 20, or 21 will denote the third quarter of 1943. Orders placed by consumers with controlled materials producers (as distinct from allotments to consumers) are to be identified by month number instead of quarterly number, as provided in paragraph (s) (3).

(ii) Allotments to secondary consumers shall be identified by an abbreviated allotment number consisting only of a major program identification and the quarterly identification number. The major program identification shall consist of the Claimant Agency letter symbol followed by the first digit only of the program number (omitting the last three digits of the program number and the entire schedule number). For example, in the case of an allotment to a prime consumer, designated W-2045-687-16, the allotment to a secondary consumer will be simply W-2-16 denoting an allotment for major program number 2 of the War Department for delivery of controlled materials in the second quarter of 1943.

(d) Bills of materials, applications for allotments and other information serving as basis for allotments. (1) The basis for an allotment to a consumer shall be his actual requirements for controlled materials in connection with the fulfillment of an authorized production schedule. The production schedule shall be authorized as provided in paragraph (n) of this regulation. Information as to requirements shall be in the form of a bill of materials, an application for allotment and/or other information as provided below in this paragraph (d).

(2) A bill of materials shows the amounts of controlled materials required by a consumer and his secondary consumers, irrespective of time of delivery and inventory, for production of one unit or a specified number of units of his product. Bills of materials shall be prepared in the manner specified in "General Instructions on Bills of Materials," on forms CMP-1, CMP-2 and CMP-3 or on such other forms as may be prescribed. No consumer shall be required to furnish a bill of materials on any form which is not officially prescribed (as indicated by a Bureau of Budget number), but in cases where another form is in use which gives the same information as the official form, the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer to whom a bill of materials is to be furnished may accept it on such other form.

(3) An application for allotment shows the aggregate amount of each form of controlled material required (after taking inventories into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2) by a consumer and his secondary consumers during each month of a quarter for his entire production of a specified product or class of products for the same customer, in the case of Class A products, or for all customers (unless otherwise directed) in the case of Class B products. Applications are to be made by manufacturers of Class A products on Form CMP-4A as issued by the appropriate Claimant Agency, and by manufacturers of Class B products on Form CMP-4B as issued by the War Production Board, or on such other forms as may be prescribed. Although allotments are to be made by quarters instead of months, applications for allotments shall show monthly requirements where required by the application forms, so that information as to over-all requirements may be compiled on a monthly basis by the Claimant Agencies and the Controlled Materials Divisions.

(4) A bill of materials or application for allotment shall not include controlled materials required for manufacture of Class B products which will be incorporated in the product with respect to which the bill of material or application is submitted, although information as to the number or value of such Class B products is to be given in bills of materials to the extent required by the instructions.

(5) Requirements for maintenance, repair or operating supplies shall not be included in bills of materials or applications for allotment. Requirements for such purposes are to be obtained separately as provided in CMP Regulation No. 5.

(6) Bills of materials and applications for allotments shall be filed with the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer by whom the allotment is to be made, as indicated in paragraph (c) of this regulation. Bills of materials shall be filed only when and as called for by such Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer. Manufacturers of Class A products shall file applications for allotments only when and as called for by the Claimant Agency or other consumer for whom they make their products. Manufacturers of Class B products who will require controlled materials from controlled materials producers during the second quarter of 1943 (or whose secondary consumers will require the same) must file applications for allotments on Form CMP-4B not later than February 9, 1943, or by such other date as may be designated or approved by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency). Those manufacturers of Class B products who will obtain their requirements of controlled materials for the second quarter of 1943 entirely from warehouses or retailers, and whose secondary consumers will do the same, need not file any applications for allotments. Procedures for obtaining controlled materials from warehouses or retailers, and limitations on the amount which may be obtained will be provided in CMP Regulation No. 4. Manufacturers of Class A products who sell them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies, or deliver them to distributors, shall obtain special allotments on Form CMP-4B as provided in paragraph (k-1) of this regulation.

(7) Each person making an allotment may require such other information in lieu of, or in addition to, a bill of materials or application for allotment as is required to enable him to make the allotment requested or to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him. If the consumer from whom such other information is requested is of the opinion that compliance with such request would be unreasonably burdensome he may appeal for relief as provided in paragraph (z) of this regulation.

(8) Any consumer making an allotment may waive the furnishing of a bill of materials or application for allotment, or both, if he has other information as to actual requirements of his secondary consumers (taking into account the inventory restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2) which is sufficiently accurate and detailed to enable him to make the allotment and to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him.

(e) Responsibility for statements of requirements, including those of secondary consumers; duty to correct overstatements. (1) The furnishing of any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information as to requirements by a consumer, shall constitute a representation by him to the person to whom it is furnished, to the appropriate Claimant Agency and to the War Production Board, that the statements contained therein are complete and accurate, to the best of his knowledge and belief, not only with respect to such consumer's own requirements but also with respect to those of his secondary consumers.

(2) Any person who ascertains that he has substantially overstated (whether by inadvertence or otherwise) his requirements, or those of his secondary consumers, for any form of controlled material, shall immediately report such error to the person to whom the statement of requirements was furnished. If he has already received an allotment based on such overstatement, he shall immediately cancel or reduce the same (or an equivalent amount of other allotments received for the same authorized production schedule) to the extent of such excess, and report such cancellation or reduction to the person from whom the allotment was received; or, if he is unable for any reason to make such cancellation, he shall immediately make a full report to the person from whom he received the allotment, and shall send a copy of such report to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division, if the allotment was received from another consumer.

(3) If any consumer receives any statement of requirements which he knows or has reason to believe to be substantially excessive (whether by inadvertence or otherwise), he shall withhold any allotment based thereon (either entirely or in an amount sufficient to correct the maximum excess) until satisfied that the statement is not excessive or that it has been appropriately modified. If unable to obtain sufficient information or an appropriate modification, he shall promptly report the matter to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to withhold allotments or to make such report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(4) If, after making any allotment, a consumer ascertains or has reason to believe that the allotment was substantially in excess of actual requirements, he shall either (i) correct the excess by cancelling or reducing the allotment or other allotments made by him to the same consumer, or (ii) report the matter promptly to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to make such correction or report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(5) An inadvertent overstatement of requirements shall be deemed substantially excessive for purposes of subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph (e) if, but only if, it exceeds actual requirements by either (i) one-third or more of actual requirements or (ii) the minimum mill quantity specified in Schedule IV attached, whichever is less.

(f) Forms in which controlled materials are allotted. Each allotment, whether made by a Claimant Agency, an Industry Division or a prime or a secondary consumer, shall specify the form of the controlled material allotted. Allotments of steel shall be in terms of (1) carbon steel (including wrought iron), and (2) alloy steel, without further breakdown. Allotments of copper and aluminum shall be broken down as indicated in Schedule I. A consumer may make allotments only in the same forms of controlled materials in which he has received his allotment.

(g) Allotments by consumers. (1) No consumer shall make any allotment in an amount which exceeds the related allotment received by him, after deducting all other allotments made by him and all orders for controlled materials placed by him pursuant to his related allotment.

(2) No consumer shall make any allotment in excess of the amount required, to the best of his knowledge and belief, to fulfill the related authorized production schedule of the secondary consumer to whom the allotment is made (including the schedules of any secondary consumers supplying the latter).

(3) No consumer shall make any allotment for the production of Class B products and no person shall accept any allotment from a consumer for the production of Class B products.

(4) No consumer who has received his allotment for an authorized production schedule shall place any delivery order (other than small orders placed pursuant to paragraph (l) of this regulation) for any Class A product required to fulfill said schedule, unless concurrently therewith or prior thereto, he makes an allotment to the person with whom the order is placed, in the amount required by such person to fill said order (taking such person's inventory into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2); Provided, however, That if he purchases a Class A product from a distributor under the conditions specified in paragraph (k-1) of this regulation, he need make no allotment but must charge his own allotment as provided in paragraph (v) of this regulation.

(h) Methods of allotment. (1) A consumer may make an allotment to his secondary consumer by either:

(i) Executing and returning one of the copies of the application (Form CMP-4A, or such other form as may be prescribed) furnished to the consumer by his secondary consumer or, in the event an application has been waived, by indicating on the prescribed application form the controlled materials allotted and executing and delivering such form to the secondary consumer;

(ii) Placing on or affixing to his delivery order for one or more Class A products the short form of allotment (Form CMP-5) set out in Schedule II attached hereto, subject to the accompanying instructions; or

(iii) Telegraphing the information required under subdivision (i) or (ii) above and confirming the same with the appropriate written form.

(2) Every consumer shall place on each allotment made by him the allotment number which is on the related allotment received by him, except that if the full allotment number described in subdivision (i) of paragraph (c) (6) of this regulation is on the allotment received by him, he need only place on related allotments made by him the abbreviated allotment number described in subdivision (ii) of paragraph (c) (6). If a consumer places a delivery order for which he has made an allotment by separate instrument, he shall place the appropriate number on said order.

(i) Method of cancelling or reducing allotments. A person who has made an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by notice in writing to the person to whom it was made. A person who has received an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by making an appropriate notation thereon and notifying the person from whom he received it. In either case, if an allotment received by a person is cancelled he must cancel all allotments which he has made, and all authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, on the basis of the allotment; and, if an allotment received by a person is reduced, he must cancel or reduce allotments which he has made, or authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, to the extent that the same exceed his allotment as reduced. If such cancellation or reduction is not practicable, he may make equivalent cancellations or reductions with respect to other allotments received by him for the same production schedule. If he deems such course of action impracticable, he shall immediately report to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division for instructions.

(j) Assignment of allotments. No consumer shall transfer or assign any allotment in any way unless:

(1) Delivery orders placed with him, in connection with which the allotment was made to him, have been transferred or assigned to another consumer;

(2) The authorized production schedules of the respective consumers have been duly adjusted; and

(3) The transfer or assignment is approved in writing by the person who made the allotment.

(k) Grouping of allotment and authorized production schedules by major programs. A consumer operating under several authorized production schedules may combine in a single allotment to a secondary consumer requirements for any number of different production schedules which are identified by the same major program number as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii), and he may authorize a single production schedule for the secondary consumer in connection with such allotment. If the secondary consumer has filed separate applications, and the consumer making the allotment acts on such applications separately, the secondary consumer may nevertheless treat such allotments and authorized productio schedules bearing the same major program number as a single allotment and a single authorized production schedule.

(k–1) Special provisions regarding Class A products sold to distributors or as maintenance, repair or operating supplies. (1) A distributor of Class A products who receives physical delivery thereof may, unless otherwise specifically ordered, buy and sell the same without making or receiving allotments. A manufacturer of Class A products selling them directly or indirectly to such distributors may obtain an allotment for such manufacture from the appropriate Industry Division pursuant to application on Form CMP–4B in the same manner as if they were Class B products. If physical delivery is made directly by the manufacturer to a distributor's customer, the latter (unless he is also a distributor) shall make an allotment directly to the manufacturer in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if the distributor had no part in the transaction.

(2) A manufacturer of Class A products who sells them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies (except items directly purchased and programmed by a Claimant Agency) shall, unless otherwise specifically ordered, obtain allotments for such manufacture in the same manner as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (k–1) for delivery to distributors. Applications pursuant to said subparagraph (1) and this subparagraph (2) may be combined in a single application on Form CMP–4B.

(3) A manufacturer who also sells purchased Class A products to round out his line, which do not represent more than 10% of his total sales, shall be deemed the manufacturer of such products and not a distributor for purposes of this paragraph (k–1).

(l) Placing of orders for Class A products requiring small quantities of controlled material, without making allotments. (1) A person requiring any Class A product in a quantity constituting a "small order," as defined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (l), and who is entitled to obtain such product by using an allotment number, may, in lieu of making an allotment, place on his order the applicable allotment number followed by the symbol SO; Provided, however, That no person shall subdivide his requirements for Class A products into small orders for the purpose of coming within this provision.

(2) As used in this paragraph (l), "small order" means a delivery order for a Class A product placed with the manufacturer thereof by a consumer, where the aggregate amounts of controlled material required to fill such order, together with all delivery orders for the same Class A product placed by the same consumer with the same manufacturer calling for delivery during the same month, do not exceed the following:

Carbon steel (including wrought iron)	1 ton
Alloy steel	400 lbs.
Copper and copper base alloys	100 lbs.
Aluminum	20 lbs.

(3) A manufacturer of Class A products who receives small orders may obtain his requirements of controlled materials to fill the same by placing authorized controlled material orders (as provided in paragraph (s) of this regulation and in CMP Regulation No. 4 regarding warehouses and distributors of controlled materials) in the same manner as if he had received an allotment therefor, except that, in lieu of an allotment number, he shall use the symbol SO. Use of such symbol shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties of section 35 (A) of the U. S. Criminal Code, that the controlled materials ordered are required for the production of Class A products which will be delivered on small orders, or to replace in inventory Class A products so delivered. If it is impracticable to keep exact accounts of the amounts of controlled material required for small orders, a reasonable estimate may be made.

(4) No manufacturer of Class A products receiving a small order for such products shall be required to furnish his customer with a bill of materials, application for allotment or equivalent information with respect thereto, other than a statement, if requested, that the controlled materials required come within the limits of a small order.

(m) Relationship between allotments and authorized production schedules. Every allotment made by a consumer must include or be accompanied by authorization of a production schedule with respect to the products to be supplied to him, and no consumer shall authorize a production schedule for a secondary consumer unless he concurrently allots the controlled materials required to fulfill the schedule; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to any delivery order bearing a symbol (such as a small order bearing the symbol SO) which may be placed without making an allotment as expressly permitted by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(n) Manner of authorizing production schedules. (1) A production schedule for each prime consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the appropriate Claimant Agency on Form CMP–4A, or such other form as may be prescribed. A Claimant Agency may, in particular cases, authorize a production schedule through an Industry Division.

(2) A production schedule for each secondary consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the consumer for whom such Class A product is to be produced, on the form on which the related allotment is made; provided, however, that the delivery date specified on a delivery order shall constitute an authorization of the minimum production schedule required to permit delivery on such date.

(3) A production schedule for each consumer producing a Class B product shall be authorized by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency) on Form CMP–4B, or such other form as may be prescribed.

(4) A consumer receiving allotments from several persons shall obtain separate authorized production schedules from each.

(5) Prior to authorizing a production schedule, a Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer may furnish a tentative production schedule to be used as a basis in submitting requirements, but such action shall not constitute authorization of a schedule.

(o) Compliance with authorized production schedules. (1) Each consumer receiving an authorized production schedule shall fulfill the same unless prevented by circumstances beyond his control, except that a manufacturer of Class B products need not produce more than required to fill orders bearing preference ratings.

(2) No consumer who has received an authorized production schedule shall exceed such schedule in any month, except that (i) a deficiency in meeting an authorized production schedule during any month may be made up in any subsequent month or months, (ii) production authorized for any month may be completed at any time after the 15th of the preceding month and, (iii) where a delivery order calls for deliveries, in successive months, of Class A products in quantities which are less than the minimum practicable production quantity, and compliance with monthly production schedules would result in substantial interruption of production and consequent interference with production to fill other delivery orders, the consumer may produce (and his customer may order) in the first month the minimum practicable quantity which may be made without such interference. A person shall be deemed to exceed an authorized production schedule if his completion of finished products exceeds the limits authorized, or if his rate of fabricating, assembling, or otherwise processing, or acquiring raw materials or parts, exceeds the practicable working minimum required to meet the authorized production schedule.

(3) In case a Claimant Agency authorizes a production schedule permitting production of a Class A product in a quantity different from the quantity called for in the related contract between the Claimant Agency and the prime consumer, the lesser of the two quantities shall govern, but the appropriate officer of the Claimant Agency should be promptly notified.

(p) Protection of production schedules for Class A products. (1) No person shall accept an allotment for the manufacture of a Class A product, regardless of the accompanying preference rating, if he does not expect to be able to fulfill the related authorized production schedule, subject to unexpected contingencies and to any period of grace which may be specified by the person who offers the allotment and the authorized schedule.

(2) No person who has accepted an allotment and an authorized production schedule for a Class A product shall thereafter accept any delivery order (except an order rated AAA) for any Class A, Class B or other product manufactured by him, regardless of the accompanying preference rating or allotment number or symbol, unless he expects that, subject to unexpected contingencies, he can fill the order without interfering with the fulfillment of such previously accepted authorized production schedule.

(3) A person making Class B products to fill unrated or low rated orders must accept higher rated orders to the extent, and subject to the exceptions, provided in Priorities Regulation No. 1, unless he is also making a Class A product on an authorized production schedule, with which such higher rated orders would interfere contrary to the provisions of subparagraph (2) above.

(4) If a person whose allotment or delivery order is rejected pursuant to this paragraph (p) is unable to find another supplier who is in a position to accept it, he should report the facts to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. The War Production Board (or the appropriate Claimant Agency if only orders bearing its symbol are involved, or if all Claimant Agencies concerned have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for the purpose) may make exceptions to the provisions of this paragraph (p) where necessary to assure the filling of orders bearing high preference ratings.

(5) The provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 with respect to the acceptance and filling of rated orders and the sequence of deliveries shall remain applicable except as otherwise specifically provided in this regulation, CMP Regulation No. 3, or any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(q) Reconciliation of conflicting schedules. In any case where, for any reason, a manufacturer of Class A or Class B products is unable to fulfill conflicting authorized production schedules which he has accepted from different persons, he shall immediately report to the appropriate Industry Division for directions, except that such report shall be made to a Claimant Agency if all conflicting schedules bear its symbol or if all Claimant Agencies whose schedules conflict have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for such purposes.

(r) Alternative procedure for simultaneous allotments. A prime or secondary consumer who has several secondary consumers in different degrees of remoteness and finds it impracticable to determine the exact allotments to be made to each of his immediate secondary consumers, for their needs and those of their secondary consumers, may, at his option, make simultaneous direct allotments to each secondary consumer, of all degrees of remoteness, by adopting the following procedure:

(1) The consumer who is to make the allotment (hereafter in this paragraph (r) called the originating consumer) shall maintain a complete list of all secondary consumers making Class A products for incorporation in his product. He shall keep this list current at all times by requiring each of his immediate secondary consumers to report promptly to him any change with respect to the source of each secondary consumer's Class A purchased products.

(2) Immediately upon receiving an allotment, the originating consumer shall notify each secondary consumer on the list (either directly or through intervening secondary consumers) of the authorized schedule for which the allotment has been made to him. Such notice shall not include an allotment number. It shall identify the product to be delivered by the secondary consumer to whom the notice is sent and state the quantity to be delivered and the time when delivery is required.

(3) Promptly upon receipt of such preliminary notice, each secondary consumer shall report to the originating consumer directly (not through intervening secondary consumers), the amount of each form of controlled material required by him each month in order to make the deliveries indicated. Each such secondary consumer shall include only his own requirements of controlled materials, not those of his secondary consumers. No form is prescribed for such statement.

(4) The originating consumer shall then determine the total requirements of all his secondary consumers under the schedule, checking the list to make certain that a preliminary statement of requirements has been received from each secondary consumer.

(5) If such summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers for each form of controlled material do not exceed the allotment made to him for the schedule he may then allot directly to each secondary consumer on the list the amount indicated in the preliminary statement of requirements. No form is prescribed for such allotment, and it may be made by telegram, but it must include the allotment number required by paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation and a statement substantially as follows: "This allotment is made in accordance with the alternative procedure for simultaneous allotments provided in paragraph (r) of CMP Regulation No. 1." Such allotment shall constitute authorization of a production schedule for the secondary consumer in the amount specified in the notice sent to him pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (r). If aggregate requirements do not exceed his allotment, the originating consumer shall be under no obligation to check the accuracy of the preliminary statements received from his secondary consumers before making allotments to them, but otherwise he and his secondary consumers shall remain subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this regulation regarding responsibility for statements of requirements.

(6) If the summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers exceed the allotment made to him with respect to any form of controlled material, the originating consumer shall not make any allotment or place any authorized controlled material order for the production schedule covered by his allotment until and unless:

(i) Requirements have been revised by himself or by one or more of his secondary consumers to the extent necessary to eliminate such excess, or

(ii) With the express permission of the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division after he has reported the facts to it, he withholds an amount sufficient to cover all adjustments which must be made in the requirements of his secondary consumers in order to bring them within his allotment.

(s) Placement of orders with controlled materials producers. (1) A delivery order placed with a controlled materials producer for controlled material shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order if, but only if, it complies with the provisions of this paragraph (s) or is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(2) A consumer who has received an allotment may place an authorized controlled material order with any controlled materials producer, unless otherwise specifically directed. An allotment to a prime consumer may include a direction to place delivery orders for controlled materials with one or more designated controlled materials producers. In such event the consumer shall use the allotment only to obtain controlled materials from the designated controlled materials producer or producers or to make allotments to secondary consumers, designating therein only producers named in the allotment received by him. Except as required by the allotment which he has received, no consumer shall impose any such restriction in any allotment made by him.

(3) Every authorized controlled material order must be identified by an endorsement including an allotment number or symbol. Unless another form of endorsement is specifically prescribed by an applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board, such endorsement shall be in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties of Section 35 (A) of the U. S Criminal Code, that he has received an allotment or allotments of controlled materials (or delivery orders not requiring allotments) authorizing him, pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 1, to place an authorized controlled material order in the amount herein indicated for delivery in the month specified, and that he is authorized to use the allotment number -------

The allotment number included in such endorsement shall be the abbreviated allotment number prescribed by paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation, including, as the last two digits, the number of the month in which delivery is requested as distinct from the number identifying the quarter for which the allotment received is valid. For example, if a consumer receives an allotment bearing the number W-2-16 and places an authorized controlled material order calling for delivery in May 1943, the order shall bear the number W-2-17. The endorsement on an authorized controlled material order placed pursuant to paragraph (l) (3) of this regulation, pertaining to small orders, shall include the symbol SO followed by the number of the month in which delivery is requested, and need not include any of the allotment numbers appearing on the small orders received by the person placing the authorized controlled material order. Orders for controlled materials required for maintenance, repair and operating supplies shall, in lieu of the above endorsement, bear the endorsement prescribed by CMP Regulation No. 5, which includes the symbol MRO without additional digits specifying the month of delivery.

(4) A delivery order for controlled material must be in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules and must be received by the controlled materials producer at such time in advance as is specified in Schedule III attached, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same, provided that no controlled materials producer shall discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting late orders.

(5) Controlled materials required for fulfillment of a production schedule which has not yet been authorized may be ordered for delivery before July 1, 1943, under applicable priorities regulations and orders (as the same may be modified from time to time), without placing an authorized controlled material order. Authorized controlled material orders shall, however, take precedence over other orders to the extent provided in CMP Regulation No. 3 regarding preference ratings.

(6) A delivery order placed by a consumer before he has received his allotment and authorized production schedule may be converted into an authorized controlled material order either by furnishing a copy of the order conforming to the requirements of this paragraph (s) or by furnishing in writing the requisite information clearly identifying the order and bearing the certification required by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (s).

(s-1) General restriction on placement of authorized controlled material orders. In order to prevent congestion of orders calling for delivery of controlled materials in the early portions of each quarter, no consumer shall (unless previously authorized in writing by the appropriate Controlled Materials Division) place authorized controlled material orders (with controlled materials producers or other suppliers) requesting delivery of the same controlled material either (i) in the first month of any quarter in an amount exceeding one-third of the aggregate amount of such controlled material for which he has received allotments for the quarter as of the time of placing his order, or (ii) in the first two months of any quarter in an amount exceeding two-thirds of such aggregate; Provided, That, in the case of aluminum, during the second quarter of 1943, the limitations shall be 30% for the first month and 63% for the first two months. No consumer shall, however, be required by the provisions of this paragraph (s-1) to reduce a delivery order below the minimum mill quantity specified in Schedule IV attached. In no event shall a consumer request delivery in a greater amount or on an earlier date than required to fill his authorized production schedule, or in an amount so large or on a date so early that receipt of such amount on the requested date would result in his having an inventory of controlled materials in excess of the limitations prescribed by CMP Regulation No. 2 or by any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(t) Controlled materials producers.—(1) Each controlled materials producer shall comply with such production directives as may be issued from time to time by the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(2) A controlled materials producer shall accept authorized controlled material orders in the order in which received by him except:

(i) He may reject orders for less than the minimum mill quantities specified in Schedule IV attached, but shall not discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting such orders.

(ii) In any case where he is of the opinion that the filling of the order would substantially reduce his over-all production owing to the large or small size of the order, unusual specifications, or otherwise, he shall apply to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division which may direct that the order be placed with another supplier or take other appropriate action.

(iii) He shall refuse any order for shipment of any product in any month if such order, together with all his authorized controlled material orders already on hand for delivery during that month and any orders carried over from the preceding month, plus such amounts as he may be directed by the Controlled Materials Division to deliver or set aside for delivery to warehouses or nonintegrated mills or otherwise, total 110% of the production of such product specified in his production directive, or, if no production directive is currently in effect with respect to such product, total 105% of his expected production. As soon as such limits of 110% and 105% respectively have been reached, each controlled materials producer shall promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division in writing.

(iv) He shall reject orders to the extent required by specific direction of the Controlled Materials Division.

(3) No controlled materials producer shall, after March 31, 1943, make any delivery of controlled material except:

(i) A delivery made to fill an authorized controlled material order;

(ii) A delivery which is completed before July 1, 1943, and which is made in compliance with applicable priorities regulations and orders;

(iii) A delivery made pursuant to a specific direction of the Director of the Controlled Materials Division.

A controlled materials producer's use of controlled material produced by him (except use in processing which does not convert the same into any form or shape other than one specified with respect to such controlled material on Schedule I) shall be deemed a delivery for the purposes of this paragraph (t).

(4) A controlled materials producer shall make delivery on each authorized controlled material order as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable in view of the need for maximum production and compliance with production schedules. If it is not practicable to make delivery during the month requested, delivery may be made:

(i) After the 15th of the preceding month, provided such delivery does not interfere with delivery on authorized controlled material orders designating shipment in such preceding month or earlier months, and provided production to meet such delivery would not violate any production directive in effect; or

(ii) As early as practicable in the month following the month requested: Provided that, In such case, the controlled materials producer shall promptly notify the customer of such delay. If such delay will interfere with the customer's authorized production schedule, the customer should immediately apply to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division for relief.

(5) If, after accepting an authorized controlled material order, the producer cannot make delivery before the end of the month following the month in which delivery is requested, he shall promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division in writing stating the allotment number, the name of the customer and the material covered by the order, but he shall not thereafter fill the order unless specifically directed to do so.

(6) All directions to controlled materials producers affecting production and distribution of controlled materials shall be issued by and through the Controlled Materials Divisions.

(7) If the controlled material delivered pursuant to an authorized controlled material order varies from the exact amount specified in the authorized controlled material order, the making and acceptance of such delivery shall not be deemed a violation of this regulation or any other CMP Regulation by the controlled materials producer or his customer, provided such variation does not exceed the commercially recognized shipping tolerance, or allowance for excess or shortage.

(8) An authorized controlled material order shall not constitute an allotment of controlled material to the controlled materials producer with whom it is placed. If such producer requires delivery after March 31, 1943 of controlled materials from other controlled materials producers, to be processed by him and sold to his customers in another form or shape constituting a controlled material, such delivery may be made or accepted only pursuant to a specific direction as provided in subparagraph (3) (iii) of this paragraph (t).

(u) Restrictions on use of allotments or materials or products obtained by allotments. (1) No consumer shall use an allotment, or any controlled material or Class A product obtained pursuant to an allotment for any purpose except:

(i) To fulfill the authorized production schedule for which the allotment was received or to fulfill any other authorized production schedule of the same consumer, within the same plant or operating unit, which schedule is identified by the same Claimant Agency letter symbol.

(ii) For any purpose specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations, or by the appropriate Claimant Agency where only such Agency's schedules are affected or where a single Claimant Agency has been stipulated for the purpose by all Claimant Agencies whose schedules are affected; or

(iii) To restore to a practicable working minimum his inventory of such material or product if the same has been depleted in fulfilling such production schedule or such purpose, subject, however, to the inventory limitations of CMP Regulation No. 2; or

(iv) As permitted or required by Priorities Regulation No. 13, pertaining to special sales, or any other applicable regulation of the War Production Board.

(2) The provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (u) shall not require physical segregation of inventories provided the restrictions applicable to any specific lot of material or product are observed with respect to an equivalent amount of the same material or product. A consumer who is operating under several authorized production schedules need not maintain separate records of the production obtained from the allotment for each schedule provided that his records show that his use of material for his respective schedules is substantially proportionate to the amounts of material allotted for each, and that his aggregate production of any product does not exceed his aggregate authorized production schedules for that product.

(v) Adjustments on account of controlled materials or Class A products obtained without use of allotments. Each consumer shall promptly reduce, in the manner provided in paragraph (i) of this regulation, any allotment received by him, to the extent that, either before or after receiving the allotment, he fills a substantial portion of any of his requirements covered by the allotment through the acquisition of controlled materials or Class A products in any other manner than by use of the allotment, including without limitation:

(1) Transactions covered by preference ratings (including preference ratings assigned on PRP Certificates or otherwise);

(2) Transactions not affected by preference ratings;

(3) Purchases from warehouses or retailers pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 4 or otherwise;

(4) Purchases pursuant to Priorities Regulation No. 13 or otherwise, from persons not regularly engaged in the business of selling the material or product;

(5) Purchases on small orders pursuant to paragraph (l) of this regulation;

(6) Purchases of second-hand materials or products.

For purposes of this paragraph (v), a "substantial portion" of requirements covered by an allotment shall mean an amount of controlled materials which is either in excess of 25% of the material allotted or is greater than the minimum mill quantity of such material specified in Schedule IV attached.

(w) Adjustments for changes in requirements. If a consumer's requirements for controlled materials or Class A products are increased after he receives his allotment, he should apply for an additional allotment from the person who made the same. If his requirements decrease, for any reason, he shall promptly cancel or reduce his allotment in the manner provided in paragraph (i) of this regulation.

(x) Other War Production Board regulations and orders. Nothing in this regulation (or any other CMP regulation) shall be construed to relieve any person from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or any order of the War Production Board (including orders in the "E," "L," "M" and "P" series). In case compliance by any person with the provisions of any such regulation or order would prevent fulfillment of an authorized production schedule, he should immediately report the matter to the appropriate Industry Division, and to the Claimant Agency whose schedule is affected. The Director General for Operations will thereupon take such action as is deemed appropriate, but unless and until otherwise expressly authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations, such person shall comply with the provisions of such regulation or order.

(y) Records and reports. (1) Each consumer making or receiving any allotment of controlled materials shall maintain at his regular place of business accurate records of all allotments received, of procurement pursuant to all allotments, and of the subdivision of all allotments among his direct secondary consumers. Such records shall be kept separately by abbreviated allotment numbers, as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation, and shall include separate entries under each number for each customer, Claimant Agency or Industry Division from whom allotments are received under such number.

(2) Each controlled materials producer shall report to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division, on the forms and for the periods prescribed, such information on production, consumption and distribution of controlled materials as may be prescribed by the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(3) Each prime or secondary consumer and each controlled materials producer shall retain for two years at his regular place of business all documents on which he relies as entitling him to make or receive an allotment or to deliver or accept delivery of controlled materials or Class A products, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or Claimant Agencies, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

(z) Appeals and applications for relief. (1) Any person who is subject to any requirement of any regulation, direction, order or other action under the Controlled Materials Plan, may appeal for relief by filing a letter in triplicate with the appropriate authority specified below in this paragraph (z), setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph (z) or as otherwise specifically directed, an appeal by a producer of Class A products should be filed with the appropriate Claimant Agency, and an appeal by a producer of Class B products should be filed with the appropriate Industry Division, unless the matter affects only production schedules of a single Claimant Agency or where a single Claimant Agency has been stipulated for the purpose by all Claimant Agencies whose schedules are affected, in which case the appeal should be filed with such Claimant Agency.

(3) An appeal concerning the operations of a controlled materials producer (whether filed by such producer, by a consumer, or by a Claimant Agency) shall be filed with the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(4) A producer of Class B products may apply for permission to be treated as a producer of Class A products. A producer of Class A products making a large variety of items which are sold to many customers and whose allotments originate from several Claimant Agencies, may make application to be treated as a producer of Class B products, but such permission will not be granted with reference to component parts or sub-assemblies, unless the necessary adjustments in bills of materials which include such component parts or sub-assemblies can be made without difficulty. Application for reclassification should be filed with the CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., and may be filed either directly by the producer or by a Claimant Agency on his behalf.

(5) In case of any disagreement between any persons as to the interpretation of any provisions of this regulation or any other regulation, direction, or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, the matter should be referred to the Inquiry and Service Branch, CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

(aa) Penalties. Any person who willfully purports to make any allotment of controlled materials or to place authorized controlled material orders in excess of the amount allotted to him, or violates any other provision of this regulation, or any other regulation, direction or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, or who knowingly or willfully makes any false or fraudulent statement or representation with respect to requirements for controlled materials or in any other matter under the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States under the Controlled Materials Plan, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine up to $10,000 or by imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries or allotments of controlled material or from making or obtaining any further deliveries of or from processing or using, any material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE I

STEEL

Carbon Steel

Forms and shapes.
Bars, cold finished.
Bars, hot rolled.
Ingots, billets, blooms, slabs, tube rounds, skelp and sheet and tin bar.
Pipe.
Plates
Rails and track accessories
Sheets and strip.
Steel castings
Structural shapes and piling.
Tin plate, terne plate, and tin mill black plate.
Tubing
Wheels, tires and axles.
Wire rods, wire and wire products.

Alloy Steel

Forms and shapes
Bars, cold finished.
Bars, hot rolled.
Ingots, billets, blooms, slabs, tube rounds, sheet bar.
Pipe.
Forms and shapes—Continued.
Plates and structural shapes.
Sheets and strip.
Steel castings.
Tubing.
Wheels, tires and axles.
Wire rods wire, and wire products.

NOTE: Steel in any of the above forms and shapes constitute controlled materials, but allotments of steel are made in terms of (1) carbon steel (including wrought iron) and (2) alloy steel, without further breakdown.

COPPER

Brass Mill Copper Base Alloy Products

Forms and shapes.
Ammunition cups, discs and slugs.
Sheet and strip (other than cups and discs)
Rods, bars, and wire (including extrude. shapes not including slugs).
Tubing and pipe.

Brass Mill Copper Products

Forms and shapes.
Plate, sheets and strip.
Rods, bars and extruded shapes (excluding wire bars and ingot bars).
Tube and pipe.

Wire Mill Copper Products

Forms and shapes.
Wire and cable (including copper content of insulated wire and cable)

Foundry Copper and Copper Base Alloy Products

Forms and shapes.
Castings.

NOTE. Allotments of copper are made in the forms and shapes specified above.

ALUMINUM

Forms and shapes.
Rod, bar, wire and cable.
Rivets.
Forgings, pressings and impact extrusions.
Castings.
Shapes, rolled or extruded.
Sheet, strip, plate and foil.
Tubing.
Ingot and powder

NOTE: Allotments of aluminum are made in the forms and shapes specified above.

SCHEDULE II—SHORT FORM OF ALLOTMENT

Allotment number	Controlled Material Products allotted

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF SHORT FORM OF ALLOTMENT—Form CMP-5

The above short form of allotment may be used by any consumer for the purpose of making an allotment to a secondary consumer producing Class A products for him.

The short form of allotment must be either placed on or physically attached to the delivery order calling for delivery of the Class A products. If it is attached the delivery order number or other identification must be indicated on the form.

The form must be followed by the signature of an authorized official of the consumer making the allotment, but need not be separately signed if it is placed on the delivery order in such a position that the signature of the delivery order by such an authorized official clearly applies to the allotment as well as to the order itself.

The size of the form may be varied, but all information called for by the form must be supplied and the general arrangement and wording of the form must be followed.

Under the heading "Controlled Material Products Allotted" the person making the allotment must designate the forms which are allotted. These must be shown in the breakdown prescribed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1, and must be within the allotments received by such consumer for the same forms. Additional columns may be added depending on the number of forms of controlled material allotted. A sample form follows:

Allotment number	Controlled Material Products allotted
	Carbon steel	Copper base alloy tubing and pipe	Copper plate sheets and strip	Aluminum castings
N-1-16	Tons 100	Lbs 10,000	Lbs 8,000	Lbs 100

Above allotments are made for use in filling this delivery order in compliance with CMP Regulation No. 1.

SCHEDULE III.—Time for Placing Authorized Controlled Material Orders

[NOTE: The item "Copper" was amended Feb. 27, 1943]

NOTE: Delivery orders may be placed in advance of receiving allotments, and converted into authorized controlled material orders on receipt of allotments, as provided in paragraph (8) (6) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

STEEL

Product	Number of days in advance of first day of month in which shipment is required
Alloy steel (including stainless steel):

Where no time is specified in Schedule III for placing orders for a particular form or shape of controlled material, the time for placing such orders shall be subject to agreement between the consumer and the controlled materials producer, provided that no producer shall discriminate between consumers in the acceptance of orders. In the event of any disagreement, the matter should be referred to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

SCHEDULE IV.—Minimum Mill Quantities

STEEL

Product	Size and grade for shipment at one time, to one destination
Alloy steel (other than stainless):
Standard grades and sections:
Rounds, squares 3" and under	5 net tons.
Hexagon and flats—all sizes	5 net tons.
Stainless steel:
Standard grades and sections	Product of one ingot.
Tool steel	500 pounds.
Cold finished bars	3 net tons.
Hot rolled carbon bars and semi-finished:
Round bars up to 3" incl., and squares, hexagons, half rounds, ovals, half ovals, etc., of approximate equivalent sectional area	5 net tons.
Round bars over 3" to 8" (including squares within this range)	15 net tons.
Flat bars, all sizes	5 net tons.
Hot rolled carbon bars and semifinished—Continued.
Bar size shapes (angles, tees, channels and zees under 3")	5 net tons.
Forging billets, blooms and slabs	Product of one ingot.
Rerolling billets, slabs, sheet bars, skelp	25 gross tons.
Plates and shapes:
Plates:
Continuous strip mill production	10 net tons
Sheared mill, universal mill or bar mill production	3 net tons
Structural shapes	5 net tons.
Pipes	(1)
Sheet and strip:
Sheets—hot and cold rolled	5 net tons.
Strip—hot and cold rolled	3 net tons.
Tin mill products (one gauge)	5,000 pounds.
Tubing:
Carbon and alloy steel—cold drawn:
O. D. (inches):
Up to ¾" inclusive	1,000 feet.
Over ¾" to 1½" inclusive	800 feet.
Over 1½" to 3" inclusive	600 feet.
Over 3" to 6" inclusive	400 feet.
Over 6"	250 feet.
Wire and wire products:
Hot rolled wire rods	5 net tons.
Merchant trade products (Assorted Merchant Products)	5 net tons
Manufacturing wires (wires for further fabrication):
Low carbon	1 net ton.
High carbon (0.40 carbon and higher) .0475" and heavier	1 net ton.
Under .0475" to .021"	1,000 pounds.
Under .021"	500 pounds.
Wire rope and strand	1,000 ft.
Welded wire reinforcing fabric	lengths. (1)
Rails and track accessories:
Guard rail clamps, clip bolts, nut locks, S-irons, rail braces	3 net tons.
Track spikes, track bolts, screw spikes, rail clips, gage rods	5 net tons.
Rail anchors	15 net tons.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 3, as Amended Feb. 27, 1943]

PREFERENCE RATINGS UNDER THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

§ 3175.3 CMP Regulation 3—(a) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this regulation is to define the operation of preference ratings under the Controlled Materials Plan.

(b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purposes of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Production material" means, with respect to any person, material or products (including fabricated parts and sub-assemblies) which will be physically incorporated into his product, and includes the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap in the course of processing. It also includes items purchased by a manufacturer for resale to round out his line, if such items do not represent more than 10% of his total sales. It does not include any items purchased by him as manufacturing equipment or for maintenance, repair or operating supplies as defined in CMP Regulation 5.

(2) "Allotment number or symbol" means:

(i) An allotment number or symbol placed on a delivery order as provided in paragraphs (f) and (g) of this regulation, or as provided in CMP Regulation 1 or CMP Regulation 5; or

(ii) A number or symbol placed on a delivery order pursuant to any other regulation or order of the War Production Board if, but only if, it is expressly stated that such number or symbol shall constitute an "allotment number or symbol" for purposes of this regulation.

(c) Superiority of ratings with allotment numbers or symbols over other ratings of equal grade. A delivery order bearing a preference rating with an allotment number or symbol shall (unless otherwise ordered by the Director General for Operations) be deemed superior in rating, for purposes of Prioritles Regulation 1, to any delivery order bearing a rating of the same grade without an allotment number or symbol, but shall not be superior to another order bearing a rating of a higher grade. For example, a rating of AA-2X with an allotment number or symbol is superior to another rating of AA-2X without an allotment number or symbol, but is inferior to any rating of AA-1 with or without an allotment number or symbol.

(d) Preference ratings with allotment numbers for production schedules—(1) Prime consumers. In each case when an allotment is made to a prime consumer making Class A or Class B products, and his production schedule is authorized by a Claimant Agency or an Industry Division, a preference rating will be assigned to such schedule for use with the allotment number applicable to the schedule.

(2) Secondary consumers. In each case when an allotment is made to a secondary consumer making Class A products and his production schedule is authorized by the consumer making the allotment, the consumer making the allotment shall apply or extend to such production schedule the same rating as he has received for his own related production schedule for use with the appropriate allotment number, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (h) of this regulation.

(3) Use of ratings received for authorized production schedules. A prime or secondary consumer who has received a preference rating for an authorized production schedule as provided in this paragraph (d) may use said rating, with the appropriate allotment number, only to acquire production materials in the minimum practicable amounts required to fulfill such schedules, or to replace production materials in his inventory, subject to the restrictions of paragraph (c) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3. He may not use such rating for any other purpose.

(e) No extension of customers' ratings by prime consumers making Class B products. A prime consumer who manufactures Class B products and has received an authorized production schedule for such manufacture, accompanied by a preference rating to be used with his allotment number, shall not extend any other rating received by him from a customer, except that if a delivery to be made by him is rated AAA, he may extend said rating to the extent necessary to obtain production material required to fill his AAA order, but may not extend the same for purposes of replenishing his inventory.

(f) Use of allotment numbers and symbols on delivery orders. (1) Each prime or secondary consumer shall place on each rated delivery order for production materials, required to fulfill his authorized production schedule of Class A or Class B products, his allotment number with the certification provided in paragraph (g) of this regulation.

(2) A person placing a rated order for maintenance, repair or operating supplies under CMP Regulation 5 shall place thereon the allotment symbol MRO with the certification required by said regulation.

(3) A person placing a rated small order for Class A products pursuant to paragraph (l) of CMP Regulation 1 shall place thereon his allotment number and the symbol SO as required by said regulation, with the certification provided in paragraph (g) of this regulation.

(4) A dealer, distributor, jobber or other person who receives a rated order bearing an allotment number or symbol for any material (other than a controlled material) or product, which is not manufactured by him (or which is manufactured by him, but for the manufacture of which he has received no authorized production schedule), may extend the rating to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3, with the same allotment number or symbol, using the form of certification prescribed in paragraph (g) of this regulation. If he places a single rated order to which he extends ratings bearing different allotment numbers or symbols, he shall include a statement indicating all the allotment numbers or symbols extended and the amount of the delivery order (in quantity or dollar value) represented by each. He may, if he prefers, extend the rating without any allotment number or symbol.

(5) No person shall place any allotment number or symbol on any delivery order except as provided in the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (f) or as specifically provided in any other regulation or order of the War Production Board.

[NOTE: Subparagraph (5) formerly designated (4); the second sentence revoked Feb. 27, 1943]

(g) Form of certification. Any person when placing an allotment number or symbol on a rated delivery order pursuant to this regulation or CMP Regulation No. 1 shall accompany or endorse the same with a certification in substantially the following form (in lieu of the certification provided in Priorities Regulation No. 3) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Preference rating ------- Allotment number or symbol ------- The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that he is authorized under CMP Regulation No. 3 to apply or extend the above preference rating and allotment number or symbol to the delivery of the items covered by the attached delivery order.

An allotment number shall consist of the appropriate Claimant Agency letter symbol followed by the major program number (consisting of one digit only as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of CMP Regulation No. 1). If the order is placed in connection with an allotment of controlled materials by the purchaser to the seller, the two digits denoting the quarter for which the allotment is valid shall be added as provided in said regulation.

(h) Use of existing ratings. (1) A person who has not yet received his allotment and CMP rating for a particular production schedule may apply and extend other preference ratings for such production to the extent permitted by existing Priorities Regulations and Orders (including, in the case of PRP Units, Priorities Regulation 11A regarding transition from PRP to CMP).

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation No. 12, regarding compulsory extension of downward reratings, any prime or secondary consumer who receives a rating with an authorized production schedule may, in lieu of using said rating, continue to apply or extend any ratings previously received which he is authorized to use, under existing priorities regulations or orders, for deliveries to be made to him during the second quarter of 1943; and, in authorizing production schedules for his secondary consumers to whom he has already applied or extended a rating previously received by him, he may extend the appropriate allotment number for use with such previously received rating instead of with the rating which he has received under the Controlled Materials Plan.

(i) Construction and facilities. Preference ratings assigned for construction or facilities may be applied or extended in the manner and subject to the restrictions provided in CMP Regulation No. 6.

(j) Effect of preference ratings on deliveries of controlled materials. (1) Authorized controlled material orders placed with controlled materials producers shall be accepted and filled by such producers as provided in CMP Regulation No. 1 without regard to any preference ratings applicable to such delivery orders and in preference to all other delivery orders, except as may be otherwise specifically directed. To the extent that controlled materials producers are able to fill orders other than authorized controlled material orders, they shall fill such orders until July 1, 1943, in accordance with preference ratings as provided in Priorities Regulation 1 and subject to any other applicable regulations or orders of the War Production Board.

(2) Authorized controlled material orders placed pursuant to applicable CMP Regulations, with persons who are not controlled materials producers, shall be filled by them without regard to any preference ratings applicable to such delivery orders and in preference to all other delivery orders, except as otherwise specifically provided in applicable regulations or orders of the War Production Board, and except that an authorized controlled material order placed with any such person which is rated AAA shall take precedence over other authorized controlled material orders.

(k) Effect of ratings on conflicting production and delivery schedules for Class A and Class B products. Manufacturers of Class A and Class B products must comply with the requirements of paragraph (p) of CMP Regulation 1 with respect to the rejection of orders in excess of capacity, and, in the event they are unable to fulfill all orders which they have accepted, they must report for instructions as provided in paragraph (q) of CMP Regulation 1 but until and unless otherwise instructed, they shall fill orders in accordance with preference ratings as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 1 and paragraph (c) of this regulation.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 4, as Amended Feb. 27, 1943]

SALES OF CONTROLLED MATERIALS BY WAREHOUSES AND DISTRIBUTORS

§ 3175.4 CMP Regulation 4—(a) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this regulation is to specify the procedure to be followed by warehouses and distributors in marketing controlled materials under the Controlled Materials Plan after March 31, 1943 (or February 15, in the case of copper). This regulation does not provide the means by which such persons obtain controlled materials, which will be governed by other regulations or orders.

Steel

(b) Definitions with respect to steel. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Steel" means steel—both carbon (including wrought iron) and alloy—in any of the forms and shapes constituting a controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person (including a warehouse, jobber, dealer or retailer) who is engaged in the business of receiving steel for sale or resale and who does not process the material so sold otherwise than by performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, torch cutting or burning to shape, sorting and grading, or pipe threading; but a person who, in connection with any sale, forms, bends, punches or performs any fabricating operation designed to prepare steel for final use or assembly shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such sale.

(c) Deliveries of steel by distributors on authorized controlled material orders. (1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) of this regulation, no distributor shall deliver any steel from stock after March 31, 1943, except to fill authorized controlled material orders.

(2) Each distributor shall, to the extent of his available stocks, fill authorized controlled material orders, after March 31, 1943, subject to the following:

(i) A distributor shall reject any authorized controlled material order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person, at any one destination, of 40,000 pounds, or more, of steel unless such order includes 10 or more individual items—each item to be of a different specified quality, length or cross-section, and no item of which shall weigh more than 8,000 pounds—or unless all items covered by the order consist of oil country tubing, oil country casing, or oil country drill pipe;

(ii) A distributor who is of the opinion that the filling of any authorized controlled material order calling for delivery of steel would deplete his stocks to a point where his function in the distribution of controlled materials would be seriously impaired, may apply to the War Production Board for authority to reject such order and may delay filling the same until such application is acted upon. The War Production Board may authorize rejection of the order or direct that it be filled, in whole or in part, or take other appropriate action.

(d) Deliveries of steel by distributors on other orders. After March 31, 1943, a distributor may fill delivery orders for steel other than authorized controlled material orders, as follows:

(1) Orders in amounts of $10 or less;

(2) Orders bearing preference ratings of AA-5 or higher on which delivery is made prior to July 1, 1943, subject, however, to the same quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (c) (2) (i) of this regulation with respect to deliveries on authorized controlled material orders;

(3) Orders calling for delivery of carbon steel which are authorized under Food Production Order 3 of the Secretary of Agriculture;

(4) Orders calling for delivery of not more than the following amounts of each product classification and type indicated below, to the same customer, at the same destination, during any calendar quarter:

[Quantities in pounds per quarter]

	Carbon (including wrought iron)	Alloy (other than stainless)	Stainless
Structural shapes and piling	8,000	------	------
Plates	8,000	2,000	300
Hot rolled bars, including concrete reinforcing bars	6,000	2,000	300
Cold finish bars	4,000	2,000	300
Tool steel, including drill rod	300	300	------
High carbon spring steel	300	------	------
Tool steel bits	6	------	------
Mechanical tubing	[1] 1,000	------	300
Pressure tubing	[1] 2,000	------	------
Sheets and strip, hot rolled	6,000	------	------
Sheets and strip, cold reduced	6,000	------	300
Sheets and strip, galvanized	6,000	------	------
Sheets and strip, all other, including black plate	6,000	------	------
Pipe	4,000	------	------
Wire and wire products	4,000	------	100
Tin and terneplate	2,000	------	------

[1] Feet.

Provided, however, That each order placed under this subparagraph (4) shall be accompanied by or endorsed with a certificate, signed manually, or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to the distributor with whom this order is placed and to the War Production Board, subject to the criminal penalties provided in section 35 (A) of the United States Crimina Code, that receipt of the steel covered by this order, together with all other steel received by, or on order for delivery to, the undersigned, from all sources, during the same quarter, will not exceed the limits specified in paragraph (d) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 4

A distributor shall be entitled to rely on such certificate unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(5) No person who obtains any steel pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (d) shall obtain steel from any sources in the same calendar quarter in amounts aggregating more than the amounts therein specified.

Copper

(e) Definitions with respect to copper. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy.

(2) "Wire mill product" means bare or insulated wire or cable for electrical conduction made from copper or copper base alloy.

(3) "Warehouse" means any industrial supplier, mill supplier, plumbing supply house, or other person engaged in the business of distributing brass mill products or wire mill products to industry or trade otherwise than as a controlled materials producer.

(f) Delivery of brass mill or wire mill products from warehouse stocks. (1) A warehouse may fill an authorized controlled material order, or an order bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher for brass mill or wire mill products, from his stocks, provided that,

(i) Such order does not require delivery of more than 500 pounds (copper or alloy weight) of any item to any one destination, at any one time; and

(ii) Such order is accompanied by or endorsed with a certificate, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to the warehouse with whom this order is placed and to the War Production Board, subject to the criminal penalties provided in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the amount of each item of brass mill or wire mill products covered by this order, together with all other amounts of such item received by, or on order for delivery to the undersigned, at any one destination from warehouse stock, during the same month, does not exceed 2,000 pounds, and that such items will not be used by the undersigned for any purpose in violation of any order of the War Production Board.

A warehouse shall be entitled to rely on such certificate unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(2) No person who obtains any item of brass mill or wire mill products pursuant to this paragraph (f) shall accept deliveries of the same item at any one destination aggregating more than 2,000 pounds, during any one calendar month, from warehouse stocks.

(3) No warehouse shall deliver any brass mill or wire mill products from stock after February 15, 1943, except as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (f), nor shall any warehouse make any delivery if he has knowledge or reason to know that acceptance thereof would constitute a violation of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (f).

Aluminum

(g) Definitions with respect to aluminum. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP Regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Aluminum" means aluminum in any of the forms and shapes constituting controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who is specifically authorized by the War Production Board to engage in the business of receiving aluminum for sale or resale.

(h) Deliveries of aluminum by distributors on authorized controlled material orders. (1) Each distributor shall, to the extent of his available stocks, fill authorized controlled material orders, except that a distributor shall reject any authorized controlled material order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person, at any one destination, of more than 500 pounds of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, or more than 300 pounds of any alloy, shape and size of aluminum wire, rod or bar, or more than 200 pounds of any alloy, size and shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes: Provided, however, That any distributor shall be entitled to fill an authorized controlled material order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person, at any one destination, of 2,000 pounds or less of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, 1,000 pounds or less of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum wire, rod or bar, or 500 pounds or less of any alloy, size and shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes, if such distributor shall first have requested the mill supplying him to fill such order and such mill shall have advised such distributor to fill the same from his stock. Such request and advice may be made verbally but shall be confirmed in writing.

(2) A distributor may fill orders other than authorized controlled material orders, calling for delivery of aluminum required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, in the amount, and subject to the limitations, provided in paragraph (c) (2) of CMP Regulation No. 5.

General Provisions Applicable to Steel, Brass Mill Products, Wire Mill Products and Aluminum

(i) Directions to distributors and warehouses. Each distributor and warehouse shall comply with such directions as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board with respect to making or withholding deliveries of steel, brass mill products, wire mill products or aluminum, and with respect to the earmarking of stocks of such material.

(j) Placement of authorized controlled material orders. A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, wire mill products or aluminum, shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order, if but only if,

(1) It is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board; or

(2) It is endorsed with the appropriate allotment number as required by paragraph (s) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(k) Verbal delivery orders. Any delivery order requiring shipment within seven days may be placed verbally or by telephone by stating to the distributor or warehouse the substance of the information required by this regulation, Provided, That the person placing the order furnishes to the distributor or warehouse, within seven days after placing the same, written confirmation of the order complying with the requirements of this regulation. In case of failure to receive written confirmation within seven days, the distributor or warehouse shall not accept any other order from, or deliver any additional material of any kind to, the purchaser until such written confirmation is furnished. On or before the 15th day of each month any distributor or warehouse who has received in the prior month a delivery order by telephone, shall notify the War Production Board, Compliance Division, of any case in which a purchaser has failed to furnish to him the written confirmation when due.

(l) Special provisions with respect to AAA orders. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this regulation, an authorized controlled material order placed with a distributor or warehouse bearing a rating of AAA shall be filled in preference to any other authorized controlled material orders regardless of time of receipt.

(m) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 4 (specify whether steel, copper or aluminum).

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

INTERPRETATION 1

The definitions of "distributor" and "warehouse" appearing in paragraphs (b) (2) and (e) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 4 are not deemed to include persons engaged solely in the business of distributing automotive replacement parts. Consequently, such persons may sell, for use as automotive replacement parts, such items as bulk or spooled primary and spark plug wire, battery cables and magnet wire, without reference to the terms of CMP Regulation No. 4, but subject to the provisions of General Limitation Order L-158 and other applicable regulations or orders. (Issued Feb. 27, 1943)

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 3175.4 CMP Regulation No. 4:

The definitions of "distributor" and "warehouse" appearing in paragraphs (b) (2) and (e) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 4 are not deemed to include persons engaged solely in the business of distributing automotive replacement parts. Consequently, such persons may sell, for use as automotive replacement parts, such items as bulk or spooled primary and spark plug wire, battery cables and magnet wire, without reference to the terms of CMP Regulation No. 4, but subject to the provisions of General Limitation Order L-158 and other applicable regulations or orders.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3190—GROCERS AND VARIETY BAGS

[Limitation Order L-261]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of raw materials and facilities entering into the production of paper bags, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote national defense:

§ 3190.1 Limitation Order L-261—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Grocers and variety bags" means unused, pasted, open-mouth single-wall paper bags of the types commonly, but not exclusively, used in retail stores and in service establishments such as dry cleaners and laundries for packaging or protecting articles sold or serviced therein.

(2) "Stock grocers and variety bags" means grocers and variety bags manufactured by the bag maker for his stock.

(3) "Manufacture for stock" means manufacture of bags for the bag maker's general line as distinguished from manufacture of any particular bag which (i) is not in the bag maker's general line, (ii) is made to order, on a special run, for a particular customer, and (iii) is not intended to be sold, out of that run, to any other customer.

(4) "Bag maker" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing stock grocers and variety bags for sale or for his use as a bag user.

(5) "Bag dealer" means any dealer, jobber, or other person who buys stock grocers and variety bags for resale.

(6) "Bag user" means any person who uses stock grocers and variety bags for packaging goods sold or serviced by him.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture for stock. On and after March 1, 1943, no bag maker shall manufacture, for stock, any grocers and variety bag which does not conform with the specifications set out in Schedule A attached to this order.

(c) Special authorization for additional stock bags. Any bag maker may apply to the War Production Board for special authorization to manufacture, for stock, any other grocers and variety bag which (1) in relation to its projected end usage, will represent a paper saving over any comparable bag permitted under paragraph (b) above and (2) is in sufficient demand to warrant its manufacture for stock by the bag maker. Such application shall be made by the bag maker by letter setting forth the relevant facts, including:

(i) The bag specifications (class, usage, shape, size, paper grade);

(ii) His production, if any, thereof during the preceding 12-month period or season (if a seasonal bag, indicate length of season in months);

(iii) His estimated average production thereof during the next 12-month period or season;

(iv) An explanation of the expected paper saving.

If authorization for such bag is granted by the Director General for Operations, the bag maker may then manufacture it, for stock, in accordance with the terms of the authorization.

(d) Exception for bags for export. The restrictions of paragraph (b) above shall not apply to the manufacture, for stock, of any grocers and variety bags to be exported by the bag maker to any point outside the 48 States, the District of Columbia, and Canada, except that the paper used in manufacturing any such bags shall be no heavier than the paper permitted, under Schedule A, for the most nearly comparable grocers and variety bags.

(e) Inventory restrictions—(1) Bag dealers and bag users. On and after March 1, 1943, no bag dealer and no bag user shall at any time accept any delivery of stock grocers and variety bags which will increase his total inventory of such bags to more than 1½ carloads (exclusive of bags then in transit to him), except in the following cases:

(i) Where, at such time, the total amount of his reasonably anticipated requirements for the next 45 days is more than 1½ carloads, he may increase his total inventory to the amount of such requirements (with a ½ car leeway, where necessary to round out a full car).

(ii) Where, at such time, his inventory of any particular item or items is less than the amount of his reasonably anticipated requirements for the next 45 days, he may increase his inventory of that item or items to the amount of such requirements (with a ½ car leeway, where necessary to round out a full car).

(2) Bag makers. On and after March 1, 1943, no bag maker shall at any time accept any delivery of paper, for his use in manufacturing stock grocers and variety bags, which will increase his total inventory of paper for that purpose to more than 2 carloads (exclusive of paper then in transit to him), except in the following cases:

(i) Where, at such time, the total amount of his reasonably anticipated requirements for the next 60 days is more than 2 carloads, he may increase his total inventory to the amount of such requirements (with a ½ car leeway, where necessary to round out a full car).

(ii) Where, at such time, his inventory of any particular size, sizes, grade, or grades of paper is less than the amount of his reasonably anticipated requirements for the next 60 days, he may increase his inventory of that size, sizes, grade or grades to the amount of such requirements (with a ½ car leeway, where necessary to round out a full car).

(3) Inventories of multiple-unit organizations. Any bag maker who manufactures stock grocers and variety bags at more than one location may, at his option, apply the inventory restrictions of this paragraph (e) either to the inventory of each such location separately or to the collective inventory of all such places. The same type of option may be exercised by any bag dealer who deals in such bags at more than one location and by any bag user who uses such bags at more than one location.

(f) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall deliver paper to any bag maker or deliver stock grocers and variety bags to any person with knowledge or reason to believe that acceptance of such delivery is not permitted under this order.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(h) Reports. Any person affected by this order shall file such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may request from time to time.

(i) Records, audits, inspection. Every person to whom this order applies shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records of the operations or transactions to which this order applies; Provided, however, That any bag user who customarily receives 1 carload of stock grocers and variety bags, or less, per month is not required to establish any special records of bag inventories as long as his monthly acceptances of such bags remain below that amount. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-261.

(l) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A TO ORDER L-261

SPECIFICATIONS FOR STOCK GROCERS AND VARIETY BAGS

(1) General. This schedule contains the type, size, and paper specifications for manufacturing stock grocers and variety bags. Subject to the tolerance specified below, the type and size of specifications are mandatory. The paper grade specifications shall be observed insofar as practicable in the light of paper procurement and paper production conditions and other relevant considerations.

(2) Capacity tolerance. The "Minimum capacity" specified in Column 5 of the Table below is subject to a maximum deficiency of 2% to compensate for errors caused by wear and tear of machine parts.

(3) Dimension tolerance. The dimensions specified in Columns 6, 7, and 8 of the Table below are approximate and may be varied slightly as manufacturing conditions require, provided the cubic capacity (where specified) is not decreased and provided, further, the total sheet area of the paper used is not increased more than 5%.

(4) Measuring and computing. Sketches illustrating the methods for measuring bags and computing cubic capacity are attached as Exhibits 1-4 to this Schedule.

(5) Paper—(a) "Normal basis weight" is computed on the basis of 100# kraft, 500 sheets (24" x 36") to the ream. Subject to the variables provided for in paragraph (1) above, kraft paper used in manufacturing any bag below shall be no heavier than the normal basis weight or weights specified in Column (9) of the Table below for that bag.

(b) Such weight or weights may be appropriately increased when sulphite paper (bleached or unbleached) is used.

(c) A double asterisk () after a normal basis weight figure signifies that bleached and unbleached kraft and bleached and unbleached sulphite grades of paper may be used for the particular bag. A single asterisk () after a normal basis weight figure signifies that only unbleached kraft grade of paper may be used for that particular bag. (With respect to the basis weights specified for Grocers self-opening (automatic) and square bags, the figures marked with a double asterisk () represent Popular Weight lines and the figures marked with a single asterisk () represent Heavy Weight lines.)

(d) In no case, may a bag maker manufacture any bag, for stock, from more than one weight of the same grade of paper. Bleached, unbleached, M. G., M. F., machine-striped, and embossed papers shall be considered different grades. However, papers shall not be considered to be different in grade merely because they are different in color.

(e) When M. F. unbleached kraft paper is used, it shall have a minimum average bursting strength of 80% of the normal basis weight of the paper and an Elmendorf tearing strength of 170% of the normal basis weight of the paper, in the machine direction. This specification does not apply to other paper grades.

(6) "SWS" symbol. The symbol "SWS" shall be placed by the bag maker on the label or wrapper of each bundle of stock grocers and variety bags manufactured on and after March 1, 1943. Such symbol shall constitute a representation by the bag maker to the War Production Board that the bags in that bundle comply with the specifications of this Schedule or of any special authorization, issued under this order L-261. The symbol "SS", when placed on any such bag, shall constitute a like representation. Such symbol "SS" shall be replaced by the symbol "SWS" when the bag maker has occasion to replace his existing stock of "SS" dies.

(7) Specifications table. The specific type, size, and paper specifications are as follows:

Class (1)	Normal usage (2)	Type: Shape (3)	Size (4)	Size: Minimum capacity (cu. in.) (5)	Face (F) or Tube (T) width (in.) (6)	Bottom (B) or Tuck (T) width (in.) (7)	Bag length (in.) (8)	Paper: Normal basis weight (lbs.) and kraft (9)
Groceries	General	Self-opening (automatic)	½ lb.	20	(F) 3	(B) 1¾	5⅝	30
			1 lb.	51	3½	2⅛	8 5/16	30

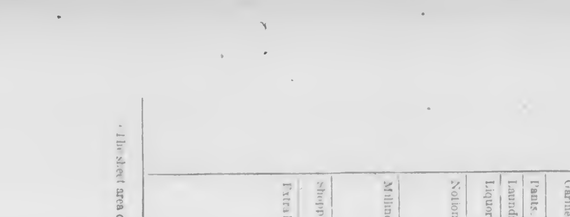
EXHIBIT 1 — SELF-OPENING (AUTOMATIC) BAGS
METHOD OF MEASUREMENT AND COMPUTATION OF CUBIC CAPACITY

General

1. Position of bag: Face (with thumb notch) to the front—bottom and seam to rear.

2. Point of measurement: Dimension lines in diagram.

3. Equipment: Scale graduated in sixteenth of inches.



Face width (A): Measure across the front of the folded bag just above the top of the bottom fold.

Bottom width (C): Spread the bag so that the tucks normally behind the face are fully extended outward. Press the bag flat and measure full width as close to the bottom fold as possible. Subtract from this measurement the face width.

Bag length (D): Measure along center of the front face of the bag, from the lower bottom fold to the top of the serrated edge of the rear face.

Cubic capacity: (A × C × D) is the product of the face width, bottom width and the bag length.

2. Point of Measurement: Dimension lines in diagram.

3. Equipment: Scale graduated in sixteenths of inch

Face width (A): Measure across the front of the folded bag just above the top of the bottom fold.

Tuck width (C): Spread the bag so that the tucks normally behind the face are fully extended outward. Press the bag flat and measure full width as close to the bottom fold as possible. Subtract from this measurement the face width.

Bag length (D): Measure along center of the front face of the bag, from the lower bottom fold to the top of the serrated edge of the front face.

Cubic capacity: [A × C × (D − ½C)] is the product of face width, tuck width and the bag length minus one-half the tuck width

PART 3200—CHARCOAL

[General Preference Order M-289]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of charcoal for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3200.1 General Preference Order M-289—(a) Definitions. (1) "Charcoal" means an amorphous form of artificial carbon obtained by incomplete combustion of wood, either hardwood or softwood, by the destructive distillation process, or in kilns or pits, in the form of lumps, briquettes, granular, braize or powdered.

(2) "Producer" means any person who produces charcoal and includes any sales agent for any producer or group of producers.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who purchases charcoal for resale.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restriction on deliveries. (1) No supplier shall deliver any charcoal to any person except as specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations. No person shall accept delivery of any charcoal which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries to be made by suppliers in each calendar month will so far as practicable be issued by the Director General for Operations prior to the commencement of such month (in the normal case on Form PD–602 filed pursuant to paragraph (f) (1)), but the Director General for Operations may at any time issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made.

(3) In the event that any supplier, after receiving notice from the Director General for Operations with respect to a delivery of charcoal which he is authorized or directed to make to any specific customer, shall be unable to make such delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation from such customer or otherwise, such suppher shall forthwith give notice of such fact to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–289, and shall not, in the absence of specific authorization or direction from the Director General for Operations sell or otherwise dispose of the charcoal which he is unable to deliver as aforesaid.

(c) Restrictions on use. (1) No producer shall use charcoal except as specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations.

(2) No person shall use charcoal received by him for a purpose or purposes contrary to the purpose or purposes certified in the certificate furnished by him pursuant to paragraph (e) (1) hereof.

(3) The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of charcoal to be delivered or then on hand.

(d) Exceptions to requirement for specific authorization. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b) (1) and (c) (1) hereof, specific authorization of the Director General for Operations shall not be required for:

(i) Delivery by any supplier to any one person in any calendar month of not more than 1,000 lbs.

(ii) Delivery of charcoal by any producer in any calendar month to one or more persons where the quantity of charcoal produced in such month by such producer does not exceed 12 tons.

(iii) Use by any producer in any calendar month of not more than 1,000 lbs.

(2) In no event shall aggregate deliveries by any producer in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) (i) hereof, exceed one percent of the deliveries which such producer is specifically authorized or directed to make during such month.

(3) No supplier shall make any delivery of charcoal pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) (i) hereof if such delivery will prevent any delivery which he has been specifically authorized or directed to make.

(e) Certification of customer's use. (1) No person shall accept delivery from any supplier in any calendar month of more than 1,000 lbs. of charcoal (nor shall any supplier deliver to any one person in any calendar month more than such quantity) unless the person seeking delivery shall have filed with such supplier, in duplicate, a certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the War Production Board and to his supplier, pursuant to War Production Board Order No. M–289, that:

I. The _____ tons of charcoal hereby ordered for delivery in _____ 194–, (month) will be used for the following purpose or purposes only _____

[For instructions see paragraph (e) (2) hereof.]

II. The undersigned's use of charcoal in corresponding month of the year 1942 for each such purpose was

Purpose A _____ Tons
Purpose B _____ Tons

[If purchase is for resale, specify under section II quantity resold by undersigned in corresponding month of 1942.]

_____ Name of Purchaser

By _____ Duly Authorized Official

_____ Date _____ Title

Such certificates shall be signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The receipt of such certificate shall not authorize the delivery of charcoal by a producer or distributor where he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

(2) In filling out section I of the certificate referred to in paragraph (e) (1) hereof, applicant shall specify use or uses in terms of the following:

Copper
Bronze
Brass
Powder (black)
Iron
Meat curing
RR dining cars
Steel
Ferro silicon
Ferro manganese
High carbon ferro chromium
Legume inoculants
Sodium cyanide
Activated carbon
Tobacco curing Glass
Carbon bisulfide
Case hardening compounds
Poultry and stock feed
Heat treating Fuel for drying foundry cores
Heating railroad cars
Domestic accounts
Others (specify)
Resale

If charcoal ordered is for more than one use, indicate each one separately and state quantity ordered for each use. If purchase is for resale, applicant will specify "resale", followed by statement of use or uses (in terms of the uses specified in this paragraph) to which charcoal will be put by his customer.

(3) One of the duplicate originals of each certificate received by a supplier pursuant to paragraph (e) (1) hereof, shall be retained by such supplier. The second copy shall be transmitted by such supplier to the War Production Board with his application (on Form PD–602) for authorization to make delivery.

(f) Applications and reports. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of charcoal during any calendar month beginning with April, 1943 (and each producer seeking authorization to use charcoal), shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. Application for authorization to make delivery of (or use) charcoal in March, 1943, shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of the proposed date of delivery or use. The application shall be made on Form PD–602 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD–602 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Four copies shall be prepared of which three shall be filed with the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–289, the fourth being retained for applicant's files. At least one of the copies filed with the War Production Board shall be manually signed by the applicant by a duly authorized official. A separate set of Form PD–602 shall be filed for each grade of charcoal for which authorization to deliver is sought.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify "Charcoal", followed by grade of charcoal in terms of the following: lump, briquettes, granular, braize or powdered; under WPB Order No., specify "M–289"; indicate month and year during which deliveries covered by the application are to be made; under unit of measure, specify tons; under name of company, specify applicant's name and indicate address of plant or warehouse from which shipment will be made.

(iv) In Column 1 list names of customers from whom orders for delivery during the month to which the application relates have been received. If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand total for all sheets on last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified. It is not necessary, however, to list the name of any customer to whom not more than 1,000 lbs. of charcoal is to be delivered in such month, but in lieu thereof, applicant should state in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4, specify the total estimated quantity so to be delivered.

(v) A producer requiring permission to use a part or all of his own production of charcoal shall list his own name on Form PD–602 as a customer, specifying quantity required and product use.

(vi) Supplier will specify in Column 1A the use to which the charcoal will be put by his customer, as indicated by the certificate filed with applicant by the customer pursuant to paragraphs (e) (1) and (e) (2) hereof. If the charcoal ordered by a customer is for two or more uses, indicate each use separately and indicate the quantity of charcoal ordered for each use.

(vii) Leave Column 6 blank.

(viii) In Column 7 specify quantity used by customer in corresponding month of 1942 for each purpose for which charcoal is ordered, or if customer is a distributor, quantity resold by customer in such corresponding month.

(ix) A producer whose entire production is sold through a single sales agent, acting jointly for such producer or for such producer and other producers, need not list the customers to whom delivery is to be made by such sales agent. It will be sufficient to list in Column 1 the name of the sales agent and to list in Column 1A "resale". In any case, however, each producer shall report production, deliveries and stocks as required by Table II, Columns 8 and 16 inclusive.

(2) The Director General for Operations may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue other and further directions with respect to preparing and filing Form PD–602.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall, as soon as practicable, notify each of his regular customers of the requirements of this order, but failure to give notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms hereof.

(3) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of charcoal shall apply, not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(6) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–289.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3204—POTASH

[General Preference Order M–291]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of potash for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3204.1 General Preference Order M–291.—(a) Definitions. (1) "Potash" means the following primary potash salts: muriate of potash, sulfate of potash, sulfate of potash-magnesia and run-of-mine potash.

(2) "Potassium oxide" (hereinafter referred to as "K_2O") means the highly caustic oxide of potassium. As such it does not exist commercially but is used as a standard unit of measure in determining the relative value of potash salts.

(3) "Muriate of potash" means the chloride salt of potassium. In commerce it is offered in two grades: muriate of potash containing 48 to 52 per cent K_2O, and high grade muriate of potash containing 58 to 62.7 per cent K_2O.

(4) "Sulfate of potash" means commercial potassium sulfate, a potash salt containing approximately 48 per cent or more K_2O, chiefly as sulfate. It does not include recrystallized salt.

(5) "Sulfate of potash-magnesia" means a potash and magnesia salt containing from approximately 18 to 25 per cent K_2O and 18 to 25 per cent sulfate of magnesia.

(6) "Run-of-mine potash" (also known as manure salts and kainit) means potash salts containing a high percentage of chlorides and containing more than 18 and less than 48 per cent K_2O.

(7) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of potash and includes any person who has potash produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(8) "Distributor" means any person who, for his own account or as agent or broker for any producer, sells potash in any form. The term includes importers but does not include any manufacturer (including any fertilizer manufacturer) to the extent that he uses potash as one of his raw materials, any person who purchases potash exclusively for sale at retail, or any governmental agency which delivers fertilizers to farmers.

(9) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(10) "Period" means one of the three periods specified in paragraphs (a) (11), (a) (12) and (a) (13).

(11) "Period One" means April 1, 1943 through May 31, 1943.

(12) "Period Two" means June 1, 1943 through March 31, 1944

(13) "Period Three" means April 1, 1944 through May 31, 1944.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) On and after April 1, 1943 no supplier shall deliver potash to any person, and no person shall accept delivery of potash from a supplier except as specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to quantities of potash which may be received in any period will be issued by the Director General for Operations as soon as possible after the receipt of the applications called for by paragraph (e) (1) hereof. Thereafter, after persons so authorized to receive potash have placed with producers or distributors their orders for potash within the totals provided in such authorizations and such producers and distributors have made application pursuant to paragraph (e) (3) to make delivery to such persons, the Director General for Operations will issue to each producer or distributor authorizations with respect to deliveries to be made. The Director General for Operations may, however, at any time, at his discretion, and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted or with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of potash to be delivered or then on hand. Insofar as authorizations or directions relate to the quantities of particular grades of mixed fertilizer to be manufactured from potash or to the quantity of potash to be made available for direct application to the soil, such authorizations or directions will so far as practicable be issued in conformity with needs for grades of mixed fertilizer or for potash as determined by the Director of Food Production of the Department of Agriculture.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of potash shall use such material for the purpose authorized and only for such purpose except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Exceptions to requirement for specific authorization. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) hereof, specific authorization of the Director General for Operations shall not be required for:

(1) Acceptance of delivery by any person from all sources in any period of not more than one ton of potash for each month of such period, in terms of K_2O content;

(2) Delivery by any supplier in any period to any person who shall have furnished to such supplier a certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies that the potash hereby ordered to be delivered in Period _____ [Insert One, Two or Three] does not, taken with all other potash delivered or to be delivered from all sources in such period, exceed one ton for each month of such period, in terms of K_2O content.

Name of purchaser

By ---------- ---------- Authorized official Title

Date

The above certificate shall constitute a representation to (but shall not be filed with) the War Production Board. Such certificate shall be signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The receipt of such certificate shall not authorize the delivery of such potash by a supplier where he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate;

(3) Delivery by any supplier to any person in any period prior to the receipt of any specific authorization or direction of the Director General for Operations with respect to deliveries to be made in such period of not more than 20% of the quantity of any potash salt delivered by such supplier to such person during the corresponding period in the 12 months ending March 31, 1943. Any person delivering or receiving potash delivered in any period pursuant to this paragraph (c) (3) shall charge the amount so delivered or received against the amount which he is or may be specifically authorized or directed to deliver or receive in such period, and against any amount which may be delivered or received pursuant to paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2);

(4) Delivery by any supplier to any person, and acceptance of delivery by any person from any supplier, of any undelivered balance under any contract which provides for completion of delivery prior to April 1, 1943;

(5) Delivery by any supplier to any person, and acceptance of delivery by any person from any supplier, of any potash which such supplier has been directed by specific direction of the Director General for Operations to deliver to such person prior to May 1, 1943.

(d) Transportation and storage directions. For the purpose of conserving transportation and storage facilities, the Director General for Operations may issue directions to any person respecting deliveries or storage of potash which may or may not be made, and respecting form of transportation and shipping routes.

(e) Applications and reports. (1) Each person requiring authorization to accept delivery of potash in any period, whether for own consumption or resale, shall file application therefor on Form PD-600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Four copies shall be prepared, of which three shall be filed with War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-291, the fourth to be retained for applicant's files.

(iii) The date when such applications shall be filed with the War Production Board will be as follows:

(a) Where the application is for authorization to accept delivery of potash in Period One: on or before March 7, 1943.

(b) Where the application is for authorization to accept delivery of potash in Period Two: on or before May 1, 1943.

(c) Where the application is for authorization to accept delivery of potash in Period Three: on or before March 1, 1944.

(iv) In the heading, under "name of chemical" specify "Potash"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-291"; under heading "Indicate Unit of Measure", specify "Short Tons of Potash Salt" (not K_2O content). Do not specify supplier.

(v) In heading at top of Table I, specify "Period ----------" [One, Two or Three], not month.

(vi) In Columns 1 and 11, specify particular potash salt as follows: muriate of potash, sulfate of potash, sulfate of potash-magnesia, run-of-mine potash, and also indicate in each case per cent of K_2O content.

(vii) In Column 2 indicate quantity in short tons of each salt requested (not K_2O content).

(viii) In Column 3, applicant will specify his primary product in terms of the following:

Fertilizers
Potassium bitartrate
Potassium carbonate
Potassium chlorate
Potassium cyanide
Potassium hydroxide
Potassium nitrate
Potassium perchlorate
Potassium permanganate
Potassium phosphates
Other chemical (specify)
Resale (as potash) subject to further authorization.

(ix) In Column 4 applicant will specify ultimate use of product (where, for example, the primary product called for in Column 3 is "Potassium carbonate" the ultimate use of product might be "optical glass"), and will also specify in each case whether his customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease or commercial customer. Where the Form PD-600 is an application for potash for resale (as potash) pursuant to further authorization, applicant will leave Column 4 blank. Where primary product called for in Column 3 is potassium chlorate or potassium perchlorate, specify "Order M-171" in Column 4 and omit further statement of use.

(x) Leave blank Columns 13 to 15c, inclusive.

(xi) In heading at top of Column 16 "Estimated stocks end current month", strike out "end current month" and insert "beginning period ----------" [specify number of period to which application relates]. In Column 16, specify estimated amount of inventory of each potash salt listed in Column 11, including any amounts estimated to be undelivered as of the beginning of such period pursuant to the contracts or directions referred to in paragraphs (c) (4) and (c) (5).

(xii) Leave blank Tables III and IV in their entirety.

(2) On or before the 7th day following the commencement of each period, each person who has applied for authorization to accept delivery of potash during such period pursuant to paragraph (e) (1) hereof, shall file a single copy of PD-600 with War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-291, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) In the heading, under "name of chemical" specify "Potash"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-291"; under heading "Indicate Unit of Measure", specify "Short Tons of Potash Salt" (not K_2O content). Do not specify supplier.

(ii) Tables I, III and IV should be left blank in their entirety.

(iii) In Column 11 (Table II) specify particular potash salt as follows: muriate of potash, sulfate of potash, sulfate of potash-magnesia and run-of-mine potash, and in each case, per cent of K_2O content.

(iv) Leave blank Columns 13 to 15c, inclusive, and strike out heading at top of Column 16 "Estimated stocks end current month", and substitute for that heading "Stocks beginning period ----------" [insert number of period in which report is filed]. In Column 16, specify amount of inventory of each potash salt listed in Column 11, including any amounts undelivered at the beginning of such period pursuant to the contracts or directions referred to in paragraphs (c) (4) and (c) (5).

(3) Each supplier seeking authorization to make delivery of potash during any period shall file application therefor on Form PD-601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Four copies shall be prepared, of which three shall be filed with War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-291, the fourth to be retained for supplier's files.

(iii) The date when such application shall be filed with the War Production Board will be as follows:

(a) Where the application relates to Period One: on or before April 7, 1943.

(b) Where the application relates to Period Two: on or before July 7, 1943.

(c) Where the application relates to Period Three: on or before April 7, 1944.

(iv) In the heading, under "name of chemical", specify "Potash"; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-291"; in heading "This schedule is for deliveries to be made during the month of ----------", substitute the word "period" for word "month", and indicate "One, Two, or Three", as the case may be; under heading "Indicate unit of measure", specify short tons of potash salt (not K_2O content).

(v) In Column 1 indicate the name of each customer to whom supplier proposes to make delivery of potash in the period to which application relates. If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified. It is not necessary, however, to list the names of customers to whom, in such period, applicant proposes to make small order deliveries pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) and (c) (2) hereof, but applicant must specify in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4 must state the estimated quantity.

(vi) In Column 3 specify particular potash salt which applicant proposes to deliver as follows: muriate of potash, sulfate of potash, sulfate of potash-magnesia and run-of-mine potash, and in each case, the per cent of K_2O content.

(vii) Leave blank Columns 5 to 16, inclusive, except for any remarks considered pertinent, which may be listed in Column 7.

(4) The Director General for Operations may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD-600 and PD-601.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Notification of customers. Producers shall as soon as practicable notify each of their regular customers of the requirements of this order, but failure to give such notice shall not excuse any such person from complying with the terms hereof.

(3) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of potash shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-291.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3209—PUBLIC SANITATION SERVICES—MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND OPERATING SUPPLIES

[Preference Rating Order P-141]

§ 3209.1 Preference Rating Order P-141.—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Operator" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, located in the United States, its territories or possessions, or any such operator located in the Dominion of Canada to whom and in whose name a copy of this order has been specifically issued, engaged in, or constructing facilities for the purpose of engaging in, supplying public sanitation services (but not including manufacturers of public sanitation products) whether or not such operator has applied the preference ratings herein assigned.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part assembly, or product of any kind.

(3) "Maintenance" means the upkeep of an operator's property and equipment in sound working condition.

(4) "Repair" means the restoration of an operator's property and equipment to sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction of parts, or the like, have made such property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service.

(5) "Operating supplies" means:

(i) Material which is essential to the operation of the services specified above and which is generally carried in an operator's inventory and charged to operating expense accounts.

(ii) Material for an addition to or an expansion of property or equipment including minor extensions of sewer laterals, provided that such an addition, or expansion, shall not include any work order, job, or project, in which the cost of material shall exceed $1,500 in the case of underground construction and $500 in the case of other construction and provided further that no single construction project shall be subdivided into parts in order to come below these limits.

(6) Material for "operating supplies", "maintenance" and "repair" includes only material which is essential to minimum service standards, and does not include material for the improvement of an operator's property or equipment through the replacement of material which is still usable in the existing installation, with material of a better kind, quality or design.

(7) "Supplier" means any person with whom a purchase order or contract has been placed for delivery of material to an operator, or to another supplier.

(8) "Calendar quarterly period" means the quarterly period commencing on the first day of the first, fourth, seventh and tenth months of the calendar year and ending, respectively, on the last day of the third, sixth, ninth, and twelfth months of the calendar year, or the operator's customary accounting period closest to such period.

(9) "Inventory" means all new or salvaged material in the operator's possession, unless physically incorporated in plant, without regard to its accounting classification, excluding, however, appliances and merchandising supplies, and material in the operator's possession which is segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (c) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P-19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate issued by the War Production Board.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. Subject to the terms of this order, the following preference ratings are hereby assigned:

(1) Operators. (i) AA-2X to deliveries to an operator of material required by him for maintenance or repair, and to deliveries of operating supplies.

(ii) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) (2), AA-5 to deliveries to an operator of material required by him for protection against sabotage, air raids, or other hostile acts, provided such protection is directed by an authorized Federal or State agency.

(iii) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) (2), deliveries to an operator, of material required by him for the construction of collection facilities necessary to serve rated projects or to serve rated equipment, are assigned the same rating as is assigned to such project or to the delivery of such equipment; except that where such project or such equipment is assigned two or more ratings, deliveries to an operator of items containing copper, or iron, or steel, are assigned the highest rating which is assigned by the project or equipment rating order to deliveries of items containing the like metal, and in the case of all other items, such deliveries to an operator are assigned the lowest rating which is assigned to such project or equipment.

(iv) AA-1 to deliveries, to an operator of material required by him for repair of facilities following an actual breakdown thereof, or to make reasonable advance provision for such repair, provided that such AA-1 rating shall not be applied to more than 30 percent of the material in any class which can be scheduled for delivery in each calendar quarterly period under the provisions of paragraph (f) of this order.

(c) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended at any time as to any operator or any supplier. In the event of revocation, deliveries already rated pursuant to this order shall be completed in accordance with said rating, unless the rating has been specifically revoked with respect thereto. No additional applications of the rating to any other deliveries shall thereafter be made by the operator or supplier affected by such revocation.

(d) Restrictions on use of rating. The preference ratings hereby assigned shall not be applied or extended by an operator or supplier to obtain deliveries of scarce material, the use of which could be eliminated without serious loss of efficiency by substitution of a less scarce material or by change of design.

(e) Application and extension of ratings. (1) The ratings assigned by this order may be applied and extended by an operator or supplier either:

(i) In accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3 as amended: Provided, however, That in no case may the ratings assigned in paragraphs (b) (1) (ii) and (b) (1) (iii) hereof be applied or extended until approval has been granted pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) hereof, or

(ii) By endorsement of the following statement on the original and all copies of each purchase order or contract for material, the delivery of which is rated by this order, and delivery of a copy of such order or contract to any supplier;

Rating ------ Material to be delivered pursuant to paragraph (b) ------ of Preference

Rating Order P-141—Public Sanitation Services—Maintenance, Repair and Operating Supplies, with the terms of which I am familiar.

(Name of operator or supplier)

(Signature of designated official)

(2) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (c) (1), an operator, in order to apply the preference ratings assigned by paragraphs (b) (1) (ii) and (b) (1) (iii), to segregate material from inventory for the uses described in such paragraphs, or to accept delivery of material for such uses, must, unless otherwise directed, communicate with the Governmental Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: P-141, supplying in detail the following information or such other information as may be from time to time required:

(i) The operator's job number relating to the proposed construction.

(ii) A description of the project or equipment to be served, including the location, an estimate of maximum rate of flow to be provided for, and the population served, as well as other pertinent information.

(iii) A description of the proposed construction, including a print of construction showing size of sewers, capacity of pumps, and other equipment, the location of manholes, drop manholes, size and location of treatment plants and important control valves as well as other information relevant thereto.

(iv) A statement of relationship to military needs, war production, public health or safety.

(v) A copy of the customer's project or equipment preference rating order or certificate. (Such copies of orders or certificates are not required when operator's applications accompany the customer's project applications.)

(vi) A statement explaining whether service can be rendered in any other way or by any other operator, with the use of smaller quantities of critical materials.

(vii) An estimate of the total cost of the operator's project.

(viii) A list of material required for the construction, giving the estimated weight of each material with the estimated cost, classified as indicated in the instructions for revised Form PD-200. (Such list should indicate materials in inventory not to be replaced, materials to be purchased from the excess stocks of other operators, materials to be obtained or replaced, without priorities assistance, and materials expected to be obtained or replaced with priorities assistance.)

The Director General for Operations will notify the operator whether and to what extent the application is approved and no operator shall apply such preference ratings, segregate material from inventory for the uses described in paragraphs (b) (1) (ii) and (b) (1) (iii), or accept delivery of material for such uses without such approval.

(3) In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, the operator, and each supplier placing or receiving any purchase order, or contract rated hereunder, shall retain, for a period of two years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of all such purchase orders or contracts, whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries, withdrawals and inventory. (1) No operator shall, in placing orders, schedule for delivery to him in any calendar quarterly period, any material (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) to be used as operating supplies or for maintenance or repair or for any other purposes (except material to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P-19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate issued by the War Production Board) the aggregate dollar volume of which shall exceed 25 percent of the aggregate dollar volume of withdrawals of items of materials of the same class from inventory during the calendar year 1940.

(2) No operator shall at any time accept deliveries (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) of any item of material to be used as operating supplies or for maintenance or repair or for any other purpose (except material to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P-19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate issued by the War Production Board) until such operator's inventory of items of the same class has been reduced to a practical working minimum. Such inventory shall, in no case, exceed the aggregate dollar volume of items of material of the same class in inventory on the most recent date during the calendar year 1940 on which the operator's inventory was taken.

(3) No operator shall

(i) During any calendar quarterly period, make withdrawals from inventory of any item of material to be used as operating supplies for maintenance or repair or for any other purpose (except to segregate such material for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P-19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate issued by the War Production Board), the aggregate dollar volume of which shall exceed the aggregate dollar volume of withdrawals of such items of materials of the same class during the corresponding quarter of 1940, or at the operator's option, 25 percent of the aggregate dollar volume of withdrawals of such items of materials of the same class during the calendar year 1940.

(ii) Construct an addition to, or an expansion of, property or equipment, and no operator shall, in the case of contract construction, accept delivery of material for such purposes unless:

(a) Such addition or expansion is specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, or

(b) Such addition or expansion is an extension less than 250 feet in length (including house connection and any portion built by or for a customer) of a line to serve a new building where the foundation, under the main part of the structure, was completed prior to July 1, 1942, or

(c) Such addition or expansion is not an extension of a line to customer premises and requires an expenditure of material having a dollar value of less than $1,500 in the case of underground construction and $500 in the case of other construction: Provided, however, That no single work order, job, or project, shall be subdivided into parts to come below these limits.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions contained in paragraphs (f) (1), (2) and (3), an operator may:

(i) In any calendar quarterly period, increase the aggregate dollar volume of scheduled deliveries of material for the maintenance and repair of, and for operating supplies for, collection, treatment, pumping and disposal facilities, and withdrawals of material for such use over the limits prescribed in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (3) respectively, proportionately to the increase in load on the system in the preceding calendar quarterly period over the load on the system in the calendar quarterly period of 1940 corresponding to such preceding calendar quarterly period;

(ii) Schedule for delivery in any calendar quarterly period items of material which will increase the aggregate dollar volume of inventory of material for the maintenance and repair of, and for operating supplies for, collection, treatment, pumping and disposal facilities over the aggregate dollar volume of material in inventory on the most recent date during the calendar year 1940 on which the operator's inventory was taken, proportionately to the increase in load on the system during the preceding calendar quarterly period of 1940 corresponding to such preceding calendar quarterly period;

(iii) In order to provide material for unavoidable and emergency situations in cases where the inventory of a class of material exceeds a practical working minimum, accept in any calendar quarterly period deliveries of any item of material within such a class in which he considers his inventory deficient; such deliveries, however, not to exceed 5 percent of the dollar volume of withdrawals of material of the same class in the calendar year 1940;

(iv) In any calendar quarterly period schedule for delivery, or accept delivery of, or make withdrawals in such period of, material necessary for the maintenance or repair of the operator's property or equipment which is damaged by acts of the public enemy, sabotage, explosion, fire, flood, or other climatic conditions: Provided, That if the restrictions in paragraphs (f) (1), (2) or (3) as modified by the provisions of paragraphs (f) (4) (i), (ii), (iii), are exceeded because of the scheduling or acceptance of such deliveries, or because of such withdrawals, a full report thereof together with reasons therefor shall be made immediately to the Director General for Operations;

(v) In any calendar quarterly period schedule for delivery, or accept delivery of, items of material in any class (as such class is indicated in War Production Board inventory report forms) having in the aggregate a dollar value not more than the dollar value of material of the same class taken from the operator's inventory for delivery to other operators or suppliers, and of such material so taken for delivery to any person pursuant to Priorities Regulation No. 13, and of such material taken for delivery to any person to whom a special sale of war material would be permissible under paragraphs (c) (2) (i) and (c) (2) (iv) of Priorities Regulation No. 13, to the extent that such takings have reduced the operator's inventory of items of material of the same class below a practical working minimum which shall in no case exceed the limits set up in paragraph (f) (2) hereof; and

(vi) In any calendar quarterly period withdraw from inventory items of material in any class (as such class is indicated in War Production Board inventory report forms) having in the aggregate a dollar value not more than the dollar value of usable material of the same class salvaged from plant during the current calendar quarterly period.

(5) The Director General for Operations may, on the application of any operator, authorize such operator to exceed the restrictions on deliveries, withdrawals, and inventory set forth in this paragraph (f). Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect in any way, any specific authorizations or approvals issued by the Director General for Operations pursuant to Preference Rating Order P-46 prior to February 24, 1943.

(6) The provisions of paragraphs (f) (1), (f) (2), and (f) (3) (i) shall not apply to fuel or chemicals for sewage treatment.

(g) Sales of material from excess inventory. Any operator may sell to any other operator, material from the seller's inventory in excess of the practical working minimum, Provided, That (1) a preference rating of AA-5 or higher, assigned by this order, or by any preference rating certificate or order, or (2) a specific direction issued by the Director General for Operations, is applied or extended to the operator selling such material; and any such sale shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

(h) Audits and reports. (1) Each operator and each supplier who applies the preference ratings hereby assigned, and each person who accepts a purchase order or contract for material to which a preference rating is applied, shall submit from time to time to an audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(2) Each operator and each such supplier shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request. No such reports shall be filed until such time as the proper forms are prescribed by the War Production Board.

(3) Each operator shall maintain a continuing record of inventory and of segregated material in his possession.

(i) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order must be addressed to the Governmental Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: P-141 unless otherwise directed.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-237]

SUPER GAS CO., INC.

Super Gas Company, Inc., a corporation doing business at 789 Amboy Avenue, Fords, New Jersey, is engaged in the marketing of motor fuel. From March 19, 1942 to July 22, 1942, the Company delivered to Super Gas Company, Inc., Service Station, 789 Amboy Avenue, Fords, New Jersey, which it owns and operates, a total of approximately 100,435 gallons in excess of the amount permitted to be delivered to this service station in accordance with the monthly quota provisions of Limitation Order L-70.

These wilful violations of Limitation Order L-70 have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting motor fuel to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.237 Suspension Order S-237. (a) During each of the months of March, April and May, 1943, Super Gas Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not deliver or cause to be delivered, directly or indirectly, any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, to any service station in excess of 25 per cent of the average monthly gallonage delivered to such service station by Super Gas Company, Inc., during the period of August 1942 through December 1942.

(b) During the months of March, April and May, 1943, Super Gas Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not accept from any source the delivery of any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, at the Super Gas Service Station owned and operated by it located at 789 Amboy Avenue, Fords, New Jersey.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Super Gas Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-248]

SID MACK CO.

The Sid Mack Company, 2350 West Beaver Street, Jacksonville, Florida, is a partnership composed of Sidney Mack and Uly Mack in the business of acting as a plumbing supply establishment. From May 27, 1942 to October 1, 1942 the Sid Mack Company, in wilful violation of Limitation Order L-79, made numerous sales and deliveries of new metal plumbing and heating equipment to ultimate consumers on orders which did not bear any preference ratings and did not contain the certifications required by Limitation Order L-79. The Sid Mack Company, furthermore, on September 16, 1942 and October 2, 1942 applied preference ratings of A-10 under Preference Rating Order P-84 in order to purchase 10,000 feet of new galvanized pipe when the Company did not have A-10 rated orders from its customers to support most of this amount. This constituted wilful violations of Preference Rating Order P-84 and Priorities Regulation No. 3.

These violations have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.248 Suspension Order S-248. (a) Sidney Mack and Uly Mack, individually or doing business as the Sid Mack Company or otherwise, their or its successors and assigns, are hereby prohibited from accepting deliveries of, receiving, delivering, selling, transferring, trading, or dealing in any new metal plumbing or heating equipment as defined in Limitation Order L-79, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Sidney Mack and Uly Mack, individually or doing business as the Sid Mack Company or otherwise, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 2, 1943, and shall expire on September 2, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 933—COPPER

[Supplementary Order M-9-b, as Amended March 1, 1943]

§ 933.3 Supplementary Order M-9-b—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this supplementary order:

(1) "Scrap" means all copper or copper-base alloy materials or objects which are the waste or by-product of industrial fabrication, or which have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure or other reason.

(2) "Copper clad steel scrap" means all copper or copper-base alloy clad or coated steel materials or objects in which the cladding or coating amounts to 3% or more by weight and which are the waste or by-product of industrial fabrication, or which have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure or other reason.

(3) "Copper" means copper metal which has been refined by any process of electrolysis or fire refining to a grade and in a form suitable for fabrication such as cathodes, wire bars, ingot bars, ingots, cakes, billets, wedge bars or other refined shapes, or copper shot or other forms produced by a refiner.

(4) "Copper-base alloy" means any alloy in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy.

(5) "Alloy ingot" means an alloy ingot or other shape for remelting which has been cast primarily from copper-base alloy or scrap.

(6) "Brass mill scrap" means that scrap which is a waste or by-product of industrial fabrication of products of brass mills.

(7) "Brass mill" means any person who rolls, draws or extrudes castings of copper or copper-base alloys; it does not include a mill which rerolls, redraws or reextrudes products produced from refinery shapes or castings of copper or copper-base alloys.

(8) "Foundry" means any person casting copper or copper-base alloy shapes or forms suitable for ultimate use without rolling, drawing, extruding, or forging. The process of casting includes the removal of gates, risers and sprues, and sand blasting, tumbling or dipping, but does not include any further machining or processing.

(9) "Scrap dealer" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying and selling scrap.

(10) "Public utilities" means any person furnishing telephone, telegraph or electric light and power services to the public or city, suburban or inter-city electrically operated public carrier transportation.

(b) Delivery or acceptance of scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots. Notwithstanding any preference rating, no person shall deliver or accept the delivery of any scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots except in accordance with the following directions:

(1) Brass mill scrap shall be delivered only to a scrap dealer or to a brass mill; a scrap dealer who accepts delivery of brass mill scrap shall in turn deliver such scrap only to a brass mill or another scrap dealer.

(2) No. 1 or No. 2 copper scrap shall be delivered only to a scrap dealer, or to a person specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations to receive deliveries of such quantities of No. 1 or No. 2 copper scrap.

(3) Copper clad steel scrap and unreloadable fired artillery cases, cartridge cases or bullet jackets, which have been manufactured from copper, copper-base alloys or copper clad steel, in excess of ten (10) pounds, or copper base alloy scrap containing 0.1% or more of beryllium by weight, shall be delivered only to persons specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations to receive such deliveries.

(4) Scrap other than that specified in paragraphs (b) (1) through (3) above shall be delivered only to a scrap dealer, or to a person specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations to receive deliveries of such quantities of scrap.

(5) Alloy ingots shall be delivered only to a person specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations to receive deliveries of such quantities of alloy ingots.

(6) No person shall accept delivery of alloy ingots, copper clad steel scrap or unreloadable fired artillery cases, cartridge cases or bullet jackets, which have been manufactured from copper, copper-base alloys or copper clad steel, in excess of ten (10) pounds, or of copper base alloy scrap containing 0.1% or more of beryllium by weight, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(7) A person other than a brass mill or dealer shall accept a delivery of scrap, other than that specified in paragraph (b) (6) above, only pursuant to a specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(8) A brass mill shall accept no delivery of scrap other than brass mill scrap without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(9) A scrap dealer shall accept delivery of scrap only if:

(i) Such scrap is not of a kind or grade specified in paragraph (b) (6) above, and

(ii) Such scrap dealer shall during the preceding 60 days, have sold or otherwise disposed of scrap to an amount at least equal in weight to the scrap inventory of such scrap dealer on the date of acceptance of delivery of scrap (which inventory shall exclude such delivery), and

(iii) Such scrap dealer shall have filed with the Bureau of Mines, College Park, Maryland, by the 10th of each month, Form PD-249, and

(iv) Such scrap dealer shall have supplied such other information as the Director General for Operations may from time to time require.

(c) Melting or processing of scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots. (1) No person other than a brass mill shall melt or process scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots, without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(2) No brass mill shall melt or process any scrap other than brass mill scrap, without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(3) Any person accepting a delivery of scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots shall use such scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots only for the purposes for which acceptance of such delivery is authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(d) Delivery to or acceptance of copper by foundries and makers of alloy ingots. Notwithstanding any preference rating, no person shall deliver any copper to a foundry or to a maker of alloy ingots, and no foundry or maker of alloy ingots shall accept any such delivery, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Authorization—(1) Basis of authorization. Authorization to receive deliveries of, melt or process copper, scrap, copper clad steel scrap, or alloy ingots will be given by the Director General for Operations to assure the satisfaction of the most essential war requirements.

(2) Application for authorization. (i) Any person desiring to obtain an authorization, pursuant to this order, to accept the delivery of, melt or process copper, alloy ingot, scrap or more than ten (10) pounds of unreloadable fired artillery cases, cartridge cases or bullet jackets which have been manufactured from copper or copper base alloys, should make application on Form PD-59, Copper Division, War Production Board, by the 5th of each month.

(ii) Any person applying for an authorization to accept delivery of copper clad steel scrap or more than ten (10) pounds of unreloadable fired artillery cases, cartridge cases or bullet jackets which have been manufactured from copper clad steel must furnish the Director General for Operations with a letter setting forth the kind and grade of material, the tonnage, the period during which deliveries must be received, and the end use into which products produced out of such material will go.

(3) Proof of authorization—(i) Refined copper. Any foundry or ingot maker authorized to purchase specified amounts of refined copper under the terms of an allocation certificate must submit the allocation certificate issued to him to his supplier at the time of placing his order. If the order is placed with a dealer, the allocation certificate must be surrendered to the dealer. If the order is placed with a refiner, the allocation certificate must be endorsed by the refiner, specifying the quantity of refined copper which the refiner will deliver.

(ii) Alloy ingot, scrap or copper clad steel scrap. Any person authorized to purchase specified amounts of alloy ingot, scrap or copper clad steel scrap may notify his supplier of his right to make a purchase by endorsing on, or attaching to, each contract or purchase order placed by him under the terms of the authorization, a certification in the following form signed by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

Certification: The undersigned purchaser hereby represents to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is entitled to purchase the items shown on this purchase order pursuant to Allocation Certificate, Serial No. ——— for the month of ——— ——— and that receipt of these items, together with all other orders placed by him, will not result in his receiving more alloy ingot, scrap or copper clad steel scrap, than he has been authorized to receive for the month indicated by such purchase order pursuant to said Allocation Certificate.

Name of purchaser	Address
Signature and title of duly authorized official	Date

The person receiving the certification shall be entitled to rely on such certification unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false. Each person supporting a purchase order by such a certification must maintain at his regular place of business all documents, including purchase orders and preference rating orders and certificates, upon which he relies as entitling him to make such purchases, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

(f) Disposal of scrap or copper clad steel scrap, generated through fabrication or accumulated through obsolescence. No person shall use, melt, or dispose of any scrap or copper clad steel scrap generated in his plant through fabrication or accumulated in his operations through obsolescence, in any way other than by sale or delivery to a person authorized to accept such delivery, without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations. In no event shall any person keep on hand more than thirty days' accumulation of scrap or copper clad steel scrap unless such accumulation aggregates less than one ton. All persons generating scrap or copper clad steel scrap through fabrication or accumulating scrap or copper clad steel scrap through obsolescence, in excess of five hundred pounds in any calendar month, shall report on Form PD-226 on or before the 5th day of the following month, to the War Production Board, Ref: M-9-b, setting forth inventory of scrap and copper clad steel scrap at the beginning of the previous calendar month, accumulations and sales during such month, inventory at the end of such month and such other information as the Director General for Operations may request from time to time. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit any public utility from using in its own operations wire or cable which has become scrap by obsolescence provided the lengths of such wire or cable are in excess of five feet and the quantity of such material so used by such public utility in any calendar month does not exceed five tons or such other amount as the Director General for Operations may specifically authorize.

(g) Toll agreement. No person shall deliver scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots and no person shall accept same for converting, remelting or other processing under any existing or future toll agreement, conversion agreement or other form of agreement by which title remains vested in the person delivering the scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots or causing the scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots to be delivered, or which agreement is contingent upon return of processed material in any quantities, equivalent or otherwise, to the person delivering or causing the scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots to be delivered, unless and until such an agreement shall have been approved by the Director General for Operations. Any person desiring to have such an agreement approved must furnish the War Production Board a letter setting forth the names of the parties to such agreement, the material involved as to kind and grade, the form of same, the estimated tonnage involved, the estimated rate of delivery, the length of time such agreement or other similar agreement has been in force, the duration of the agreement, the purpose for which the processed material is to be used, and any other pertinent data that would justify such approval.

(h) Restriction on acceptance of copper-base alloys or castings, including alloy ingots, made therefrom. No person shall knowingly accept delivery of copper-base alloys or castings, including alloy ingots, made therefrom, which have been obtained by melting and processing scrap or copper clad steel scrap delivered to a melter or processor contrary to the provisions of this order.

(i) Specific directions. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue specific directions to any person as to the source, destination, amount, or grade of scrap, copper clad steel scrap or alloy ingots to be delivered, acquired or used by such person.

(j) Reports. In addition to the reports specified in this order, each ingot maker shall file by the 5th of each month, Form PD-751, Ingot Makers Report of Copper Base Alloy Ingot and each foundry shall file by the 5th of each month, Form PD-59-B, Copper Foundries: Monthly Report of Copper Base Alloy Ingot Inventory.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the Director General for Operations in connection with this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Addressing of communications. All applications, statements, or other communications filed pursuant to this order or concerning the subject matter hereof, should be addressed Copper Division, War Production Board, Ref: M-9-b, Washington, D. C.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

PART 940—RUBBER AND BALATA AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[Amendment 3 to Supp. Order M-15-b, as Amended Dec. 28, 1942]

Supplementary Order No. M-15-b, as amended December 28, 1942, (§ 940.3) is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. By amending paragraph (c) (3) to read as follows:

(3) Limitation on consumption to fill war orders. (i) The Director General for Operations or the Rubber Director may from time to time, by special directives issued pursuant to this paragraph (c) (3) (i), limit the consumption of crude rubber, latex, reclaimed rubber, scrap rubber or balata by any person to fill war orders to such extent and in such manner as may be provided by such special directives.

(ii) No person shall consume more crude rubber, latex, reclaimed rubber, scrap rubber or balata to fill any war order than is required for delivery within sixty days from the date such crude rubber, latex, reclaimed rubber, scrap rubber or balata is consumed under the delivery dates specified in the purchase order placed with him.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Interpretation 1 to Priorities Reg. 11, as Amended Feb. 20, 1943]

SUPPLIES

I. Cranes, monorails, and similar equipment. The question has arisen as to whether PRP ratings authorized for maintenance, repair and operating supplies can be used to purchase cranes, monorails and similar equipment having a value of over $200 as minor items of capital equipment under the definition of supplies contained in Priorities Regulation No. 11 [§ 944.32].

The definition of supplies was changed by amendment issued February 20, 1943, but this amendment made no change in the meaning of the words "minor items of productive capital equipment."

The important points to note are that under the definition of "supplies" it is only minor items of productive capital equipment which may be included but that even production materials which are needed for plant expansion or plant construction are not included. In general, cranes and monorails are acquired either to replace existing equipment or for plant expansion. If such equipment is to be used for plant expansion it does not come within the definition of "supplies" regardless of the cost. In this connection expansion of facilities within a plant is considered plant expansion. If, on the other hand, the equipment is required for replacement purposes or for minor relocation of plant machinery and equipment, then the question of cost becomes important in determining whether the item can be classified as minor capital equipment.

In general, items costing less than $200 may be classified as minor. Items costing over $500 would not be classed as minor within the definition. Between these two figures judgment would have to be exercised taking into consideration the size of the plant, the nature of the equipment and similar factors. In case of doubt, application should be made on a PD-1A Form for a rating for the needed equipment.

II. Effect of CMP Regulation No. 5. Attention is called to paragraph (h) of Priorities Regulation No. 11A, which provides that, in general, CMP Regulation No. 5 shall control with respect to maintenance, repair and operating supplies to be delivered after March 31, 1943. The definition of "maintenance, repair and operating supplies" under CMP Regulation No. 5 limits minor items of productive capital equipment to those not exceeding $500 in cost, but also includes minor capital additions not exceeding $500 in cost (excluding cost of labor in each case). Thus, there may be some items which will constitute maintenance, repair or operating supplies under CMP Regulation No. 5 but which do not come within the definition of "supplies" under Priorities Regulation No. 11.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

Director General for Operations.

Any sheeting over 46" not exceeding 76 picks per inch, produced on looms normally weaving wide bed sheeting.

(ii) Pro rata widths of like count and weight to the above constructions, provided such other width fabrics, wider or narrower, are produced for the purpose of utilizing maximum productive width of looms or augmenting the supply of square yardage in fabric widths suitable for economical use in the manufacture of male work clothing.

(3) "Work clothing processor" shall mean:

(i) A person who purchases work clothing textiles for manufacturing, or to be manufactured for his account, into male work clothing for sale or rental, and any Federal, State, County, or Municipal institution engaged in the manufacture of male work clothing.

(ii) The manufacturer of waistbands or trouser curtains, to be used in male work clothing, for sale to a manufacturer of male work clothing.

(iii) The converter or finisher of work clothing textiles who bleaches, finishes or processes work clothing textiles for sale to a processor of male work clothing as defined in subparagraph (a) (3) (i).

(4) "Inventory" shall mean the total quantity of work clothing textiles or of work clothing textiles in process of manufacture into male work clothing or of male work clothing owned by any work clothing processor and held by him in any mill, warehouse, place of storage or manufacturing plant.

(b) Manufacture of denims. The denims specified in paragraph (a) (2) (i) which are manufactured after October 31, 1942, and which are sold and delivered pursuant to the application of the rating assigned in paragraph (c) shall be woven 36 to 37" wide pro rata, to the extent that loom width permits.

(c) Assignment of preference rating. Purchase or manufacturing orders for work clothing textiles placed by work clothing processors are hereby assigned a preference rating of A-2.

(d) Restrictions on use of work clothing textiles. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) (1) of General Preference Order M-207, no work clothing processor shall use any full length pieces of first quality or run-of-mill twills, drills or jeans heavier than 39"—4.00 yards in the manufacture of pocketings, waistbands or trouser curtains.

(e) Application of preference rating. Any work clothing processor, in order to apply the preference rating assigned by paragraph (c) to deliveries of material to him, must endorse on or attach to each purchase or manufacturing order placed by him to which the rating is applied, a certificate in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the seller and the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply the preference rating indicated opposite the items shown on the attached purchase order and that such application is in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar. Furthermore, the undersigned certifies that the fabrics hereby ordered will be used in the manufacture of male work clothing or otherwise disposed of only as permitted in General Preference Order No. M-207 and or Schedule I thereto

---------- ----------
(Name of work clothing processor) (Address)

By---------- ----------
(Signature and title of duly authorized officer) (Date)

Such endorsement shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and the supplier with whom the contract or purchase order is placed that such contract or purchase order is duly rated in accordance herewith.

Each person applying ratings must maintain at his regular place of business all documents, including purchase or manufacturing orders, preference rating orders and certificates, upon which he relies as entitling him to apply or extend such ratings, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

(f) Restrictions on inventory. In addition to the restrictions on inventory contained in Priorities Regulation No. 1 (§ 944.14):

(1) No manufacturer of the following garments of male work clothing:

Waistband overalls or dungarees.
Bib overalls.
Overall jumpers or coats.
One-piece work suits.
Work pants other than of cotton moleskin or cotton corduroy.
Work breeches.
Work shirts other than of cotton flannel or cotton suede.
Work aprons.
Doctors', dentists', internes' or orderlies' gowns, suits or coats.
Druggists' coats.
Slaughter house workers' coats.
Butchers', fish handlers' or dairy workers' coats or apron sets.
Cooks' coats.
Safety garments as defined in paragraph (a) (1)

shall after August 22, 1942 hold in his inventory a total quantity of work clothing textiles for such garments, such textiles in process of manufacture into such garments and such completed garments in excess of such a total quantity as will be delivered out of his inventory within 150 days after the receipt of any delivery of such textiles to his inventory.

(2) No manufacturer of waistbands or trouser curtains and no converter or finisher of work clothing textiles shall after August 22, 1942, hold in his inventory any work clothing textiles, except cotton suedes, cotton corduroys and cotton moleskins, in excess of the total quantity of such textiles, including such textiles in process, which will be delivered out of his inventory within 90 days.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

(ii) Pro rata widths of like count and weight to the above constructions.

(3) "Hospital clothing processor" shall mean:

(i) A person who purchases hospital clothing textiles for manufacturing, or to be manufactured for his account, into hospital clothing for sale or rental, and any Federal, state, county or municipal institution engaged in the manufacture of hospital clothing,

(ii) The converter or finisher of hospital clothing textiles who bleaches, finishes or processes hospital clothing textiles for sale to a processor of hospital clothing as defined in paragraph (a) (3) (i).

(4) "Inventory" shall mean the total quantity of hospital clothing textiles or of hospital clothing textiles in process of manufacture into hospital clothing or of hospital clothing owned by any hospital clothing processor and held by him in any mill, warehouse, place of storage or manufacturing plant.

(b) Assignment of preference rating. Purchase or manufacturing orders for hospital clothing textiles placed by hospital clothing processors are hereby assigned a preference rating of A-2.

(c) Application of preference rating. Any hospital clothing processor, in order to apply the preference rating assigned by paragraph (b) to deliveries of material to him, must endorse on or attach to each purchase or manufacturing order placed by him to which the rating is applied, a certificate in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

CERTIFICATE

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the seller and the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply the preference rating indicated opposite the items shown on the attached purchase order and that such application is in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3 as amended, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar. Furthermore, the undersigned certifies that the fabrics hereby ordered will be used in the manufacture of hospital clothing or otherwise disposed of only as permitted in General Preference Order No. M-207 and or Schedule III thereto.

(Name of hospital clothing processor) _____ (Address) _____

By _____ (Signature and title of authorized officer) _____ (Date)

Such endorsement shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and the supplier with whom the contract or purchase order is placed that such contract or purchase order is duly rated in accordance herewith.

Such person applying ratings must maintain at his regular place of business all documents, including purchase or manufacturing orders, preference rating orders and certificates upon which he relies as entitling him to apply or extend such ratings, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

(d) Restrictions on inventory. In addition to the restrictions on inventory contained in Priorities Regulation No. 1 (§ 944.14):

(1) No manufacturer of hospital clothing shall after November 21, 1942, hold in his inventory a total quantity of hospital clothing textiles for such garments, such textiles in process of manufacture into such garments, and such completed garments in excess of such a total quantity as will be delivered out of his inventory within ninety days.

(2) No converter or finisher of hospital clothing textiles who purchases gray goods for bleaching, finishing, or processing into hospital clothing textiles for sale to a hospital clothing manufacturer shall after November 21, 1942, hold in his inventory any hospital clothing textiles in excess of the total quantity of such textiles, including such textiles in process, which will be delivered out of his inventory within ninety (90) days.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

(ii) Pro rata widths of same count and weight to the above constructions.

(3) "Women's work clothing processor" shall mean:

(i) A person who purchases women's work clothing textiles for manufacturing, or to be manufactured for his account, into women's work clothing for sale or rental, and any Federal, state, county or municipal institution engaged in the manufacture of women's work clothing,

(ii) The converter or finisher of women's work clothing textiles who bleaches, finishes or processes women's work clothing textiles for sale to a processor of women's work clothing as defined in paragraph (a) (3) (i).

(b) Assignment of preference rating. Purchase or manufacturing orders for women's work clothing textiles placed by women's work clothing processors are hereby assigned a preference rating of A-2.

(c) Revocation of preference rating heretofore assigned. The preference rating of A-2 assigned by this schedule as heretofore issued to orders for certain textile fabrics placed by women's work clothing processors is hereby revoked with respect to the undelivered portions of orders for any such textile fabrics which do not fall within the definitions of "women's work clothing textiles" as herein contained.

(d) Restrictions on use of textiles secured pursuant to rating. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) (1) of General Preference Order M-207, no women's work clothing processor shall use or process any textile fabrics secured pursuant to the application of the rating assigned by this schedule as heretofore or as presently issued:

(1) In the manufacture of any garments which do not fall within the definition of "women's work clothing" as herein contained, except that any such fabrics which have on March 1, 1943, been cut may be manufactured into garments falling within such definition as contained in this schedule as heretofore issued; or

(2) By dyeing, printing or finishing them in any shades other than bleached or plain shades; or

(3) In the manufacture of any women's work clothing which is not visibly stamped, or labeled by machine stitching, on the outside of the garment (or in the center inside neck) with the following marking:

Manufactured for use by female industrial and agricultural workers.

(e) Application of preference rating. Any women's work clothing processor in order to apply the preference rating assigned by paragraph (b) to deliveries of material to him, must endorse on or attach to each purchase order placed by him to which the rating is applied, a certificate in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an officer duly authorized for such purpose:

CERTIFICATION

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the seller and the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply the preference rating indicated opposite the items shown on the attached purchase order and that such application is in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar. Furthermore, the undersigned certifies that the fabrics hereby ordered will be used in the manufacture of women's work clothing or otherwise disposed of only as permitted in General Preference Order M-207 and or Schedule IV thereto.

PART 3144—WOODEN CONTAINERS FOR FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

[Limitation Order L-232]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of materials entering into the manufacture of wooden containers for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3144.1 General Limitation Order L–232—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Wooden container" means any box, case, crate, hamper, round stave basket, splint basket, climax basket, till basket, or berry cup which (i) is made wholly or partially of lumber, veneer, or plywood, and (ii) is of a type customarily used for packing fresh fruits and vegetables for sale and/or shipment.

(2) "Hamper", "round stave basket", and "splint basket" have the same meanings as in rules and regulations[1] of The Secretary of Agriculture issued under the United States Standard Container Act of 1928,[2] "Climax basket", "till basket", and "berry cup" mean baskets and containers of the type subject to rules and regulations[3] of The Secretary of Agriculture issued under the United States Standard Container Act of 1916,[4] as amended.

(b) Restrictions. On and after March 4, 1943,

(1) No person shall commercially manufacture or assemble any wooden container which does not conform with the specifications of Schedule A of this order;

(2) No person shall commercially manufacture any wooden parts designed for any wooden container which, when assembled, will not conform with those specifications;

(3) No manufacturer, dealer in or commercial user of wooden containers shall imprint, or cause to be imprinted or stamped, on wooden containers for fresh fruits or vegetables any names, words or figures not required by law, or dye, stain or otherwise color such containers. This restriction shall not prohibit the attachment of paper or other separate labels.

(c) Exceptions. The restrictions of paragraph (b) above shall not apply to:

(1) The manufacture or assembly of wooden containers by any person from wooden parts cut to size by him before March 4, 1943: Provided, Such manufacture or assembly is completed by May 31, 1943;

(2) The assembly of wooden containers by any person from cut-to-size wooden parts bought and received by him before April 1, 1943: Provided, Such assembly is completed by May 31, 1943;

(3) The manufacture or assembly of wooden containers, or the manufacture of wooden parts for wooden containers, to be delivered:

(i) To or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Department of Agriculture (for Lend-Lease purposes): Provided, The government agency's specifications require wooden containers which do not comply with paragraph (b);

(ii) To any person for use in packing fresh fruits or vegetables for delivery to or for the account of such government agencies: Provided, The government agency's specifications require wooden containers which do not comply with paragraph (b): And provided further, Such person furnishes the container or container-parts supplier with a written certification in substantially the following form, signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

This is to certify that specifications of orders received by the undersigned from (designate government agency) require wooden containers not conforming with Order L–232. The material ordered herewith is for that purpose only.

Company_____
By_____ Title_____ Date_____

Such certification shall constitute a representation to the supplier and to the War Production Board as to the truth of the facts stated therein. The supplier may rely upon such representation unless he has knowledge or reason to believe that it is not true.

(d) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–232.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A—SPECIFICATIONS FOR WOODEN CONTAINERS.

PART 3199—MALTED GRAINS AND MALT SYRUPS

[Conservation Order M-288]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of malted grains and malt syrups for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3199.1 Conservation Order M–288—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Brewer" means any person engaged in the commercial manufacture of malt beverages in the continental United States.

(2) "Malt beverage" means beer, ale, stout, porter, near-beer, and beverages of a similar kind, made by alcoholic fermentation of malted grain with or without other food products, and with hops or hop extracts.

(3) "Malted grain" means barley, wheat, rye, or any other grain, which has been steeped in water, germinated, and dried.

(4) "Malt syrup" means any syrup or extract derived from malted grain, in whole or in part.

(5) "Minimum carload" means a rail shipment of such minimum quantity as the Office of Defense Transportation may establish as the minimum permitted carload in General Order 18, Revised (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49, Chapt. II, Part 500, subpart C, 7 F.R.8337), as it may be amended or modified from time to time.

(6) "Use" of malted grain, means infusion into a mash; of malt syrup, it means introduction into the brewing process.

(7) "Quota period" means March 1 through May 31, 1943, inclusive, and each following three-month period.

(8) "Base period" means a period beginning and ending one year prior to the beginning and ending of the corresponding quota period.

(b) Restrictions on use. (1) No brewer, except as permitted in paragraph (b) (2), shall use during any quota period, in the manufacture of malt beverages, more than 93% of the quantity of malted grain, and more than 93% of the quantity of malt syrup, which he used for such purpose during the corresponding base period.

(2) Notwithstanding the limitations of paragraph (b) (1), any brewer whose total permitted use of malted grain, calculated pursuant to paragraph (b) (1), during the twelve calendar months beginning March 1, 1943, would not exceed 70,000 bushels, may use:

(i) During the twelve calendar months beginning March 1, 1943, not over 70,000 bushels of malted grain.

(ii) During any quota period, not over 100% of the malted grain which he used during the corresponding base period: Provided, however, That the use quota of a brewer having more than one plant shall be determined pursuant to paragraph (b) (1), and not this paragraph, unless the combined quotas of all his plants is less than 70,000 bushels.

(3) Except for the purpose of determining whether a brewer's permitted use of malt syrup and malted grain is governed by paragraph (b) (1) or paragraph (b) (2), the quotas assigned to a brewer having more than one plant shall be deemed assigned to each plant separately.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. (1) Except as permitted in paragraph (c) (2), no brewer may accept delivery of malted grain or malt syrup if his inventory is or by reason of such delivery would become in excess of the maximum permitted by paragraph (d).

(2) Nothing in this order shall be construed to require delivery of less than a minimum carload. Notwithstanding the limitations of paragraph (c) (1), any brewer having in his possession or under his control less than his permitted inventory of malted grain may accept delivery of a minimum carload of such grain.

(d) Restrictions on inventory. (1) On and after March 1, 1943, and except as authorized in paragraphs (c) (2), (d) (2), (d) (3), and (d) (4), no brewer shall permit his inventory of malted grain or brewer's malt syrup to exceed at any time 10% of the quantity of each such product used by him in the manufacture of malt beverages during 1942.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions of paragraph (d) (1), any brewer shall be permitted an inventory of malted grain not exceeding 4,000 bushels.

(3) On and after March 1, 1943, notwithstanding the restrictions of paragraph (d) (1), a brewer who is also engaged in the business of producing malted grain or brewer's malt syrup shall be permitted an inventory of each of such products not exceeding at any time during any month the maximum inventory of each of such products which he maintained at any time during the corresponding month of 1942.

(4) Any brewer having an inventory in excess of that permitted by this order is not required by this order to dispose of the excess and may retain it and use it at any time as permitted in paragraph (b).

(e) Transfer of quotas. Use and inventory quotas may be carried over from one quota period to another quota period only with the specific permission of the Director General for Operations. Application for such permission shall be made by letter setting forth the pertinent facts, the relief requested, and the reasons why such relief should be granted.

(f) Existing contracts. The fulfillment of existing contracts for the sale of malted grains and brewer's malt syrup is permissible only to the extent that such fulfillment does not violate the quota or inventory restrictions imposed by this order.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations and orders. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations and orders of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Reports. All manufacturers of malted grain and brewer's malt syrup shall file with the Beverages and Tobacco

Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., a monthly report of production and disposition of such products on Form PD–816. The first reports submitted pursuant to the requirements of this paragraph shall cover January and February, 1943 operations, and shall be filed on or before March 10, 1943. In addition, all persons affected by this order shall file such other reports as the Director General for Operations may from time to time require.

(3) Records. Every person to whom this order applies shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, usage, and sales.

(4) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Beverages and Tobacco Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref. M–238.

(7) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. PART 1300—PROCEDURE

[Procedural Reg. 9,[1] Amendment 4]

UNIFORM APPEAL PROCEDURE UNDER RATION ORDERS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Procedural Regulation 9 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1300.605 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) The State Director may, at the request of the appellant, order that a hearing be held on the appeal. The hearing shall be conducted by the State Director or a presiding officer designated by him. The presiding officer shall preside at the hearing, administer oaths and affirmations, and rule on the admission and exclusion of evidence.

2. Section 1300.605 (d) is renumbered as § 1300.605 (f) and a new § 1300.605 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Notice of any hearing to be held pursuant to this regulation shall be served on the respondent not less than three days prior to such hearing. The notice shall state the time and place of the hearing and the purpose for which the hearing is to be held.

3. Section 1300.605 (e) is renumbered as § 1300.605 (g) and a new § 1300.605 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) Any hearing held pursuant to this regulation shall be conducted in such manner as will permit the respondent to present evidence and argument to the fullest extent compatible with fair and expeditious determination of the issues raised in the hearing. To this end:

(1) The respondent shall have the right to be represented by counsel of his own choosing.

(2) The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

(3) The presiding officer, having due regard to the need for expeditious decision, shall afford reasonable opportunity for cross examination of witnesses.

4. Section 1300.611 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Region II. New York: Binghamton, New York, Albany, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse; New Jersey: Camden, Newark, Trenton; Pennsylvania: Altoona, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Williamsport; Maryland: Baltimore; Delaware: Wilmington; Washington, D. C.: Washington, D. C.

5. Section 1300.611 (h) is amended to read as follows:

(h) Region VIII. Arizona: Phoenix; California: Fresno, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego; Nevada: Reno; Oregon: Portland; Washington: Seattle.

This amendment shall become effective March 5, 1943.

portation shortages continue to affect the coal supply in the area, the demand for firewood will increase.

Higher wage scales and more attractive employment opportunities have drawn manpower from firewood and coal mining operations in the Pacific Northwest to shipbuilding and other war industries. At the same time, the influx of labor to meet the needs of industry has swelled the population, particularly in the urban centers. These factors have created a serious uncertainty as to the adequacy of firewood supplies, which uncertainty is aggravated by the demands of the armed forces for fuel. Although intensive efforts are being made, there can be no positive assurance of adequate supplies of coal and fuel oil, and the scarcity of those fuels will intensify the demand for firewood.

In view of these circumstances, it is desirable to obtain all pertinent data respecting the supply and distribution of firewood in the affected area through registration and monthly reports of dealers, and, at the same time, to permit the Regional Administrator, wherever he finds that conditions in a particular locality so require, to issue orders for the purpose of assuring a fair distribution of the available supply among consumers.

§ 1394.9201 Rationing of firewood. Under the authority vested in the Office of Price Administration and the Price Administrator by Executive Order No. 9125 issued by the President on April 7, 1942, by Directive No. 1 and Supplementary Directive No. 1-U of the War Production Board issued January 24, 1942, and February 10, 1943, respectively, Ration Order No. 14 (Firewood), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

RATION ORDER NO. 14—FIREWOOD

CONTENTS

Sec.
1.1 This order applies only in "limitation area."
1.2 Dealers required to register.
1.3 Dealers required to report.
1.4 Regional Administrator may establish delivery and other restrictions.
1.5 Certain government agencies not affected.
1.6 Prohibited acts.
1.7 Suspension orders.
1.8 Terms explained.

SECTION 1.1 This order applies only in "limitation area." Except as otherwise expressly provided, this order applies only within the States of Washington and Oregon and the following counties in the State of Idaho: Boundary, Bonner, Kootenai, Benewah, Latah, Nez Perce, Shoshone, Clearwater, Lewis and Idaho (hereafter called the "limitation area").

SEC. 1.2 Dealers required to register. (a) Any person who customarily delivers a total of more than four (4) cords of firewood a month from any place or places within the Limitation Area to consumers within or without the limitation area, or from any place or places without the Limitation Area to consumers within the limitation area, is a dealer.

(b) Every dealer shall register, within the registration period fixed by the Regional Administrator, by filing a dealer registration certificate on Form OPA R-1404. The dealer shall furnish all the information required by the form and file the form, in duplicate, in person or by mail, with the district office of the Office of Price Administration for the area in which he has a place of business. Every dealer who delivers firewood into the limitation area from a place of business outside the limitation area shall register at the district office in the limitation area nearest to his place of business.

(c) Every dealer shall make a separate registration for each place of business in the limitation area from which deliveries of firewood are made and for each place of business outside the limitation area from which deliveries of firewood into the limitation area are made.

(d) Upon approval of the dealer's registration, one copy of the dealer registration certificate will be returned to him appropriately marked.

(e) No dealer may deliver firewood to any person unless he has properly filled in and filed a dealer registration certificate.

SEC. 1.3 Dealers required to report. On or before the fifth day of each month, beginning with the 5th day of April, 1943, every registered dealer shall file, in person or by mail, with the district office, or offices, at which he is registered, a report on Form OPA R-1408 furnishing the information for the preceding month required by the form.

SEC. 1.4 Regional Administrator may establish delivery and other restrictions. Whenever the Regional Administrator finds that conditions affecting the supply or distribution of firewood in a locality or localities in the limitation area so require, he may issue an order, effective in such locality or localities, and for such period, as may be stated in the order. Such orders may be issued from time to time and may contain any one or more of the following provisions:

(a) Prohibiting dealers from delivering firewood to any consumer, and consumers from accepting any delivery of firewood, where the consumer has in his possession more than thirty (30) days' requirements of firewood and other fuel for heating, hot water, or cooking purposes. The order shall not, however, prohibit any single delivery of firewood by means of a transportation facility, generally used in such delivery, which brings the total amount of fuel in the consumer's possession to more than thirty (30) days' (but not more than sixty (60) days') requirements;

(b) Allocating or giving priorities to deliveries of firewood, upon such conditions as he may designate;

(c) Directing that dealers accept orders for and deliver dry wood to the extent that they have dry wood on hand, before accepting orders for or making deliveries of green wood.

SEC. 1.5 Certain government agencies not affected. Nothing in this order or in any order issued by the Regional Administrator shall be construed to limit the quantity of firewood which may be acquired by or for the account of:

(a) The Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, Panama Canal, Coast and Geodetic Survey, Coast Guard, Civil Aeronautics Authority, National Advisory Commission for Aeronautics, Office of Scientific Research and Development, and Office of Lend-Lease Administration, of the United States; or

(b) Any government agency or other person acquiring firewood for export to and for consumption or use in any foreign country.

SEC. 1.6 Prohibited acts. (a) Regardless of any agreement or commitment, no person shall deliver or receive a delivery of firewood except in accordance with this order and with any order issued hereunder by the Regional Administrator.

(b) No person shall make any false or misleading statement or entry in any document or record required to be filed or kept under this order or any order issued hereunder by the Regional Administrator.

(c) No person shall offer, solicit, attempt or agree to do any act in violation of this order or any order issued hereunder by the Regional Administrator.

SEC. 1.7 Suspension orders. Any person who violates this order or any order issued hereunder by the Regional Administrator may, by suspension order issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration or the Regional Administrator, or under the authority of either of them, be prohibited from receiving any deliveries of, or selling or using or otherwise disposing of, any firewood or other rationed product or facility. Such suspension order shall be issued for such period as in the judgment of the Administrator or Regional Administrator, or of such person as either of them may designate for such purpose, is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national security.

SEC. 1.8 Terms explained. (a) When used in this order, the term:

"Consumer" means any person who uses firewood or who acquires firewood for his own use;

"Dealer" means any person who customarily delivers a total of more than four (4) cords of firewood a month from any place or places within the Limitation Area to consumers within or without the Limitation Area, or from any place or places without the Limitation Area to consumers within the Limitation Area;

"Delivery" means any transfer of possession, directly or indirectly;

"Firewood" means any wood or wood products commonly known as firewood, including forest cordwood, slabwood; mill ends, edgings or other millwaste; kindling wood, shavings, hogged fuel, and sawdust, including sawdust pressed into logs or bricks;

"Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing;

"Regional Administrator" means the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration for Region VIII.

(b) Where the context so requires, words in the singular shall include the plural, words in the plural shall include the singular, and the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter.

Effective Date

This ration order shall become effective March 1, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 307 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

GENERAL MILLS INC.

General Mills Inc., of Minneapolis, Minnesota made application for an authorization of a maximum price for the sale of tapioca flour per 100 pounds f. o. b. Minneapolis, Minnesota. Due consideration has been given to the application and it appears from the facts alleged that this commodity cannot be priced for the seller under § 1499.2(b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. For reasons set forth in an opinion in support of this order, issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with § 1499.3(b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, It is hereby ordered:

§ 1499.1743 Approval of a maximum price for sales of tapioca flour per 100 pounds f. o. b. New York, New York by General Mills Inc. (a) General Mills Inc., Chamber of Commerce Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota, may sell and deliver, and any person may buy and receive from General Mills Inc., tapioca flour at a maximum price not to exceed $6.50 per 100 pounds.

(b) This Order No. 307 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(c) This Order No. 307 (§ 1499.1743) shall become effective March 1, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 296,[1] Amendment 1]

FLOUR FROM WHEAT, SEMOLINA AND FARINA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Subparagraphs III (b) and III (c) (iii) and paragraph V of § 1351.1666. Appendix A, are amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.1666 Appendix A. * * * *

III. Maximum prices for cake flour and other soft wheat bakery flour packed in 98 pound cotton bags, in carload quantities, delivered at specified destinations. * * *

(b) At destinations in the following States: Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, and South Carolina, the maximum prices for cake flour and other soft wheat bakery flour shall be $9.25 per barrel for cake flour, $8.10 per barrel for other soft wheat bakery flour with an ash content of .41% or less, and $7.60 per barrel for other soft wheat bakery flour with an ash content greater than .41%, plus such one of the following rail charges as results in the lowest delivered price: (i) the lowest carload proportional rail rate from Memphis, Tennessee; Cairo, Illinois; or Evansville, Indiana, to the destination; or (ii) the lowest carload proportional rail rate from Louisville, Kentucky, or Cincinnati, Ohio, to the destination, applicable on billing originating in Ohio and Indiana.

(c) At destinations in all states except those mentioned in paragraphs (a) and (b) hereof, the maximum prices shall be computed as follows:

* * * * * *

(iii) For flour milled in any state other than those mentioned in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) hereof, the maximum prices shall be $9.60 per barrel for cake flour, $8.45 per barrel for other soft wheat bakery flour with an ash content of .41% or less, and $7.95 per barrel for other soft wheat bakery flour with an ash content greater than .41%, less the charge at the lowest flat domestic carload rail rate from the milling point to New York City, plus the charge at the lowest flat domestic carload rail rate from the milling point to the destination: Provided, That, at or within twenty-five miles of the milling point, the maximum price for carload quantities shall be the price obtained by deducting the transportation charge to New York City as directed in this subparagraph (iii) and then adding 20¢ per barrel.

* * * * *

V. Maximum prices for family flours in carload quantities, packed in 98 pound cotton sacks, delivered at specified destinations. The maximum prices for family flour in carload quantities, packed in 98 pound cotton sacks delivered at destinations in the various states and the District of Columbia, shall be as follows:

	Per barrel
Colorado, east of the Rocky Mountains	$7.25

PART 1412—SOLVENTS

[MPR 295,[1] Amendment 2]

WEST COAST ETHYL ALCOHOL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1412.165 (g) (1), item (1), "Raw materials, in the case of molasses, not to exceed an amount computed on the basis of $18.00 per ton of 48% sugar content," is amended to read "Raw materials."

A new subparagraph (9) is added to § 1412.162 (a), and §§ 1412.165 (a) and 1412.165 (b) are amended, as set forth below:

§ 1412.162 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

* * * * * *

(9) "Premium grade pure ethyl alcohol" means ethyl alcohol of acidity as acetic acid not exceeding 0.0014 gms. per 100 cc, containing non-volatile material not over 0.0025 gms. per 100 cc, having no foreign odor in either dilute or concentrated form, and testing not less than 40 minutes permanganate time determined by the following method: A glass stoppered cylinder is thoroughly cleaned, rinsed with distilled water and then with the alcohol to be tested. If the cylinder has been previously used in this test, it should be cleaned with strong hydrochloric acid to remove the oxides of manganese formed in testing previous samples. A 50 cc portion of the alcohol to be tested is introduced, the cylinder and contents cooled to approximately 15° Centigrade, and 2 cc of freshly prepared potassium permanganate solution containing 0.2 gm. per liter is added by means of a pipette, the exact time being noted. The contents are mixed at once by inverting the stoppered cylinder, which is then placed out of bright light and kept at 15° to 16° C until the test is finished. The number of minutes required for the complete disappearance of the pink color is the permanganate time of the alcohol.

* * * * * *

§ 1412.165 Appendix A: Maximum prices for West Coast ethyl alcohol. The following maximum prices are established for sales of West Coast ethyl alcohol of 188–191.6 proof, except where otherwise specified:

(a) Sales by manufacturers in quantities of 50 gallons or more. All prices listed in this paragraph are f. o. b. manufacturer's production point.

(1) Heavy tonnage formulae—(i) Sales in tank cars or tank trucks.

	Per gallon
CD12	$0.455
CD13	.455
CD14	.455
SD1	.455
SD2B	.43
SD3A	.435
SD12A	.43
SD23A	.45
SD23G	.485
SD23H	.45
Proprietary name solvent	.465

(ii) Sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks. For sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks, the following amounts per gallon may be added to the maximum prices established in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph:

Container	C. L.	L. C. L. Over 950 gallons	L. C. L. 50–950 gallons
Drums (50–55 gallons)	$0.08	$0.10	$0.13
Half drums (25–35 gallons)	.11	.13	.16
Barrels (50–55 gallons)	.15	.17	.20
Half barrels (25–35 gallons)	.22	.24	.27
5-gallon metal containers	.18	.20	.23
Containers of less than 5 gallons	.23	.25	.28

For sales in intermediate size containers not listed above, there may be added the per gallon differential for the next larger size container of the same general type, plus or minus the per gallon difference in cost between the container being used and the next larger size container.

(2) Undenatured ethyl alcohol and other formulae of denatured ethyl alcohol—(i) Sales in tank cars or tank trucks, (a) Undenatured (including pure) ethyl alcohol—$.43 per gallon. Premium grade pure ethyl alcohol—$.45 per gallon.

(b) Other formulae. The maximum price per gallon for denatured ethyl alcohol of a formula not listed in paragraph (a) above shall be a price determined as follows:

To the maximum tank car price for 100 gallons of SD2B ethyl alcohol, add 115 per cent of the net cost of the denaturants added to 100 gallons of undenatured ethyl alcohol to prepare the formula being priced; divide this total by the number of gallons of denatured ethyl alcohol thus obtained; round the figure so obtained to the nearest half cent, and add one cent. The resulting figure is the maximum tank car or tank truck price per gallon of the formula of denatured ethyl alcohol being priced.

"Net cost of the denaturants" means the delivered cost to the manufacturer of the denaturants actually used. Such "net cost" shall be determined in accordance with the accounting procedures in use by the manufacturer on September 30, 1942, for computing costs of material used, and shall not exceed the maximum delivered price to such manufacturer for such denaturants as established by any applicable regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(ii) Sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks. For sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks, the following amounts per gallon may be added to the maximum prices established in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph:

Drums	$0.08	$0.115	$0.145
Half drums	.11	.145	.175
Barrels	.15	.185	.215
Half barrels	.22	.255	.285
5-gallon metal container	.21	.245	.275
Other 5-gallon container	.41	.445	.475
1 gallon	.60	.635	.665

For sales in other size containers not listed above, there may be added the per gallon differential for the next larger size container of the same general type, plus or minus the per gallon difference in cost between the container being used and the next larger size container.

(3) Undenatured and denatured ethyl alcohol of proof higher than 191.6. For sales of undenatured (including pure) ethyl alcohol of higher than 191.6 proof and formulae of denatured ethyl alcohol based on ethyl alcohol of higher than 191.6 proof the following amounts per gallon may be added to the maximum prices established in paragraphs (1) and (2) above:

	Per gallon
Over 191.6 and less than 199.5 proof	$0.01
199.5–200 proof	.045

(b) Denatured ethyl alcohol sold on a toll basis. Where denatured ethyl alcohol, made with denaturants furnished by the buyer, is sold by a manufacturer, the buyer shall pay the freight on the denaturants to the denaturing plant, and the manufacturer may charge for every gallon of undenatured ethyl alcohol supplied, the maximum prices established in this regulation for undenatured ethyl alcohol of the same type and proof sold in the same quantity in identical containers and, in addition 1½¢ per gallon of denatured ethyl alcohol thus produced.

* * * * * *

This amendment shall become effective March 1, 1943.

equally spaced and in such number as to mark distinctly the entire length and course of the line, the intervals between lights where the line crosses navigable channels to be not more than 30 feet.

Part 312 is amended by inserting a new center heading to follow § 312.33 and to read as follows: "Unauthorized Use of Lights; Unnecessary Whistling"

PART 322—PILOT RULES FOR THE GREAT LAKES

Section 322.17 is amended to read as follows:

§ 322.17 Lights for boats navigating only on the River St. Lawrence. The lights for boats of all kinds navigating only on the River St. Lawrence as far east as Montreal shall be the same as required by law for vessels navigating the Great Lakes, and as required by the rules of the Commandant, for ferryboats, rafts, canal boats, and watercraft propelled by hand power, horsepower, or by the current of the river.

Section 322.18 is amended by changing the last undesignated paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 322.18 Lights for ferryboats. * * *

Merchant marine inspectors in charge in districts having ferryboats shall, whenever the safety of navigation may require, designate for each line of such boats a certain light, white or colored, which shall show all around the horizon, to designate and distinguish such lines from each other, which light shall be carried on a flagstaff amidships, 15 feet above the white range lights.

PART 323—ANCHORAGE AND NAVIGATION REGULATIONS; ST. MARY'S RIVER, MICHIGAN

Section 323.31 is amended by changing the first undesignated paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 323.31 Small craft. Motorboats as defined by section 1 of an Act of Congress approved April 25, 1940 (54 Stat. [illegible]

PART 10—INSURANCE

PREMIUM WAIVERS AND TOTAL DISABILITY

Section 10.3444 is being added as follows:

§ 10.3444 National Service Life Insurance issued pursuant to section 602 (d) (3) (A), National Service Life Insurance Act, as amended. In any case where a veteran has National Service Life Insurance in force by the payment of premiums in a sum in excess of $5,000 and his application for waiver of premiums under section 602 (n) is denied because of a finding that he became totally disabled prior to the issuance of the insurance and is entitled to waiver of premiums under section 602 (d) (3), National Service Life Insurance Act, as amended, he will be advised of his right to surrender any of such insurance in excess of $5,000 and obtain a policy of insurance in the amount allowable under section 602 (d) (3) of the National Service Life Insurance Act, as amended, that is, an amount of insurance not in excess of $5,000, which together with any other United States Government Life Insurance or National Service Life Insurance then in force, will not exceed in the aggregate $10,000. He will also be advised that he may continue the remaining National Service Life Insurance in force by the payment of premiums. Application for gratuitous insurance must be made within the statutory time limit. (March 1, 1943.)

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, War Department

PART 203—BRIDGE REGULATIONS

RAILWAY BRIDGE NEAR TAVARES, FLA.

Pursuant to the provisions of section 5 of the River and Harbor Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 362; 33 U.S.C. 499), the special regulations governing the operation of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company bridge across Dead River, connecting Lake Eustis and Lake Harris, near Tavares, Florida are hereby amended as follows:

§ 203.434 Dead River, Fla.; bridge of Seaboard Air Line Railway Company near Tavares, Fla. (a) The owner of, or agency controlling, the bridge will not be required to open the drawspan of the above-named bridge between the hours of 8:00 p. m. and 1:00 p. m. the following day, except as provided in paragraph (c).

(b) Whenever a vessel unable to pass under the closed bridge desires to pass through the draw between the hours of 1:00 p. m. and 8:00 p. m., thirty (30) minutes advance notice shall be given to the draw tender, who will be on duty at the bridge. Upon receipt of such notice, the said draw tender, or an authorized representative of the owner of, or agency controlling, the bridge, in compliance therewith, shall arrange for the prompt opening of the draw.

(c) The drawspan shall be opened daily between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 8:00 a. m., and 5:00 p. m. and 6:00 p. m. to allow the passage of United States Coast Guard Reserve patrol boats operating in connection with Leesburg Army Air Base. In the event of an emergency which requires additional opening for passage of United States Coast Guard Reserve boats, the drawspan will be promptly opened upon receipt of notice given the bridge tender by the United States Coast Guard Reserve representative.

(d) The owner of, or agency controlling, the bridge shall keep conspicuously posted on both the upstream and downstream sides of the bridge, in a manner that it can easily be read at any time, a copy of these regulations, together with a notice stating exactly how the representative specified in paragraph (b) may be reached. PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, MARYLAND

Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter XIX of the Army Act approved July 9, 1918 (40 Stat. 892; 33 U.S.C. 3), the restricted area defined in § 204.30 (a) (1) (7 F.R. 2404) is hereby redefined; the description of the restricted area being amended as follows:

§ 204.30 Chesapeake Bay—(a) United States Army Proving Ground Reservation, Aberdeen, Md.—(1) Restricted area defined. The following indicates the limits of the waters of or adjacent to the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, and inside of which boundaries will lie the restricted area known as the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Chesapeake Bay, at the south side of the mouth of Swan Creek, Harford County, Maryland, the most northerly point of the reservation known as Plum Point; thence southeasterly along the low water mark on the shore of Chesapeake Bay to and across the north entrance of Spesutie Narrows to and thence along the low water mark on the north shore of Spesutie Island to Locust Point; thence along straight line from Locust Point to Turkey Point for a distance of approximately 1,400 yards; thence following a line parallel with and 1,000 yards from the low water mark on the easterly shore of Spesutie Island to a point 1,000 yards due southeast of Sandy Point; thence approximately southwest in a straight line to a point approximately 1,250 yards S. 10°30' W. from Bear Point; thence approximately 9,275 yards S. 51°04' W. to a point in Chesapeake Bay about 1,700 yards due east from Taylor Island Point; thence southwesterly in a straight course, except such variations as may be necessary to include all of Pooles Island to the southwesterly point of Pooles Island, thence in a northwesterly direction to the most southwesterly point of Spry Island, including all of Spry Island; thence northwesterly in a straight line to extreme southerly island off Lower Island Point; thence northwesterly in a straight line through Brier Point to a point in Seneca Creek where this line intersects a straight line which passes through monuments No. 124 and No. 125 on westerly part of Carroll Island; thence northeasterly in a straight line passing through Marshy Point, at the junction of Dundee Creek and Saltpeter Creek, to the intersection of the center line of Reardon Inlet with Gunpowder River, except such variations as may be necessary to exclude any and all parts of the point of land on the westerly side of Gunpowder River about one mile south of Oliver Point; thence northerly along the center line of Reardon Inlet to its intersection with the southeasterly line of the right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad; thence northeast along the Pennsylvania Railroad following the reservation boundary line to shore of Bush River, and along its western shore to Fairview Point; thence northeast in a straight line across Bush River to concrete monument No. 64, located on the eastern shore of Bush River, south of Chelsea; thence along the eastern shore of Bush River northerly to the mouth of Sod Run; thence by a broken line along the boundary of the reservation to Swan Creek; and thence in a straight line to Plum Point. (The above description may be traced on Coast and Geodetic Chart No. 1226).

Chapter III—Coast Guard: Inspection and Navigation

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Rules 7, 12, R.S. 4233, as amended; sec. 1, Rule 7, 28 Stat. 646; sec. 1, 29 Stat. 54–55, 34 Stat. 136; sec. 2, 30 Stat. 102, 38 Stat. 381; sec. 14, 35 Stat. 428; sec. 15, 38 Stat. 1184; sec. 2, 23 Stat. 118, as amended; 54 Stat. 163, 166; R.S. 4405, as amended (33 U.S.C. 316, 321, 256, 474, 157, 152, 365, 46 U.S.C. 2, 526, 526p, 375), and Executive Order 9083, dated February 28, 1942 (7 F.R. 1609), the following amendments to the Inspection and Navigation regulations are prescribed:

PART 304—TOWING OF BARGES

Section 304.5 is amended to read as follows:

§ 304.5 Reporting violations. Any violation of the regulations in this part shall be reported in writing as soon as practicable to the district Coast Guard officer most convenient to the officer or other person who may witness the violation.

Section 304.10 Accidents sustained or caused by barges in tow is deleted.

PART 312—PILOT RULES FOR INLAND WATERS

Section 312.15 is amended by changing the last undesignated paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 312.15 Ferryboats. • • •

Merchant marine inspectors in charge in districts having ferryboats shall, whenever the safety of navigation may require, designate for each line of such boats a certain light, white or colored, which will show all around the horizon, to designate and distinguish such lines from each other, which light shall be carried on a flagstaff amidships, 15 feet above the white range lights.

Section 312.24 is amended by changing the first sentence thereof to read as follows:

§ 312.24 Lights to be displayed on pipe lines. Pipe lines attached to dredges and either floating or supported on trestles shall display by night one row of amber lights not less than 8 feet nor more than 12 feet above the water, about equally spaced and in such number as to mark distinctly the entire length and course of the line, the intervals between lights where the line crosses navigable channels to be not more than 30 feet.

Part 312 is amended by inserting a new center heading to follow § 312.33 and to read as follows: "Unauthorized Use of Lights; Unnecessary Whistling"

PART 322—PILOT RULES FOR THE GREAT LAKES

Section 322.17 is amended to read as follows:

§ 322.17 Lights for boats navigating only on the River St. Lawrence. The lights for boats of all kinds navigating only on the River St. Lawrence as far east as Montreal shall be the same as required by law for vessels navigating the Great Lakes, and as required by the rules of the Commandant, for ferryboats, rafts, canal boats, and watercraft propelled by hand power, horsepower, or by the current of the river.

Section 322.18 is amended by changing the last undesignated paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 322.18 Lights for ferryboats. • • •

Merchant marine inspectors in charge in districts having ferryboats shall, whenever the safety of navigation may require, designate for each line of such boats a certain light, white or colored, which shall show all around the horizon, to designate and distinguish such lines from each other, which light shall be carried on a flagstaff amidships, 15 feet above the white range lights.

PART 323—ANCHORAGE AND NAVIGATION REGULATIONS; ST. MARY'S RIVER, MICHIGAN

Section 323.31 is amended by changing the first undesignated paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 323.31 Small craft. Motorboats as defined by section 1 of an Act of Congress approved April 25, 1940 (54 Stat. 163; 46 U.S.C. 526), shall be considered amenable to the provisions of §§ 323.2 to 323.5, inclusive, 323.7, 323.29, and 323.30. Sail vessels under 10 gross tons shall be considered amenable to the provisions of §§ 323.2 to 323.5, inclusive, and 323.7.

PART 332—PILOT RULES FOR WESTERN RIVERS

Section 332.14 is amended by changing the last undesignated paragraph thereof to read as follows:

§ 332.14 Lights for ferryboats. • • •

Merchant marine inspectors in charge in districts having ferryboats shall, whenever the safety of navigation may require, designate for each line of such boats a certain light, white or colored, which shall show all around the horizon, to designate and distinguish such lines from each other, which light shall be carried on a flagstaff amidships, 15 feet above the white range lights.

Chapter II—Coast Guard: Inspection and Navigation

AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS: APPROVAL OF EQUIPMENT

By virtue of the authority vested in me by R.S. 4405, 4417a, 4418, 4426, 4429, 4430, 4433, 4488, 4491, as amended, 49 Stat. 1544, 54 Stat. 163–167, 54 Stat. 1028 (46 U.S.C. 375, 391a, 392, 404, 407, 408, 411, 481, 489, 367, 526–526t, 463a), and Executive Order 9083 dated February 28, 1942 (7 F.R. 1609), the following amendments to the Inspection and Navigation regulations and approval of miscellaneous items of equipment for the better security of life at sea are prescribed:

Subchapter C—Motorboats, and Certain Vessels Propelled by Machinery Other Than by Steam More Than 65 Feet in Length

PART 25—REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL MOTORBOATS EXCEPT THOSE OF OVER 15 GROSS TONS CARRYING PASSENGERS FOR HIRE

Section 25.1–6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 25.1–6 Approved lights. Six months after the termination of the Unlimited National Emergency proclaimed by the President May 27, 1941, navigation lights installed, fitted, or replaced on motorboats shall be of an approved type: Provided, That navigation lights installed, fitted, or replaced on a motorboat prior to the termination of the aforesaid period may be continued in service on said motorboat provided they are of such character, and so located, arranged, and illuminated as to comply with the requirements in this part: Provided further, That any such navigation lights temporarily removed and later placed in the position from which removed on any such motorboat shall not be considered as an installation, fitting or replacement.

Section 25.2–1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 25.2–1 Where required. • • •

(b) Whistles or other sound-producing mechanical devices which comply with the requirement in effect on April 24, 1940, may be continued in service until six months after the termination of the Unlimited National Emergency proclaimed by the President May 27, 1941.

Section 25.4–2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 25.4–2 Existing equipment. All life preservers, buoyant cushions, or ring buoys which are permitted by § 25.4–1 and which comply with the requirements of the regulations in effect on April 24, 1941, may be continued in service until six months after the termination of the Unlimited National Emergency proclaimed by the President May 27, 1941.

Section 25.5–2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 25.5–2 Existing equipment. Motorboats having on board fire extinguishers of the type which complied with the requirements in effect on April 24, 1941, and which are in good and serviceable condition are not required to carry approved fire extinguishers until six months after the termination of the Unlimited National Emergency proclaimed by the President May 27, 1941.

PART 26—REQUIREMENTS FOR MOTOR VESSELS EXCEPT THOSE OF MORE THAN 15 GROSS TONS CARRYING PASSENGERS FOR HIRE

Section 26.2–1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 26.2–1 Number and type required. After April 24, 1941, all motor vessels shall carry an approved life preserver for each person on board: Provided, That all life preservers, ring buoys or wooden life floats on board vessels which are of a character that met the requirements of the regulations in effect on April 24, 1941, may be continued in service until six months after the termination of the Unlimited National Emergency proclaimed by the President May 27, 1941.

Section 26.3–7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 26.3–7 Existing equipment. Motor vessels having on board portable fire extinguishers of the type which complied with the requirements in effect on April 24, 1941, and which are in good and serviceable condition are not required to carry approved fire extinguishers until six months after the termination of the Unlimited National Emergency proclaimed by the President May 27, 1941.

Subchapter F—Marine Engineering

PART 55—PIPING SYSTEMS

Section 56.19–3(s)(2) is amended to read as follows:

§ 55.19–3 Detail requirements; piping systems. * * *

(s) * * *

(2) Steel valves and fittings shall be tested by their manufacturer to a hydrostatic pressure in accordance with the requirements of tables P–10 and P–11. Bronze, cast iron or malleable iron valves and fittings for steam service or other services at temperatures exceeding 150° F. shall be tested by their manufacturer to a hydrostatic pressure of not less than 2½ times their steam working pressure. Bronze valves and fittings for high-pressure hydraulic or air services at temperatures not exceeding 150° F. shall be tested by their manufacturer to a hydrostatic pressure of not less than 1½ times their hydraulic or air working pressure.

Subchapter O—Regulations Applicable to Certain Vessels and Shipping During Emergency

PART 153—BOATS, RAFTS, AND LIFESAVING APPLIANCES; REGULATIONS DURING EMERGENCY

Section 153.4a, reading as follows is added to Part 153:

§ 153.4a Construction of life floats. During the emergency, life floats installed after March 31, 1943, on all vessels operating on ocean or coastwise waters shall comply with the following requirements:

(a) General provisions; approval. (1) The standard specifications for balsa wood life floats are set forth in paragraph (d) to enable manufacturers to produce equipment which fully meets the approval requirements by strict adherence to all details of the standard specification.

(2) Manufacturers who desire to manufacture life floats shall submit fully dimensioned drawings and material specifications in quadruplicate in order that they may be considered for approval. After the plans and specifications have been examined and any necessary adjustments made, strength, freeboard, and capacity tests shall be conducted in accordance with paragraph (b).

(b) General characteristics of life floats. Every life float shall conform to the following general requirements:

(1) Construction, materials, and workmanship shall at least be equivalent to that of the standard type.

(2) It shall be effective and stable floating either side up.

(3) It shall have a life line securely becketed around the outside of the life float, festooned in bights approximately 3 feet in length, with a seine float in each bight, and extra life lines or pendants shall be fitted approximately 18 inches apart.

(4) It shall be of such strength that it can be launched or dropped from a height of 60 feet into the water flat, sidewise, and endwise without damage to the body, or other damage affecting the serviceability of the float for the purpose intended.

(5) After the drop tests, the buoyancy of the life float shall be determined, and then be tested in fresh water for 48 hours while loaded with a weight giving a downward gravitational pull of 40 pounds for each person of capacity, the weight being out of water, or equivalent. The life float shall be reversed in the water at the end of the first 24 hours of this test. At the expiration of the test the buoyancy shall be again determined. Inability to support the test weight of 40 pounds for each person of capacity, or a decrease in the buoyancy of the life float of over 10 percent, shall be considered cause for rejection. Rigging and canvas cover may be removed and inspected for interior damage.

(6) It shall not be allowed a capacity of persons in excess of that established by actual demonstration.

(7) Every life float shall have a brass plate affixed thereon by the builder and bearing his name, the serial number of the float, the date of construction, dimensions, and number of persons the float is certified to carry. A blank space shall be provided for the inspector's initials, port, and the letters "M. I. N".

(8) In addition to the name plate, the number of persons allowed to be carried shall be stenciled in a conspicuous place on the life float.

(c) Factory inspection. (1) An inspector shall examine the construction of life floats at the place where they are built, and, after he has satisfied himself that they are constructed in accordance with the approved plans and specifications, he shall stamp the initials of his name, port, and the letters "M. I. N." on a blank space on the name plate, and this stamp shall be satisfactory evidence that the life float has been constructed in accordance with said plans and specifications.

(2) One float of each size and type manufactured shall be selected at random from each group of approximately 30 and drop-tested from a height of 60 feet. The first one selected from the first group is to be drop-tested flat, the one selected from the second group is to be drop-tested sidewise, and the one selected from the third group is to be drop-tested endwise, so that out of 90 floats manufactured, three floats will have been drop-tested from a height of 60 feet, one flat, one endwise, and one sidewise. After the drop test, the float shall be subjected to a buoyancy test of 40 pounds downward gravitational pull for each person of capacity.

(3) Reports concerning each test shall be forwarded to Headquarters and shall include the name of the inspector who conducted the test, the number stamped on the float tested, date and location of test, together with pertinent details of results.

(d) Standard type balsa wood life floats—(1) Types and capacities. Balsa wood life floats shall be of the elliptical or rectangular types, as illustrated by Figure 1 and Figure 2, respectively, and shall be furnished in 10, 15, 25, 40, or 60 persons capacities.

(2) Balsa wood. Balsa wood shall be of the genus Ochroma; weight not more than 12 pounds nor less than 8½ pounds per cubic foot when thoroughly dry; thickness, 2 inches and over, to average not less than 2½ inches, with not more than 50 percent of 2 inches thickness admitted; width, 3 inches and over, to average not less than 5 inches; length, 3 feet and over, to average not less than 5 feet, with not more than 40 percent of 3-foot lengths admitted. It shall be sound, square edge, kiln dried to a moisture content not exceeding 12 percent, and shall be free from rot, dote, large or unsound knots, wormholes, and other injurious defects; except that one sound, tight knot, not over 1¼ inches in diameter and 150 scattered pin wormholes or their equivalent, will be allowed in every 5 square feet, surface measure, provided the pin wormholes do not exceed 1/32 inch in diameter and that there shall be no concentrations of more than 40 pin wormholes in any square foot of surface area. Pith which does not exceed 1 inch in diameter and which does not appear on the surface of the piece shall not be considered a defect. Boxed pith less than 1 inch in diameter shall not be considered a defect.

(3) Joint and seam arrangement. The balsa wood pieces composing each layer shall be as large as practicable in order to keep the number of pieces and the number of seams and butts to a minimum, but no layer shall be less than 2 inches in thickness. The pieces shall be so arranged in adjacent layers that butts and seams are staggered in order to give maximum rigidity to the whole and to minimize all channels through which water might penetrate. The grain of the wood shall be so laid as to give minimum end grain on the outside surface of the finished body. The use of small pieces for filling purposes in the interior of the body is prohibited. The use of small pieces for fairing purposes on the exterior of the body will be permitted, provided that the grain complies with the above requirement and that the pieces are thoroughly glued in place as hereinafter specified. All butted ends shall be square and smooth. All sides shall be smooth and straight. All butts and seams shall be tightly fitted.

(4) Gluing. Before assembling the various pieces, all end grain of each piece which will form part of a butt or seam shall be given a copious coat of urea formaldehyde or phenol resin waterproof glue. This coat of glue shall be allowed to dry before assembly proceeds. The parts then shall be assembled with a copious coat of the waterproof glue applied to each mating surface of each piece which forms part of a butt or seam. The body shall then be clamped until the glue is dry.

(5) Doweling and smooth finish. The rough body shall then be worked down to its approximate final form and then be doweled as necessary to thoroughly secure all pieces. Dowels shall extend through the entire body of the life float. They shall be of white pine, birch, douglas fir, or equal, ½ inch diameter, and be driven through a ⅜ inch diameter bored hole. Before driving a dowel, the dowel and its hole for the entire length shall be thoroughly coated with waterproof glue. After the glue has dried, the body shall be worked down to its final form. It shall be as smooth as practicable. If any gaps are found to exist in butts or seams, they shall be filled with shims glued in. The entire exterior of the body shall then be given a coat of waterproof glue, which shall be allowed to dry.

(6) Muslin wrapping. The body shall then be tightly wound with a continuous band of unbleached muslin, 4 7/10 ounces per square yard. This band shall be about 8 inches wide and shall be applied with an overlap of ½ its width, so that the final covering is 2 layers thick. As it is applied, the body shall be given a coat of waterproof glue, and care shall be taken that the glue thoroughly penetrates the muslin. After the wrapping is completed, the life float shall be again coated with 2 coats of water-resisting spar varnish. Alternate methods of treating and covering the exterior surface will be considered if the methods have been found satisfactory.

(7) Intent of subparagraphs (2) to (6), inclusive. The intent of the foregoing is to produce a compact monolithic structure without channels or opening through which water may penetrate the interior, and that it shall not only be waterproof at its exterior surface without the aid of further covering but that each piece of which it is constructed shall be a unit which will localize within itself any absorption due to exterior damage. Every effort shall be directed to this result during construction.

(8) Covering. The body shall be covered with a spirally wound covering of No. 10 cotton canvas having a width of 8 inches wrapped in waterproof glue with an overlap of 4 inches on each wrap. The canvas cover shall be given one coat of light gray canvas preservative paint.

(9) Straps. The straps shall be 3-inch cotton tape or webbing having a breaking (tensile) strength of not less than 750 pounds for the 10- and 15-person sizes, and not less than 1,500 pounds for the 25-, 40-, and 60-person sizes.

(10) Thread. All thread used in the construction of life floats shall be No. 16, 3-cord linen or No. 10, 6-cord, glazed finish, heavy cotton thread.

(11) Platform, net, and rigging. The platform, netting, and rigging shall be in general accordance with Figure 1 or 2. Care shall be taken that the platform and netting will readily pass through the life float when it is launched, regardless of which side of the life float strikes the water. All parts of the platform, including surfaces, edges, and rivets, shall be smooth and present no cutting edges, points, or splinters which might be dangerous to a barefooted person. The platform shall be finished in natural wood and painted with two coats of water-resisting spar varnish.

(12) Life line and pendants. The life line around the life float shall be festooned in bights not longer than 3 feet, with a seine float in each bight. The extra life lines or pendants shall be fitted approximately 18 inches apart.

(13) Marking. Each life float shall be fitted with a name plate in accordance with paragraph (b) (7) and be stenciled with the number of persons allowed in accordance with paragraph (b) (8).

Section 153.10 is amended by changing the introductory paragraph to read as follows, and by the addition of a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 153.10 Construction of life preservers. The following provisions are, during the emergency, applicable as alternative details of construction for life preservers to those provided in §§ 28.4–1 to 28.4–10, inclusive, 37.6–1 to 37.6–7, inclusive, 59.55, 60.48, 76.52, 94.52, and 113.44, of this chapter:

* * * * *

(c) Kapok. The kapok shall be raw, having the physical qualities of that grown in Java. This definition shall include vegetable fibers having properties similar to Java kapok. The kapok shall contain less than 5% by weight, of sticks, seeds, dirt, or other foreign matter, and shall be free from objectionable odor and from adulteration with other fiber. The kapok, after first having been submerged 12 inches deep in fresh water for 48 hours, shall have a buoyancy in fresh water of at least 51 pounds per cubic foot when compressed to a density of 3 pounds per cubic foot.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS OF EQUIPMENT APPROVED

The following miscellaneous items of equipment for the better security of life at sea are approved:

Lifeboats

20'0" x 6'0" x 2'6" metallic lifeboat (180 Cu. Ft.) (Dwg. No. NL–18–12–P, dated 30 October 1942), manufactured by Neptune Boat & Davit Co., Inc., New Orleans, La.

16'0" x 5'6" x 2'4½" metallic lifeboat (125 Cu. Ft.) (Dwg. No. L. B. 125, Revised 12 December 1942), manufactured by Neptune Boat & Davit Co., Inc., New Orleans, La.

28'0" x 9'9½" x 4'1½" metallic motor-propelled lifeboat (680 Cu. Ft.) (Dwg. No. 2413), manufactured by Welin Davit & Boat Corporation, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Lifeboat Skates

Skates for lifeboats (Dwg. Nos. 143 and 143A, dated January 1943), manufactured by R. C. Cowles, Baltimore, Md.

Davits

Welin-Maclachlan Gravity Davit, Type 48/21 (Dwg. No. 2397, dated 6 October 1942) (Maximum working load of 10,500 pounds per arm, of which 3,348 pounds is allowed on nesting bracket), manufactured by Welin Davit & Boat Corporation, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Welin-Maclachlan Gravity Davit, Type 40/19 (Dwg. No. 2412, dated 6 October 1942) (Maximum working load of 9,040 pounds per arm, of which 4,018 is allowed on nesting bracket), manufactured by Welin Davit & Boat Corporation, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Life Floats

10-, 15-, 25-, 40-, and 60-person elliptical balsa wood life floats (Dwg. No. G–298 dated 25 November 1942), manufactured by C. C. Galbraith & Son, Inc., New York, N. Y.

Lifeboat Bilge Pumps

Lifeboat bilge pump (Dwg. No. 2403, dater 13 October 1942), manufactured by Welin Davit & Boat Corp., Perth Amboy, N. J.

Lifesaving Nets

Steel lifesaving net, Type No. 6M–L, manufactured by H. K. Metalcraft Manufacturing Co., New York, N. Y.

Steel lifesaving net (Dwg. No. M–310, dated 3 February 1943), manufactured by American Chain Ladder Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.

Ring Life Buoys

30" balsa wood ring life buoy (Dwg. No. S. R.–B–30, dated 2 November 1942), (Approval No. B–175), manufactured by Seaway Manufacturing Company, New Orleans, La.

Water Lights

Delta automatic floating electric water light, Type A–2051 (Dwg. No. A–2051, dated 26 September 1942), manufactured by Delta Electric Company, Marion, Ind.

Contour-A-Form automatic floating electric water light (Dwg. No. A) manufactured by Contour-A-Form Equipment Co., New York, N. Y.

Gas Mask

Gas mask No. BM–1408 (BM–1408 canister, BM–1408F face piece, and BM–1408 canister harness), manufactured by Davis Emergency Equipment Co., Inc., Newark, N. J. (Approved for use against ammonia vapors only.)

Fire Extinguisher

DuGas Models 15M and 30M dry chemical carbon dioxide cartridge type fire extinguishers, manufactured by DuGas Engineering Corporation, Chicago, Ill.

Daytime Distress Signals

V-K Mark 1 Daytime Distress Signal manufactured by Van Kerner Chemical Arms Corporation, New York, New York.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter II—Office of Defense Transportation

[General Order ODT 10A]

PART 501—CONSERVATION OF MOTOR EQUIPMENT

SUBPART G—SIGHTSEEING, CHARTER AND OTHER SPECIAL SERVICES

Pursuant to Executive Orders 8989, 9156, and 9294, and in order to conserve and providently utilize vital transportation equipment, material and supplies; and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, General Order ODT 10, as amended (§§ 501.38–501.42[1]), is hereby revised to read as follows: It is hereby ordered, That:

Sec
501.38 Definitions
501.39 Applicability.
501.40 Certain charter service and other special services prohibited.
501.41 Sightseeing service prohibited.
501.42 Special or general permits.
501.43 Notice of changes in operations of regulated motor carriers.
501.44 Communications.

AUTHORITY: §§ 501.38 to 501.44, inclusive, issued under E.O. 8989, 9156, 9294; 6 F.R. 6725, 7 F.R. 3349, 8 F.R. 221.

§ 501.38 Definitions. As used in this order (§§ 501.38 to 501.44) or in any order, permit, or regulations issued hereunder, the term:

(a) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, joint stock company, business trust, or other organized group of persons or any trustee, receiver, assignee, or personal representative, and includes any department or agency of the United States, any State, the District of Columbia, any educational institution, any school district, any school board, or any other political, governmental or legal entity;

(b) "Bus" means any rubber-tired vehicle used in the transportation of passengers, having a capacity of ten (10) or more passengers;

(c) "Common carrier" means any person which holds itself out to the general public to engage in the transportation of passengers by bus for compensation;

(d) "Charter service" means the transportation by bus by a common carrier, whether or not for compensation, of:

(1) Any passenger or group of passengers who, pursuant to a common purpose or under a single contract or arrangement, acquires the right to use or to occupy, exclusively, the bus in which such passenger or passengers are transported; or

(2) Any passenger or passengers to whom individual tickets have been sold or with or for whom other individual transportation arrangements have been made, from or to any point or over any route, not regularly served by the common carrier facilities and the established scheduled services of the person performing such transportation;

(e) "Other special services" means the transportation by bus, whether or not for compensation, of a passenger or passengers by a person not a common carrier or performed other than as a common carrier;

(f) "Sightseeing service" means the transportation of passengers by bus, whether or not for compensation, or by any other rubber-tired vehicle propelled or drawn by mechanical power, if performed for compensation, for the primary purpose of permitting or enabling any passenger or passengers to see places or objects of general or special interest, whether or not the services of a driver or operator are provided with the vehicle;

(g) "Continental United States" means the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia.

§ 501.39 Applicability. This order shall be applicable only within the continental United States.

§ 501.40 Certain charter service and other special services prohibited. No person shall engage in charter service or other special services except:

(a) In the transportation hereinafter specified when such transportation cannot readily be performed by existing facilities and established scheduled services of common carriers of passengers operating over regular routes between fixed termini, to wit: The transportation of:

(1) Military or naval personnel of the United States, or of State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, if such transportation is furnished on written request of the commanding officer of such personnel;

(2) Persons participating in organized recreational activities of any military or naval establishment, to or from such establishment, if such transportation is furnished on written request of the commanding officer of such establishment;

(3) Registrants to or from examining or induction stations on the written request of an authorized official engaged in the administration of the Selective Service System;

(4) Patients to or from clinics for medical attention, if such transportation is furnished on written request of an authorized official of the United States Public Health Service or of a State board of health;

(5) Students, teachers, and other school employees from their homes to their schools for the purpose of permitting such persons to attend a regular daily session of school, or from such schools to their homes after such attendance, provided that no such person shall be so transported in excess of one round-trip on any one calendar day;

(6) Employees en route between their homes and their places of work;

(7) Children under eighteen (18) years of age and their attendants, from their homes to summer camps, for the purpose of permitting such children to attend such camps for periods in excess of one day, or from such camps to their homes after such periods of attendance: Provided, however, That such service may be given only after written application showing the necessity therefor has been filed with and approved in writing by a Regional Office of the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services, Division of Recreation;

(8) Persons en route between their homes and their places of regular weekly worship for the purpose of attending religious services and returning from such attendance;

(9) Civilians from their homes for purposes of evacuation, in the interest of their safety or to serve military purposes, or to their homes after evacuation, pursuant to orders of governmental or military authorities;

(10) Passengers of common carriers by railroad or by air en route on an established scheduled service operated over a regular route between fixed termini by any such carrier, if such transportation is furnished upon the written request of any such carrier and is furnished in lieu of and as a substitute for such established scheduled service of such carrier which has been temporarily discontinued or interrupted as a result of adverse weather conditions, an act of God, a catastrophe, accident, or other emergency not within the control of such carrier.

(b) In the transportation of:

(1) Insane, mentally disordered or mentally incompetent persons, prisoners, or others under the custody of authorized agents of the United States Government or of the District of Columbia or of any State or municipality, and their custodians, guards, and other necessary attendants, if such transportation is furnished upon written request of an authorized officer of the law or other official charged with the custody of such persons;

(2) A jury, its official custodians and other authorized court attendants, if such transportation is furnished upon written request of the presiding judge of the court in which such jury is serving;

(3) Persons transported in buses owned and operated by the Department of War, the Department of the Navy, or the United States Maritime Commission;

(4) Persons transported in accordance with, within the scope of, and pursuant to a transportation plan, arrangement or contract specifically approved in writing by the Office of Defense Transportation.

§ 501.41 Sightseeing service prohibited. No person shall perform any sightseeing service.

§ 501.42 Special or general permits. The provisions of this order shall be subject to any special or general permit issued by the Office of Defense Transportation to meet specific needs or exceptional circumstances.

§ 501.43 Notice of changes in operations of regulated motor carriers. Every person engaged in charter service, sightseeing service, or other special services on the effective date of this order, who was required by law to file tariffs of rates, charges, rules, or practices, forthwith shall file with the Interstate Commerce Commission, in respect of transportation in interstate or foreign commerce, and with each appropriate State regulatory body in respect of intrastate commerce, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or appropriate supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in the operations, rules, regulations, and practices of such person which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order, together with a notice describing the operations which will be or have been discontinued or suspended in compliance with the provisions of such tariffs or supplements, and a copy of this order; and forthwith shall apply to said Commission and each such regulatory body for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on one day's notice.

§ 501.44 Communications. Communications concerning this order should be addressed to the Division of Local Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C., or to the nearest regional office of the Division of Local Transport, and should refer to "General Order ODT 10A".

This General Order ODT 10A shall become effective March 15, 1943. General Order ODT 10, as amended, is hereby revoked as of the effective date hereof.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 1st day of March 1943.

PART 521—CONSERVATION OF MOTOR EQUIPMENT: EXCEPTIONS, PERMITS, AND EXEMPTIONS

SUBPART O—LIMITATION ON SPEED OF MOTOR VEHICLES

TESTING EQUIPMENT

Pursuant to Executive Orders 8989 and 9156, Exemption Order ODT 23-1 is hereby superseded, and It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 521.3600 Exemption of motor vehicles used in testing. (a) Any motor vehicle used in testing tires, tubes, fuels, lubricants, coolants, parts, or equipment by the United States or any agency thereof, the District of Columbia, a State or any agency or political subdivision thereof, or by any person designated, authorized, required, or requested to conduct such tests by the military or naval forces of the United States or State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended; any motor vehicle used in the course of training military or naval personnel in the proper maintenance or servicing of motor vehicles or other equipment of the armed forces, and any motor vehicle used exclusively for the experimental testing of synthetic or natural rubber tires by manufacturers or producers of such tires is hereby exempted from the provisions of General Order ODT 23 during the periods such motor vehicle is being so used: Provided, There is displayed on such motor vehicle during such operations a triangular pennant (approximately 13 x 19 x 19 inches in size) made of a dual thickness of No. 275 white linen (drill) or similar material edged with ¼ inch red cotton bias binding or its equivalent, and upon both sides of which is inscribed in blue the letter "V" (not less than 7½ inches in height) followed by the word "EMERGENCY" (in letters approximately 1 inch in height). Beneath the letter "V" there shall appear in blue lettering the legend "Authorized by the Office of Defense Transportation" (in letters approximately ⅛ inch in height). Such pennant shall be displayed at the front of such motor vehicle by attachment to the front bumper or brackets and centered so that it is approximately midway between the two headlights. It shall be attached by the method most suitable to the particular vehicle and in such a manner as not to interfere with the safe operation of the vehicle but so attached that it can be seen plainly by the public when the vehicle is in operation on any public highway.

(b) The provisions of this exemption order (§ 521.3600) shall not be so construed or applied as to permit any person to drive or operate, or cause, permit, suffer, or allow to be driven or operated, any motor vehicle at a rate of speed which is in excess of the applicable speed limit duly prescribed by other competent public authority.

This exemption order (ODT 23-1A) shall become effective on March 1, 1943.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter III—International Fisheries Commission

PART 301—PACIFIC HALIBUT FISHERIES

REGULATIONS ADOPTED

Regulations of the International Fisheries Commission adopted pursuant to the Pacific Halibut Fishery Convention between the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada, signed January 29, 1937.

Sec.
301.1 Regulatory areas.
301.2 Limit of catch in each area.
301.3 Length of closed season.
301.4 Issuance of licenses and conditions limiting their validity.
301.5 Retention of halibut taken with other fish under permit.
301.6 Issuance of permits and conditions limiting their validity.
301.7 Statistical return by vessels.
301.8 Statistical return by dealers.
301.9 Closed small halibut grounds.
301.10 Dory gear prohibited in Areas 1 and 2.
301.11 Set nets prohibited.
301.12 Responsibility of master.
301.13 Supervision of unloading and weighing.
301.14 Previous regulations superseded.

AUTHORITY: §§ 301.1 to 301.14, inclusive, issued under 50 Stat. 1351.

§ 301.1 Regulatory areas. (a) The convention waters shall be divided into the following areas, all directions given being magnetic.

(b) Area 1 shall include all convention waters southeast of a line running northeast and southwest through Willapa Bay Light on Cape Shoalwater, as shown on Chart 6185, published in July, 1939, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately in latitude 46° 43′17″ N., longitude 124° 04′ 15″ W.

(c) Area 2 shall include all convention waters off the coasts of the United States of America and of Alaska and of the Dominion of Canada between Area 1 and a line running through the most westerly point of Glacier Bay, Alaska, to Cape Spencer Light as shown on Chart 8304, published in June, 1940, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, which light is approximately latitude 58°11′57″ N., longitude 136° 38′18″ W., thence south one-quarter east and is exclusive of the areas closed to all halibut fishing in § 301.9 of these regulations.

(d) Area 3 shall include all the convention waters off the coast of Alaska that are between Area 2 and a straight line running south from the southwestern extremity of Cape Sagak on Umnak Island, at a point approximately latitude 52°49′30″ N., longitude 169°07′00″ W., according to Chart 8802, published in January, 1942, by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and that are south of the Alaska Peninsula and of the Aleutian Islands and shall also include the intervening straits or passes of the Aleutian Islands.

(e) Area 4 shall include all convention waters which are not included in Areas 1, 2, and 3, and in those areas defined in § 301.9 of these regulations.

§ 301.2 Limit of catch in each area. (a) The catch of halibut to be taken during the halibut fishing season of the year 1943 from Area 2 shall be limited to approximately 23,000,000 pounds of salable halibut, and from Area 3 to approximately 27,500,000 pounds of salable halibut, the weights in each or any such limit to be computed as with heads off and entrails removed.

(b) The catch of halibut to be taken from each area during the halibut fishing season of the year 1943 shall also be limited to halibut weighing 5 pounds or over as computed with heads off, entrails removed or to halibut weighing 5 pounds 13 ounces or over as computed with heads on, entrails removed and the possession of any halibut of less than the above weights by any vessel or by any master or operator of any vessel or by any person, firm or corporation, is prohibited.

(c) The International Fisheries Commission shall as early in the said year as is practicable determine the date on which it deems each limit of catch defined in paragraph (a) of this section will be attained, and the limit of each such catch shall then be that which shall be taken prior to said date, and fishing for or catching of halibut in the area or areas to which such limit applies shall at that date be prohibited until after the end of the closed season as defined and modified in § 301.3 of these regulations, except as provided in § 301.5 thereof and in Article I of the Convention, and provided that if it shall at any time become evident to the International Fisheries Commission that the limit will not be reached by such date, it may substitute another date.

§ 301.3 Length of closed season. (a) Under the authority of Article I of the aforesaid Convention the closed season as therein defined shall be modified so as to end at 12 midnight of the 15th day of April of the year 1943 and of each year thereafter and shall begin at 12 midnight of the 30th day of November of each year unless an earlier date is determined upon for any area under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section of these regulations: Provided, That the International Fisheries Commission may fix any date subsequent to the 1st day of November as the commencement of the closed season regardless of the catch which it deems will be attained by such date.

(b) Under authority of Article I of the Convention, the closed season as therein defined shall begin in each area on the date on which the limit is reached as provided in paragraph (c) of § 301.2 of these regulations and the closing of such area or areas shall be taken to have been duly approved unless before the said date either the President of the United States of America or the Governor General of Canada shall have signified his disapproval, (the burden of proving any such signification being upon the person alleging it) and provided that the closing date of Area 2 or of Area 3, whichever shall be later, shall apply to Area 4, and that the closure of Area 2 shall apply to Area 1.

(c) Nothing contained in these regulations shall prohibit the fishing for species of fish other than halibut or prohibit the International Fisheries Commission from conducting fishing operations as provided for in Article I of the Convention.

§ 301.4 Issuance of licenses and conditions limiting their validity. (a) All vessels of any tonnage which shall fish for halibut in any manner or hold halibut in possession in any area, or which shall transport halibut otherwise than as a common carrier documented by the Government of the United States or of Canada for the carriage of freight, must be licensed by the International Fisheries Commission, provided that vessels of less than five net tons or vessels which do not use set lines or bottom nets or trawls, need not be licensed unless they shall require a permit as provided in § 301.5 of these regulations.

(b) Each licensed vessel shall carry this license on board at all times while at sea whether it is validated for halibut fishing or endorsed with a permit as provided in § 301.6 of these regulations and this license shall at all times be subject to inspection by authorized officers of either of said Governments or by representatives of the International Fisheries Commission.

(c) The license shall be issued without fee by the customs officers of either of said Governments or by representatives of the International Fisheries Commission. A new license may be issued by the officer accepting statistical return at any time to vessels which have furnished proof of loss of the license fierein previously issued, or when there shall be no further space for record thereon, providing the receipt of statistical return shall be shown on the new form for any halibut or other species taken during or after the voyage upon which loss occurred. The old license form shall be forwarded in each case to the International Fisheries Commission.

(d) The license of any vessel shall be validated before departure from port for each fishing operation for which statistical returns are required. This validation of a license shall be by customs officers or by fishery officers of either of said Governments when available at places where there are no customs officers and shall not be made unless the area in which the vessel will fish is entered on the license form and unless the provisions of § 301.7 of these regulations have been complied with for all landings and all fishing operations since issue of the license: Provided, That if the master or operator of any vessel shall fail to comply with the provisions of § 301.7 of these regulations, the license of such vessel may be validated by customs officers upon evidence either that there has been a judicial determination of the offense or that the laws prescribing penalties therefor have been complied with, or that the said master or operator is no longer responsible for, nor sharing in, the operations of said vessel.

(e) No license shall be valid for halibut fishing in more than one area, as defined in § 301.1 of these regulations, during any one trip nor shall it be revalidated for halibut fishing in another such area while the vessel has any halibut on board.

(f) The license shall not be valid for halibut fishing in any area closed to halibut fishing or for the possession of halibut in any area closed to halibut fishing except while in actual transit to or within a port of sale.

(g) The license shall not be valid for halibut fishing in any area while a permit endorsed thereon is in effect, nor shall it be validated while halibut taken under such permit is on board.

(h) The license of any vessel shall not be valid for the possession of any halibut in any area other than that for which validated, if such vessel is in possession of baited gear, except in those waters included within a twenty-five mile radius of Cape Spencer Light, Alaska.

§ 301.5 Retention of halibut taken with other fish under permit. (a) There may be retained in possession on any vessel which shall have a permit as provided in § 301.6 of these regulations such halibut as is caught incidentally to fishing by that vessel in any area that is closed to halibut fishing under § 301.2 of these regulations with set lines (of the type commonly used in the Pacific coast halibut fishery) for other species, not to exceed at any time one pound of halibut for each seven pounds of salable fish of other species not including salmon or tuna, and such halibut may be said as the catch of said vessel, the weight of all fish to be computed as with heads off and entrails removed.

(b) The catch of halibut taken and retained under such permit shall be limited to halibut weighing 5 pounds or over as computed with heads off, entrails removed or to halibut weighing 5 pounds 13 ounces or over as computed with heads on, entrails removed and the possession of any halibut of less than the above weights by any vessel or by any master or operator of any vessel or by any person, firm or corporation, is prohibited.

(c) Halibut retained under such permit shall not be landed or otherwise removed or be received by any person, firm or corporation from the catching vessel until all halibut on board shall have been reported to a customs, fishery or other authorized officer of either of said Governments nor shall any vessel receive it for transportation unless it shall be reported to the said officer prior to departure from port, and no halibut or other fish shall be landed or removed or be received from the catching vessel except under such supervision as the said officer may deem advisable.

(d) Halibut retained under such permit shall not be purchased or held in possession by any person other than the master, operator or crew of the catching vessel in excess of the proportion herein allowed until such excess whatever its origin shall have been forfeited and surrendered to the customs, fishery or other authorized officers of either of said Governments. In forfeiting such excess, the vessel shall be permitted to surrender any part of its catch of halibut, provided that the amount retained shall not exceed the proportion herein allowed.

(e) Permits for the retention and landing of halibut in the year 1943 shall become invalid at 12 midnight of the 30th day of November of said year.

§ 301.6 Issuance of permits and conditions limiting their validity. (a) Any vessel which shall be used in fishing for other species than halibut in any area closed to halibut fishing under § 301.2 of these regulations must have a license and a permit if it shall retain, land or sell any halibut caught incidentally to such fishing or possess any halibut of any origin during such fishing, as provided in § 301.5 of these regulations.

(b) The permit shall be shown by endorsement of the issuing officer on the face of the halibut license form held by said vessel and shall show the area for which the permit is issued.

(c) The permit shall terminate at the time of first landing thereafter of fish of any species and a new permit shall be secured before any subsequent fishing operation for which a permit is required.

(d) A permit shall not be issued to any vessel which shall have halibut on board taken while licensed to fish in an open area unless such halibut shall be considered as taken under the issued permit and as thereby subject to forfeiture when landed if in excess of the amount permitted in § 301.5 of these regulations.

(e) A permit shall not be issued to, or be valid if held by, any vessel which shall fish with other than set lines of the type commonly used in the Pacific coast halibut fishery.

(f) The permit of any vessel shall not be valid unless the permit is granted before departure from port for each fishing operation for which statistical returns are required. This granting of a permit shall be by customs officers or by fishery officers of either of said Governments when available at places where there are no customs officers and shall not be made unless the area in which the vessel will fish is entered on the license form and unless the provisions of Section 7 of these regulations have been complied with for all landings and all fishing operations since issue of the license or permit: Provided, That if the master or operator of any vessel shall fail to comply with the provisions of Section 7 of these regulations, the permit of such vessel may be granted by customs officers upon evidence either that there has been a judicial determination of the offense or that the laws prescribing penalties therefor have been complied with, or that the said master or operator is no longer responsible for, nor sharing in, the operations of said vessel.

§ 301.7 Statistical return by vessels. (a) Statistical return as to the amount of halibut taken during fishing operations must be made by the master or operator of any licensed vessel and as to the amount of halibut and other species by the master or operator of any vessel operating under permit as provided for in §§ 301.5 and 301.6 of these regulations, within 48 hours of landing, sale or transfer of halibut or of first entry thereafter into a port where there is an officer authorized to receive such return, except that when operating within any area in which the catch is not limited in amount by these regulations the master or operator of a licensed vessel shall make statistical returns at such times as are required by the customs officers or the International Fisheries Commission, but shall at all times keep with the license form such records as are necessary to make such return.

(b) The statistical return must state the port of landing and the amount of each species taken within the area defined in these regulations, for which the vessel's license is validated.

(c) The statistical return must include all halibut landed or transferred to other vessels and all halibut held in possession on board and must be full, true and correct in all respects herein required. A copy of each return must be forwarded to the International Fisheries Commission at such times as the latter shall require.

(d) The master or operator and/or any person engaged on shares in the operation of any vessel licensed or holding a permit under these regulations may be required by the International Fisheries Commission or by any officer of either of said Governments authorized to receive such return to certify to its correctness to the best of his information and belief and to support the certificate by a sworn statement. Validation of a license or issuance of a permit after such sworn return is made shall be provisional and shall not render the license or permit valid in case the return shall later be shown to be false or fraudulently made.

(e) The master or operator of any vessel holding a license or permit under these regulations shall keep an accurate log of all fishing operations including therein date, locality, amount of gear used, and the amount of halibut taken daily in each such locality. This log record shall be open to inspection of representatives of the International Fisheries Commission authorized for the purpose.

(f) The master, operator and/or any other person engaged on shares in the operation of any vessel licensed under these regulations may be required by the International Fisheries Commission or by any officer of either of said Governments to certify to the correctness of such log record to the best of his information and belief and to support the certificate by a sworn statement.

§ 301.8 Statistical return by dealers. (a) All persons, firms or corporations that shall buy halibut or receive halibut for any purpose from fishing or transporting vessels or other carrier shall keep and on request furnish to customs officers or to any enforcing officer of either of said Governments or to representatives of the International Fisheries Commission, records of each purchase or receipt of halibut, showing date, locality, name of vessel, person, firm or corporation purchased or received from and the amount in pounds according to trade categories of the halibut and other species landed with the halibut.

(b) All records of all persons, firms or corporations concerning the landing, purchase, receipt and sale of halibut and other species landed therewith shall be open at all times to inspection of any enforcement officer of either of said Governments or of any authorized representative of the International Fisheries Commission. Such persons, firms or corporations may be required to certify to the correctness of such records and to support the certificate by a sworn statement.

(c) The possession by any person, firm or corporation of halibut which such person, firm or corporation knows to have been taken by an unlicensed vessel or a vessel without a permit when such license or permit is required, is prohibited.

§ 301.9 Closed small halibut grounds. (a) The following areas have been found to be populated by small immature halibut and are hereby closed to all halibut fishing and the possession of halibut of any origin is prohibited therein during fishing for other species:

(b) First, that area in the waters off the coast of Alaska within the following boundary as stated in terms of the magnetic compass unless otherwise indicated: From the north extremity of Cape Ulitka, Noyes Island, approximately latitude 55° 33'48" N., longitude 133°43'35" W., to the south extremity of Wood Island, approximately latitude 55°39'44" N., longitude 133°42'29" W.; thence to the east extremity of Timbered Islet, approximately latitude 55°41'47" N., longitude 133°47'42" W.; thence to the true west extremity of Timbered Islet, approximately latitude 55°41'46" N., longitude 133°48'01.3" W.; thence southwest three-quarters south six miles and five-eighths miles to a point approximately latitude 55°34'16" N., longitude 134°14'40" W.; thence southeast by south twelve and one-half miles to a point approximately latitude 55°22'23" N., longitude 134°12'48" W., thence northeast thirteen and seven-eighths miles to the southern extremity of Cape Addington, Noyes Island, latitude 55°26'11" N., longitude 133°49'12" W.; and to the point of origin on Cape Ulitka. The boundary lines herein indicated shall be determined from Chart 8157, as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington, D. C., in June, 1929, and Chart 8152, as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington, D. C., in March, 1933, and reissued March, 1939, except for the point of Cape Addington which shall be determined from Chart 8150, as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey in December, 1923, provided that the duly authorized officers of the United States of America may at any time place a plainly visible mark or marks at any point or points as nearly as practicable on the boundary line defined herein, and such mark or marks shall thereafter be considered as correctly defining said boundary.

(c) Second, that area lying in the waters off the north coast of Graham Island, British Columbia, within the following boundary: from the northwest extremity of Wiah Point, latitude 54°06'50" N., longitude 132°19'18" W., true north five and one-half miles to a point approximately latitude 54°12'20" N., longitude 132°19'18" W.; thence true east approximately sixteen and three-tenths miles to a point which shall lie northwest (according to magnetic compass at any time) of the highest point of Tow Hill, Graham Island, latitude 54°04'24" N., longitude 131°48'00" W.; thence southeast to the said highest point of Tow Hill. The points on the shoreline of the above mentioned island shall be determined from Chart 3754, published at the Admiralty, London, April 11, 1911, provided that the duly authorized officers of the Dominion of Canada may at any time place a plainly visible mark or marks at any point or points as nearly as practicable on the boundary line defined herein, and such marks shall thereafter be considered as correctly defining said boundary.

§ 301.10 Dory gear prohibited in Areas 1 and 2. The use of any hand gurdy or other appliance in hauling halibut gear by hand power in any dory or small boat operated from a vessel licensed under the provisions of these regulations is prohibited in Areas 1 and 2.

§ 301.11 Set nets prohibited. It is prohibited to take or to retain halibut with a set net of any kind or to have in possession any halibut while using any such net for other species of fish, nor shall any license or permit held by any vessel under these regulations be valid during the use or possession on board of any such net.

§ 301.12 Responsibility of master. Wherever in these regulations any duty is laid upon any vessel, it shall be the personal responsibility of the master or operator of said vessel to see that said duty is performed and he shall personally be responsible for the performance of said duty. This provision shall not be construed to relieve any member of the crew of any responsibility with which he would otherwise be chargeable.

§ 301.13 Supervision of unloading and weighing. The unloading and weighing of the halibut of any vessel licensed or holding a permit under these regulations shall be under such supervision as the customs or other authorized officer may deem advisable in order to assure the fulfilment of the provisions of these regulations.

§ 301.14 Previous regulations superseded. These regulations shall supersede all previous regulations adopted pursuant to the Convention between the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada for preservation of the halibut fishery of the northern Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea, signed January 29, 1937, except as to offenses occurring prior to the approval of these regulations. Any determination made by the International Fisheries Commission pursuant to these regulations shall become effective immediately.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. 1874-FD]

SOUTHERN COAL CO., INC.

ORDER OF THE DIRECTOR

In the matter of the application of Southern Coal Company, Incorporated, for permission to receive sales agents' commissions and distributors' discounts on coal sold by it to Heritage Coal and Stoker Company.

Upon the basis of the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the Opinion of the Director filed simultaneously herewith, wherein it appears that the affiliation or relationship which presently exists between petitioner, Southern Coal Company, Incorporated, a registered distributor, (Registration No. 8561) and the Heritage Coal and Stoker Company of Chicago, Illinois, does not prohibit the allowance of distributors' discounts or sales agents' commissions which petitioner is entitled to accept or retain on coal sold by petitioner to Heritage Coal and Stoker Company; and pursuant to § 304.19 (c) of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors, Rule 10 of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations and the provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937;

It is hereby determined that the acceptance or retention of distributors' discounts or sales agents' commissions on coal sold by petitioner, Southern Coal Company, Incorporated to Heritage Coal and Stoker Company, otherwise permitted by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder, are not prohibited by § 304.19 (c) of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors, Rule 10 of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, and that the relief prayed in the petition, as amended, should be granted.

It is so ordered.

[Docket No. B-197]

CAMP CREEK COAL CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION, ETC.

In the matter of Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry (also known as Camp Creek Coal Company), Code Member.

Order granting application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the division for disposition of proceedings without formal hearing, revoking code membership and canceling hearing.

A complaint dated October 13, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act" having been duly filed on October 14, 1941 by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 8 (the "Complainant"), alleging that Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry (also known as Camp Creek Coal Company) operating a mine designated as Mine Index No. 2421 located in Wayne County, West Virginia, District No. 8, willfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), rules and regulations respectively promulgated thereunder by the Bituminous Coal Division, and the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for All Shipments Except Truck, as more fully set forth in the complaint;

The complaint herein and Notice of and Order for Hearing issued January 13, 1942, having been duly served on said code member on January 23, 1942, and hearing herein having been postponed by Order issued March 2, 1942, to a time and place to be thereafter designated by an appropriate order;

Said code member having filed with the Division on February 19, 1942, an application dated February 17, 1942 (the "Application") for the disposition of this compliance proceeding without formal hearing, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division;

Notice dated March 3, 1942, of the filing of the Application having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 4, 1942, pursuant to said § 301.132 and copies thereof having been duly mailed to interested parties including the complainant herein, and said Notice of Filing having provided that interested parties desiring to do so might within fifteen (15) days from the date of said Notice, file recommendations or requests for informal conferences in respect to said Application and it appearing that no such recommendations or requests have been filed with the Division;

It appearing from the application that the applicants admit wilfully committing the violations alleged in the complaint herein by selling, delivering and offering to sell on various dates between May 25, 1941 and June 8, 1941, to the Ann Arbor Railroad Company, Norman B. Pitcairn and Frank C. Nicodemus, Jr., Receivers, for use as railroad locomotive fuel, 350 tons of Size Group 7, or 5" x 2" egg coal produced by the applicants at their mine located in Wayne County, West Virginia, and designated as Mine Index No. 2421, at a price of $1.85 per net ton, f. o. b. said mine, whereas the effective minimum price established for such coal was $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. said mine at the time said transactions occurred; and it further appearing from the Application that applicants represent that to the best of their knowledge and belief they have not committed any violations of the Act, the Code, or rules and regulations thereunder other than those admitted and particularly described in the Application;

It further appearing from the Application that the applicants consent to the entry by the Director of an order cancelling and revoking code membership, or of an order directing them to cease and desist from violations of the Code and rules and regulations thereunder, or of an order revoking their code membership and also enjoining and restraining them from violations of the Code and regulations made thereunder, upon any reclassification of their code membership;

It further appearing from the Application that the applicants consent to the imposition of a tax in the amount of $313.85, payment of which shall be required as a condition precedent to the reinstatement of code membership of the applicants and which the applicants agree to pay to the United States Government immediately upon being served with the order revoking their code membership.

Now, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in the Division by said section 4 II (j) of the Act, authorizing it to adjust complaints and to compose the differences of the parties thereto, and upon the Application of the applicants for disposition hereof without formal hearing and upon evidence in the possession of the Division; It is hereby found That:

Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry (also known as Camp Creek Coal Company) filed with the Division their acceptance of code membership dated January 18, 1940, which became effective as of January 18, 1940, and ever since have been and now are code members engaged in the business of mining and producing bituminous coal at mine designated as Mine Index No. 2421, located in Wayne County, West Virginia, in District No. 8.

Said Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, as aforesaid, during the period May 25, 1941 to June 8, 1941, wilfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Code, Rules and Regulations and Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices thereunder, by offering to sell, selling and delivering approximately 350 tons of Size Group 7, 5" x 2" egg coal produced at their mine designated as Mine Index No. 2421, to the Ann Arbor Railroad Company, Norman B. Pitcairn and Frank C. Nicodemus, Jr., Receivers, for use as railway locomotive fuel at a price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine for rail shipments, whereas the effective minimum price for said coal was $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. said mine for rail shipments as stated and set forth in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for All Shipments Except Truck.

Now, therefore, on the basis of the above findings and said admissions and the consent of Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, contained in their Application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division;

It is ordered That the Application be, and the same hereby is granted;

It is further ordered That pursuant to section 5 (b) of the Act, the membership of Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of A. J. Fry and J. C. Fry (also known as Camp Creek Coal Company) in the Code be, and the same hereby is, revoked and cancelled, said revocation and cancellation to become effective fifteen (15) days from the date of service of a copy hereof on said applicants;

It is further ordered That prior to the reinstation of Andrew J. Fry or J. C. Fry, individually or both of them as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of A. J. Fry and J. C. Fry (also known as Camp Creek Coal Company) to membership in the Code, there shall be paid to the United States a tax in the amount of $313.85 as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act;

It is further ordered That upon any reinstation of code membership of Andrew J. Fry or J. C. Fry, individually or as co-partners, they and each of them, their representatives, servants, agents, officers, employees, attorneys, receivers, successors, assigns and all persons acting or claiming to act in their behalf or interest, shall cease and desist and they are hereby permanently enjoined and restrained from violating the Bituminous Coal Act, the Bituminous Coal Code and rules and regulations issued thereunder;

It is further ordered That the hearing herein heretofore postponed by Order dated March 2, 1942, to a time and place to be thereafter designated by appropriate order be, and the same hereby is, cancelled;

It is further ordered That upon any failure to comply with the restraining provisions of this order, the Division may apply to any Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States having jurisdiction for the enforcement thereof or take other appropriate action.

Dated: February 26, 1943.

[Docket No. B-193]

BOOTH, INC.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION ETC.

In the matter of Booth, Inc., Registration No. 0928, Registered Distributor.

Order granting application for disposition of compliance proceeding without formal hearing, suspending registration and cancelling bearing.

A Notice of and Order for Hearing has been issued on February 13, 1943, pursuant to § 304.14 of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors to determine whether or not the registration of Booth, Inc., as a registered distributor should be suspended or revoked for the reason that said registrant has failed to file with the Division an Application for Registration as a registered distributor of coal for the period beginning April 1, 1943, as required by section 4 II (d) of the Act and section 304.4 of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors.

Booth, Inc., is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of West Virginia, and is engaged in the business of distributing bituminous coal.

That said Booth, Inc., filed with this Division an Application dated October 17, 1940, for registration as a registered distributor and Certificate of Registration No. 0928 was issued authorizing said corporation to act as a registered distributor, and that said corporation has ever since been and is now acting as a registered distributor.

That on various dates between May 25, 1941 and June 7, 1941, both dates inclusive, the Distributor wilfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Code and rules and regulations thereunder, while acting as sales agent for code member producers as follows, to wit:

6" resultant mine run coal, and sale of said coal to said railway company at the price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine, the applicable mine price for such egg coal being $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, and receiving and retaining unauthorized sales agent's commissions in the sum of $[illegible] on said sale;

(b) Substitution of 413.9 tons of 2" x 6" egg coal produced at the Camp Creek Coal Company Mine (Mine Index No. 2420) of A. J. Fry, a code member in District No. 8, on railway fuel orders obtained from Ann Arbor Railway Company specifying 6" resultant mine run coal, and sale of said coal to said railway company at the price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine, the applicable mine price for such egg coal being $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, and accepting and retaining unauthorized sales agent's commissions in the sum of $61.94 on said sale; and

(c) Substitution of 300 tons of 2" x 6" egg coal produced at the Fry Mine (Mine Index No. 2431) of J. C. Fry and Andrew J. Fry, co-partners, doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry, a code member in District No. 8, on railway fuel orders obtained from the Ann Arbor Railway Company specifying 6" resultant mine run coal and sale of said coal to said railway company at the price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine, the applicable mine price for such egg coal being $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, and accepting and retaining unauthorized sales agent's commissions in the sum of $[illegible] on said sale, and

(d) Substitution of 193.5 tons of 2" x 6" egg coal produced at the Fry Mine (Mine Index No. 2431) of J. C. Fry and Andrew J. Fry, co-partners doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry, a code member in District No. 8, on railway fuel orders obtained from the Ann Arbor Railway Company specifying 6" resultant mine run coal and sale of said coal to said railway company at the price of $1.85 per net ton f. o. b. said mine, the applicable mine price for such egg coal being $2.30 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, and accepting and retaining unauthorized sales agent's commissions in the sum of $[illegible] on said sale;

all as set forth in the Notice of and Order for Hearing herein, dated February 13, 1943, resulting in violations of Rule 1 (C) of section XI and Rule 9 of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, and paragraphs (b) and (d) of the Distributor's Agreement;

Now, therefore, upon the above findings and the admissions of the distributor as set forth in said application;

It is ordered, That the registration of the distributor as a registered distributor be and the same hereby is suspended for a period of ten (10) days from the date of service hereof upon the distributor and that said distributor, its officers, representatives, agents, employees, and all persons acting for said distributor be and they hereby are prohibited from accepting or receiving from code members, their agents and representatives, any discount, (except) or indirectly, on coal purchased by it, them, or any of them, during said period of suspension: Provided, however, That if the distributor shall not have complied with the provisions of § 304.15 of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors at least five days before the expiration of said period of suspension, said suspension shall continue in full force and effect for all five (5) days after the affidavit required by said § 304.15 shall have been filed with the Division:

And provided further, That the distributor be, and it is hereby required to refund to the Left Fork Fuel Company, Inc., $62.02, to A. J. Fry, $61.94, and to J. C. Fry and Andrew J. Fry, $85.13, the unauthorized sales agency commissions accepted and returned from said code members; and a statement by the distributor that such refunds have been made shall accompany any affidavit which may be filed by said distributor pursuant to said § 304.15.

It is further ordered, That the distributor, during such period of suspension shall in all other respects continue fully to observe, abide by, and remain subject to all pertinent and applicable provisions of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code, the Marketing Rules and Regulations, the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors, the Distributor's Agreement, and all applicable orders of the Division and that the effect of such suspension shall not be evaded directly or indirectly by the use of any device.

It is further ordered, That in the event that the distributor shall violate any of its agreements set forth in said application, or fail to comply with this Order, this matter may be reopened and such action taken and orders entered herein as to the Director may seem just and proper under the circumstances and the jurisdiction of this matter is hereby expressly reserved for this purpose.

It is further ordered, That the hearing heretofore set in this matter and subsequently postponed to a place and date to be determined thereafter by an appropriate order herein be, and the same hereby is, cancelled.

Dated: February 28, 1943.

[Docket No. B-370]

BROWN FUEL COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A. Under provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended (the "Act"), district boards are authorized in appropriate cases to file complaints of violations of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division").

B. The Division, on November 4, 1942, referred to District Board No. 3 information in its possession bearing on whether violations of the Act, the Code, orders, and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and particularly Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, have been committed by Brown Fuel Company, the code member above mentioned hereinafter referred to as the "Code Member") a corporation, Uniontown, Pennsylvania, whose code membership became effective as of July 7, 1937, operator of the Henshaw Mine, Mine Index No. 77 located in Barbour County, West Virginia, District No. 3, in connection with sales, for rail shipment, of coal produced at the aforesaid mine contrary to the provisions of Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations as follows:

By allowing or paying directly or indirectly sales agency commissions, pursuant to sales agency contracts entered into after August 8, 1940, appointing the sales agents indicated below, on sales of coal produced at its said mine and sold through said sales agents and delivered to various purchasers after January 1, 1941, as follows:

Sales agent	Date of sales agency contract	Period of sales agency	Sales by Code Member	Commissions allowed	Allowable commissions
Eastern Coal & Coke Company	Aug. 11, 1940	Jan. 1 to Aug. 31, 1941	13,405 tons	$1,340 25	$1,340 25
MacQuown Fuels	Oct. 16, 1940	June 22 to Dec. 31, 1941	9,460 tons	1,183 91	1,183 91
A. K. Althouse & Company	Jan. 30, 1941	Feb. 3 to May 31, 1941	1,278 tons	158 13	158 13 which commissions as allowed or paid, directly or indirectly, were in excess of the maximum discounts which said sales agents could have received if they had purchased said coal as distributors under the schedule of due and reasonable maximum discounts for distributors established pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act and that such commissions so allowed and paid, directly or indirectly, resulted in a violation of Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by said code member by reason of the fact that no applications, pursuant to said Rule, were approved by the Division permitting said code member to allow and pay said commissions.

C. District Board No. 3 by letter dated January 21, 1943, notified the Division that it does not intend to institute compliance proceedings against the code member in this matter.

D. Section 6 (a) of the Act provides in part that in the event that a district board shall fail for any reason to take action authorized or required by this Act, then the Division may take such action in lieu of the district board.

E. District Board No. 3 having failed to take action as authorized or required by the Act on the matters hereinabove described, the Division finds it necessary in the proper administration of the Act to take action thereon in lieu of the Board, as in this Notice of and Order for Hearing provided pursuant to section 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act for the purpose of determining:

(1) whether the code member has willfully violated Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations; and

(2) whether in the event that the code member is found to have violated the Act, the Code, and orders, rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and particularly Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, a cease and desist order should be entered, revoking the code membership of said Brown Fuel Company, or directing said code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and orders, rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

It is hereby ordered, That pursuant to section 6 (a) and 6 (b), and other provisions of the Act, a hearing be held at 10 a. m. at the offices of the Division in the Federal Building, [illegible] determine whether the code member has willfully violated Rule 13 (A) in the respects hereinabove described, and whether the code member has violated the Act, the Code, and orders, rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and particularly Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, and whether the code member and the code member's right to an exemption from the tax imposed by section 3520 (b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, should be revoked or an order should be entered directing the code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code, and orders, rules and regulations of the Division promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That Joseph A. Huston, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing, or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions, and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said code member and to all other parties hereto and to all persons or entities having an interest in such proceeding. Any person or entity eligible [illegible] § 301.173 of the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to Section 5 (b) of the Act, may file a petition for intervention not later than [illegible] before the date set for hearing.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to Rule 6 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for the disposition of the above-entitled proceeding without a hearing, must be filed not later than [illegible] after receipt by the respondent of Notice of Hearing.

Notice is hereby given that any motion setting forth [illegible] be filed not later than [illegible] before the date set for hearing.

Dated: February 26, 1943.

C. S. KALE CANNING CO.

DENIAL OF PETITION FOR ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 20 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 152—Canned Vegetables. Denial of petition for adjustment of maximum prices filed by C. S. Kale Canning Company, Everson, Washington.

On October 20, 1942, the C. S. Kale Canning Company filed a petition pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 1 and Procedural Regulation No. 6 issued by the Office of Price Administration for specific authorization to adjust maximum prices established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 152.

Due consideration has been given to the information submitted by Applicant with respect to the packing for its general commercial trade of snap beans in No. 2 and No. 10 cans and the packing of No. 10 cans of snap beans which Applicant proposes to sell to the Quartermaster Depots of the United States Army.

For the reasons set forth in the opinion which accompanies this order and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and Executive Order No. 9250 and pursuant to Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 and Procedural Regulation No. 6, It is hereby ordered, That

(a) The petition of C. S. Kale Canning Company for adjustment of its maximum prices for sales to its general commercial trade of snap beans packed in No. 2 and No. 10 size cans and for sales to the Quartermaster Depots of the United States Army of snap beans packed in No. 10 size cans as established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 152 be and is hereby denied.

(b) Any contract entered into by C. S. Kale Canning Company at the price requested in its petition under Procedural Regulation No. 6 shall be revised in accordance with the terms of this order, and any payment made to the C. S. Kale Canning Company in excess of the maximum prices established shall be refunded to the purchaser and within 30 days after the date on which this order was mailed to him, the applicant shall file a statement with the Office of Price Administration to the effect that such contracts were revised in accordance with the terms of this order, and wherever required refunds were made.

(c) This Order No. 20 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(d) Unless the context otherwise requires the definitions set forth in § 1341.30 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 152 and section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended shall apply to terms used herein.

(e) This order shall become effective on February 27, 1943.

Issued this 27th day of February 1943.

ORDER SETTING HEARING ON APPLICATION TO STRIKE FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 25th day of February, A. D., 1943.

In the matter of Empire Gas and Fuel Company, $100 par 6% cumulative preferred stock; $100 par 6½% cumulative preferred stock; $100 par 7% cumulative preferred stock, $100 par 8% cumulative preferred stock

The Chicago Stock Exchange, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12D2-1 (b) promulgated thereunder, having made application to strike from listing and registration the above-mentioned securities of Empire Gas and Fuel Company; and

The Commission deeming it necessary for the protection of investors that a hearing be held in this matter at which all interested persons be given an opportunity to be heard;

It is ordered, That the matter be set down for hearing at 10 a. m. on Monday, April 5, 1943 at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 105 West Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, and continue thereafter at such times and places as the Commission or its officers herein designated shall determine, and that general notice thereof be given; and

It is further ordered, That Henry Fitts, or any other officer or officers of the Commission named by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing on such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby empowered to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER CONSOLIDATING AND RECONVENING HEARING AND DESIGNATING NEW TRIAL EXAMINER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 24th day of February 1943

In the matter of American Utilities Service Corporation, File No. 70-663

In the matter of Walter M. Jensen, John A. Larson, Frank N. Dahlberg, Oscar G. Dahlberg, Fred E. Dahlberg and Carl Dahlberg, File No. 70-677

Notice is hereby given that on February 18, 1943, Walter M. Jensen, John A. Larson, Frank N. Dahlberg, Oscar G. Dahlberg, Fred E. Dahlberg and Carl Dahlberg ("The purchasers") filed an application with the Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and particularly sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 thereof. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

The purchasers propose to purchase from American Utilities Service Corporation ("American"), a registered holding company, all 2,000 shares, par value $100 per share, of the issued and outstanding common stock of Northwestern Wisconsin Electric Company ("Northwestern"), an electric utility company, for the aggregate purchase price of approximately $265,000 in cash. Northwestern is a Wisconsin corporation operating in the States of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Applicants state that they own the following percentages of the outstanding stock of certain other public utilities located in the State of Wisconsin:

	Wisconsin Power and Light Company	Wisconsin Public Service Corporation	Eastern Wisconsin Electric Company	Northern States Power Company (Wisconsin)
	(Common)	(Common)	(Common)	(Common)
Walter M. Jensen	1	1	1	1
John A. Larson	1	1	1	1
Frank N. Dahlberg	1	1	1	1
Oscar G. Dahlberg	1	1	1	1
Fred E. Dahlberg	1	1	1	1
Carl Dahlberg	1	1	1	1
Total	6	6	6	6

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said application and that said application shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of the Commission; and

It appearing to the Commission that on January 11, 1943, American filed a declaration with this Commission under sections 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the Act and Rule U-42 and Rule U-44 promulgated thereunder, proposing to sell to the said purchasers all of the issued and outstanding common stock of Northwestern for the aggregate purchase price of approximately $265,000 in cash, and

It further appearing that under date of January 18, 1943, the Commission issued its Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing of said declaration of said American; and a public hearing having been held on February 5, 1943 for the purpose of taking evidence on the issues involved under sections 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the Act; and the hearing having been adjourned subject to the call of the trial examiner; and

It further appearing to the Commission that the foregoing matters under File Nos. 70-663 and 70-677 are related to and involve common questions of law and fact, that evidence offered in respect to each of said matters will have a bearing on the other matter; and that substantial savings in time, effort and expense will result if the hearings on these matters are consolidated so that they may be heard as one matter, and so that the evidence adduced in each matter may stand as evidence in the other for all purposes; and

It further appearing to the Commission that it is presently appropriate and conducive to an orderly disposition of these proceedings that the hearing under File No. 70-663 be reconvened and that certain matters relating to File No. 70-677 as more particularly specified hereinafter be now taken up and considered; and

It appearing that the Trial Examiner heretofore designated to preside at the hearing in this proceeding will be unable to do so;

It is hereby ordered, That the proceedings herein involved be consolidated for hearing and that the hearing in the above entitled matter be reconvened on March 10, 1943, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On that day, the hearing room clerk in Room 518 will inform the parties as to the exact room in which said hearing will be held.

Notice is hereby given of said reconvened and consolidated hearing to the above named declarants and applicants by registered mail and to all other interested persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobinger, an officer of the Commission, be, and he hereby is, designated to preside at such hearing in the place and stead of, and with the same powers and duties as the Trial Examiner heretofore designated to preside at such hearing.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by these proceedings, some of which have heretofore been raised in the previous hearing, attention will be directed at the reconvened and consoli-

Dahlberg and Carl Dahlberg ("The purchasers") filed an application with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and particularly sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 thereof. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

The purchasers propose to purchase from American Utilities Service Corporation ("American"), a registered holding company, all 2,000 shares, par value $100 per share) of the issued and outstanding common stock of Northwestern Wisconsin Electric Company ("Northwestern"), an electric utility company, for the aggregate purchase price of approximately $265,000 in cash. Northwestern is a Wisconsin corporation operating in the States of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Applicants state that they own the following percentages of the outstanding stock of certain other public utilities located in the State of Wisconsin:

	Clam River Dam Co.	Polk Burnett Light and Power Co.	Dahlberg Light and Power Co.	Winter Electric Light and Power Co.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said application and that said application shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of the Commission; and

It appearing to the Commission that on January 11, 1943, American filed a declaration with this Commission under sections 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the Act and Rule U-42 and Rule U-44 promulgated thereunder, proposing to sell to the said purchasers all of the issued and outstanding common stock of Northwestern for the aggregate purchase price of approximately $265,000 in cash; and

It further appearing that under date of January 18, 1943 the Commission issued its Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing of said declaration of said American; and a public hearing has been held on February 5, 1943 for the purpose of the [illegible] evidence on the issues involved under sections 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the Act, and the hearing has been adjourned subject to the call of the trial examiner, and

It further appearing to the Commission that the foregoing matters under File Nos. 70-663 and 70-677 are related to and involve common questions of law and fact, that evidence offered in respect to each of said matters will have a bearing on the other matter; and that substantial savings in time, effort and expense will result if the hearings on these matters are consolidated so that they may be heard as one matter, and so that the evidence adduced in each matter may stand as evidence in the other for all purposes; and

It further appearing to the Commission that it is presently appropriate and conducive to an orderly disposition of these proceedings that the hearing under File No. 70-663 be reconvened and that certain matters relating to File No. 70-677 as more particularly specified hereinafter be now taken up and considered; and

It appearing that the Trial Examiner heretofore designated to preside at the hearing in this proceeding will be unable to do so;

It is hereby ordered, That the proceedings herein involved be consolidated for hearing and that the hearing in the above entitled matter be reconvened on March 10, 1943, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On that day, the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will inform the parties as to the exact room in which said hearing will be held.

Notice is hereby given of said reconvened and consolidated hearing to the above named declarants and applicants by registered mail and to all other interested persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobinger, an officer of the Commission, be, and he hereby is, designated to preside at such hearing in the place and stead of, and with the same powers and duties as the Trial Examiner heretofore designated to preside at such hearing.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by these proceedings, some of which have heretofore been raised in the previous hearing, attention will be directed at the reconvened and consolidated hearing to a consideration of the dated hearing to a consideration of the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the consideration to be paid by the proposed purchasers for the outstanding common stock of Northwestern is fair and reasonable.

2. The amount of interest to be acquired by each of the purchasers in the securities of Northwestern and whether the interests to be acquired are to be held by the purchasers as individuals, or whether any partnership, syndicate or similar agreement exists or is contemplated.

3. Whether or not the acquisition of the proposed securities by these purchasers will serve the public interest by tending toward the economical and efficient development of an integrated public utility system, and whether such acquisition will tend towards interlocking relation or concentration of control of public utility companies of a kind or to an extent detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

4. Whether it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms or conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers.

5. Generally, whether all actions proposed to be taken comply with the requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rules, Regulations promulgated thereunder.

GENERAL GAS & ELECTRIC CORPORATION

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 25th day of February 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by the above named party; and

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 10, 1943, at 5:30 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such declaration, as amended, may become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the office of said commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

The declarant, General Gas & Electric Corporation, a registered holding company, proposes to pay out of capital or unearned surplus a quarterly dividend on its $5 Prior Preferred stock for the quarter ending March 15, 1942. The declaration indicates that the amount of such regular dividend applicable to the total outstanding shares of such stock is $75,000. Of this amount approximately $40,125 is applicable to the 32,110.9 shares held by the public, the balance of the shares being held by Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, a registered holding company and parent of General Gas & Electric Corporation. It is indicated in the declaration that these Trustees intend to deliver to General Gas & Electric Corporation a waiver of payment at this time of any dividend on their holdings of this stock and that a copy of such waiver is to be subsequently filed as part of the instant declaration.

The declaration has designated section 12 (c) of the Act and Rule U-46 as being applicable to this matter.

AMERICAN GOLD, INC.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 26th day of February, A. D. 1943.

An application having been filed by American Gold, Inc., a registered investment company, under and pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (c) and section 6 (d) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, for an order exempting it from the provisions of section 8 (b) of said Act relating to the filing of a registration statement with the Commission, section 30 (a) of said Act relating to the filing of annual reports with the Commission, section 30 (b) of said Act relating to the filing of semi-annual, quarterly and interim reports with the Commission, section 30 (d) of said Act relating to reports to stockholders, and such other provisions of the Investment Company Act of 1940 as, in the opinion of the Commission, may be proper;

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 40 (a) of said Act that a hearing on the aforesaid application be held on the 22nd day of March, 1943, at 10 o'clock, A. M., Pacific War Time, at the subregional office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 312 North Spring Street, Los Angeles, California, and continue thereafter at such time and place as the officer hereinafter designated may determine;

It is further ordered, That John G. Clarkson, Esquire, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing on such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under sections 41 and 42 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and to Trial Examiners under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to the applicant, and to any other persons whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

NIAGARA HUDSON POWER CORP., ET AL.

NOTICE OF RECONVENING OF HEARING IN BUFFALO, NEW YORK

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 26th day of February, 1943.

In the matter of Niagara Hudson Power Corporation and its subsidiary companies, File No. 59-52; Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation, File No. 31-524.

Hearings having been held in the above consolidated proceedings relating to Niagara Hudson Power Corporation and its subsidiary companies, pursuant to sections 11 (b) (2), 12 (c), 12 (f), 15 (f) and 20 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and to the application of Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation for an order exempting it as a holding company pursuant to section 3 (a) (1) of said Act; and said hearings having been heretofore scheduled to reconvene on March 2, 1943 at the offices of this Commission in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania;

Notice is hereby given that the reconvening of said hearings is postponed from March 2, 1943 to March 9, 1943 at 10 a. m. and that said hearings will then be reconvened in Room 410 of the United States Post Office Building (sometimes referred to as the Federal Building) in the City of Buffalo, New York, so as to afford stockholders and other interested parties in that area a convenient opportunity to appear and to be heard.

Notice is further given that at said reconvened hearing the evidence to be received shall be confined to the issues heretofore raised in said consolidated proceedings, relating to Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation, so that the record shall be completed, for submission to the Commission, with respect to: (1) Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation's application pursuant to section 3 (a) (1) of said Act; (2) whether the Commission should require that Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation be eliminated from the holding company system of Niagara Hudson Power Corporation; and (3) whether, if Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern Power Corporation is to continue as a holding company outside of said system, it should be required to recapitalize in order to effectuate a fair and equitable distribution of voting power and remove undue or unnecessary complexities, if any exist.

MIDLAND UTILITIES CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR CONSOLIDATION AND HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 25th day of February 1943.

In the matter of Midland Utilities Company, File No. 34-7.

In the matter of Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of the Estate of Midland United Company and Jay Samuel Hartt and Clarence A. Southerland, trustees of the Estate of Midland Utilities Company, File No. 52-21.

Notice is hereby given that an application, as amended, for approval of a Plan of Reorganization for Midland United Company and its subsidiary, Midland Utilities Company, both of which are debtors in reorganization proceedings instituted in the District Court of the United States for the District of Delaware under section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, has been filed, pursuant to section 11(f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of the Estate of Midland United Company, a registered holding company:

Midland United Company ("United") is a public utility holding company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware on December 26, 1928. It directly, or indirectly, owns all of the common stock of Midland Utilities Company ("Utilities"). The corporate relationships of the companies involved and their direct and indirect subsidiaries may be indicated as follows:

Midland United Company (77 B):
- Indiana Hydro-Electric Power Co.
- Indiana Industrial Land Co.
- Midland Stock Transfer Co.
- M. U. Securities Corporation.
- Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc.
  - South Construction Co., Inc.
  - White River Corporation.
  - Union City Electric Co.
- Midland Utilities Co. (77-B).
  - Chicago, South Shore and South Bend R. R. (Ind.).
  - Chicago, South Shore and South Bend Railroad (Mich.).
  - Indiana and Kensington Railroad Co.
  - Michigan City Terminal, Incorporated.
  - Indiana Service Corporation.
  - Northern Indiana Public Service Co.
  - Berrien Gas and Electric Co.
  - Shore Line Shops, Incorporated.

The principal operating subsidiaries controlled directly by United are:

(a) Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc. ("Public Service Indiana"), which is engaged principally in rendering electric, gas, and water service in north central, central, and southern portions of Indiana.

(b) Indiana Hydro-Electric Power Company, which owns two hydro-electric plants, located near Monticello, Indiana, and approximately 80 miles of transmission lines. The properties are operated by Northern Indiana Public Service Company under a lease expiring May 1, 1958.

Utilities is a public utility holding company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware on June 11, 1923. Its principal operating subsidiaries are:

(a) Northern Indiana Public Service Company ("Northern Indiana") which supplies electric, gas and water service in the northern part of the State of Indiana.

(b) Chicago, South Shore and South Bend Railroad ("South Shore") which operates an electric interurban railroad between South Bend, Indiana, and downtown Chicago, and a motor coach line between Michigan City, Indiana, and Benton Harbor, Michigan.

(c) Indiana Service Corporation ("Indiana Service") which principally supplies electric and transportation service primarily in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and vicinity.

On June 9, 1934, United filed its petition in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware ("Court"), to reorganize under the provisions of section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act. On the same day Utilities filed its petition in the same proceeding and also asked leave to reorganize. Hugh M. Morris has been appointed Trustee of the Estate of United ("United Trustee"), and has registered as a holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"). On October 24, 1938, the Court appointed Clarence A. Southerland and Jay Samuel Hartt successor trustees of the Estate of Utilities ("Utilities Trustees"). They also have registered as a holding company under the Act.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the plan therein proposed, which is summarized as follows:

1. The plan affects the following securities of:

(a) United. (i) Promissory notes held by Commonwealth Edison Company, The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company, and Public Service Company of Northern Illinois (collectively called "Chicago Operating Companies");

(ii) $6 Preferred, Series 1 ($100 Liquidating Value) Stock;

(iii) $3 Convertible Preferred, Series A ($50 Liquidating Value) Stock;

(iv) Common Stock—no par value;

(v) Common Stock Warrants.

(b) Utilities. (i) Promissory notes held by Northern Indiana, the Chicago Operating Companies, The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company Service Annuity Trust ("Service Annuity Trust"), Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company of Chicago ("Continental Bank");

(ii) Promissory notes held by United;

(iii) 6% Gold Debentures, Series A, due September 1, 1938 ("Debentures");

(iv) Cumulative Prior Lien Stock, $100 pary value, 7% series and 6% series;

(v) Cumulative Class A Preferred Stock, $100 par value, 7% series and 6% series;

(vi) Common Stock—no par value.

2. The cash and securities to be issued and distributed pursuant to the terms of the Plan of Reorganization will be in full satisfaction and discharge of all claims and litigation pending between all parties, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Plan. More specifically, the issuance of securities pursuant to the plan will be in full setttlement of (a) all intercompany claims between United and Utilities; (b) all claims of the Continental Bank against United and Utilities; (c) all claims of Service Annuity Trust against United and Utilities; (d) all claims of the Chicago Operating Companies against United and Utilities; and (e) all claims of the holders of the Debentures arising out of the alleged violation of the negative pledge clause of the Debenture Agreement, dated September 1, 1928, between Utilities and Illinois Merchants Trust Company, as Trustee ("Debenture Agreement") or otherwise.

3. No provision is made for participation in the estate of Utilities by any of its prior lien stockholders, preferred stockholders, or common stockholders.

4. There is no provision made in the Plan of Reorganization for participation in the Estate of United by any of its common stockholders.

5. All assets owned by United and Utilities held as collateral by secured creditors (Continental Bank, Service Annuity Trust, and Chicago Operating Companies), will be transferred, assigned and delivered to the United Trustee and Utilities Trustees, respectively.

6. United and Utilities will each release the Continental Bank from all counter claims which they have asserted against the bank.

7. The assets of Utilities (including all the collateral and monies which will be returned to Utilities), after payment of all fees and expenses as allowed by the Court, will be distributed as follows:

(a) The Debenture Holders will receive, as a class, in full liquidation of any and all claims:

(i) 912,141.5 shares of the common stock of Northern Indiana. Utilities owns 2,153,525 shares, or approximately 98.7% of the common stock of Northern Indiana, all but 69,500 shares of which are subject to pledge; 912,141.5 shares are equal to approximately 43.75% of Utilities' holdings and will carry approximately 43.2% of the voting power of Northern Indiana;

(ii) 24,955.6 shares of the common stock of South Shore. Utilities owns 62,389 shares, or approximately 80% of the common stock of South Shore, 55,880 shares of which are subject to pledge; 24,955.6 shares are equal to approximately 40% of Utilities' holdings, and will carry approximately 32% of the voting power of South Shore;

(iii) 40% of certain other assets of Utilities—primarily cash and cash items of $701,440.95, as of December 31, 1942, investments in the common stock of West Ohio Gas Company, demand notes of the Metropolitan District Realty Trust, and certain other items stated to be worthless.

The form and manner of the distribution to the Debenture Holders will be determined, subject to the approval of this Commission, by (i) the Debenture Holders' Committee for Midland Utilities Company acting under a Deposit Agreement dated July 15, 1934 ("Emerich Committee"); and (ii) the Protective Committee of the Holders of Midland Utilities Company Debentures acting under Letters of Authorization Received from Debenture Holders ("Magill Committee").

In the election of the first board of directors of Northern Indiana and of South Shore, nominees of the Debenture Holders shall be elected members of the Board of Directors of each company in such number as shall afford the Debenture Holders the same representation as that to which they would be entitled on the basis of cumulative voting in a general election of directors.

(b) Northern Indiana will receive 69,500 shares of its common stock in full satisfaction of its claims against Utilities.

(c) The following claims will be settled, in cash, on the following bases:

(i) Certain small claims totalling $784.42 will be paid in full;

(ii) The following will be paid 25% of the amount of their following claims:

(A) Four direct and indirect subsidiaries of Utilities—$11,788.19;

(B) Trustees of Service Annuity Trust (for Midland operating subsidiaries)—$75,511.81;

(C) Trustees of the Casualty Group (for Midland operating subsidiaries)—$51,724.68;

(iii) Gary Electric & Gas Company ("Gary") will be paid 40% of $34,356.69, all of which will be distributed, pro rata, to Gary's public stockholders in liquidation of that company.

(d) All the remaining assets of Utilities will be transferred to a common law trust ("Midland Liquidating Trust") to be established for the liquidation of assets, and which will be described hereafter.

8. The assets of United (including all its assets now held as collateral which are to be returned to United), after payment of all fees and expenses as allowed by the Court, will be distributed as follows:

(a) The United preferred stockholders will receive:

(i) 490,974$^{10}/_{100}$ shares of the common stock of Public Service Indiana, which will be distributed on the basis of one share for each share of United $3 preferred stock and two shares for each share of United $6 preferred stock. (These shares constitute approximately 44% of the outstanding common stock and 39% of the voting power of Public Service Indiana.)

(ii) One trust share of the Midland Liquidating Trust for each share of United $3 preferred stock and two trust shares for each share of United $6 preferred stock.

(b) Small claims in the total amount of $32,093.16 will be paid, in cash, in full.

(c) A claim of $85,000 by Henry Van Aalderen will be settled, if possible, for a nominal amount, or tried to conclusion.

(d) All remaining assets of United will be transferred to the Midland Liquidating Trust.

9. For the purpose of consummating the Plan of Reorganization, there will be created, as a common law trust, the Midland Liquidating Trust.

(a) The initial Trustees of the Midland Liquidating Trust are to be: (1) Willis D. Gale, Vice President of Commonwealth Edison Company and also of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois; (2) William C. Freeman, Vice President of The Middle West Corporation; and (3) Max Swiren, attorney for Hugh M. Norris, Trustee of Midland United Company. Provision is made for the appointment of successor Trustees in case of resignation, death, or inability to act on the part of any of the Trustees. The Trustees and their successors are to serve without compensation, except that Max Swiren and his successor will be entitled to such reasonable compensation as may be determined by the other two Trustees, subject to the approval of this Commission.

(b) Immediately upon formation of the Midland Liquidating Trust, the Trustees thereof are to register as a holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and shall forthwith consent to the entry of orders by this Commission in accordance with the provisions of Sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of such Act. The Midland Liquidating Trust will have a term of five years, which may be extended beyond the five-year period, but in no event beyond December 31, 1952.

(c) The assets of the Midland Liquidating Trust upon its creation will consist of:

(i) 1,172,753.5 shares of the common stock of Northern Indiana, which shares represent approximately 56.25% of the holdings of Utilities and will carry approximately 55.5% of the voting power of Northern Indiana.

(ii) 37,433.4 shares of the common stock of South Shore, which shares represent approximately 60% of the holdings of Utilities and will carry approximately 48% of the voting power of South Shore.

(iii) All the holdings of Utilities in Indiana Service, which consist of:

(a) 728,840.73 shares (98.7%) of common stock;

(b) $2,739,000 principal amount of demand notes plus interest thereon of $1,266,877.40 (as of December 31, 1942).

(iv) The balance of the contract obligation of Chicago & Calumet District Transit Co., Inc., stated to be $813,750.00 (as of December 31, 1942).

(v) The remaining portion of the assets of Utilities after partial distribution of the Estate to the Debenture Holders and others, as stated above.

(vi) The remaining portion of the assets of United after partial distribution of the Estate to the Preferred Stockholders and others, as noted above.

(d) The Midland Liquidating Trust will issue Trust Certificates for fixed principal amounts in five series, lettered "A" to "E", respectively. Any equity in the Trust property will be represented by Trust Shares. Trust Certificates "A" to "D", respectively, will bear interest at 2% per annum. Series "E" Trust Certificates, together with the Trust Shares, will not bear interest. After payment in full, out of the net proceeds of the liquidation of the Midland Liquidating Trust, of the principal and interest on Series "A" to "D" Trust Certificates, respectively, the balance of the net proceeds will be distributed, as follows: (1) one-half of the net proceeds will be distributed, pro rata, upon Series "E" Trust Certificates, in full payment thereof, and one-half will be distributed among the holders of the Trust Shares until an aggregate of $788,000 shall have thus been paid; (2) all the remaining net proceeds of the Midland Liquidating Trust will then be distributed among the holders of the Trust Shares.

(e) Upon consummation of the Plan of Reorganization as outlined above, the Trustees of Midland Liquidating Trust shall deliver, to the following parties, the following Trust Certificates, and pay the following amounts of cash:

(i) Continental Bank:
(a) $1,000,000 in cash.
(b) A Series "A" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $1,360,000.
(c) A Series "C" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $270,000.
(d) A Series "E" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $270,000.
(ii) Service Annuity Trust:
(a) $373.68 in cash.
(b) A Series "B" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $1,082,000.
(c) A Series "C" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $124,000.
(d) A Series "E" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $124,000.
(iii) Commonwealth Edison:
(a) $408.55 in cash.
(b) A Series "D" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $1,405,000.
(iv) Peoples Gas:
(a) $748.47 in cash.
(b) A Series "D" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $1,115,000.
(b) Public Service Company of Northern Illinois ("Public Service Illinois"):
(a) $842.98 in cash.
(b) A Series "D" Trust Certificate in the principal amount of $478,000.

The United Preferred Stockholders will receive, as noted above, one Trust Share for each share of United $3 Preferred Stock, and two Trust Shares for each share of United $6 Preferred Stock.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such amended plan, either as filed or as modified, or any other plans which may be proposed by any person having a bona fide interest in the reorganization, in accordance with the provisions of section 11 (f) of the Act; and

It further appearing that, on August 26, 1937, an application was filed by the Debenture Holders' Committee for Midland Utilities Company, acting under a Deposit Agreement dated July 15, 1934 ("Emerich Committee"), for a report as to a Plan of Reorganization for Midland Utilities Company, pursuant to Section 11 (g) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (File No. 34-7); and

A hearing having been held on such application (as File No. 34-7) and the matter having been continued subject to call; and

The Commission, on July 5, 1940, having entered its Notice of and Order for Further Hearing (File No. 34-7) wherein it was ordered that the evidence adduced at such hearing would be used in connection with the consideration of the said proposed plan of reorganization, or any other plan of reorganization of Midland Utilities Company which may be the subject of an application filed pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and

It appearing that the foregoing plan, filed as File No. 34-7, is related to, and that the evidence offered in respect to such matter may have a bearing upon the amended application for approval of the Plan of Reorganization for Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company filed by Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of Midland United Company and filed as File No. 52-21, and that substantial saving of time and expense will result if the matters are consolidated;

It is ordered, That the proceeding filed as File No. 34-7 be and hereby is consolidated with the amended application filed as File No. 52-21.

It is further ordered, That hearing on such plans, as amended, under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Commission will be held on April 12, 1943, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.; on such day the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. Said hearings will continue thereat from time to time.

It is further ordered, That, on April 26, 1943, at 10:00 a. m., c. w. t., the hearing will be convened in Room 630, Bankers Building, 105 W. Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the issues to be considered in this consolidated proceeding, particular attention will be directed at said hearing, in respect to the amended Plan of Reorganization filed by Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of the Estate of Midland United Company, to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the proposed amended plan is fair and equitable to the persons affected.

(2) Whether the proposed amended plan is feasible.

(3) To what extent, if any, the proposed amended plan should be modified or amended to render it feasible and fair and equitable to the persons affected.

(4) Whether the various transactions proposed in connection with the amended plan meet the requirements of applicable sections of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 7, 10, 11, and 12 thereof, and the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, and of the Bankruptcy Act as amended, including (but without limitation) the proposals as to the following matters:

(a) The surrender to the United Trustee and the Utilities Trustees of the United collateral and the Utilities collateral held by the secured creditors.

(b) The partial distribution of the assets of United and of Utilities, and the receipt thereof by the persons other than the Midland Liquidating Trust, specified in the amended Plan of Reorganization.

(c) The creation of the Midland Liquidating Trust and the terms and provisions of such Trust.

(d) The transfer of the assets of United and of Utilities, which will remain after partial distribution of such assets, to the Midland Liquidating Trust, and the receipt of such assets by the Midland Liquidating Trust.

(e) The issuance of Trust Certificates and Trust Shares by the Midland Liquidating Trust, and their receipt by the Trust Certificate Holders and Trust Share Holders of the Midland Liquidating Trust.

(f) The provision that the distribution to the Debenture Holders of Utilities is to be determined by the Emerich Committee and the Magill Committee, subject to the approval of this Commission.

(g) The provision determining the manner in which the first Board of Directors of Northern Indiana and of South Shore are to be elected.

(h) The provision designating Willis D. Gale, William C. Freeman, and Max Swiren, as the initial Trustees of the Midland Liquidating Trust.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing copy of this order, by registered mail, to Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of the Estate of Midland United Company, Clarence A. Southerland and Jay Samuel Hartt, Trustees of the Estate of Midland Utilities Company, the Debenture Holders' Committee for Midland Utilities Company, acting under a Deposit Agreement, dated July 15, 1934 ("Emerich Committee"), the Protective Committee of the holders of Midland Utilities Company debentures acting under Letters of Authorization ("Magill Committee"), the Committee for the Protection of 6% and 7% Prior Lien Stockholders of Midland Utilities Company, the Protective Committee for the Midland United Company Stockholders, The Middle West Corporation, and The United Gas Improvement Company not less than thirty days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of the hearing; and that Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of the Estate of Midland United Company, shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing copy of this order by registered mail to all parties of record in the reorganization proceedings, No. 1073, in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, not less than fifteen days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of the hearing; and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to subsidiaries of said Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company, the security holders of said Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company and of the subsidiaries thereof, consumers of said companies, States, municipalities and political subdivisions of States within which are located any of the utility assets of Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company and all subsidiaries thereof or under the laws of which any of such companies are incorporated, all state Commissions, state securities commissions, and all agencies, authorities, judicial bodies, or instrumentalities of the United States of America and of one or more States, municipalities or other political subdivision having jurisdiction over Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company or any subsidiaries thereof or over any of the businesses, affairs, or operations of any of them; that such notice shall be given further by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of hearing.

It is further ordered, That Hugh M. Morris, Trustee of the Estate of Midland United Company, and Jay Samuel Hartt and Clarence A. Southerland, Trustees of the Estate of Midland Utilities Company, on or before March 19, 1943, mail to all known security holders of Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company, respectively, at their last known addresses, copies of this Notice of and Order for Hearing, and that such trustees have available copies of the amended Plan of Reorganization to be forwarded to such security holders of their respective estates as may request a copy.

It is further ordered, That any persons desiring to be heard in connection with this proceeding or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of this Commission on or before April 1, 1943, his request or application therefor as provided in Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission.

THE COMMONWEALTH & SOUTHERN CORPORATION AND ITS SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES, ET AL.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING FOR LIMITED PURPOSE, AND ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 27th day of February 1943.

In the matter of The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation and its Subsidiary Companies, Respondents File No. 59-8; Transportation Securities Corporation, the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, File No. 70-676.

The Commission having by order dated March 6, 1940, instituted proceedings under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act, involving The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation and its subsidiaries (File No. 59-8) and hearings having been held from time to time in said proceedings; and

Respondents having filed an Answer in the section 11 (b) (1) proceedings stating, among other things, that The Commonwealth & Southwestern Corporation contemplated the disposition of the non-utility assets of its non-utility subsidiaries as rapidly as possible; and

The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation and its non-utility subsidiary, Transportation Securities Corporation, having recently filed an application in connection with the proposed disposition of the investment (consisting of all the outstanding common stock) of Transportation Securities Corporation in Springfield Transportation Company, which latter company owns and operates a bus transportation business in Springfield, Illinois, and a hearing on said application (File No. 70-676) having been set for March 8, 1943; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest that said proceedings (Files No. 59-8 and 70-676) be consolidated and that consolidated hearings be held with respect thereto; and

It further appearing to the Commission that cause should be shown why an order should not be entered at this time under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act requiring The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation to divest itself of all its interest, direct or indirect, in Transportation Securities Corporation and its subsidiaries.

It is ordered, That the said proceedings (File No. 59-8 and File No. 70-676) be, and they hereby are consolidated, and that a consolidated hearing be held on March 8, 1943, at 10:00 a. m. E. W. T. at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in such room as the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 318 will at that time advise; and

It is further ordered, That at said consolidated hearing, in addition to the matters specified for consideration in our Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing of February 22, 1943, File No. 70-676, cause shall be shown why an order should not be entered at this time by the Commission directing The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation to divest itself of all its interest, direct or indirect, in Transportation Securities Corporation and its subsidiaries.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation and its subsidiary companies and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or in the interest of investors. Any person desiring to be heard should file with the Secretary of this Commission on or before March 6, 1943, his request therefor, as provided in Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission serve notice of the entry of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

By the Commission.

MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC RAILWAY & TRANSPORT CO. AND WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER CO.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 27th day of February 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a joint declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Wisconsin Electric Power Company, and by Wisconsin Electric Power Company, a subsidiary of The North American Company, a registered holding company, and

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 17, 1943, at 4:00 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, said joint declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may be granted, as provided in Rule U-23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said joint declaration or application, which is on file in the office of the said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below.

(1) The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company proposes to purchase for cash at par from Wisconsin Electric Power Company 8,000 shares of its own common capital stock having a par value of $100 per share or an aggregate par value of $800,000 and to retire the stock so to be purchased by it;

(2) Wisconsin Electric Power Company proposes to sell to The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company the said 8,000 shares of the common capital stock of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company for the consideration above specified.

(c) Nondeductibility of excess-profits tax. (1) Section 23 (c) (1) (B) (relating to taxes not deductible in computing net income) is amended to read as follows:

(B) war-profits and excess-profits taxes imposed by Title II of the Revenue Act of 1917, Title III of the Revenue Act of 1918, Title III of the Revenue Act of 1921, section 216 of the National Industrial Recovery Act, section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1934, or Subchapter E of Chapter 2, or by any such provisions as amended or supplemented;

(2) Section 23 (c) (2) (relating to special rules for deduction of excess-profits tax) is repealed.

SEC. 122. DEDUCTION ALLOWABLE TO PURCHASERS FOR STATE AND LOCAL RETAIL SALES TAXES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Section 23 (c) (relating to deduction for taxes) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(3) Retail sales tax. In the case of a tax imposed by any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof, upon persons engaged in selling tangible personal property at retail, which is measured by the gross sales price or the gross receipts from the sale or which is a stated sum per unit of such property sold, or upon persons engaged in furnishing services at retail, which is measured by the gross receipts for furnishing such services, if the amount of such tax is separately stated, then to the extent that the amount so stated is paid by the purchaser (otherwise than in connection with the purchaser's trade or business) to such person such amount shall be allowed as a deduction in computing the net income of such purchaser as if such amount constituted a tax imposed upon and paid by such purchaser.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

SEC. 158. FOREIGN TAX CREDIT. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(b) Deduction denied if credit chosen. Section 23 (c) (1) (C) (relating to deduction from gross income for taxes) is amended to read as follows:

(C) income, war-profits, and excess-profits taxes imposed by the authority of any foreign country or possession of the United States, if the taxpayer chooses to take to any extent the benefits of section 131.

(c) The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b) shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

PAR. 2. Section 19.23 (c)–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5086, approved October 10, 1941, is further amended as follows:

A. By inserting immediately before the first sentence the following heading: "(a) In general."

B. By striking out "and section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1934" in the third sentence and inserting "section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1934, and, with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, subchapter E of chapter 2" in lieu thereof.

C. By inserting "and before January 1, 1942," immediately after "December 31, 1940," in the fourth sentence.

D. By striking out the fifth sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Income, war-profits, and excess-profits taxes imposed by the authority of any foreign country or possession of the United States are, for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1941, deductible from gross income in cases where the taxpayer does not signify in his return his desire to have to any extent the benefits of section 131 (relating to credit for taxes of foreign countries or possessions of the United States). Such taxes are, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, deductible from gross income for any taxable year in cases where the taxpayer does not choose to take to any extent for such taxable year the benefits of section 131. (See the last sentence of section 131 (a).)

E. By inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraphs:

(b) State and local sales taxes. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, amounts representing sales taxes paid by a purchaser of services or tangible personal property are deductible by such purchaser as taxes, provided they are not paid in connection with his trade or business. The fact that, under the law imposing it, the incidence of the sales tax does not fall on the purchaser is immaterial. The requirement of section 23 (c) (3) that the amount of the tax must be separately stated will be deemed complied with where it clearly appears that the tax was added to the sales price and collected or charged as a separate item. It is not necessary, for the purposes of this section, that the purchaser be furnished with a sales slip, bill, invoice, or other statement on which the tax is separately stated. Where the law imposing the sales tax for which the taxpayer seeks a deduction contains a prohibition against the seller absorbing the tax, or a provision requiring a posted notice stating that the tax will be added to the quoted price, or a requirement that the tax be separately shown in advertisements or separately stated on all bills and invoices, it is presumed that the amount of the sales tax was separately stated at the time paid by the purchaser.

As used in this section the term "sales tax" means a tax imposed by any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, or any political subdivision thereof upon persons engaged in selling tangible personal property at retail, which is measured by the gross sales price or the gross receipts from the sale, or which is a stated sum per unit of such property sold. The term also includes a tax imposed by such authorities upon persons engaged in furnishing services at retail, which is measured by the gross receipts for furnishing such services.

PAR. 3. Section 19.23 (c)–4, as added by Treasury Decision 5086, is amended by striking out the word "The" at the beginning of the section and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "With respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, and before January 1, 1942, the".

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.23 (g)–1 the following:

SEC. 123. DEDUCTION FOR STOCK AND BOND LOSSES ON SECURITIES IN AFFILIATED CORPORATIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Stock losses.

(1) In general. Section 23 (g) (relating to capital losses) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following:

"(4) Stock in affiliated corporation. For the purposes of paragraph (2) stock in a corporation affiliated with the taxpayer shall not be deemed a capital asset. For the purposes of this paragraph a corporation shall be deemed to be affiliated with the taxpayer only if:

(A) at least 95 per centum of each class of its stock is owned directly by the taxpayer; and

(B) more than 90 per centum of the aggregate of its gross incomes for all taxable years has been from sources other than royalties, rents, dividends, interest, annuities, or gains from sales or exchanges of stocks and securities; and

(C) the taxpayer is a domestic corporation.

(2) Technical amendment. Section 23 (g) (3) is amended by inserting before "subsection" the following "paragraph (2) of".

(b) Bond, etc., losses. For losses on bonds, etc., of affiliated corporations, see amendment made to section 23 (k) by section 124 of this Act.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 5. There is inserted immediately after § 19.23 (g)–1 the following:

§ 19.23 (g)–2 Loss on stock of affiliate. If, for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, a taxpayer is a domestic corporation and is affiliated, within the definition in section 23 (g) (4), with another corporation, the stock in such affiliated corporation owned by the taxpayer is not considered to be a "capital asset" of the taxpayer for the purpose of determining the loss from the worthlessness of such stock within the provisions of section 23 (g) (2) and § 19.23 (g)–1. For the purposes of section 23 (g) (2), section 23 (g) (4), § 19.23 (g)–1, and this section, a corporation shall be deemed to be affiliated with the taxpayer only if all the following factors are present:

(a) The taxpayer owns directly at least 95 percent of each class of the stock of such corporation,

(b) More than 90 percent of the aggregate of the gross incomes of such corporation for all the taxable years during which it has been in existence has been from sources other than royalties, rents, dividends, interest, annuities, or gains from sales or exchanges of stocks and securities, and

(c) The taxpayer is a domestic corporation.

Example. Corporation P, a domestic manufacturing corporation which makes its income tax returns on the calendar year basis, owns 100 percent of each class of the stock of Corporation S, and, in addition, 4 percent of the common stock (the only class of stock) of Corporation R which it acquired in 1936. Corporation S, a domestic manufacturing corporation which makes its income tax returns on the calendar year basis, owns 96 percent of the common stock of Corporation R which it acquired in 1934. It is established that the stock of Corporation R, which has from its inception derived all its gross income from manufacturing operations, became worthless during 1942. Since Corporation P does not own directly at least 95 percent of the stock of Corporation R, and therefore for the purposes of section 23 (g) (4) and this section is not affiliated with Corporation R, the stock of such corporation is a capital asset. Any loss upon such stock, under section 23 (g) (2), will be considered to be a loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset. Since such stock was held for more than six months, such loss shall be considered a long-term capital loss under section 117. (See also section 117 (d).) Since Corporation R is deemed to be affiliated with Corporation S for the purposes of section 23 (g) (4) and this section, the stock of Corporation R is not a "capital asset" in the hands of Corporation S for the purposes of section 23 (g) (2) and § 19.23 (g)–1. Consequently, in computing the net income of Corporation S for 1942, any loss upon such stock, under section 23 (f), will be deducted as an ordinary loss and will not be circumscribed by the provisions of section 23 (g) or section 117.

With respect to losses for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, on bonds and similar securities, as defined in section 23 (k) (5), of a corporation affiliated with the taxpayer, as provided in such section, see § 19.23 (k)–4.

PAR. 6. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.23 (k)–1 the following:

SEC. 124. DEDUCTION FOR BAD DEBTS, ETC. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) General rule. Section 23 (k) (relating to bad debts and securities becoming worthless) is amended to read as follows:

(k) Bad debts.

(1) General rule. Debts which become worthless within the taxable year; or (in the discretion of the Commissioner, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts); and when satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the Commissioner may allow such debt, in an amount not in excess of the part which becomes worthless within the taxable year, as a deduction. This paragraph shall not apply in the case of a taxpayer, other than a bank, as defined in section 104, with respect to a debt evidenced by a security as defined in paragraph (3) of this subsection. This paragraph shall not apply in the case of a taxpayer, other than a corporation, with respect to a non-business debt, as defined in paragraph (4) of this subsection.

(2) Securities becoming worthless. If any securities (as defined in paragraph (3) of this subsection) become worthless within the taxable year and are capital assets, the loss resulting therefrom shall, in the case of a taxpayer other than a bank, as defined in section 104, for the purposes of this chapter, be considered as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of such taxable year, of capital assets.

(3) Definition of securities. As used in paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of this subsection the term "securities" means bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued by any corporation (including those issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), with interest coupons or in registered form.

(4) Non-business debts. In the case of a taxpayer, other than a corporation, if a non-business debt becomes worthless within the taxable year, the loss resulting therefrom shall be considered a loss from the sale or exchange, during the taxable year, of a capital asset held for not more than 6 months. The term "non-business debt" means a debt other than a debt evidenced by a security as defined in paragraph (3) and other than a debt the loss from the worthlessness of which is incurred in the taxpayer's trade or business.

(5) Securities of affiliated corporations. Bonds, debentures, notes or certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness issued with interest coupons or in registered form by any corporation affiliated with the taxpayer shall not be deemed capital assets for the purposes of paragraph (2) and paragraph (1) shall apply with respect to such debt except that no such deduction shall be allowed under such paragraph with respect to any such debt which is recoverable only in part. For the purposes of this paragraph a corporation shall be deemed to be affiliated with the taxpayer only if:

(A) at least 95 per centum of each class of its stock is owned directly by the taxpayer; and

(B) more than 90 per centum of the aggregate of its gross incomes for all taxable years has been from sources other than royalties, rents, dividends, interest or annuities or gains from sales or exchanges of stock and securities; and

(C) the taxpayer is a domestic corporation.

* * * * *

(d) Effective date of amendments. The amendments made by this section adding the last sentence of section 23 (k) (1) and adding section 23 (k) (4) shall be effective only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942; the amendment inserting section 23 (k) (5) and amendments related thereto shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941; and the other amendments made by this section shall be effective with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

* * * * *

PAR. 7. There is inserted in lieu of §§ 19.23 (k)–1 to 19.23 (k)–5, inclusive, the following:

§ 19.23 (k)–1 Bad debts. (a) Bad debts may be treated in either of two ways:

(1) By a deduction from income in respect of debts which become worthless in whole or in part, or

(2) By a deduction from income of an addition to a reserve for bad debts.

Taxpayers were given a similar option for 1921 to select either of the methods mentioned for treating such debts. (See article 151, Regulations 62.) While ascertainment of worthlessness and charge-off during the taxable year (which were prerequisite to deduction of a bad debt under the law at that time) are no longer required for the allowance of a debt which becomes worthless in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, the method used in the return for 1921 must be used in returns for all subsequent years unless permission is granted by the Commissioner to change to the other method. A taxpayer filing a first return of income may select either of the two methods subject to approval by the Commissioner upon examination of the return. If the method selected is approved, it must be followed in returns for subsequent years, except as permission may be granted by the Commissioner to change to another method. Application for permission to change the method of treating bad debts shall be made at least 30 days prior to the close of the taxable year for which the change is to be effective. (See also § 19.23 (k)–5)

(b) If, from all the surrounding and attending circumstances, the Commissioner is satisfied that a debt is partially worthless, the amount which has become worthless during the taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction in computing net income. Before a taxpayer may deduct a debt in part, he must be able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Commissioner the amount thereof which is uncollectible and the part thereof which has become worthless during the taxable year. If a debt becomes wholly worthless during the taxable year, the amount thereof which has not been allowed as a deduction for any prior taxable year shall be allowed as a deduction for the taxable year. There should accompany the return a statement of facts substantiating any deduction claimed for bad debts. Any amount subsequently received on account of a bad dept or on account of a part of such debt previously allowed as a deduction for income tax purposes, must be included in gross income for the taxable year in which received, except to the extent excludible from gross income under the provisions of section 22 (b) (12), as added by section 116 of the Revenue Act of 1942. In determining whether a debt is worthless in whole or in part the Commissioner will consider all pertinent evidence, including the value of the collateral, if any, securing the debt and the financial condition of the debtor. Partial deductions will be allowed with respect to specific debts only.

Where the surrounding circumstances indicate that a debt is worthless and uncollectible and that legal action to enforce payment would in all probability not result in the satisfaction of execution on a judgment, a showing of these facts will be sufficient evidence of the worthlessness of the debt for the purpose of deduction. Bankruptcy is generally an indication of the worthlessness of at least a part of an unsecured and unpreferred debt. In bankruptcy cases a debt may become worthless before settlement in some instances, and in others only when a settlement in bankruptcy shall have been had. In either case the mere fact that bankruptcy proceedings instituted against the debtor are terminated in a later year, confirming the conclusion that the debt is worthless, will not authorize shifting the deductions to such later year. If a taxpayer computes his income upon the basis of valuing his notes or accounts receivable at their fair market value when received, which may be less than their face value, the amount deductible for bad debts in any case is limited to such original valuation.

(c) Where banks or other corporations which are subject to supervision by Federal authorities (or by State authorities maintaining substantially equivalent standards) in obedience to the specific orders of such supervisory officers charge off debts in whole or in part, such debts shall, to the extent charged off during the taxable year, be conclusively presumed, for income tax purposes, to have become worthless or worthless only in part during the taxable year, as the case may be. But no such debt shall be so conclusively presumed to be worthless or worthless only in part, as the case may be, if the amount so charged-off is not claimed as a deduction by the taxpayer at the time of filing the return for the taxable year in which such charge-off takes place. If a taxpayer does not claim a deduction in its return for such a totally or partially worthless debt for the year in which such charge-off takes place, but claims such deduction for the taxable year in which the debt becomes worthless or partially worthless, as the case may be, then such charge-off will be deemed to have been involuntary and the deduction shall be allowed for the year in which the debt becomes worthless or partially worthless, as the case may be.

(d) The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section apply to all taxpayers, except that (1) they do not apply in the case of a taxpayer, other than a corporation, with respect to a non-business debt as defined in paragraph (4) of section 23 (k) of the Code; (2) no deduction on account of worthlessness shall be allowed with respect to any debt of the type enumerated in section 23 (k) (5) of the Code which is recoverable only in part; and (3) in the case of taxpayers other than banks as defined in section 104, the term "debts" as used in such subdivisions means obligations to pay fixed or determinable sums of money which are not evidenced by securities as defined in § 19.23 (k)–4.

§ 19.23 (k)–2 Examples of bad debts. Worthless debts arising from unpaid wages, salaries, rents, and similar items of taxable income will not be allowed as a deduction unless the income such items represent has been included in the return of income for the year for which the deduction as a bad debt is sought to be made or for a previous year. Only the difference between the amount received in distribution of the assets of a bankrupt and the amount of the claim may be deducted as a bad debt. The difference between the amount received by a creditor of a decedent in distribution of the assets of the decedent's estate and the amount of his claim may be considered a worthless debt. A purchaser of accounts receivable which become worthless is entitled to deduct them, the amount of deduction to be based upon the price he paid for them and not upon their face value.

§ 19.23 (k)–3 Uncollectible deficiency upon sale of mortgaged or pledged property. If mortgaged or pledged property is lawfully sold (whether to the creditor or another purchaser) for less than the amount of the debt and the portion of the indebtedness remaining unsatisfied after such sale is wholly or partially uncollectible, the mortgagee or pledgee may deduct such amount (to the extent that it constitutes capital or represents an item the income from which has been returned by him) as a bad debt for the taxable year in which it has become wholly or partially worthless. In addition, if the creditor buys in the mortgaged or pledged property, loss or gain is realized measured by the difference between the amount of those obligations of the debtor which are applied to the purchase or bid price of the property (to the extent that such obligations constitute capital or represent an item the income from which has been returned by him) and the fair market value of the property. The fair market value of the property shall be presumed to be the amount for which it is bid in by the taxpayer in the absence of clear and convincing proof to the contrary. If the creditor subsequently sells the property so acquired, the basis for determining gain or loss is the fair market value of the property at the date of acquisition.

Accrued interest may be included as part of the deduction only if it has previously been returned as income.

§ 19.23 (k)–4 Worthless bonds and similar obligations. Except as otherwise provided in section 23 (k) (5), no deduction is allowable under section 23 (k) (1) to any taxpayer (other than a bank as defined in section 104) with respect to a debt evidenced by a security which has become worthless in whole or in part. If a security is a capital asset and becomes worthless during the taxable year, a deduction for the loss resulting therefrom is allowable under section 23 (k) (2) to a taxpayer other than a bank. Such a loss, however, is made subject to the limitations provided in section 117 with respect to sales or exchanges. For the purposes of computing the net income of any taxpayer, other than a bank as defined in section 104, such a loss is to be considered as being sustained from the sale or exchange of the security on the last day of the taxable year, irrespective of when during the taxable year such security actually became worthless. Except in the case of a bank as defined in section 104, no deduction is allowable under section 23 (k) with respect to a debt evidenced by a security, as defined in section 23 (k) (3), which is recoverable only in part.

As used in section 23 (k) (2), the term "security" means a bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness to pay a fixed or determinable sum of money, which has been issued at any time by a domestic or foreign corporation (including that issued by any government or political subdivision thereof), either in registered form or accompanied by interest coupons.

A bond issued by an individual, if it has become worthless, may be treated as a bad debt. A bond (whether or not a security) of an insolvent corporation secured only by a mortgage from which on foreclosure nothing is realized for the bondholders is regarded as having become worthless not later than the year of the foreclosure sale, and no deduction is allowable in computing a bondholder's income for a subsequent year.

A taxpayer (other than a dealer in bonds or other similar obligations) possessing debts evidenced by bonds or other similar obligations cannot deduct from gross income any amount merely on account of market fluctuation. If, however, due, for instance, to the financial condition of the debtor, or conditions other than market fluctuation, the taxpayer will recover upon maturity none or only a part of the debt evidenced by the bonds or other similar obligations (which bonds or other obligations are not securities as defined in this section) and he so demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, he may deduct in computing net income the uncollectible part of the debt evidenced by the bonds or other similar obligations. A bank as defined in section 104 may deduct such uncollectible part of the debt even though the evidence of the debt is a security as defined in this section.

The application of section 23 (k) to deductions for worthless bonds and similar obligations which are securities may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example 1. On February 1, 1938, A, an individual, who is not a dealer in corporate bonds, purchased bonds of the X Corporation bearing interest coupons payable semiannually, for which he paid $3,000. During the calendar year 1939 (his taxable year) the bonds became worthless. A is entitled to a deduction of $2,000 in computing his net income for 1939. The computation of the amount of the deduction is the same as the computation in the example under § 19.23 (g)–1.

Example 2. If the facts in example 1 are the same except that because of the financial condition of the X Corporation the debt evidenced by its bonds became recoverable only in part, no deduction is allowable to A under either section 23 (k) (1) or (2) with respect to the uncollectible part of such debt.

Under section 23 (k) (5), bonds, debentures, notes or certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness to pay a fixed or determinable sum of money, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by any corporation affiliated with the taxpayer, shall not be deemed capital assets of the taxpayer for the purposes of section 23 (k) (2) or as a debt (evidenced by a security) for the purposes of this section; and the provisions of section 23 (k) (1) and of paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 19.23 (k)–1 shall apply with respect to such debts except that no deduction shall be allowed to the taxpayer with respect to any such debt which is recoverable only in part. For the purposes of this section, a corporation is deemed to be affiliated with the taxpayer only if the taxpayer owns at least 95 percent of each class of the stock of such corporation, if more than 90 percent of the aggregate of the gross incomes of such corporation for all taxable years has been from sources other than royalties, rents, dividends, interest, or annuities, or gains from the sales or exchanges of stocks and securities and if the taxpayer is a domestic corporation. The provisions of the two preceding sentences shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.23 (k)–5 Reserve for bad debts. Taxpayers who have established the reserve method of treating bad debts and maintained proper reserve accounts for bad debts, or who, in accordance with § 19.23 (k)–1, adopt the reserve method of treating bad debts, may deduct from gross income a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts in lieu of a deduction for specific bad debt items.

What constitutes a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts must be determined in the light of the facts, and will vary as between classes of business and, with conditions of business prosperity. It will depend primarily upon the total amount of debts outstanding at the close of the taxable year, those arising currently as well as those arising in prior taxable years, and the total amount of the existing reserve. In case subsequent realizations upon outstanding debts prove to be more or less than estimated at the time of the creation of the existing reserve, the amount of the excess or inadequacy in the existing reserve should be reflected in the determination of the reasonable addition necessary in the taxable year. A taxpayer using the reserve method should make a statement in his return showing the volume of his charge sales (or other business transactions) for the year and the percentage of the reserve to such amount, the total amount of notes and accounts receivable at the beginning and close of the taxable year, and the amount of the debts which have become wholly or partially worthless and have been charged against the reserve account.

§ 19.23 (k)–6 Non-business bad debts. In the case of a taxpayer, other than a corporation, if a non-business bad debt becomes entirely worthless within a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, the loss resulting therefrom shall be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for not more than six months. Such a loss is subject to the limitations provided in section 117 with respect to gains and losses from the sale and exchange of capital assets. A loss with respect to such a debt will be treated as sustained only if and when the debt has become totally worthless, and no deduction shall be allowed for a non-business debt which is recoverable in part during the taxable year. Nor are the provisions of this subdivision applicable in the case of a loss resulting from a security as defined in section 23 (k) (3). A non-business debt is a debt, other than a debt the loss from the worthlessness of which is incurred in the taxpayer's trade or business and other than a debt evidenced by a security as that term is defined in section 23 (k) (3). The question whether a debt is one the loss from the worthlessness of which is incurred in the taxpayer's trade or business is a question of fact in each particular case. The determination of this question is substantially the same as that which is made for the purpose of ascertaining whether a loss from the type of transaction covered by section 23 (e) is "incurred in trade or business" under paragraph (1) of that section.

The character of the debt for this purpose is not controlled by the circumstances attending its creation or its subsequent acquisition by the taxpayer or by the use to which the borrowed funds are put by the recipient, but is to be determined rather by the relation which the loss resulting from the debt's becoming worthless bears to the trade or business of the taxpayer. If that relation is a proximate one in the conduct of the trade or business in which the taxpayer is engaged at the time the debt becomes worthless, the debt is not a non-business debt for the purposes of this amendment.

To illustrate: A, an individual engaged in the grocery business and who makes his income tax returns on the calendar year basis, extends credit on an open account to B in 1941.

(1) In 1942 A sells the business but retains the claim against B. The claim subsequently becomes worthless in A's hands. A's loss is controlled by the non-business debt provisions. While the original consideration was advanced by A in his trade or business, the loss was not sustained as a proximate incident to the conduct of any trade or business in which he was engaged at the time the claim became worthless.

(2) In 1942 A sells the business to C but sells the claim against B to the taxpayer, D. The claim subsequently becomes worthless in D's hands, at a time when D is not engaged in a trade or business incident to the conduct of which a loss from the worthlessness of such a claim would be a proximate result. D's loss is controlled by the non-business debt provisions, even though the original consideration was advanced by A in his trade or business.

(3) In 1942 A dies, leaving the business, including the accounts receivable, to his son, C, the taxpayer. The claim against B becomes worthless in C's hands. C's loss is not controlled by the non-business debt provisions. While C did not advance any consideration for the claim or acquire it in carrying on his trade or business, the loss was sustained as a proximate incident to the conduct of the trade or business in which he was engaged at the time the debt became worthless.

(4) In 1942, A dies, leaving the business to his son, C, but the claim against B to his son, D, the taxpayer. The claim against B becomes worthless in D's hands at a time when D is not engaged in a trade or business incident to the conduct of which a loss from the worthlessness of such a claim would be a proximate result. D's loss is controlled by the non-business debt provisions, even though the original consideration was advanced by A in his trade or business.

(5) In 1942 A dies and while his executor, C, is carrying on the business, the claim against B becomes worthless. The loss sustained by A's estate is not controlled by the non-business debt provisions. While C did not advance any consideration for the claim on behalf of the estate or acquire it in carrying on a trade or business in which the estate was engaged, the loss was sustained as a proximate incident to the conduct of the trade or business in which the estate was engaged at the time the debt became worthless.

(6) In 1942, A, in liquidating the business, attempts to collect B's claim but finds that it has become worthless. A's loss is not controlled by the non-business debt provisions, since a loss incurred in liquidating a trade or business is a proximate incident to the conduct thereof.

The provisions of this section with respect to non-business debts are applicable only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 9. Section 19.23 (o)–1 is amended by inserting at the end of the first paragraph thereof the following:

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, for computation of deductions for charitable contributions where the taxpayer also has an allowable deduction for medical expenses see § 19.23 (x)–1.

PAR. 10. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.23 (q)–1 the following:

SEC. 125. CORPORATE CONTRIBUTIONS TO UNITED STATES, ETC., OR FOR CHARITABLE USE OUTSIDE UNITED STATES DEDUCTIBLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

The first sentence of section 23 (q) (relating to allowance of corporate charitable contributions) is amended to read as follows: "In the case of a corporation, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year to or for the use of:

"(1) The United States, any State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia, or any possession of the United States, for exclusively public purposes; or

"(2) A corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, created or organized in the United States or in any possession thereof or under the law of the United States, or of any State or Territory, or of the District of Columbia, or of any possession of the United States, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children (but in the case of contributions or gifts to a trust, chest, fund, or foundation, payment of which is made within a taxable year beginning after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, only if such contributions or gifts are to be used within the United States or any of its possessions exclusively for such purposes), no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation; to an amount which does not exceed 5 per centum of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefits of this subsection."

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 11. Section 19.23 (q)–1 is amended as follows:

A. By striking the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following sentences:

A corporation may deduct from its gross income, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1940, contributions or gifts to organizations described in section 23 (q), prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1939; for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1942, contributions or gifts to organizations described in section 23 (q), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1939; and for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, contributions or gifts to organizations described in section 23 (q) as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942 (see § 19.22 (b) (4)–1 for definition of "political subdivision"). Where payment is made in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, and prior to a taxable year beginnnig after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, the charitable deduction prescribed is allowable to corporations even though the gifts or contributions are used outside of the United States or its possessions.

B. By striking from the second sentence the following: "that section" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "the applicable law".

PAR. 12. There is inserted immediately preceding section 24 the following:

SEC. 127. DEDUCTION FOR MEDICAL, DENTAL, ETC., EXPENSES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Allowance of deduction. Section 23 (relating to deductions from gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(x) Medical, dental, etc., expenses. Except as limited under paragraph (1) or (2), expenses paid during the taxable year, not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, for medical care of the taxpayer, his spouse, or a dependent specified in section 25 (b) (2) (A) of the taxpayer. The term "medical care," as used in this subsection, shall include amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance).

(1) A husband and wife who file a joint return may deduct only such expenses as exceed 5 per centum of the aggregate net income of such husband and wife, computed without the benefit of this subsection, and the maximum deduction for the taxable year shall be not in excess of $2,500 in the case of such husband and wife.

(2) An individual who files a separate return may deduct only such expenses as exceed 5 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer, computed without the benefit of this subsection, and the maximum deduction for the taxable year shall be not in excess of $2,500 in the case of the head of a family, and not in excess of $1,250 in the case of all other such individuals.

* * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.23 (x)–1 Medical, dental, etc., expenses. Section 23 (x) permits, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, a deduction from gross income of payments for certain medical expenses. The deduction is allowable only to individuals and only with respect to medical expenses actually paid during the taxable year, regardless of when the incident or event which occasioned the expenses occurred and regardless of the method of accounting employed by the taxpayer in making his income tax return. If the medical expenses are incurred but not paid during the taxable year, no deduction can be taken for such year. Thus, if an expenditure was incurred in December, 1942, but not paid until January, 1943, no deduction can be taken for the year 1942.

The expenses paid must be for medical care of the taxpayer, his spouse, or a dependent of the taxpayer (see § 19.25–6 for description of dependents), not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. Where reimbursement, from insurance or otherwise, for medical expenses is not received until a taxable year subsequent to the year in which allowable medical expenses were paid, the reimbursement so received must be included in the gross income of the taxpayer for the taxable year received to the extent attributable to (and not in excess of) deductions allowed under section 23(x) for any prior taxable year (see section 22 (b) (5)). Where during the year for which the deduction is taken payments are made for medical care which are not compensated for during such year but for which compensation is received in a subsequent year, the portion of the compensation so received which is attributable to the deduction taken is that proportion of such compensation which the amount of the deduction bears to the total amount of the payments made in the prior year not compensated for during such prior year.

It is unnecessary for the purposes of this section that the spouse or dependent of the taxpayer for whom the medical expenses are paid be such at the time of payment, or at the time they were incurred. Thus, payments made in June, 1942 by A, for medical services rendered B, his wife, in 1941 may be deducted by A for 1942 even though prior to payment for that year B died or secured a divorce; and payments made in July, 1942 by C for medical services rendered D in 1941 may be deducted by C for 1942 even though C and D were not married until June, 1942.

Only such medical expenses are deductible as exceed 5 percent of the net income computed without the deduction for medical expenses. Where a taxpayer has allowable deductions in the taxable year for both charitable contributions and medical expenses the allowable deductions for charitable contributions should be computed first, without regard to deduction for medical expenses, and thereafter the deduction for medical expenses should be calculated (see §19.23 (o)–1). The maximum deduction allowable for medical expenses paid in any one taxable year is $2,500 in the case of the head of a family or a husband and wife filing a joint return. In all other cases, the maximum is $1,250.

The term "medical care" as used in this section and in section 23 (x) includes amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance). Payments for hospitalization insurance, or for membership in an association furnishing cooperative or so-called free-choice medical service, or group hospitalization and clinical care are amounts which may be deducted. Amounts paid for operations or treatments affecting any portion of the body, including obstetrical expenses and expenses of X-rays or therapy treatments are deemed to be for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body and are therefore deductible. Amounts expended for illegal operations or treatments or illegally procured drugs are not deductible. Allowable deductions under section 23 (x) will be confined strictly to expenses incurred primarily for the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness. Thus, payments for expenses for hospital, nursing (including nurses' board where paid by the taxpayer), medical, laboratory, surgical, dental and other diagnostic and healing services, for drugs and medical and dental supplies (including artificial teeth or limbs), and for ambulance hire and travel primarily for and essential to the rendition of the medical services or to the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness, are deductible.

In connection with claims for deductions under section 23 (x), the taxpayer shall furnish the name and address of each person to whom payment for medical expenses was made and the amount and the approximate date of the actual payment thereof in each case. If payment was in kind then such fact shall be so reflected. Claims for deduction must be substantiated, when requested by the Commissioner, by a statement from the individual or entity to which payment for medical expenses was paid showing the nature of the service rendered, to or for whom rendered, the amount paid therefor, and the date of the actual payment thereof, and by such other information as the Commissioner may deem necessary.

The application of section 23 (x) and this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Taxpayer A, divorced from B in December 1941 and having one dependent child, had net income for 1942 of $3,000 before deduction of medical expenses. During 1942 he paid $300 for medical care, of which $100 was for treatment of his dependent child and $200 for an operation in September 1941 on B, his wife at the time of the operation. In 1942 he received a payment of $50 for health insurance covering B's illness during 1941.

The deduction allowable under section 23 (x) for the calendar year 1942 is $100 computed as follows:

Payment for medical care in 1942	$300
Less: Amount of insurance received in 1942	50
Payment for medical care in 1942 not compensated for during 1942	250
Less: 5 percent of $3,000 (net income before deduction of medical expenses	150
Excess, allowable as deduction for 1942	100

Assuming in the above example that in 1943, A brings suit and receives $150 upon a hospital insurance policy covering the expenses incurred by B in 1941, the amount included in taxable income for 1943 is $90, computed as follows (see section 22 (b) (5)):

Compensation received in 1943	$150
Less: Portion thereof attributable to the deduction allowed for prior year 1942: 100 (deduction for 1942) / 250 (payments not compensated for in 1942) × $150 (compensation received in 1943)	60
Amount to be excluded from gross income for 1943	90
Taxable income for 1943	60

SEC. 128. DEDUCTION OF CERTAIN AMOUNTS PAID TO COOPERATIVE APARTMENT CORPORATION. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Section 23 (relating to deductions from gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(z) Amounts representing taxes and interest paid to cooperative apartment corporation.

(1) In general. In the case of a tenant-stockholder (as defined in paragraph (2)), amounts, not otherwise deductible, paid or accrued to a cooperative apartment corporation within the taxable year, if such amounts represent that proportion of the real estate taxes on the apartment building and the land on which it is situated, allowable as deductions under subsection (c), paid or incurred by the corporation, or of the interest paid or incurred by the corporation on its indebtedness contracted in the acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, or maintenance of such apartment building or in the acquisition of the land on which the building is located, which the stock of the corporation owned by the tenant-stockholder is of the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that held by the corporation.

(2) Definitions. For the purposes of this subsection:

(A) Cooperative apartment corporation. The term "cooperative apartment corporation" means a corporation:

(i) Having one and only one class of stock outstanding,

(ii) All of the stockholders of which are entitled, solely by reason of their ownership of stock in the corporation, to occupy for dwelling purposes apartments in a building owned or leased by such corporation, and who are not entitled, either conditionally or unconditionally, except upon a complete or partial liquidation of the corporation, to receive any distribution not out of earnings and profits of the corporation, and

(iii) 80 per centum or more of the gross income of which for the taxable year in which the taxes and interest described in paragraph (1) are paid or incurred is derived from tenant-stockholders.

(B) Tenant-stockholders. The term "tenant-stockholder" means an individual who is a stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation, and whose stock is fully paid-up in an amount not less than an amount shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner as bearing a reasonable relationship to the portion of the value of the corporation's equity in the building and the land on which it is situated which is attributable to the apartment which such individual is entitled to occupy.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.23 (z)–1 Amounts representing taxes and interest paid to cooperative apartment corporation. A tenant-stockholder may, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, deduct from his gross income amounts paid or accrued within his taxable year to a cooperative apartment corporation representing certain taxes or interest paid or incurred by such corporation. Such amounts are not allowable as a deduction unless they represent the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of the real estate taxes on the apartment building and the land on which it is situated, allowable as deductions under section 23 (c), paid or incurred by the cooperative apartment corporation prior to the close of the taxable year of the tenant-stockholder, or of the interest paid or incurred by the corporation prior to such time on its indebtedness contracted in the acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, or maintenance of such apartment building or in the acquisition of the land on which the building is situated.

The deduction allowable under section 23 (z) shall not exceed the amount of the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of the taxes and interest described therein. In case a tenant-stockholder pays or incurs all or a part of his proportionate share of such taxes and interest to the corporation, the amount so paid or incurred representing taxes and interest is allowable as a deduction if the requirements of section 23 (z) are otherwise satisfied. As used in this section the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share is that proportion which the stock of the cooperative apartment corporation owned by the tenant-stockholder is of the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that held by the corporation. If a tenant-stockholder pays or incurs to the corporation an amount on account of such taxes and interest and other items, such as maintenance, overhead expenses, and curtailment of mortgage indebtedness, the amount representing such taxes and interest is an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount of the tenant-stockholder's payment or liability as the rate used for in the total amount of the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of such taxes and interest bears to the total amount of the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of the taxes, interest, and other items on account of which such payment is made or liability incurred. No deduction is allowable under section 23 (z) for that part of amounts representing the taxes or interest described therein as to which the tenant-stockholder is entitled to receive a [illegible] either to occupy the apartment or to a lease of the apartment. The fact that the right to continue to occupy the apartment is dependent upon the payment of charges to the corporation in the nature of rentals or assessment is immaterial. None of the stockholders of the corporation shall be entitled, either conditionally or unconditionally, except upon a complete or partial liquidation of the corporation, to receive any distribution other than out of earnings or profits of the corporation. It is a prerequisite to the allowance of a deduction under section 23 (z) that at least 80 percent of the gross income of the corporation for the taxable year of the corporation in which the taxes and interest are paid or incurred is derived from tenant-stockholders.

The term "tenant-stockholder" means an individual who is a stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation as defined in section 23 (z), and whose stock is fully paid up in an amount at least equal to an amount shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner as bearing a reasonable relationship to the portion of the fair market value, as of the date of the original issuance of the stock, of the corporation's equity in the building and the land on which it is situated which is attributable to the apartment which such individual is entitled to occupy.

The application of section 23 (z) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example 1. The X Corporation is, and at all times since 1940 has been, a cooperative apartments at a total cost of $200,000. The of section 23 (z). In 1940 it purchased a site and constructed thereon a building with 10 apartments at a total cost of $200 000 The fair market value of the land and building was likewise $200 000 at the time of completion of the building. Each apartment is of equal value. Upon completion of the building, the X Corporation mortgaged the land and building for $100,000, and sold its total authorized capital stock consisting of 1,000 shares of common stock for $100,000. The stock was purchased by 10 individuals, who each paid $10,000 for 100 shares. Each certificate for the shares provides that the holder thereof is entitled to a lease of a particular apartment in the building for a specified term of years. Each lease provides that the tenant shall pay his proportionate part of the corporation's expenses. In 1942 the original owner of 100 shares of the common stock of the X Corporation sold it to Arnold Smith, a gain of [illegible]

Total shares of stock of X Corporation outstanding		1,000
Proportion of outstanding stock of X Corporation owned by A		1/10
Expenses incurred by X Corporation:
Real estate taxes	$4,000
Interest	5,000
Maintenance	3,000
Other expenses	1,800	$13,800
Amount paid by A representing his proportionate part of such expenses (1/10 of $13,800)		1,380
A's proportionate share of real estate taxes and interest based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $9,000)		900
A's proportionate share of total corporate expenses based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $13,800)		1,380
Amount of A's payment representing real estate taxes and interest (900/1380 of $1,380)		900
A's allowable deduction		900

Since the stock which A acquired by gift was fully paid up by his donor in an amount equal to the portion of the fair market value, as of the date of the original issuance of the stock, of the corporation's equity in the land and building which is attributable to Apartment No. 1, the requirement of section 23 (z) in this regard is satisfied. The fair market value at the time of the gift of the corporation's equity attributable to the apartment is immaterial.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in example 1 except that the building constructed by the X Corporation contained, in addition to the 10 apartments, business space on the ground floor, which the corporation rented at $2,400 for the calendar year 1941; the corporation deducted the $2,400 from its expenses in determining the amount of the expenses to be prorated among its tenant-stockholders; the amount paid by A to the corporation in 1942 is $1,140 instead of $1,380; and more than 80 percent of the gross income of the corporation for 1941 was derived from tenant-stockholders. A is entitled under section 23 (z) to a deduction of $743.48 in computing his net income for 1942. The deduction is computed as follows:

Expenses incurred by X Corporation	$15,200
Less rent from business space	2,400
Expenses to be prorated among tenant-stockholders	12,800
Amount paid by A representing his proportionate part of such expenses (1/10 of $12,800)	1,280
A's proportionate share of real estate taxes and interest based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $9,000)	900
A's proportionate share of total corporate expenses based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $12,800)	1,280
Amount of A's payment representing real estate taxes and interest (900/1280 of $1,280)	900
A's allowable deduction	743.48

Total amount paid by A	$1,000.00
A's proportionate share of real estate taxes and interest based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $9,000)	900.00
A's proportionate share of total corporate expenses based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $13,800)	1,380.00
Amount of A's payment representing real estate taxes and interest (900/1380 of $1,000)	652.17
A's allowable deduction	652.17

Since the portion of A's payment allocable to real estate taxes and interest is only $652.17, that amount instead of $900 is allowable as a deduction in computing A's net income for 1942.

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE

Regulations 103 amended to conform to section 165 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to mutual insurance companies other than life or marine.

In order to conform Regulations 103 (Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.) to section 165 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 19.101-1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5171 approved October 29, 1942, is further amended as follows:

A. By striking out paragraph (a) of the third paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

When a mutual insurance company has established its right to exemption under section 101 (11) of the Code or a corresponding provision of a prior income tax law it need not thereafter make a return of income or any further showing with respect to its status under the law, unless it changes the character of its organization or operations or unless the gross amount received during the taxable year (beginning after December 31, 1941) from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) exceeds $75,000.

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.101 (11)-1 the following:

SEC. 165. MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Exempt companies. Section 101 (11) is amended to read as follows:

(11) Mutual insurance companies or associations other than life or marine (including interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters) if the gross amount received during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) does not exceed $75,000;

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 3. Section 19.101 (11)-1 is amended as follows:

A. By inserting immediately after the words "under section 101 (11)" appearing in the first paragraph the following: "for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942".

B. By inserting immediately after the words "in section 101 (11)" appearing in the second paragraph the following: "for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942".

C. By adding at the end thereof a new paragraph as follows:

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941 an insurance company or company [illegible]

SEC. 206. COMPUTATION OF GROSS INCOME. The gross income of insurance companies subject to the tax imposed by section 201 or 204 shall not be determined in the manner provided in section 119.

* * * * *

(b) Taxable companies. Section 207 (relating to taxation of mutual insurance companies other than life) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 207. MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE.

(a) Imposition of tax. There shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year upon the income of every mutual insurance company (other than a life or a marine insurance company and other than an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter) a tax computed under paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) whichever is the greater and upon the income of every mutual insurance company (other than a life or a marine insurance company) which is an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, a tax computed under paragraph (3):

(1) If the corporation surtax net income is over $3,000 a tax computed as follows:

(A) Normal tax. A normal tax on the normal-tax net income, computed at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b), or 30 per centum of the amount by which the normal-tax net income exceeds $3,000, whichever is the lesser; plus

(B) Surtax. A surtax on the corporation surtax net income, computed at the rates provided in section 15 (b), or 20 per centum of the amount by which the corporation surtax net income exceeds $3,000, whichever is the lesser.

(2) If for the taxable year the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policy holders, minus the interest which under section 22 (b) (4) is excluded from gross income, exceeds $75,000, a tax equal to the excess of—

(A) 1 per centum of the amounts so computed, or 2 per centum of the excess of the amount so computed over $75,000, whichever is the lesser, over

(B) the amount of the tax imposed under Subchapter E of Chapter 2

(3) In the case of an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, if the corporation surtax net income is over $[illegible] a tax computed as follows:

(A) Normal tax. A normal tax on the corporation net income, computed at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b), on the amounts of the excess of the amount by which the [illegible]

To illustrate: A, an individual engaged in the grocery business and who makes his income tax returns on the calendar year basis, extends credit on an open account to B in 1941.

(1) In 1942 A sells the business but retains the claim against B. The claim subsequently becomes worthless in A's hands. A's loss is controlled by the non-business debt provisions. While the original consideration was advanced by A in his trade or business, the loss was not sustained as a proximate incident to the conduct of any trade or business in which he was engaged at the time the claim became worthless.

(2) In 1942 A sells the business to C but sells the claim against B to the taxpayer, D. The claim subsequently becomes worthless in D's hands, at a time when D is not engaged in a trade or business incident to the conduct of which a loss from the worthlessness of such a claim would be a proximate result. D's loss is controlled by the non-business debt provisions, even though the original consideration was advanced by A in his trade or business.

(3) In 1942 A dies, leaving the business, including the accounts receivable, to his son, C, the taxpayer. The claim against B becomes worthless in C's hands. C's loss is not controlled by the non-business debt provisions. While C did not advance any consideration for the claim or acquire it in carrying on his trade or business, the loss was sustained as a proximate incident to the conduct of the trade or business in which he was engaged at the time the debt became worthless.

(4) In 1942, A dies, leaving the business to his son, C, but the claim against B to his son, D, the taxpayer. The claim against B becomes worthless in D's hands at a time when D is not engaged in a trade or business incident to the conduct of which a loss from the worthlessness of such a claim would be a proximate result. D's loss is controlled by the non-business debt provisions, even though the original consideration was advanced by A in his trade or business.

(5) In 1942 A dies and while his executor, C, is carrying on the business, the claim against B becomes worthless. The loss sustained by A's estate is not controlled by the non-business debt provisions. While C did not advance any consideration for the claim on behalf of the estate or acquire it in carrying on a trade or business in which the estate was engaged, the loss was sustained as a proximate incident to the conduct of the trade or business in which the estate was engaged at the time the debt became worthless.

(6) In 1942, A, in liquidating the business, attempts to collect B's claim but finds that it has become worthless. A's loss is not controlled by the non-business debt provisions, since a loss incurred in liquidating a trade or business is a proximate incident to the conduct thereof.

The provisions of this section with respect to non-business debts are applicable only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 9. Section 19.23 (o)–1 is amended by inserting at the end of the first paragraph thereof the following:

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, for computation of deductions for charitable contributions where the taxpayer also has an allowable deduction for medical expenses see § 19.23 (x)–1.

PAR. 10. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.23 (q)–1 the following:

SEC. 125. CORPORATE CONTRIBUTIONS TO UNITED STATES, ETC., OR FOR CHARITABLE USE OUTSIDE UNITED STATES DEDUCTIBLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

The first sentence of section 23 (q) (relating to allowance of corporate charitable contributions) is amended to read as follows: "In the case of a corporation, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year to or for the use of:

"(1) The United States, any State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia, or any possession of the United States, for exclusively public purposes; or

"(2) A corporation, trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, created or organized in the United States or in any possession thereof or under the law of the United States, or of any State or Territory, or of the District of Columbia, or of any possession of the United States, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children (but in the case of contributions or gifts to a trust, chest, fund, or foundation, payment of which is made within a taxable year beginning after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, only if such contributions or gifts are to be used within the United States or any of its possessions exclusively for such purposes), no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation; to an amount which does not exceed 5 per centum of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefits of this subsection."

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 11. Section 19.23 (q)–1 is amended as follows:

A. By striking the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following sentences:

A corporation may deduct from its gross income, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1940, contributions or gifts to organizations described in section 23 (q), prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1939; for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1942, contributions or gifts to organizations described in section 23 (q), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1939; and for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, contributions or gifts to organizations described in section 23 (q) as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942 (see § 19.22 (b) (4)–1 for definition of "political subdivision"). Where payment is made in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, and prior to a taxable year beginnnig after the date of the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as proclaimed by the President, the charitable deduction prescribed is allowable to corporations evcn though the gifts or contributions are used outside of the United States or its possessions.

B. By striking from the second sentence the following: "that section" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "the applicable law".

PAR. 12. There is inserted immediately preceding section 24 the following:

SEC. 127. DEDUCTION FOR MEDICAL, DENTAL, ETC., EXPENSES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Allowance of deduction. Section 23 (relating to deductions from gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(x) Medical, dental, etc., expenses. Except as limited under paragraph (1) or (2), expenses paid during the taxable year, not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, for medical care of the taxpayer, his spouse, or a dependent specified in section 25 (b) (2) (A) of the taxpayer. The term "medical care," as used in this subsection, shall include amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance).

(1) A husband and wife who file a joint return may deduct only such expenses as exceed 5 per centum of the aggregate net income of such husband and wife, computed without the benefit of this subsection, and the maximum deduction for the taxable year shall be not in excess of $2,500 in the case of such husband and wife.

(2) An individual who files a separate return may deduct only such expenses as exceed 5 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer, computed without the benefit of this subsection, and the maximum deduction for the taxable year shall be not in excess of $2,500 in the case of the head of a family, and not in excess of $1,250 in the case of all other such individuals.

* * * * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.23 (x)–1 Medical, dental, etc., expenses. Section 23 (x) permits, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, a deduction from gross income of payments for certain medical expenses. The deduction is allowable only to individuals and only with respect to medical expenses actually paid during the taxable year, regardless of when the incident or event which occasioned the expenses occurred and regardless of the method of accounting employed by the taxpayer in making his income tax return. If the medical expenses are incurred but not paid during the taxable year, no deduction can be taken for such year. Thus, if an expenditure was incurred in December, 1942, but not paid until January, 1943, no deduction can be taken for the year 1942.

The expenses paid must be for medical care of the taxpayer, his spouse, or a dependent of the taxpayer (see § 19.25–6 for description of dependents), not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. Where reimbursement, from insurance or otherwise, for medical expenses is not received until a taxable year subsequent to the year in which allowable medical expenses were paid, the reimbursement so received must be included in the gross income of the taxpayer for the taxable year received to the extent attributable to (and not in excess of) deductions allowed under section 23(x) for any prior taxable year (see section 22 (b) (5)). Where during the year for which the deduction is taken payments are made for medical care which are not compensated for during such year but for which compensation is received in a subsequent year, the portion of the compensation so received which is attributable to the deduction taken is that proportion of such compensation which the amount of the deduction bears to the total amount of the payments made in the prior year not compensated for during such prior year.

It is unnecessary for the purposes of this section that the spouse or dependent of the taxpayer for whom the medical expenses are paid be such at the time of payment, or at the time they were incurred. Thus, payments made in June, 1942 by A, for medical services rendered B, his wife, in 1941 may be deducted by A for 1942 even though prior to payment for that year B died or secured a divorce; and payments made in July, 1942 by C for medical services rendered D in 1941 may be deducted by C for 1942 even though C and D were not married until June, 1942.

Only such medical expenses are deductible as exceed 5 percent of the net income computed without the deduction for medical expenses. Where a taxpayer has allowable deductions in the taxable year for both charitable contributions and medical expenses the allowable deductions for charitable contributions should be computed first, without regard to deduction for medical expenses, and thereafter the deduction for medical expenses should be calculated (see §19.23 (o)–1). The maximum deduction allowable for medical expenses paid in any one taxable year is $2,500 in the case of the head of a family or a husband and wife filing a joint return. In all other cases, the maximum is $1,250.

The term "medical care" as used in this section and in section 23 (x) includes amounts paid for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance). Payments for hospitalization insurance, or for membership in an association furnishing cooperative or so-called free-choice medical service, or group hospitalization and clinical care are amounts which may be deducted. Amounts paid for operations or treatments affecting any portion of the body, including obstetrical expenses and expenses of X-rays or therapy treatments are deemed to be for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body and are therefore deductible. Amounts expended for illegal operations or treatments or illegally procured drugs are not deductible. Allowable deductions under section 23 (x) will be confined strictly to expenses incurred primarily for the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness. Thus, payments for expenses for hospital, nursing (including nurses' board where paid by the taxpayer), medical, laboratory, surgical, dental and other diagnostic and healing services, for drugs and medical and dental supplies (including artificial teeth or limbs), and for ambulance hire and travel primarily for and essential to the rendition of the medical services or to the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness, are deductible.

In connection with claims for deductions under section 23 (x), the taxpayer shall furnish the name and address of each person to whom payment for medical expenses was made and the amount and the approximate date of the actual payment thereof in each case. If payment was in kind then such fact shall be so reflected. Claims for deduction must be substantiated, when requested by the Commissioner, by a statement from the individual or entity to which payment for medical expenses was paid showing the nature of the service rendered, to or for whom rendered, the amount paid therefor, and the date of the actual payment thereof, and by such other information as the Commissioner may deem necessary.

The application of section 23 (x) and this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Taxpayer A, divorced from B in December 1941 and having one dependent child, had net income for 1942 of $3,000 before deduction of medical expenses. During 1942 he paid $300 for medical care, of which $100 was for treatment of his dependent child and $200 for an operation in September 1941 on B, his wife at the time of the operation. In 1942 he received a payment of $50 for health insurance covering B's illness during 1941.

The deduction allowable under section 23 (x) for the calendar year 1942 is $100 computed as follows:

Payment for medical care in 1942	$300
Less: Amount of insurance received in 1942	50
Payment for medical care in 1942 not compensated for during 1942	250
Less: 5 percent of $3,000 (net income before deduction of medical expenses	150
Excess, allowable as deduction for 1942	100

Assuming in the above example that in 1943, A brings suit and receives $150 upon a hospital insurance policy covering the expenses incurred by B in 1941, the amount included in taxable income for 1943 is $90, computed as follows (see section 22 (b) (5)):

Compensation received in 1943	$150
Less: Portion thereof attributable to the deduction allowed for prior year 1942: 100 (deduction for 1942) / 250 (payments not compensated for in 1942) × $150 (compensation received in 1943)	= 60
Amount to be excluded from gross income for 1943	90
Taxable income for 1943	60

SEC. 128. DEDUCTION OF CERTAIN AMOUNTS PAID TO COOPERATIVE APARTMENT CORPORATION. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Section 23 (relating to deductions from gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(z) Amounts representing taxes and interest paid to cooperative apartment corporation.

(1) In general. In the case of a tenant-stockholder (as defined in paragraph (2)), amounts, not otherwise deductible, paid or accrued to a cooperative apartment corporation within the taxable year, if such amounts represent that proportion of the real estate taxes on the apartment building and the land on which it is situated, allowable as deductions under subsection (c), paid or incurred by the corporation, or of the interest paid or incurred by the corporation on its indebtedness contracted in the acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, or maintenance of such apartment building or in the acquisition of the land on which the building is located, which the stock of the corporation owned by the tenant-stockholder is of the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that held by the corporation.

(2) Definitions. For the purposes of this subsection:

(A) Cooperative apartment corporation. The term "cooperative apartment corporation" means a corporation:

(i) Having one and only one class of stock outstanding,

(ii) All of the stockholders of which are entitled, solely by reason of their ownership of stock in the corporation, to occupy for dwelling purposes apartments in a building owned or leased by such corporation, and who are not entitled, either conditionally or unconditionally, except upon a complete or partial liquidation of the corporation, to receive any distribution not out of earnings and profits of the corporation, and

(iii) 80 per centum or more of the gross income of which for the taxable year in which the taxes and interest described in paragraph (1) are paid or incurred is derived from tenant-stockholders.

(B) Tenant-stockholders. The term "tenant-stockholder" means an individual who is a stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation, and whose stock is fully paid-up in an amount not less than an amount shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner as bearing a reasonable relationship to the portion of the value of the corporation's equity in the building and the land on which it is situated which is attributable to the apartment which such individual is entitled to occupy.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.23 (z)–1 Amounts representing taxes and interest paid to cooperative apartment corporation. A tenant-stockholder may, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, deduct from his gross income amounts paid or accrued within his taxable year to a cooperative apartment corporation representing certain taxes or interest paid or incurred by such corporation. Such amounts are not allowable as a deduction unless they represent the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of the real estate taxes on the apartment building and the land on which it is situated, allowable as deductions under section 23 (c), paid or incurred by the cooperative apartment corporation prior to the close of the taxable year of the tenant-stockholder, or of the interest paid or incurred by the corporation prior to such time on its indebtedness contracted in the acquisition, construction, alteration, rehabilitation, or maintenance of such apartment building or in the acquisition of the land on which the building is situated.

The deduction allowable under section 23 (z) shall not exceed the amount of the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of the taxes and interest described therein. In case a tenant-stockholder pays or incurs all or a part of his proportionate share of such taxes and interest to the corporation, the amount so paid or incurred representing taxes and interest is allowable as a deduction if the requirements of section 23 (z) are otherwise satisfied. As used in this section the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share is that proportion which the stock of the cooperative apartment corporation owned by the tenant-stockholder is of the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that held by the corporation. If a tenant-stockholder pays or incurs to the corporation an amount on account of such taxes and interest and other items, such as maintenance, overhead expenses, and curtailment of mortgage indebtedness, the amount representing such taxes and interest is an amount which bears the same ratio to the total amount of the tenant-stockholder's payment or liability, as the case may be, as the total amount of the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of such taxes and interest bears to the total amount of the tenant-stockholder's proportionate share of the taxes, interest, and other items on account of which such payment is made or liability incurred. No deduction is allowable under section 23 (z) for such part of amounts representing the taxes or interest described therein as is deductible by a tenant-stockholder under any other provision of the Internal Revenue Code.

In order to qualify as a "cooperative apartment corporation" under section 23 (z), the corporation shall have only one class of stock outstanding. Each stockholder of the corporation shall be entitled to occupy for dwelling purposes an apartment in a building owned or leased by such corporation. The stockholder is not required to occupy the apartment. The right as against the corporation to occupy the apartment is sufficient. Such right shall be conferred on each stockholder solely by reason of his ownership of stock in the corporation, that is, the stock shall entitle the owner thereof either to occupy the apartment or to a lease of the apartment. The fact that the right to continue to occupy the apartment is dependent upon the payment of charges to the corporation in the nature of rentals or assessment is immaterial. None of the stockholders of the corporation shall be entitled, either conditionally or unconditionally, except upon a complete or partial liquidation of the corporation, to receive any distribution other than out of earnings or profits of the corporation. It is a prerequisite to the allowance of a deduction under section 23 (z) that at least 80 percent of the gross income of the corporation for the taxable year of the corporation in which the taxes and interest are paid or incurred is derived from tenant-stockholders.

The term "tenant-stockholder" means an individual who is a stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation as defined in section 23 (z), and whose stock is fully paid up in an amount at least equal to an amount shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner as bearing a reasonable relationship to the portion of the fair market value, as of the date of the original issuance of the stock, of the corporation's equity in the building and the land on which it is situated which is attributable to the apartment which such individual is entitled to occupy.

The application of section 23 (z) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example 1. The X Corporation is, and at all times since 1940 has been, a cooperative apartments at a total cost of $200,000. The of section 23 (z). In 1940 it purchased a site and constructed thereon a building with 10 apartments at a total cost of $200,000. The fair market value of the land and building was likewise $200,000 at the time of completion of the building. Each apartment is of equal value. Upon completion of the building, the X Corporation mortgaged the land and building for $100,000, and sold its total authorized capital stock, consisting of 1,000 shares of common stock, for $100,000. The stock was purchased by 10 individuals, who each paid $10,000 for 100 shares. Each certificate for 100 shares provides that the holder thereof is entitled to a lease of a particular apartment in the building for a specified term of years. Each lease provides that the lessee shall pay his proportionate part of the corporation's expenses. In 1940 the original owner of 100 shares of the common stock of the X Corporation and of the lease to Apartment No. 1 made a gift of the stock and lease to A, an individual. The taxable year of A and of the X Corporation is the calendar year. The corporation computes its net income on the accrual basis, while A computes his net income on the cash basis. In 1941 the X Corporation incurred expenses aggregating $13,800, namely, $4,000 for the real estate taxes on the land and building, $5,000 for the interest on the mortgage, $3,000 for the maintenance of the building, and $1,800 for other expenses. In 1942, A pays the X Corporation $1,380, representing his proportionate part of the expenses incurred by the corporation. The entire gross income of the X Corporation for 1941 was derived from tenant-stockholders. A is entitled under taxes on the land and building, $5,000 for computing his net income for 1942. The deduction is computed as follows:

Shares of stock of X Corporation owned by A		100
Shares of stock of X Corporation owned by 9 other tenant-stockholders		900
Total shares of stock of X Corporation outstanding		1,000
Proportion of outstanding stock of X Corporation owned by A		1/10
Expenses incurred by X Corporation:
Real estate taxes	$4,000
Interest	5,000
Maintenance	3,000
Other expenses	1,800	$13,800
Amount paid by A representing his proportionate part of such expenses (1/10 of $13,800)		1,380
A's proportionate share of real estate taxes and interest based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $9,000)		900
A's proportionate share of total corporate expenses based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $13,800)		1,380
Amount of A's payment representing real estate taxes and interest (900/1380 of $1,380)		900
A's allowable deduction		900

Since the stock which A acquired by gift was fully paid up by his donor in an amount equal to the portion of the fair market value, as of the date of the original issuance of the stock, of the corporation's equity in the land and building which is attributable to Apartment No. 1, the requirement of section 23 (z) in this regard is satisfied. The fair market value at the time of the gift of the corporation's equity attributable to the apartment is immaterial.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in example 1 except that the building constructed by the X Corporation contained, in addition to the 10 apartments, business space on the ground floor, which the corporation rented at $2,400 for the calendar year 1941; the corporation deducted the $2,400 from its expenses in determining the amount of the expenses to be prorated among its tenant-stockholders; the amount paid by A to the corporation in 1942 is $1,140 instead of $1,380; and more than 80 percent of the gross income of the corporation for 1941 was derived from tenant-stockholders. A is entitled under section 23 (z) to a deduction of $743.48 in computing his net income for 1942. The deduction is computed as follows:

Expenses incurred by X Corporation	$13,800
Less rent from business space	2,400
Expenses to be prorated among tenant-stockholders	11,400
Amount paid by A representing his proportionate part of such expenses (1/10 of $11,400)	1,140
A's proportionate share of real estate taxes and interest based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $9,000)	900.00
A's proportionate share of total corporate expenses based on his stock ownership (1/10 of 13,800)	1,380.00
Amount of A's payment representing real estate taxes and interest (900/1380 of $1,140)	743.48
A's allowable deduction	743.48

Since the portion of A's payment allocable to real estate taxes and interest is only $743.48, that amount instead of $900 is allowable as a deduction in computing A's net income for 1942.

Example 3. The facts are the same as in example 2 except that the amount paid by A to the X Corporation in 1942 is $1,000 instead of $1,140. A is entitled under section 23 (z) to a deduction of $652.17 in computing his net income for 1942. The deduction is computed as follows:

Total amount paid by A	$1,000.00
A's proportionate share of real estate taxes and interest based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $9,000)	900.00
A's proportionate share of total corporate expenses based on his stock ownership (1/10 of $13,800)	1,380.00
Amount of A's payment representing real estate taxes and interest (900/1380 of $1,000)	652.17
A's allowable deduction	652.17

Since the portion of A's payment allocable to real estate taxes and interest is only $652.17, that amount instead of $900 is allowable as a deduction in computing A's net income for 1942.

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE

Regulations 103 amended to conform to section 165 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to mutual insurance companies other than life or marine.

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.] to section 165 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 19.101-1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5177, approved October 29, 1942, is further amended as follows:

A. By striking out paragraph (a) of the third paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(a) Mutual insurance companies shall submit copies of the policies or certificates of membership, and, in addition thereto, for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942, if any substantial amount of income is claimed to be held for the payment of losses or expenses, shall submit a statement based upon a reliable table of loss experience demonstrating that the amount so held for the payment of losses is reasonably necessary, and in the case of expenses, shall submit a statement based upon reliable statistics showing that the expenses were incurred or that in all probability they will be incurred;

B. By inserting in the first sentence in the fifth paragraph after the word "organization" the first time it appears therein, the following: "(other than a mutual insurance company)".

C. By inserting after the fourth sentence in the fifth paragraph the following:

When a mutual insurance company has established its right to exemption under section 101 (11) of the Code or a corresponding provision of a prior income tax law it need not thereafter make a return of income or any further showing with respect to its status under the law, unless it changes the character of its organization or operations or unless the gross amount received during the taxable year (beginning after December 31, 1941) from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) exceeds $75,000.

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.101 (11)-1 the following:

SEC. 165. MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Exempt companies. Section 101 (11) is amended to read as follows:

(11) Mutual insurance companies or associations other than life or marine (including interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters) if the gross amount received during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) does not exceed $75,000;

* * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 3. Section 19.101 (11)-1 is amended as follows:

A. By inserting immediately after the words "under section 101 (11)" appearing in the first paragraph the following: "for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942".

B. By inserting immediately after the words "in section 101 (11)" appearing in the second paragraph the following: "for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942".

C. By adding at the end thereof a new paragraph as follows:

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941 an insurance company is exempt from taxation under this chapter if it is a mutual company or association (other than life or marine) or an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter and if the gross amount received during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) does not exceed $75,000. Such a company is not required to file income-tax returns or pay income taxes.

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately after § 19.204-3 the following:

SEC. 205. TAXES OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES AND POSSESSIONS OF UNITED STATES.

The amount of income, war-profits, and excess-profits taxes imposed by foreign countries or possessions of the United States shall be allowed as a credit against the tax of a domestic insurance company subject to the tax imposed by section 201, 204, or 207, to the extent provided in the case of a domestic corporation in section 131, and in the case of the tax imposed by section 201 or 204 "net income" as used in section 131 means the net income as defined in this Supplement.

SEC. 206. COMPUTATION OF GROSS INCOME.

The gross income of insurance companies subject to the tax imposed by section 201 or 204 shall not be determined in the manner provided in section 119.

SEC. 165. MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * *

(b) Taxable companies. Section 207 (relating to taxation of mutual insurance companies other than life) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 207. MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MARINE.

(a) Imposition of tax. There shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year upon the income of every mutual insurance company (other than a life or a marine insurance company and other than an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter) a tax computed under paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) whichever is the greater and upon the income of every mutual insurance company (other than a life or a marine insurance company) which is an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, a tax computed under paragraph (3):

(1) If the corporation surtax net income is over $3,000 a tax computed as follows:

(A) Normal tax. A normal tax on the normal-tax net income, computed at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b), or 30 per centum of the amount by which the normal-tax net income exceeds $3,000, whichever is the lesser; plus

(B) Surtax. A surtax on the corporation surtax net income, computed at the rates provided in section 15 (b), or 20 per centum of the amount by which the corporation surtax net income exceeds $3,000, whichever is the lesser.

(2) If for the taxable year the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policy holders, minus the interest which under section 22 (b) (4) is excluded from gross income, exceeds $75,000, a tax equal to the excess of—

(A) 1 per centum of the amounts so computed, or 2 per centum of the excess of the amount so computed over $75,000, whichever is the lesser, over

(B) the amount of the tax imposed under Subchapter E of Chapter 2.

(3) In the case of an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, if the corporation surtax net income is over $50,000 a tax computed as follows:

(A) Normal tax. A normal tax on the normal-tax net income, computed at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b), or 48 per centum of the amount by which the normal-tax net income exceeds $50,000, whichever is the lesser; plus

(B) Surtax. A surtax on the corporation surtax net income, computed at the rates provided in section 15 (b), or 32 per centum of the amount by which the corporation surtax net income exceeds $50,000, whichever is the lesser.

(4) Gross amount received over $75,000 but less than $125,000. If the gross amount received during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is over $75,000 but less than $125,000, the amount ascertained under paragraph (1), paragraph (2) (A), and paragraph (3) shall be an amount which bears the same proportion to the amount ascertained under such paragraph, computed without reference to this paragraph, as the excess over $75,000 of such gross amount received bears to $50,000.

(5) Foreign mutual insurance companies other than life or marine. In the case of a foreign mutual insurance company (other than a life or marine insurance company), the net income shall be the net income from sources within the United States and the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums shall be the amount of such income from sources within the United States.

(6) No United States insurance business. Foreign mutual insurance companies (other than a life or marine insurance company) not carrying on an insurance business within the United States shall not be taxable under this section but shall be taxable as other foreign corporations.

(b) Definition of income, etc. In the case of an insurance company subject to the tax imposed by this section—

(1) Gross investment income. "Gross investment income" means the gross amount of income during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and gains from sales or exchanges of capital assets to the extent provided in section 117;

(2) Net premiums. "Net premiums" means gross premiums (including deposits and assessments) written or received on insurance contracts during the taxable year less return premiums and premiums paid or incurred for reinsurance. Amounts returned where the amount is not fixed in the insurance contract but depends upon the experience of the company or the discretion of the management shall not be included in return premiums but shall be treated as dividends to policyholders under paragraph (3);

(3) Dividends to policyholders. "Dividends to policyholders" means dividends and similar distributions paid or declared to policyholders. The term "paid or declared" shall be construed according to the method regularly employed in keeping the books of the insurance company;

(4) Net income. The term "net income" means the gross investment income less—

(A) Tax-free interest. The amount of interest which under section 22 (b) (4) is excluded for the taxable year from gross income:

(B) Investment expenses. Investment expenses paid or accrued during the taxable year. If any general expenses are in part assigned to or included in the investment expenses, the total deduction under this subparagraph shall not exceed one-fourth of 1 per centum of the mean of the book value of the invested assets held at the beginning and end of the taxable year plus one-fourth of the amount by which net income computed without any deduction for investment expenses allowed by this subparagraph, or for tax-free interest allowed by subsection (b) (4) (A), exceeds 3¾ per centum of the book value of the mean of the invested assets held at the beginning and end of the taxable year;

(C) Real estate expenses. Taxes and other expenses paid or accrued during the taxable year exclusively upon or with respect to the real estate owned by the company, not including taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, and not including any amount paid out for new buildings, or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property. The deduction allowed by this paragraph shall be allowed in the case of taxes imposed upon a shareholder of a company upon his interest as shareholder, which are paid or accrued by the company without reimbursement from the shareholder, but in such cases no deduction shall be allowed the shareholder for the amount of such taxes;

(D) Depreciation. A reasonable allowance, as provided in section 23 (l), for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence;

(E) Interest paid or accrued. All interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness, except on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations (other than obligations of the United States issued after September 24, 1917, and originally subscribed for by the taxpayer) the interest upon which is wholly exempt from taxation under this chapter.

(F) Capital losses. Capital losses to the extent provided in section 117 plus losses from capital assets sold or exchanged in order to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders. Capital assets shall be considered as sold or exchanged in order to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders to the extent that the gross receipts from their sale or exchange are not greater than the excess, if any, for the taxable year of the sum of dividends and similar distributions paid to policyholders, losses paid, and expenses paid over the sum of interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums received. In the application of section 117 (e) for the purposes of this section, the net capital loss for the taxable year shall be the amount by which losses for such year from sales or exchanges of capital assets exceeds the sum of the gains from such sales or exchanges and whichever of the following amounts is the lesser:

(i) the corporation surtax net income (computed without regard to gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets); or

(ii) losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets sold or exchanged to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders.

(c) Rental value of real estate. The deduction under subsection (b) (4) (C) or (b) (4) (D) of this section on account of any real estate owned and occupied in whole or in part by a mutual insurance company other than life or marine, shall be limited to an amount which bears the same ratio to such deduction (computed without regard to this subsection) as the rental value of the space not so occupied bears to the rental value of the entire property.

(d) Amortization of premium and accrual of discount. The gross amount of income during the taxable year from interest, the deduction provided in subsection (b) (4) (A), and the credit allowed against net income in section 26 (a) shall each be decreased by the appropriate amortization of premium and increased by the appropriate accrual of discount attributable to the taxable year on bonds, notes, debentures or other evidences of indebtedness held by a mutual insurance company other than life or marine. Such amortization and accrual shall be determined (1) in accordance with the method regularly employed by such company, if such method is reasonable, and (2) in all other cases, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

(e) Deductions of foreign corporations. In the case of a foreign corporation the deductions allowed in this section shall be allowed to the extent provided in Supplement I in the case of a foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States.

(f) Double deductions. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the same item to be twice deducted.

(g) Credits under section 26. For the purposes of this section, in computing normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income, the credits provided in section 26 shall be allowed in the manner and to the extent provided in sections 13 (a) and 15 (a).

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.207–1 (1942) Tax on mutual insurance companies other than life or marine. All mutual insurance companies other than life or marine (including foreign insurance companies carrying on an insurance business within the United States) not specifically exempt under the provisions of section 101 (11) as amended, are subject to the tax imposed by section 207 (a) on their investment income or on their gross income, whichever tax is the greater, except interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters which are taxed only on their investment income. For the alternative tax, in lieu of the tax imposed by section 207 (a) (1) or (3), where the net long-term capital gain for any taxable year exceeds the net short-term capital loss, see section 117 (c) (1) and the regulations thereunder.

The taxable income of mutual insurance companies other than life or marine differs from the taxable income of other corporations. (See section 207 (a) (2) and section 207 (b).) Such companies are entitled, in computing normal-tax net income and corporation surtax net income, to the credits provided in section 26 in the manner and to the extent provided in sections 13 (a) and 15 (a). The gross amount of income during the taxable year from interest, the deductions under section 207 (b) (4) (A) for wholly tax-exempt interest, and the credit under section 26 (a) for partially tax-exempt interest, are decreased by the appropriate amortization of premiums and increased by the appropriate accrual of discount attributable to the taxable year on bonds, notes, debentures or other evidences of indebtedness held by a mutual insurance company other than life or marine. (See section 207 (d) and § 19.207–6 (1942).)

All provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and of these regulations not inconsistent with the specific provisions of section 207, are applicable to the assessment and collection of the tax imposed by section 207 (a) and mutual insurance companies other than life or marine are subject to the same penalties as are provided in the case of returns and payment of income tax by other corporations. The return shall be on Form 1120M.

Foreign mutual insurance companies other than life or marine not carrying on an insurance business within the United States are not taxable under section 207 (a), but are taxable as other foreign corporations. See section 231.

Mutual insurance companies other than life or marine, except interinsurers or reciprocal underwriters, with corporation surtax net incomes of over $3,000 or with gross amounts of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest of over $75,000, are subject to a tax computed under section 207 (a) (1) or section 207 (a) (2) whichever is the greater. The tax under section 207 (a) (1) is computed upon normal-tax net income and corporation surtax net income at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b) and in section 15 (b). The tax under section 207 (a) (2) is a tax equal to the excess of 1 percent of the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest, over the amount of the tax imposed under Subchapter E of Chapter 2.

Under section 207 (a) (1), companies with normal-tax net incomes of between $3,000 and $6,153.86, and with corporation surtax net incomes of between $3,000 and $6,000, pay a normal tax, at the rate of 30 percent, and a surtax, at the rate of 20 percent, on that portion of the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income, respectively, in excess of $3,000. Under section 207 (a) (2), companies with gross amounts of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest, of between $75,000 and $150,000, pay a tax equal to the excess of 2 percent of that portion in excess of $75,000, over the amount of the tax imposed under Subchapter E of Chapter 2.

Interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters with corporation surtax net incomes of over $50,000 are taxed under section 207 (a) (3) upon normal-tax net income and corporation surtax net income at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b) and in section 15 (b). Under section 207 (a) (3) interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters with normal-tax net incomes and corporation surtax net incomes of between $50,000 and $100,000 pay a normal tax, at the rate of 48 percent, and a surtax, on the rate of 32 percent, on that portion of the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income, respectively, in excess of $50,000.

Section 207 (a) (4) provides for an adjustment of the amount computed under section 207 (a) (1), section 207 (a) (2) (A), and section 207 (a) (3) where the gross amount received during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is over $75,000 and less than $125,000. The adjustment reduces the tax otherwise computed under those sections to an amount which bears the same proportion to such tax as the excess over $75,000 bears to $50,000.

The application of section 207 (a) (1), (2), (3), and (4) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example 1. The X Company, a mutual casualty insurance company, for the taxable year 1942 has a corporation surtax net income of $3,500 and due to partially tax-exempt interest of $600, a normal-tax net income of $2,900. The gross amount of income of the X Company from interest, dividends, rents, net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest is $150,000. Its excess profits net income is $2,900. It is not subject to normal tax under section 207 (a) (1) for the taxable year 1942 as its normal-tax net income does not exceed $3,000. Its surtax is 20 percent of $500 ($3,500—$3,000) or $100 since that amount is less than $350, the surtax computed at the rate provided in section 15 (b). It has no normal tax and, therefore, its total tax under section 207 (a) (1) is the surtax of $100. Its excess profits net income is less than $5,000 and, therefore, there is no excess profits tax and the tax under section 207 (a) (2) is 1 percent of $150,000 or $1,500. Since the tax under section 207 (a) (2) exceeds the tax under section 207 (a) (1) the tax under section 207 (a) is $1,500, namely, that imposed by section 207 (a) (2).

Example 2. If, in the above example the normal-tax net income, corporation surtax net income, and excess profits tax net income were each less than $2,900, the gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) was $90,000 and the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest was $70,000 the X Company would be required to file an income tax return but due to section 207 (a) no income tax would be imposed.

Example 3: The Y Company, a mutual fire insurance company, for the taxable year 1942 has a normal-tax net income of $6,000, a corporation surtax net income of $7,000 and an adjusted excess profits net income of $1,000. The gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is $120,000 and the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest is $100,000. Under section 207 (a) (1), without application of section 207 (a) (4), the normal tax would be 30 percent of $3,000, or $900 (since this is less than $920, the tax computed at the rates provided in section 14 (b)); and the surtax would be 10 percent of $7,000, or $700 (since this is less than $800, the tax computed at 20 percent of the excess of the surtax net income over $3,000). The combined tax of $1,600 would then be reduced by applying section 207 (a) (4), since the gross receipts are between $75,000 and $125,000. The final tax under section 207 (a) (1) would be 90 percent of $1,600 or $1,440, since the $45,000 (the excess of $120,000 over $75,000) is 90 percent of $50,000. The excess profits tax on the adjusted excess profits net income of $1,000 at the rate of 90 percent is $900 (this being less than the 80 percent limitation under section 710 (a) (1) (B)). Under the provisions of section 710 (a) of the Code, after applying section 710 (a) (4), the excess profits tax is $810 (90 percent of $900) since $45,000 (the excess of $120,000 over $75,000) is 90 percent of $50,000. Under section 207 (a) (2) (A), without reference to section 207 (a) (4), the tax is 2 percent of $25,000 (the excess of $100,000 over $75,000), or $500, since this is less than $1,000, 1 percent of $100,000. Applying section 207 (a) (4) reduces this to $450, or 90 percent of $500. Since $450 is less than the amount of the excess profits tax of $810 there is no tax under section 207 (a) (2) and the tax under section 207 (a) (1) is applicable. The Y Company would accordingly pay a combined normal tax and surtax of $1,440 and an excess profits tax of $810 or a total of $2,250.

Example 4. The Z Exchange, an interinsurer, for the taxable year 1942 has a corporation surtax net income of $60,000 and, due to partially tax-exempt interest of $12,000, a normal-tax net income of $48,000. The gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is $2,700,000. The Z Exchange is not subject to normal tax under section 207 (a) (3) for the taxable year 1942 as its normal-tax net income is less than $50,000. Its surtax is 32 percent of $10,000 ($60,000—$50,000) or $3,200 since that amount is less than $9,600, the surtax computed at the rate provided in section 15 (b). Since it has no normal tax and is not subject to the tax imposed by section 207 (a) (2) nor entitled to the adjustment provided in section 207 (a) (4), its total tax under section 207 (a) is $3,200.

§ 19.207–2 (1942) Net premiums. Net premiums are one of the items used, together with interest, dividends, and rents, less dividends to policyholders and wholly tax-exempt interest, in determining tax liability under section 207 (a) (2). They are also used in section 207 (b) (4) (F) in determining the limitation on certain capital losses and in the application of section 117 (e). The term "net premiums" is defined in section 207 (b) (2) and includes deposits and assessments, but excludes amounts returned to policyholders which are treated as dividends under section 207 (b) (3).

§ 19.207–3 (1942) Dividends to policyholders. "Dividends to policyholders" is one of the deductions used, together with wholly tax-exempt interest, in determining tax liability under section 207 (a) (2). They are also used in section 207 (b) (4) (F) in determining the limitation on certain capital losses and in the application of section 117 (e). The term "dividends to policyholders" is defined in section 207 (b) (3) as dividends and similar distributions paid or declared to policyholders. It includes amounts returned to policyholders where the amount is not fixed in the insurance contract but depends upon the experience of the company or the discretion of the management. Such amounts are not to be treated as return premiums under section 207 (b) (2). Similar distributions include such payments as the so-called unabsorbed premium deposits returned to policyholders by factory mutual fire insurance companies. The term "paid or declared" is to be construed according to the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of the insurance company, and such method shall be consistently followed with respect to all deductions (including dividends and similar distributions to policyholders) and all items of income.

If the method of accounting so employed is the cash receipts and disbursements method the deduction is limited to the dividends and similar distributions actually paid to policyholders in the taxable year. If, on the other hand, the method of accounting so employed is the accrual method the deduction, or a reasonably accurate estimate thereof, for dividends and similar distributions declared to policyholders for any taxable year will, in general, be computed as follows:

To dividends and similar distributions paid during the taxable year add the amount of dividends and similar distributions declared but unpaid at the end of the taxable year and deduct dividends and similar distributions declared but unpaid at the beginning of the taxable year.

If an insurance company on the accrual basis does not use the above method in determining the deduction for dividends and similar distributions declared to policyholders it must submit with its return a full and complete explanation of the method actually used. For the rule as to when dividends are considered paid, see § 19.27 (b)–2 (d).

§ 19.207–4 (1942) Net income and deductions—(a) In general. The net income of a mutual insurance company other than life or marine is its gross investment income, namely, the gross amount of income during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and gains from sales or exchanges of capital assets to the extent provided in section 117, less the deductions provided in section 207 (b) (4) for wholly tax-exempt interest, investment expenses, real estate expenses, depreciation, interest paid or accrued, and capital losses. In addition to the limitations on deductions relating to real estate owned and occupied by a mutual insurance company other than life or marine provided in section 207 (c), the adjustment for amortization of premium and accrual of discount provided in section 207 (d), and the limitation on the deduction for investment expenses where general expenses are allocated to investment income provided in section 207 (b) (4) (B), mutual insurance companies other than life or marine are subject to the limitation on deductions relating to wholly tax-exempt income provided in section 24 (a) (5). Such companies are not entitled to the net operating loss deduction provided in section 23 (s), since section 208 was repealed by section 163 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(b) Wholly tax-exempt interest. Interest which in the case of other taxpayers is excluded from gross income by section 22 (b) (4) but included in the gross investment income of a mutual insurance company other than life or marine by section 207 (b) (1) is allowed as a deduction from gross investment income by section 207 (b) (4) (A).

(c) Investment expenses. The deduction allowed by section 207 (b) (4) (B) for investment expenses is the same as that allowed life insurance companies by section 201 (c) (7) (B) except that provision is made for both the cash and accrual method of accounting. (See § 19.201–7 (c).)

(d) Taxes and expenses with respect to real estate. The deduction allowed by section 207 (b) (4) (C) for taxes and expenses with respect to real estate owned by the company is the same as that allowed life insurance companies by section 201 (c) (7) (C) except that provision is made for both the cash and accrual method of accounting. (See § 19.201–7 (d).)

(e) Depreciation. The deduction allowed by section 207 (b) (4) (D) for depreciation is the same as that allowed life insurance companies by section 201 (c) (7) (D). (See § 19.201–7 (e).)

(f) Interest paid or accrued. The deduction allowed by section 207 (b) (4) (E) for interest on indebtedness is the same as that allowed other corporations by section 23 (b). (See § 19.23 (b)–1.)

(g) Capital losses. The deduction for capital losses under section 207 (b) (4) (F) includes not only capital losses to the extent provided in section 117 but in addition thereto losses from capital assets sold or exchanged to provide funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders. Losses in the latter case may be deducted from ordinary income while the deduction for losses under section 117 is limited to the gains. (See section 117 (d) (1).)

Capital assets are considered as sold or exchanged to provide for the funds or payments specified in section 207 (b) (4) (F), to the extent that the gross receipts from the sale or exchange of such assets are not greater than the excess, if any, for the taxable year of the sum of dividends and similar distributions paid to policyholders, and losses and expenses paid over the sum of interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums received. If, by reason of a particular sale or exchange of a capital asset, gross receipts are greater than such excess, the gross receipts and the resulting loss should be apportioned and the excess included in capital losses subject to the provisions of section 117. Capital losses actually used to reduce net income in any taxable year may not again be used in a succeeding taxable year as an offset against capital gains in that year and for that purpose a special rule is set forth for the application of section 117 (e).

The application of section 207 (b) (4) (F) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example 1. The X Company, a mutual fire insurance company, in the taxable year 1942 sells capital assets in order to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders. The gross receipts from the sale are $60,000 resulting in losses of $20,000. It pays dividends to policyholders of $150,000, losses of $25,000, and expenses of $25,000. It receives interest of $50,000, dividends of $5,000, rents of $4,000, and net premiums of $66,000. The excess of the sum of dividends, losses and expenses paid ($200,000) over the sum of interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums received ($125,000) is $75,000. As the gross receipts from the sale of capital assets ($60,000) do not exceed such excess ($75,000), the losses of $20,000 are allowable as a deduction from gross investment income.

Example 2. If in the above example the gross receipts were $76,000 and the last capital asset sold, for the purpose therein specified, resulted in gross receipts of $2,000 and a loss of $500 the losses allowable as a deduction from gross investment income would be $19,750. The last sale made the gross receipts of $76,000 exceed by $1,000 the excess ($75,000) of the sum of dividends, losses, and expenses paid ($200,000) over the sum of interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums received ($125,000). The gross receipts and the resulting loss from the last sale is apportioned on the basis of the ratio of the excess of $1,000 to the gross receipts of $2,000 or 50 percent. 50 percent of the loss of $500 is deducted from the total loss of $20,000. The remaining gross receipts of $1,000 and the proportionate loss of $250 should be reported as capital losses under section 117.

Example 3. If in example (1) the X Company had a corporation surtax net income of $9,750 and, under the provisions of section 117, had capital losses of $18,000 and capital gains of $10,000, the net capital loss for the taxable year 1942 in applying section 117 (e) for the purposes of section 207 (b) (4) (F), would be $8,000. This is determined by subtracting from total losses of $38,000 ($18,000 capital losses under section 117 plus $20,000 other capital losses under section 207 (b) (4) (F)) the sum of capital gains of $10,000 and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets sold or exchanged to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders of $20,000. Such losses of $20,000 are added to capital gains of $10,000 since they are less than corporation surtax net income, computed without regard to gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets, of $29,750 ($9,750 corporation surtax net income plus $20,000 other capital losses under section 207 (b) (4) (F) plus the portion of capital losses allowable under section 117 of $10,000 minus capital gains under section 117 of $10,000).

§ 19.207–5 (1942) Real estate owned and occupied. The limitation in section 207 (c) on the amount allowable as a deduction for taxes, expenses, and depreciation upon or with respect to any real estate owned and occupied in whole or in part by a mutual insurance company other than life or marine is the same as that provided in the case of life insurance companies by section 201 (d). (See § 19.201–8.)

§ 19.207–6 (1942) Amortization of premium and accrual of discount. Section 207 (d) makes provision for the appropriate amortization of premium and the appropriate accrual of discount, attributable to the taxable year, on bonds, notes, debentures or other evidences of indebtedness held by a mutual insurance company other than life or marine. Such amortization and accrual is the same as that provided for life insurance companies by section 201 (e) and shall be determined in accordance with the regulations thereunder, see § 19.201–9, except that in determining the premium and discount of a mutual insurance company other than life or marine the basis provided in section 113 shall be used in lieu of the acquisition value.

(Sec. 165 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Cong.), and sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed. 62))

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MUTUAL AND MUTUAL MARINE INSURANCE COMPANIES

Regulations 103, amended to conform to sections 124 (b), 160 (d) and 164 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to insurance companies other than life or mutual and mutual marine insurance companies.

In order to conform Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.] to sections 124 (b), 160 (d) and 164 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.204 (c)–1 the following:

SEC. 124. DEDUCTION FOR BAD DEBTS, ETC. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

* * * * * *

(b) Insurance companies. Section 204 (c) (6) relating to deductions allowed insurance companies other than life or mutual) is amended to read as follows:

(6) Debts in the nature of agency balances and bills receivable which become worthless within the taxable year;

* * * * * *

(d) Effective date of amendments. * * * and the other amendments made by this section [including the amendment made by section 124 (b)] shall be effective with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

* * * * * *

PAR. 2. The last sentence of § 19.204 (b)–1 is amended to read as follows:

Gain or loss from agency balances and bills receivable not admitted as assets on the underwriting and investment exhibit will be ignored, excepting only such agency balances and bills receivable as have been allowed as deductions for worthless debts or, having been previously so allowed, are recovered during the taxable year.

PAR. 3. There is inserted in the second paragraph of § 19.204 (c)–1 after the word "desire" the following: ", or for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, chooses,"

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately after § 19.203–1 the following:

SEC. 204. INSURANCE COMPANIES OTHER THAN LIFE OR MUTUAL [AND MUTUAL MARINE INSURANCE COMPANIES] [AS AMENDED BY SECS. 204, 228 (a), REV. ACT 1939; SECS. 124 (b), 160 (d), 164, REV. ACT 1942].

(a) Imposition of Tax.

(1) In general. There shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year upon the normal-tax net income and upon the corporation surtax net income of every insurance company (other than a life or mutual insurance company) and every mutual marine insurance company taxes at the rates specified in section 13 or section 14 (b) and in section 15 (b).

(2) Normal-tax and corporation surtax net income of foreign insurance companies other than life or mutual and foreign mutual marine. In the case of a foreign insurance company (other than a life or mutual insurance company) and a foreign mutual marine insurance company, the normal-tax net income shall be the net income from sources within the United States minus the credit provided in section 26 (a), the credit provided in section 26 (b), and the credit for income subject to the tax imposed by Subchapter E of Chapter 2 provided in section 26 (e) and the corporation surtax net income shall be the net income from sources within the United States minus the credit provided in section 26 (b) (computed by limiting such credit to 85 per centum of the net income reduced by the credit for income subject to the tax imposed by Subchapter E of Chapter 2 in lieu of 85 per centum of the adjusted net income so reduced), and minus the credit for income subject to the tax imposed by Subchapter E of Chapter 2 provided in section 26 (e).

(3) No United States insurance business.—Foreign insurance companies (other than a life or mutual insurance company) and foreign mutual marine insurance companies not carrying on an insurance business within the United States shall not be taxable under this section but shall be taxable as other foreign corporations.

(b) Definition of income, etc. In the case of an insurance company subject to the tax imposed by this section:

(1) Gross income. "Gross income" means the sum of (A) the combined gross amount earned during the taxable year, from investment income and from underwriting income as provided in this subsection, computed on the basis of the underwriting and investment exhibit of the annual statement approved by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, and (B) gain during the taxable year from the sale or other disposition of property, and (C) all other items constituting gross income under section 22;

(2) Net income. "Net income" means the gross income as defined in paragraph (1) of this subsection less the deductions allowed by subsection (c) of this section;

(3) Investment income. "Investment income" means the gross amount of income earned during the taxable year from interest, dividends, and rents, computed as follows:

To all interest, dividends and rents received during the taxable year, add interest, dividends and rents due and accrued at the end of the taxable year, and deduct all interest, dividends and rents due and accrued at the end of the preceding taxable year;

(4) Underwriting income. "Underwriting income" means the premiums earned on insurance contracts during the taxable year less losses incurred and expenses incurred;

(5) Premiums earned. "Premiums earned on insurance contracts during the taxable year" means an amount computed as follows:

From the amount of gross premiums written on insurance contracts during the taxable year, deduct return premiums and premiums paid for reinsurance. To the result so obtained add unearned permiums on outstanding business at the end of the preceding taxable year and deduct unearned premiums on outstanding business at the end of the taxable year. For the purposes of this subsection, unearned premiums shall include life insurance reserves, as defined in section 201 (c) (2), pertaining to the life, burial, or funeral insurance, or annuity business of an insurance company subject to the tax imposed by this section and not qualifying as a life insurance company under section 201 (b);

(6) Losses incurred. "Losses incurred" means losses incurred during the taxable year on insurance contracts, computed as follows:

To losses paid during the taxable year, add salvage and reinsurance recoverable outstanding at the end of the preceding taxable year, and deduct salvage and reinsurance recoverable outstanding at the end of the taxable year. To the result so obtained add all unpaid losses outstanding at the end of the taxable year and deduct unpaid losses outstanding at the end of the preceding taxable year;

(7) Expenses incurred. "Expenses incurred" means all expenses shown on the annual statement approved by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, and shall be computed as follows:

To all expenses paid during the taxable year add expenses unpaid at the end of the taxable year and deduct expenses unpaid at the end of the preceding taxable year. For the purpose of computing the net income subject to the tax imposed by this section there shall be deducted from expenses incurred as defined in this paragraph all expenses incurred which are not allowed as deductions by subsection (c) of this section.

(c) Deductions allowed. In computing the net income of an insurance company subject to the tax imposed by this section there shall be allowed as deductions:

(1) All ordinary and necessary expenses incurred, as provided in section 23 (a);

(2) All interest as provided in section 23 (b);

(3) Taxes as provided in section 23 (c);

(4) Losses incurred as defined in subsection (b) (6) of this section;

(5) Capital losses. Capital losses to the extent provided in section 117 plus losses from capital assets sold or exchanged in order to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders. Capital assets shall be considered as sold or exchanged in order to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders to the extent that the gross receipts from their sale or exchange are not greater than the excess, if any, for the taxable year of the sum of dividends and similar distributions paid to policyholders in their capacity as such, losses paid, and expenses paid over the sum of interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums received. In the application of section 117 (e) for the purposes of this section, the net capital loss for the taxable year shall be the amount by which losses for such year from sales or exchanges of capital assets exceeds the sum of the gains from such sales or exchanges and whichever of the following amounts is the lesser:

(A) the corporation surtax net income (computed without regard to gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets); or

(B) losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets sold or exchanged to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders.

(6) Debts in the nature of agency balances and bills receivable which become worthless within the taxable year;

(7) The amount of interest earned during the taxable year which under section 22 (b) (4) is excluded from gross income;

(8) A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property, as provided in section 23 (l);

(9) Charitable, and so forth, contributions, as provided in section 23 (q);

(10) Deductions (other than those specified in this subsection) as provided in section 23;

(11) Dividends and similar distributions paid or declared to policyholders in their capacity as such. The term "paid or declared" shall be construed according to the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of the insurance company.

(d) Deductions of foreign corporations. In the case of a foreign corporation the deductions allowed in this section shall be allowed to the extent provided in Supplement I in the case of a foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States.

(e) Double deductions. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the same item to be twice deducted.

(f) Credits under section 26. For the purposes of this section, in computing normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income, the credits provided in section 26 shall be allowed in the manner and to the extent provided in sections 13 (a) and 15 (a).

§ 19.204–1 Tax on insurance companies other than life or mutual and mutual marine insurance companies. All insurance companies (other than life or mutual or foreign insurance companies not carrying on an insurance business within the United States) and all mutual marine insurance companies are subject to the tax imposed by section 204. The term "insurance companies" as used in this section and §§ 19.204–2 and 19.204–3 means only those companies subject to the tax imposed by section 204. For what constitutes an insurance company, see § 19.3797–7. The net income of insurance companies is defined in section 204 and differs from the net income of other corporations. All provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and of these regulations not inconsistent with the specific provisions of section 204 are applicable to the assessment and collection of the tax imposed by section 204 (a), and insurance companies are subject to the same penalties as are provided in the case of returns and payment of income tax by other corporations. Since section 204 provides that the underwriting and investment exhibit of the annual statement approved by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners shall be the basis for computing gross income and since the annual statement is rendered on the calendar year basis, the returns under section 204 shall be made on the basis of the calendar year and shall be on Form 1120. Insurance companies are entitled, in computing normal-tax net income and corporation surtax net income, to the credits provided in section 26 in the manner and to the extent provided in sections 13 (a) and 15 (a).

Foreign insurance companies not carrying on an insurance business within the United States are not taxable under section 204 but are taxable as other foreign corporations. (See section 231.)

Insurance companies are subject to both normal tax and surtax. The normal tax shall be at the rate specified in section 13 (b) if the company has a normal-tax net income of more than $25,000, or at the rate specified in section 14 (b) if it has a normal-tax net income of not more than $25,000. For what constitutes normal-tax net income, see § 19.13–5. The surtax shall be at the rate specified in section 15 (b) (1) if the company has a corporation surtax net income of not more than $25,000, at the rate specified in section 15 (b) (2) if it has a corporation surtax net income of more than $25,000 and not more than $50,000, or at the rate specified in section 15 (b) (3) if it has a corporation surtax net income of more than $50,000. For what constitutes corporation surtax net income, see § 19.15–2. For alternative tax where the net long-term capital gain for any taxable year exceeds the net short-term capital loss, see section 117 (c) and the regulations thereunder.

§ 19.204–2 Gross income of insurance companies other than life or mutual and mutual marine insurance companies. Gross income as defined in section 204 (b) means the gross amount of income earned during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premium income, computed on the basis of the underwriting and investment exhibit of the annual statement approved by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, as well as the gain derived from the sale or other disposition of property, and all other items constituting gross income under section 22. (See section 22 (a), (b), and (c) and sections 28 and 334.) It does not include increase in liabilities during the year on account of reinsurance treaties, remittances from the home office of a foreign insurance company to the United States branch, borrowed money, or gross increase due to adjustments in book value of capital assets. The underwriting and investment exhibit is presumed clearly to reflect the true net income of the company, and in so far as it is not inconsistent with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code will be recognized and used as a basis for that purpose. All items of the exhibit, however, do not reflect an insurance company's income as defined in the Code. By reason of the definition of investment income, miscellaneous items which are intended to reflect surplus but do not properly enter into the computation of income, such as dividends declared to shareholders in their capacity as such, home office remittances and receipts, and special deposits, are ignored. Gain or loss from agency balances and bills receivable not admitted as assets on the underwriting and investment exhibit will be ignored, excepting only such agency balances and bills receivable as have been allowed as deductions for worthless debts or, having been previously so allowed, are recovered during the taxable year. In computing "premiums earned on insurance contracts during the taxable year" the amount of the unearned premiums shall include (1) life insurance reserves as defined in section 201 (c) (2) and § 19.201–4 pertaining to the life, burial, or funeral insurance, or annuity business of an insurance company subject to the tax imposed by section 204 and not qualifying as a life insurance company for return premiums and (2) liability for return premiums under a rate credit or retrospective rating plan based on experience, such as the "War Department Insurance Rating Plan", and which return premiums are therefore not earned premiums. In computing "losses incurred" the determination of unpaid losses at the close of each year must represent actual unpaid losses as nearly as it is possible to ascertain them.

§ 19.204–3 Deductions allowed insurance companies other than life or mutual and mutual marine insurance companies. The deductions allowable are specified in section 204 (c) and by reason of the provisions of section 204 (c) (10) include deductions (other than those specified in section 204 (c)) as provided in section 23. The deductions, however, are subject to the limitation provided in section 24 (a) (5). The net operating loss deduction allowed by section 23 (s) is computed under section 122 and the regulations thereunder. In computing net operating loss or net income of insurance companies for the purposes of section 122 "gross income" shall mean gross income as defined in section 204 (b) (1) and the allowable deductions shall be those allowed by section 204 (c) with the exceptions and limitations set forth in section 122 (d). In addition to the deduction for capital losses provided in section 117, insurance companies are allowed a deduction for losses from capital assets sold or exchanged in order to obtain funds to meet abnormal insurance losses and to provide for the payment of dividends and similar distributions to policyholders. A special rule is provided for the application of the five year capital loss carry-over provisions of section 117 (e). The deduction is the same as that allowed mutual insurance companies other than life or marine, see section 207 (b) (4) (F) and the regulations thereunder. Insurance companies are also allowed a deduction for dividends and similar distributions paid or declared to policyholders in their capacity as such. The deduction is the same as that allowed mutual insurance companies other than life or marine, see section 207 (b) (3) and the regulations thereunder.

Among the items which may not be deducted are income and profits taxes imposed by the United States, income and profits taxes imposed by any foreign country or possession of the United (in cases where the company chooses to claim to any extent a credit for such taxes), taxes assessed against local benefits, decrease during the year due to adjustments in the book value of capital assets; decrease in liabilities during the year on account of reinsurance treaties, dividends paid to shareholders in their capacity as such, remittances to the home office of a foreign insurance company by the United States branch, and borrowed money repaid.

In computing net income of insurance companies, losses sustained during the taxable year from the sale or other disposition of property are deductible subject to the limitation contained in section 117 (d) (1). The graduated percentage reduction of gains and losses contained in section 117 (b) does not apply in the case of insurance companies but they are entitled to the alternative taxes provided in section 117 (c).

(Secs. 124 (b), 160 (d) and 164 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Pub. Law 753, 77th Cong.), and sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed. 62))

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter VII—War Manpower Commission

PART 903—MINIMUM WARTIME WORKWEEK OF 48 HOURS

GENERAL POLICY FOR INTERPRETATION AND APPLICATION OF EXECUTIVE ORDER, ETC.

By virtue of authority vested in me as Chairman of the War Manpower Commission by Executive Order No. 9301 establishing a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours, and by Executive Orders Nos. 9139 and 9279, I hereby prescribe the following regulations:

Sec.
903.1 General policy for interpretation and application of Executive Order.
903.2 Application to areas and activities.
903.3 Delegation of authority.
903.4 Minimum wartime workweek.
903.5 Extension of workweek in designated areas and activities.
903.6 Restriction upon hiring of workers.
903.7 Exclusions.
903.8 Definitions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 903.1 to 903.8, inclusive, issued under E.O. 9139, 9279, 9301, 7 F.R. 2919, 10177, 8 F.R. 1825.

§ 903.1 General policy for interpretation and application of Executive Order. Executive Order No. 9301 shall be so construed and applied as best to effectuate its fundamental purpose, which is to aid in meeting the manpower requirements of our armed forces and our expanding war production program by a fuller utilization of our available manpower. Effectuation of this purpose requires that in situations of labor shortage employers do not hire new workers when their manpower needs can effectively be met by a fuller utilization of their current labor force, and that workers who can be released by an extension of the workweek are released under circumstances which will permit and facilitate their effective utilization elsewhere in the war effort.

§ 903.2 Application to areas and activities. The Chairman of the War Manpower Commission will from time to time by order designate areas and activities as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301. Regional Manpower Directors may designate additional areas and activities within their respective regions as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301, if they find and by appropriate public notice so declare, that such action will aid in alleviating labor shortages which are impeding the war effort. Unless and until an area or activity has been so designated, employers therein will not be required to extend their workweek.

§ 903.3 Delegation of authority. Regional and Area Manpower Directors are authorized and directed to determine all questions arising within their respective regions and areas with respect to the interpretation and application of these regulations, in conformity with such procedures and instructions as the Executive Director of the War Manpower Commission may issue in implementation thereof.

§ 903.4 Minimum wartime workweek. "Minimum wartime workweek" as used in these regulations means a workweek of 48 hours, except in cases where a workweek of 48 hours (a) would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, (b) would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or (c) would conflict with any Federal, State or local law or regulation limiting hours of work. In such cases "Minimum wartime workweek" means the greatest number of hours (less than 48) feasible in the light of the nature of the operations, the reduction of labor requirements or the applicable Federal, State and local law or regulation, as the case may be.

§ 903.5 Extension of workweek in designated areas and activities. If the workweek applicable to any worker employed in any plant, factory or other place of employment in an area or an activity designated as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301, is less than the minimum wartime workweek, such workweek shall be extended to the minimum wartime workweek as follows:

(a) Whenever extension of such workweek to the minimum wartime workweek would not involve the release of any workers, the affected employer shall proceed promptly to extend the workweek to the minimum wartime workweek.

(b) Whenever the regional or area manpower director or a designated representative of either determines that extension of such workweek to the minimum wartime workweek would involve the release only of workers who can be promptly placed in suitable employment with other employers, the affected employer will be notified of such determination and thereupon shall proceed promptly to extend the workweek to the minimum wartime workweek.

(c) If extension of such workweek to the minimum wartime workweek would involve the release of some workers and the regional or area manpower director or designated representative has not determined and notified the employer that such workers can promptly be placed in suitable employment with other employers, the workweek shall not be extended except as authorized below. On or before April 1, 1943, the affected employer shall submit to the regional or area manpower director or the designated representative of either director a statement as to the number of workers whose release would be involved and their occupational classification, together with a proposed schedule for the timing of such releases. The regional or area manpower director or designated representative will authorize a schedule for the extension of the workweek to the minimum wartime workweek and for the release of workers in terms of labor market needs and the employer shall thereupon proceed to extend the workweek in accordance with such schedule.

§ 903.6 Restriction upon hiring of workers. No employer shall hire any worker in an area or activity designated as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301, if the employer has failed in any manner to comply with the provisions of § 903.5 of these regulations in the plant, factory or other place of employment in which the worker would be employed.

§ 903.7 Exclusions. No provision of these regulations shall be construed or applied so as to require the extension of a workweek

(a) In any establishment or other place of employment in which less than eight workers are regularly employed;

(b) In any establishment or place of employment principally engaged in agriculture;

(c) Of persons in the employ of any State or any political subdivision thereof, or any instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing;

(d) Of youth under the age of sixteen years; or

(e) Of individuals who on account of other employment, household responsibilities, or physical limitations, are not available for full time work.

§ 903.8 Definitions. As used in these regulations:

(a) "Workweek" means the number of hours within a period of seven successive days, beginning with the same calendar day each week, during which workers are normally required to be on duty.

(b) "Agriculture" means those farm activities carried on by farm owners or tenants on farms in connection with the cultivation of the soil, the harvesting of crops, or the raising, feeding, or management of livestock, bees, and poultry, and shall not include any packing, canning, processing, transportation or marketing of articles produced on farms unless performed or carried on as an incident to ordinary farming operations as distinguished from manufacturing or commercial operations.

PAUL V. MCNUTT,
Chairman.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VI—Selective Service System

[Amendment 130, 2d Ed.]

PART 605—GENERAL ADMINISTRATION [1]

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 885, 50 U.S.C., Sup. 301–318, inclusive); E.O. No. 8545, 5 F.R. 3779, E.O. No. 9279, 7 F.R. 10177, and the authority vested in me by the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission in Administrative Order No. 26, 7 F.R. 10512, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 605.32 to read as follows:

§ 605.32 Information not confidential as to certain persons. No information shall be confidential as to the persons designated in this section, and any information may be disclosed or furnished to or examined by such persons, namely:

(1) The registrant, or any person having written authority from the registrant.

(2) The members and clerical and stenographic employees of the local board, medical advisory board, or board of appeal, the examining physician or examining dentist, and the government appeal agent or associate government appeal agent, dealing with the registrant's case; proper representatives of the State Director of Selective Service or the Director of Selective Service; United States attorneys and their duly authorized representatives.

(3) The Veterans' Administration, but only under the procedure hereinafter set out in this subparagraph. The Veterans' Administration will send requests to the State Director of Selective Service, marked for the attention of the local board concerned. The State Director of Selective Service will immediately forward the request to the proper local board, where a copy will be made of the record requested. Such copy will be signed by a clerk or member of the local board and the words "This is certified as a true copy" will be stamped or written thereon. A notation will be made on the original record stating that a copy thereof was mailed to the Veterans' Administration on a given date and signed by the person certifying the copy. The local board will mail the true copy of the record direct to the Veterans' Administration, will write the "C-number" appearing in the request at the top of the copy of the record, will make a notation on the carbon copy of the Veterans' Administration letter of request showing the date of mailing of the true copy, signed by the person complying with the request, and will forward such carbon copy to the State Director of Selective Service for clearance of their notation of the receipt of the original request. In view of the fact that these requests are made because of a claim for benefits due to disability or death of the registrant while in the armed forces, the local board shall expedite requests of this nature.

(4) Any other government official or employee, but only to the extent that such other government official or employee is specifically authorized in writing by the State Director of Selective Service or the Director of Selective Service.

2. Amend § 605.40 to read as follows:

§ 605.40 Availability of information that is not confidential. (a) The clerk who is in charge of a record shall read or point out information in any portion thereof which is not confidential to any person who requests such information, if he can do so without interfering with his other duties.

(b) The Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice is authorized to use the offices of the Selective Service System to obtain certain nonconfidential information with respect to the record of individual aliens. The request for such information will be sent to the State Director of Selective Service who will refer it to the proper local board for completion of the reverse side thereof. The local board will return the completed request through the State Director of Selective Service to the official of the Immigration and Naturalization Service from whom it was received.

(c) Except as specifically provided in these regulations or by written authority of the Director of Selective Service, no person shall be entitled to search or handle any record.

3. Amend § 605.41 to read as follows:

§ 605.41 Furnishing lists of registrants prohibited. Lists of registrants shall not be furnished for any purpose except (1) in the administration of the selective service law and then only when specifically authorized by the Director of Selective Service or (2) as provided in § 605.44.

4. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 605.42 to read as follows:

§ 605.42 Furnishing information relative to quotas and calls prohibited. Information concerning quotas or calls shall not be examined by or disclosed or furnished to anyone except when required in the administration of the Selective Service System and then only in compliance with the provisions of these regulations.

5. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as §605.43 to read as follows:

§ 605.43 Furnishing information relative to registrants forwarded to induction station prohibited. Information concerning the names or the total number of men forwarded to the induction station on any call or during any period of time shall not be examined by or disclosed or furnished to anyone except when required in the administration of the Selective Service System and then only in compliance with the provisions of these regulations.

6. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 605.44 to read as follows:

§ 605.44 Dissemination of information relative to inducted men. Upon request of local publication agencies, the local board should, or, upon its own motion, the local board may, after the delivery list (Form 151) has been returned from the induction station, prepare a list showing the name, address, and the branch of the service of each registrant who was accepted and inducted and may post such list or furnish it to news services, newspapers, and radio stations. Under no circumstances should such list include registrants rejected at the induction station. Such list should be prepared at a time and in a manner which will not unduly interfere with the normal operations of the local board.

7. The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

LEWIS B. HERSHEY,
Director.

PART 623—CLASSIFICATION PROCEDURE

[Amendment 131, 2d Ed.]

CLASSIFICATION AND CHANGE IN CLASSIFICATION

By virtue of the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 885, 50 U.S.C., Sup. 301–318, inclusive); E.O. 8545, 5 F.R. 3779, E.O. 9279, 7 F.R. 10177, and the authority vested in me by the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission in Administrative Order No. 26, 7 F.R. 10512, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend paragraph (b) of § 623.61[1] to read as follows:

§ 623.61 Classification and change of classification. * * *

(b) After each local board meeting, a copy of the Local Board Action Report (Form 110), listing the registrants who have been classified or whose classification has been changed, shall be posted and kept permanently posted in a conspicuous place in the office of the local board. A copy shall also be sent to the government appeal agent. When a person is unable to ascertain the current classification of a registrant from the posted copy of the Local Board Action Report (Form 110), an employee of the local board, upon request, shall consult the Classification Record (Form 100) and furnish to the person making inquiry the current classification of such registrant.

2. The foregoing amendment to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effectively immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

LEWIS B. HERSHEY,
Director.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P. D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 933—COPPER

[Conservation Order M-9-c as Amended Feb. 26, 1943[1]]

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of copper for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 933.4 Conservation Order M-9-c—(a) Restrictions on manufacture of items appearing on Combined List and on List A-2. (1) No manufacturer of any item on the Combined List attached, or of parts (including repair parts[2]) for any such item, may, if such item or parts contain copper products or copper base alloy products, continue their manufacture on or after December 26, 1942 by means of processing, assembling or finishing.

(2) No manufacturer of any item on List A-2 attached, or of parts (including repair parts[1]) for any such item, may, if such item or parts contain copper products or copper base alloy products, continue their manufacture by means of processing, assembling or finishing on or after the governing date set forth opposite such item in Column 2 of List A-2.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture of articles not appearing on Combined List and List A-2 out of inventory on hand on February 28, 1942 and June 30, 1942. (1) During the period from December 25, 1942 to and including January 15, 1943, a manufacturer of any article omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from those lists, or of parts (including repair parts[1]) for such an article, may not continue the manufacture thereof by means of processing, assembling or finishing,

(i) Unless all copper products or copper base alloy products contained in such articles or parts were acquired by the manufacturer after February 28, 1942; or

(ii) Unless such articles or parts are being manufactured, processed, assembled or finished to fill a purchase order, existing or prospective,[3] bearing a preference rating of A-1-k or higher; and no such article or part so manufactured shall be delivered except to fill such an order; or

(iii) Unless the manufacturer has been specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, pursuant to an application made on Form PD-426, or otherwise, to manufacture, process, assemble or finish the article or parts in question with the copper products or copper base alloy products being used.

(2) After January 15, 1943, a manufacturer of any article omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from those lists, or of parts (including repair parts[2]) for such anarticle, may not continue the manufacture thereof by means of processing, assembling or finishing,

(i) Unless all copper products or copper base alloy products contained in such articles or parts were acquired by the manufacturer after June 30, 1942; or

(ii) Unless such articles or parts are being manufactured, processed, assembled or finished to fill a purchase order, existing or prospective,[3] bearing a preference rating of AA-4 or higher; and no such article or part so manufactured shall be delivered except to fill such an order; or

(iii) Unless the manufacturer has been specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, pursuant to an application on Form PD-426, or otherwise, to manufacture, process, assemble or finish the article or parts in question with the copper products or copper base alloy products being used.

The provisions of this paragraph (b) shall not apply to a manufacturer assembling a completed fractional horsepower electric motor into machinery of any kind omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from those lists; or to the manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing of any machinery omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from those lists, or of parts (including repair parts) for such machinery, if the only copper products or copper base alloy products used which were in the inventory of the manufacturer on or before February 28, 1942 (with respect to manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing during the period from December 25, 1942 to and including January 15, 1943) or on or before June 30, 1942 (with respect to manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing after January 15, 1943) are bushings, bearings, nuts, bolts, screws, washers and wire weighing in the aggregate less than 5% of the total weight of the article or part.

(c) Applicability of order to certain Governmental agencies. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall not apply to the use of copper products or copper base alloy products in the manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing of any item or article on the "Military Exemption List", or part therefor, which is being produced for purchase by, or for the account of, or for use by, the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or the Coast Guard, where the use of copper products or copper base alloy products to the extent employed is required by the specifications (including performance specifications) of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or the Coast Guard applicable to the contract, subcontract or purchase order.

(d) General restrictions on manufacture. (1) No manufacturer may continue the manufacture of any article omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from such lists, or of parts (including repair parts) for such an article, if such article or parts are to contain copper products or copper base alloy products where the use of any less scarce material is practicable; and no manufacturer may continue the manufacture of any article omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from such lists, or of parts (including repair parts) for such an article, if they are to contain more copper products or copper base alloy products than is necessary for the article's proper operation or a higher type or grade of copper or copper base alloy than is necessary for the article's proper operation.

(2) (i) The use of copper products or copper base alloy products for plating any item on the Combined List or List A-2 or for plating any parts (including repair parts) of such an item, is prohibited unless such plating is expressly stated to be permissible on said lists.

(ii) The use of copper products or copper base alloy products for plating any article omitted from the Combined List and List A-2 or excepted from such lists and the plating of parts (including repair parts) for such an article, is permitted provided:

(a) That such plating is not for decorative purposes or part of a decoration or as an undercoating for lead or silver plating, and

(b) That the use of, or the normal wear on such article or parts, would make impracticable any other form of coating.

(e) General restrictions on deliveries. The disposition of frozen and excessive inventories containing certain copper products or copper base alloy products shall be subject to the applicable provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 13 (§ 944.34) as amended from time to time.

(f) Special provisions. (1) The foregoing provisions of this amended order shall not apply to the use of copper products and copper base alloy products in typography, engraving, photo-engraving, gravure plate making, electrotyping, stereotyping and printing in the printing and publishing industries. In those processes, the use of bronze powder, bronze ink, bronze paste and bronze leaf is controlled by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-3 effective March 28, 1942; and all other uses in those industries of copper products, copper base alloy products, copper scrap and copper base alloy scrap are, in the quarter from October 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, limited to 70% of the aggregate usage of such products and scrap in the last calendar quarter of 1940, and in each subsequent calendar quarter limited to 60% of such aggregate usage in the corresponding quarter of the year 1940; Provided, That, for electrotyping and rotogravure, 33⅓% of the allowable usage shall be in the form of copper or copper base alloy printing scrap during the month of February 1943, 50% of the allowable usage shall be in such form during the month of March 1943, and 75% of the allowable usage shall be in such form in each month after March 1943; And further provided, That for copper plate engraving of calling cards, greeting cards, social and business stationery and other similar articles, 100% of the allowable usage for the engraving of such plates shall be (i) of copper products or copper base alloy products which were in the possession of the engraver using them on December 31, 1942 or (ii) of copper scrap or copper base alloy scrap (old engraved plates), and in either event the engraver shall sell and deliver as scrap to a scrap dealer before the end of each calendar quarter beginning with the first calendar quarter of 1943, three pounds of copper or copper base alloy scrap in the form of old engraved plates for each one pound of copper products or copper base alloy products which he engraved for use in printing calling cards, greeting cards, social and business stationery and other similar articles during said calendar quarter. Nothing contained in this paragraph (f) (1) of this amended order shall affect the prohibition against the manufacture of powder containing copper products or copper base alloy products contained in pararagraph (a) and the Combined List of this amended order.

(2) No person shall deliver, install or cut any copper or copper base alloy insect screening (i) unless such screening is to be delivered to, installed for or cut on the order of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast Guard, any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941 entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), or Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Corporation or any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (except Defense Plant Corporation) or any person acting as agent of any such corporation (except Defense Plant Corporation), or (ii) unless such delivery, installation or cutting shall be with the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations. Applications for specific authorizations shall be made by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–9–c. The foregoing shall not apply to used or second hand insect screening or to insect screening in rolls of less than 25 feet in length. Nothing contained in this paragraph (f) (2) affects the prohibitions on the manufacture, processing, assembling or finishing of insect screening and screens with copper products or copper base alloy products contained in paragraph (a) and the Combined List of this order.

[1] This document is a restatement of Amend. 1 to Order M-9-c as amended January 20, 1943 which appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 27, 1943, page 2475, and reflects the order in its completed form as of February 26, 1943.

[2] See footnote 2 on p. 2642.

[3] Priorities Regulation No. 1, § 944.14, prohibits you from making more than a practicable minimum working inventory of articles or parts to fill prospective orders carrying particular ratings.

(g) Restrictions on deliveries to manufacturers. No person shall hereafter deliver copper products or copper base alloy products to any manufacturer, directly or indirectly, if he knows or has reason to believe that such products are to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulation. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of paragraphs (a), (d) or (f) (1) of this order shall be made by filing Form PD–167 Revised with the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–9–c. Relief granted pursuant to an appeal under this order shall remain in effect despite any amendment to this order, unless the grant of relief is specifically revoked or modified by the Director General for Operations.

(3) Communications. Any reports required to be filed under this order and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Copper Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–9–c.

(4) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply irrespective of whether such items, articles or parts whose manufacture is governed hereby are being manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to the effective date of this order. Insofar as any other order of the War Production Board or of the Office of Production Management may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided the manufacture of items, articles or parts or the sale and delivery of such items, articles or parts, the limitation of such other order shall be observed.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and, upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(6) Installation. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to the installation of any item or article, or part (including a repair part) therefor, for the ultimate consumer on his premises when any manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing of such an item, article or part is incidental to such installation and is done on such premises. The foregoing does not in any way affect, revoke or modify the provisions of Supplementary Conservation Order M–9–c–4 which prohibits the installation of certain types of copper and copper base alloy pipe, tube, fittings and building material under certain circumstances or of any other order restricting installation.

(7) Repair. The restrictions of this order (other than those contained in paragraph (d) (1) hereof) shall not apply to the manufacture, processing, assembling or finishing of repair parts to make a specific repair of a used article or to a person repairing a used article, on or off the premises of the owner, if the manufacturer of the parts or the person making the repair does not use copper products or copper base alloy products weighing in the aggregate more than two pounds and any manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing done by him is for the purpose of making a specific repair; nor shall the restrictions of this order (other than those contained in paragraph (d) (1) hereof) apply to the manufacture, processing, assembling or finishing of repair parts to make a specific repair of a used article or to a person repairing a used article, on or off the premises of the owner, if the manufacturer of the parts or the person making the repair does not use copper products or copper base alloy products weighing in the aggregate more than one pound in excess of the copper or copper base alloy scrap derived from the article being repaired, and all such scrap is delivered to a scrap dealer or to any other person to whom such delivery may be made under the provisions of Supplementary Order M–9–b and provided any manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing done by him is for the purpose of making a specific repair.

(8) Copper products or copper base alloy products not controlled by order. On and after the original issuance dates of the orders listed in this subparagraph, the provisions of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of the following items or articles and parts (including repair parts) therefor, even though they contain copper products or copper base alloy products, since these items or articles are specifically governed by the following orders:

Shoe findings and footwear of all kinds governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M–9–c–1.

Fire protective equipment governed by General Limitation Order L–39.

Motorized fire apparatus governed by General Limitation Order L–43.

Bronze paste, bronze ink and bronze leaf and products made with bronze paste, bronze ink, bronze leaf and bronze powder (other than decalcomanias and ship bottom paint), governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M–9–c–3.

Jewelry governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M–9–c–2.

Musical instruments governed by Supplementary Limitation Order L–37–a.

Water meters governed by Schedule I of Limitation Order L–154.

Self-contained drinking water coolers governed by Schedule I of Limitation Order L–126.

The provisions of this order do not apply to attaching finished slide fasteners, hooks and eyes, brassiere hooks, sew-on, machine attached or riveted snap fasteners, buckles, buttons, corset clasps, eyelets (other than eyelets usable as shoe eyelets), garter trimmings, hose supporters, insignia, jewelry, loops, mattress buttons, pin fasteners, pins, staples, slides, and trouser trimmings. The order does apply to manufacturing, processing, assembling and finishing of the closures and associated items listed above where the provisions of this order are more restrictive than other orders of the War Production Board.

The provisions of this order do not apply to the assembling of watch or clock movements finished prior to June 15, 1942, into cases not made of copper or copper base alloy; the provisions of this order do apply to manufacturing, processing and finishing watch and clock cases and all other parts of watches and clocks, and to assembling watches and clocks except under the conditions mentioned in this sentence.

(9) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(i) "Copper" means unalloyed copper metal. It shall include unalloyed copper metal produced from scrap.

(ii) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy. It shall include alloy metal produced from scrap.

(iii) "Copper products" means products made of copper fabricated to the extent that they are plate, sheet, strip, rolls, coils, wire, rod, bar, tube, tubing, pipe, extrusions, ingot, powder, anodes, castings or forgings or fabricated to any greater extent.

(iv) "Copper base alloy products" means products made of copper base alloy, fabricated to the extent that they are plate, sheet, strip, rolls, coils, wire, rod, bar, tube, tubing, pipe, extrusions, ingot, powder, anodes, castings or forgings or fabricated to any greater extent.

(v) "Manufacturer" means a person who manufactures, processes, assembles or finishes.

Issued this 26th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

COMBINED LIST

[Combined List as amended Feb. 26, 1943]

The manufacture, processing, assembling or finishing of the items listed below and of all parts (including repair parts) therefor is prohibited if such article or part contains copper products or copper base alloy products, except to the extent permitted by the exceptions noted on the list. Where this list excepts an item if the use of copper products or copper base alloy products in making the item is limited or if the item is being produced for a particular end use, the manufacture, processing, assembling and finishing of the item made under the terms of such an exception is governed by paragraphs (b) and (d) (1) of this order.

AUTOMOTIVE, TRAILER [1] AND TRACTOR EQUIPMENT AND FARM MACHINERY

See also Order L–106 governing the use of copper and copper base alloy in the manufacture of automative parts entering into the production of, or as replacement parts for, passenger automobiles, motor trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles.

Ambulance hardware.
Defrosters (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Garage and automotive repair equipment.
Heaters (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Hearse hardware.
Horns (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Hub and gas-tank caps.
Lights, lamps, headlamps and accessories (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Miscellaneous fittings and trim.
Motorcycles (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Motor-driven scooters (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Mouldings.
Rear-view mirrors and hardware.

BUILDING SUPPLIES AND HARDWARE

(Excluding supplies and hardware for ships, boats and aircraft)

Air-conditioning equipment until January 1, 1943 (except for essential food storage, food transportation and industrial processing, and except for repair parts containing not more than 4 lbs. of copper products or copper base alloy products for use in "black out" plants). After December 31, 1942, see List A–2.
Blinds, including fixture fittings and trimmings.
Builders' finish hardware, including hinges, except in those parts of plants where the use of non-sparking metal is necessary to prevent a hazard in the production or use of explosives. For locks see under "Miscellaneous" on this list.
Conduits.
Decorative hardware—including house numbers.
Door knockers, checks, pulls, and stops.
Doors, door and window frames, sills and parts, including door handles and knobs.
Elevators and escalators (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for bearings, worm gears and parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Gravel stops and snow guards.
Grilles.
Gutters, leaders, downspouts, expansion joints, and accessories thereto.
Hangers and tracks for private garages.
Incinerator hardware and fittings.
Insect screens and screening.
Letter boxes and mail chutes.
Lighting fixtures (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Ornamental metal work.
Pile butt protection.
Plumbing and heating supplies:
  Bands on pipe covering.
  Cistern and low-water floats.
  Fixture fittings and trimmings (See "Plumbing fixture fittings and trim" on List A–2).
  Hot water heaters, tanks, and coils (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are permitted by Order L–185).
  Pipe, tube, tubing, and fittings for piping systems.
  Shower rods, and pans (See "Plumbing fixture fittings and trim" on List A–2).
  Shower heads (See "Plumbing fixture fittings and trim" on List A–2).
  Sinks and drainboards.
  Toilet floats (See "Plumbing fixture fittings and trim" on List A–2).
  Towel racks.
Push, kick, switch, floor, and all other device plates.
Roof, roofing, roofing nails, flashing valleys, and other roofing items.
Sheet, roll, and strip for building construction.
Shelves.
Stair and threshold treads.
Termite shields.
Terrazzo strips, reglets, and mouldings.
Unit heaters, unit ventilators, and convectors, space or local heaters, and blast heating coils, or any apparatus using such coils as part of its construction (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for valves, controls and parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Ventilators and skylights.
Water containers for humidification.
Weatherstripping and insulation.

BURIAL EQUIPMENT

Burial vaults.
Caskets and casket hardware. See also Order L–64.
Memorial tablets.
Morticians' supplies.

(See also "Boxes, • • •" under "Miscellaneous" on this list.)

CLOTHING AND ACCESSORIES

Insignia. (See "Insignia" on List A–2 and on the Military Exemption List.)

DRESS ACCESSORIES

(See also Order L–68)

Buckles. (See "Slide fasteners • • • buckles • • •" on List A–2 and the Military Exemption List.)
Buttons. (See "Slide fasteners • • • buttons • • •" and "Mattress buttons" on List A–2.)
Dress ornaments.
Handbag fittings.
Metal cloths.

FURNISHINGS AND EQUIPMENT

(For homes, offices, institutions, hotels, apartment hotels, apartment houses, stations, clubs, fraternal organizations, union buildings, churches, synagogues, temples, restaurants and stores)

Andirons, screens, and fireplace fittings.
Candlesticks.
Cooking and table utensils.
Counters.
Curtain fasteners, rods, and rings.
Cuspidors.
Fans (See also Order L–176)
Furniture.
Furniture Hardware.
Hollow-ware.
Mud scrapers.
Portable heaters.
Stoves and ranges (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for valves, ferrules for compression fittings, controls other than timers, and parts necessary for conducting electricity). For additional restrictions see "Gas stoves and ranges for household use" on List A–2.
Table flatware (except that until January 1, 1943, table flatware may be manufactured, processed, assembled or finished if made according to Fed. Spec. RR–T–56.) After December 31, 1942, see List A–2.
Timers, for stoves and ranges.
Trays.
Upholsterers' supplies, including nails and tacks.
Vases, pitchers, bowls, and artcraft.
Washing tubs and washing boilers.
Waste baskets, hat trees, humidors, and similar items.

INDUSTRIAL MACHINERY

Pulp and paper manufacturing:
  Beater bars and beaters.
  Head boxes.
  Jordan bars.
  Refiner bars.
  Save-alls (except for screens).
  Stock and water lines.

JEWELRY, GIFTS AND NOVELTIES

All jewelry, gifts and novelties including, but not limited to—
  Advertising specialties.
  Atomizers (see also List A–2).
  Bar fittings.
  Book ends.
  Cosmetic containers.
  Lighters.
  Napkin rings.
  Picture frames.
  Smokers' accessories, including ash trays.
  Souvenirs.

PASSENGER TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT

(Including railroad cars, street and interurban cars, buses, and trailers, but excluding locomotives)

All items under heading "Furnishings and Equipment".
Air conditioning equipment for passenger cars until January 1, 1943 (except for essential repairs, and except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity). On and after December 31, 1942, see List A–2.
Bands on pipe covering.
Decorative, general, and finish hardware, and ornamental metal work.
Door knockers, checks, pulls and stops.
Doors and windows, door and window frames and window sills.
Drinking water reservoirs.
Lighting fixtures (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Pipe, tube, tubing, and fittings for plumbing and heating (except for essential repairs).
Shower rods, heads and pans.
Sinks and drainboards.
Screens and screening.
Towel and luggage racks.
Water containers for humidification.
Weatherstripping and insulation.

MISCELLANEOUS

Alarm and protective systems, other than fire protective systems covered by Order L–39 (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity or where the use of such products is essential to the proper functioning of the parts).
Barrel hoops.
Badges.

[1] See also under "Passenger Transportation Equipment" on this list.

MISCELLANEOUS—continued

Bar and counter equipment and fittings.
Barber shop equipment and supplies.
Barrel hooks.
Bathroom accessories as defined in Order L–30.
Beauty parlor equipment and supplies.
Beverage dispensing units and parts thereof (except for self-contained drinking water coolers as defined in Schedule I of Order L–126 or under any schedule of Order L–38).
Bicycles, and similar vehicles. (See also Order L–52).
Binoculars, including opera glasses.
Bird and pet cages and stands.
Bottle coolers.
Boxes, cans, jars and other containers, including burial urns.
Branding, marking, and labeling devices and stock for same (except where the devices and the stock are for affixing governmental, notarial and corporate seals or, until January 1, 1943, are adjustable stencils for addressing or identifying commercial products). For adjustable stencils after December 31, 1942, see the item "Adjustable stencils" on List A–2.
Cabinets.
Canes
Carpet rods.
Cash registers.
Chimes and bells (except for bells when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Clips.
Cleaning and polishing accessories, such as brooms, carpet sweepers, crumbing sets, dust pans, mops, pot scourers, whisk brooms and floor and furniture polishers.
Clock and watch cases.
Cooking utensils (except for commercial processing in canneries and factories).
Cutlery, including pocket knives.
Dishwashing machines and domestic garbage grinders.
Dispensers, hand, for hand lotions, paper products, soap and straws.
Dog collars and other similar harness and equipment for pets.
Domestic ice refrigerators as defined in Order L–7.
Domestic laundry equipment as defined in Order L–6 and scrubbing boards, clothes line pulleys and reels.
Domestic mechanical refrigerators as defined in Order L–5.
Domestic vacuum cleaners as defined in Order L–13.
Electric blankets.
Electric light bulbs and cord sets for Christmas trees, and bulbs and neon and fluorescent tubes for advertising and display purposes.
Flashlights and electric lanterns used by railroad brakemen (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity).
Floats for liquid level control.
Flower pots, boxes and holders for same.
Flower shears.
Food dispensing utensils, devices and machines.
Fountain pens.
Fountains (except drinking water fountains when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are permitted by Schedules V, V–a and XII of Order L–42).
Furniture grommets.
Games as defined in Order L–81.
Garden tools and equipment.
Hair curlers, hair brushes and combs, shoe horns and button hooks.
Health supplies, except the following:
Acoustic aids,
Anaesthesia apparatus and supplies,
Atomizers (medical use only),
Diagnostic equipment and supplies,

MISCELLANEOUS—continued

Hypodermic syringes and needles,
Infant incubators,
Instruments,
Laboratory equipment and supplies,
Medicinal chemicals (limited to medical use only),
Operating room supplies and equipment,
Ophthalmic products and instruments,
Physical therapy equipment (limited to medical use only),
Respirators, resuscitators and iron lungs,
Rubber hospital sundries,
Splints and fracture equipment,
Sterilizers, blanket and solution warmers,
Surgical and orthopaedic appliances (including artificial limbs and arms but not including arch supports which are listed on List A–2),
Sutures and suture needles, and
X-Ray equipment and supplies.
Home and commercial electrical appliances, as defined in Order L–65.
Hooks, including hat and coat hooks.
Ice cream freezers for use in the home.
Kitchen utensils, devices and machines.
Kitchen, household and miscellaneous articles, as defined in Order L–30.
Lace tips.
Ladders and hoists (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity), including fittings.
Lamps, electric until January 1, 1943 (except for industrial, hospital or office and then not for standards, shades, shade holders, and stems). After December 31, 1942, see List A–2. The term "Lamps" as used here does not include electric light bulbs, but see "Electric light bulbs" above.
Lamps, other than electric (except for industrial, hospital or office use and then only when the only copper products or copper bas alloy products used are for valves, controls, and wicks).
Lawn sprinklers, mowers, seeders and rollers.
Livestock and poultry equipment (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for valves, controls, parts necessary for conducting electricity, and thermostats other than wafer thermostats, and for plating wafer thermostats).
Locks (except pin tumbler and disc tumbler cylinder assemblies; essential interior working parts of Type 88, Type 97 and Type 114 locks; levers, tubes and centers for secure lever locks; interior working parts of railway car door locks and railway switch padlocks; keys for pin tumbler and disc tumbler locks; and postal locks when manufactured by the Mail and Equipment Section of the United States Post Office).
Luggage fittings, trim and harware.
Manicure implements.
Match and pattern plates, matrices, and flasks.
Medals, including decorations.
Mirrors.
Motion picture and projection equipment (except for parts to repair and maintain necessary existing equipment in public theaters and educational institutions).
Name, identification and medal plates.
Non-operating or decorative uses of copper or copper base alloy, or the use of the same in such parts of installations and equipment (mechanical or otherwise) as bases, frames, guards, standards and supports.
Package handles and holders.
Paint (except for ship bottoms).
Pencils, mechanical.
Phonographs or other record players.
Photographic equipment and accessories (except document copying machines and equipment therefor for business purposes and for use by the U. S. Post Office, and except for X-ray equipment).
Pins.

MISCELLANEOUS—continued

Pleasure boat fastenings, fittings, hardware, and motors.
Pole-line hardware.
Powder, except for non-decorative uses.
Printing rollers (except to the extent that an equivalent poundage in copper or copper base alloy is returned to a brass mill in the form of old rollers).
Radio receiving sets for private use (except for replacement vacuum tubes).
Razors operated by electricity (except for repair parts).
Reclaimers for heating water.
Reflectors (except for electroplating of glass reflectors in connection with silvering when the reflectors are to be used in street and highway illumination, or for traffic signals, flood lights, searchlights and hospital operating room lights).
Refrigerator display cases.
Saddlery hardware and harness fittings.
Scales, except commercial, industrial and laboratory scales and laboratory balances. (See also Order L–190.)
Shells and caps for electric sockets except screw shells and except those used in connection with lamp signals in communication facilities.
Signs, including street signs. (See also Order L–29.)
Slot, game and vending machines, including parking meters.
Soda fountain equipment.
Sporting goods, and fishing and hunting equipment and supplies.
Staples for fastening cartons and containers.
Stationery supplies:

LIST A–2

[List A–2 as amended Feb. 26, 1943]

The manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing of the items listed below and of all parts (including repair parts) therefor is prohibited after the governing date if such article or part contains copper products or copper base alloy products, except to the extent permitted by the exceptions noted on the list. Where this list excepts an item if the use of copper products or copper base alloy products in making the item is limited or if the item is being produced for a particular end use, the manufacture, processing, assembling and finishing of the item made under the terms of such an exception is governed by paragraphs (b) and (d) (1) of this order.

	Governing date
Adjustable stencils	Dec. 31, 1942
Air conditioning equipment and refrigeration equipment ((i) except for repair parts containing not more than 4 pounds of copper products or copper base alloy products for use in "black out" plants; (ii) except for essential food storage, food transportation, food processing, and industrial processing and then only when the copper products or copper base alloy products used are for capillary tubing, bulbs, screens, gaskets, small moving parts, bellows, bearings which use not over 2 pounds of copper each, tube connections and fittings ¾" or less (outside diameter), and finned tubing used in water cooled refrigeration condensers; and (iii) except for essential repairs of railroad passenger cars)	Dec. 31, 1942
Arch supports	Feb. 26, 1943
Atomizers (except for medicinal purposes and for use in the preparation of dried milk and dried eggs)	Dec. 31, 1942
Blow torches, gasoline and alcohol, (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for the pump barrel, pump check valve assembly, pump cylinder cap, brazing material, pack nut, valve stem, valve body and jet block)	Jan. 20, 1943
Blow torches, kerosene (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for the pump barrel, pump check valve assembly, pump cylinder cap, brazing material, pack nut, valve stem, valve body and jet block)	Feb. 28, 1943
Brushes (except the type used in electric motors and generators)	Dec. 31, 1942
Cement flooring and composition flooring	Dec. 26, 1942
Change making, coin counting and sorting machines	Feb. 28, 1943
Cooling towers (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity)	Dec. 26, 1942
Daubers for shoe polish	Feb. 26, 1943
Electrolytic devices for the removal and prevention of scale in boilers	Dec. 31, 1942
Expansion bolts and caulking anchors	Feb. 28, 1943
Gas heater and stove installation connections	Feb. 26, 1943
Gas stoves and ranges for household use (except when each valve contains not more than ½ ounce of copper base alloy and each control contains not more than 1½ ounces of copper base alloy and the stove or range contains no other copper or copper base alloy whatever)	Aug. 7, 1942
Hand saw screws, nuts and washers for attaching saw blades to the handle	Dec. 26, 1942
Hammers	Dec. 31, 1942
Insignia	Feb. 26, 1943
Lamps, electric (except for non-portable lamps for use in hospitals or in industry, otherwise than in offices, and then only when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity)	Dec. 31, 1942
Lanterns	Sept. 7, 1942
Linoleum stripping	Feb. 26, 1943
Lighting fixtures for use outside of a building (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for parts necessary for conducting electricity). For lighting fixtures in a building see "Lighting fixtures" under "Building Supplies and Hardware" on the Combined List	Dec. 31, 1942
Loose-leaf binders	Dec. 26, 1942
Mattress buttons and furniture glides	Feb. 26, 1943
Pipe, tube, tubing and fittings for water supply and distribution systems and installations (except corporation stops and couplings therefor, curb stops and couplings therefor, adapters, unions, solder nipples and ferrules and except for all such pipe, tube, tubing and fittings for use on board ship and in chlorine gas equipment). This takes the place of Interpretation No. 4 of Order M–9–c	Dec. 26, 1942
Plumbing fixture fittings and trim (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are permitted by the terms of Schedules V, V–a and XII of Order L–42 or any schedules or orders taking their place, or are permitted by a specific authorization of the Director General for Operations granted pursuant to such a schedule or order)	Dec. 26, 1942

PART 1068—CANS

[Conservation Order M-81, as Amended Feb. 18, 1943[1]]

§ 1068.1 Conservation Order M-81—(a) Definitions. (1) "Can" means any unused container which is made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, and which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container closure or fitting made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, but does not include a closure or fitting to be used on or as a part of a glass container. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers, as defined in Conservation Order M-200.

(2) "Tinplate" means any sheet steel coated with tin and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste" (except "electrolytic waste-waste"), and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

(3) "Terneplate" means sheet steel coated with a lead-tin alloy, and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste", and all other forms of terneplate except waste.

(4) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel 29-gauge or lighter, other than tinplate or terneplate. The term includes "blackplate rejects" and "electrolytic waste-waste", and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

(5) "Waste" means scrap tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate, produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans.

(6) "Pack", unless particularly specified, means the quantity, by area measurement, of tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate required for the manufacture of all sized cans used by a person for packing a particular product during the base ~~period~~ specified.

[1] This document is a restatement of Amend. 1 to Order M-81 as amended January 13, 1943 which appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 20, 1943, page 2232, and reflects the order in its completed form as of February 18, 1943.

(b) Restrictions upon manufacture, sale, and delivery of cans. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any can except under a purchase order or contract validated by a delivery to such person of a purchaser's certificate, manually signed by the purchaser or an authorized official of the purchaser, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any can which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of any provision of this order.

(2) No person shall manufacture any can smaller than 5 gallons, with ears, bails, or handles.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and use of cans. (1) No person shall, during the calendar year 1943 (or the seasonal year 1942–1943, when specified), purchase, accept delivery of, or use for packing a product any can except to the extent permitted in Schedules I, II, and III, attached to this order: Provided, however, That a jobber or retail store may obtain and sell cans in conformity with the provisions of this order.

(2) The schedules attached to this order list the only products permitted to be packed in cans, packing quotas, sizes of cans, and the kinds of plate permitted for the manufacture of cans.

The calendar year basis shall obtain except for products for which a seasonal year is specified. A seasonal year for a particular product represents a twelve months' period beginning in one calendar year and ending in the next.

The sizes of the can specified for a particular product indicate the only sized cans which may be used for packing that product, except that such product may, subject to all other restrictions imposed by this order, be packed in cans larger than the largest size specified therefor.

When tinplate is specified for the manufacture of cans for packing a particular product, the coating indicated represents the maximum weight of tin coating per single base box. When SCMT is specified, Special Coated Manufacturers' Terneplate is referred to. When blackplate is specified, the specification includes chemically treated blackplate (CTB).

(3) No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a can or any other container by the same or a different person in the same or a different form except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order or pursuant to Conservation Order M-104.

(4) No dried or frozen fruit or vegetable shall be packed in a can, except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of the following cans:

(i) Cans for packing any product which is not to be sold.

(ii) Fiber or paper bodied cans with ends made of waste, for packing any food product for human consumption, and antiseptic or medicinal powders.

(iii) Cans for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such cans were completely manufactured on or before December 9, 1942, or when all the component parts for such cans were cut to individual size or were partially assembled before said date: Provided, That this paragraph (d) (1) (iii) shall not apply when such cans can be used for any products otherwise permitted by this order, and provided that this paragraph (d) (1) (iii) shall not apply to open-top sanitary cans.

(iv) Cans for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such cans are to be delivered pursuant to a letter of intent approved by, or a purchase order or contract negotiated for or with the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions pertaining to the size of cans or the materials from which cans may be manufactured, but subject to quota restrictions imposed by this order, a person may use for packing any product listed in the schedules attached to this order, any cans which were completely manufactured on or before December 9, 1942, or any cans for which all component parts were lithographed, cut, or otherwise prepared for assembly, on or before said date.

(3) No certificate shall be required for the sale or delivery of cans to any purchaser who has already filed a certificate with his seller under Conservation Order M-81.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-81.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) 1942 Calendar year pack. Until December 31, 1942, no person packing on a calendar year basis shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use any can for packing any product except in accordance with Conservation Order M-81, as amended June 27, 1942, (including amendments thereto).

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PURCHASER'S CERTIFICATE

One copy of this certificate is to be delivered to each person from whom purchases are made of cans made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste. Such certificate shall cover all purchases present and future so long as Conservation Order M-81, in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time, remains in effect.

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the seller herein and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Conservation Order M-81, as heretofore amended, and that during the life of such order he will not use or sell any can purchased from

SCHEDULE I—FOOD CANS

Note: Paragraph (2) of the introduction and item 57 amended February 18, 1943.

(1) Packing quotas specified in this Schedule I indicate total packs of the respective products listed, for all purposes including cans required by any Government Agency. The designation "for Operations," to be set aside in this Schedule I, means for the United States Government or for packing only the quantity of product required to be packed under Order M-86, as amended from time to time.

(2) All persons manufacturing cans shall, to the greatest extent available, use 0.50 tinplate wherever the double asterisk appears, and chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears. All persons using cans marked with the asterisk, are hereby required to accept from the manufacturer making delivery, to the greatest extent available, cans made as specified of 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears; and cans made as specified of chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears.

Wherever the double asterisk appears, to the extent that chemically treated blackplate is not available, 0.50 tinplate is to be used by manufacturers, and cans made therefrom accepted by users, to the greatest extent available, in preference to 1.25 tinplate.

SCHEDULE II—FOOD CANS

NOTE: Paragraph (2) and items 1 and 5 amended; items 17 to 20 added February 18, 1943.

(1) Packing quotas specified in this Schedule II indicate permitted packs of the respective products listed, for all purposes except for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration of the United States, or for any agency of the United States purchasing for a foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend Lease Act). While restrictions pertaining to can sizes and can materials are applicable to such cans, cans used for packing the respective products listed shall be in addition to the specified quotas, when delivered pursuant to a letter of intent approved by, or a contract or purchase order negotiated with or for, any of the foregoing agencies. The word "none" indicates that no cans shall be used for packing the applicable product except for the above-mentioned agencies. When determining a quota for packing a product listed in this Schedule II, cans packed during the base period (1942) for the above-mentioned agencies shall be excluded.

(2) All persons manufacturing cans shall, to the greatest extent available, use 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears, and chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears. All persons using cans marked with the asterisk, are hereby required to accept from the manufacturer making delivery, to the greatest extent available, cans made as specified of 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears; and cans made as specified of chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears.

Wherever the double asterisk appears, to the extent that chemically treated blackplate is not available, 0.50 tinplate is to be used by manufacturers and cans made therefrom accepted by users, to the greatest extent available, in preference to 1.25 tinplate.

PART 1068—CANS

[Conservation Order M-81 as Amended Feb. 18, 1943]

§ 1068.1 Conservation Order M-81—(a) Definitions. (1) "Can" means any unused container which is made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate or waste, and which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container closure or fitting made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, or waste, but does not include a closure or fitting to be used on or as a part of a glass container. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers, as defined in Conservation Order M-200.

(2) "Tinplate" means any sheet steel coated with tin and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste" (except "electrolytic waste-waste"), and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

(3) "Terneplate" means sheet steel coated with a lead-tin alloy, and includes "primes", "seconds", "waste-waste", and all other forms of terneplate except waste.

(4) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel 29-gauge or lighter, other than tinplate or terneplate. The term includes "blackplate rejects" and "electrolytic waste-waste", and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

(5) "Waste" means scrap tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate, produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans.

(6) "Pack", unless particularly specified, means the quantity, by area measurement of tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate required for the manufacture of all sized cans used by a person for packing a particular product during the base period specified.

[1] This document is a restatement of Amend. 1 to Order M-81 as amended January 13, 1943 which appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 20, 1943, page 2232, and reflects the order in its completed form as of February 18, 1943.

No person shall manufacture any can smaller than 5 gallons, with ... liver any can which he knows ... reason to believe will be used in ... of any provision of this order.

(2) No person shall manufacture any can smaller than 5 gallons, with ... bails, or handles.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase ... acceptance of delivery, and use of cans. ... 1943 on the basis ... 1943 when ... delivery of, or use for packing a product ... except to the extent ... in Schedules I, II, and III ... this order. Provided, however, ... packer or retail dairy may ... cans as authorized ... of this order.

(2) The schedules attached to this order list the only products permitted to be packed in cans, packing quotas, size of cans, and the kinds of plate permitted for the manufacture of cans.

The calendar year basis shall be ... except for products for which a ... year is specified. A seasonal year for a particular product represents a twelve months' period beginning in one calendar year and ending in the next.

The sizes of the can specified for a particular product indicate the only sized cans which may be used for packing that product, except that such product may, subject to all other restrictions imposed by this order, be packed in cans larger than the largest size specified therefor.

When tinplate is specified for the manufacture of cans for packing a particular product, the coating indicated represents the maximum weight of tin coating per single base box. When SCMT is specified, Special Coated Manufacturers' Terneplate is referred to. When blackplate is specified, the specification includes chemically treated blackplate (CTB).

(3) No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a can or any other container by the same or a different person in the same or a different form except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order or pursuant to Conservation Order M-104.

(4) No dried or frozen fruit or vegetable shall be packed in a can, except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of the following cans:

(i) Cans for packing any product which is not to be sold.

(ii) Fiber or paper bodied cans with ends made of waste, for packing any food product for human consumption, and antiseptic or medicinal powders.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) ... plicability of priorities regulations. ... order and all transactions ... thereby are subject to all applicable ... visions of the priorities regulations ... the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from ... provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-81.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) 1942 Calendar year pack. Until December 31, 1942, no person packing on a calendar year basis shall purchase, accept delivery of, or use any can for packing any product except in accordance with Conservation Order M-81, as amended June 27, 1942, including amendments thereto.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE I—FOOD CANS

NOTE: Paragraph (2) of the introduction and item 57 amended February 18, 1943.

(1) Packing quotas specified in this Schedule I indicate total packs of the respective products listed, for all purposes including cans required by any order of the Director General for Operations, to be set aside for purchase by a Government Agency. The designation "M-86" indicates that cans may be used for packing only the quantity of product required to be set aside by Order M-86, as amended from time to time.

(2) All products listed in this schedule may be packed to the extent available, in 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears, and chemically treated blackplate, wherever the double asterisk appears. All persons using cans marked with the asterisk are hereby required to accept from the manufacturer making delivery, to the greatest extent available, cans made as specified of 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears, and cans made as specified of chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears.

Wherever the double asterisk appears, to the extent that chemically treated blackplate is not available, 0.50 tinplate is to be used by manufacturers, and cans made therefrom accepted by users, to the greatest extent available, in preference to 1.25 tinplate.

SCHEDULE II—FOOD CANS

NOTE: Paragraph (2) and items 1 and 5 amended; items 17 to 20 added February 18, 1943.

(1) Packing quotas specified in this Schedule II indicate permitted packs of the respective products listed, for all purposes except for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration of the United States, or for any agency of the United States purchasing for a foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend Lease Act). While restrictions pertaining to can sizes and can materials are applicable to such cans, cans used for packing the respective products listed shall be in addition to the specified quotas, when delivered pursuant to a letter of intent approved by, or a contract or purchase order negotiated with or for, any of the foregoing agencies. The word "none" indicates that no cans shall be used for packing the applicable product except for the above-mentioned agencies. When determining a quota for packing a product listed in this Schedule II, cans packed during the base period (1942) for the above-mentioned agencies shall be excluded.

(2) All persons manufacturing cans shall, to the greatest extent available, use 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears, and chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears. All persons using cans marked with the asterisk, are hereby required to accept from the manufacturer making delivery, to the greatest extent available, cans made as specified of 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears; and cans made as specified of chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears.

Wherever the double asterisk appears, to the extent that chemically treated blackplate is not available, 0.50 tinplate is to be used by manufacturers and cans made therefrom accepted by users, to the greatest extent available, in preference to 1.25 tinplate.

SCHEDULE III—NON-FOOD CANS

NOTE: Items 23, 26, 29, 31, and 32 amended, and item 37 added February 18, 1943.

(1) Packing quotas specified in this Schedule III indicate permitted packs of the respective products listed, for all purposes except for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration of the United States, or for any agency of the United States purchasing for a foreign country, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act). While restrictions pertaining to can sizes and can materials are applicable to such cans, cans used for packing the respective products listed shall be in addition to the specified quotas, when delivered pursuant to a letter of intent approved by, or a contract or purchase order negotiated with or for, any of the foregoing agencies. The word "none" indicates that no cans shall be used for packing the applicable product except for the above-mentioned agencies. When determining a quota for packing a product listed in this Schedule III, cans packed during the base period (1942) for the above-mentioned agencies shall be excluded.

(2) Whenever blackplate is specified for making the body or ends of a can for packing a product listed in this Schedule III, Special Coated Manufacturers' Terneplate, may be substituted for making any part or fitting of the can which is required to be soldered.

(3) No compound containing crude rubber, latex, or synthetic rubber as defined in Order M-15-b, shall be used in the manufacture of cans for packing any product listed in this Schedule III

INTERPRETATION 1

[NOTE: Interpretation 1 issued Feb. 22, 1943.]

Frozen tinplate, terneplate or blackplate means only tinplate, terneplate or blackplate which, since prior to December 9, 1942, has been held in the inventory of a can manufacturer (or in the inventory of a supplier of such plate, having been produced for the account of a can manufacturer) because it had been so processed or was of such size, gauge or grade, that it was not suitable for the manufacture of cans for which tinplate, terneplate or blackplate are specified, without qualifications, in the "Can Material" columns of the schedules attached to the said order.

PART 3063—FOOTWEAR

[Conservation Order M-217, as Amended Feb. 19, 1943[1]]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of shoe manufacturing material for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3063.1 Conservation Order M-217—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, except Priorities Regulation 17, which shall be inapplicable to footwear.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Put into process" means the first cutting of leather or fabric in the manufacture of footwear.

(2) "Footwear" includes house slippers but does not include foot covering designed to be worn over shoes.

(3) "Work shoes" means any shoes or boots with unlined quarters which are designed to be worn at any form of work requiring specially heavy or substantially made footwear.

(4) "Horizontal quarter seams" means seams on quarters running in a predominantly horizontal direction (i. e. parallel to the sole).

(5) "Design and construction" of footwear means the make-up of the footwear in every detail, so that any two items of footwear of the same design and construction are necessarily identical, except in size; but does not refer to the means whereby the footwear is manufactured.

(6) "Cattle hide leather" means any leather made from cattle hides, including hides of bulls, cows, and steers, and calf and kip skins (but excluding slunks), and shall also include buffalo hides.

(7) "Pintucking" means a raised effect on the surface of footwear accomplished by either single or double needle stitching, but does not include the raised seam on a moccasin type vamp.

(8) "House slippers" means any footwear designed exclusively for indoor or house wear.

(9) "Padded sole house slippers" means slippers having conventional padded soles where the outsole is made of fabric, imitation leather or split leather not over 2½ ounces in weight and is directly stitched to the upper or to a platform cover.

(10) "Line" means footwear of any one of the following types:

Men's dress,
Men's work,
Youths' and boys',
Women's and growing girls',
Misses' and children's,
Infants',
House slippers, and Athletic,

to the extent that such type of footwear is manufactured for sale in the same manufacturer's price range; Provided, That:

(i) Footwear of substantially identical kind and quality sold in more than one price range to different types of purchasers shall be deemed one line; and

(ii) In case the sale by the manufacturer is at retail or to a purchaser controlled by the manufacturer, the applicable price range shall be the retail price range.

(11) "Price range" shall have the usual trade significance, provided that the highest list price in the range does not exceed the lowest in the range by more than ten (10%) per cent.

(12) "Civilian footwear" as used in paragraph (i) means boots, shoes, slippers and other foot coverings made in whole or in part of leather or with rubber soles, not including rubber footwear.

(c) Curtailment in the use of materials and colors in the manufacture of footwear. (1) No person shall manufacture, or put into process any leather or fabric for the manufacture of, any footwear with:

(i) Leather seam laps gauging over ½ inch in width.

(ii) Horizontal quarter seams, on lined low quarter shoes.

(iii) Wing or shield tips on men's shoes and boys' shoes over size 6, or wing tips or long shield tips on women's, girls', misses', youths', little gents' and children's shoes and boys' shoes of size 6 and under.

(iv) Full overlay tips or full overlay foxings, except on work shoes.

(v) Woven vamp or quarter patterns.

(vi) Quarter collars, except on unlined shoes and padded sole house slippers with cloth uppers.

(vii) Bows or other ornaments, if made of leather in whole or in part.

(viii) Outside taps, on footwear other than men's high shoes, unless the middle sole is of synthetic composition material.

(ix) Leather slip soles other than those cut from bellies or offal.

(x) More than one full leather sole, in goodyear welt footwear other than work shoes.

(xi) Full breasted heels, except on hand-turned footwear.

(xii) Welting in excess of ½ inch in width and 5/32 inch in thickness in shoes other than work shoes, or welting in excess of 9/16 inch in width and 5/32 inch in thickness in work shoes.

(xiii) Straps, buckles, knife pockets or decorative stitching on boots or work shoes.

(xiv) Men's one piece uppers (i. e., vamp and quarter cut in one piece and seamed up the back).

(xv) Extension stitched heel seats, except in stitchdowns, in other children's shoes up to and including size 3 and in safety and established orthopedic footwear.

(xvi) Metal nail heads for studs or any metal for decorative purposes.

(xvii) Any stitching thread made from reserved Egyptian cotton (as defined in Conservation Order M-117) or reserved American extra staple cotton (as defined in Conservation Order M-197) for any decorative or any non-functional purpose.

(xviii) Any non-functional or decorative stitching except:

(a) Not more than four rows of non-functional stitching on imitation tips, foxings, saddles, mudguards and moccasin type vamps.

(b) Not more than an aggregate of four rows of functional and non-functional stitching parallel to the vamp, tip, foxing, saddle, and moccasin seams,

(c) Design stitching solely to permit direct, non-stop, stitching between cutouts.

(xix) Any strippings, braidings, pintuckings, lacings or overlays, except those serving a necessary functional purpose.

(xx) Straps passing over, under or through a tongue or vamp.

(xxi) Raised quarter or raised back seams (other than vertical back seams), except on genuine moccasins.

(xxii) Multiple straps, on Roman sandals.

(xxiii) Kiltie or other ornamental tongues, if made of leather in whole or in part.

(xxiv) Platform soles and platform effects, on all footwear of heel height over 1⅜ inches, using size 4B as the standard.

(xxv) Leather covered platforms or leather platform effects, on any footwear.

(xxvi) Heels gauging over 2⅛ inches in height, using size 4B as the standard.

(xxvii) Metal spikes, on golf shoes.

(xxviii) Caulk or storm welting.

(xxix) Rawhide or other leather laces, except on work shoes.

(2) No person shall use in the manufacture of any footwear any steel shanks of any gauge except:

18 gauge	.045	minimum, 50 carbon steel.
21 gauge	.032	minimum, 50 carbon steel.
19 gauge	.040	minimum, low carbon or basic steel.

unless such shanks were in said person's inventory on September 10, 1942, or were subsequently acquired from a producer of steel shanks who had, prior to September 10, 1942, rolled steel plate for shanks of a different gauge.

(3) No person shall put into process any leather for the manufacture of any boots except men's blucher high-cut laced boots 10 inches or under in height (measured from heel seat, using size 7 as the standard) and men's and women's utility work cowboy boots.

(4) No person shall put into process any leathers or fabrics for the manufacture of footwear of more than one color (subject to unavoidable deviations in shade normally experienced in finishing leathers or dyeing fabrics). This restriction shall apply to the color of stitching, lacing and bindings, but shall not apply to the color of linings and soles. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent unavoidable discoloring of thread, leather and perforations as a result of antiqueing, or the use of embossed leather or genuine reptiles of the colors permitted in paragraph (f) (1) below but having slight variations in shade caused by normal finishing of such leather.

(5) No person shall put into process for the manufacture of footwear any leather or fabric except leather or fabric finished or dyed in accordance with paragraph (f) below: Provided, however, That nothing contained in this paragraph (c) (5) shall prevent any person from using:

(i) Any solid color white cattle hide, turftan (as defined below) or bluejacket blue (as defined below) leather finished prior to March 16, 1943;

(ii) Any other solid color leather finished prior to October 16, 1942;

(iii) Any solid color turftan or bluejacket blue fabric acquired by the manufacturer prior to February 20, 1943; or

(iv) Any other solid color fabric dyed prior to September 13, 1942 and acquired by the manufacturer prior to February 16, 1943.

(6) No person shall put into process any cattle hide upper leather (other than kip sides, kipskins and calf) or upper leather splits gauging 4½ ounces or over for the manufacture of any footwear except work shoes, cowboy utility boots and lined police type high shoes.

(7) No person shall put into process any cattle hide upper leather, or grain leather outsoles (except heads, bellies, shins and shanks of 5 iron or less) for the manufacture of house slippers or romeos.

(8) No person shall put into process any leather outsoles for the manufacture of footwear having raised or flat seam moccasin type vamps or mudguard vamps, any saddle-type footwear, or any footwear with imitation wing tips, imitation stitched moccasin types, imitation stitched mudguards and imitation stitched saddles: Provided, however, That nothing in this subparagraph (c) (8) shall apply to women's and girls' shoes with heels 1¼ inches and over in height, using size 4B as the standard.

(9) No person shall put into process any patent leather for the manufacture of men's shoes.

(10) No person shall put into process any upper leather or leather or rubber soles for the manufacture of men's sandals.

[1] This document is a restatement of Amendment 1 to Order M-217 as Amended February 13, 1943 which appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 20, 1943 page 2236, and reflects the order in its consolidated form as of February 19, 1943.

(d) Restrictions on styling and types manufactured. (1) No person shall put into process any leather or fabric for the manufacture of any footwear of a design and construction not utilized by him between September 1, 1940 and December 31, 1942: Provided, however, That this paragraph shall not prevent correction of patterns to the extent necessary to remove features prohibited by this order.

The Director General for Operations may make exceptions to this paragraph in favor of patterns or designs which will conserve leather or other materials.

(2) No person shall put into process any leather or fabric for the manufacture of any women's gold, silver, satin or brocade evening slippers.

(3) No person shall put into process any leather or fabric for the manufacture of any footwear for the special purpose of retail display.

(e) Exceptions to paragraphs (c) and (d) above. The foregoing prohibitions and restrictions of this order shall not apply to:

(1) Footwear the soles of which are made wholly from materials other than leather or rubber (which may, however, utilize leather for hinges or for tabs, heel inserts or other nonskid or soundproofing features covering not more than 25% of the area of the bottom of the sole).

(2) Special types of footwear made for the physically deformed or malmed.

(3) Football, baseball, hockey, skating, bowling, track, and ski shoes and other similar footwear designed for use in active participation in sports which require specially constructed footwear for such use. This does not include golf shoes.

(4) Footwear forming part of historical or other costumes for theatrical productions.

(5) Infants' soft sole footwear.

(6) Footwear the uppers of which are made of shearlings not reserved for military use under General Conservation Order M-94.

(f) Restriction on tanning and dyeing. (1) No person shall finish any leather for use as upper leather except in the following colors (subject to unavoidable deviations in shade normally experienced in finishing leathers):

Black
White, except in cattle hide leathers.
Army russet and town brown, as appearing on the Fall 1942 color card of the Textile Color Card Association of the United States, Inc.

(2) No person shall color any leather or dye any fabric for use in shoe uppers except in the colors mentioned in paragraph (f) (1) above, (subject to unavoidable deviations in shade normally experienced in tanning and dyeing).

(3) No person engaged in the business of shoe manufacturing shall dye any new footwear except in the colors mentioned in paragraph (f) (1) above.

(4) The restrictions in this paragraph shall not apply to the dyeing of fabrics for use in padded sole house slippers.

(g) General exceptions. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order shall not apply to footwear to be delivered to, or for the account of, the Army or Navy of the United States (excluding Post Exchanges and Ships' Service Stores), the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, the United States Maritime Commission, The Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development and the War Shipping Administration; or to, or for the account of, the government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom including its Dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates, and Yugoslavia; or on any contract or purchase order placed by any agency of the United States Government for footwear to be delivered to, or for the account of, the Government of any country listed above, or any other country, including those in the Western Hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), or to custom-made footwear delivered for personnel of the Army or Navy of the United States.

(h) Restrictions relating to sales and deliveries. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any new footwear, the leather or fabric for which was put into process on or after October 31, 1942, unless such footwear is manufactured in conformity with this order.

(2) No tanner or sole cutter shall deliver any leather to any shoe manufacturer if he knows or has reason to believe said leather is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(3) The prohibitions and restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to:

(i) Deliveries of footwear or leather by, or to, any person having temporary custody thereof for the sole purpose of transportation or public warehousing.

(ii) Any bank, banker or trust company affecting or participating in a sale or delivery of footwear or leather solely by reason of the presentation, collection, or redemption of an instrument, whether negotiable or otherwise.

(4) In making sales or delivery of any footwear, no person shall make discriminatory cuts in quantity or quality between former customers who meet such person's regularly established prices, terms and credit requirements, or between former customers and his own consumption of said footwear. Reduction in sales or deliveries proportionate with any curtailment in supply available for non-military use shall not constitute a discriminatory cut.

(i) Restrictions on production of lines of footwear. (1) Except on specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, no person shall in any six (6) months' period beginning March 1, 1943, complete the manufacture of more civilian footwear within any line than permitted in the table shown below:

Description	Maximum permitted amount or percentage per line
House slippers	75% of number manufactured from July 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, inclusive
All others	100% of number manufactured from July 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, inclusive

(2) Except on specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, no person shall manufacture any line of civilian footwear not manufactured by him in the period from July 1st, 1942 to December 31st, 1942.

(3) Exceptions: Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (i) (1) or (i) (2)

(i) A lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear may be substituted in whole or in part for a higher priced line.

(ii) The unused quota of any higher priced line may be added to a lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear.

(iii) The manufacture of civilian footwear in a line not manufactured in the period from July 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, may be completed if such footwear was put into process prior to February 19, 1943.

(j) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

[NOTE: Paragraphs (j) through (n) formerly designated (i) through (m).]

(k) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales.

(l) Reports. Each person affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as may be required by said Board from time to time.

(m) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-217.

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Effective dates. The effective dates of the respective amended paragraphs of this order are as follows: Paragraphs (a), (b) (6) through (b) (9), (c) (4), (c) (5), (d) (1), (e) (3), (e) (5), (e) (6), (f) (2), (f) (3), (f) (4) and (g), February 13, 1943; paragraphs (j), (k), (l), (m), (n), and (o), February 19, 1943; paragraphs (b) (10), (b) (11), (b) (12) and (i), March 1, 1943; paragraph (f) (1), March 15, 1943; paragraph (c) (7), March 31, 1943; paragraph (c) (8), May 31, 1943; all other amended paragraphs, April 30, 1943.

Conservation Order M-217 as issued September 10, 1942 shall remain in full force and effect except as superseded on the effective dates, as stated above, of the foregoing amended paragraphs.

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

INTERPRETATION 1

The word "manufacture" in line two of paragraph (c) (1) of § 3063.1 (Conservation Order M-217), refers to the operation whereby the features mentioned in subdivisions (i) to (xvii), inclusive, of said paragraph became a part of the footwear.

Illustration: Subdivision (iv) refers to full overlaid tips or full overlaid foxings except on work shoes. The order prohibits the placing of full overlay tips or full overlay foxings on dress shoes after October 31, 1942. But it does not prohibit the completion of the shoe if an overlaid tip or an overlaid foxing has been affixed prior to said date. (Issued October 6, 1942.)

PART 933—COPPER

[Amendment 1 to Conservation Order M-9-c,[1] as Amended Feb. 26, 1943]

Section 933.4 Conservation Order M-9-c is hereby amended:

[1] 8 F.R. 1104, 2475.

By amending the lines under "Miscellaneous" on the combined list which now read as follows:

Dishwashing machines and domestic garbage grinders.

to be and read as follows:

Dishwashing machines (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are permitted by the terms of Order L-248 or by a specific authorization of the Director General for Operations granted pursuant to such order) and domestic garbage grinders.

Issued this 2d day of March 1943.

PART 3036—COMMERCIAL COOKING AND FOOD AND PLATE WARMING EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-182, as Amended March 2, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the production of commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3036.1 General Limitation Order L-182.—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment" means equipment using coal, wood, oil, gas or other non-electric fuel, or equipment attached to any steam or hot water system, designed for the heating of kitchen utensils or plates, or for the cooking or baking of food for consumption or sale on the premises in which the equipment is located. It includes, but is not limited to, such items as bakers, broilers, fryers, griddles, grills, hot plates, ovens (except built-in types), ranges, roasters, steamers, toasters, urns and warmers, but does not include cooking appliances for household use.

(2) "Ultimate consumer" means any person who uses commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment for the heating of kitchen utensils or plates, or for the cooking or baking of food for consumption or sale.

(3) "New commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment" means any commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment that has never been used by an ultimate consumer.

(4) "Used commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment" means any commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment that has been used by an ultimate consumer.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture. (1) From and after October 1, 1942, no manufacturer of commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment shall put into process in the manufacture of such equipment, including finished units and parts thereof, during any calendar quarter, any iron and steel in excess of 6¼% of the iron and steel put into process in the manufacture of finished units of such equipment by him during the calendar year, 1941, except that in addition to the quotas set forth in this paragraph, any manufacturer may put any iron or steel into the process of manufacture of any such equipment for delivery to or for the account of the Army, Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration of the United States or the Defense Plant Corporation.

(2) No iron or steel may be used in the manufacture of any equipment listed on Schedule I, except in the manufacture of repair and replacement parts thereof as limited in paragraph (b) (1).

(c) Restrictions on delivery. Regardless of the terms of any contract, sale, other commitment or any preference rating, no person shall make or accept physical delivery of any new or used commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment, except that:

(1) Any person may make or accept physical delivery of any such equipment on a specific contract or subcontract for delivery to or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration of the United States, or the Defense Plant Corporation.

(2) Any person may make or accept physical delivery of any such equipment pursuant to specific authorization of the Director General for Operations on Form PD–638A. Applications under this order and Order L–248 may be made on a single Form PD–638A.

(3) Any manufacturer may make physical delivery of any such equipment to any dealer or distributor of such equipment, or to any ultimate consumer, from whom he has received a written order or contract which bears a certification substantially as follows, signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7; and any such dealer, distributor or ultimate consumer may accept such delivery:

I certify that I have received specific authority from the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board to accept delivery of the equipment listed hereon; that I have knowledge of and am in compliance with Limitation Orders L–182 and or L–248; and, further, that authorization was received by me on the following Form(s) PD 638–A:

(List number or numbers)

Firm name

Signature and title of officer

Such certification shall constitute a representation to the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, as well as to the manufacturer of the facts certified therein.

No manufacturer shall make delivery under this order who has reason to believe that the purchaser has furnished a false certification; and no person shall falsely furnish the certification specified above.

Any manufacturer may rely upon the facts furnished in the above mentioned certification and shall not be responsible for any action taken by him under this order in reliance upon inaccurate or untrue statements therein, unless he has reason to believe that such statements are inaccurate or untrue.

(4) Any ultimate consumer may make physical delivery of any such equipment to any manufacturer, dealer or distributor of such equipment, and such manufacturer, dealer, or distributor may accept such delivery; and

(5) Any such equipment actually in transit on September 30, 1942, may be delivered to its immediate destination.

[NOTE: Paragraphs (4) and (5) were formerly designated (3) and (4).]

(d) Delivery of repair and replacement parts. Nothing in this order shall prevent the delivery of repair or replacement parts for commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment.

(e) Reports. Every manufacturer, dealer and distributor of any commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment shall execute and file with the War Production Board on or before the tenth day of each calendar quarter a report on Form PD–638 (Revised), which may be obtained from the nearest field office of the War Production Board. Reports under this order and Order L–248 may be made on a single Form PD–638.

(f) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of all the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other order issued, or to be issued after September 30, 1942, limits the production or delivery of commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein. After September 30, 1942, General Limitation Orders No. L–79 and No. L–83 shall not apply to commercial cooking and food and plate warming equipment.

(h) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal by letter to the War Production Board, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(i) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–182.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing and using materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 2d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Limitation Order L–211, Schedule 3 as Amended March 2 1943]

BARBED WIRE, WIRE FENCE, WIRE NETTING AND WIRE FLOORING

§ 3102.4 Schedule 3 to Limitation Order L–211—(a) Restrictions on barbed wire. (1) No person shall produce, fabricate or deliver barbed wire except two point barbed wire of 14 gauge strands and 16 gauge barbs, or two or four point barbed wire of 12½ gauge strands and 14 gauge barbs, the spacing of the barbs in each style to be not less than four inches.

(2) No person shall produce or fabricate in any calendar quarter commencing April 1, 1943 a greater tonnage of barbed wire of 12½ gauge strands and 14 gauge barbs than barbed wire of 14 gauge strands and 16 gauge barbs.

(3) No person shall supply barbed wire except on 80 rod spools.

(b) Restrictions on wire fence, wire netting and wire flooring. No person shall produce, fabricate or deliver woven or welded wire fence, wire netting or wire flooring, except in the styles, specifications and in the length of rolls set forth in List 1 attached hereto.

(c) Restrictions on use of copper. No person shall add any copper to steel to be used in the production of wire for fabrication of barbed wire, woven or welded wire fence, wire netting or wire flooring.

(d) Restrictions on galvanizing. No person shall apply any zinc coating to barbed wire, or woven or welded wire fence in excess of the weights specified in Weight A, Table IV, Federal Specification QQ–W–461, issued June 16, 1941 except that half gauges shall take the weight classification of the next heavier gauge specified.

(e) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of material which he knows or has reason to believe was produced, fabricated or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (d).

(f) General exceptions. The provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) shall not apply to material:

(1) The production, fabrication, delivery or acceptance of which is specifically permitted by the Director General for Operations, or

(2) Which has been produced or fabricated before November 12, 1942, or which before such date has been processed in such manner and to such extent that processing to conform to such provisions would be impracticable, or

(3) To be purchased by or for the account of any of the following, to the extent that such material is called for by the specifications applicable to the contract, subcontract, or purchase order:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, and the War Shipping Administration;

(ii) The government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom, including its Dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates, and Yugoslavia;

(iii) The government of any country listed above, or any other country, including those in the Western Hemisphere, where the contract or purchase order is placed by any agency of the United States Government, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(g) Exception to restriction on length of rolls. The restrictions as to length of rolls contained in paragraphs (a) and (b) shall not be applicable to deliveries on preference ratings assigned by the Board of Economic Warfare, deliveries on Lend-Lease orders, or to deliveries by any person to the ultimate consumer.

(h) Records. Each producer or fabricator owning or possessing material excepted by the provisions of paragraph (f) shall retain records of such material available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

Issued this 2d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3171—COMMERCIAL DISHWASHERS

[Limitation Order L–248]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron, steel and other metals for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3171.1 General Limitation Order L–248—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Commercial dishwasher" means any mechanical device designed for washing dishes, cutlery, glassware and kitchen utensils in establishments where food is prepared for consumption or sale on the premises; Provided, That "commercial dishwasher" does not include any dishwasher for domestic use.

(2) "Ultimate consumer" means any person who uses a commercial dishwasher for washing dishes, cutlery, glassware and kitchen utensils.

(3) "New commercial dishwasher" means any commercial dishwasher which has never been used by an ultimate consumer.

(4) "Used commercial dishwasher" means any commercial dishwasher which has been used by an ultimate consumer.

(5) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy. It shall include alloy metal produced from scrap.

(b) Restrictions on manufacture. No manufacturer of commercial dishwashers shall put into process in the manufacture of such dishwashers, including finished units and parts thereof, during any calendar quarter, a weight of metal in excess of six and one quarter percent (6¼%) of the weight of metal put into process in the manufacture of finished commercial dishwashers by him during the calendar year 1941 except that in addition to the quotas set forth in this paragraph any manufacturer may put any weight of metal into process in the manufacture of any such dishwashers for delivery to or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration of the United States.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. Regardless of the terms of any contract, sale, other commitment or any preference rating, no person shall make or accept physical delivery of any new or used commercial dishwashers except that:

(1) Any person may make or accept physical delivery of any such dishwasher on a specific contract or subcontract for delivery to or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration of the United States;

(2) Any person may make or accept physical delivery of any such dishwasher pursuant to specific authorization of the Director General for Operations on Form PD–638A (Revised). Applications under this order and Order L–182 may be made on a single Form PD–638A;

(3) Any manufacturer may make physical delivery of any such dishwasher to any dealer or distributor of such dishwashers, or to any ultimate consumer, from whom he has received a written order or contract which bears a certification substantially as follows signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7; and any such dealer, distributor or ultimate consumer may accept such delivery:

I certify that I have received specific authority from the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board to accept delivery of the equipment listed hereon; that I have knowledge of and am in compliance with Limitation Orders L–182 and or L–248; and, further, that authorization was received by me on the following Form(s) PD–638A:

(List number or numbers)

Firm Name

Signature & Title of Officer

Such certification shall constitute a representation to the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, as well as to the manufacturer of the facts certified therein.

No manufacturer shall make delivery under this order who has reason to believe that the purchaser has furnished a false certification; and no person shall falsely furnish the certification specified above.

Any manufacturer may rely upon the facts furnished in the above mentioned certification and shall not be responsible for any action taken by him under this order in reliance upon inaccurate or untrue statements therein, unless he has reason to believe that such statements are inaccurate or untrue;

(4) Any ultimate consumer may make physical delivery of any such dishwasher to any manufacturer, dealer or distributor of such dishwashers; and such manufacturer, dealer, or distributor may accept such delivery;

(5) Any such dishwasher actually in transit on March 2, 1943, may be delivered to its immediate destination; and

(6) Any such dishwasher manufactured in accordance with an appeal granted prior to March 2, 1943, may be physically delivered to the person specified in the appeal, and such person may accept delivery of such dishwasher.

(d) Delivery of repair and replacement parts. Nothing in this order shall prevent the delivery of repair or replacement parts for commercial dishwashers.

(e) Simplified practices. No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any commercial dishwasher except in accordance with the following practices: Provided, however, That this restriction shall not apply in cases where appeals have been granted prior to March 2, 1943.

(1)

Maximum capacity (dishes per hour)	Maximum content (pounds)		Maximum motor size (h. p.)
	Iron and steel	Copper base alloy
1,500	500	18	¾
3,240	900	22	2
5,000	1,150	35	3

(2) Body (hood and tanks) shall be manufactured of not heavier than 14 gauge black iron or 14 gauge galvanized iron.

(3) No thermostatic controls shall be used.

(4) Spray pipes, feed pipes, and other piping shall be galvanized iron.

(5) To the extent that copper base alloy castings are permitted by this order, the alloy shall be of a type and grade in the production of which the use of refined copper or refined tin is not necessary.

(6) No metal other than iron, steel or copper base alloy shall be used, except zinc or coating or spraying, and metal necessary for assembling or installing.

(f) Exceptions from simplified practices. None of the restrictions in paragraph (e) shall apply to commercial dishwashers manufactured to specifications of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration of the United States for use on ships.

(g) Reports. Every manufacturer, dealer and distributor of any commercial dishwasher shall execute and file with the War Production Board on or before the tenth day of each calendar quarter a report on Form PD–638 (Revised), which may be obtained from the nearest field office of the War Production Board. Reports under this order and order L–182 may be made on a single Form PD–638.

(h) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of all the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(i) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other order issued, or to be issued hereafter, limits the production or delivery of commercial dishwashers to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(j) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating the grounds of the appeal.

(k) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington, D. C., REF: L–248.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing and using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 2d day of March 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Regulation 7]

OPTIONAL STANDARD FORM OF CERTIFICATION

§ 3175.7 CMP Regulation 7. (a) A certification in substantially the following form may (but need not) be used in lieu of any other certification required by any CMP regulation to be endorsed on a delivery order or to be furnished therewith:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

Such certification shall be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

(b) If the applicable CMP regulation requires an allotment number or symbol, preference rating or other identification to be included in a certification, such identification shall be placed on the delivery order if the above form of certification is used.

Issued this 2nd day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3176—VALVES AND VALVE PARTS

[Limitation Order L–252, as Amended March 2, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of steel, copper, and other critical materials used in the manufacture of valves and valve parts, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3176.1 Limitation Order L–252—(a) Definitions. Wherever used in this order:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures valves and valve parts.

(2) "Valves" means gate, globe, angle, cross, lift check, angle check, or swing check valves (including variations of those types, such as the valves generally referred to as quick opening, blow off, hose end, Y-type and hydraulic), except drilling through and flow line valves for oil production service. This definition does not include valves of the types generally referred to as "specialties".

(3) "Valve parts" means parts for valves as defined above.

(4) "Put into process" means to process, machine, or fabricate or in any other manner alter any material by physical or chemical means.

(b) Limitations. Except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no producer shall after May 1, 1943, put into process or cause to be put into process, any material to be incorporated into valves or valve parts, except for the manufacture of valves and valve parts which conform to the specifications contained in the Appendix attached to and a part of this order, or for the manufacture of:

(1) Valves

(i) The bodies or bonnets of which were cast or forged before May 1, 1943;

(ii) Ordered for use as part of the equipment of aircraft or watercraft other than pleasure craft; or

(iii) For the conduction of liquid or gas having chemical or physical properties which render the use of valves described in the Appendix dangerous or impractical; and

(2) Valve parts for repair of valves which are completed on May 1, 1943, or which are produced thereafter in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) of this order.

(c) Restricted deliveries. Except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations:

(1) No producer shall sell or make delivery of any valves or valve parts manufactured in violation of the terms of this order, and

(2) No person shall knowingly purchase or accept delivery of any valve or valve part produced in violation of this order.

(d) Order superseded. The provisions of this order supersede the provisions of Schedule No. 1 of Limitation Order L–42.

(e) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of all applicable priorities regulations.

(f) Records. Each producer shall retain in his files for a period of two years records showing his inventory and production of all valves, including those for the manufacture of which material was put into process subsequent to May 1, 1943. These records shall be kept readily available and open to inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Shipbuilding Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–252.

Issued this 2d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

[Paragraphs 6 (b) and (c) of Part 3 of the Appendix are amended March 2, 1943]

Specifications for Valves and Valve Parts

The following specifications govern the manufacture of valves and valve parts. These specifications do not purport to contain any recommendations regarding the most efficient or safe use of any valve or valve parts covered herein.

Certain of the terms used in this appendix (including the terms valves and valve parts) are defined in the body of this order, L–252. In addition, certain exceptions are made, and certain obligations imposed upon producers and others. You should, therefore, be thoroughly familiar with the body of the order before reading this appendix.

PART 1

Iron Gate, Globe, Angle, Cross, and Check Valves and Valve Parts

1. Standard size schedule: Iron valves. (a) Valves shall be manufactured only in the pressure classes listed in Table 1 and in the particular sizes, specified in Table 2, which are comprehended within the size range specified in Table 1 for the particular pressure class:

TABLE 1

[All size ranges are inclusive]

Primary pressure classifications in pounds per square inch		Gates (inches)			Globe and angle (inches)		Lift check (inches)		Swing check (inches)
Steam	Water	Screwed	Flanged	Hub	Screwed	Flanged	Screwed	Flanged	Screwed	Flanged	Hub
25	50		4 to 72	4 to 72
	100		4 to 72	4 to 72
125	150 to 200	2 to 6	2 to 72	2 to 72	2 to 4	2 to 10	2 to 4	3 to 6	2 to 6	2 to 24	4 to 24
150	250	1¼ to 3	1 to 3		1¼ to 3	1 to 3	¼ to 3		1¼ to 3
250	500	2 to 4	2 to 24		2 to 4	2 to 6			2 to 4	2 to 12
300		1¼ to 3	1 to 3		1¼ to 3	1 to 3			1¼ to 3
	800	2 to 6	2 to 12							3 to 12

The primary pressure classification designates a class of valves and does not necessarily mean that all sizes in a given class carry the primary pressure classification. American Standards Association standards and manufacturers practice frequently reduce the pressure ratings as size increases, and may not always rate valves for both steam and water.

In sizes 3" and smaller the 150# and 300# primary pressure classification valves are included as substitutes for brass valves. Flanged valves may be rated in accordance with the American Flange Standard used.

NOTE: Other valve end connections in common use on the date of issuance of this order, including among others, the types known as Victaulic, Dresser, and Universal, may be manufactured, but only in accordance with the specifications listed in Table 1. For the purposes of this order, "common use" means use by at least ten companies.

(b) Detail of permitted sizes (see 1 (a) above):

2 General requirements for iron valves. (a) End flanges shall conform to American Standards Association standards for corresponding pressure classes, except that for 150# and 300# valves when made of malleable iron as substitutes for brass valves, flanges conforming to Manufacturers Standardization Society of the Valve and Fitting Industry Bronze Flange Standard SP–2 may be used. Flanges may be furnished to the American Gas Association flange standard for low pressure gas service.

(b) Face to face of flanged valves, size 4" and larger, shall comply with American Petroleum Institute standard #5–G–1 and American Standards Association standard B–16.10 for the pressure classes and types which these standards cover.

(c) Valves for 150# primary steam rating and lower shall have manufacturer's standard seating materials, comprising any of the following:

Non-metallic disc.
Iron or carbon steel.
Brass or bronze.
Nickel alloy.

(d) Valves for 250# primary steam rating and higher shall have manufacturer's standard seating materials, comprising any of the following:

Non-metallic disc.
Iron or carbon steel.
Brass or bronze.
Chrome iron.

(e) Bonnet bolts or studs shall be carbon steel.

(f) Nuts for bonnet bolting shall be carbon steel.

(g) Handwheels shall be of ferrous metal either cast or otherwise fabricated, or of suitable non-metallic material.

(h) All extension stems, couplings and gear housings shall be of ferrous metal.

(i) Spot facing or back facing on iron valve flanges is prohibited except when necessary to prevent scrapping otherwise usable products.

3. Iron gate valves. (a) Stems for outside screw and yoke valves shall be, at manufacturers' option, either of carbon steel, or of brass or bronze made from secondary metal, i. e., copper base alloy to which refined copper or refined tin is not added in the production of the castings for the stems.

(b) Discs for solid wedge gates 4" and larger and for split wedge or double disc gates 5" and larger, shall be all iron or iron with faces conforming to paragraphs 2 (c) or 2 (d) depending upon pressure class. Discs for non-rising stem valves may be provided with brass or bronze bushing for stem thread.

(c) Bonnet bushing for backseating shall not be provided in outside screw and yoke valves.

(d) Packing gland flange bolts or studs shall be carbon steel.

(e) Nuts for packing gland flange bolts or studs shall be carbon steel.

(f) For valve 4" and larger, the packing gland, if flange and follower or nose are one piece, shall be of iron or iron brass bushed; or if made of two pieces, the flange shall be iron and the follower or nose may be brass.

4. Iron globe, angle, and cross valves. (a) "Plug" type discs shall not be used for primary pressure 125# classification; but no manufacturer shall make more than one design of metal to metal seat in this class.

(b) Discs for valves 4" and larger shall be all iron or iron with faces conforming to paragraphs 2 (c) or 2 (d) depending upon pressure class.

(c) Stems for outside screw and yoke valves shall be, at manufacturers' option, either of carbon steel, or of brass or bronze made from secondary metal, i. e., copper base alloy to which refined copper or refined tin is not added in the production of the castings for the stems.

(d) Bonnet bushing for back seating shall not be provided.

(e) Packing gland flange bolts or studs shall be carbon steel.

(f) Nuts for packing gland flange bolts or studs shall be carbon steel.

(g) For valves 4" and larger, the packing gland, if flange and follower or nose are one piece, shall be of iron or iron brass bushed; or if made of two pieces, the flange shall be iron and the follower or nose may be brass.

(h) Cross valves shall not be manufactured.

5. Iron check valves. (a) Discs for valves 4" and larger shall be either all iron, or iron or steel with faces conforming to paragraphs 2 (c) or 2 (d) depending upon pressure class.

(b) Nuts for attaching swing check disc to hinge or arm shall be carbon steel, or malleable iron.

(c) The hinge or arm for valves 2" and larger shall be of ferrous metal and may be bronzed bushed.

PART 2

Brass or bronze gate, globe, angle, cross, and check valves and valve parts

1. Standard size schedule: Brass or bronze valves. (a) Valves shall be manufactured only in the pressure classes listed in Table 1, and in the particular sizes specified in Table 2, which are comprehended within the size range specified in Table 1 for the particular pressure class:

TABLE 1

[All size ranges are inclusive]

Primary pressure classifications in lbs. per sq. in.	Sizes[1] screwed end (inches)	Sizes flanged end (inches)	Sizes solder end (inches)
150 Steam	¼ to 2	----------	¼ to 2

[1] The primary steam rating in no way regulates the pressure at which these valves should be rated for other fluids, but restricts the classes to those mentioned.

[2] Only globe and angle valves may be made in the ⅛" size.

[3] These valves are rated 1500.

(b) Detail of permitted sizes (see 1 (a) above):

TABLE 2

(Sizes in inches)

⅛	½	1¼
¼	¾	1½
⅜	1	2

2. General requirements for brass or bronze valves. (a) Check valves shall be horizontal lift and vertical lift or swing check types only. Angle type prohibited.

(b) Spot facing on end connecting flanges is prohibited.

(c) 150# primary pressure classification and lower shall have integral seats.

(d) 150# primary pressure classification and lower shall have brass, bronze, or non-metallic disc only, and plug type discs shall not be use l in globe and angle valves.

(e) 200# primary pressure classification and higher shall have manufacturer's standard seating materials comprising any of the following:

Non-metallic disc.
Brass or bronze.
Chrome iron.
Nickel alloy.

(f) Union bonnet rings and union rings for valve ends shall be malleable iron or steel.

(g) Stuffing box packing nuts shall be malleable iron or steel.

(h) Handwheels and valve handles shall be ferrous metal, either cast or otherwise fabricated; or suitable non-metallic material.

(i) End flanges shall conform to:

1. Manufacturers Standardization Society of the Valve and Fittings Industry, Standard Practice 150#-SP-2.

2. Manufacturers Standardization Society of the Valve and Fittings Industry, Standard Practice 300#-SP-2.

(Depending upon rated pressure of the valve.)

(j) Use Manufacturers Standardization Society of the Valve and Fittings Industry, SP-20 grade A or American Society for Testing Materials B-62 or EA-B62 brass or bronze for all valve pressure castings in valves in primary pressure classifications of 125#, 150# and 200#. Use Manufacturers Standardization Society of the Valve and Fittings Industry, SP-20 grade B or American Society for Testing Materials B-61 brass or bronze for all valve pressure castings in valves in primary classifications of 300# or higher. Bonnets 200# and higher pressure classification may be made of a "cast bearing bronze."

(k) Cross valves shall not be manufactured.

PART 3

Steel Gate, Globe, Angle, Cross, and Check Valves and Valve Parts

NOTE: These limitations do not apply for primary ratings higher than 1500#. Moreover, these limitations do not apply for valves for temperatures exceeding 1000 degrees F. or below minus 50 degrees F. Furthermore, these limitations do not apply to drilling through or flow line valves for oil production service.

The term "stainless" is used in this Part 3 of this appendix to describe any of the iron base alloys such as 12% chrome, or 18-8 chrome nickel whose primary characteristics are resistance to corrosive attack, or elevated temperature, or both.

1. Standard size schedule: Steel valves. (a) Valves shall be manufactured only in the pressure classes listed in Table 1, and in the particular sizes specified in Table 2 which are comprehended within the size range specified in Table 1 for the particular pressure class:

2. General requirements for steel valves. (a) Valves covered by items 3, 4, and 5, which follow, shall be in accordance with American Petroleum Institute standard 600A for gate valves, and with American Standards Association B16e for all types, except as modified by the specifications set forth in this part 3 of this appendix.

(b) Face to face of flange end valves shall comply with American Petroleum Institute standard 5-G-1 and American Standard Association B16.10 for the types covered by these standards.

(c) Discs of valves 5" and larger shall be made of the same material as the valve body, with seating material laid on or attached.

(d) Handwheels 24" diameter and smaller shall be malleable iron, or fabricated steel.

(e) Raised contact faces on flanges shall be serrated (concentric or spiral) or smooth at manufacturer's option.

(f) Cross valves shall not be manufactured.

3. 150 lb. Pressure class: Steel valves. (a) End flange faces shall have American Standards Association 1/16" raised face.

(b) Bodies and bonnets shall be carbon steel, except when required to resist extreme corrosion or temperature conditions they may be 4% to 6% chrome, ½% molybdenum. For minus 50 degrees F. (subzero service), carbon steel shall be heat treated to give impact value of 10 foot pounds minimum Charpy keyhole at minus 50 degrees F.

(c) Seating materials shall be any of the following:

Carbon steel
Brass or bronze.
12% chrome iron.

(d) Bonnet bushing for back seating shall not be provided, but backseating shall be included.

(e) Stems shall be carbon steel, brass or bronze.

(f) Bonnet bolting shall be carbon steel having physical properties equal to American Society for Testing Materials A96, Class A, except that when carbon steel having Class A physicals is not obtainable, manganese steels of the SAE 1300 Series or equal may be used.

(g) Bonnet bolt nuts shall be semi-finished carbon steel.

(h) Stem stuffing box packing shall be graphite or mica-impregnated asbestos according to manufacturer's practice.

(i) Bonnet gaskets shall be asbestos composition sheet.

4. 300 lb. Pressure class: Steel valves. (a) End flange faces shall be American Standards Association 1/16" raised face, or American Petroleum Institute octagonal ring joint groove providing the groove is cut in the basic flange thickness.

(b) Bodies and bonnets shall be carbon steel, except when required to resist extreme corrosion or temperature conditions they may be 4% to 6% chrome, ½% molybdenum. For minus 50 degrees F. (sub-zero service), carbon steel shall be treated to give impact value of 10 foot pounds minimum Charpy keyhole at minus 50 degrees F.

(c) The seating materials shall be any of the following:

Same material as body.
Brass or bronze.
12% chrome iron.
Nickel copper alloy.
Hard facing.

(d) Stems shall be any of the following:

Brass or bronze.
12% chrome iron.

(e) Stem stuffing box packing shall be graphite or mica-impregnated asbestos according to manufacturer's practice.

(f) Bonnet bolting shall conform to the following limitations:

1. For temperature up to and including 850 degrees F., National Emergency 9400 series steels or SAE 4140, heat treated to meet specifications for alloy steel bolting material for high temperature service, American Society for Testing Materials A96, Class B physical properties minimum.

2. For temperatures over 850 degrees F., Grade B14 steel per American Society for Testing Materials A193, heat treated to meet specifications for alloy steel bolting material for high temperature service, American Society for Testing Materials A96, Class C physical properties minimum.

(g) Bonnet bolt nuts shall be semi-finished carbon steel; normalized or quenched.

5. 600 lb., 900 lb. & 1500 lb. Pressure classes: Steel valves. (For 600 lb. and 1500 lb. general purpose valves, see paragraph 6)

(a) End flange faces shall be either American Standards Association octagonal ring joint groove or American Petroleum Institute octagonal ring joint groove, or ¼" American Standards Association large male face.

(b) Bodies and bonnets shall be carbon or carbon molybdenum steel, except when required to resist extreme corrosion or temperature conditions, in which case they may be 4% to 6% chrome, ½% molybdenum, or stainless if so specified. (See definition for "stainless" in note under heading of Part 3.)

(c) The seating materials shall be of any of the following:

Same material as body.
Stainless (See definition in note under heading of Part 3).
Nickel copper alloy.
Hard facing.

(d) Stems shall be the following:

Stainless (See definition in note under heading of Part 3).

(e) Stem stuffing box packing shall be graphite or mica-impregnated asbestos according to manufacturer's practice.

(f) Bonnet bolting shall conform to the following limitations:

1. For temperature up to and including 850 degrees F., National Emergency 9400 series steels or SAE 4140, heat treated to meet specifications for alloy steel bolting material for high temperature service, American Society for Testing Materials A96, Class B physical properties minimum.

2. For temperature over 850 degrees F., Grade B14 steel per American Society for Testing Materials A193, heat treated to meet specifications for alloy steel bolting material for high temperature service, American Society for Testing Materials A96, Class C physical properties minimum.

(g) Bonnet bolt nuts shall be semi-finished carbon steel, normalized or quenched.

6. General purpose steel valves: 600 lb. & 1500 lb.—2" and smaller. (a) End connections shall be:

1. Flanged American Standards Association standard with ¼" large male face.
2. Screwed end.
3. Socket welding end.

The 600 lb. class flanged end valves may be made with 150-lb. American Standards Association steel flange diameter, drilling, and or facing.

(b) Bodies and bonnets shall be carbon or carbon molybdenum steel, except when required to resist extreme corrosion or temperature conditions, in which case they may be 4% to 6% chrome, ½% molybdenum, or stainless if so specified. (See definition for "stainless" in note under heading of Part 3.)

(c) Seating materials shall be any of the following:

Same material as body.
Brass or bronze.
Stainless. (See definition in note under heading of Part 3.)
Nickel copper alloy.
Hard facing.

PART 3202—CONTAINERBOARD

[Conservation Order M-290]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply, for defense, for private account and for export, of various materials and facilities required in the manufacture and distribution of containerboard and of essential containers; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3202.1 Conservation Order M-290—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Mill" means a congregation of pulp preparation, roll and sheet finishing equipment, paper machines and subsidiary facilities located and operated together as a single producing unit for the production of containerboard.

(2) "Containerboard" means kraft or jute containerboard suitable for the manufacture of corrugated or solid fibre containers.

(3) "Kraft containerboard" means any grade of containerboard suitable for the manufacture of corrugated or solid fibre containers and containing 50% or more virgin sulphate wood pulp.

(4) "Jute containerboard" means any other grade of paperboard commonly used as a liner, corrugating medium, or filler stock in the manufacture of corrugated or solid fibre boxes. This includes, but is not limited to, the grades commonly known in the industry as jute, straw, chestnut, container chip, and "bogus" corrugating materials.

(5) "Container-manufacturer" means any person who manufactures corrugated or solid fibre shipping containers from any kind or type of containerboard.

(6) "V-boxes" means shipping containers of the types designated as V-1, 2 and 3, in Army Specifications O. Q. M. G. No. 93, dated December 2, 1942, and of the similar types described in Navy Department Specifications 53B11 (INT.) and in Agricultural Marketing Administration Specifications FSC-1742-B.

(7) "Production month" means any calendar month, commencing April 1943, for which a reserve production is required to be set aside pursuant to paragraph (b) below.

(8) "Reserve production" means the amount, in tons, of kraft containerboard or jute containerboard production which a mill is required to set aside during a production month.

(9) "Unreserved production" means the balance, in tons, of a mill's kraft containerboard or jute containerboard production during that production month.

(b) Restrictions on mills—(1) Establishment of reserve production. During each month, commencing March 1943, every mill shall compute its projected supply of kraft containerboard and its projected supply of jute containerboard for the next month (which shall constitute the production month) and report to the War Production Board as provided for in paragraph (e) below. Each such projected supply shall be computed by adding the following amounts (kraft containerboard and jute containerboard shall be computed separately):

(i) Estimated total tonnage of inventory expected to be on hand on the 1st day of said production month;

(ii) Estimated total tonnage expected to be produced during said production month (if this advance estimate proves to be less than the amount actually produced during said production month, the difference shall be included as "overage" in the projected supply for the second succeeding production month);

(iii) Any overage from the second preceding production month, as provided for in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) above (this item will not be relevant until the June production month).

After making such computation, the mill shall reserve facilities sufficient to produce and ship during said production month, at the direction of the Director General for Operations, a reserve production consisting of 25% of the total tonnage of its projected supply of kraft containerboard and 25% of the total tonnage of its projected supply of jute containerboard for said production month.

(2) Allocation. By appropriate form of notice to the interested parties, the Director General for Operations may:

(i) Allocate all or any part of any mill's reserve production to any container-manufacturers for use in manufacturing V-boxes;

(ii) Allocate all or any part of the remainder of any mill's reserve production, not allocated for V-boxes, to any container-manufacturers for use in manufacturing other containers for governmental or essential civilian requirements;

(iii) Direct the mill to produce the allocated quantities, in such grades as may be specified, and ship them to designated container-manufacturers.

(3) Delivery—(i) Priority sequence. Deliveries pursuant to direction under paragraph (b) (2) above shall take precedence over all other orders (rated or unrated) for container board. Where the directions specify any particular priority, sequence, or delivery dates for any allocated orders, the mill shall deliver accordingly. Where the directions do not specify, the mill may then arrange the sequence of deliveries with the container-manufacturers concerned. In case of dispute, deliveries shall be made in the sequence of the receipt of the orders involved.

(ii) Refusal. A mill may refuse to produce or deliver as directed only for the reasons specified for the refusal of rated orders in § 944.2 (b) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 1 as amended. In the event of any such refusal, the mill shall promptly notify the War Production Board by telegram explaining the case. The amount of reserve production involved shall be kept available for further specific direction or release from the Director General for Operations, and shall not be released by the operation of paragraph (b) (4) below.

(iii) Inability. Any mill which, for any reason, is unable to produce or deliver as directed, shall promptly notify the War Production Board by telegram explaining the case. The amount of reserve production involved shall be kept available for further specific direction or release by the Director General for Operations, and shall not be released by the operation of paragraph (b) (4) below.

(4) Release. If, on or before the 5th day of any production month, a mill does not receive from the Director General for Operations directions as to the disposition of such reserve (or has received directions as to a part but not the remainder), it may employ the same (or such remainder) free of the restrictions of paragraph (b) (1) above.

(5) Relation to other reserve productions. The reserve production required by this order shall be in addition to any other reserve production required by Order M-241 (§ 3096.1) or any other order of the War Production Board.

(6) Distribution of unreserved production. If the amount of any mill's unreserved production is less than the total amount required for delivery during the production month, in fulfillment of contracts and commitments made before March 2, 1943, the mill shall prorate the unreserved production substantially equally among all such contracts and commitments and shall deliver accordingly. Such a pro rata share for any container-manufacturer shall be in addition to any deliveries made to him pursuant to allocation directions. Individual pro rata amounts may be varied to the minimum extent necessary to provide customary selling and shipping units.

(c) Restriction on container-manufacturers. No container-manufacturer shall use any reserve-production containerboard except in the manufacture of:

(1) V-boxes;

(2) Such other containers as may be authorized by the Director General for Operations by notice to the container-manufacturer.

(d) Allocation applications by container-manufacturers:

(1) For V-boxes. On or before March 9, 1943, and on or before the first day of each month thereafter, each container-manufacturer who plans to manufacture V-boxes during the next succeeding production month shall submit Form PD-820 in triplicate, to the War Production Board, setting out his expected production. In addition, any such container-manufacturer may include, in said Form PD-820, a request for an allocation of containerboard to be used by him in the manufacture of V-boxes during the next succeeding production month, provided, he has filed his orders therefor with his supplying mill or mills and has identified such orders as being intended for such use and as orders which he will report to the War Production Board on Form PD-820.

(2) For other containers. On or before March 15, 1943, and on or before the 10th day of each month thereafter, any container-manufacturer may apply on Form PD-821 in triplicate, to the War Production Board for an allocation of containerboard for use in manufacturing containers (other than V-boxes) for governmental or essential civilian requirements, provided all of following conditions exist:

(i) He cannot manufacture such containers from his existing or prospective containerboard supply without interrupting or eliminating the production of other essential containers;

(ii) The persons ordering such containers cannot readily obtain them from other sources;

(iii) His prospective supply of containerboard for the coming production month is to be curtailed as a result of the operation of paragraph (b) above; and

(iv) He has made diligent but unsuccessful effort to obtain replacement of such reduction from other available suppliers.

(e) Supply reports by mills (Form PD-819). On or before March 15, 1943, and on or before the 10th day of each month thereafter, each mill shall report the following on Form PD-819 in triplicate;

(1) His projected supply of kraft containerboard and/or his projected supply of jute containerboard for the subsequent production month;

(2) The orders received from container-manufacturers for delivery, during the subsequent production month, of containerboard identified as being intended for use in manufacturing V-boxes.

(f) Other reports. Any person affected by this order shall file such other reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may from time to time request.

(g) Dual-function organizations. Where any organization engages in both mill and container-manufacturer functions, the provisions hereof applicable to mills shall apply separately to its mill operations, and the provisions hereof applicable to the container-manufacturers shall apply separately to its container-manufacturer operations.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(i) Records, audit, inspection. Every person to whom this order applies shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. All such records shall, upon request, be sumbitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Divisions, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-290.

(l) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 2d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Preference Rating Order P-19-h]

To: _____. Name of builder_____.

Address: _____. Expiration date_____.

§ 1075.9 Preference Rating Order No. P-19-h; material entering into the rated project. For the purpose of facilitating the acquisition of certain material in the public interest and to promote the national defense, a preference rating is hereby assigned to deliveries to the above-named builder, upon the following terms:

(a) Definitions. (1) "Builder" means the specific person to whom this order is addressed as above.

(2) "Supplier" means any person with whom a contract or purchase order has been placed for the delivery of construction material and other material.

(3) "Construction material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly or product of any kind which will be physically incorporated in the rated project.

(4) "Other material" means (a) any tool, machinery or equipment which will be physically located in the rated project and which will be used in the manufacturing or processing of goods or products or the performing of services therein, and (b) any material which will be used at the location and in connection with the construction of the rated project, including but not limited to hand tools, repair parts for construction machinery, forms, scaffolding and the like, but not including fuel or construction machinery.

(5) "Application" means the builder's application on Form PD-200 or other appropriate form, an original of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof.

(6) "Rated project" means:

(b) Assignment of preference rating. Preference ratings are assigned as follows to deliveries to the builder by his suppliers of construction material and other material appearing on the application as approved, subject to the following conditions:

(c) Restrictions. (1) The builder is bound by the representations, certifications and agreements made by him in the application and any misrepresentations therein contained or any violation thereof shall constitute a violation of this order and grounds for its immediate cancellation.

(2) The builder shall not incorporate into the rated project any construction material of the type which he is required to enumerate in the application, other than as specifically set forth in the application as finally approved.

(3) The builder shall not apply the rating to obtain delivery of construction material or other material on earlier dates than required for the completion on schedule of the rated project. In no event may he apply the preference rating to purchase orders and contracts placed by him after the expiration of this order.

(d) Application and extension of preference rating. Ratings assigned by paragraph (b) may be applied or extended in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation 3.

(e) Records. In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, the builder shall retain, for a period of two years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of all purchase orders or contracts to which the preference rating hereby assigned has been applied, whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(f) Communications to War Production Board. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: P-19-h, Serial No. _____.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any agreement contained in the application, or who in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining any further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended at any time.

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(j) Effective date. This order shall take effect on the _____ day of _____, and unless sooner revoked shall continue in effect until the expiration date specified in the heading hereof.

Issued this 1st day of March, 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 268,[1] Amendment 4]

SALES OF CERTAIN PERISHABLE FOOD COMMODITIES AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment No. 4 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 268 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Paragraph (c) is added to § 1351.1103a; a new section, § 1351.1103b, is added; the table in paragraph (a) of § 1351.1116 is amended by the addition of item No. 12; subparagraph (8) is added to paragraph (c) of § 1351.1116; all to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.1103a How certain retailers calculate "net cost" in special cases. • • •

(c) Eggs; when candled and graded by a retailer. When a retailer purchases "assorted eggs" and then candles and grades such eggs into the retail grades and sizes or weight classes set forth in § 1351.1116 (c) (8) of this regulation, he shall calculate a maximum price weekly for each resulting grade and size or weight class using as his "net cost" the lowest maximum price established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 333 which would apply to sales to a retailer of eggs of that particular grade and size or weight class delivered on the Monday of the week in which calculations are made to a receiving point located in the same city, town, village or hamlet as the customary receiving point for the eggs of the retailer pricing hereunder: Provided, however, That before eggs which have been graded by the retailer as extra large grade AA or large grade AA may be sold as such, they must be certified as such by the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 1351.1103b Additional charges allowed retailers in special cases—(c) Eggs; addition allowed for packaging in retail cartons.[1] When a retailer purchases eggs in containers other than retail cartons of one dozen or a half-dozen each and then packages and sells such eggs in retail cartons of one dozen or a half-dozen each, or, when he purchases eggs in such retail cartons of one dozen or a half-dozen which he has furnished to his supplier, he may increase by whichever of the following amounts is applicable his maximum-price calculated under this regulation for eggs sold in such packages:

(1) One cent for each retail carton of a half-dozen eggs.

(2) Two cents for each retail carton of one dozen eggs.

(3) The resulting amount shall be the retailer's maximum price for such packaged eggs. In no case may a retailer make any additions under this paragraph when the person from whom he has purchased the eggs has made a charge for packaging.

§ 1351.1116 Appendix A: Figures to be used by retailers in determining maximum prices under § 1351.1103 of this regulation. (a) • • •

Food commodity[1]	Day of the week on which retailer must calculate maximum prices	Figures to be multiplied by net cost of item in determining maximum prices under this regulation
		Independent retailer with annual volume			Class 4 Chain retailer with annual volume under $250,000	Class 5 Any retailer (chain or independent) with annual volume of $250,000 or more	Unit of sale for which base maximum selling price must be calculated
		Class 1 under $20,000	Class 2 $20,000 but less than $50,000	Class 3 $50,000 but less than $250,000
• •	• •	•	•	•	•	•	•
12. Eggs	Thursday	1.17	1.17	1.15	1.14	1.12	1 dozen

[1] Separate price must be computed for each grade, kind and variety. The retailer's supplier must show the grade, kind and variety on the invoice.

• • • • • •

(c) Definitions. • • •

(8) "Eggs" or "shell hen eggs" means all shell eggs of the fowl known as the domestic or barnyard hen used for human consumption. Maximum prices shall be calculated and posted for each grade and size or weight class of eggs. The grade and size or weight class shall be clearly posted with the maximum price. Eggs shall be sold at retail only in retail grades. Retail grades of eggs are: grade AA, grade A, grade B, grade C, "assorted eggs", dirty, and checked. Sizes and weight classes are: jumbo, extra large, large, medium, small. The specifications and standards for grades, quality, and sizes and weight classes of shell eggs promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture in the publications entitled "Specifications for Official United States Standards for Quality of Individual Shell Eggs" and "Tentative U. S. Standards and Weight Classes for Consumer Grades for Shell Eggs", including any amendments thereto or revisions thereof heretofore or hereafter to be issued, shall be the specifications and standards for grades and sizes or weight classes of all shell hen eggs sold at retail for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. "Assorted eggs" means edible shell hen eggs which have not been graded, have a net weight of not less than 43 pounds per case or equivalent, and contain a total of not more than 20% of dirty and checked eggs.

This amendment shall become effective March 11, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment No. 121 to Supplementary Regulation 14[1] of GMPR[2]]

CHELSEA CIGARETTES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Subparagraph (76) is added to paragraph (a) of § 1499.73 as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

• • • • • •

(76) Chelsea cigarettes "20s"—(i) Maximum prices of jobbers and wholesalers for Chelsea cigarettes "20s". A jobber or wholesaler may sell and deliver and any person may buy and receive Chelsea cigarettes packed 20 to a package at a price not in excess of $6.81 per thousand or the manufacturer's list price, whichever is the lower, less discounts and allowances customarily given in March 1942 by such jobber or wholesaler on his sales of other cigarettes of the same price class to purchasers of the same class. A jobber or wholesaler may add to such price the amount of any state or local tax applicable to the particular quantity of cigarettes sold and paid or payable by him to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(ii) Maximum prices for sellers at retail for Chelsea cigarettes "20s." A seller at retail may sell and deliver and any person may buy and receive Chelsea cigarettes packed 20 to a package at a price not in excess of the particular retailer's maximum price established under § 1499.2 for his sales of other cigarettes of the same price class to a purchaser of the same class. A retailer may add to such price the amount of any state or local tax applicable to the particular quantity of cigarettes sold and paid or payable by him to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(iii) Notification. On and after March 6, 1943, any seller of Chelsea cigarettes packed 20 to a package (other than a retailer), at or before his first delivery thereof to a purchaser, shall supply such purchaser with a written or printed notice as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized ceiling prices for sales of Chelsea cigarettes "20s." The ceiling price for jobbers and wholesalers is $6.81 per thousand cigarettes or the manufacturer's list price, whichever is the lower, less their March 1942 customary discounts and allowances on sales of other cigarettes of the same price class to purchasers of the same class. The ceiling price for a retailer is his maximum price for sales of other cigarettes of the same price class to purchasers of the same class. Applicable state and local taxes may be added to such ceiling prices. Jobbers and wholesalers are required to supply purchasers with a copy of this notice at or before their first delivery of such cigarettes to the purchaser. The Office of Price Administration requires you to keep this notice for examination.

(iv) Applicability. The provisions of this subdivision shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

(v) This Amendment No. 121 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This Amendment No. 121 shall become effective March 6, 1943.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[General Ration Order 3B]

RATION BANKING; EXEMPT AGENCIES

Preamble: Nationwide ration bank facilities were provided by the Office of Price Administration to civilians on January 27, 1943.

A large portion of the rationed commodities now, or soon to be, covered by ration banking will be acquired by the armed forces of the United States and certain other exempt governmental agencies. No limitation has been placed upon the quantity of rationed commodities which may be acquired by these exempt agencies. Nevertheless, purchases by such agencies are facilitated, and the effective control of the rationed commodity is promoted, by having their purchases made through a modified form of ration banking. The agencies involved and the Office of Price Administration have agreed on the extension of ration banking to them.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in the Administrator by Public Laws 421, 507, and 729, 77th Cong., by Executive Order No. 9125, issued by the President on April 7, 1942: It is hereby ordered, That:

Sec.
1305.501 Ration orders exempt certain agencies.
1305.502 Ration orders permit exempt accounts.
1305.503 Only exempt agencies may use exempt accounts.
1305.504 Opening exempt accounts.
1305.505 Exempt accounts differ from ordinary ration accounts.
1305.506 Evidence must be deposited.
1305.507 Certain activities may not use exempt accounts.
1305.508 Territorial limitation.
1305.509 Terms explained.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1305.501 to 1305.509, inclusive, issued pursuant to Pub. Laws 421, 507, and 729, 77th Cong.; Executive Order No. 9125, issued by the President on April 7, 1942; W.P.B. Dir. No. 1, 7 F.R. 562.

§ 1305.501 Ration orders exempt certain agencies. Various ration orders issued by the Office of Price Administration authorize certain agencies of the United States to acquire rationed commodities without any limitation on the quantities acquired. Such agencies are called, for the purpose of this order, "exempt agencies", and are designated as exempt agencies in such ration orders. These agencies may acquire various rationed commodities in the manner prescribed in the respective ration orders. However, an agency is an exempt agency as to a rationed commodity only if a ration order authorizes it to acquire that commodity without restriction as to quantity.

§ 1305.502 Ration orders permit exempt accounts. Various ration orders require and others permit exempt agencies and their establishments to open ration bank accounts. Such accounts are called "exempt accounts." The conditions under which these accounts may be used for the acquisition of any rationed commodity are prescribed by the ration order covering that commodity. This order contains the general rules under which exempt accounts may be opened and maintained.

§ 1305.503 Only exempt agencies may use exempt accounts. Only exempt agencies and their establishments may draw and issue checks upon an exempt account, and they may do so only for the purposes permitted and with the effects prescribed by the ration order authorizing such account. No person shall draw or issue a check upon an exempt account unless authorized by the exempt agency or the establishment maintaining that account.

§ 1305.504 Opening exempt accounts. Exempt agencies and their establishments may open exempt accounts at any convenient bank by filing with the bank a list of authorized signatures and by satisfying the bank as to the identity of the agency and establishment.

§ 1305.505 Exempt accounts differ from ordinary ration accounts. Exempt accounts operate in most respects in the same way as ordinary ration bank accounts. They differ from such ordinary ration bank accounts as follows:

(a) Unlimited drawing privileges. To the extent that there is no limit placed upon the quantity of a rationed commodity which may be acquired by an exempt agency, there is no limit on the amount of the ration checks which may be drawn by that agency for that commodity. To that extent, exempt agencies have unlimited drawing privileges, and no balance is required between debits and credits.

(b) Separate accounts may be permitted. Certain exempt agencies need separate accounts for their debits and credits, and upon request by such an agency the Office of Price Administration will grant permission to maintain such separate accounts.

(c) Special checks permitted. In addition to ration checks, which will be the same as those used in ordinary ration bank accounts, special ration checks may be issued by exempt agencies for use in unusual circumstances, in such form as authorized by agreement between the respective exempt agencies and the Office of Price Administration. These checks will be drawn against separate accounts and may be signed by any person authorized by the issuing agency to sign checks against such accounts, and the authorized signature of such special ration checks need not be registered with the bank on which they are drawn.

(d) Other provisions may be made. Other special provisions governing exempt accounts may be made by agreement between the exempt agency and the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1305.506 Evidences must be deposited. All ration checks and other evidences received by an exempt agency or any establishment of an exempt agency for which an exempt account is maintained shall be deposited by it in that account.

§ 1305.507 Certain activities may not use exempt accounts. An exempt agency may forbid any one or more of its activities, such as a post exchange or a ship's service department ashore, from opening or using an exempt account. Any activity forbidden by an exempt agency from doing so may not open or use an exempt account; however, any such activity may open and use an account, other than an exempt account, if permitted to do so by a ration order. Any account opened by any such activity shall include the exact designation of such activity in the title of its account.

§ 1305.508 Territorial limitation. The territorial application of this order is covered by General Ration Order No. 4.[1]

§ 1305.509 Terms explained. When used in this order, unless the context requires otherwise:

(a) "Check" means a ration check or special ration check drawn by an exempt agency or establishment against its exempt account and made payable to the account of a named person.

"Establishment" means any branch, division, location or activity of an exempt agency.

"Exempt account" means a ration bank account opened by an exempt agency or any of its establishments.

"Exempt agency" is a governmental agency or other person designated as an "exempt agency", in a ration order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Other terms used in this order shall have the meaning assigned to them by § 1305.493 of General Ration Order 3A.

This order shall become effective March 1, 1943.

Issued this 1st day of March 1943.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[General Ration Order 5,[1] Amendment 3]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new Article XXV and section 25.1 are added to read as follows:

Article XXV: Obtaining Rationed Foods for Service to Military and Naval Personnel Messed Under the Command of an Officer

SEC. 25.1 Obtaining rationed foods for service to Military and Naval personnel messed under the command of an officer. (a) Whenever an institutional user needs, or has used, rationed foods in the preparation of food which he will serve, or has served, to Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel messed under the command of a commissioned or non-commissioned officer, the officer in command or other officer authorized by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, may issue ration checks to him or to his supplier for the amount of rationed foods needed or used for such purpose.

(b) If rationed foods have been, or will be, served to such Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel and, for any reason, ration checks cannot be used, the officer in command (or other authorized officer) may issue an emergency acknowledgment to the institutional user or to his supplier instead of a ration check. The emergency acknowledgment may be in any form, but must show the name and address of the person to whom it is issued, the amount of rationed foods for which it is issued (in points for processed foods, and in pounds for sugar and coffee), the date of issuance and the name and address of the activity or organization to which the emergency acknowledgment must be sent for replacement by a ration check. The person who issues the acknowledgment must sign his name, state his rank and the name and address of the activity or organization to which he is attached. The emergency acknowledgment may be sent by the institutional user to the activity or organization designated thereon for that purpose. That activity or organization shall, upon receipt of an acknowledgment, issue a ration check for the amount of each rationed food for which such acknowledgment was issued.

(c) If an institutional user is about to serve or has served food to such Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel, and does not have sufficient rationed foods and will not be able to obtain ration checks in time to acquire rationed foods needed by him, he may obtain from the Board, upon application on OPA Form R-315, certificates for the amounts needed for such service, or to replace the amount of rationed foods used in such service. He shall, nevertheless, obtain ration checks pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b). Within five (5) days after receipt of such ration checks he shall issue to the Board certified ration checks in the same amounts as the certificates obtained by him. If he has no account, he shall surrender to the Board all ration checks received pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b). However, if the certificate for a rationed food was in a larger amount than the check surrendered for that food, the difference shall be treated as excess inventory. If the check surrendered is for a larger amount than the certificate, the Board shall issue to him a certificate for the difference.

(d) The weight of any substitute or substance, including but not limited to chicory, cereal, peas or beans mixed, blended or compounded, or to be mixed, blended or compounded by the institutional user with the roasted coffee used, or to be used, shall not be included in the amount of any ration check or acknowledgment issued pursuant to this section.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 1, 1943.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[General Ration Order 5,[1] Amendment 4]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 23.1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Ration bank accounts may be opened for post exchanges and ship service departments ashore.

2. Section 23.1 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) If, during March 1943, post exchanges or ship service departments ashore are unable, for any reason, to use ration checks to acquire rationed foods for institutional use, the person in charge may use an emergency acknowledgment instead of a ration check for that purpose. Such emergency acknowledgment may be in any form but must show the name and address of the person to whom it is issued, the name and address of the post exchange or ship service department ashore, the amount of rationed foods for which it is issued (in points for processed foods, and in pounds for sugar and coffee), and the date of issuance. The person who issues the acknowledgment must sign his name and state his rank or position. The post exchange or ship service department ashore named thereon must exchange the emergency acknowledgment, upon presentation, for a ration check, after ration bank accounts have been opened on which it may draw ration checks.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m., March 1, 1943.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421 and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; W.P.B. Dir. 1, Supp. Dir. 1-E, 1-M, and 1-R, 7 F.R. 562, 2965, 7234, 9684, respectively; Food Dir. 5, 8 F.R. 2251)

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 300,[1] Amendment 3]

MAXIMUM MANUFACTURERS PRICES FOR RUBBER DRUG SUNDRIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Two new §§ 1315.1755a and 1315.1755b are added; a new sentence is added to paragraph (a) of § 1315.1753; in § 1315.1754 a new paragraph (a) is added and paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) are redesignated (b), (c), (d) and (e), respectively; a new sentence is added to the text of § 1315.1755; paragraph (a) of § 1315.1756 is amended; in paragraph (b) of § 1315.1764 two new sentences are inserted before subparagraph (1), a new footnote 2 is added in subdivision (i) of subparagraph (1), a new footnote 3 is added to inferior subdivision (a) of subparagraph (2) (i) and a new footnote 4 is added to inferior subdivision (b) of subparagraph (2) (i); three new sentences are added to the text of § 1315.1765; footnote 2 to § 1315.1768 is redesignated footnote 5; in paragraph (a) of § 1315.1769 a new subparagraph (1) is added, subparagraph (1) is amended and redesignated as subparagraph (2) and subparagraphs (2), (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7) are redesignated (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), and (8), respectively; the clause in § 1315.1770 beginning with the word "except" and ending with the words "March 1, 1943" is revoked; paragraphs (b), (d), (g) and (j) of § 1315.1771 are amended and in § 1315.1772 four new footnotes 5, 6, 7 and 8 are added to Table I and footnotes 6 and 7 to Table II are revoked, all as set forth below:

§ 1315.1753 Maximum manufacturers' prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, which have not been changed substantially since December 1, 1941—(a) Applicability of this section. This section is applicable to all manufacturers of rubber drug sundries, except distributors of rubber drug sundries.

* * * * * *

[1] 8 F.R. 867.

§ 1315.1754 Maximum manufacturers' prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, which are not covered by § 1315.1753—(a) Applicability of this section. This section is applicable to all manufacturers of rubber drug sundries, except distributors of rubber drug sundries.

* * * * *

§ 1315.1755 Maximum manufacturers' prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, which cannot be priced under § 1315.1753 or § 1315.1754. This section is applicable to all manufacturers of rubber drug sundries, except distributors of rubber drug sundries.

* * * * *

§ 1315.1755a Maximum distributors' prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line. This section is applicable only to distributors, as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of § 1315.1769. The maximum prices for sales by such persons of rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, shall be determined as follows: The distributor shall multiply the maximum price for the sale of the rubber drug sundry being priced to him by a certain percentage. This percentage shall be determined as follows:

(a) The distributor shall use the first applicable of the following rubber drug sundries, which he offered for sale on December 1, 1941, in determining this percentage.

(1) The rubber drug sundry which is the same as the rubber drug sundry being priced.

(2) The rubber drug sundry which is the same as the rubber drug sundry being priced, except for differences which do not result in a change in the price at which the distributor purchases the article.

(3) The rubber drug sundry which has the same use as the rubber drug sundry being priced. If there is more than one rubber drug sundry which has the same use as the rubber drug sundry being priced, the distributor shall use that one of those rubber drug sundries which is most like the rubber drug sundry being priced in design, construction and the price line in which it is sold.

(b) The distributor shall then determine the price at which on December 1, 1941, he was offering to sell that rubber drug sundry to a purchaser of the same class as the person to whom he is selling the rubber drug sundry being priced.

(c) The distributor should then determine the percentage by dividing this selling price by the price in effect to him on December 1, 1941, for the rubber drug sundry selected in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a). If there was no price in effect to the distributor for that rubber drug sundry on December 1, 1941, the selling price shall be divided by the last price in effect to the distributor for that rubber drug sundry before December 1, 1941.

§ 1315.1755b Maximum distributors' prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, which cannot be priced under § 1315.1755a. The maximum distributors' price for any rubber drug sundry, other than victory line, which cannot be priced under § 1315.1755a shall be a price in line with the level of prices established by this regulation determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this section shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application setting forth: (a) A description of the rubber drug sundry for which a maximum price is sought, including the brand name and the producer; (b) a statement of the facts which make it impossible for him to use the method for determining the maximum price set forth in § 1315.1755a; (c) his proposed percentage mark-up; and (d) a statement of the reasons why he believes the use of this mark-up will result in prices in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation. Such authorization will be in writing and will prescribe a method of determining the maximum price for some or all of the rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, offered for sale by the applicant which cannot be priced under § 1315.1755a.

§ 1315.1756 Terms and conditions of sale. (a) The maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit, unless (1) the manufacturer during December, 1941, required payment of a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit by purchasers of the same class on sales of the same or similar types of commodities, and (2) the amount charged for the extension of credit is not in excess of the charge the manufacturer had in effect during December, 1941, for extension of credit involving the same amount and term.

* * * * *

§ 1315.1764 Notification. (a) * * *

(b) Notification of maximum retail and wholesale prices of rubber drug sundries other than victory line. This paragraph requires notification by the manufacturer of maximum retail and wholesale prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line. This requirement is not applicable to sales of rubber drug sundries to a distributor or to a manufacturer who only finishes, assembles or packages rubber drug sundries or does any combination of these functions. In such case, the distributor or the manufacturer who only finishes, assembles or packages rubber drug sundries or does any combination of these functions, is required to give the notification and calculate the maximum wholesale and retail price.

(1) * * *

(i) * * *

Kind of seller:	Percentage by which the manufacturer's base price is to be multiplied—per cent
* * * * *
Seller at retail, except a mail order house	[2] 233⅓

[2] a. Whenever the retail price, calculated in this manner, results in a price which is less than 5 cents, the maximum retail price shall be 5 cents. This rule shall not be used for those multiples of a commodity which are normally sold by retailers at a price which, when figured on a unit basis, is lower than the price per unit charged by them when they sell the commodity singly. For example, if the retail price for a particular nipple, calculated in the manner set forth in the text, is 3½ cents each and retailers normally sell that nipple at 5 cents each and three for 10 cents, the maximum retail price would be 5 cents each and three for 10 cents.

b. Whenever the retail price, calculated in the manner set forth in the text, results in a price which is 5 cents or over and involves a fractional cent, the maximum retail price shall be the nearest cent.

(2) * * *

(i) * * *

(a) * * * The manufacturer will then calculate the maximum retail price by multiplying the base price by 233⅓ percent.[3]

(b) * * * The manufacturer will then calculate the maximum retail price by multiplying the base price by 210 percent.[4]

§ 1315.1765 Marking of rubber drug sundries by the manufacturer. This section requires that the manufacturer mark rubber drug sundries sold by him in a certain manner. This requirement is not applicable to sales of rubber drug sundries to a distributor or to a manufacturer who only finishes, assembles or packages rubber drug sundries, or does any combination of these functions. In such case, the distributor or the manufacturer, who only finishes, assembles or packages, or does any combination of these functions, is required to mark or cause the rubber drug sundry to be marked in the manner set forth in this section.

* * * * *

§ 1315.1769 Definitions. (a) * * *

(1) "Distributor" means a person who purchases rubber drug sundries, which are not finished, packaged or assembled by him, from a manufacturer and who either resells them primarily to wholesalers or resells them to persons other than ultimate consumers under his own brand, provided that such person sells rubber drug sundries which the producer thereof does not sell directly to wholesalers or retailers.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the production of rubber drug sundries, any person who finishes, assembles or packages rubber drug sundries and sells them primarily to persons other than ultimate consumers, or any distributor of rubber drug sundries.

[F. R. Doc. 43-3258; Filed, March 1, 1943; 3:41 p. m.]

[5] A "colored hot water bottle" is one made in any color but black. In addition, such a bottle may only bear a brand name, which the manufacturer placed on bottles that he sold on December 1, 1941, at a net price of $0.36 or more and which the manufacturer has not reported for use on black bottles. Also, a "colored hot water bottle" must not bear a brand name which was placed on it by a mold, which either bore a different brand name on January 16, 1943, or which was not used by the manufacturer December 1, 1941, without written permission from the Office of Price Administration. If a hot water bottle, made in any other color but black, bears a brand name which is not permitted to be used for a "colored hot water bottle" as defined in this footnote, the maximum price for that hot water bottle shall be the same as the maximum price for a "black hot water bottle." "Net price" as used in this footnote, means the lowest price arrived at after deducting the federal excise tax on rubber products and all discounts except cash discount. The term "black hot water bottle" is defined in footnote 6. The manufacturer is required to report the brand names he uses for "colored hot water bottles" in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1315.1703.

[6] A "black hot water bottle" is one which is made in no other color but black. The manufacturer is required to report the brand names he uses for black bottles in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1315.1763. Once a brand name has been reported for use on a black bottle, it may not be used on a colored bottle.

[7] If a combination syringe or combination syringe attachment set includes an accessory which is not listed in the table, the maximum price of that combination syringe or combination syringe attachment set shall be determined by adding to the maximum price listed for the combination syringe or combination syringe attachment set, as the case may be, without that accessory, the maximum price of the unlisted accessory. The maximum price of the unlisted accessory shall be determined in the same manner that the maximum prices for rubber drug sundries, other than victory line, are determined, and marked separately on the unit of sale container in which the combination syringe or combination syringe attachment set is sold at retail.

[8] Whether a combination syringe shall be priced as "colored" or "black" depends upon whether the hot water bottle, which is part of the combination syringe, would be priced as "colored" or "black" if sold separately.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[Ration Order 1A,[1] Amendment 13]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Sections 1315.201 (a) (11), 1315.201 (a) (12), 1315.201 (a) (13), 1315.607 (b) (2), 1315.804 (c) (3) and 1315.804 (c) (4) are amended; in § 1315.506 (a) (1) (i) the word "passenger-type" is deleted, and in § 1315.602 (e) the phrase "or an allotment of used passenger-type tires" is deleted; §§ 1315.509 (d) and 1315.607 (b) (1) are revoked:

§ 1315.201 Definitions. (a) For the purpose of this Ration Order No. 1A:

* * * * *

(11) "Grade I," as applied to tires, means a passenger-type tire other than a Grade II or Grade III tire.

(12) "Grade II," as applied to tires, is limited to passenger-type tires and means: (i) A new tire for which the Office of Price Administration has established a maximum price of less than 85 percent of the maximum price for tires set forth in paragraphs (a), (b), (f), and (n) of §§ 1315.110 and 1315.111 of Revised Price Schedule No. 63 issued by the Office of Price Administration, (ii) a damaged new tire which is serviceable either with or without repair, (iii) a new tire found to be defective in the manufacturer's final inspection and upon which tire the manufacturer has placed a permanent special identification mark to indicate its defective condition, (iv) a new tire removed from the wheel of a vehicle, from which tire the mold marks have disappeared by reason of wear, (v) a new tire manufactured prior to January 1, 1938, or (vi) a tire manufactured principally from reclaimed rubber as specified by the War Production Board.

(13) "Grade III," as applied to tires, means a used or recapped passenger-type tire.

* * * * * *

§ 1315.607 Form of certificates to be issued. * * *

(b) By a State director or district manager. * * *

(2) For allotment of tires or tubes. OPA Form R-2 (Revised) authorizing an applicant to acquire an allotment of Grade I and II tires, Grade III tires or passenger-type tubes.

* * * * * *

§ 1315.804 Dealer and manufacturer transfers. * * *

(c) Tires or tubes. * * *

(3) Permitted replenishment of tires or tubes. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph any dealer or manufacturer may, in exchange for a properly endorsed replenishment portion (Part B) of a certificate or receipt transfer to another dealer or manufacturer the number of tires or tubes authorized by the certificate or receipt in accordance with the table below:

If Part B Calls For—	Dealer or manufacturer may replenish with—
Any size Grade I tire	Any size Grade I, II or III tire.
Any size Grade II tire	Any size Grade II or III tire.
Any size Grade III tire	Any size Grade III tire.
Any size Grade I or II tire only	Any size Grade I or II tire.
Any size truck-type tire	Any size truck-type tire.
Any size tractor-type tire	Any size tractor, truck, implement-type or Grade III tire.
Any size implement-type tire	Any size tractor implement or Grade III tire.
Any size passenger tube	Any size passenger tube.
Any size truck tube	Any size truck tube.

(4) Allotment of Grade III tires. Any manufacturer or dealer may, in exchange for a certificate on OPA Form R-2 (Revised) transfer the number of Grade III tires authorized thereon to a dealer. No manufacturer or wholesaler who has a supply of Grade III tires of the size ordered may refuse to transfer them to a dealer who presents a certificate for an allotment of Grade III tires if the dealer's order is accompanied with cash or its equivalent. If the manufacturer or wholesaler has the size ordered but does not have the quantity ordered, he shall transfer the quantity he has on hand and fill the balance of the order as instructed by the dealer. If the manufacturer or wholesaler does not have the size ordered, he shall transfer Grade III tires of a different size if the dealer requests him to do so. A manufacturer or wholesaler shall fill all accepted orders for Grade III tires received on one day before filling any orders received on any subsequent day.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 237,[1] Amendment 10]

ADJUSTED AND FIXED MARK-UP REGULATION FOR SALES OF CERTAIN FOOD PRODUCTS AT WHOLESALE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment No. 10 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 237 has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. The table in Appendix A, § 1351.518 is amended so that the dates opposite the food products, "Cereals, breakfast", "Rice",—"Sugar, cane and beet", and "Vegetables, canned", under the column entitled "Last date for determining new maximum prices under this regulation" shall read "April 15, 1943" instead of "November 30, 1942" as it now reads for "Cereals, breakfast", "Rice", and "Sugar, cane and beet" and instead of "February 10, 1943" as it now reads for "Vegetables, canned".

2. The table in Appendix A, § 1351.518 is amended so that the dates opposite the food products, "Cereals, breakfast", "Rice", "Sugar, cane and beet", and "Vegetables, canned" under the column entitled "Last date for filing new maximum prices with appropriate OPA District or State Offices" shall read "April 25, 1943" instead of "December 10, 1942" as it now reads for "Cereals, breakfast", "Rice", and "Sugar, cane and beet", and instead of "February 20, 1943" as it now reads for "Vegetables, canned".

3. The table in Appendix B, § 1351.519 is amended so that the dates opposite the food products numbers 1 to 14 inclusive under the column entitled "Last date for determining new maximum prices under this regulation" shall read "April 15, 1943" instead of "February 10, 1943" as it now reads for "Fruit, dried", "Lard", "Dry edible beans", "Coffee", "Oils, cooking and salad", "Shortening, hydrogenated", "Shortening, other", "Corn meal", "Canned citrus fruits and juices", "Evaporated and condensed milk", "Pure maple syrup and pure cane syrup", and instead of "March 10, 1943" as it now reads for "Fish, processed", "Flour and flour mixes" and "Macaroni and noodle products".

4. The table in Appendix B, § 1351.519 is amended so that the dates opposite the food products numbers 1 to 14 inclusive under the column entitled "Last date for filing new maximum prices with appropriate OPA District or State Offices" shall read "April 25, 1943" instead of "February 20, 1943" as it now reads for "Fruit, dried", "Lard", "Dry edible beans", "Coffee", "Oils, cooking and salad", "Shortening, hydrogenated", "Shortening, other", "Corn meal", "Canned citrus fruits and juices", "Evaporated and condensed milk", "Pure maple syrup and pure cane syrup", and instead of "March 20, 1943" as it now reads for "Fish, processed", "Flour and flour mixes", and "Macaroni and noodle products".

This amendment shall become effective on March 1, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 237,[1] Amendment 11]

ADJUSTED AND FIXED MARK-UP REGULATION FOR SALES OF CERTAIN FOOD PRODUCTS AT WHOLESALE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 237 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.501a is added to read as follows:

§ 1351.501a Exempt wholesalers. This regulation shall not apply to wagon-wholesalers. A wagon-wholesaler is a wholesaler who distributes food products from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances, to independent retail outlets or to commercial, industrial and institutional users. Such conveyances must be under the supervision of driver-salesmen who make delivery at the time and point of sale. This wholesaler is a wagon-wholesaler only for the food he sells in this way.

2. In § 1351.519, item 12 is amended and items 15 and 16 are added to read as follows:

§ 1351.519 Appendix B:

[Figures to be used by wholesale distributors in determining new maximum prices under § 1351.503 of this regulation (new maximum prices are required after the effective date of this regulation)]

Food products	Last date for determining new maximum prices under this regulation	Last date for filing new maximum prices with appropriate OPA District or State offices	Figure to be multiplied by net cost of item in determining new maximum prices under this regulation

15. Peanut butter	Apr. 15, 1943	Apr. 25, 1943	1.11[2]	1.14	1.19
16. Vinegar	Apr. 15, 1943	Apr. 25, 1943	1.12	1.16	1.21

3. Section 1351.519 (2) (l) is amended to read as follows:

(l) Syrups shall mean all edible molasses, sorghum, cane, maple and corn syrup and blends thereof.

4. Section 1351.519 (2) (o) is added to read as follows:

(o) Peanut butter shall mean all spreads of ground peanuts irrespective of the size of granules or pieces of peanuts contained therein.

5. Section 1351.519 (2) (p) is added to read as follows:

(p) Vinegar shall meal all vinegar, including but not limited to pure cider vinegar, distilled vinegar, malt vinegar, wine vinegar, and tarragon vinegar.

This amendment shall become effective on March 6, 1943, except as to sales of Item No. 15, Peanut butter, in § 1351.519 which becomes effective March 1, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 238,[1] Amendment 11]

ADJUSTED AND FIXED MARK-UP REGULATION FOR SALES OF CERTAIN FOOD PRODUCTS AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment No. 11 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 238 has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. The table in Appendix A, § 1351.618 is amended so that the column entitled "Last date for filing new maximum prices with appropriate local war price and rationing board" is eliminated, and so that the dates opposite the food products, "Cereals, breakfast", "Rice", "Sugar, cane and beet", and "Vegetables, canned" under the column entitled "Last date for determining new maximum prices under this regulation" shall read "May 1, 1943" instead of "December 31, 1942" as it now reads for "Cereals, breakfast", "Rice", and "Sugar, cane and beet", and instead of "March 10, 1943" as it now reads for "Vegetables, canned".

2. The table in Appendix B, § 1351.619 is amended so that the dates opposite the food products numbers 1 to 14, inclusive, under the column entitled "Last date for determining new maximum prices under this regulation" shall read "May 1, 1943" instead of "March 10, 1943" as it now reads.

3. Paragraph (c) of § 1351.602 and paragraph (b) of § 1351.606 are revoked, §§ 1351.602 (b), 1351.603 (b), 1351.604, 1351.604a (b) (3), 1351.605, 1351.611 (a), 1351.618 (3) (c), 1351.619 (3) (c) are amended and § 1351.606 (c) is redesignated § 1351.606 (b) and is amended, all to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.602 How a retailer calculates his maximum price for food products listed in Appendix A. • • •

(b) If a retailer uses this resulting amount as his new maximum price he must write such maximum price in ink on the invoice used in figuring it, before making any sales at his new price.*

§ 1351.603 How a retailer calculates his maximum price for food products listed in Appendix B. • • •

(b) The resulting amount shall be the retailer's maximum price for the particular item, but before making any sales at this new price he must write the price in ink on the invoice used in figuring it. All invoices used for calculating prices must be segregated or identified and preserved to be presented upon demand.

§ 1351.604 How a retailer may recalculate a new maximum price if his "net cost" increases before the final date for calculating. If, after calculating any maximum price, a retailer, before the final date set opposite the name of the food product in Appendix A or B for the calculation of a maximum price, purchases a customary quantity of the same item from a customary supplier at a higher "net cost" than he used in calculating his maximum price, he may calculate a new maximum price on the basis of his new "net cost". Before making any sales at this new price, he must write the price in ink on the invoice used in figuring it.

§ 1351.604a Addition allowed retailers in special cases. • • •

(b) Additions allowed for packaging certain food products purchased in bulk. • • •

(3) The resulting amount shall be the retailer's new maximum price for such item and must be calculated in accordance with the provisions of § 1351.606 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 238.

§ 1351.605 Maximum prices set under this regulation cannot be changed. A maximum price for any item of a food product calculated by a retailer and properly recorded on the invoice he used in figuring his maximum price shall be his maximum price for that item from that time forward. However, where a retailer recalculates his maximum price under § 1351.604 of this regulation, such recalculated price shall be his maximum price for that item from and after the date that the recalculated price is recorded on the invoice.

§ 1351.606 Final dates for calculating maximum prices. • • •

(b) Calculating of maximum prices by an operator of more than one retail outlet. Whenever the maximum prices of a food product calculated under this regulation would be identical for more than one retail outlet of the same class owned or operated by the same persons, calculations and records may be made by the central or pricing office for all such outlets which will have an identical maximum price. Such calculations and records need be kept by such person only in the office in which they were made up.

§ 1351.611 Records. (a) On the same day as the retailer calculates any new maximum price under this regulation and records his price upon the invoice he shall record on his base period record, required in § 1499.11 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, any new maximum price. The record of the old maximum price shall not be destroyed.

• • • • • • • •

§ 1351.618. Appendix A.

3. Additional instructions. • • •

c. Adjustments may be made as soon as this regulation becomes effective but before making any sales at new prices, the retailer must write his maximum price in ink on the invoice he used in figuring it. If the retailer's net cost on a food product increases before the final date for calculation of new maximum prices under this regulation, he may calculate a new maximum price, but must record the new price in ink on the invoice used in figuring it. If more than one maximum price is computed on any item, the price in effect on the final date for determining new prices under this regulation shall be the permanent maximum price from that date forward.

§ 1351.619 Appendix B. • • •

3. Additional instructions. • • •

c. New ceilings must be calculated as soon as this regulation becomes effective and, before making any sales, record must be made on the invoice used in figuring the maximum prices. If the retailer's net cost on a food product increases before the final date for calculating new maximum prices under this regulation, he may calculate a new maximum price based on his last invoice cost, but must also record his new price on the invoice he used in figuring it, before making any sales. The maximum price on any item in effect on the final date for determining new maximum prices under this regulation shall be the permanent maximum price from that date forward.

This amendment shall become effective on March 1, 1943.

§ ——— Scope of regulation. • • •

(b) • • •

(3) Rooms or other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses, or housing accommodations which have been, with the consent of the Administrator, brought under the control of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Hotels and Rooming Houses pursuant to the provisions of that regulation.

(4) Entire structures or premises wherein more than 25 rooms are rented or offered for rent by any lessee, sublessee or other tenant of such entire structure or premises: Provided, That this maximum rent regulation does apply to entire structures or premises wherein 25 or less rooms are rented or offered for rent by any lessee, sublessee or other tenant of such entire structure or premises, whether or not used by the lessee, sublessee or other tenant as a hotel or rooming house: and Provided, further, That this maximum rent regulation does apply to an underlying lease of any entire structure or premises which was entered into after ———[1] and prior to the effective date of this maximum rent regulation, while such lease remains in force with no power in the tenant to cancel or otherwise terminate the lease.

(5) Housing accommodations rented to the United States acting by the National Housing Agency: Provided, however, That this maximum rent regulation does apply to a sublease or other subrenting of such accommodations or any part thereof.

2. Sections 1388.14, 1388.64, 1388.114, 1388.164, 1388.214, 1388.264, 1388.314, 1388.364, 1388.414, 1388.464, 1388.514, 1388.564, 1388.614, 1388.664, 1388.714, 1388.764, 1388.814, 1388.864, 1388.914, 1388.964, 1388.1014, 1388.1654, 1388.1704, 1388.1754, 1388.1804, 1388.2054, 1388.3054, 1388.4054, 1388.5054, 1388.6054, 1388.7054, 1388.8054, 1388.34, 1388.134, 1388.234, 1388.284, 1388.384, 1388.584, 1388.684, 1388.784, and 1388.884 of Maximum Rent Regulations Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 52, 60, and 62, respectively, are amended by the addition to the said sections of a new paragraph (i) as follows:

§ ——— Maximum rents. • • •

(i) For housing accommodations with a maximum rent established, prior to March 1, 1943, under the first paragraph of section ———[2] (e) as that paragraph appeared in this maximum rent regulation prior to such date,[3] the rent on March 1, 1943, or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, the last rent prior thereto, but in no event more than the maximum rent established under such first paragraph of section ———[2] (e). The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in section ———[2] (c) (8).

3. The first unnumbered paragraph of § 1388.15, 1388.65, 1388.115, 1388.165, 1388.215, 1388.265, 1388.315, 1388.365, 1388.415, 1388.465, 1388.515, 1388.565, 1388.615, 1388.665, 1388.715, 1388.765, 1388.815, 1388.865, 1388.915, 1388.965, 1388.1015, 1388.1655, 1388.1705, 1388.1755, 1388.1805, 1388.2055, 1388.3055, 1388.4055, 1388.5055, 1388.6055, 1388.7055, 1388.8055, 1388.35, 1388.135, 1388.235, 1388.285, 1388.385, 1388.585, 1388.685, 1388.785, and 1388.885 of Maximum Rent Regulations Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 52, 60, and 62, respectively, is amended, paragraph (a) of the said sections is amended by the addition to the said paragraph (a) of a new subparagraph (8), paragraph (c) of the said sections is amended by the addition to the said paragraph (c) of new subparagraphs (7) and (8), and the first paragraph of paragraph (e) of the said sections is revoked, as follows:

§ ——— Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, an increase or decrease in the number of subtenants or other occupants, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on ———,[1] the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change: Provided, however, That no adjustment shall be ordered where it appears that the rent on the date determining the maximum rent was fixed in contemplation of and so as to reflect such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on ———:[1] Provided, That in cases under paragraph (c) (8) of this section due consideration shall be given to any increased occupancy of the accommodations since that date by subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since ———.[1] In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on ———.[1]

(a) • • •

(8) There has been, since ———,[1] either (i) a substantial increase in the number of subtenants or other persons occupying the accommodations or a part thereof under a rental agreement with the tenant, or (ii) a substantial increase in the number of occupants, in excess of normal occupancy for that class of accommodations on ———,[1] or (iii) an increase in the number of occupants over the number contemplated by the rental agreement on the date determining the maximum rent, where the landlord on that date had a regular and definite practice of fixing different rents for the accommodations for different numbers of occupants.

• • • • • •

(c) • • •

(7) There has been a substantial decrease in the number of subtenants or other occupants since an order under paragraph (a) (8) or (c) (8) of this section.

(8) The maximum rent is established under section ———[4] (i) and is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on ———,[1] taking into consideration any increased occupancy of such accommodations since that date by subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant: Provided That no decrease shall be ordered below the rent on ———.[1]

4. Subparagraph (4) of paragraph (a) of §§ 1388.16, 1388.66, 1388.116, 1388.166, 1388.216, 1388.266, 1388.316, 1388.366, 1388.416, 1388.466, 1388.516, 1388.566, 1388.616, 1388.666, 1388.716, 1388.766, 1388.816, 1388.866, 1388.916, 1388.966, 1388.1016, 1388.1656, 1388.1706, 1388.1756, 1388.1806, 1388.2056, 1388.3056, 1388.4056, 1388.5056, 1388.6056, 1388.7056, 1388.8056, 1388.36, 1388.136, 1388.236, 1388.286, 1388.386, 1388.586, 1388.686, 1388.786, and 1388.886 of Maximum Rent Regulations Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 52, 60, and 62, respectively, is amended to read as follows:

§ ——— Restrictions on removal of tenant. • • •

(a) • • •

(4) The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the occupants of the housing accommodations are subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, and no part of the accommodations is used by the tenant as his own dwelling.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 3,[5] Amendment 44]

SUGAR RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[6]

Rationing Order No. 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1407.21 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Whenever the provisions of this order impose or confer duties, obligations, rights or privileges upon an establishment or registering unit, such duties, obligations, rights and privileges shall be considered as being conferred or imposed upon the person owning such establishment or registering unit with respect thereto. Whenever reference is made to an act done or to be done, or to property owned, by an establishment or a registering unit, it shall be deemed to refer to an act done or to be done, or to property owned, by the person owning such establishment or unit in its behalf.

2. Section 1407.21 (c) (9) is amended to read as follows:

(9) "Industrial user" means an establishment which uses sugar in the production, manufacture, or processing of any product other than sugar if the product is not to be used in the preparation or service of food or beverages which the establishment or its owner serves to consumers.

3. Section 1407.21 (c) (10) is amended to read as follows:

(10) "Institutional use", "institutional user", "institutional user establishment" and "opening inventory" have the respective meanings given to such terms by General Ration Order 5; Provided, That, for the purpose of this order, the term "institutional user establishment" shall be deemed to include any place where an institutional use of sugar is authorized by General Ration Order 5.

4. Section 1407.43 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The jurisdiction of each local rationing board shall extend to every consumer, registering unit, and establishment registered or required to be registered with it.

5. Section 1407.76 is revoked.

6. Section 1407.81 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.81 Registering unit. As used in §§ 1407.81 to 1407.94, the term "registering unit" refers only to the industrial users which are included within such registering unit.

7. Section 1407.82 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.82 Prohibited deliveries. (a) On and after April 23, 1942, notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement, or commitment, regardless of when made, no person shall make deliver of sugar to any registering unit or any institutional user and no registering unit or institutional user shall accept delivery of sugar from any person except upon the surrender to such person by the registering unit or institutional user pursuant to this order of a certificate having a total weight value equal to the quantity of sugar so delivered; except that any sugar which at the time of registration of the registering unit has been included in its present inventory pursuant to § 1407.84 or any sugar which has been included, or was required to be included, in the opening inventory of an institutional user establishment pursuant to General Ration Order 5, may be received without the surrender of certificates.

(b) Deliveries of sugar from one institutional user establishment to another institutional user establishment of the same owner are governed by General Ration Order 5.

8. Section 1407.83 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) The registration on OPA Form No. R-310 of any establishment whose sugar base has been established solely on an institutional use of sugar by the registering unit or its owner and that part of a sugar base which has been established on an institutional use of sugar by the registering unit or its owner shall be deemed cancelled as of March 1, 1943. A registering unit whose sugar base has been established in part on an institutional use of sugar by the registering unit or its owner shall before making application for an allotment, amend its registration by filing a new OPA Form R-310, excluding from its sugar base all sugar so used.

9. The text of § 1407.84 is designated as paragraph (a) and a new paragraph (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) The present inventory, as adjusted, of a registering unit shall be reduced by the amount of sugar declared or required to be declared by the owner as a part of the opening inventory of an institutional user establishment pursuant to General Ration Order 5.

10. Section 1407.85 (c) is revoked.

11. Paragraphs (d), (e) and (f) of § 1407.85 are redesignated (c), (d) and (e) respectively.

12. Section 1407.85 (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) For each period commencing on or after March 1, 1943, there shall not be included in the sugar base of a registering unit any sugar of which the registering unit or its owner made an institutional use.

13. Section 1407.86 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) A registering unit which uses sugar for any purpose or product not enumerated in § 1407.241, Schedule A, and which has established a sugar base by registration on OPA Form R-310, is eligible for an amount of sugar for each of such products or purposes which is known as an allotment. The amount of an allotment for each period for which application is made shall be the applicable percentage specified in § 1407.242, Schedule B, of the sugar base.

14. Section 1407.86 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Application for an allotment made during the registration period shall be for the period from the date of registration to June 30, 1942. All subsequent applications shall be for consecutive two month periods, the first of which shall commence on July 1, 1942. Applications shall be made not later than the 5th day of the first month of the period for which the application is being made and not earlier than the 15th day of the month preceding the period. The board, however, to prevent loss of fresh fruits, vegetables, eggs, or dairy products, or for other purposes authorized by the Office of Price Administration, may permit the application to be made at any time during the month preceding such period and in such cases may permit the application to be made for a period not to exceed one additional month. The board, in its discretion, may permit an application to be made at any time after the time specified herein, but in such case the board shall reduce the allotment by the amount allocable to the expired portion of the period, in the proportion which the number of days which have elapsed bears to the total number of days in the period: Provided, however, That the board shall not reduce the March-April, 1943, allotment of a registering unit which is required under the provisions of paragraph (e) of § 1407.83, to amend its registration if the application for such allotment is made not later than the 20th day of March, 1943.

15. Section 1407.92 (a) is amended by deleting the line "Class 1—Meals or food services."

16. Section 1407.93a is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.93a Ration banking by industrial users. (a) The owner of a registering unit may open an account for that registering unit. If such registering unit is composed of more than one establishment, the owner may, at his option, open a separate account for each establishment, or for any group of establishments, in such registering unit. However, if an account is opened for any establishment in a registering unit, all other establishments in the registering unit must be served by an account or accounts.

(b) Each account shall be opened in the name of the owner, who shall designate the establishment or establishments to be served. All accounts shall be opened in accordance with General Ration Order No. 3A.

(c) An owner of a registering unit may transfer ration credits from one account to another by the issuance of a check without the delivery of sugar, if these accounts are carried for establishments in the same registering unit.

17. Section 1407.94 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Each registering unit shall preserve for a period of two years at its office records showing by months the amounts of sugar received by the registering unit and the person from whom received, the use made of such sugar for each product and purpose listed in § 1407.241, Schedule A, and § 1407.242, Schedule B, and the amount of each product processed.

18. Section 1407.95 is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.95 Institutional users. An institutional user shall get allotments of sugar and use sugar only as provided in General Ration Order 5.

19. Section 1407.140 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) A depositor who has received stamps, certificates or checks from a registering unit or institutional user establishment may issue to it a check in weight value equal to the sugar which he has not delivered against such stamps, certificates or checks, but which he is then authorized to deliver to such registering unit or institutional user establishment against such stamps, certificates or checks.

20. Section 1407.141 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) As used in this section the term "registering unit" includes establishments registered under General Ration Order 5 as Group II and III institutional user establishments.

21. Section 1407.142 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) As used in this section the term "registering unit" includes establishments registered under General Ration Order 5 as Group II and III institutional user establishments.

22. Section 1407.144 (e) is amended by deleting the words "or institutional".

23. Section 1407.144 (g) is added to read as follows:

(g) This section shall not apply to the transfer of an institutional user establishment. Transfers of institutional user establishments are governed by General Ration Order 5.

24. Section 1407.145 (b) is amended by deleting the words "or registering unit".

25. Section 1407.146 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Any person in possession of sugar which he holds as bailee or on which he has a lien or to which he has title for security purposes only, shall, upon acquiring title to such sugar or upon foreclosing his lien or the interest of the debtor therein, report such fact in writing to the State Director having jurisdiction over the area in which his principal business office is located. The report shall also state the manner in which possession of the sugar was acquired, the amount thereof, and the disposition proposed to be made of it. Such sugar may thereafter be disposed of by such person but only as follows: (1) It may be delivered in the manner provided by paragraph (a) of this section. (2) It may be delivered to a primary distributor without the receipt of stamps or certificates. (3) It may be delivered to a consumer, registering unit or institutional user establishment upon receipt of stamps or certificates as prescribed by Rationing Order No. 3 and the stamps or certificates thus received shall be surrendered to the State Director for cancellation within five days of receipt. (4) A registering unit owned by such person may use such sugar subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1407.91. An institutional user may use such sugar only upon the surrender of stamps or certificates equal in weight value to such sugar to the State Director having jurisdiction over the area in which his principal business office is located.

26. Section 1407.146 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) If a person in possesion of sugar which he holds as bailee or on which he has a lien or to which he has title for security purposes only, acquires title to such sugar or forecloses his lien or the interest of the debtor therein, the debtor or other person whose title or other interest was so acquired or foreclosed, or a person to whom the right to such sugar had been transferred pursuant to Rationing Order No. 3 may obtain certificates in weight value equal to the amount of such sugar: Provided, That such certificates may be obtained only by an institutional user establishment registered under General Ration Order 5, a registering unit or a registered consumer. Applications shall be made by the institutional user establishment, registering unit or registered consumer to the State Director having jurisdiction over the area in which the establishment, unit or consumer is registered on OPA Form No. R-315. The application shall state facts which establish compliance with the requirements of this paragraph and include such other information as the State Director may require. If the State Director determines that the applicant is entitled to certificates pursuant to this paragraph, the State Director shall instruct the board with which the applicant is registered to issue such certificates.

27. Section 1407.147a (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) "Registering unit" as used in this section includes all institutional user establishments registered under General Ration Order 5.

28. Section 1407.147b (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) A registering unit or institutional user establishment recovering lost or stolen sugar for which it has obtained a certificate pursuant to § 1407.147a shall report such fact in writing to the State Director having jurisdiction over the area in which the registering unit or institutional user establishment is registered. The report shall also state the amount of such sugar and the disposition proposed to be made of it. Such sugar may thereafter be disposed of by such registering unit or institutional user establishment but only in the manner provided by subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of paragraph (b) of § 1407.146.

29. Section 1407.147b (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) An insurer or carrier recovering lost or stolen sugar shall report such fact in writing to the State Director having jurisdiction over the area in which its principal office is located. The report shall also state the amount of such sugar and the disposition proposed to be made of it. Such sugar may thereafter be disposed of by such person but only in the manner provided by subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of paragraph (b) of § 1407.146.

30. Section 1407.148 (b) is amended by inserting after the phrase "by a registering unit" the words "or institutional user establishment".

31. Section 1407.149 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.149 Drop shipments. Any registering unit from which delivery of sugar is requested, if the parties so agree, may direct the registering unit or the institutional user requesting delivery to take the sugar from the premises of a third party or may direct the third party to deliver the sugar. In such event the registering unit from which delivery of sugar was requested shall surrender to the third party as authority for the delivery any stamps or certificates received from the registering unit or the institutional user to which the sugar is delivered.

32. Section 1407.150 is revoked.

33. Section 1407.163 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.163 New establishments and ineligible establishments desiring sugar. (a) Any person desiring to obtain sugar for an establishment (other than an institutional user establishment) not eligible for registration pursuant to Rationing Order No. 3 may petition the board having jurisdiction over the area in which the principal business office of the owner is, or will be, located, for registration and assignment to such establishment of a sugar base, allotment, provisional allowance or allowable inventory, as the case may be. The petition shall be made on OPA Form No. R-315. The board may not grant or deny the petition but shall follow the procedure set forth in § 1407.161 with regard to petitions for adjustment.

(b) Establishments referred to in this section include those which commenced operations using sugar subsequent to April 20, 1942.

34. Section 1407.169 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement, or commitment, regardless of when made, and except as otherwise authorized by the Office of Price Administration or provided in Rationing Order No. 3, or General Ration Order 5, no consumer, institutional user or industrial user shall deliver sugar.

35. Section 1407.170 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The Collector of Customs may deliver sugar received by him to a registering unit or an institutional user establishment upon receipt of certificates in weight value equal to the sugar delivered or an authorization by the Office of Price Administration to such registering unit or institutional user establishment authorizing it to take delivery of such sugar. Certificates received by the Collector of Customs shall be delivered, at least once each calendar month, to the State Director having jurisdiction over the area in which such point of entry is located. Authorizations received by the Collector of Customs shall be delivered, at least once each calendar month, to the Office of Price Administration.

36. Section 1407.170 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Applications for authorization to take sugar from the Collector of Customs shall be made to the Office of Price Administration by the registering unit or institutional user on OPA Form No. R-315 or such other form of application as shall be approved by the Office of Price Administration and shall include such information as the Office of Price Administration may require. Such authorization shall not be deemed to increase the allotment of the registering unit or institutional user.

37. Section 1407.204a is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.204a Saving clause. No provision of any amendment to Rationing Order No. 3 (unless such amendment otherwise expressly provides) effecting the dissolution of registering units, resulting in the amendment or cancellation of registrations, placing persons or establishments once subject to Rationing Order No. 3 under another order, or removing limitations or restrictions theretofore imposed by Rationing Order No. 3 from persons, establishments, or registering units shall be deemed to (1) excuse the failure to discharge or perform any duty or obligation or (2) condone any acts or omissions to act, by any person, establishing, or registering unit prior to the effective date of such amendment.

38. Section 1407.205 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.205 Prohibited deliveries. Notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement or commitment, regardless of when made, on and after June 19, 1942, except as otherwise expressly permitted in Rationing Order No. 3, deliveries of sugar shall be made only by and to, and accepted only by and from institutional user establishments registered under General Ration Order 5, registered consumers, registering units and primary distributors.

39. Section 1407.242 is amended by deleting the line "(a) Meals or food services------ 50."

This amendment shall become effective March 1, 1943.

paragraph (c) to § 1407.1065, and new § 1407.1089 are added as set forth below:

Definitions

§ 1407.952 Definitions. When used in Ration Order No. 12 the term:

* * * * *

(g) "Compounder" means a person, other than a consumer, institutional user, or industrial user, who mixes or blends coffee with any substitute or substance including but not limited to chicory, cereal, peas, or beans for the purpose of transfer.

* * * * *

(k) "Industrial establishment" means an establishment which uses coffee in the production, manufacture, or processing of soluble coffee or any product other than coffee or in the preparation of food or beverages not served by it or its owner to individuals. It does not include an establishment which only blends, mixes, or compounds coffee with substitutes or substances including but not limited to chicory, cereal, beans, or peas. A person owning an industrial establishment is, with respect to the ownership and operation of such establishment, an industrial user. With respect to coffee used by him in the preparation of beverages which he does not serve to individuals, an industrial user is sometimes designated in Ration Order No. 12 a Class A industrial user. With respect to other uses of coffee by him, an industrial user is sometimes designated in Ration Order No. 12 a Class B industrial user.

(l) "Institutional establishment," "institutional user establishment," and "institutional user" have the respective meanings given to such terms by General Ration Order 5.

* * * * *

(p) "Registering unit" means the institutional establishment or group of institutional establishments, as defined prior to March 1, 1943, selected by the owner thereof to be treated as a single unit for the purposes of Ration Order No. 12 and which was so registered by him.

* * * * *

Jurisdiction

§ 1407.953 Jurisdiction of boards. For the purposes of Ration Order No. 12 each board shall have jurisdiction over each consumer and each institutional user establishment registered with it, and over each retailer, wholesaler, institutional user, and industrial user whose principal business office is located within the area assigned to the board.

Retailers and Wholesalers

§ 1407.990 Compounders of coffee; reports. (a) On and after November 22, 1942, no person, other than a consumer or institutional or Class A industrial user, shall blend, compound, or mix coffee with substitutes or substances, including but not limited to chicory, cereal, peas, or beans, unless he shall first notify the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., of his intention to engage in such practice.

Institutional and Industrial Users

§ 1407.995 Dissolution of registering units and registration of Class A industrial users. (a) Every registering unit registered under Ration Order No. 12 is dissolved as of March 1, 1943.

(b) Every Class A industrial user who, prior to March 1, 1943, had registered establishments owned by him as one or more institutional registering units under Ration Order No. 12, shall, between March 1 and March 10, 1943, inclusive, file with the board having jurisdiction over the area in which his principal business office is located a statement specifying (1) the aggregate initial inventories of such establishments as required to be reported by him at the time he registered such establishments; (2) the aggregate allotments to which such establishments were entitled as registering units under Ration Order No. 12; (3) the aggregate allowable inventories, if any, of such establishments; (4) that part of the aggregate roasted coffee bases of such establishments which resulted from the use by such establishments of roasted coffee in the preparation of beverages not served by him to individuals; and (5) a list of all establishments in which he uses roasted coffee in the preparation of beverages not served by him to individuals, together with the addresses of such establishments and designation of the boards at which such establishments were registered pursuant to Ration Order No. 12. The filing of such a statement shall constitute his registration as a Class A industrial user.

§ 1407.997 Allowable inventory of coffee for institutional or Class A industrial users. (a) Any institutional or Class A industrial user who roasts green coffee used by him in the preparation of food or beverages is permitted a working inventory of coffee which shall be known as his allowable inventory.

(b) The allowable inventory of such an institutional or Class A industrial user shall be equal to three times the amount of roasted coffee roasted by him and used by him in the preparation of food or beverages in September 1942. In computing the allowable inventory there shall be deducted from the weight of the coffee included in such inventory, the weight of any substitutes or substances, including but not limited to chicory, cereal, beans, or peas, compounded, blended, or mixed by him with said coffee.

§ 1407.998 Roasted coffee base of Class A industrial user. (a) The roasted coffee base of a Class A industrial user owning establishments registered by him pursuant to Ration Order No. 12 as one or more institutional registering units shall be equal to that part of the aggregate roasted coffee bases of such establishments resulting from the use by such establishments of roasted coffee in the preparation of beverages not served by him to individuals.

(b) A person desiring to become a Class A industrial user may petition the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for assignment to him of a roasted coffee base. The petition shall state the name and address of such person, the location or proposed location and description of the establishments owned by him at which he intends to use roasted coffee as a Class A industrial user, the petitioner's inventory of coffee on the date of his application, the estimated average monthly use the petitioner will make of roasted coffee as a Class A industrial user, whether or not the petitioner roasts green coffee, and any other information the petitioner deems pertinent. The Office of Price Administration may, before acting on any such petition, require the petitioner to furnish any additional information it deems pertinent. Upon assignment of a base to such a person he may receive allotments pursuant to § 1407.999: Provided, however, That upon assignment of a base to such a Class A industrial user prior to April 30, 1943, he shall receive an allotment in an amount equal to 80 per cent of such base, reduced by an amount which bears the same proportion to the allotment as the number of days which have elapsed since March 1, 1943, bears to 61.

§ 1407.999 Allotment. (a) A Class A industrial user who has established a roasted coffee base shall receive, as provided in Ration Order No. 12, an amount of roasted coffee which is known as an allotment.

(b) The amount of the allotment for each period shall be the applicable percentage, specified in § 1407.1092, of the roasted coffee base of such Class A industrial user.

§ 1407.1000 Application for allotment certificates. (a) Application to the Board for allotment certificates shall be made by a Class A industrial user, as provided in this section, for consecutive two-month periods, the first of which shall commence on May 1, 1943: Provided, however, That where the industrial establishments owned by such industrial user were, prior to March 1, 1943, registered as institutional registering units pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, such industrial user may apply for and receive an allotment certificate for the period from March 1 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, in the same manner as and to the same extent that he was authorized, by the applicable regulations in effect prior to March 1, 1943, to apply for and receive it. Application shall be made not later than the 5th day of the first month of the period for which the application is being made and not earlier than the 15th day of the month preceding the period. The board, in its discretion, may permit an application to be made at any time after the time specified herein but in such case the board shall reduce the allotment by an amount which bears the same proportion to the allotment as the number of days which have elapsed from the start of the period bears to the total number of days in the period.

(b) A Class A industrial user who is not an institutional user and who does not roast green coffee in connection with his Class A industrial use, and whose initial inventory is greater than the aggregate of the allotments received by him or by registering units owned by him pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, shall not apply for an allotment certificate as a Class A industrial user for any period until such initial inventory has been reduced, by the crediting of all such prior allotments, below the amount of his allotment for such period.

(c) A Class A industrial user, who is not also an institutional user, and who roasts green coffee for a Class A industrial use by him, whose initial inventory is greater than his allowable inventory plus the aggregate of the allotments received by him or by registering units owned by him pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, shall not apply for an allotment certificate as a Class A industrial user for any period until such initial inventory has been reduced, by the crediting of all such prior allotments, below the amount of his allotment for such period.

(c) A Class A industrial user, who is an institutional user, who is assigned a roasted coffee base pursuant to § 1407.998 (b) shall not apply for an allotment certificate as a Class A industrial user for any period until the inventory reported by him in his application pursuant to said section has been reduced, by the crediting of prior allotments, below the amount of his allotment for such period.

§ 1407.1001 Amount for which allotment certificate is to be issued. (a) Upon proper written application therefor a certificate shall be issued to a Class A industrial user in a weight value equivalent to his allotment except as provided in paragraphs (b), (c), or (d) of this section and subject to any adjustments required by Ration Order No. 12.

(b) The amount of the allotment certificate issued for the allotment period from May 1 to June 30, 1943, inclusive, to a Class A industrial user who does not roast green coffee in connection with his Class A industrial use, shall be the allotment for such period minus that portion of his initial inventory, as reported by him pursuant to § 1407.995, which has not already been charged against prior allotments received by such Class A industrial user pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, as reported by him pursuant to § 1407.995: Provided, however, That where such portion of his initial inventory exceeds his allotment for said period the first certificate issued to such Class A industrial user shall be of a weight value equal to the difference between his initial inventory and the aggregate of his allotments including the allotment for the period for which the certificate is issued.

(c) The amount of the allotment certificate issued for the allotment period from May 1 to June 30, 1943, inclusive, to a Class A industrial user who roasts green coffee in connection with his Class A industrial use shall be the allotment for such period, minus the amount, if any, by which any portion of his initial inventory, as reported by him pursuant to § 1407.995, which has not already been charged against prior allotments received by such Class A industrial user pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, exceeds his allowable inventory: Provided, however, That where such portion of his initial inventory exceeds his allowable inventory plus such allotment, the first certificate issued to such Class A industrial user shall be of a weight value equal to the difference between his initial inventory and the amount of his allowable inventory plus the aggregate of his allotments including the allotment for the period for which the certificate is issued.

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this section, a Class A industrial user who is also an institutional user shall not have any part of his initial inventory charged against his allotments as a Class A industrial user. (Any amount remaining to be charged against allotments of registering units owned by him will be included in his opening inventory as an institutional user under General Ration Order 5.)

(e) The amount of the allotment certificate issued for the period from March 1 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, to a Class A industrial user who is also an institutional user, and who has been assigned a roasted coffee base pursuant to § 1407.998 (b), shall be the allotment for such period which he is entitled to receive pursuant to § 1407.998 (b).

(f) A Class A industrial user, who is not also an institutional user, and who is assigned a roasted coffee base pursuant to § 1407.998 (b) shall report to the board the amount of the inventory specified by him on his petition pursuant to said section. The amount of the allotment certificate issued for the period from March 1 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, to such a Class A industrial user shall be the allotment for such period (which he is entitled to receive pursuant to § 1407.998 (b)) minus the amount of roasted coffee reported by him to the board as his inventory pursuant to this paragraph: Provided, however, That when such inventory exceeds such allotment, the first certificate issued to such Class A industrial user shall be of a weight value equal to the difference between such inventory and the aggregate of his allotments including the allotment for the period for which the certificate is issued.

§ 1407.1002 Adjustments. * * *

(b) Any institutional or Class A industrial user who acquires roasted coffee without the surrender of evidences, shall, within five days of such acquisition, report to the State Director (1) the amount of roasted coffee so acquired, (2) the name and address of the person from whom such roasted coffee was acquired, and (3) the way in which and the date when such roasted coffee was acquired. Such institutional or Class A industrial user may use such roasted coffee only upon the issuance or surrender by him of appropriate evidences to the State Director.

§ 1407.1003 Restriction on use. (a) No Class A industrial user shall, in any allotment period, use more coffee for any purpose for which allotment certificates may be obtained by him than the amount of his Class A industrial user allotment for said period plus the unused portion of any prior allotments received pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, by him or by registering units owned by him, to the extent that such allotments were based upon the usage by him or by such registering units of roasted coffee in the preparation of beverages not served by him to individuals: Provided, however, That a Class A industrial user may use any part of a Class A industrial user allotment at any time after a certificate for such allotment has been issued to him.

(b) No Class A industrial user shall use roasted coffee allotted to him as a Class A industrial user, or allotted, pursuant to Ration Order No. 12, to him or to registering units owned by him, to the extent that such allotments were based upon the usage by him or by such registering units of roasted coffee in the preparation of beverages not served by him to individuals, for any purpose other than the preparation by him of beverages which will not be served by him to individuals.

§ 1407.1006 Late registration. A Class A industrial user eligible to register pursuant to § 1407.995 between March 1 and March 10, 1943, inclusive, but who has not done so, may register thereafter at the office of the board. Such Class A industrial user shall not be issued any certificates for any allotment periods or partial periods that may have elapsed.

§ 1407.1009 Ration banking by industrial users and institutional user roasters. (a) Notwithstanding anything contained in Ration Order No. 12 or any other ration order of the Office of Price Administration, each institutional and each Class A industrial user who roasts green coffee in connection with his operations as an institutional or Class A industrial user shall open at least one account for the institutional or industrial establishments at which green coffee is roasted by him.

(b) Any other industrial user may open an account for his establishment.

(c) A Class A industrial user may, at his option, open a separate account for each Class A industrial user establishment or for any group of Class A industrial user establishments owned by him, but if he opens an account for one of his Class A industrial user establishments he shall open an account or accounts for all such establishments owned by him.

(d) A Class B industrial user may, at his option, open a separate acount for each Class B industrial user establishment or for any group of Class B industrial user establishments owned by him, but if he opens an account for one of his Class B industrial user establishments he shall open an account or accounts for all such establishments owned by him.

(e) Each account shall be carried in the name of the institutional or industrial user who shall designate the establishment or establishments for which such account is opened. All accounts shall be opened in accordance with General Ration Order No. 3A, and, in the case of an institutional user, in accordance with General Ration Order 5.

(g) A certificate received by a Class A industrial user as an allotment for the period from March 1 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, for a registering unit owned by him or received by him for such use prior to March 1, 1943, may not be deposited by him an any account other than a Class A industrial user account opened by him.

§ 1407.1015 Restrictions on use of coffee. No industrial user shall roast any green coffee in connection with or for use in connection with the production, manufacture, or processing of any products, other than of beverages or of products to be transferred to the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard or to any persons specified in § 1407.991 (c), without petitioning the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to do so and obtaining such permission. The petition shall state the name and address of the petitioner; the purposes for which he intends to use the coffee he seeks permission to roast; the amount of roasted coffee so used by him in each month of 1941, and, if he was not in business during the entire year of 1941, the amount of roasted coffee so used by him in each month of 1942; the amount of green coffee the petitioner seeks permission to roast; his inventory of coffee on the date of his application; the amount of the allotment or allotments, if any, which he is entitled to receive as an institutional user, pursuant to General Ration Order 5, or as a Class A industrial user, pursuant to Ration Order No. 12; and any other facts deemed pertinent by such industrial user. The Office of Price Administration may, before acting on any such petition, require the petitioner to furnish any additional information it deems pertinent.

* * * * *

§ 1407.1017 Class B industrial users—non-roasters. A Class B industrial user who does not roast green coffee in the production, manufacture, or processing of products, may petition the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for allotments of roasted coffee. The petition shall state the name and address of the petitioner; the purposes for which roasted coffee is used or is desired to be used by him; the amount of roasted coffee so used by him in each month of 1941, and, if he was not in business during the entire year of 1941, the amount of roasted coffee so used by him in each month of 1942; the amount of allotments being sought; the amount of the allotment or allotments, if any, which he is entitled to receive as an institutional user, pursuant to General Ration Order 5, or as a Class A industrial user, pursuant to Ration Order No. 12; and any other facts deemed pertinent by such Class B industrial user. The Office of Price Administration may, before acting on any such petition, require the petitioner to furnish any additional information it deems pertinent.

Certificates and Coffee Stamps

§ 1407.1020 Nature and validity of certificates and coffee stamps. * * *

(e) A person receiving coffee stamps or certificates from a retailer, wholesaler, or institutional or industrial user may, if requested by the person surrendering the coffee stamps or certificates, transfer to such person a quantity of roasted coffee equal to the weight value of the coffee stamps and certificates so received, plus an additional quantity of roasted coffee equal to either: (1) an amount, not in excess of ten percent of the weight value of the coffee stamps or certificates so received, required to make a total quantity equal to a carload or (2) an amount not in excess of 23 pounds, required to permit a transfer in shipping packages customarily used by the transferor. The person acquiring roasted coffee in a quantity greater than the weight value of the coffee stamps and certificates surrendered by him shall be charged with such excess and shall surrender to the transferor coffee stamps or certificates in weight value equal to such excess within 15 days after such acquisition.

* * * * *

§ 1407.1032 Use of checks by depositors and nondepositors. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Ration Order No. 12:

* * * * *

(c) A depositor who has received coffee stamps, certificates, or checks from a retailer, wholesaler, institutional user, or industrial user may issue to him a check in weight value equal to the roasted coffee which he has not transferred against such coffee stamps, certificates, or checks, but which he is then authorized to transfer to such retailer, wholesaler, institutional user, or industrial user against such coffee stamps, certificates, or checks.

Transfer and Acquisition of Green Coffee

§ 1407.1042 Disposition of purchase warrants, certain certificates, and ration credits by roasters. * * *

(b) Every institutional or Class A industrial user who roasts green coffee shall retain in his possession, until further order by the Office of Price Administration, all certificates which, on or prior to March 1, 1943, cease to authorize the acquisition of roasted coffee. In April 1943 each such institutional and Class A industrial user shall forward to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., together with the report required to be made by him by § 1407.1071 (b), (1) a statement specifying the weight value of the certificates retained by him pursuant to this paragraph, and (2) a check in a weight value which, when added to the weight value of the certificates retained by him pursuant to this paragraph, shall be equal to 84 percent of the weight of the green coffee roasted by him between November 22, 1942, and March 31, 1943, inclusive. In every month subsequent to April 1943 each such institutional and Class A industrial user shall forward to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., together with the report required to be made by him by § 1407.1071 (b), a check equal in weight value to 84 percent of the weight of the green coffee roasted by him during the month for which such report is made.

* * * * *

(d) If a person issues a check to the Office of Price Administration pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, he shall, within three months thereafter, issue to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a check equal in weight value to the difference in weight value between the check he was required to issue pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, and the check he actually issued: Provided, however, That no such additional check need be issued on account of any deficiency in the weight value of a check due to the surrender or issuance of evidences to the board pursuant to § 1407.985, or to the fact that an institutional or Class A industrial user was not issued certificates for the amount by which his initial inventory exceeded his allowable inventory.

Transfers Permitted Without the Surrender of Coffee Stamps, Certificates, or Purchase Warrants and Irrespective of Restrictions on the Acquisition of Green Coffee

§ 1407.1047 Coffee included in initial inventory. Any coffee included in the initial inventory of a person, or which has been included, or was required to be included, in the opening inventory of an institutional user establishment pursuant to General Ration Order 5, may be transferred to said person or establishment without the surrender of evidences or purchase warrants and irrespective of any restriction on the acquisition of green coffee imposed by Ration Order No. 12.

* * * * *

§ 1407.1050 Transfers between establishments owned by same person. Any person may transfer coffee, without the surrender of evidences, between establishments owned by him except between institutional establishments which are registered separately pursuant to General Ration Order 5.

* * * * *

§ 1407.1055a Limitation on application of §§ [407.1054 and 1407.1055. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in §§ 1407.1054 and 1407.1055, the provisions of those sections shall not apply to institutional establishments.

§ 1407.1056 Disposal of damaged coffee and undamaged coffee mingled therewith or coffee in a bag, package, or other container damaged while in transit by common carrier. * * *

(c) * * * (3) An institutional or Class A industrial user may use such roasted coffee subject to the provisions of § 1407.1002 (b).

* * * * *

§ 1407.1061 Disposal of roasted coffee acquired without coffee stamps or certificates. Any person who acquires roasted coffee without the surrender of coffee stamps or certificates, pursuant to § 1407.1060, may thereafter, if an institutional or Class A industrial user, use such roasted coffee subject to the provisions of § 1407.1002 (b) or may transfer such roasted coffee only upon surrender to him of appropriate coffee stamps or certificates, except as otherwise expressly permitted by Ration Order No. 12. Such coffee stamps or certificates shall, within five days after each such transfer, be surrendered for cancellation to the State Director of the State in which such person resides or in which his principal business office is located.

Petitions for Adjustment; New Business

§ 1407.1065 Petitions for adjustment of base, allotment, inventory, or allowable inventory. * * *

(c) No institutional user may petition for adjustment of his roasted coffee base or allotment pursuant to this section.

* * * * *

Reports and Records

§ 1407.1070 By institutional and industrial users. Every institutional user and every industrial user shall maintain a record showing by months, the amounts of green and roasted coffee acquired by him and the names and addresses of the persons from whom such coffee was acquired, the amount of green coffee roasted by him, and, in the case of a Class B industrial user, the amount of coffee used by him in products transferred by him.

Enforcement

§ 1407.1089 Saving clause. No provision of any amendment to Ration Order No. 12 (unless such amendment otherwise expressly provides) effecting the dissolution of registering units, resulting in the amendment or cancellation of registrations, placing persons or establishments once subject to Ration Order No. 12 under another order, or removing limitations or restrictions theretofore imposed by Ration Order No. 12 from persons, establishments, or registering units shall be deemed to (1) excuse the failure to discharge or perform any duty or obligation or (2) condone any acts or omissions to act, by any person, establishment, or registering unit, prior to the effective date of such amendment.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m. on March 1, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 13,[1] Amendment 2]

PROCESSED FOODS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

Ration Order 13 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 4.4 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) As part of his registration, a wholesaler must report, on OPA Form R-1310, his inventory of processed foods (by items and sizes) at the opening of business on March 1, 1943, and the point value of his inventory of processed foods (by items and sizes) at the close of business on March 31, 1943. If he has more than one wholesale establishment, his registration must include a report of the total point value of his inventory at all these establishments. His inventory at the end of each month must then be reported in his report for that month.

2. Section 6.1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) An "industrial user establishment" is any place at which "processed foods" are used in producing or manufacturing for sale or "transfer" any product which is not a processed food. (For example, a bakery at which canned peaches are used in baking peach pies, for sale or transfer, is an industrial user establishment. Canned peaches are processed foods, but peach pie is not.) A place at which processed foods are used in producing other processed foods is a "processor establishment" and not an industrial user establishment. (An example of this would be the use of canned peaches for making canned fruit salad, since both canned peaches and canned fruit salad are processed foods.) Moreover, a place, such as a restaurant, at which processed foods are used in the preparation for service and the service of meals, would be an "institutional user establishment," and not an industrial user establishment. (An "institutional user" may obtain processed foods allotments, and may use processed foods, only in accordance with the provisions of General Ration Order 5.)

3. Section 6.7 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) His allotment is computed in the same way as that of an industrial user who registered on time. However, unless he shows good cause for his failure to register on time, his allotment is to be reduced in proportion to the part of the allotment period which had elapsed at the time he registered.

4. Section 6.10 is added, to read as follows:

SEC. 6.10 Dry beans, peas and lentils, and dried and dehydrated soups and soup mixtures are included in classes of processed foods. (a) Whenever this order refers to processed foods by classes, the class of canned and bottled processed foods includes dry beans, peas and lentils, and the class of dried and dehydrated processed foods includes dried and dehydrated soups and soup mixtures.

5. Section 9.5 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) When points must be given up. The transferor must get the points from the transferee, and the transferee must give them up, at or before the time when the transfer is made. However, if the transfer is made through shipment by railroad or any other public carrier, the transferor may arrange to have the carrier get the points for him from the transferee, at the time of actual delivery, or to have the points obtained for him by anyone in exchange for the bill of lading or other document entitling its holder to take possession of the processed foods. Where transfer is made by delivery at a time when the transferor or his authorized agent or the transferee or his authorized agent are not present, the points may be given up later, but not more than seventy-two hours after the delivery.

6. Section 9.5 (e) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) General. Points may be transferred freely between establishments of the same type operated by the same person, and points of one of those establishments may be used to get processed foods for another of them. However, this rule does not apply to the movement of points between institutional user establishments, which is covered by the provisions of General Ration Order 5.

7. Section 10.4 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) This rule does not apply to the movement of stocks between "institutional user establishments", which is covered by the provisions of General Ration Order 5.

8. Section 10.9 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 10.9 Processed foods may be transferred to prospective buyers for sampling, point-free and may be used for sampling and demonstration. (a) A processor may deliver processed foods to prospective buyers (other than consumers) for sampling, without getting points. However, he may not deliver in this way more than one-fortieth of one percent of the total amount of processed foods produced or imported by him.

(b) A retailer or "wholesaler" who acquires processed foods from a processor may sample some of them in order to check grades and quality, and may use some of them to demonstrate them to prospective purchasers other than consumers. However, he may not use for this purpose more than one-tenth of one percent of the total amount of processed foods acquired by him. A wholesaler shall attach to his monthly report to the Washington Office on OPA Form R-1310 a statement accounting for the amount of processed foods used by him for sampling or demonstration to prospective purchasers.

9. Section 10.12 is added, to read as follows:

SEC. 10.12 Processors may transfer point free to allow for spoilage. (a) In any case in which a processor makes a money allowance to his transferee to cover spoilage of the processed foods transferred, he may, in order to allow for spoilage, transfer to his transferee, without receiving points, processed foods in an amount not exceeding the same percentage of the total amount transferred that the money allowance made is of the total price paid. However, such transfer may not, in any event, exceed one-fourth of one percent of the total amount transferred.

(b) If the actual spoilage of processed foods transferred by a processor exceeds one-fourth of one percent, the transferee may return the spoiled foods to the processor and receive points for the difference between the amount spoiled and any allowance already made. However, if he does not return the spoiled processed foods, he may receive points for that difference only if and to the extent that the processor makes a money adjustment for the spoiled processed foods.

(c) The processor must keep a record of the name and address of each person to whom such point-free transfers and point returns are made, the dates thereof, and the amounts of such transfers and returns.

10. Section 14.4 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Spoiled processed foods. No adjustment, other than that provided in section 10.12 are granted for processed foods which spoiled. Spoiled processed foods not covered in section 10.12 may be replaced only by exchanging them for other processed foods of equal point value. However, a "processor" must account, in his monthly report to the Washington office, for processed foods which spoiled in his hands, or which he took back in an exchange.

11. Section 14.4 (c) is revoked.

12. Section 14.6 is added, to read as follows:

SEC. 14.6 Dry beans, peas and lentils may be acquired for use as seed.

(a) Any person who needs dry beans, peas, or lentils for use as seed may apply, on OPA Form R–315, for a certificate for the number of points needed to acquire them. The application must be made to the Board for the place where he lives, and must show:

(1) The name and address of the applicant;

(2) The reasons why he needs the dry beans, peas or lentils;

(3) The amount needed.

He must also give any other information which the board may require. If the board finds that the dry beans, peas or lentils will be used for seed, it shall issue a certificate for the number of points needed to acquire them.

13. Section 19.4 is added, to read as follows:

SEC. 19.4 General ration order 5 governs whenever inconsistent with this order. (a) If any provision of this order is inconsistent with the provisions of General Ration Order 5, the provisions of General Ration Order 5 shall govern, and shall supersede the provisions of this order to the extent that they are inconsistent.

14. Article XXII, containing sections 22.1, 22.2, and 22.3, is added, to read as follows:

Article XXII: Exports

SEC. 22.1 Processed foods may be exported point-free. (a) Any "person" who exports "processed foods" to any foreign country or to any territory or possession of the United States (other than the District of Columbia) need not receive points for the export.

SEC. 22.2 Points may be obtained to acquire processed foods for export.

(a) A person who needs points with which to "acquire" processed foods for export to any foreign country or to any territory or possession of the United States (other than the District of Columbia), may apply, on OPA Form R–315, to the district office (or, where there is none, to the State office) for the place where his principal business office is located. The application must show:

(1) His name and business address;

(2) The port (or other shipping point) from which they will be shipped, and the method of shipment;

(3) The name and address of the person to whom the foods are to be exported; and

(4) The number of points needed.

He must also give any other information which the district (or State) office may request. However, military or naval information which is secret in nature need not be disclosed.

(b) If the district (or State) office finds that the processed foods will be acquired for export, it shall issue a "certificate" for the number of points needed.

(c) No person may use processed foods acquired for a certificate issued under this section, for any purpose other than export to a foreign country or to a territory or possession of the United States (other than the District of Columbia). However, if he is unable to export them, he may dispose of them by sale or transfer in the way a "retailer" is permitted to do so under this order. Immediately after such a sale or transfer, he must give up to the district (or State) office all points received for them.

SEC. 22.3 Exporter must account for all processed foods exported. (a) Any person who exports processed foods (other than a consumer who acquired them with his "stamps") must submit a copy of a Shippers' Export Declaration (Commerce Form 7525) to the Office of Price Administration within seven days after the export. The declaration must contain a list of the processed foods exported and must contain a signed statement by an authorized customs official that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, those processed foods were exported by such person. A "processor", or a "wholesaler" who did not receive an advance of points under section 22.2 must mail the declaration to the "Washington Office" along with his report for the month in which he exported the processed foods. Any other person must send the declaration to the district (or State) office.

(b) If the foods were consigned to an agency of the United States and no Shippers' Export declaration was filed at the time of the shipment the exporter may submit, instead of the Declaration, a bill of lading, manifest, or other satisfactory evidence that the foods were actually exported.

(c) A person who received an advance of points under section 22.2 must account to the district (or State) office within thirty days for all the points he received. At that time he must return any points which he did not use to acquire processed foods for export. If, within that time, he exported all the processed foods which he acquired with the points received, he need only submit the declaration or other evidence of export.

(d) A retailer or wholesaler who exported processed foods and who did not receive an advance of points under section 22.2 may, when he submits the declaration or other evidence of export, apply on OPA Form R–315 for points equal to the point value of the processed foods he exported. If the district (or State) or the Washington office finds that the stated amount of processed foods was exported by the applicant and that he has not already received points with which to acquire or replace them, it shall issue a certificate to him for the number of points of processed foods which he exported.

(e) An agency of the United States which has exported processed foods need not submit a declaration or other evidence of export, and need not account for an advance of points under section 22.2.

15. A new Article XXIII, containing sections 23.1, 23.2, 23.3, 23.4, 23.5, 23.6, 23.7 and 23.8, is added to read as follows:

SEC. 23.1 Exempt agencies may acquire processed foods. (a) Nothing in this order restricts the amounts of "processed foods" which may be "acquired" by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard of the United States or by the War Shipping Administration, Office of Lend-Lease Administration or Food Distribution Administration. (These agencies are referred to in this order as "exempt agencies" and are exempt agencies for the purpose of General Ration Order 3B.) In addition, the Army Exchange Service, to the extent it acquires processed foods for export to a foreign country or a territory or possession of the United States (except the District of Columbia), and ships' service departments afloat, are exempt agencies under this order and General Ration Order 3B, and may acquire processed foods without restriction as to quantity.

SEC. 23.2 How exempt agencies acquire processed foods. (a) Each of the agencies listed in Section 23.1 is authorized to open one or more exempt ration bank accounts of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. Processed foods may be "transferred" to and acquired by these agencies only in exchange for points in the form of ration checks equal to the point value of the processed foods transferred. However, processed foods may be transferred between or within these agencies without the surrender of points.

(b) Any "person" who transfers processed foods to any of these agencies must, at or before the time of delivery, submit to it an invoice or other statement for the points payable on account of the transfer. The ration check must be sent to the transferor at the time of delivery or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(c) If for any reason a ration check cannot be used when one of these agencies acquires processed foods, an emergency acknowledgment shall be given to the transferor, instead of a check. This acknowledgment may be in any form, but must show the name of the agency, the name and address of the activity within the agency for which the processed foods are acquired, the name and address of the activity to which the emergency acknowledgment must be sent for replacement by a ration check.

the point value of the processed foods acquired, and the date of acquisition. The acknowledgment must be signed by an authorized officer or employee of the agency, and must show his official title or rank. A person to whom such an acknowledgment is given may not exchange it at a "board" or use it to acquire processed foods but must send it to the agency activity designated thereon, and a ration check for the amount of processed foods transferred shall be given to him in exchange for the acknowledgment.

SEC. 23.3 Post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore may acquire processed foods for points. (a) Processed foods may be transferred to and acquired by Army exchanges, post exchanges of the Marine Corps, and ships' service departments ashore of the Navy and Coast Guard, and other similar activities designated by the respective exempt agencies, only in exchange for points in the form of ration checks equal to the point value of the processed foods transferred, without regard to who transfers them. However, Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments ashore, and similar designated activities, may not open ration bank accounts with unlimited drawing privileges of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. Points needed by these activities for the acquisition of processed foods will be issued to them in accordance with arrangements between the Office of Price Administration and the Army Exchange Service of the United States War Department, and the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the Navy Department, the Coast Guard and the Marine Corps. (The issuance of points for use by Army exchanges, post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore for the acquisition of processed foods for institutional use is covered by General Ration Order 5.)

(b) Points may be transferred freely without a transfer of processed foods among ration bank accounts maintained for Army exchanges, among accounts maintained for post exchanges, among accounts maintained for ships' service departments ashore of the Navy, and among accounts maintained for ships' service departments ashore of the Coast Guard.

(c) During March 1943, Army exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore, and similar designated activities, may, if ration checks are unavailable, use emergency acknowledgments to acquire processed foods, in the way described in section 23.2 (c). An emergency aknowledgment issued under this section may not be used by the person to whom it was issued to acquire processed foods, but must be exchanged for a ration check at the activity designated thereon.

SEC. 23.4 Sales commissaries, post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore may transfer processed foods for points. (a) Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments, ashore, sales commissaries, commissary stores and any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard and the Food Distribution Administration may transfer processed foods only in exchange for points in the same way as "retailers" are permitted to make transfers under this order. However, they are not required to register as retailers, "wholesalers", or "processors".

(b) All points so received by Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments ashore, sales commissaries, commissary stores, or any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard or by the Food Distribution Administration must be deposited in the ration bank accounts maintained for them. These points may then be used to acquire other processed foods.

SEC. 23.5 Veterans' administration may apply for certificates to acquire processed foods. (a) The veterans' Administration may apply to any District or State Office, or to the Washington Office, for certificates to acquire processed foods. Upon such application, one or more certificates will be issued to permit the acquisition of the amount of processed foods needed.

SEC. 23.6 Industrial users may replenish processed foods used in transfers to exempt agencies. (a) Any "industrial user" who transfers to any exempt agency any products which he manufactured after February 28, 1943, in the manufacture of which he used processed foods, may apply to and obtain from his board a "certificate" equal in point value to the processed foods used by him in such products. The application shall be made on OPA Form R–315 and shall set forth the nature and amount of the products, the time when the products were manufactured, the date when such products were transferred and the amount of processed foods used by him in such products. The application shall be accompanied by such evidence of transfer to the exempt agency as the board may require. If a certificate is issued under this section, the industrial user's allotment for the allotment period in which it is issued shall be considered increased by the amount of the certificate.

SEC. 23.7 Ships' stores for ocean-going vessels—(a) The owner of the vessel must get a statement from the collector of the customs. Any person who operates an ocean-going vessel engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers in foreign, coastwise, or intercoastal trade, and who needs processed foods as ships' stores, must get a statement signed by the Collector of the Customs (or his deputy) authorizing the operator of the vessel (or his agent) to acquire a specified amount of processed foods as ships' stores.

(b) Acquisition of the processed foods by the owner of the vessel. The operator of the vessel (or his agent) may, without giving up points, acquire processed foods up to the amount shown on the Customs Collector's statement, by giving the statement to the person from whom he acquired the processed foods.

(c) Transfer of processed foods to the owner of the vessel. In exchange for the Customs Collector's statement, any retailer, wholesaler, or processor may, without getting points, transfer processed foods to the operator of the vessel (or his agent) up to the amount specified on the statement. A retailer or wholesaler may then exchange the Customs Collector's statement for a certificate, at his board. He must attach to the statement a signed receipt, invoice, or other evidence to prove the transfer of the processed foods. If the board is satisfied that the processed foods were transferred as ships' stores, it shall issue a certificate to the retailer or wholesaler for the number of points needed to replace the processed foods transferred. A processor must send the Customs Collector's statement and the attached receipt or other evidence with his monthly report (on Form OPA R–1305) to the Office of Price Administration, care of the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C.

SEC. 23.8 Governmental investigatory agencies may acquire processed foods needed in their investigations. (a) An investigatory agency of the United States or of any State or local government which needs processed foods in order to perform its inspections or investigations may apply for points to acquire them. The application must be in writing, on an official letterhead of the agency (if any is available), and must state the name of the agency, the purpose for which points are needed, the period during which they are needed, and the number of points required. An agency of the United States may make its application to the Washington Office, or to any district or State office. An agency of a State or local government shall apply to the district office (or, where there is none, to the State office). If the district, State, or Washington Office finds that points are needed in order to carry on the investigatory activities of the agency, it shall issue one or more certificates for the number of points required.

(b) The Food and Drug Administration of the Federal Security Agency (which is hereby designated an exempt agency for this purpose) may open one or more exempt ration book accounts of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. However, it may issue ration checks against those accounts only to acquire processed foods which are needed for inspection or investigation.

(c) Any government agency which acquires processed foods under this section may, after they have served the purpose for which they were acquired, dispose of them to any federal, state or local institution without receiving points for them. The institution which receives the processed foods shall report in writing the amount received and the date on which it was received to the district (or State) office for the area in which it is located. Its allotment shall not be regarded as increased by such acquisition.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m. on March 1, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 13,[1] Amendment 3]

PROCESSED FOODS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 13 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1.1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The following foods called "processed foods," are covered by this order:

(1) All fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetable juices, soups, and baby foods, packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by the use of heat;

(2) All frozen fruits and vegetables;

(3) All dried and dehydrated fruits and soups;

(4) All dry beans, lentils, and peas.

The only foods in the above group which are not covered by this order are listed in Appendix A (section 30.1). The foods listed in Appendix A are not "processed foods" as that term is used.

2. Section 21.1 (a) (10) is amended to read as follows:

(10) "Processed foods" means:

(i) All fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetable juices, soups, and baby foods, packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by the use of heat;

(ii) All frozen fruits and vegetables;

(iii) All dried and dehydrated fruits and soups;

(iv) All dry beans, lentils, and peas.

The only foods in the above group which are not covered by this order are listed in Appendix A (section 30.1). The foods listed in Appendix A are not "processed foods" as that term is used.

3. Section 21.1 (a) (12) (iii) is amended to read as follows:

(iii) Sorts, washes, and dries or dehydrates fruits; or

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. A-1759]

KISTLER COAL COMPANY

ORDER CONTINUING TEMPORARY RELIEF, ETC.

Order continuing temporary relief terminating conditionally final relief and notice of and order for hearing in the matter of the petition of the Kistler Coal Company, code member in District No. 14, for revision of certain price classifications and minimum prices for coals produced from the Rock Island Mine.

An original petition was filed with this Division on November 23, 1942, by the above-named party, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requesting revision of the price classifications and minimum prices for the coals in Size Group Nos. 4, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 18 produced from the Rock Island Mine, Mine Index No. 203, of the Kistler Coal Company, located in Subdistrict No. 6 of District No. 14 for shipments by both rail and truck.

On December 26, 1942, a memorandum opinion and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief was issued in this matter (8 F.R. 348) temporarily establishing the price classifications and minimum prices requested by petitioner for the coals of the Rock Island Mine, Mine Index No. 203 of the Kistler Coal Company in Size Group Nos. 4, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 18. This order further provided that the relief granted therein would become final within sixty (60) days from the date thereof unless it should otherwise be ordered.

The Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel, on February 9, 1943, filed with the Division an intervention and answer in opposition to temporary and final relief pending public hearing contending that the allegations contained in the original petition were not sufficient to warrant the final relief prayed for by petitioner and praying that the order of December 26, 1942, providing for conditionally final relief, be rescinded until after a public hearing upon the petition.

In view of the issue raised by the intervention and answer of the Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel, it appears that no permanent relief should be granted in this matter without a hearing. However, no sufficient reason having been advanced by the Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel to warrant termination of the temporary relief heretofore granted by the order entered herein on December 26, 1942, it is deemed advisable to continue such temporary relief in effect pending final disposition of this proceeding.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the price classifications and minimum prices temporarily established for the coals of the Rock Island Mine, Mine Index No. 203 of the Kistler Coal Company, by the order entered in this matter on December 26, 1942, be, and they hereby are, continued in effect pending further order herein.

It is further ordered, That the permanent relief conditionally provided for by the order entered in this matter on December 26, 1942, be, and it hereby is, terminated.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and the rules of the Division be held on March 18, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, at the Sebastian County Courthouse, Fort Smith, Arkansas.

[1] Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.
8 F.R. 1840, 2288.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing; to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before March 13, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein, may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of the original petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of the Kistler Coal Company for revision of certain price classifications and minimum prices for coals produced from its Rock Island Mine, Mine Index No. 203, located in Subdistrict No. 6 of District No. 14 for all shipments except truck and for truck shipments as follows:

ESTATE OF KATHERINA BERNARD

In re: Estate of Katherina Bernard, deceased; File No. D-28-1868; E. T. sec. 1653.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act as amended, Executive Order 9095 as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by the Treasurer of the City of New York as depositary acting under the judicial supervision of the Surrogate's Court of the State of New York, in and for Kings County;

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany, namely,

Nationals:	Last known address
Valtin Petry	Germany.
Eva Schneider	Germany.
Angela Shemer	Germany.
John Petry	Germany.

And determining that—

(3) If such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of Valtin Petry, Eva Schneider, Angela Shemer and John Petry, and each of them, in and to the Estate of Katherina Bernard, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Dated: February 24, 1943.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[Order 1 Under MPR 143]

THE POLSON RUBBER COMPANY

APPROVAL OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 1 Under Maximum Price Regulation No. 143[1]—Wholesale Prices for New Rubber Tires and Tubes. Maximum wholesale prices for passenger-car tubes marked "Type B" of brands of The Polson Rubber Company.

Pursuant to paragraph (e) in § 1315.1501 and for the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

(a) Sale by The Polson Rubber Company to The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. The maximum wholesale prices on the sale or delivery by The Polson Rubber Company to The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of passenger-car tubes marked "Type B" of brands of The Polson Rubber Company shall be the prices on Polson's dealer list for comparable tubes less the following chain of discounts: 10%—10%—5%—5%, increased by a dollar amount equal to the Defense Supplies Corporation pool charges which The Polson Rubber Company has paid on such tubes.

(b) Subsequent sales. The maximum wholesale prices on all sales or deliveries at wholesale other than that covered by paragraph (a), of passenger-car tubes marked "Type B" of brands of The Polson Rubber Company shall be calculated as follows:

(1) For any seller who sold or offered for sale during March, 1942, passenger-car tubes of brands of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, apply to the maximum retail price established by Revised Price Schedule No. 63,[2] apart from the 16% increase provided in paragraph (n) of § 1315.110, for the Type B Polson tube all discounts from consumer list prices which the seller had in effect on March 1, 1942 for a purchaser of the same class on the brand of Firestone tubes which has a maximum retail price on the 6.00-16 size nearest to the maximum retail price of the 6.00-16 size of the brand of Type B Polson tubes being priced, and increase the resultant price by a dollar amount equal to 16% of the maximum retail price for the Type B Polson tube.

(2) For any seller who did not sell or offer for sale during March, 1942, passenger-car tubes of brands of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, calculate a price under subparagraph (1) using, in place of the brand of Firestone tubes called for in that subparagraph, the brand of tubes which the seller did sell or offer for sale during March, 1942, which is most comparable to such Firestone brand.

(c) Notification. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company shall notify or cause to be notified in writing every person who buys for resale at wholesale tubes marked "Type B" of brands of The Polson Rubber Company, of the method set forth in this Order for determining maximum wholesale prices on such Type B tubes.

(d) This order shall supersede any different maximum prices for passenger-car tubes marked "Type B" of brands of The Polson Rubber Company which may be established by the provisions of paragraphs (a) to (d) of § 1315.1501 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 143. All other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 143 shall remain applicable to the tubes covered by this order.

(e) This Order No. 1 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) This Order No. 1 shall become effective March 6, 1943.

[Amendment 3 to Emergency Order 4 Under Ration Order 11]

FUEL OIL SHORTAGE IN CONNECTICUT

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Regional Administrator by § 1394.5715 of Ration Order No. 11, as amended, paragraphs (a) and (b) (3) are amended to read as follows:

(a) Findings. The Regional Administrator finds that in the State of Connecticut, as the result of the continuing inadequacy of the supply of fuel oils of grades Nos. 2, 3 and 4, including Diesel oil and gas oil, there exists an emergency in the transportation and distribution of such fuel oils which endangers the public health, the public welfare and the war effort.

(b) Scope of order. * * *

(3) This emergency order shall be effective in the State of Connecticut.

Effective date of amendment No. 3. Amendment No. 3 to Emergency Order No. 4 shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., February 26, 1943.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421, and 507, 77th Cong., W.P.B. Dir. 1, 7 F.R. 562, Supp. Dir. 1-0, 7 F.R. 8418; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719, Ration Order No. 11, 7 F.R. 8480)

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

KENNETH B. BACKMAN,
Regional Administrator.

OKLAHOMA POWER AND WATER CO.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 27th day of February, A. D. 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by the above named party; and

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 6, 1943 at 5:30 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such declaration or application as filed or as amended may become effective or may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration or application, which is on file in the office of said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Oklahoma Power and Water Company, a subsidiary of The Middle West Corporation, a registered holding company, proposes to prepay $100,000 principal amount of its 5% Unsecured Promissory Notes aggregating $412,000 and due August 1, 1943, as heretofore extended, to the payee, Sand Springs Home, Sand Springs, Oklahoma, and to extend the maturity of the principal amount of $312,000, so that payments will be made upon principal at the rate of $4,000 monthly from September 1, 1943 to August 1, 1947 and at the rate of $5,000 monthly from September 1, 1947 to August 1, 1949, and to issue two Unsecured Promissory Notes in the amounts of $172,000 and $140,000, respectively, as evidence of the amount due. Oklahoma Power and Water Company also proposes to prepay $100,000 principal amount of collateral notes held by Harris Trust and Savings Bank, The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, City National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, National Bank of Tulsa, First National Bank and Trust Company (Tulsa, Oklahoma), and First National Bank and Trust Company (Oklahoma City, Oklahoma) due July 27, 1944 in the aggregate principal amount of $1,575,000, and to cancel $420,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage 5% 20 Year Gold Bonds, Series B due February 1, 1949, and $80,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage 5% 20 Year Gold Bonds, Series A due February 1, 1948, previously deposited with said banks as collateral.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

The President

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9307

AMENDING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 8384 OF MARCH 29, 1940, PRESCRIBING REGULATIONS RELATING TO ANNUAL LEAVE OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 7 of the act of March 14, 1936, entitled "An Act to provide for vacations to Government employees, and for other purposes" (49 Stat. 1161), as amended by the act of December 17, 1942 (Public Law 806—77th Congress), Executive Order No. 8384 of March 29, 1940,[1] prescribing regulations relating to the annual leave of Government employees is hereby amended as follows:

1. Section 1 (f) of the said Executive order is amended to read as follows:

"'Accumulated leave' means the unused annual leave not exceeding sixty days, or not exceeding ninety days in case unused annual leave has accumulated during the national emergency declared by the President on September 8, 1939, is included, which has accrued during years prior to the current year in accordance with the provisions of section 2 of these Regulations."

2. Section 2 of the said Executive order is amended to read as follows:

"(a). Permanent employees who have been employed continuously for one year or more and who do not contemplate leaving the service during the current calendar year shall be entitled to current annual leave with pay at any time during such calendar year not in excess of twenty-six days.

"(b). In addition to current annual leave employees may be granted accumulated leave in accordance with the following subsections.

"(c). That part of any current annual leave which is not used by an employee in any calendar year shall be accumulated and be available for succeeding years to the extent that it does not exceed sixty days.

"(d). Upon the accumulation of the sixty days of leave provided for in the preceding subsection, employees may accumulate not to exceed thirty additional days of leave during the national emergency declared by the President on September 8, 1939. Such additional accumulation shall not exceed fifteen days in any calendar year and shall apply only to annual leave which has accrued after September 8, 1939, and has not been used. Such additional leave as may be accumulated by the employee under this subsection shall continue to be available to the employee after the emergency shall have ceased to exist. Departments and agencies having employees subject to the annual leave regulations prescribed by the said Executive Order No. 8384, as herein amended, shall take such steps as may be necessary to adjust the leave records of such employees retroactively so as to make this subsection effective as of September 8, 1939."

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Dockets No. A-56 and No. A-59]

PART 335—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 15

ORDER AMENDING AND CLARIFYING MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

Order amending and clarifying the memorandum opinion and order of the Acting Director dated August 4, 1942 in the matter of the petition of District Board 15, praying for changes in the schedule of effective minimum prices for District 15, for all shipments except truck, by amending (1) price instruction 11 (d) and (2) the special price instruction appearing in the schedule of delivered differentials, page 12 of the schedule, and in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 15, requesting modification of the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 15, for all shipments except truck, by amending the effective minimum prices for code members in District No. 15 on shipments of off line railroad locomotive fuel to the Chicago and Great Western Railroad and Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad.

The memorandum opinion and order of the Acting Director entered in the above entitled matters on August 4, 1942, (7 F.R. 6065) inter alia, at page 6067, modified price instruction (11) (iv) as set forth in § 335.1 (Price instructions and exceptions—(a) Price instructions) to read as follows:

The maintenance of the delivered differentials as provided above shall be subject to the limitation that the maximum reduction of the schedule price shall not exceed 60 cents: Provided, That only those mines in the various production groups for which f. o. b. mine prices are listed into a given market area shall be permitted any absorption privileges. Those production groups not having listed f. o. b. mine prices into a specifically named market area shall be considered "unpriced coals".

The foregoing price instruction, as modified, has occasioned some confusion regarding the application of minimum prices upon coals produced in production groups other than Production Group 3 in District No. 15 for shipment by rail to destinations in certain market areas in the State of Iowa. In § 335.7 (General prices; domestic, commercial and industrial coal schedule), minimum prices are listed for coals, in the various size groups, for shipment by rail from mines in Production Group No. 3, to destinations in Market Areas 47 to 50, 53 to 55, 57, 59, 63 to 66, and 68. The special price instruction set forth at the top of page 24, said schedule reads as follows:

The prices below are based on the lowest published freight origin group rate from Production Group No. 3. To certain indicated destinations to which there are no published freight origin group rates from Production Group No. 3, prices are based on the lowest published freight origin group rate from Production Group No. 2. Mines in other production groups may adjust these f. o. b. mine prices in accordance with the schedule of delivered differentials shown in § 335.6. For f. o. b. mine prices to all other destinations in these Market Areas, see last table in this section.

A similar price instruction set forth at the top of the last table in § 335.7, states with respect to the minimum prices listed in that table that:

These prices are based on the lowest published freight origin group rate from Production Group No. 3. Mines in other Production Groups may adjust these f. o. b. mine prices in accordance with the schedule of delivered differentials shown in § 335.6.

Since the minimum prices listed in the last two tables in § 335.7 apply only to shipments of coals originating in Production Group 3, and in some few instances Production Group 2, the minimum prices for mines in other production groups have heretofore been computed in accordance with the schedule of delivered differentials shown in § 335.6, as authorized by the special price instructions set forth above. However, in view of the wording of price instruction (11) (iv), as modified by the order entered in Docket Nos. A-56 and A-59 on August 4, 1942 (7 F.R. 6065), the question has arisen as to whether or not mines in production groups, other than Production Group No. 3, in District No. 15, in the absence of listed f. o. b. mine prices into specifically named market areas in the State of Iowa, may continue to compute minimum prices pursuant to the authority granted in the special price instructions.

The modification of price instruction (11) (iv) in § 335.1, effected by the order entered in Docket Nos. A-56 and A-59, on August 4, 1942, was in no way intended to limit or restrict the computation of minimum prices for the coals of mines in production groups other than Production Group No. 3, when for shipment by rail to destinations in the State of Iowa. No reference is made in the above-mentioned order to the special price instructions appearing at the top of the last two tables in § 335.7. Nor are such price instructions in any way terminated or modified by that order. However, in view of the possibilities of misinterpretations thereof in the application of minimum prices to District 15 coals, it is deemed advisable to amend and clarify the above-mentioned order to specifically exclude from the provisional portion of price instruction (11) (iv), as modified, shipments of coal moving by rail from production groups in District No. 15 to destinations in Market Areas 47 to 50, 53 to 55, 57, 59, 63 to 66, and 68 in the State of Iowa.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the memorandum opinion and order of the Acting Director, entered in the above-mentioned matters on August 4, 1942 (7 F.R. 6065), be, and the same hereby is, amended by the insertion of the following paragraph and accompanying footnote, in lieu of the paragraph designated (3) set forth on page 6067 of said FEDERAL REGISTER:

The maintenance of the delivered differentials as provided above shall be subject to the limitation that the maximum reduction of the schedule price shall not exceed 60 cents: Provided,[1] That only those mines in the various production groups for which f. o. b. mine prices are listed into a given market area shall be permitted any absorption privileges. Those production groups not having listed f. o. b. mine prices into a specifically named market area shall be considered "unpriced coals".

Dated: March 1, 1943.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER, Director.

[F. R. Doc. 43-3337; Filed, March 1, 1943; 1:17 p. m.]

[1] This proviso does not apply in connection with coals shipped by rail from mines in those production groups in District No. 15, not having listed f. o. b. mine prices to Market Areas 47 to 50, 53 to 55, 59, 63 to 66, and 68 in the State of Iowa.

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1 as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 1047—PETROLEUM MATERIAL CONSERVATION

[Conservation Order M-68-c as Amended March 3, 1943]

Whereas the Congress of the United States has declared a "state of war between the United States and the Imperial Japanese Government," and has further adopted joint resolutions "declaring that a state of war exists between" the Government of Germany and the Government of Italy "and the Government and people of the United States"; and

Whereas the prosecution of this war requires the immediate increased use in emergency activities of vast quantities of steel, non-ferrous metals, rubber, and other critical materials; and

Whereas, it is imperative, in the public interest and to prosecute the war effort, to conserve the supply of such materials and direct the distribution thereof into vital emergency operations; and

Whereas, conservation of material by means of the restrictions hereinafter ordered on the use of such material in the marketing of petroleum is necessary in order to maintain the distribution of petroleum and petroleum products to the military and naval forces and to certain essential defense facilities;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That:

§ 1047.4 Conservation Order M-68-c—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the applicable provisions of any priorities regulation issued by the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Marketing" means the operation of all facilities (other than petroleum terminal or terminal storage facilities or marine, rail, pipeline or truck facilities used to transport petroleum) for distributing or dispensing petroleum (excluding natural gas), including without limitation the operation of service stations, substations, bulk plants, warehouses, wholesale depots, or facilities operated by "consumer accounts".

(3) "Petroleum" means petroleum, petroleum products, and associated hydrocarbons including but not limited to natural gas.

(4) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(5) "Structure" means any building, physical construction or portion thereof, used in marketing, but not including equipment used therein.

(6) "Equipment" means dispensing pumps and storage tanks (including skid tanks) having a capacity of more than 65 gallons used in marketing.

(7) "Advertising material" means any material (other than non-metallic material) used for such display or advertising purposes as are incident to marketing.

(8) Subject to subparagraph (10), "maintenance" means the upkeep of a structure or equipment in a sound working condition with a minimum expenditure of material.

(9) Subject to subparagraph (10) "repair" means the restoration of a structure or equipment to a sound working condition when such structure or equipment has been rendered unsafe or unfit for further service by wear and tear, damage, destruction or failure of parts or similar causes.

(10) The terms "maintenance" and "repair" do not include any of the following:

(i) The replacement of an item or part thereof where such replacement is carried on the books as a fixed asset;

(ii) The use of material for the improvement of a structure or equipment through the replacement of material in the existing installation, unless the item or part thereof which is replaced is beyond economic repair or has been rendered unusable by fire or other hazard or natural cause;

(iii) The use of material for additions to or expansion of a structure or equipment;

(iv) The use of material for a purpose which could not properly be charged on the books to "maintenance", "repair", or the equivalent in the established method of bookkeeping.

(11) "Farm" means any plot of land at least 10 acres of which are used for agricultural purposes for profit.

(12) "Supplier" means any person, other than an ultimate consumer, supplying petroleum directly or indirectly.

(c) Conservation of material used in marketing. Subject to the exceptions in paragraph (d) hereof, no person shall construct, reconstruct, expand or remodel any structure or install equipment or advertising material, and no person shall construct, equip or locate any tank truck or trailer where such tank truck or trailer is used or is to be used to deliver petroleum into the fuel supply tanks of passenger motor vehicles. Subject to the exceptions in paragraph (d) hereof, no person shall deliver or otherwise supply, or cause to be delivered or otherwise supplied, any material which he knows, or has reason to believe, is intended for such uses.

(d) Exceptions. The provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, shall not apply in the following instances:

(1) To any case where material is to be used by a person for the maintenance or repair of any structure or equipment.

(2) To any case where actual physical work of construction, reconstruction expansion, or remodeling of any structure or the installation of equipment or advertising material had commenced prior to January 14, 1942: Provided, That such work of construction, reconstruction, expansion, remodeling, or installation must then have been scheduled for completion and be actually completed on or before May 15, 1942.

(3) To any case where a structure or equipment is to be used exclusively for the official requirements of the armed forces of the United States.

(4) To any case where advertising material which was completely fabricated, but not necessarily assembled, on or before March 30, 1942, is to be installed.

(5) To any case where there occurs a transfer of title to or rights in any structure or equipment, which transfer does not involve the construction, reconstruction, expansion, or remodeling of such structure or the installation of equipment.

(6) To any case where equipment is to be installed as a replacement of equipment the repair of which cannot be effected on the premises: Provided, That: (i) in the case of storage tanks having a capacity of more than 65 gallons, the capacity of the tank which is to be installed does not exceed the capacity of the tank which is to be replaced; (ii) in the case of dispensing pumps, the pump which is to be installed is of the same type and design as the pump which is to be replaced.

(7) To any case (i) where any used dispensing pump is to be installed as a replacement of a dispensing pump which was manufactured not less than nine years prior to the date of such installation and which is beyond economic repair; (ii) where any dispensing pump, which was not removed from the stock of the manufacturer of such pump subsequent to November 1, 1942, is to be installed as a "drum" or "barrel" pump as these terms are known to the trade; (iii) where any used dispensing pump is to be installed at any location from which such dispensing pump had been previously removed for safekeeping or is to be installed as a replacement of a pump of the same type and design which had been removed from such location for safekeeping: Provided, That any person installing a dispensing pump pursuant to this subparagraph shall keep a record showing the date and location of the removal, the type and design of the pump removed, the date of the new installation and the type and design of the newly installed pump.

(8) To any case where equipment is to be installed to distribute petroleum to machinery or vehicles used directly in physical construction work on any project having a project rating higher than A-2: Provided, That such equipment shall be withdrawn from the location of the project upon the completion thereof and shall thereafter be subject to the provisions of this order.

(9) To any case where equipment is to be installed (i) to contain, distribute or dispense fuel oil classified as grade No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6 (including Bunker "C" fuel oil, kerosene, range oil, or gas oils) to stationary consuming facilities: Provided, That such equipment is not installed at any structure for use in carrying out marketing functions regularly performed by a service station, substation, bulk plant, warehouse, or wholesale depot; or (ii) to contain, distribute or dispense butane, propane, propylene, butene or any combination or dilution thereof commonly known as liquefied petroleum gas.

(10) To any case where used equipment which was completely fabricated on or before January 14, 1942 is to be installed on a farm and is used exclusively to dispense petroleum to machinery or vehicles used directly in operations on such farm: Provided, (i) That no supplier shall have any interest, legal or equitable, in such equipment and that no restrictions, other than those required by law, are imposed directly or indirectly on the use of such equipment by oral or written contract, agreement, understanding or by any means or device whatsoever whereby the use of such equipment is limited to the dispensing of petroleum of any supplier or suppliers; and (ii) That any person for whom such equipment is installed shall return any drums (of not less than 42 gallons capacity used for containing petroleum on such farm) owned by a supplier to such supplier and shall offer any other drums (of not less than 42 gallons capacity used for containing petroleum on such farm) for sale to suppliers at a price not exceeding the maximum price prescribed for such drums by the Office of Price Administration.

(11) To any case where the Director General for Operations has determined that the construction, reconstruction, expansion or remodeling of any structure, the installation of equipment or advertising material, or the equipping or locating of any tank truck or trailer is necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the war effort. Application for such a determination shall be made by letter and filed with the District Director of Marketing, Office of Petroleum Coordinator for War at:

(i) 122 East 42nd Street, New York, New York, if the material is to be used in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, or Florida, or the District of Columbia.

(ii) Suite 1336, 120 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois, if the material is to be used in the States of Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, or North Dakota.

(iii) 245 Mellie Esperson Building, Houston, Texas, if the material is to be used in the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, or New Mexico.

(iv) 320 First National Bank Building, Denver, Colorado, if the material is to be used in the States of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah or Idaho.

(v) 855 Subway Terminal Building, Los Angeles, California, if the material is to be used in the States of Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, or Washington, or the Territories of Alaska or Hawaii.

Information to be submitted in such application shall be in accordance with OPC Form PD-215 (Revised), issued by the Office of Petroleum Coordinator for War.

(e) Required certification. Any person, acquiring any material for use in the construction, reconstruction, expansion, or remodeling of any structure or any equipment or advertising material for installation purposes, shall endorse on all copies of each purchase order or contract for such material which are placed with any person, a statement in the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

> The material which is ordered in this purchase order (or contract) is to be used in conformity with the provisions of Conservation Order No. M-68-c, as amended, with the terms of which order the undersigned is familiar.
>
> ---
> Name of person
>
> By ---
> Signature of duly authorized official

Such endorsement shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and the person with whom the purchase order or contract is placed that the material obtained under such purchase order or contract will be used in accordance with the provisions of this order. Such person shall be entitled to rely on such representation unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false. No person shall, in the absence of such endorsement, deliver or otherwise supply, or cause to be delivered or otherwise supplied, any material which he knows, or has reason to believe, is intended for uses restricted by paragraph (c) of this order.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to any Department or agency of the United States in connection with this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

(g) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended at any time as to any person. In the event of revocation, deliveries shall be made in accordance with the provisions of any applicable preference rating order without further restrictions, unless such deliveries have been specifically restricted.

(h) The provisions of this order shall be applicable to deliveries of material by any person located in the United States, its territories and possessions to any other person located in the United States, its territories and possessions, but not elsewhere. The provisions of this paragraph supersede Interpretation No. 1 of this order, issued February 7, 1942.

(i) Administration of order. The Petroleum Administrator for War or the Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War may extend, amend, modify or revoke Conservation Order M-68-c (§ 1047.4), as such order may have been amended from time to time; and may take such measures with respect to any exception to such order as he may deem necessary or appropriate; and may take such measures as he may deem necessary or appropriate with respect to any violation accrued or incurred under such order.

Issued this 3d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1076—PLUMBING AND HEATING SIMPLIFICATION

[Schedule II to Limitation Order L-42, as Amended March 3, 1943]

GREY CAST IRON, MALLEABLE IRON AND BRASS AND BRONZE PIPE FITTINGS—SIMPLIFICATION

§ 1076.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-42—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures, processes or fabricates pipe fittings.

(2) "Pipe fitting" means any threaded or flanged pipe fitting made from grey cast iron, malleable iron, brass or bronze, except:

(i) Those known as hydraulic or high pressure pipe fittings;

(ii) Those known as cast or forged steel fittings; or

(iii) Those known as brazed or soldered brass or bronze fittings, whether screwed or flanged at any outlet.

(b) Simplified practices. Pursuant to Limitation Order No. L-42 the sizes and types set forth in the Appendix hereto are hereby established for grey cast iron, malleable iron and brass or bronze pipe fittings.

(c) Effective date of simplified practices; exceptions. On and after March 1, 1942, no grey cast iron, malleable iron or brass or bronze pipe fittings which do not conform to the sizes and standards established by paragraph (b) hereof (and set forth in the Appendix hereto) shall be produced or delivered by any producer or accepted by any person from any such producer, except with the express permission of the Director General for Operations: Provided, however, That the foregoing shall not prohibit the delivery by any producer of such pipe fittings as were in his stock in finished form on March 1, 1942 or which had, on said date, been cast, machined or otherwise processed in such manner that their manufacture in conformity with this Schedule would be impractical, nor the receipt of such pipe fittings from such producer: Provided further, That the foregoing restrictions shall not apply to any grey cast iron, malleable iron and brass and bronze pipe fittings produced under specific contract or subcontract for use as part of the equipment of vessels other than pleasure craft or of air craft.

(d) Records covering excepted pipe fittings. Each producer shall retain in his files records showing his inventory of excepted pipe fittings (by types and sizes) as of March 1, 1942, and such records shall be kept readily available and open to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

Issued this 3d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

APPENDIX TO SCHEDULE II, LIMITATION ORDER L-42, PLUMBING AND HEATING DIVISION, WAR PRODUCTION BOARD

NOTE: (1) Abbreviations. SWP stands for steam working pressure; WWP, for water working pressure.

(2) Sizes. The fittings listed herein are designated by the nominal pipe size of the pipe with which the fittings are intended to be used. All dimensions are in inches. Reducing tees, three-way reducing elbows, and reducing Y branches, are designated by size in the following order: (1) largest size on the run, (2) opposite size, (3) size of outlet or inlet. Reducing double Y branches are designated by (1) size of run openings, and (2) size of inlets. The last size given for circulating boiler fittings is the inside opening of the boiler end of the fitting. In the case of fittings with side outlets the size of the outlet is given last. The second dimension given for flanges is the outside diameter of the flange.

(3) Threads. All fittings have right hand threads, except where otherwise specified.

(4) Column Markings. Where columnar spaces are provided, an X in the applicable box indicates that the size specified in the heading is to be retained.

PART 1125—CASKETS, SHIPPING CASES AND BURIAL VAULTS

[Limitation Order L-64, as Amended March 3, 1943]

Section 1125.1 General Limitation Order L-64, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1125.1 General Limitation Order L-64—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Casket" means a container in which it is intended to place a human corpse for interment.

(2) "Burial vault" means a container in which it is intended to place a casket containing a human corpse for interment, and shall include burial boxes.

(3) "Shipping case" means a container in which it is intended to place a casket containing a human corpse for shipment and to which handles have been been attached in accordance with railroad shipping regulations.

(4) "Manufacturer" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not, engaged in the production, upholstering, finishing or lining of caskets, shipping cases or burial vaults or parts made specifically for incorporation into caskets, shipping cases or burial vaults.

(5) "Metal liner" means a metal container which is inserted into a wooden casket in order to provide hermetical sealing.

(6) "Metal" means metal or metallic substances in any form except metallic substances contained in powders, sprays, paints and pastes (see Conservation Orders M-1-g and M-9-c-3).

(7) "Joining hardware" means screws, hinges, nails, tacks, catches, escutcheons, bolts, arms and attaching plates for handles, devices for removable handles and other small hardware for joining and similar essential purposes, but does not include lid (panel) supports, top supports, lid irons to hold the foot lid in place on the ogee, hand hold covers, apron support and throw out devices, lid (panel) braces, eyelets and fasteners for attaching interior linings and corner body braces.

(8) "Handle hardware" means hardware attached to the outside of a casket or shipping case for carrying purposes, but does not include arms and attaching plates for handles, and devices for removable handles.

(9) "Design" means the construction essentials of a casket which distinguish that casket from another casket. For the purposes of this order, two or more caskets identical in every respect other than species of wood, size, handle hardware, interior linings, upholstery, textile coverings or color of wood finishes shall be considered one design. Two or more caskets identical in every respect but containing different contours of moldings, pilasters or corners shall be considered two or more designs.

(10) "Preferred order" means any order, contract or subcontract placed by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(b) Restrictions on production of caskets. (1) No manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any metal for use in the production of caskets, or process, fabricate, work on or assemble any caskets containing any metal, except

(i) Handle hardware for caskets consisting of

(a) Assemblies of bars, ears, arms or tips containing antimony, lead, aluminum or zinc which were completely fabricated and assembled prior to March 28, 1942; and

(b) Handle arms containing antimonial lead fabricated on or after March 28, 1942 in compliance with the provisions of Conservation Order M–38–c, as amended, or any appeal granted under that order, provided, that not more than three pounds shall be used per casket;

(ii) Nameplates manufactured from secondary antimonial lead weighing not more than 14 ounces; and

(iii) Iron or steel contained in

(a) Any part, the manufacture or assembly of which has been specifically authorized by the granting of an appeal from this order, or from any other order provided that such authorization was granted after June 30, 1942;

(b) Lid (panel) supports, top supports, lid irons to hold the foot lid in place on the ogee, hand hold covers, apron support and throw out devices, lid (panel) braces, and corner body braces, which were completely fabricated prior to March 3, 1943;

(c) Handle hardware for caskets consisting of assemblies of bars, ears, arms and tips which were completely fabricated and assembled prior to September 24, 1942;

(d) Joining hardware not exceeding three pounds per casket whether or not the casket contains handle hardware assemblies or antimonial lead handle arms of the types specified in paragraphs (b) (1) (i) and (b) (1) (iii) (c) of this order: Provided, That not more than one catch each is used on the head lid (panel) and foot of the top of basic or half couch caskets, nor more than two catches are used on hinged top caskets, nor more than one set of spring fasteners are used on a basic casket.

(2) On and after May 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall

(i) Cut a portion out of the body of the casket so as to make a dropside style;

(ii) Cut the ogee top so as to make a full couch style;

(iii) Cut panels on basic and half couch caskets except at center of panel or two inches or less off center of panel in length;

(iv) Use backing strips or filler strips on base moldings;

(v) Attach handles on the ends of a casket;

(vi) Use any interior fitting except what is known as basic or regular, half couch or hinged top fittings; or

(vii) Process or fabricate parts for elliptic end caskets.

(3) On and after May 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on, assemble, finish or upholster any caskets, or parts for caskets, which do not conform to the specifications contained in Schedule A attached to this order, except that plastic caskets produced from molds or forms completed prior to March 3, 1943 need not conform to the specifications on size of caskets contained in Schedule A but shall conform to all other specifications contained in Schedule A.

(4) On and after May 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble more designs of caskets than the following:

(i) Twelve designs of adult caskets (five feet six inches or more in inside bottom length);

(ii) One design of children's caskets (less than five feet six inches in inside bottom length);

(iii) One additional institution or hospital design (including both children and adults' sizes);

(iv) One design of still born containers; and

(v) Any other designs specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations pursuant to an application for permission to manufacture, fabricate or assemble substitute designs in place of designs produced on or after May 1, 1943.

(c) Restrictions on production of metal liners. (1) No manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any metal for use in the production of metal liners or produce any metal liners containing any metal, except

(i) Lead to be used for gaskets;

(ii) Lead to be used for soldering purposes, provided that such lead shall not contain more than 16% of tin by weight;

(iii) Any iron or steel, the manufacture or assembly of which has been specifically authorized by the granting of an appeal prior to March 3, 1943;

(iv) Not more than fifty pounds per metal liner of iron and steel or galvanized steel not exceeding 26 standard gauge in thickness, provided that any manufacturer who possessed in his inventory prior to March 28, 1942, iron and steel, galvanized steel, terne sheet, or copper bearing steel exceeding 26 standard gauge in thickness may use more than fifty pounds of such steel per metal liner.

(2) No person shall use a metal liner except when hermetical sealing is required

(i) To comply with federal, state or local government laws and regulations for the transportation or interment of a human corpse; or

(ii) In fulfillment of preferred orders.

(3) On and after March 3, 1943, no manufacturer or jobber shall sell or otherwise dispose of a metal liner to any person unless such person furnishes the manufacturer or jobber with a certificate in substantially the following form, manually signed by that person or his authorized agent:

CERTIFICATION

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to _____ (name of seller) _____ (address), and to the War Production Board that the metal liners received by reason of this sale will be used by the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration or to comply with federal, state or local government laws and regulations which require hermetic sealing for the transportation or interment of a human corpse.

(d) Restriction on the production of shipping cases. (1) Except in fulfillment of preferred orders no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any metal for use in the production of shipping cases, or process, fabricate, work on or assemble any shipping cases containing any metal except iron and steel in

(i) Joining hardware, provided that the total amount of iron and steel does not exceed two pounds per shipping case; and

(ii) Handle hardware, provided that the total amount of iron and steel does not exceed three and one-half pounds per shipping case.

(2) No manufacturer shall use more than one coat of nitrocellulose lacquer, either spray or brush, on joining hardware or handle hardware for shipping cases.

(3) On and after May 1, 1943, except in fulfillment of preferred orders, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any shipping case, or parts for shipping cases, which do not conform to the specifications contained in Schedule A, attached to this Order.

(e) Restrictions on production of burial vaults. (1) No manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any metal for use in the production of burial vaults, or process, fabricate, work on or assemble any burial vaults containing any metal, except

(i) Iron and steel contained in joining hardware, provided that the total amount of iron and steel does not exceed two pounds per burial vault; and

(ii) Iron and steel for reinforcing purposes not exceeding fifteen pounds for a concrete vault made of six or more sections or ten pounds for a concrete vault made of less than six sections, Provided, That no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any concrete burial vault containing any iron or steel for reinforcing purposes after April 30, 1943.

(2) No manufacturer shall use more than one coat of nitrocellulose lacquer, either spray or brush, on joining hardware for burial vaults.

(3) No manufacturer shall procure or acquire any iron and steel for use as reinforcing material in the production of concrete burial vaults except from other manufacturers of concrete burial vaults.

(4) A manufacturer of concrete burial vaults may sell iron and steel for use as reinforcing material in the production of concrete burial vaults to other manufacturers of concrete burial vaults, and any such sale shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

(f) Avoidance of excessive inventories. No manufacturer shall accumulate for use in the manufacture of caskets, metal liners, shipping cases and burial vaults inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials, or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production of caskets, metal liners, shipping cases and burial vaults as permitted by this order.

(g) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(h) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(i) Reports. (1) Each manufacturer affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

(2) Within 5 days after May 1, 1943, each manufacturer of caskets shall file with the War Production Board a catalogue illustration, photograph, snap shot (post card size) or sketch of each design which he proposes to produce under paragraph (b) (4) showing the casket closed and no lining, except that head lid lining may be shown. Each design shall be identified by the factory catalogue number or other distinguishing identification which may be placed on the reverse side of each illustration submitted, together with the manufacturer's name and address.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order must be made on Form PD–500 and must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board of the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(l) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington D. C., Ref.: L–64.

(m) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(n) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director, General for Operations limits the use of any material in the production of caskets, metal liners, shipping cases or burial vaults to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

Issued this 3d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A

Restrictions on size	Maximum dimensions (shown in inches)					Maximum inside dimensions of wood burial vaults and shipping cases used with caskets specified (shown in inches)			Net amount of lumber which may be contained in finished product (shown in board feet)
	Length		Width		Height
	Inside bottom edge	Over-all outside length	Inside top edge	Over-all outside width	Over-all outside height	Length	Width	Depth	Casket proper	Burial box	Shipping case
Institution caskets	72	78	22	24¾	16	81	26½	17	46	66	69
Octagon and flaring square caskets without base and rail moldings	72	78	22	24¾	20	81	26½	21	55	71	74
Octagon and flaring square caskets with base and rail moldings	72	80	22	26½	20	84	28½	21	63	73	77
Vertical square caskets	75	80	22	26½	20	84	28½	21	67	73	77

During any calendar quarter a manufacturer may make not more than 10 percent of his total unit production of caskets with dimensions exceeding those specified in this schedule, and a sufficient number of burial vaults and shipping cases to fit such extra size caskets. Burial boxes and shipping cases exceeding these dimensions may be produced for plastic caskets manufactured in accordance with paragraph (b) (3). Extra size caskets, burial vaults and shipping cases may contain an additional net amount of lumber of 21½ board feet for each three inches of additional length, and three board feet for each two inches of additional width.

Extra size caskets may be made in only three designs in addition to an institution or hospital casket design.

	Caskets	Burial vaults and shipping cases
Restrictions on lumber, laminated lumber and plywood.	Not more than 1" thick, except: (1) 1½" for ogee molding provided no backing strips used on ogee. (2) 2" for combined side and base or rail molding.	Not more than 1" thick before milling operations. Not more than 1 thickness of wood on any part. No outside moldings, except: (1) top battens not exceeding 5" in width. (2) corner cleats not exceeding 2½" in width, and (3) 2 skids not exceeding 1" in width and thickness, respectively.
Finishing restrictions	Not more than: One coat of stain. One coat of wood filler, and One coat of sealing primer Not more than: Two coats of varnish or similar coating material for transparent finishes or Two coats of varnish or similar coating material for artificial grain finishes or Two coats of enamel for opaque finishes. Not more than: Two different colors of transparent finishes for each design and Two different colors of opaque finishes for each design Two colors of artificial grain finishes may be used in place of transparent finishes, if desired.	Not more than 1 coat of varnish, paint or similar coating material. No nitrocellulose lacquers
Restrictions on linings and covering materials.	No material for covering or lining a casket which contains silk or wool, except woolen broadcloth with 100% fine noils, waste, reprocessed or reused wool filling and 50% cotton warp. No materials in counter linings (upholstery) except wood wool, excelsior, cotton and cotton fabric. Maximum quantities of lining materials per casket 12 yds. with hinged top fitting, 9 yds. with half couch fitting and 6½ yds. with basic fitting. A manufacturer may increase the amount of yards used in the above fittings by 10% when used in extra size caskets. No rayon lining material in the foot half of basic or half couch caskets. No rayon materials as a bed covering in any casket. No aprons on basic caskets. No plus effects on lids (panels) or ogees on any casket. No foot rolls in any casket	Not Applicable

PART 3062—CONSERVATION OF NEW AUTOMOTIVE VEHICLES SUBJECT TO RATIONING BY FEDERAL AGENCIES

[Conservation Order M-216-a, as Amended March 3, 1943]

§ 3062.2 Conservation Order M-216-a—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Reserve vehicle" means any of the following described vehicles which have not been sold and delivered under the rationing procedures of the War Production Board or the Office of Price Administration, and which are in storage in the possession of or under the control of producers, distributors, dealers, sales agencies, finance agencies or other persons throughout the United States:

(i) Any 1942 model passenger automobile, built upon a standard or lengthened passenger car chassis, having a seating capacity of not more than ten (10) persons, irrespective of the number of miles it has been driven, or any other such passenger automobile of an earlier model which has been driven less than 1,000 miles, including taxis, but not including ambulances, hearses and station wagons.

(ii) Any new commercial motor vehicle, including any light, medium or heavy motor truck, truck tractor or trailer, or the chassis therefor (or any chassis on which a bus body is to be mounted), and which was manufactured subsequently to July 31, 1941; was designed to be propelled or drawn by mechanical power for use on or off the highways for transportation of property, or persons; was manufactured otherwise than under specifications of the United States Army or Navy; has not been transferred to any person other than a sales agency for the purpose of resale; including vehicles of the following types: trucks, truck chassis, truck tractors, off-the-highway motor vehicles, full trailers, semi-trailers, dollies, attachment third axles, ambulances, hearses, bus chassis, station wagons, carry-all suburbans, sedan deliveries, utility sedans, coupes fitted with pickup boxes, and cab pickups, but not including taxicabs and integral type buses.

(2) "Producer" means any person who manufactures or has in the past manufactured any reserve vehicles, including body builders, and who now or hereafter has any such reserve vehicles in his possession or under his control.

(3) "Distributor" means any person other than the manufacturer regularly engaged in the business of selling reserve vehicles to dealers.

(4) "Dealer" means any person regularly engaged in the business of offering reserve vehicles for sale at retail to the public.

(5) "Sales agency" means any distributor or dealer and includes any agency or branch of a producer which sells reserve vehicles.

(6) "Finance agency" means any person regularly engaged in the business of financing or making loans on the security of reserve vehicles, to producers, distributors, dealers or sales agencies, and who now or hereafter has any lien or claim against any such reserve vehicle as security for a loan or other financing arrangement.

(7) "Consumer" means a person who accepts delivery of a reserve vehicle to be put into operation.

(8) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(b) Establishment of Standard Delivery Operations applicable to reserve vehicles. The Standard Delivery Operations to be performed on reserve vehicles prior to delivery, set forth in Schedule 1 to this order, and made part hereof, are hereby adopted for the proper conditioning of such vehicles before the same are put into operation.

(c) Restrictions on delivery of reserve vehicles. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer, distributor, dealer, sales agency, finance agency, or other person having possession of a reserve vehicle may make delivery of the same to a consumer without first performing on such vehicle all of the Standard Delivery Operations set out in Schedule 1 to this order. In no case may any such vehicle be operated under its own power until the Standard Delivery Operations numbered 1 to 13 inclusive have been performed upon it, or towed until Standard Delivery Operations numbered 1 and 2 have been performed on it.

(d) Reports. All persons affected by this order, shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the Board shall from time to time request.

(e) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories and sales.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Automotive Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: Order M-216a.

Issued this 3d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE 1—STANDARD DELIVERY OPERATIONS FOR RESERVE VEHICLES

[Schedule 1, amended March 3, 1943.]

The Standard Delivery Operations set out in this Schedule 1 are established in order that new passenger automobiles and new commercial motor vehicles may be put in proper mechanical condition for operation. All of these Operations must be performed on vehicles prior to delivery.

These Standard Delivery Operations are identical with those established by the Office of Price Administration in Amendment No. 8 to Revised Price Schedule No. 85, entitled "Passenger Automobiles," and in Supplementary Regulation No. 14, as amended.

VEHICLES TO WHICH STANDARD DELIVERY OPERATIONS ARE APPLICABLE

The reserve vehicles to which these Standard Delivery Operations apply are those new passenger automobiles and new commercial motor vehicles which are held for rationing under orders of the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration. As to new passenger automobiles these are General Conservation Order M-130, effective June 8, 1942, and Office of Price Administration New Passenger Automobile Rationing Regulations, Order No. 2A, effective March 2, 1942, as amended; and as to new commercial motor vehicles, General Conservation Order M-100, effective March 9, 1942, as amended. These reserve vehicles are more particularly defined as follows:

"Reserve vehicles" means any of the following described vehicles which have not been sold and delivered under the rationing procedures of the War Production Board or the Office of Price Administration, and which are in storage in the possession of or under the control of producers, distributors, dealers, sales agencies and finance agencies or other persons throughout the United States:

1. Any 1942 model passenger automobile, built upon a standard or lengthened passenger car chassis, having a seating capacity of not more than ten (10) persons, irrespective of the number of miles it has been driven, or any other such passenger automobile of an earlier model which has been driven less than 1,000 miles, including taxis but not including ambulances, hearses and station wagons.

2. Any new commercial motor vehicle, including any light, medium or heavy motor truck, truck tractor or trailer, or the chassis therefor, (or any chassis on which a bus body is to be mounted) and which was manufactured subsequently to July 31, 1941; was designed to be propelled or drawn by mechanical power for use on or off the highways for transportation of property, or persons; was manufactured otherwise than under specifications of the United States Army or Navy; has not been transferred to any person other than a sales agency for the purpose of resale; including vehicles of the following types: trucks, truck chassis, truck tractors, off-the-highway motor vehicles, full-trailers, semi-trailers, dollies, attachment third axles, ambulances, hearses, bus chassis, station wagons, carry-all suburbans, sedan deliveries, utility sedans, coupes fitted with pickup boxes, and cab pickups, but not including taxicabs and integral type buses.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. Under no circumstances should a reserve vehicle be operated, under its own power, until the Standard Delivery Operations numbered 1–13 inclusive have been performed upon it.

2. With respect to change of location of reserve vehicles in storage, the following conditioning operations must be performed:

Before being towed by crane truck or rigid bar, Items Nos. 1 a, b; and 2 b.

Before being towed by loose linkage (rope or chain), Items Nos. 1 a, b; and 2 b, e, f, g.

STANDARD DELIVERY OPERATIONS

Item No. 1. Tires. a. If tires are unmounted, inspect the rims and remove all rust. Mount tires and inflate them to tire manufacturer's recommended pressure.

b. If tires are mounted, inflate them to tire manufacturer's recommended pressure.

Item No. 2. Brake system and front wheel lubricant. a. Remove all wheels and drums and thoroughly clean rust from all braking surfaces. Also examine anchor pins to make sure their bearings are free so that springs return shoes to released position. Do not work brake pedal with brake drums off.

b. Repack front wheel bearings with new lubricant if necessary.

c. Check hydraulic master cylinder fluid level, adding approved fluid if necessary. See that filler cap vent is open.

d. Inspect brake system for leaks and repair any defects.

e. Work brake pedal several times to make sure system is operating. Jack up each wheel (if blocks were removed) and apply brakes. Check to see that they operate and their release fully so wheel can turn freely with no drag.

f. Check brake pedal-floor clearance and adjust if necessary.

g. With respect to conditioning vacuum booster, electric, and compressed air brake equipment, follow equipment manufacturer's recommendations.

NOTE: Remove outside body and window coverings. Protect upholstery while conditioning vehicle. If another location is required for remaining work, vehicle must not be run under its own power until ready for preliminary road test. (See General Instructions above.)

Item No. 3. Fuel system. a. Replace gasoline tank drain plug.

b. Thoroughly clean fuel line; fuel pump sediment bowl and filter screen, and carburetor. Reinstall.

c. Check all fuel connections, including carburetor flange nuts or cap screws.

d. Put gasoline in tank, adding ½ pint of SAE-10 engine oil to each 5 gallons of gasoline. Replace filler cap, making sure vent is free.

e. Check accelerator, throttle and choke linkages, idle and wide open positions.

f. Remove seal from air cleaner; and add oil if necessary.

Item No. 4. Ignition system. a. Clean and adjust spark plugs. Leave them out so cylinders can be lubricated later.

b. Check distributor, adjust points, clean rotor and contact points.

c. Lubricate cam and rocker bearing surface.

d. Clean wire connections and push wires firmly into their sockets in distributor and coil.

Item No. 5. Valve compartment (overhead valve engines). a. Remove cover and remove oil soaked rags if any.

b. Spray valve mechanism with suitable light oil. Leave cover off for observation of valve action later.

Item No. 6. Seals. a. Remove seal from oil pipe opening.

b. Remove seals from oil filler tube, crankcase breather tube, and any other opening. Clean and replace covers.

Item No. 7. Clutch. a. Remove block used to keep clutch disengaged and make sure there is correct amount of free pedal movement at top of travel.

Item No. 8. Preparing engine for service. a. Tighten all cooling system, heater hose and defroster connections, replacing any defective hose. If cooling system was stored full, add sufficient coolant to make up for evaporation. If cooling system was stored empty, close drain cocks and replace drain plugs. Fill with clean water and check for leaks.

b. Drain oil from crankcase.

[1] c. Drop oil pan, thoroughly clean pan, inside of crankcase and pump screen. Replace pan using new gasket.

d. Fill crankcase with flushing oil. Pour 2 ounces of SAE-10 engine oil into each spark plug hole. Leave spark plugs out.

e. Lubricate generator, starter, and water pump.

f. Clean battery carrier, repainting if necessary. Install securely a fully charged battery (spec. grav. of 1.280 or above at 60 degrees F.; water level ¼" to ⅜" above plates). Clean cables and connections, tighten, and coat terminals with vaseline or approved corrosion preventive. Test battery hookup by turning on headlights (ammeter should show discharge).

g. With ignition switch off and clutch disengaged crank engine for 30 seconds with starter in order to exercise reciprocating parts and bearings. While cranking engine listen carefully for indications of trouble. Remedy any trouble (such as engine failing to turn over or starter being stuck) before proceeding further. Reinstall spark plugs using new gaskets if necessary.

h. Start engine (clutch disengaged) and run at idle speed for five minutes.

i. Adjust automatic choke control if necessary.

j. Set engine idle speed according to manufacturer's recommendations.

k. Turn off engine. Drain flushing oil immediately from crankcase.

[1] l. If engine oil filter is sealed type, replace it with a new one. If it is replaceable element type, clean out filter chamber and install new element.

m. Fill crankcase to correct level with engine oil of proper SAE viscosity for temperature conditions under which vehicle will operate. Start engine and run at idle speed.

Item No. 9. While engine is running, check the following items for proper operations, making all necessary adjustments and repairs:

a. All instruments (oil, gas, temperature, and ammeter).

b. Windshield wipers, with blades installed.

c. Horn.

d. Every switch position of every light on vehicle.

e. Heater, climatizer, defroster.

f. Clear lighter, radio, clock and other accessories.

[2] g. Automatic top on convertibles.

h. Charging rate and voltage and current regulator.

i. Manifold heater valve.

j. Inspect all water hose connections, oil and fuel lines for leakage.

k. Check and if necessary adjust valve tappets according to vehicle manufacturer's recommendations.

Item No. 10. After shutting off engine, perform the following operations: Before any sediment in coolant has time to settle, make the following check of the cooling system:

a. If coolant carries little or no anti-freeze, completely drain entire cooling system, examining coolant for presence of rust or other foreign matter.

b. If coolant carries a considerable amount of anti-freeze, drain a quart from bottom of radiator. If liquid is clear return sample to radiator.

c. If coolant shows rusty and dirty, completely drain entire cooling system, reverse flush radiator and engine block to remove sediment, using a combination water-air flushing nozzle. (Follow manufacturer's recommendations with respect to thermostats and water pumps before flushing the block.)

d. Fill cooling system (if not already done) with clean water and rust inhibitor, adding anti-freeze according to seasonal requirements. Watch for leaks at hose ends and pump, and correct any that develop.

e. While engine is still hot, tighten cylinder head nuts in recommended order.

f. Tighten manifold studs.

g. Tighten bolts at connection between exhaust manifold and pipe to muffler.

h. Replace valve compartment cover (overhead valve engines).

i. Check all belt adjustments and replace belts if necessary.

Item No. 11. Lubrication. a. Lubricate every fitting and check the lubricant level of every reservoir according to vehicle manufacturer's lubrication chart, excepting those taken care of above. Flush out all gear boxes in which rust inhibitor was used during storage. Fill to correct level with new lubricant.

b. While lubricating, inspect under side of chassis and body for loose or damaged parts, and make any necessary adjustments or replacements.

Item No. 12. Check, and if needed tighten, the following items:

a. Nuts on spring U-bolts.

b. All steering connections.

[2] c. Front and rear sway eliminator or stabilizer bolts.

d. Body bolts.

e. Front and rear bumper bolts.

f. Gas tank straps.

g. Shock absorber bolts.

Item No. 13. Front end and wheels. a. Check front wheel toe-in.

b. Test steering adjustments and connections. Check amount of wheel turn to stop on left and right.

c. Check steering wheel for correct amount of play.

Item No. 14. Preliminary road test.

NOTE: Before road test, remove any stickers that obstruct vision, and wash windshield.

Road test every vehicle by driving it at least 3 miles and checking the operation of the following items:

a. All gear positions, and operation of gear shift lever.

b. Accelerator.

c. Service brakes.

d. Hand brake.

e. All instruments: oil, gas, temperature, ammeter, speedometer, and odometer.

f. Set spark advance or octane selector at correct adjustment for economical performance idling, pick-up in each forward gear, and ping in acceleration.

g. Springs and shock absorbers.

h. Locate squeaks, rattles, and unusual noises.

i. Special equipment such as overdrive, 2-speed axles, hill-holding devices, and transmissions other than conventional type.

j. Note any other items upon which work needs to be done.

Item No. 15. Return vehicle to shop and do the following operations:

a. Focus headlights.

b. Do any work on clutch service brakes and hand brake for which road test showed need.

c. Reinspect all water hose connections, oil and fuel lines for leakage.

d. Clean fuel filters at carburetor and fuel pump.

e. Make necessary repairs or adjustments of any other items which road test showed to need attention.

---

[1] Items 8 c and 8 l must be performed unless the manufacturer files a statement with the Automotive Division of the War Production Board, and with its dealers, stating that failure to perform these items on vehicles of its own manufacture will not impair their operation as new vehicles.

[2] Not applicable to trucks.

f Check all tire pressures again and if necessary replace valve core and inspect inner tube and tire casing.

Item No. 16 Final road test. a. Make further road tests if necessary to see that all equipment is operating satisfactorily.

b Check for leaks under engine, transmission, and rear axle.

c Clean and remove rust and dirt from engine and its accessories and other chassis parts. Touch up with paint of appropriate color if originally painted.

Item No. 17. Body a Remove wax or grease from interior chrome, clean upholstery, carpets and floor mats and repair any damaged places. Use solvent cleaner which will not damage finish or upholstery.

b Remove plugs or screening from holes in floorboards or dash.

c Check and lubricate front seat adjustment.

d Check operation of all windows, ventipanes, cowl ventilator and sun visors. Clean windows and windshield inside and outside and repair any defects.

e Check operation of all doors from inside and outside, trunk lid, hood, and glove compartment.

f Check operation of all keys and locks on doors, glove compartment and trunk.

g Check and clean tools in kit.

h Re-cement any sponge rubber seal-strips which may have pulled loose, replacing any which have deteriorated.

i Inspect paint finish and repair or touch up any defects or damage.

j Clean and polish vehicle body and chrome trim.

NOTE: Owner should drain engine crankcase at about 250 miles and refill to the full mark with a good grade of engine oil of proper SAE viscosity for temperature conditions under which vehicle will operate.

TRUCK TRAILER EQUIPMENT

With respect to truck trailer equipment, the following conditioning operations must be performed when conditions show work to be necessary:

Items Nos. 1 a, b; 2 a, b, d, g; 9 d; 11 a, b; 12 a, b, d; 14 c, g, h j; 15 b, e f; 16 a; and 17 i, j.

DIESEL ENGINES

With respect to diesel engines, follow manufacturer's instructions where they are at variance with corresponding operations for gasoline engines and equipment.

PART 3189—FURNITURE

[General Limitation Order L-260, as amended March 3, 1943 [1]]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron and steel and other critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3189.1 General Limitation Order L-260—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Furniture" means all items commonly classified as furniture and including all items contained on Schedule A attached to this order, as amended from time to time. It shall not include items listed on Schedule B attached to this order, as amended from time to time.

(2) "Essential metal parts" means nails, brads, tacks, screws, bolts, nuts, hanger bolts, rivets, staples, washers and burrs, button molds, hinges (except hinge mechanisms for sofa beds) catches, strapping, top fasteners, drawer clips, shelf supports, domes and glides, bed fasteners, bed packing hooks, corrugated fasteners, table locks, table cleats, mirror clips, angle braces, caps for leg tops of folding chairs, expansion shells, operating hardware for venetian blinds and venetian blind center supports for head rails and tilt rails.

(3) "Non-essential metal parts" means any hardware or parts containing any metal specifically intended for incorporation into furniture other than essential metal parts.

(4) "Metal parts manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling hardware or metal parts specifically intended for incorporation into furniture, whether or not he also manufactures furniture.

(5) "Furniture manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling furniture, whether or not he also manufactures metal parts for furniture.

(6) "Pattern" means any piece of furniture having its own identification mark and selling price, except that for the purposes of this order, two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than color, finishing materials, fabric, leather, or other outer covering or cover but having the same selling price shall be considered to be one pattern. Two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than in their method of joining or their content of essential metal parts, shall be considered to be one pattern, whether or not they have the same selling prices. Two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect but cut in different woods or veneers or containing different trims other than handles, shall be considered two or more patterns regardless of whether they carry identical identification marks and selling prices. Similarly, a suite of furniture of two or more different pieces shall constitute two or more patterns.

(7) "Preferred order" means any order, contract, or subcontract placed by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(8) "Cost value" means cost computed in accordance with the method of accounting consistently used by a furniture manufacturer for bookkeeping and financial statement purposes.

(9) "Pattern base period" means the month of September, 1941.

(10) "Metal parts base period" means the calendar year 1941, except that in the case of a furniture manufacturer whose fiscal year did not end on December 31, 1941, it means his fiscal year ending at any time between June 1, 1941 and May 31, 1942, inclusive.

(11) "Consume" when applied to essential metal parts means to use such parts in the production or packing of furniture or to supply such parts with furniture shipped in knock-down form.

(b) Restrictions on production and acquisition of non-essential metal parts. (1) On and after March 1, 1943, no metal parts manufacturer shall accept delivery of any iron or steel intended for the fabrication of non-essential metal parts.

(2) On and after March 26, 1943, no metal parts manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any non-essential metal parts.

(3) On and after April 12, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall accept delivery of any non-essential metal parts.

(c) Restrictions on essential metal parts. (1) During the period beginning February 23, 1943 and ending June 30, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall consume in the production of furniture (other than for preferred orders) essential metal parts having a total cost value of more than 25% of the total cost value of essential metal parts consumed by him in the production of furniture during his metal parts base period (other than for preferred orders).

(2) During the three months period beginning July 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no furniture manufacturer shall consume in the production of furniture (other than for preferred orders) essential metal parts having a total cost value of more than 12½% of the total cost value of essential metal parts consumed by him in the production of furniture during his metal parts base period (other than for preferred orders).

(3) The restrictions contained in paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) of this order shall not apply to venetian blinds.

(4) On and after June 1, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall consume in the production of venetian blinds more essential metal parts than 9 ounces per blind plus 2 ounces per blind for venetian blinds measuring 45" or more in width.

(d) Restrictions on patterns. (1) On and after July 1, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on, assemble or offer for sale more patterns than 35% of the total number of patterns offered for sale by him during the pattern base period, or 24 patterns, whichever is greater.

(2) On and after March 15, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on, assemble or offer for sale any pattern which had not been offered for sale by him prior to that date.

(3) The restrictions contained in this paragraph (d) shall not apply to venetian blinds.

(e) Preferred order exemption. The restrictions contained in this order shall not apply to preferred orders.

(f) Special authorization exemption. The Director General for Operations may grant specific authorizations to furniture manufacturers for relief from the provisions of paragraphs (b) (3), (d) (1), and (d) (2) of this order.

(g) Reports. (1) All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(2) On or before March 27, 1943, each furniture manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD-798, stating the cost value of essential metal parts consumed by him during the metal parts base period and the number of patterns offered for sale by him during the pattern base period.

(h) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(i) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(l) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(m) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations limits the use of any material in the production of wood furniture to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(n) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-260.

Issued this 3d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A

Venetian blinds.
Barber and beauty shop furniture.
Store display equipment and show cases.
Frames to be used in the production of furniture.

SCHEDULE B

Metal office furniture and equipment as covered by Limitation Order L-13-a, as amended.
Metal household furniture as defined in Limitation Order L-62, as amended.
Bedding products as defined in Limitation Order L-49, as amended.
Hospital, medical, dental and related equipment as covered by List A of Conservation Order M-126, as amended.
Refrigerators.
Wooden lockers for offices and factories.
Wooden shelving.
Wooden factory and industrial equipment.
Furniture specifically designed for use in offices.
Wooden filing cabinets.
Baby cribs, high chairs, toilet chairs, toilet seats, and bathinettes.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 291,[2] Amendment 1]

CERTAIN SYRUPS AND MOLASSES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

New §§ 1351.1378 and 1351.1379 are added all as set forth below:

§ 1351.1378 Maximum prices for the syrups and molasses subject to this regulation packed in containers other than tin cans—(a) Procedure for calculating maximum prices. A person shall calculate his maximum price for an item of syrup or molasses subject to the regulation packed in containers other than tin cans in the following manner:

(1) Determine the size of the can container which is closest in net content to the container other than a tin can;

(2) Take the maximum price for the corresponding case of this size of container;

(3) Deduct from this maximum price the total cost of cans, case and labels;

(4) Divide the resulting figure by the number of units of contents (ounces, pounds, pints or the like) in the case;

(5) Multiply the resulting figure by the number of units of contents (ounces, pounds, pints or the like) in the case for which he is determining his price;

(6) Add to the figure obtained in (5) above the total cost of the new containers, case, labels, to obtain the maximum price for the case packed in the container other than a tin can, except as provided below.

(7) Where the container other than tin for which a person is calculating a maximum price is a glass container, the following sums may be added for direct packing labor costs:

(i) Not more than 4¢ per case for that size of glass container which corresponds in net volme to the No. 10 tin can, providing that the net contents of the case of glass containers is equal to or in excess of 5 gallons.

(ii) Not more than 4½¢ per case for those sizes of glass containers which correspond in net volume to the No. 5 can, the No. 2½ can, or the No. 1½ can respectively: Provided, That the net contents of the case of glass containers is equal to or in excess of 5 gallons.

(iii) Where the net contents of the case of glass containers is less than 5 gallons, not more than that portion of the sum allowed in (i) of (ii) above which is equal to the proportion which the net contents of the case of glass containers bears to 5 gallons.

Example No. I: Where a packer now packs a 110 liquid ounce glass jar, 6 jars to the case, he may add 4¢ per case for direct labor because the 110 liquid ounce glass jar corresponds to the No. 10 tin can, and further six 110 ounce glass jars have a net content which is equal to or in excess of 5 gallons.

Example No. II. Where a packer now packs a 55 liquid ounce glass jar, 12 jars to the case, he may add 4½¢ per case because the net contents of the glass jar corresponds to the No. 5 tin can and the net contents of the case is equal to or in excess of 5 gallons.

Example No. III: Where a packer now packs a 13 liquid ounce glass jar, 24 jars to the case, he may add 2.1938¢ per case for direct packing labor costs. This sum is arrived at as follows: The 13 liquid ounce jar corresponds to the No. 1½ tin can. The packer is therefore permitted to add 4.5¢ per case for direct packing labor if the net contents of the case is equal to or exceeds 5 gallons or 640 liquid ounces. The net contents of the case can be determined by multiplying the net volume of one jar 13 ounces by the number of jars in the case, 24. Thus 13 x 24 = 312 liquid ounces. This is less than 5 gallons or 640 liquid ounces. The packer is therefore entitled to only that part of 4.5¢ which is equal to the percent that the net contents of the case 312 ounces, bears to 5 gallons, 640 ounces. To determine this portion, the packer must divide the net contents of the case by the number of liquid ounces in 5 gallons.

$$\frac{4875}{640)\ 312.000}$$

The net contents of this case is .4875 of 5 gallons. The amount the packer is entitled to add for direct labor costs is equal to this portion of 4.5¢. Thus the packer multiplies 4875 by 4.5 (.4875 × 4.5 = 2.19375) and gets the sum of 2.1938¢, the amount given above in the first sentence.

(8) The figure obtained by adding the allowance provided in (7) above to the

(9) All the above calculations shall be carried to the fourth decimal of a cent.

(b) Fractions of a cent. In determining the sales price for cases of such other containers, the seller shall adjust fractions of one-half cent or more to the next higher cost, and fractions of less than one-half cent to the next lower cent.

(c) Report of prices. A person, within ten days after determining his maximum price under the provisions of this section, shall furnish to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the following information in a signed statement:

(1) The kind, brand and grade of the item for which a maximum price is determined;

(2) The size of the newly priced container, the net content thereof by weight or volume, and the number of containers in the case;

(3) The size of the tin container used as a base, the net content thereof by weight or volume, and the number of containers in the case;

(4) The maximum price or prices determined for each class of purchasers to which he sells;

(5) The figures showing the actual calculation of such maximum price.

(d) Notification of the new maximum price. Any person who determines the maximum price for an item of syrup or molasses in accordance with the provisions of this section shall accompany the first delivery of each such product to the purchaser with a statement in writing in which he shall state:

(1) The maximum price in the new container and that the price charged is at or below the maximum price;

(2) That the maximum price to such purchaser is determined in accordance with this section.

(e) Maximum resale prices for an item of syrup or molasses packed in containers other than tin cans. Each purchaser for resale, at wholesale or retail, shall determine his maximum resale price for the time of syrup or molasses in the new container pursuant to Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 237 and 238,[1] as amended.

(f) Adjustment of maximum prices. Any price determined pursuant to this section shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1351.1379 Maximum prices for items for which no price has been established. (a) The maximum price for any item of syrup or molasses subject to the provisions of this regulation which is to be sold and for which a maximum price cannot be established pursuant to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 291, shall be determined after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on application setting forth (1) a description of the grade of syrup or molasses, the size of the container and the number of containers in the case of the item for which a price is sought; and (2) the factory door cost of such item. The "factory door cost" shall include all direct and indirect costs and expenses chargeable to the production of the item, but shall not include costs and expenses chargeable to administration, selling, advertising or transportation.

(b) Until the Office of Price Administration shall fix a maximum price for such item of syrup or molasses, the applicant's maximum price for such item shall be that which has been established pursuant to the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

This amendment shall become effective March 6, 1943.

[MPR 291,[1] Amendment 2]

CERTAIN SYRUP AND MOLASSES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new paragraph (f) is added to § 1351.1368; § 1351.1369 is redesignated as § 1351.1380, all to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.1368 Maximum prices for Georgia cane syrup. * * *

(f) Producer-packers' maximum prices for Georgia cane syrup sold at wholesale and at retail. (1) Producer-packers' maximum delivered prices for Georgia cane syrup on sales directly to retail stores shall be as follows:

$5.24 per case of 6 No. 10 cans.
$5.52 per case of 12 No. 5 cans.
$5.60 per case of 24 No. 2½ cans.
$6.36 per case of 48 No. 1½ cans.
$3.23 per case of 24 No. 1½ cans.

(2) Producer-packers' maximum prices for Georgia cane syrup on sales directly to retail stores when the purchaser takes delivery at the plant or farm shall be as follows:

$4.96 per case of 6 No. 10 cans.
$5.24 per case of 12 No. 5 cans.
$5.52 per case of 24 No. 2½ cans.
$6.08 per case of 48 No. 1½ cans.
$3.10 per case of 24 No. 1½ cans.

(3) Producer-packers' maximum delivered prices for Georgia cane syrup on sales directly to "domestic consumers" shall be as follows:

$6.02 per case of 6 No. 10 cans.
$6.34 per case of 12 No. 5 cans.
$6.66 per case of 24 No. 2½ cans.
$7.30 per case of 48 No. 1½ cans.
$3.71 per case of 24 No. 1½ cans.

"Domestic consumer" means a person who buys Georgia cane syrup for personal use. The term does not include any industrial, commercial, governmental or institutional consumers.

(4) Producer-packers' maximum prices for Georgia cane syrup on sales directly to "domestic consumers" when the purchaser takes delivery at the plant or farm, shall be as follows:

$5.70 per case of 6 No. 10 cans
$6.02 per case of 12 No. 5 cans
$6.34 per case of 24 No. 2½ cans
$6.98 per case of 48 No. 1½ cans
$3.56 per case of 24 No. 1½ cans

(5) All established discounts and other allowances including those for prompt payment shall be continued.

This amendment shall become effective March 6, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 291,[1] Amendment 3]

CERTAIN SYRUPS AND MOLASSES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new paragraph (c) is added to § 1351.1351; a new paragraph (c) is added to § 1351.1353; a new paragraph (b) is added to § 1351.1355; a new § 1351.1369 is added, all to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.1351 Kinds of syrups and molasses covered by the regulation. * * *

(c) Blends of syrup containing Georgia cane syrup. Blends of syrup containing Georgia cane syrup are blends which contain at least 5%[2] by volume of "Georgia cane syrup" as defined in paragraph (b) above.

§ 1351.1353 Maximum prices for syrups and molasses. * * *

(c) Packers' maximum prices for sales and deliveries of blends of Georgia cane syrup and other syrups are listed in § 1351.1369.

§ 1351.1355 Exempt sales. * * *

(b) Sales of blends of syrups containing Georgia cane syrup by persons other than packers at wholesale and retail. Maximum prices for sales of blends of syrups containing Georgia cane syrups by persons other than packers, at wholesale and retail are established in Maximum Price Regulation No. 237[3] and 238,[4] respectively.

§ 1351.1369 Packers' maximum prices for blends of syrups containing at least 5% Georgia cane syrup by volume. A packer of blends containing Georgia cane syrup means any person who customarily stores, repacks or reloads various syrups and blends or mixes them with Georgia cane syrup with or without processing the component syrups.

(a) Packers' maximum prices for blends containing Georgia cane syrup delivered in the "Southern Zone" shall be as follows:

Range No.	Percent of Georgia cane syrup in blend type	6 No. 10 cans	12 No. 5 cans	24 No. 2½ cans	48 No. 1½ cans	24 No. 1½ cans
1	At least 5 but not more than 10	$3.32	$3.57	$3.82	$4.07	$2.08
2	More than 10 but not more than 15	3.47	3.72	3.97	4.22	2.16
3	More than 15 but not more than 20	3.52	3.77	4.02	4.27	2.18
4	More than 20 but not more than 25	3.67	3.92	4.17	4.42	2.26
5	More than 25 but not more than 30	3.71	3.96	4.21	4.46	2.28
6	More than 30 but not more than 35	3.86	4.11	4.36	4.61	2.35
7	More than 35 but not more than 40	3.91	4.16	4.41	4.66	2.38
8	More than 40 but not more than 45	4.06	4.31	4.56	4.81	2.45
9	More than 45 but not more than 50	4.10	4.35	4.60	4.85	2.47
10	More than 50 but not more than 55	4.25	4.50	4.75	5.00	2.55
11	More than 55 but not more than 60	4.30	4.55	4.80	5.05	2.58
12	More than 60	4.56	4.81	5.06	5.31	2.71

(1) The "Southern Zone" includes the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Arkansas.

(b) Packers' maximum prices for blends containing Georgia cane syrup delivered in all places outside the "Southern Zone" shall be the following f. o. b. Cairo, Georgia, prices, plus the lowest available freight rate to point of destination:

Range No.	Percent of Georgia cane syrup in blend type	6 No. 10 cans	12 No. 5 cans	24 No. 2½ cans	48 No. 1½ cans	24 No. 1½ cans
1	At least 5 but not more than 10	$3.07	$3.32	$3.57	$3.82	$1.95
2	More than 10 but not more than 15	3.22	3.47	3.72	3.97	2.03
3	More than 15 but not more than 20	3.27	3.52	3.77	4.02	2.05
4	More than 20 but not more than 25	3.42	3.67	3.92	4.17	2.13
5	More than 25 but not more than 30	3.46	3.71	3.96	4.21	2.15
6	More than 30 but not more than 35	3.61	3.86	4.11	4.36	2.22
7	More than 35 but not more than 40	3.66	3.91	4.16	4.41	2.25
8	More than 40 but not more than 45	3.81	4.06	4.31	4.56	2.32
9	More than 45 but not more than 50	3.85	4.10	4.35	4.60	2.34
10	More than 50 but not more than 55	4.00	4.25	4.50	4.75	2.42
11	More than 55 but not more than 60	4.05	4.30	4.55	4.80	2.45
12	More than 60	4.31	4.56	4.81	5.06	2.58

(c) All of the above prices in this § 1351.1369 shall be for carload lots to the wholesale and chain store warehouse trade, and to commercial, industrial, institutional or governmental users. If the packer has established any differentials for other classes of purchasers or for smaller or larger quantity sales, he shall continue such differentials. All discounts and other allowances, including those for prompt payment, shall also be continued.

(d) Change of percentage of Georgia cane syrup in blend resulting in a change of range number and price. Whenever a packer desires to change the range number within which an established blend of syrup which he is packing falls by increasing or decreasing the amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend, he shall proceed as follows:

(1) If he wishes to increase the amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend so that the new blend comes within one of the higher range numbers established in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section and consequently commands a higher maximum price, he must increase the total percentage of Georgia cane syrup in the blend by not less than 5% by volume, for each higher range number pursuant to which he wishes to price the new blend. This increase in the percentage of Georgia cane syrup shall be over and above the amount of Georgia cane syrup which he packed in each blend of syrup on or prior to the effective date of this amendment and which he reported to the Office of Price Administration pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section.

Example No. 1: If a packer at or prior to the effective date of this amendment, packed a blend in Range 4, containing 23% of Georgia cane syrup and now desires to increase the amount of Georgia cane syrup in his blend so that he may price pursuant to Range No. 5—more than 25% but not more than 30%—he must add 5% to the 23% and pack a blend containing at least 28% of Georgia cane syrup.

Example No. 2: If the above packer desires to go to Range No. 6—that is, a blend containing over 30% but not more than 35%—he must add 10% to the 23% and pack a blend containing at least 33% of Georgia cane syrup.

(2) If he wishes to decrease the amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend, so that the new blend comes within one of the lower range numbers and consequently commands a lower maximum price, he may not decrease the total percentage of Georgia cane syrup in the blend by more than 5% by volume for each lower range number pursuant to which he wishes to price the new blend. This decrease shall be below the amount of Georgia cane syrup which he has packed in each blend of syrup on or prior to the effective date of this amendment and which he has reported to the Office of Price Administration pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section.

Example No. 1: If a packer at or prior to the effective date of this amendment, packed a blend in Range 4, containing 23% syrup and now wishes to decrease the amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend so that he is required to price pursuant to Range 3—more than 15% but not more than 20% of Georgia cane syrup—he may not reduce the amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend more than 5% and must put at least 18% of Georgia cane syrup, by volume, in his blend.

Example No. 2: If the above packer desires to change the above 23% blend and price his new blend pursuant to Range No. 2—that is, a blend containing more than 10% but not more than 15% of Georgia cane syrup—he may not reduce the percentage of Georgia cane syrup in the new blend more than 10% and must put at least 13% of Georgia cane syrup, by volume, in his new blend.

(3) In no event shall a packer who increases the percentage of Georgia cane syrup in his blend and prices the new blend pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, increase the blend by less than the amount provided in said subparagraph. The increase so provided shall determine the minimum amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend. If he desires to alter the percentage of Georgia cane syrup in the blend he is now pricing pursuant to subparagraph (1) to insure uniformity, he shall do so only by increasing the amount of Georgia cane syrup, but may never decrease it. If he adds less than the percentage of Georgia cane syrup provided in subparagraph (1), he may not increase his maximum price despite the fact that such increase may actually bring the blend within the higher range specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(4) In no event shall a packer who decreases the amount of Georgia cane syrup in his blend and prices pursuant to a lower number range decrease the percentage of Georgia cane syrup by more than 5% for each lower range to which he goes. The decrease so provided shall determine the minimum amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend. If he desires to alter the amount of Georgia cane syrup in the blend he is now pricing pursuant to subparagraph (2) to insure uniformity, he may do so by increasing the amount of Georgia cane syrup, but may never decrease it. If he decreases the percentage by more than 5% per range, he shall be deemed to have decreased it by 10% and be required to price at the next lower range than the one in which the percentage of Georgia cane syrup in the blend actually places it.

(e) Reports. Within 30 days after the effective date of this amendment, or within 30 days after a person starts packing any blend of syrup containing Georgia cane syrup, he shall report to the Sugar and Confectionary Section of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the exact percentage of Georgia cane syrup which he packed

PART 1420—BREWERY AND DISTILLERY PRODUCTS

[MPR 193,* Amendment 5]

DOMESTIC DISTILLED SPIRITS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Subparagraphs (8) through (13) inclusive are added to § 1420.10 (a); § 1420.14 is redesignated § 1420.12a and a new § 1420.14, Appendix B, is added, as set forth below:

§ 1420.10 Definitions. (a) • • •

(8) "Class I retailer off-premise licensee" shall mean a retailer off-premise licensee whose gross sales of domestic and imported liquors, wines and beers during the calendar year 1941 totalled $300,000 or more.

(9) "Class II retailer off-premise licensee" shall mean a retailer off-premise licensee whose gross sales of domestic and imported liquors, wines and beers during the calendar year 1941 totalled less than $300,000.

(10) "Container size" shall mean the particular weight or unit in which domestic whiskey is sold to the ultimate consumer in accordance with the regulations of the Federal Alcohol Administration.

(11) "New York City metropolitan territory" shall mean the geographical area within the counties of Bronx, Kings, Manhattan, Nassau, Queens, Richmond, Suffolk, and Westchester in the State of New York.

(12) "Packaged domestic whiskey" shall mean any and all whiskey produced in the continental United States which is sold in containers having a capacity of one wine gallon or less.

(13) "Retailer off-premise licensee" shall mean a person licensed under the statutes of the State of New York to sell liquors and wines to the ultimate consumer for consumption off the premises of the licensee.

• • • •

§ 1420.14 Appendix B: Maximum prices for sales of packaged domestic whiskey by retailer off-premise licensees in the New York City metropolitan territory. The maximum prices for sales of packaged domestic whiskey by retailer off-premise licensees in the New York City metropolitan territory shall be the retailer off-premise licensee's maximum prices established under § 1420.13; or

(a) Alternative maximum prices. If the retailer off-premise licensee in the New York City metropolitan territory shall elect to establish an alternative maximum price for sales of any particular brand, type and container size of packaged domestic whiskey he shall determine such maximum price as follows:

(1) The retailer off-premise licensee shall determine his net cost per case for his largest single purchase of the particular brand, type and container size in question in February, 1943, or if no purchase of the particular commodity in question was made in that month, such net cost in the nearest preceding month in which a purchase of the commodity was made during the period from July 19, 1942 through January 31, 1943. "Net cost" shall not include the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942, and it shall mean the net price paid by the seller for the particular commodity in question delivered at his customary receiving point less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for local unloading or local trucking shall be included.

(2) Multiply the net cost per case determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) by:

(i) 1.10 in the case of Class I retailer off-premise licensees; or

(ii) 1.20 in the case of Class II retailer off-premise licensees.

(3) Add to the resulting figure at 2 (i) or (ii) as the case may be the amount of any new tax or increase in an existing tax incident to the sale, processing or use of domestic whiskey which is imposed upon the seller or any prior vendor after March 31, 1942 with respect to the particular quantity of domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder by any statute of the United States, statute of the State of New York, or ordinance of any subdivision thereof within the New York City metropolitan territory: Provided, That the amount of such tax shall have been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by such seller to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(4) Divide the resulting figure at (3) as computed by the Class I or Class II retailer off-premise licensee as the case may be, by the number of individual containers of the particular brand, type and container size within the case. Adjust the figure thus arrived at to the next higher even cent if the fraction is ½ cent or over and to the next lower even cent if the fraction is less than ½ cent.

(5) Multiply the resulting figure at (4), as computed by the Class I or Class II retailer off-premise licensee as the case may be, by the percentage rate of any sales tax or similar tax imposed upon the seller by any ordinance of any subdivision of the State of New York within the New York City metropolitan territory. The resulting figure shall be rounded off to the nearest full cent in accordance with the practice of the seller in March, 1942, and added to the amount determined at (4): Provided, That the amount of such tax shall be separately stated and collected by the seller.

(6) The resulting figure at (5) shall be such retailer's maximum price per unit for sales of the particular brand, type and container size of packaged domestic whiskey in question, and such maximum price shall be applicable to such retailer's floor stocks of the particular commodity priced hereunder as well as to new purchases of such commodity, subject to the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c).

(b) Reports. Within five days after establishing a maximum price for any brand, type and container size of packaged domestic whiskey under paragraph (a), the retailer off-premise licensee shall file with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, 525 Fifth Avenue, New York City, New York, a report of the establishment of such maximum price. Such report shall set forth the classification of such licensee; a description of the commodity priced; his net cost per case for the commodity in question; the date of the purchase by reference to which his net cost is determined; the name of his supplier; his former maximum price for the commodity in question; his new maximum price established under paragraph (a); and the method of his computations under paragraph (a).

(c) Maximum prices cannot be changed. (1) On and after the date of filing the report required at paragraph (b) the maximum price established by the retailer off-premise licensee for the particular brand, type and container size of packaged domestic whiskey in question shall not be changed unless an adjustment thereof is required for the addition of new or increased taxes in accordance with paragraph (a) (3); or unless a change is required by written notification from the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, New York City, New York.

(2) If a retailer off-premise licensee in the New York City metropolitan territory does not establish a maximum price under paragraph (a) within 90 days from the effective date of this amendment, his maximum prices established under § 1420.13 shall not be altered except as provided in that section.

(d) Classification of retailer off-premise licensees. (1) Each retailer off-premise licensee shall determine his classification by reference to his gross sales of liquors, wines and beers for twelve months during the calendar year 1941. If such gross sales totalled $300,000 or more, he shall be a Class I retailer off-premise licensee for the purpose of this amendment. If such sales totalled less than $300,000, he shall be a Class II retailer off-premise licensee for the purposes of this amendment.

(2) If the retailer off-premise licensee cannot determine his classification by reference to such gross sales for 12 months during the calendar year 1941, such retailer shall determine his classification by reference to his gross sales during the earliest twelve month period commencing after January 1, 1941.

(3) Where the retailer's classification is determined by reference to any period of time after November 1, 1942, such retailer shall deduct from the amount of the gross sales made after such date the amount of the increase in the Federal excise tax which became effective on November 1, 1942 paid by the retailer to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(4) If the retailer off-premise licensee cannot determine his classification because he has not engaged in business for a 12 month period prior to the effective date of this amendment, such retailer's classification shall be determined upon application to the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, New York City, New York. Such application shall contain appropriate facts with reference to which applicant's classification may be established. The Price Administrator or any duly authorized officer of the Office of Price Administration in the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, New York City, shall by order establish the classification of such retailer.

This amendment shall become effective March 8, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 308 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

MCKESSON & ROBBINS, INC.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1744 Approval of maximum prices for sales of Pyrinate A-200—(a) Maximum prices. Maximum prices for sales by any seller of one ounce jars of Pyrinate A-200 are established as follows:

(1) Sales other than sales on prescription.

	Per dozen
Sales to wholesalers	$2.63
Sales to U. S. Government or to institutions	2.98
Sales to retailers	3.50
	Per jar
Sales at retail	.45

(2) Sales on prescription. The maximum prices established by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not apply to sales on prescription of Pyrinate A-200. The maximum price for a sale on prescription of Pyrinate A-200 shall be determined by the person making the sale on prescription in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that no report of the maximum price so determined need be filed as required by that section.

(b) Discounts and allowances. Any seller making sales of Pyrinate A-200 shall apply to the maximum prices established for such sales in paragraph (a) all quantity differentials, trade practices, credit terms, practices relating to the payment of shipping charges, and other customary discounts, and allowances which were in effect in March, 1942 on sales of Soretone by such seller or if such seller did not sell Soretone in March, 1942, on sales of the antiseptic ointment most comparable to Pyrinate A-200 which such seller sold in March, 1942.

(c) Definitions. When used in this order the term:

(1) "Pyrinate A-200" refers to a parasiticidal ointment containing an extract of pyrethrum flowers manufactured by McKesson & Robbins, Inc. of Bridgeport, Connecticut.

(2) "Soretone" refers to an antiseptic liniment manufactured by McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Bridgeport, Connecticut.

(d) Marking packages with retail ceiling price. On and after June 1, 1943, McKesson & Robbins, Inc., shall mark the carton in which it packages each one ounce jar of Pyrinate A-200 as follows:

Ceiling price 45 cents

This legend shall be printed or stamped in letters at least one quarter as large as those used for the name of the product on the container to be sold by the seller at retail to the ultimate consumer, when it is not sold on prescription, and the type shall be sufficiently bold and the words shall be printed or stamped in a color which sharply contrasts with the background so that the words are clearly legible. No retailer, except a person making a sale on prescription, shall make sales of Pyrinate A-200 unless the package is marked with the ceiling price as required by this paragraph.

(e) Notification of maximum prices—(1) By McKesson & Robbins, Inc. to wholesalers. McKesson & Robbins, Inc. shall supply to each wholesaler before or at the time of its first delivery of Pyrinate A-200 to such wholesaler a written notification of maximum prices as follows:

OPA has authorized us to charge wholesalers not more than $2.63 per dozen, less customary discounts and allowances for one ounce jars of Pyrinate A-200

Wholesaler's maximum prices for sales of one ounce jars of Pyrinate A-200 to retailers are established at $3.50 per dozen, less customary discounts and allowances

Retailer's maximum prices for sales of one ounce jars of Pyrinate A-200 are established at 45 cents per jar, less customary discounts and allowances

OPA requires that you keep a copy of this notice for examination.

(2) By McKesson & Robbins, Inc. to retailers. McKesson & Robbins Inc. shall supply a written notification to each retailer before or at the time of its first delivery of Pyrinate A-200 to such retailer. Such notification shall read as follows:

OPA has authorized us to charge retailers no more than $3.50 per dozen, less customary discounts and allowances, for one ounce jars of Pyrinate A-200

Retailers' maximum price for sales of one ounce jars of Pyrinate A-200 are established at 45¢ per jar, less customary discounts and allowances.

OPA requires you to keep a copy of this notice for examination.

(f) All prayers of the applicant not granted herein are denied.

(g) This Order No. 308 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective March 3, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 115 to Supp. Reg. 14[1] to GMPR]

IMPORTED WHISKEYS IN NEW YORK METROPOLITAN AREA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new subparagraph (71) is added to paragraph (a) of § 1499.73 as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

* * * * *

(71) Sales of packaged imported whiskey by retailer off-premise licensees in the New York City metropolitan territory. The maximum prices for sales of packaged imported whiskey by retailer off-premise licensees in the New York City metropolitan territory shall be the retailer off-premise licensee's maximum prices established under § 1499.2; or

(i) Alternative maximum prices. If the retailer off-premise licensee in the New York City metropolitan territory shall elect to establish an alternative maximum price for sales of any particular brand, type and container size of packaged imported whiskey he shall determine such maximum price as follows:

(a) The retailer off-premise licensee shall determine his net most per case for his largest single purchase of the particular brand, type and container size in question in February, 1943, or if no purchase of the particular commodity in question was made in that month, such net cost in the nearest preceding month in which a purchase of the commodity was made during the period from July 19, 1942 through January 31, 1943. "Net cost" shall not include the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942, and it shall mean the net price paid by the seller for the particular commodity in question delivered at his customary receiving point less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for local unloading or local trucking shall be included.

(b) Multiply the net cost per case determined in accordance with subdivision (a) by:

(1) 1.075 in the case of Class I retailer off-premise licensees; or

(2) 1.15 in the case of Class II retailer off-premise licensees.

(c) Add to the resulting figure at (b) (1) or (2) as the case may be the amount of any new tax or increase in an existing tax incident to the sale, processing or use of imported whiskey which is imposed upon the seller or any prior vendor after March 31, 1942 with respect to the particular quantity of imported whiskey to be priced hereunder by any statute of the United States, statute of the State of New York, or ordinance of any subdivision thereof within the New York City metropolitan territory: Provided, That the amount of such tax shall have been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by such seller to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(d) Divide the resulting figure at (c), as computed by the Class I or Class II retailer off-premises licensee as the case may be, by the number of individual containers of the particular brand, type and container size within the case. Adjust the figure thus arrived at to the next higher even cent if the fraction is $\frac{1}{2}$ cent or over and to the next lower even cent if the fraction is less than $\frac{1}{2}$ cent.

(e) Multiply the resulting figure at (d), as computed by the Class I or Class II retailer off-premise licensee as the case may be, by the percentage rate of any sales tax or similar tax imposed upon the seller by any ordinance of any subdivision of the State of New York within the New York City metropolitan territory. The resulting figure shall be rounded off to the nearest full cent in accordance with the practice of the seller in March, 1942, and added to the amount determined at (d): Provided, That the amount of such tax shall be separately stated and collected by the seller.

(f) The resulting figure at (e) shall be such retailer's maximum price per unit for sales of the particular brand, type and container size of packaged imported whiskey in question, and such maximum price shall be applicable to such retailer's floor stocks of the particular commodity priced hereunder as well as to new purchases of such commodity, subject to the provisions of subdivisions (ii) and (iii).

(ii) Reports. Within five days after establishing a maximum price for any brand, type and container size of packaged imported whiskey under subdivision (i), the retailer off-premise licensee shall file with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, 525 Fifth Avenue, New York City, New York, a report of the establishment of such maximum price. Such report shall set forth the classification of such licensee; a description of the commodity priced; his net cost per case for the commodity in question; the date of the purchase by reference to which his net cost is determined; the name of his supplier; his former maximum price for the commodity in question; his new maximum price established under subdivision (i); and the method of his computations under subdivision (i).

(iii) Maximum prices cannot be changed. (a) On and after the date of filing the report required at subdivision (ii) the maximum price established by the retailer off-premise licensee for the particular brand, type and container size of packaged imported whiskey in question shall not be changed unless an adjustment thereof is required for the addition of new or increased taxes in accordance with subdivision (i) (c); or unless a change is required by written notification from the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, New York City, New York.

(b) If a retailer off-premise licensee in the New York City metropolitan territory does not establish a maximum price under subdivision (i) within 90 days from the effective date of this Amendment, his maximum prices established under § 1499.2 shall not be altered under the provisions of this amendment.

(iv) Definitions.

"Class I retailer off-premise licensee" shall mean a retailer off-premise licensee whose gross sales of domestic and imported liquors, wines and beers during the calendar year 1941 totalled $300,000 or more

"Class II retailer off-premise licensee" shall mean a retailer off-premise licensee whose gross sales of domestic and imported liquors, wines and beers during the calendar year 1941 totalled less than $300,000

"Container size" shall mean the particular weight or unit in which imported whiskey is sold to the ultimate consumer in accordance with the regulations of the Federal Alcohol Administration.

"New York City metropolitan territory" shall mean the geographical area within the counties of Bronx, Kings, Manhattan, Nassau, Queens, Richmond, Suffolk, and Westchester in the State of New York.

"Packaged imported whiskey" shall mean any and all whiskey produced outside of the Continental United States or its territories and possessions, and which is sold in the continental United States in containers having a capacity of one wine gallon or less.

"Retailer off-premise licensee" shall mean a person licensed under the statutes of the State of New York to sell liquors and wines to the ultimate consumer for consumption off the premise of the licensee.

(v) Classification of retailer off-premise licensees. (a) Each retailer off-premise licensee shall determine his classification by reference to his gross sales of liquors, wines and beers for twelve months during the calendar year 1941. If such gross sales totalled $300,000 or more, he shall be a Class I retailer off-premise licensee for the purposes of this amendment. If such sales totaled less than $300,000, he shall be a Class II retailer off-premise licensee for the purposes of this amendment.

(1) If the retailer off-premise licensee cannot determine his classification by reference to such gross sales for 12 months during the calendar year 1941, such retailer shall determine his classification by reference to his gross sales during the earliest twelve month period commencing after January 1, 1941.

(A) Where the retailer's classification is determined by reference to any period of time after November 1, 1942, such retailer shall deduct from the amount of the gross sales made after such date the amount of the increase in the Federal excise tax which became effective on November 1, 1942 paid by the retailer to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(2) If the retailer off-premise licensee cannot determine his classification because he has not engaged in business for a 12-month period prior to the effective date of this amendment, such retailer's classification shall be determined upon application to the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, New York City, New York. Such application shall contain appropriate facts with reference to which applicant's classification may be established. The Price Administrator or any duly authorized officer of the Office of Price Administration in the District Office of the Office of Price Administration, New York City, New York, shall by order establish the classification of such retailer.

This amendment shall become effective March 8, 1943.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[Ration Order 1A[1], Amendment 15]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 1A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.653 (b) is amended as follows:

(b) Review by hearing commissioner. Any person against whom an order has been issued after February 28, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) may within fifteen (15) days after the effective date thereof, appeal from such order by filing a statement of objections to the order with the board which issued it. Within three (3) days after receipt of the statement the board shall forward it, together with a copy of the notice instituting such proceedings, a copy of the record, if any, and a copy of the board's order to the hearing commissioner having jurisdiction over the area in which the board is located. Within five (5) days after receipt of such statement from the board, the hearing commissioner shall notify the respondent and the regional attorney in the region in which the board is located of the time and place set for the hearing. The appeal shall be heard and determined pursuant to the provisions of § 1300.169 of Procedural Regulation No. 4 and amendments thereto: Provided, That the provisions applicable to requests for hearing and review, stay orders and appeals pursuant to the provisions of §§ 1315.653 and 1315.655 in effect before March 1, 1943, shall govern the review, rights to appeal and appeals pending from orders issued pursuant to this paragraph before such date, and all provisions of such sections before such date are continued in effect for this purpose.

2. Paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of § 1315.653 are revoked.

3. Section 1315.655 is revoked.

4. Section 1315.656 is amended as follows:

§ 1315.656 Authority of regional administrators and State directors to revoke certificates. (a) The several regional administrators of the Office of Price Administration within their respective regions, and such State directors (as defined in Procedural Regulation No. 9) as may be designated by the regional administrators for that purpose, are authorized to determine whether any certificate-holder who has not yet exchanged the certificate for the commodity described was entitled to receive such certificate on the basis of facts submitted in applying for his certificate. Upon notification to the holder of such proceeding, the certificate shall become null and void pending final determination of its validity in the manner provided in paragraph (b).

(b) In any such case the State director or regional administrator shall receive and consider any evidence presented by the holder of the certificate and may require him to appear for examination and to produce such witnesses or evidence as such officer may deem material. If such officer determines that the certificate-holder was not entitled to receive the certificate, he may order it surrendered to him within forty-eight (48) hours after the certificate-holder receives such order. The certificate-holder may appeal from an adverse decision upon such redetermination pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 9.

This amendment shall become effective March 2d, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 319,[1] Amendment 1]

CERTAIN BAKERY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1351.1907 is hereby amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.1907 Producers' wrappers must show retailer's maximum price for sale to consumer. Wherever a producer sells a commodity listed in Appendix A hereof in a wrapper or other packaging materials after having calculated or reported his maximum price thereon, he shall print on the face of said wrapper or other packaging material the maximum price of the retailer for sales to ultimate consumers calculated in accordance with § 1351.1904, inserting it in the following statement: "Ceiling price ------".

Provided, That where the producer has on hand a supply of wrappers or other packaging materials procured at any time prior to the effective date of this amendment and which bears with or without description, a price of the commodity not exceeding the retailer's maximum price for sales to ultimate consumers as herein specified, he may exhaust his present supply before procuring wrappers or other packaging materials bearing the precise statement above specified.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 11,[2] Amendment 44]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Sections 1394.5507 (a), 1394.5508 and 1394.5803 are amended; as set forth below:

Expiration and Revocation of Rations

§ 1394.5507 Coupons, other evidences and delivery receipts property of Office of Price Administration; summary revocations. (a) All coupon sheets, coupons, acknowledgments of delivery, inventory coupons, exchange certificates, export certificates and delivery receipts shall be and remain, when issued, the property of the Office of Price Administration. Such Office may, whenever it deems it to be in the public interest to do so, revoke, withhold the use of, or refuse to issue any ration, and may require the surrender and return of any coupon sheet, coupon, acknowledgment of delivery, inventory coupon, exchange certificate, export certificate or delivery receipt.

§ 1394.5508 Authority of regional administrators, State directors and district managers to cancel and require the surrender of rations. (a) The several regional administrators of the Office of Price Administration within their respective regions, and such State directors and district managers as may be designated by the regional administrators for that purpose, are, except where an administrative suspension order may be obtained in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 4, authorized to determine whether any ration holder was entitled to receive the ration issued to him.

(b) In any case where a district manager, State director or regional administrator is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to review or redetermine the right of any ration holder to receive or retain any ration, such officer shall receive and consider any evidence presented by the holder of the ration and may require him to appear for examination and to produce such witnesses or evidence as such officer may deem material. If such officer determines that such ration holder was not entitled to receive or is not entitled to retain the ration issued to him, such officer may order that any coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts be cancelled and surrendered. Within forty-eight (48) hours of receiving notice requiring the surrender of any coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts pursuant to such review or redetermination, the person holding the coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts shall surrender them pursuant to such notice. Any person may appeal from an adverse decision upon such review or redetermination pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 9.

Enforcement

§ 1394.5803 Suspension orders. An administrative suspension order may be obtained in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 4 against any person who violates Ration Order No. 11.

This amendment shall become effective on March 2d, 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 5C; Amendment 28]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.8105 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Any person against whom an order has been issued after February 28, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section may, within fifteen (15) days after the effective date thereof, appeal from such order by filing a statement of objections to the order with the board which issued it. Within three (3) days after the receipt of the statement the board shall forward it, together with a copy of the notice instituting such proceedings, a copy of the record, if any, and a copy of the board's order to the hearing commissioner having jurisdiction over the area in which the board is located. Within five (5) days after the receipt of the statement the hearing commissioner shall notify the respondent and the regional attorney in the region in which the board is located of the time and place set for the hearing. The appeal shall be heard and determined pursuant to the provisions of § 1300.169 of Procedural Regulation No. 4[3] and amendments thereto: Provided, That the provisions applicable to requests for hearing and review, stay orders and appeals pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this section in effect before March 1, 1943, shall govern review, rights to appeal, and appeals pending from orders issued pursuant to this section before such date, and all provisions of such paragraphs before such date are continued in effect for this purpose.

2. Section 1394.8105 (c) is revoked.

3. Section 1394.8105 (d) is revoked.

4. Section 1394.8107 is revoked.

5. Section 1394.8109 is revoked.

6. Section 1394.8111 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Such review and any order by such officer withholding, modifying or revoking such a ration and any appeal from such an order shall be made pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1394.8114.

7. Section 1394.8114 is added to read as follows:

§ 1394.8114 Authority of regional administrators and State directors to cancel and require the surrender of coupons and coupon books. (a) The several regional administrators of the Office of Price Administration within their respective regions, and such State directors as may be designated by the regional administrators for that purpose, are authorized to determine whether any ration holder was entitled to receive the ration issued to him.

(b) In any case where a State director or Regional administrator is authorized by any provision of Ration Order No. 5C to review or redetermine the right of any ration holder to receive or retain any ration, such officer shall receive and consider any evidence presented by the holder of the ration and may require him to appear for examination and to produce such witnesses or evidence as such officer may deem material. If such officer determines that such ration holder was not entitled to receive or is not entitled to retain the ration issued to him, such officer may order that any coupons or coupon books be cancelled and surrendered. Within forty-eight (48) hours of receiving notice requiring the surrender of any coupons or coupon books pursuant to such review or redetermination, the person holding the coupons or coupon books shall surrender them to the officer from whom he received such notice. Any person may appeal from an adverse decision upon such review or redetermination pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 9.[3]

8. Section 1394.8115 is added to read as follows:

§ 1394.8115 Effect of revocation of § 1394.8109 and saving provisions. (a) No proceedings instituted pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1394.8109 in which no order has been made before March 1, 1943, shall be abated by the revocation of such section. Unless the hearing administrator directs that such proceedings shall continue to be governed by the former provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1394.8109, such proceedings, if based upon a charge that any provision of Ration Order No. 5A or 5C has been violated, shall be transferred to the hearing commissioner of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which such proceedings were instituted, and all further proceedings therein shall be governed by the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 4.[3] Such proceedings, if based upon a charge that a ration holder was not entitled to receive the ration issued, shall be governed by the provisions of § 1394.8114.

(b) No orders issued pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.8109 before March 1, 1943, and no rights to appeal and no appeals from such orders shall be abated by the revocation of such section. The procedure which was formerly applicable shall govern appeals from such orders and the provisions establishing such procedure are continued in effect for this purpose.

9. Section 1394.8302 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.8302 Suspension orders. Any person who violates this Ration Order No. 5C may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from receiving any transfers or deliveries of, or selling or using or otherwise disposing of, any gasoline, tire or passenger automobile. Proceedings for the issuance of suspension orders shall be instituted and governed pursuant to the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 4.

This amendment shall become effective March 2, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 12,[2] Amendment 23]

COFFEE RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 12 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1407.974 is revoked.

2. Paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of § 1407.991 are amended to read as follows:

(a) Any person who requires roasted coffee for the purpose of transfer to any person specified in § 1407.991a (a) or paragraph (c) (1) or (c) (2) of this section pursuant to a written contract with such person, may apply in writing to the board for certificates authorizing the acquisition of the quantity of roasted coffee so required. Such application shall include or be accompanied by a statement of the date of contract, the number or other designation of the contract, and the quantity of roasted coffee required in order to perform the contract. Such roasted coffee shall be used only for the purpose of performing the contract. A person who receives a certificate or certificates pursuant to this paragraph in order to fulfill a contract with any person specified in § 1407.991a (a) shall, within ten days of the delivery by him to the person with whom such contract is made of roasted coffee in an amount equal to the weight value of the certificates received, surrender or issue evidences to the board in weight value equal to the weight value of the certificates so received.

(b) Any retailer or wholesaler who on or after November 22, 1942, transfers roasted coffee to any of the persons (other than any agency specified in § 1407.991a (a)) and for the purposes specified in paragraph (c) of this section, without receiving coffee stamps or certificates therefor, may, if he has not obtained a certificate with respect thereto pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, apply in writing to the board for certificates authorizing the acquisition of an equivalent amount of roasted coffee.

(c) The persons and purposes included within the provisions of this section are the following:

(1) Any agency of the United States or foreign government, other than any agency specified in § 1407.991a (a), for export to any foreign country.

(2) Veterans' Administration.

(3) Any person, other than any agency specified in § 1407.991a (a), for transfer to any territory or possession of the United States other than the District of Columbia.

(4) Any person, other than any agency specified in § 1407.991a (a), operating an ocean-going vessel engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers in foreign, coastwise, or intercoastal trade, as ships' stores for consumption aboard such vessel.

3. Section 1407.991a is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.991a Ration banking by exempt agencies. (a) The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, War Shipping Administration, United States Maritime Commission, Office of Lend-Lease Administration, Food Distribution Administration, Ships' Service Departments Afloat, and Army Exchange Service (to the extent that it acquires roasted coffee for export to a foreign country or for transfer to any territory or possession of the United States other than the District of Columbia) are exempt agencies for the purpose of General Ration Order 3B and are referred to as exempt agencies in Ration Order No. 12. Nothing in Ration Order No. 12 restricts the amount of coffee which exempt agencies may acquire.

(b) Each exempt agency is authorized to open one or more exempt accounts, of the type described in General Ration Order 3B, and, except as otherwise provided in Ration Order No. 12, no exempt agency shall acquire roasted coffee except upon the issuance by it of a ration check equal in weight value to the weight of the roasted coffee transferred to it: Provided, however, That roasted coffee may be transferred between or within exempt agencies without the issuance of a check.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 1407.1021 (a), an exempt agency shall issue an appropriate check to the person who transfers roasted coffee to it at the time such roasted coffee is delivered to it or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in Ration Order No. 12, if for any reason a check cannot be used when an exempt agency acquires roasted coffee, an emergency acknowledgment issued by the exempt agency shall authorize the transfer of roasted coffee to it. An emergency acknowledgment may be in any form, but shall be signed by an authorized officer or employee of the exempt agency, shall specify his official title or rank, and shall state (1) the name of the agency, (2) the name and address of the activity within the agency for which such roasted coffee is acquired, (3) the name and address of the activity to which the emergency acknowledgment must be sent for replacement by a ration check, (4) the amount of roasted coffee acquired, and (5) the date of its acquisition. An emergency acknowledgment shall not authorize the transfer of roasted coffee to the person to whom it is issued, nor shall it be valid for deposit. A person to whom an emergency acknowledgment is issued shall send it to the activity of the exempt agency designated thereon, and a ration check for the amount of roasted coffee transferred shall be issued to him in exchange for the emergency acknowledgment.

4. Section 1407.1015 is amended by deleting the phrase "to the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard or" and by inserting after the phrase "§ 1407.991" the phrase "or § 1407.991a (a)."

5. Section 1407.1018 is amended by deleting the phrase "the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard or" and by inserting after the phrase "§ 1407.991" the phrase "or § 1407.991a (a)."

6. Section 1407.1049 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.1049 Transfers to certain persons. Any person may transfer without the surrender of coffee stamps or certificates and irrespective of any restriction on the transfer or acquisition of coffee imposed by Ration Order No. 12, coffee to any of the persons enumerated in § 1407.991 (c), subject, however, to the provisions of § 1407.991. The Veterans' Administration and agencies specified in § 1407.991a (a) may acquire green coffee irrespective of any restriction on the transfer or acquisition of green coffee imposed by Ration Order No. 12.

7. Section 1407.1084 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.1084 Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard Post Exchanges, Commissaries, and Ships' Service Stores—(a) Ration banking. Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges of the Marine Corps, and Ships' Service Departments Ashore of the Navy and Coast Guard, and other similar activities designated by the respective exempt agencies, which transfer roasted coffee, shall open ration bank accounts but may not open exempt accounts of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. Ration credits necessary for the acquisition of roasted coffee by such Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore, and similar activities will be created as a result of arrangements between the Office of Price Administration and the Army Exchange Service of the United States War Department and the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the Navy Department, the Marine Corps, and the Coast Guard. Ration credits may be transferred, by the issuance of checks and without the transfer of coffee, between accounts maintained for Army Exchanges, between accounts maintained for Post Exchanges, between accounts maintained for Ships' Service Departments Ashore of the Navy, and between accounts maintained for Ships' Service Departments Ashore of the Coast Guard. (Establishing ration credits for use by Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, and Ships' Service Departments Ashore for the acquisition of roasted coffee for institutional use is covered by General Ration Order 5.)

(b) Acquiring and transferring roasted coffee. Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore, Sales Commissaries, and Commissary Stores, and any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard and the Food Distribution Administration may transfer roasted coffee and shall, with respect to such transfers, be governed by the provisions of Ration Order No. 12 governing transfers of roasted coffee by retailers and wholesalers. Such Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore, Sales Commissaries, or any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, or the Food Distribution Administration may acquire roasted coffee for such purpose only upon the issuance by it of appropriate ration checks: Provided, however, That during the month of March 1943, Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore and similar designated activities may, if ration checks are unavailable, issue emergency acknowledgments, as described in § 1407.991a (d). The person to whom such emergency acknowledgment is issued shall not use it to acquire coffee, but shall exchange it for a ration check at the activity designated thereon. Coffee stamps and certificates surrendered to Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore, Sales Commissaries, or any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard or to the Food Distribution Administration shall be deposited in the accounts maintained for them and, except as provided in § 1407.1032 (f), the ration credits created by such deposit may then be used to acquire roasted coffee.

This amendment shall become effective March 2, 1943.

SECTION II—AIR WARNING SIGNAL SYSTEM

17. Transmission of signals. The air warning signals described in paragraphs 18, 19, 20 and 21 shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or the authorization of the fighter command to the district warning center which is operated by civilian defense authorities. The fighter command is responsible only that the district warning center receives the order or authorization for the giving of such signals. Civilian defense authorities are responsible for the transmission of such signals from the district warning center through their alarm warning systems to the public.[2] In the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, such air warning signals shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or authorization of the Commanding General, Military District of Washington to civilian defense authorities.

18. Yellow signal. This is a confidential preliminary caution signal not to be given by audible public alarm. It indicates the possibility of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal shall be transmitted by civilian defense authorities only to such key persons, essential industries, railroads, and places within such warning district as such authorities deem essential to initiate proper steps to insure timely blackout or air raid precautions.

19. Mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal. This is an audible warning signal indicating the probability of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal will be a long note (approximately two minutes) at steady pitch of sirens, horns, or whistles. Upon the sounding of this signal, within such warning district, civilian defense forces will mobilize or remain mobilized; if during hours of darkness, lighting will be extinguished or obscured except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive, and pedestrians and traffic may continue or resume movement.
